The first coupon for six months' interest will be payable February 1st, 1903, and interest on bonds sold will be payable on instalments as paid at 5 per cent per annum on August 1st, 1902.

Application will be made to list the bonds on the Montreal, New York and London Stock Exchanges.

The subscription lists will be closed not later than 4 p.m., on Monday, the 16th June, 1902.

Copies of trust deed full prospectuses and forms of application may be obtained at the offices of

Messrs. Hanson Brothers,
Canada Life Building, Montreal

Montreal, 10th June 1902.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

King Edward VII. Notepaper

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE

Market Block, Peterborough.

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky
Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers. LEITH. Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd

AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE

ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.

MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE.
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each, I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{99}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

THE FASHIONABLE MAN
Of Nineteen Aught Two

Will find everything that is Correct and Up-to-date in MEN'S OUTFITTINGS. (Prices second to none.)

—AT—

H. E. BRADLEY & CO.'S

High-class Tailors and Gentlemen's Outfitters.

THE
BLACK ROCK MINING CO.
LIMITED.

(no personal liability.)

SHARES 10c EACH. CAPITAL $150,000

Stock full-paid and non-assessable

CLAIMS.

There are three claims "New York" "Chicago" and "San Francisco."

SITUATED.

Yavapai Co., Arizona.

EXTENT.

The area of the three claims is 600 feet by 4500 feet.

ORE BODY.

Out-croppings show on the surface 250 feet to 450 feet wide and 4500 feet long, (nearly one mile)

DEPTH.

Shaft is down over 100 feet in ore from the surface and there is ore fully 75 feet above where the shaft starts.

CROSS-CUTS.

Cross-cuts on shaft of fifty feet each are entirely in ore, so also is thirty-foot Tunnel.

ORE IN SIGHT.

By expert calculations there is TWO MILLION TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT NOW.

ASSAYS.

THE BLACK ROCK MINING Co. equally high in Copper, with some silver. Total values running as high as $55.00 per ton.

COST.

Ore can be mined and treated on a proposition of this class, at less than $2.00 per ton by present processes.

The largest producing mines today pay big dividends on ore averaging from $3.00 to $8.00 per ton. This is only made possible by the enormous bodies of ore such as are found on the "Chicago" "United Verde" "Oro Grande" and other similar mines.

The "United Verde" with an original capital of three million dollars pays to its stockholders in cash profits about Two million dollars every month, or in other words pays back it's entire capital every six weeks.

THE BLACK ROAK MININNG CO., LIMITED, will without doubt pay dividends of at least one per cent. a month before the end of the year. Now is the time to get in while stock is low. Only 10c. per share.

WRITE FOR GROUND FLOOR PROPOSITION.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.,
London, Ont.
217-218 Masonic Temple.

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will offer suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at	40c
Suspenders	15c
Overalls, with bib, at	40c
Smocks, at.....	90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailor
One door south of Montreal Bank.

Dwelling for Sale

No. 772 Water St., at present under rental. Two storeys, 21x24, addition 2 stories, 15x17, kitchen 11x30 1-2 stables, sheds and outbuildings. Heated by furnace. Electric light, bath, closet, etc. Possession given as arranged. Apply to W. H. HILL, 150 Hunter Street.

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
King St West TORONTO

The New York Times
Saturday Review of Books.
$1,00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—a fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times
SUNDAY EDITION
$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL - - - - $1,000,000
RESERVE FUND - - 270,000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeas Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D., - President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, - } Vice-Presidents.
W. H. BEATTY, - }

JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P.
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government he Corporation accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from it organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice forthe invest ment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRTOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures consecutive action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELY CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES cf every description; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR, Managing Director.
A. D. LANGMUIR Assistant Manage

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue; Foreign Edition Post Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits. LACE CURTAINS, MADRAS MUSLINS, CAPES, LADIES & GENTS, [illegible] BLOUSES, LOOM HOSIERY, REAL SWISS, LACES ALL MAKES, COLLARETTES, GUIPURE D'ART, HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $5.10

Lot No. 307 contains:—1 pair Rich Artistic Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, choice old lace design, 3½ yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair neat Floral Pattern Bed-Room Curtains, 3 yds. long, 50 in. wide, 1 pair new fashionable Sash Curtains, 1 table centre, renaissance design, 1 Set of Duchess Toilet Covers, one 45 in. long, and five smaller. Sent if desired. On receipt of Post Office Order for $5.10, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth.

Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable work, Marvellous Value, and Durability. First Prize Medals, Toronto 1892; Chicago, 1893.

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established 1857.

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 9 a.m	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 5 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 6a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $50 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... .... June 25th
Mongolian...... ....July 9th.

S. S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $25.00 single; $46.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to:
W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav.; Peterborough, Ontario, or to
THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd
River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S. S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25 th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN, Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. fo Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inle and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 9.00 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG. PORT HOPE. ROCHESTER. N. Y.

STEAMER
NORTH KING
Week Day Route Commencing May 12

SOUTH BOUND.
Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... ...2.00 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... ...3.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ....6.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... ......8.45 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.
Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets .... 9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester... ....9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... ......2.01 p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... ...3.50 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any plac in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to.

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Evans Agent Port Hope

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

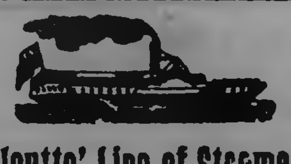
STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveand and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

5 Trips Daily (Except Sunday.

JOHN FOY, General Manager, Toronto, Ont.



Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay
ESTURION
JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv 6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 7.15 a.m.	"	4.10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar 8.40 a.m.	"	5 30 p.m.
"	Lv 11.00 a.m.	"	5.45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 12.10 p.m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar 1.15 p.m.	"	8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.
MANITA
JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon...........Leave 7.00 a. m.
Bridgenorth...........Arrive 9.30 a. m.
Bridgenorth ....Leave 3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon...........Arrive 5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to
W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO
STR. "ARGYLE"
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)
EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at - - 7.00 a m
" Port Hope at - - 8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at - - 12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at 5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00
Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.
STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday 7.00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday - 2.00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.
Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY
Leaves Belleville - - 11.00 a m
" Trenton - - 1.15 p m
" Brighton - - 2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte - - 7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th
For further particulars, folders, etc., write
A. W. HEPBURN, Manager, Picton, Ont

BIG G

CURE YOURSELF!
Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous.
Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles, $2.75.
Circular sent on request.
CURES in 1 to 5 days. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents Contagion. THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO. CINCINNATI, O. U.S.A.

For the Farmer.

For the destruction of fungus growth use the fungicides, such as Bordeaux mixture. For sucking insects use the kerosene emulsion. For biting insects use Paris green.

The Globe has been favored by Secretary F. D. Coburn with the last quarter's report of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture. It contains about 400 pages of interesting information about the production, marketing and milling of wheat in Kansas.

Meat is dear, says The Chicago Live Stock World, not so much because of a shortage in supply as on account of a phenomenal demand. The whole country is prosperous, and is consuming meat in unusual quantities. Chicago has received this year about 4,700 cars of live stock more than in the same period of 1901.

The report of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station for 1901 on food products is just to hand, and contains a good deal of useful as well as much disquieting information. The station ordered visits to forty-three towns and villages and has purchased samples of food products from each. The results showed that the custom of adulterating with chemical preservatives and chemical dyes is more prevalent than is generally imagined. Of 246 samples of milk bought, twenty-one were adulterated with chemical preservatives. Of 116 samples of tomato catsup, sauce, etc., 96 were adulterated with dyes of coal tar origin, and of 60 samples of jams and jellies, 21 were adulterated in a similar manner. Many of these dyes are most injurious to health. The chemicals commonly employed as preservatives were salicylic acid, salicylate of soda, benzoic acid, and benzoate of soda, all of which are hurtful. Several of the firms mentioned as having employed adulterants of the kind do business in Canada. The public will do well to avoid highly colored tomato catsup, and chili sauce, and to buy no jams and jellies that are not manufactured by reputable firms.

Raising Good Cows.

I like to fuss with calves. I like the calves because I like good cows and realize the fact that the foundation of a good cow is a good calf. Sometimes I come across a good cow that can be bought at a reasonable price, but the surest way to get a good cow is to raise her from a calf of known parentage. There are people who yet believe they can feed butter fat into milk. My experience, however, is that when you have a cow that gives blue milk, blue milk she will make, even on the richest kind of food, and when it is given to her in fullest supply. And when you have a cow that gives rich, creamy milk that butter-makers and milk-consumers like, rich milk she will give, even if she has nothing but cornstalks or poor hay to eat. Feed determines the quantity of milk, while the blood of the animal determines the milk's richness. For that reason it does not pay to bother with calves of blue milk stock (unless for selling milk, and hardly then). Nor does it pay to fuss with a calf that for any reason is lacking in individual vigor.

But any vigorous heifer calf of good stock is too good for the butcher when it is so easy to make a good cow out of it in not more than two years' time. The Guernseys and Jerseys have the reputation of giving the richest milk. But there is yet a great difference in this respect in individual cows, or, perhaps, rather, in cow families. Just at present I am raising a calf from a Jersey dam, whose milk contains more butter fat than I have ever seen in milk before. Not having much milk on which to bring this calf up, I have tried milk substitutes, especially clear flaxseed meal and a calf meal. I began giving flaxseed meal on the third day by the teaspoonful, gradually increasing to two handfuls at a feed in the fifth or sixth week. The meal was put into a pail, and boiling water put on it, making a thin soup, which was mixed with what skim milk I could spare for the purpose and fed blood warm. At six weeks of age the calf meal—which seems to consist mostly of flaxseed meal or oil meal—was substituted for the flaxseed meal, two good handfuls at a feed. This calf also receives dry bran and other ground grains, and eats several handfuls out of its pail, some cut clover hay, etc., and has done so well that I believe it possible to bring up good calves practically without milk, except for a short time on the start.—T. Greener, in Farm and Fireside.

Orchard and Garden.

At the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' meeting Prof. L. H. Bailey of Cornell University said that the fifteen years last past were marked by three distinct improvements in the methods of caring for orchards. The first was the introduction of spraying, which had now become so universal a practice that it was not thought necessary to advocate it at the meetings. The second was the tillage of orchards, and that was so well settled now that the farmers do not ask, "Shall we cultivate?" but "What are the best methods for clay or sandy soil?" whichever the orchard was on. Now the prime question seems to be upon the use of a cover crop for the orchard, and he believed that within five years they would be discussing the merits of special cover crops for special soils. Where the soil is not in condition to grow better crops he would use rye as a starter, and gradually work the soil up until it was rich enough to grow crimson clover, which he thought the best cover crop.

But it is quite possible to get the soil too rich with peas and clover if plowed under each spring, and thus it would be well to change occasionally to buckwheat or rye. He would plow them with gang plow, and cover only three or four inches deep. This he would do early in the spring, that they might decay. Would not use commercial fertilizers, or but a little, until the trees came into bearing. After the first four years the orchard should not need plowing, but the disc or cut-away harrows should be sufficient for cultivation. He urged setting two-year-old trees, and said that when two-year-old and six-year-old trees were set at the same time they were of equal size after five years. He is setting in his own orchard the Northern Spy, and top-grafting them with scions from bearing trees that produce fruit of known excellence, as he believes in the individuality of trees.

Interesting Items.

Mount Sir Donald, in the Canadian Rockies, which rises to the height of 10,700 feet, has just been conquered for the first time by the foot of woman. Mrs. Berens, the successful climber, is a young Englishwoman hailing from Kent. While at Glacier, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, on her honeymoon trip round the world, she heard that very few men and no woman had ever set foot on the summit of Sir Donald. So she resolved to make the ascent, and was all the more anxious to do so as she heard that a Philadelphia lady had expressed her intention of being the first up. Mrs. Berens successfully accomplished the climb, though she had several very narrow escapes.

The other day, when the jury in a murder trial in the Louisville courts had retired to their room, the foreman said: "Gentlemen, this is a serious case we have to decide. A man's life may be forfeited by our decision. How many Christians are among us?" Nine men raised their hands. "Will one of you pray?" asked the foreman. One of the oldest jurors said he would do his best. All knelt, and a most earnest and impressive prayer was offered. Balloting was then begun. Several jurors were in favor of a life sentence, and others for terms as short as eight years. The jury finally agreed on eighteen years.

John Dillon's outbreak in the House of Commons the other day, when he called Joseph Chamberlain a "damned liar," reminds one of the speech of Mr. Martin, a member for Galway, in 1789, which absolutely defies reproduction. He denounced a fellow-member in language of unprintable disgust, and could not resist the temptation of applying his words also to the member's sister, who sat in the gallery of the House of Commons at the time. "These Ponsonby's," he burst out, "are the curse of my country. They are ——, personally and politically, from that toothless old hag who is now grinning in the gallery, to the white-livered scoundrel who is now shivering on the floor."

A most interesting light is thrown on the approaches toward civilisation made by the people who dwelt in caverns in France during the stone age by the discovery of a great number of drawings of animals on the walls of an ancient cave at Combarelles, in South-western France. Many of the drawings, which represent, with surprising skill, reindeer, mammoths and other animals now extinct in Southern and Western Europe, have become covered in the course of time with thick layers of stalagmite. Among the most interesting pictures are some which represent horselike animals belonging to two different species, and some of these animals have halters and other attachments, plainly showing that they had been subjected to the service of man.

It was only a short time ago that the table telephone became an adjunct of Chicago restaurants where business and professional men spend a few necessary moments away from the busy affairs of the day. Now comes another development in the telephone service, which promises to become a universal and indispensable feature of railway trains. The Chicago and North-western Railway recently equipped a new train, known as the "Overland Limited," for service between that city and the Pacific Coast. Amongst its features is a telephone, installed in the observation car, from which connection can be made with any telephone system along the route. A special wire of the local telephone company is dropped over the roof of the car and run through an opening to the instrument in the car, and by means of a "monkey," or wall jacket, connection is made. The passenger desiring to telephone to any part of the city or communicate with a long-distance point is thus enabled to do so, without leaving the cars, while the train stops at a station.

She Got the Potatoes.

The man who forgets the obligations in the way of shopping imposed upon him by the women of his family when he leaves the house is not rare enough to excite curiosity, but the woman with sufficient tact and wit to checkmate this loss of memory is. One such lives in Pennsylvania. The Philadelphia "Record" says that she had labored for several days to impress upon her husband the necessity of sending home a bag of potatoes.

At last, when all her persuasions and injunctions had failed, she surprised him one morning by handing him a sealed letter, and asking him with great seriousness not to open it until he reached his place of business. All the way down town he thought of the strange request, and he no sooner entered his office than he tore open the letter. This is what he read:

"Dear John—For some time past I have thought long and earnestly on what I have to say to you, and I have decided that this is the best method to communicate it. I have hesitated several times about writing to you in this way, but I find that I cannot conceal my thoughts longer. I must and will tell you all."

Here John's hair began to rise, but he heroically turned over the page and read on: "The potatoes have been out for a week. Please send home a bag. I thought by this method you would not be likely to forget."

The potatoes went up to the house that morning.

His Thirteenth Question.

Little Clarence (with a rising inflection)—Pa?

Mr. Callipers (wearily)—Uh?

Little Clarence—Pa, how do angels get their night-gowns on over their wings?—"Judge."

His Non-Progressiveness.

Farmer Dunk—That 'ere hired man of yourn is pretty slow, ain't he, Ezry?

Farmer Hornbeak — Yaas. He's too gol-vummed slow to make a successful pall-bearer.—"Judge."

"Is your husband a good provider?" asked the sympathetic visitor. "Indeed he is, mum. He got me three new places to wash last week."—"Youth's Companion."

Hiring a Servant in Norway.

THE problem of domestic service, which is always a present and insistent one to the housekeeper in this country, in Norway has been settled to the apparent satisfaction both of mistress and of maid. One country, however, can seldom adopt with success the customs of another. How far the Norwegian servant system would suit our tastes may be judged to some extent by an examination of the plan pursued in Norway.

In places like Bergen, Christiania, and other large cities, the municipal government takes entire charge of the matter. There is a central employment bureau under municipal control, and twice each year—once in summer and once in winter—dissatisfied servants can look out for a new master and mistress, and dissatisfied employers can seek to improve their service. The bureau is opened for one week, and the mistress who wants a maid can go to it, fill in a form stating her requirements and the wages she is willing to pay, and then leave all the rest to the bureau.

Her card is placed on file, and the position she offers is posted in a conspicuous place on a blackboard. Men and women servants in want of work examine these cards, and when they decide upon applying for any position, submit their recommendations to the bureau for examination. If these are satisfactory, the applicant receives a card to the prospective employer, available for one day only.

Should the lady hire the servant, she fills up the card with a list of the duties, wages and terms of service agreed upon, and returns it to the bureau, where it is carefully filed for future reference if necessary.

If the applicant does not suit, the card is returned with "not satisfactory," which indicates that other applicants may be sent.

No matter how great the emergency, the new mistress cannot expect her maid for one week, for the girl must give her present employer that length of time to fill her place.

The law protects alike the employer and the employed. The rights of the maid include a comfortable room and bed, good and wholesome food, and prompt and regular payment of wages. In return, she must perform her duties faithfully, and be strictly honest, obedient and respectful during her term of service.

Should either party fail to comply with these requirements, complaint must be made to a magistrate, who investigates the charges and renders a decision. The offended servant or the offended mistress cannot settle the difficulty by parting company. No matter how tired of the bargain mistress or maid may become, they cannot terminate it until the time agreed upon, except by permission of the magistrate. If a servant leaves without the knowledge of her mistress, she is subject to arrest, fine and imprisonment. On the other hand, the servant's wages are a first lien upon the property of the master or mistress.

The municipalities see that the law is strictly enforced with regard to servants, and themselves abide by it in their character of employers of labor.

The Scotch Result.

WILLIAM INGLIS has a story which illustrates what he calls "the Scotch result." He told it to the Aldine Association the other night, together with several stories of his experiences in France, when he was an art student in Paris. Mr. Inglis was a visitor at a Scotch yacht club on the Clyde during a regatta week, and one night he was called on for a story. Knowing, he says, from books and experience, the density of Scotchmen to American jokes, he told the broadest, most pointed story he could think of. It was the old chestnut of the inebriated Irishman, who met a policeman and asked him the time.

"Three o'clock," said the policeman.

"Oi didn't hear," said the Irishman.

"Three o'clock!" the bobby yelled.

"'Shure, Oi didn't hear that, either."

The policeman then hit him three whacks on the head with his club. "Did you hear that?" he asked.

"Shure," said Pat, "Oi heard that, and Oi do be fur thinkin' it's domn glad Oi am that Oi didn't mate ye at twilve."

There was not a ripple of appreciation on the rows of Scotch faces before him, said Mr. Inglis. They, one all, were blank, and slowly each Scotchman drained his whiskey to hide the fact.

"Suddenly," said Mr. Inglis, "I saw an old Scotchman in the far corner break into a smile. Slowly he removed his pipe from his mouth and blew out a cloud of smoke. 'Hoot, mon,' he said, 'but ye canna blame the policemen, for a' that. It do be a wee bit hard to be asked the same question three times.'

"That is what I call the Scotch result," Mr. Inglis concluded.

* * *

"Look at that bicycle," said a lady as she identified a machine in a cloakroom, and saw that it had been badly knocked about and was quite useless for riding purposes.

"Yes, ma'am, I've been looking at it," said the official.

"Why, it is all smashed to pieces!"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Well, what do you propose to do about it?"

"I'll report to the foreman, ma'am, and he'll report to the station master, the station master to the general manager, and he to the board of directors, and in three or four years a solicitor will call upon you to ask you why you didn't travel with your bicycle in a properly made case. That is the way we do."—London Answers.

◆◆◆

"Henry!" said Mrs. Enpeck in a tone of voice that was meant to command attention.

"Yes, my dear," meekly answered Henry.

"I'm actually ashamed of you," said the strenuous half of the aggregation. "Are you aware that you deliberately yawned while Mrs. Neighbors was here this evening?"

"Of course I am, my dear," replied the unhappy man. "You certainly didn't expect me to sit all evening without opening my mouth, did you?"—Chicago News.

Anecdotal.

It is recorded of Mr. W. S. Gilbert that on hearing of the title of Henry Arthur Jones' new play, "The Princess's Nose," he remarked, "I hope it may run long."

United States Senator Hoar received word the other day that a friend, who had been supposed to have appendicitis, was suffering not from that ailment, but from acute indigestion. "That is good news," said the Senator, "I rejoice that the trouble lies in the table of contents rather than in the appendix."

Samuel Rogers, the poet, told of an Englishman and a Frenchman who had to fight a duel. That they might have a better chance of missing one another, they were to fight in a dark room. The Englishman fired up the chimney and brought down the Frenchman! "When I tell this story in Paris," added Rogers, "I put the Englishman up the chimney."

James G. Blaine used to tell this story: Once in Dublin, toward the end of the opera, Satan was conducting Faust through a trap-door which represented the gates of Hades. His Majesty got through all right—he was used to going below—but Faust, who was quite stout, got only about halfway in, and no squeezing would get him any farther. Suddenly an Irishman in the gallery exclaimed, devoutly, "Thank God, hell is full."

When Moses Coit Tyler, the celebrated professor of history at Cornell, was an instructor at the University of Michigan, he had charge of a class in English that assembled at 8 o'clock a.m. One raw February morning at roll-call, he read the name of "Mr. Robbins," a member of the class, without getting an answer. "Mr. Robbins," he repeated in a slightly louder voice. Still no reply. "Ah," said the instructor, with a quiet smile, "come to think of it, it is rather early for robins."

Once during a heated debate between Senator Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio, and Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, the question of law in Texas and law in Ohio came up. The passage became warm. Foraker, by way of a parting shot, told Bailey that if he would come to Ohio he would learn a great deal of law that he did not know. "If there is so very much law to be learned in Ohio," remarked Bailey, "I must advise the Senator to spend all his spare time there. He needs it."

A somewhat apocryphal anecdote of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is going the rounds of the United States press. During the last general elections, it is related, a Quebec Liberal, whose acquaintance with Sir Wilfrid was only political, sent this telegram to his leader, who was in Ontario on a speech-making tour: "Report in circulation in this county that your children have not been baptised. Telegraph denial." To which despatch the Premier sent this reply: "Sorry to say report is correct. I have no children."

Dr. MacNamara, in his collection of child stories, tells one concerning that wonderful dream of Jacob's and the angels going up the ladder to Heaven. "Please, sir," asked one of the boys in the class to which the story was being rehearsed, "why did the angels want to go up the ladder when they had wings?" This nonplussed the teacher, who took a strategic movement to the rear by saying, "Ah, yes! Why? Perhaps one of the boys can answer that." And one did. "Please, sir," said he, "because they was a-molting."

Thomas A. Edison is deaf, but, like many whose hearing is defective, he sometimes understands what is said when it is least expected. There were visitors one day at his laboratory, to whom, as usual, he was polite, although busy, and he patiently answered many questions unnecessarily shouted at him. Finally, one of the visitors, the humorist of the party, said to another: "I bet he'd hear if we ask him to have a drink." "Yes," said Edison, looking directly at the man and smiling, "I would; but no, thank you, not to-day."

The late Lord Dufferin was fond of relating an amusing experience which occurred when he was returning to Ireland from a diplomatic mission to be married, and his engagement to the beautiful Miss Hamilton had just been announced. He landed one evening on the platform of a small country station near Clandeboye, and hired a driver to take him the four or five miles, but he was so muffled up that the driver failed to recognize him. Presently Lord Dufferin asked: "Any news about here?" "No news," grumpily replied the man, "except that the beautiful Miss Hamilton is going to marry that ugly fellow, Dufferin!"

Russell Sage, so often represented in the newspapers as a man who wears a cheap suit, eats apples for lunch, and with no time for anything but the making and amassing of money, has another side to his character. He has been known, more than once, to give to charity; he can appreciate a good joke, and has even been known to make one.

A friend called to see him a few days ago, and in the few minutes he remained incidentally asked the financier his opinion of Cecil Rhodes' will.

Mr. Sage replied that he did not consider Rhodes' idea of the unification of the English-speaking peoples a practical one, and that if any alliance came about between the United States and Great Britain it would not be for sentimental reasons, but rather through commercial and financial interests.

"Then, Mr. Sage," said his questioner, "you think if any closer political relations are established between John Bull's monarchy and Columbia these will be the result of great industrial schemes engineered by such men as J. Pierpont Morgan?"

"Yes—what one might call it a Morganatic marriage," chuckled Uncle Russell.—New York Times.

◆◆◆

"How's your music school prospering, Boommitt?"

"First rate. I've just introduced a novelty that ought to take."

"What's that?"

"A class in harmony, for married people."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

◆◆◆

She—What does a game of ping-pong cost?

He—Well, the last game I know anything about cost me $4 for plate glass, $2 for gas globes, and the friendship of a sweet girl I chanced to hit in the eye.—Yonkers Statesman.

WILL ASK BRITAIN TO PAY

An American has a Million Dollar Claim to Settle

It was Against the Boer Government, However, and Now Uncle Sam Wants England to Pay It.

Washington, D.C., June 13 — Now that the Boer war has been brought to a close the State Department will take under consideration the advisability of submitting to the British Government for settlement the claim of R. E. Brown, of Philadelphia. Brown alleges that he was denied justice by the Transvaal courts, that a mine which he legally owned was seized and that he has been damaged to the extent of $1,000,000.

This is the only claim in connection with South Africa which remains to be disposed of. Sixteen claims for deportation has been either settled or rejected, and the State Department has accepted as final the action of the British Government. The celebrated four claims were disposed of some time ago. Brown now insists that his claim be taken up and pressed, and it is expected that Solicitor of State Penfield, under instructions from Secretary Hay, will carefully examine it.

Confiscated by Kruger's Order.

In his brief, filed with the Department, Brown alleges, and he supports his allegations with proof, that the Supreme Court of the South African Republic declared, in the face of opposition from President Kruger, that his title to the mine was valid. Kruger overruled the decision of the court and removed one of the Judges and appointed to the vacancy a man who was prepared to do his bidding. The court then reversed its former decision and decided against Brown, with the result that his mining property was confiscated.

Might Set Costly Precedent.

If the South African Republic were in existence officials say there would be no doubt that the claim would be immediately presented and vigorously pressed. But the South African Republic is not now in existence, and it is a serious question whether the United States shall take up and press for settlement against a conquering nation claims which had arisen under the Government of the conquered State.

There are now on file in the State Department claims against Spain arising out of personal and property injuries which occurred under Spanish rule, and these have been submitted to the United States for settlement. The State Department has not been disposed to consider them, holding that the obligations of the United States only began when it assumed possession of the Spanish East and West Indies.

If this Government were to press the Brown claim against Great Britain a precedent might be established which may cause payment by the United States of several hundred thousand dollars to persons claiming damages as a result of Spanish cruelty and oppression in Cuba and the Philippines.

A STRIKE PROBABLE

Toronto Street Railway Men May be Ordered Out on Monday

Toronto June 13.—There will be no conference between the Toronto Railway Company and the committee of the Street Railway Employes Union, as matters stand at present. The company absolutely refuses to receive the committee as union men. The Board of Directors of the company met in the head office this morning, with President Mackenzie in the chair. The meeting was short, sharp and decisive. The request of the men was laid before the board, and it is understood that the members were unanimous in refusing to confer with a committee of union men.

A STRIKE IMMINENT.

It requires no stretch of imagination to say that a strike is imminent, and that in the near future.

As a last resort, D. Dilworth, Detroit, chairman of the International Convention, who arrived in the city last night, sent a letter to the company this afternoon by special delivery, asking for a conference either with himself or with a committee of the union. If a favorable answer is not received within reasonable time, probably to-morrow, a mass meeting of the men will be called for Saturday night. There seems little doubt as to the decision which will be reached at that meeting.

"If the company refuses to meet us," said Mr. Dilworth at noon, "the company will be surprised to see how soon the men will come to a decision."

MEN DETERMINED.

"Yes," added Mr. Macdonald, the local organizer for the union, "and the men are thoroughly organized, and have resolved to stand by their organization, or die in the effort."

Once all hope for a conference is given up, a speedy turn in affairs is predicted, and there seems little doubt in the minds of the union's representatives that a strike will be declared.

"It is said," observed The News reporter, "that in the event of a strike the company has something up its sleeve which will surprise the men."

"We have something up our sleeve, too, ready for them, replied Mr. Dilworth and we have just as many sleeves as they have."

STRENGTH OF UNION.

Organizer Macdonald stated that out of some 950 employes of the Toronto Railway Company, over 900 belong to the union, more than half of these having joined within the last six weeks or two months. "Nearly two years ago," he continued, "the company would not receive us; they said, "You do not represent the men." Now we come to them thoroughly organized, as one man, and yet the company refuse to meet us."

At the company's office, however, it was stated on this point that the company had always, as at present, refused to meet the men as representatives of a union, but were always willing to receive them individually or as a body of employes.

Mr. Macdonald also pointed out that the union's constitution was especially severe on members who were found guilty of any misdemeanor, and were just as anxious to rid the company's pay roll of all but reliable and trustworthy men,

$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.
LIMITED.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made of our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

Model 160

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from al parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

New Telephone Directory

The BELL TELEPHONE CO, of Canada, will issue a new subscribers directory for Eastern Ontario, including the Town of Peterborough early in June.

Orders for new connections and changes of firms names should be sent in at once to insure entry in this book.

C. W. STRINGER,
Local Manager

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY
OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

APIOL & STEEL PILLS for Ladies

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Penny royal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

HEADQUARTERS FOR PIG TIN,
LEAD AND ANTIMONY
ENQUIRE FOR PRICES
CANADA METAL CO
William St, Tornto, Ont.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND LONDON, ENG. | send or JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octav., 324 pages, and all the original illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 320 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.") This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 328 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE A Marvel of cheapness

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE
An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 169 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, contains 357 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S
ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings Medicine Co
788 YONGE ST., TORONTO

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R·I·P·A·N·S Tabule. For sale by Druggists The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

ARE YOU STOUT.

Edith Borden, M. D., Has the latest treatment—has cured many of Obesity [illegible] Reducing [illegible] Abdomen and Large Hips a specialty. [illegible]

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewriter Works, 8 Roe St., Binghamton N. Y

King Edward VII. Notepaper

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

NERVOUSNESS

Or despondency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early abuse, later excesses or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not eke out a miserable existence on account of your follies, you are not safe until cured—nature never excuses—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water comes freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not make it quite so freely, it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have a mucous deposit or brick dust colored sediment; give your condition immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed as a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you

PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chances. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., Cor. Wilcox Street, DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up $12,000,000
Reserved Fund..... 7,000,000
Undivided Profits..... 876,581

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

3½ Per cent interest allowed on deposits from day of deposit to day of withdrawal, re payable at any time.

4 Per cent paid. on Debentures, issued for 3 or 5 years.

Money to loan at lowest current rates.

Open every Saturday afternoon.

Offices, 437 George street

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterborough, March 14, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT.

STRATTON & HALL

BARRISTERS

OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. Commercial rooms.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 3?? Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck R. M. Dennistoun. A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 204 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate rates Geo A. FRY 204 Park place.

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOSITE roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 18 Toronto street Toronto

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & electricians, new 40 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board of Engineers. Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, Publisher, St. Louis.

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 381 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No. 382 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $10 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 and 46 Broadway, New York.

SOBER AND INTELLIGENT MAN to handle a Burglar Proof Window Sash Lock. K. S. ARNOLD, 237 King St. E., Toronto

ACTIVE SOLICITOR WANTED. The war is over. Agents clearing $1.00 to $20.00 daily with "Pictorial History of Our War in South Africa." Highest endorsements. Every want it. Contains thrilling history of brave deeds of our boys in the war, and a history of the war and the country. 600 pages 8x10. Only $1.50. Freight and duty paid. Outfit free. COLONIAL PUBLISHING CO., Dept. 2, Chicago.

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady; either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address

General - Sports.

LACROSSE.

The London News says:—"The executive of the London Lacrosse Club are determined that the locals shall be strengthened by all means, and that at the earliest date. They appear to be satisfied from the championship game with Woodstock on Saturday last that several weaknesses in the line-up existed and that these should be remedied at the earliest possible moment. Already they have strings on seven new players, said to be the best, and six of them are expected in the city to-day. At a meeting of the executive Tuesday, Capt Laddy, announced to the players that they would have to brace up in their work or the inevitable would happen. They will be given until Saturday to show improvement, failing which the ax will fall.

The T.A.S. lacrosse team intend going to Orillia on Wednesday.

The Torontos defeated the Nationals at the Island Saturday, by a score of 10—3.

The Tecumsehs defeated Orangeville at Orangeville by a score of 3—2.

The following players of the senior and junior teams of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society are requested to turn out for practice on the Murray street school grounds this evening, when the teams will be pitted against each other:

Seniors — O'Brien, Durocher, McDonough, Meagher, Mahoney, Overend, Lynch McCoy, McNichol, L. Doris, Joe O'Brien, and McDonough.

Juniors — Gilman, Doris Whaley, Pope McCormack, A. Doris, Primeau, Mulligan, Doherty, Carey, W. W'Brien, Hickey, Doris, Anglesye, McNichol and Cahill.

BASEBALL.

In the Triple League series Saturday morning, the Rosedales won from the Y.M.C.A. by a score of 11 to 7. M. A Sormoleil umpired to the satisfaction of both teams.

GOLF.

The draw in the second round of the Captain's Handicap has been made and the following gentlemen will play the second round which must be finished by Saturday evening, June 21st. The match is a holes competition, and the competitors who have received handicaps will find the schedule giving the proper holes on which the strokes are to be taken, posted in the Club House. The draw in the second round is as follows:

C. H. Bradburn vs S. Ray.

J. H. Burnham vs. R. M. Hamilton.

R. M. Dennistoun vs. winner Neill vs. Crane.

Winner Neill vs Terrill, vs. P. Campbell.

C. E. Brown vs. A. H. Stratton.

Winner Fair vs. Davidson, vs. E. G. Patterson.

Hearts That Are Deranged

will never be cured by the false, unnatural stimulation of liquor. First increase your vitality, build up the system, strengthen and purify the blood—then the heart will respond and grow strong.

Ferrozone is precisely what to take, it gives you an appetite and a digestion that will look after anything that is eaten. Ferrozone improves nutrition, makes rich, vitalizing blood, and is positively the most powerful restorative and strengthener known to science; it improves new nerve tone, regulates the heart's action, makes the feeble strong and the sick well. Ferrozone will do you untold good and costs only 50c., at druggists or Ormond & Walsh.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the Liver.

Our Delicious Strawberries

This is genuine strawberry weather, and the first Canadian fruit of the season is now being received in our fruit stores. Of all things that grow in Ontario, nothing is finer, more luscious and more available for all the people than our crop of strawberries. All through Southern Ontario, along the western end of Lake Ontario and through the Niagara district the finest strawberries in the world are to be found. Strawberries in this province are so cheap, as a general rule, the public, rich and poor, young and old, have the full enjoyment of them for a period of from 20 to 40 days. The berries are home grown, and the cream is the production of Canadian cows, and some day soon the sugar will be refined from the juice of Canadian beets. So it is national.

Revolution in Newfoundland

Since the introduction into Newfoundland of the new Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhozone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirely revolutionized. The old-time snuff and internal medicine has been cast aside, and every one is inhaling Catarrhozone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhozone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhozone. Price $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills.

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

CHAPTER I.

In Which I See a Purple Scar.

Down came the curtain on the first act of "The Bells" at the Lyceum. I had sat spellbound, for never before had I seen Sir Henry Irving, never before had I been inside a London theatre.

"Is'nt he glorious?" I said to my mother, with an ecstatic sigh.

She did not answer, and, glancing quickly into her face, I saw that she had not heard me. There was a strange blank look in her great dark eyes—eyes that, when I was a child, I used to say were "like wells of ink, with stars at the bottom"—as if her spirit had strayed from her body and forgotten the way back again.

I touched her in a scared, hesitating way, as one wakes a person who has cried out in a dream. "Mother—mother dear!" I whispered.

"What's the matter Sheila?" she asked, dazedly.

"Oh, nothing, dear," I hastened to say. "I was afraid that something was the matter with you. You—you looked so odd. Are you quite well?"

"Yes," she answered. "Sir Henry Irving's face, in his make-up for Mathias, reminded me of—a man I used to know, and haven't seen for—a very long time, that's all. And thoughts came up out of the past."

"A man you'd rather not think of?" I ventured, encouraged that she should answer my first question; for she did not always answer questions.

Her lips tightened. For a moment she did not speak. Then she said, slowly: "It disturbs me to think of him. I wish you had chosen some other play for your birthday night."

"I wanted to see this one so much!" I exclaimed. "And I thought you wanted it, too. But if you'd rather go home—"

"No, no," she broke in, with a note of impatience in her voice. "It is nothing at all—a mere fancy. Please forget about it, Sheila, and be as happy as you can. Your very first visit to a London theatre, child! Remember, there can never be another first time."

Everything that was happening to me lately was happening for the first time. I had just come to London; I had just been presented; I had just found out that I was a pretty girl, and that people rather liked to talk to me. To-night it appeared that they rather liked to look at me as well—when the curtain was down, and there was nothing better to do—for as I peeped out between the draperies of the box a great many opera glasses were lifted.

My first impulse was to draw back, self-consciously; but it was my ambition to seem quite a woman of the world (it usually is when one is eighteen), and I decided to appear oblivious to the fact that I was a centre of attraction. In a moment I actually became so; for two persons who were gazing up at the box caught my attention, and caused me to forget my important little self.

One was a young man in the pit—a young man neither well dressed nor remarkably handsome, yet, as I glanced at him, under cover of my lashes, I felt that his was a face to pick out in a crowd. If there were a fire in the theatre, and he said that he would save me, I would unhesitatingly trust him to do it. He was not at all the sort of young man I had ever known, or was ever likely to know. Yet, as our eyes met for an instant, a thought-wave seemed to pass from his spirit to mine. It was not a message, it was a sensation; I can describe it by no other word. But I knew that if I had been born in his sphere, or he in mine, we must have meant something in one another's lives. I wondered if the same impression was in his mind; his eyes said yes; and, with the blood rushing hotly to my cheeks, I looked away, feeling somehow guilty and ashamed, as if I had spoken to a stranger.

Turning from him, I encountered other eyes fixed upon me with a very different expression. A woman had come in late, and had just taken a seat in the stalls, in such a position as to command an excellent view of our box. She was dressed in black satin, glittering with a great deal of jet, and a large diamond comb gleamed like a crescent moon in her black hair, streaked with grey. The light shone full upon her aquiline features, as she stared fixedly up at our box, and her eyes, enormously large, though deep-set, looked yellow-grey, and luminous as a cat's, in contrast with the thick, short black lashes and olive skin.

The woman fastened these curious, pale eyes upon me for a long moment, with an extraordinary, almost greedy, interest, then they travelled from me to mother, who was leaning back in her chair, listlessly reading the names on the programme.

If it had not been ridiculous to imagine such a thing, I should have fancied deliberate malice in the look fixed upon that beautiful, sad face.

I drew my chair a little further back, and began asking mother questions about the various actors and actresses. Until the curtain went up on the next act I kept her attention concentrated upon me; but when the lights were down throughout the house, except on the stage, I could not resist the unpleasant fascination that the dark face with the pale cat-like eyes had already begun to exercise over my spirit.

I glanced once more at the shabby young man in the pit, but this time he was absorbed in the play, and I experienced a slight, indefinable sense of resentment that he no longer thought of me. I, too, turned to the stage, and speedily forgot the impertinent gipsy-face in the stalls, until the curtain fell, and I remembered her with a start. I think it must have been that her eyes had intentionally drawn mine, as if with all her force she had willed me to think of her again; for she was watching me, and slowly, very slowly, drawing off a long black suede glove.

Her sleeves only reached the elbow, where they ended in a fall of thick jet fringe; and as she removed the glove her large, well-shaped arm lay like a column of marble on the black satin of her gown. At last she turned her arm so that the under part, with the palm of the hand, lay uppermost. Half-way between the elbow and the wrist was a purple patch, about the size of a common pansy, but of a different shape, and a horrid thrill went through my nerves as I sharply realized that the woman's action was wholly for me. She was taking off her gloves that I might see the scar. Others might notice what was happening; for this she did not care. The silent message was for our box, and nowhere else.

In any circumstances there must have been something uncannily disagreeable about this, but I knew, and the woman knew (I felt sure) that which made it worse than disagreeable.

The mark on her arm to which she wished to attract my attention was shaped like a heart, and it was not the first of the kind which I had seen. Such a scar had made, for years, all of mystery that my life had ever known. I had thought of it by day, I had dreamt of it by night; I had once been severely punished for asking questions concerning it, for there was such a purple, heart-shaped scar—the very fellow of the one I now beheld—in the same position on the arm of my mother.

As I looked down, with dilated eyes, my hands tensely grasping the ledge of the box, I heard myself utter a faint sound, between a gasp and a sigh. I would have given much if I could have taken it back; but it was too late. Mother had heard, and was asking, in her quick, nervous way, what was the matter.

"Oh—nothing, nothing!" I exclaimed, as she had said to me a short time before. But I could not make my voice sound natural, and she leant out from the box to see for herself what had drawn from me that one tell-tale exclamation.

The white arm still lay on the black satin lap down below, and I saw my mother's eyes find the scar. I felt the start she gave, as if it had gone shuddering through my own body.

With an unconscious movement she seized my wrist, grasping it so tightly that I could have cried out with pain. I had not dreamt that she was so strong. She stood up, dragging me also from my chair. "I must go—at once," she said. "I must see—that woman down there."

"Let us send for her to come and speak with you here," I said, soothingly. "I'll call an attendant—"

"No, no," mother answered, her voice sharp with impatience. "She wouldn't come to me. Don't you see she is going? If I don't follow at once I shall lose her, and all the old misery will have to be lived over again. Open the door for me, Sheila—open the door."

She would have gone without her cloak, which had been flung over the back of her chair, if I had not caught it up and wrapped it round her shoulders. Snatching my own, as I opened the door of the box, I hurried along after my mother's tall, swiftly-moving figure.

When we reached the lobby of the theatre the woman in black was nowhere to be seen; she had had plenty of time to escape from our pursuit, if she chose, and so hateful I thought her, so repugnant was the whole episode, that I could not help secretly hoping that she had really gone.

But my mother scarcely glanced about the lobby. It appeared to me that she did not expect the object of our search to be found there, for she hurried to the door, hardly answering when I ventured to remind her that our carriage would not arrive for half an hour at least.

As we went out into the chill of the April air, a four-wheeled cab was brought up to the pavement by a commissionaire, and a woman got in. My heart gave a quick bound as I saw that it was the one whom we had come to seek.

"Now she will drive away," I hastily thought, "and we shall perhaps follow. It will be so long before we can start, though, that we shall certainly not catch up with her.'

But instead of giving the quick order that I expected, the woman with the heart-shaped scar on her arm kept the commissionaire in conversation. She seemed not only in no hurry to depart, but actually to be glad of an excuse for lingering.

It would be long before the crowd should come streaming out of the theatre, at the end of the play, and at present Wellington street looked empty and deserted. But two or three cabs were crawling along, on their slow way somewhere else, and my mother, rustling in her yellow satin dress down to the pavement, without even holding up the long, soft folds from contact with the stones, hailed one of the passing vehicles with an imperative gesture.

The hansom stopped; the woman in black said something in a low tone to the commissionaire, who repeated the words to her driver. The four-wheeler moved slowly away and our cab took its place.

"Get in, Sheila," commanded my mother in an odd, strained voice, utterly unlike her own.

"Surely you first, dear," I objected gently.

"I am not going with you," she curtly returned.

"Not—going with me?"

"No. Please don't stop to argue. I want you to drive home at once. I shall follow later—exactly how soon I can't tell. But you are not to sit up, and there is not the slightest cause for anxiety. Get into the cab as quickly as you can."

I loved my mother, yet I was a little afraid of her in some moods, and it was an effort to withstand her. But I hesitated, though her hand was on my arm, urging me forward.

"I beg you to come with me," I pleaded, "or else—to let me go with you, whatever you may mean to do. I am frightened. It is all so strange and miserable. I can't help being anxious. I can't leave you like this, mother. I——"

"Obey me at once, and don't let us have a scene here in the street," she whispered harshly.

Her gaze compelled mine, and there was no yielding in its light, only anger and determination. Tears sprang to my eyes, and there was a sickly coldness at my heart; but I said not another word, and climbed meekly into the hansom, as I had been bidden.

"To the Coburg Hotel, Carlos place," my mother directed the cabman. I leant out to say "good-bye," but she was moving away with a look on the clear-cut profile which seemed to say that already I was forgotten.

To be Continued.

MOST WONDERFUL OF PIANO PLAYERS.

The Cecilian

There are many piano-players offered to the public—al said to be perfect. But after having played on the Cecilian Piano-Player it will be at once pronounced the one "Perfect" player The tone is such that people are charmed from the first note.

It is so simple in construction that anyone, without the ability but with the desire to play some of the most classical and difficult compositions of the greatest masters, finds no difficulty whatever when using the Cecilian.

It is completely under the control of the operator, responding to the slightest touch—and the tone can be moderated according as the player desires.

The power of individual expression in the Cecilian is really wonderful—astonishing people whenever it is heard

It has been endorsed by leading musicians in different parts of the country and is the delight of all who know it.

This piano-player is on daily exhibition at our handsome warerooms, and is worthy a visit from every lover of beautiful music.

Heintzman & Co

115-117 King Street West, Toronto.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories. Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

52—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year

Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

Canvasser
—WANTED—

to sell PRINTERS' INK—a journal for advertisers—published weekly at five dollars a year. It teaches the science and practice of Advertising and is highly esteemed by the most successful advertisers in this country and Great Britain. Liberal commission allowed. Address PRINTERS INK, 10 Spruce St., New York

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH
Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales
FOR EVERYBODY
COAL GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES
GET OUR PRICES
DIAMOND STEEL BEARING
C. WILSON & SON,
81 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

SANTAL MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

50 Doses for 25c

IF THEY CURE YOU.

50 Doses for Nothing

IF THEY DO NOT CURE YOU

These are the terms upon which we will mail you a full size box of either

Dr. Dean's Nerve & Blood Builder

—OR—

Dr. Dean's Kidney Pills

We know you never tried the equal of these wonderful remedies and that's why we can offer to send back your money if you buy them and are not perfectly satisfied.

Send 25c. in stamps and get a box by return mail.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

—AND—

MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.)

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 16 1902.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—The City of Peterborough is doing a good business.

—The open season for maskinong and bass begins to-day.

—Our new serial story will begin this week. Watch for it.

—Two Millbrook hotel keepers were fined $50 each and costs for violation of the License Act.

—On Thursday last Mr. Dan Foley, the popular manager of Jubilee Point Hotel, furnished 600 dinners.

—In police court Saturday morning a charge of non-support laid by a wife against her husband was dismissed.

—The steamers Majestic and Empress will commence their regular trips to Stony lake to-day, running alternate days until July 1st.

—Last week was enumeration week at the Post Office. Every letter, postal card, etc., that goes in or out of the Post Office is being counted.

—The North Star brought a large excursion up from Gore's Landing and Harwood on Saturday. There were about 150 people on board the steamer and [illegible].

—The regular monthly meeting of St. John's Woman's Auxiliary will be held this afternoon at half past three in the Guild room. As it is the last meeting before the holidays a large attendance is desired.

—At the County Court, which closed Saturday, before His Honour Judge Weller, the case of Reid vs. Middleton was concluded, and judgment was reserved until July 3rd.

—Entrance examinations will be held on the 25th, 26th and 27th of June, and the examinations for High school students, junior leaving, will take place on the 3rd, 4th and 5th of July.

—Arrangements are about complete for a very successful celebration of Decoration day next Thursday, June 19, if the weather will be fine. The committee will meet this evening at 7.30, to see that everything is in readiness. The procession will leave Central park at two o'clock.

—The funeral of the late Mr. Thos. Guerin, who was killed on the G.T.R. tracks, in Toronto, took place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the family residence, No. 118 Boundary Line, interment being in the Catholic Cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Edward and Thomas Bouret, Anthony Rie, Harry Rishea, O. Gordon and Edward Leplante. A very beautiful wreath was sent from Toronto by the fellow employees of the deceased.

—The story is going the rounds that a certain minister found his people too poor to purchase hymn-books, and being offered the same book free by a patent medicine house, provided that they be allowed to insert their advertisement, ordered three dozen for the congregation. He was elated on receiving them to find no "ad" in them. The next Sunday he distributed the books, telling the brethren of his good fortune and requested that they sing hymn one hundred and twenty. His chagrin may be imagined when they sang the hymn as follows:

"Hark, the heavenly angels sing,
Clarke's red pills are just the thing;
Angel's voices, meek and mild,
Two for a man and one for a child"

—A Lindsay man, staying at the Snowden House, comes to the front with the prize fish story of the season: He says he caught the same black bass in the Scugog river twenty-seven times. He weighed the fish each time it increased in weight one ounce each time it was drawn out of the water, which was the specific gravity of the frog he was supposed to have swallowed. There are two reasons why this story is not true: No Lindsay man would throw back a five-pound bass, and in the second place there is no bass of that weight in the muddy Scugog.

—Should a certain very pretty young woman who attends the George street Methodist Church read this the mystery of where her shoe disappeared to during the services last Sunday morning will be made clear to her. The shoe, a dainty Oxford tie, must have been too small for her, for during the sermon she covertly untied it, and then, with the aid of her other shoe, removed it from her foot entirely. This action, unobtrusive as it was, did not escape the attention of a young man seated in the pew directly behind her, and he discovered that, with the aid of his cane, he could scrape the shoe back into his pew. Another young man, seated behind him, saw this performance, and with his cane he surreptitiously pulled the shoe back into his pew. A third young man, back of him, did likewise and finally the shoe had traveled quite a distance. Blissfully unconscious of this the fair owner awaited the Benediction, and then made the horrible discovery that her shoe was missing. There was nothing to do but wait until all the other members of the congregation had left the church, and then, with the aid of the sexton, she eventually discovered it three pews behind the one in which she had been sitting. She has since then not ceased to wonder how the miracle was performed.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Hon. J. R. Stratton was in town on Sunday.

—Mr. F. J. Lillicrap, Lakefield, was in town Saturday.

—Mr. J. D. Thornton, Omemee, gave The Times a friendly call Saturday.

—Mr. A. P. Choate, of New York, is visiting his parents in town.

—Mr. Paul Stanley, of Montreal, is in town the guest of his brother, Mr. Chas. Stanley.

—Rev. Father F. J. Ries, and C. J. Olert of North East, Pa., are visiting Rev Father Fitzpatrick, Ennismore.

—The many friends of Capt. Maurice Lane, of the City of Peterborough, will be pleased to know that he is recovering from a rather severe attack of erysipelas.

—Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, has completed a tour of inspection over the route of the Trent Valley Canal.

—Mrs. Ervine, Miss Ervine and Mr. Ervine, of Houston, Texas, and Mrs. W. C. McClelland, of Dallas, Texas, are guests at the residence of Mr. Hugh Waddell.

—Dr. R. W. Bell, formerly of Peterborough, has been transferred from the Toronto asylum for the Insane to London, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Dr. Beemer, assistant superintendent.

—Minden Echo,—Christopher Leary Esq. of Peterborough, who recently returned from Texas, where he spent the winter with his son, is at present a visitor with Mr. J. J. Mortimer, of Anson. Mr. Leary is accompanied by Mrs. John Leary, three of her children, and Mrs. J. J. Mortimer's mother, Mrs. Mitchell.

—Mr. Frank Harrison, successor to Mr. W. B. Bamford, as C.P.R. station agent, arrived on Saturday. Mr. Harrison has been the C.P.R. agent for ten years at Myrtle, and prior to that time had considerable experience on American lines. His appointment to Peterborough by the C.P.R. is a recognition of his ability to fill the position, and the patrons of the C.P.R. in Peterborough will wish him every success.

Their Annual Outing

The annual excursion under the auspices of the employees of the Stanley Piano Company, took place on Saturday afternoon to Jubilee Point. A most enjoyable afternoon and evening was spent, and everything passed off in the most satisfactory manner. The Band of the 57th was present, and helped to enliven the proceedings. This event is now looked forward to with great interest by our citizens, who run out in large numbers to enjoy the hospitality and pleasant society of those who have charge of this popular outing.

CATCHING

The Coffee Habit Breeds Trouble

It is quite commonly the case that both husband and wife are somewhat similarly troubled with coffee drinking.

A lady writes and, after giving details of coffee dyspepsia and general nervous trouble, says, "I was almost as bad as he, having the headache almost every day, and was nervous and weak, was troubled a good deal with belching, did not sleep well, was pale and thin and had a bad complexion.

(When I found how much good Postum Coffee was doing Husband I concluded to use it, and I tell you my life is altogether a different thing. I eat and sleep well and look like a different woman. My usual weight for years was from 95 to 100 pounds. I now weigh 108 pounds and everyone tells me how much better I am looking.

I had some friends who did not like Postum, but knowing it was because they did not boil it long enough, I made some at their house one day, and they agree with me that Postum is a delicious beverage, and while, of course, the flavor and taste is pleasing and we are glad Postum does suit that way, the great advantage is in the wonderful, bounding health that we have recovered.— Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MR. BAMFORD HONORED

Presented with an Address and a well Filled Purse

The many friends of Mr. Bamford met at the Oriental Saturday night to spend a social evening and say farewell to one of Peterborough's most prominent citizens

In Mr. Bamford Peterborough will lose one of its most worthy citizens, and Mr. Bamford's departure will be much felt both in social and business circles. He always having taken a most prominent part in everything pertaining to the welfare of the town.

The following address signed by a number of the most prominent business men of the town to gether with a well filled purse was presented to Mr. Bamford.

W. B. Bamford, Esq.,

Dear Sir: We have here assembled this evening, on the eve of your departure to take up your residence in another city to give expression in a small way of our feelings toward you.

We are speaking as citizens of the good town of Peterborough to one who has been a good citizen of that good town and is now about to sever those relations of citizenship. Therefore in the first place we would assure you that we regret exceedingly that you are leaving Peterborough. Since coming here, ten years ago, you have identified yourself with the town's interests, and have never failed to respond readily when your fellow citizens requested your assistance in any movement that had for its object the advancement of the general good, though your business made large demands on your time, you were always to the front to give your services and your leisure—limited though the latter was—to the advancement of the town's interests. In a work you have displayed a public spirit and a zeal in your citizenship that has made you a worthy example to others, and at this time we desire to let you know this has been appreciated by the citizens of the town appreciated by the citizens of the town.

Then your services on the Board of Education for several years have been valuable in the promotion of the important interests of our schools and ensuring them a careful businesslike management, and this public duty you discharged with the same fidelity and straightforwardness that has been characteristic of all your relations here.

But, sir, it is with the business men of the town that your daily relations have had most to do, and it cannot fail to be gratifying to you to know that at this time so many of them are anxious to express their appreciation of you and your business methods. The majority of the business men of the town are represented here, including all our manufacturers, who as shippers have had to meet you in a business way. The unanimous sentiment is, that your record here has been an honorable one, and that your word at all times has been as good as your bond, and that you in a particular degree possess the qualities of an ideal railway man. You were ever true and careful of the interests of your employers, yet you were always alive to and showed a sympathy with the interests represented in the manufacturers and business men of the town. General courteous and diplomatic at all times our business relations have been of the most pleasant character, and we regret that they are to be severed. Yet we recognize that your ability is worthy of a large field and equal to large and greater responsibilities, and we are pleased that the great railway concern with which you are employed has recognized your faithfulness and successful service and has shown its appreciation of your talents by promoting you to the position of Travelling Freight Agent. The fact that you have been so successful here and have so emphatically demonstrated your capacity for business leads us to predict that your new position will be but a stepping stone to larger and more important things.

That such may be the case and that you and Mrs. Bamford and your family may enjoy success and happiness and frequently return to renew pleasant associations in Peterborough is the wish of the citizens of the town who would now say "God speed to good luck" and ask your acceptance of the accompanying purse.

Mr. Bamford replied in a few well chosen words expressing thanks for their kind remarks and presentation and referred to the many pleasant times spent in their midst which will never never be forgotten. And that he would always take a great interest in the welfare of the old town. After a enjoyable evening the gathering dispersed with singing "God Save the King."

A Sad Bereavement

We are exceeding sorry to have to record the demise of Mr. A. E. Davidson, son of Mr. James Davidson, North Monaghan, after only 48 hours' illness. The deceased was in his usual health on Wednesday, and was stricken with paralysis during the night. He passed away on Friday evening. The deceased was only 38 years of age. The funeral, which took place on Sunday, was largely attended. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

Honored by His Masonic Brethren

On Friday evening last, Mr. W. B. Bamford, who is leaving Peterborough to reside in Toronto, taking the position of Travelling Freight Agent for the C.P.R., which company he has so successfully represented in town was honored by the members of Peterborough Lodge A.F. & A.M., of which he has been an active member, and is a Past Master. Rev. W. Stocker presided, and after the usual loyal toasts had been honored by sixty of the brethern present, the toast of the evening was offered by Rev. Mr. Armitage, in eugolistic terms, after which Bro. Bamford was presented with a beautiful Past Master's Jewel. "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" was heartily sung, after which short speeches, complimentary to the guest of the evening were delivered by Bros. Shooks, (Mayor) Denne F. F. Matthews, A. Dawson, McKay and others.

An Enjoyable Outing

No more delightful day's outing could be had than a trip by City of Peterborough to Jubilee Point or Idyl-Wyld. This splendid steamer under the guiding hand of Capt. Maurice Vane, is an ideal pleasure boat, and will do more to popularize this route than anything else. A few days ago a representative of The Times took a day off and joined a party of lady and gentlemen friends on a sail to Rice Lake and return. To say that the day was pleasantly spent would be putting it mildly; it was a delightful trip. The officers of the City of Peterborough, including Mrs. Lane, the stewardess, did everything possible to add to the pleasure and comfort of the party. At Jubilee Point an old friend, Mr. Dan Foley, was on hand, and gave the party a hearty welcome. Mr. Foley is making Jubilee Point Hotel a success, and has a large number of guests booked already.

At Idyl-Wyld Mr. Jack. English is making things hum. No more beautiful place is to be found on our inland lakes than Idyl-Wyld and under Mr. and Mrs. English's management it is sure to become popular. While at Idyl-Wyld a feature of the day's outing was a game of quoits, in which Mr. A. W. Cressman captained one side and the representative of this great family journal the other, the ladies taking part in the sport. This g. f. j. has a long head and on this occasion decided that it was perhaps a safer plan to come out second best particularly as his wife was playing on the opposite side. Otherwise we would have knocked the enemy into a cocked hat. After three hours' delightful sail up the winding and picturesque Otonabee, the party arrived home at 8 o'clock, carrying with them recollections of a day's outing the pleasures of which will not soon be forgotten.

It Surpasses All Others

Malt Breakfast Food

The Best For Young and Old For the Strong and Weak

The Breakfast Dish of Royalty

Malt Breakfast Food, rich in Malt, Gluten and Phosphates, predigested and free from insoluble starch, is the one perfect cereal food for the nourishment of the body, nerves and brain. Its marvellous building-up virtues bless the young and old, the strong and weak. Ask your Grocer for a package.

Gough Bro's

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies D[illegible] Oxfords, reg. $1.25,$1.50, for $1.00 | Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75 for..$1.25
M[illegible] Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25 | Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00, for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS! STRAW HATS!

Plain Straw Hat............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c | Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c,$1.00 and $1.25
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00 | Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,
HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST.JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CORONATION DAY
JUNE 26TH,

DOMINION DAY
JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y. Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also Good going June 30th and July 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24th to July 1st, inclusive, valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from
W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26 | DOMINION DAY JULY 1

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th
Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st
Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3,

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y., Black Rock, N.Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

283 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 180, 195 and 215, day or night.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R. Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborough, Ont

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's
$2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00
Hand-Made Shoes,
they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ...ARCHITECT..
450 George Street

READ THIS.

READ THIS, $700.00 in Bank will yield you $21.00 per year, we can give you better security and a return of over $71.00 per year for same money.

See cards in our office window for other profitable investments.

Choice building Lots, Houses and Lots, Gardens and farms for sale.

T. HURLEY & CO.
Near Post Office
Phone, 376, Ground Floor,

TENDERS WANTED.

Sealed tenders will be received by the undersigned until noon of Friday, June 20th, 1902 for the building of a Mission School on the lands owned by St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on corner of Wolfe and Reid Streets in the Town of Peterborough.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of W. Blackwell, Architect.

R. B. WOOD,
Chairman Building Committee

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 141 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO TUESDAY JUNE 17 1902 PRICE TWO CENT

THE BOERS FAITHFUL NOW TO GREAT BRITAIN

De Wet's Advice to the Boers--Says that God Demands it of Them

Special to The Times.

London, June 16.— The Times publishes an article on South African casualties from its acturial correspondent, which says that, excepting the first year's fighting, when losses by battle and disease were very heavy, the casualties in South Africa compare favorably with those of most recent campaigns for which trustworthy figures are obtainable.

In the last year of the American civil war the total death rate of officers and men, which previously had been much higher, was reduced to 42.49 per 1,000, and in the Franco-Prussian war the total death rate was 46 per 1,000. In South Africa during the closing months of the war the total mortality has been 3.66.

These figures show how war tends to become less deadly under modern conditions, especially when these conditions become understood by experience. It is noticeable that not many more died of disease in South Africa during the last eight months than would have been the case of there had been no war. The average death rate of the British troops in foreign service is 15 per 1,000, and in South Africa was 18.1.

The Times' correspondent at Pretoria says it is surprising how intimate is the friendship which has sprung up between the British officers and the Boer leaders who joined hands in order to put an end to the devastation in South Africa, which was rapidly being brought about through the obstinacy of the guerilla leaders. It certainly would be difficult to get together a finer body of men than these leaders of what already is an Imperialist movement among the Boers.

FAITHFUL TO GREAT BRITAIN.

London, June 17.—Despatches received here from South Africa show that the surrenders of Boers are proceeding with the greatest good-will. The total number who have already surrendered is 16,500, and the British are extending every possible kindness to the men who come in.

The appearance of General De Wet at the camp at Winnipeg was the signal for a great display of enthusiasm. When he arrived at the camp General De Wet was at once surrounded by thousands of Boer men, women, and children, who struggled and clamored to shake the hands of their hero. He mounted a table and delivered an address. He warmly aplauded the staunch support that the women had given the burghers during the war, which, he said, had greatly encouraged the men in the field.

Continuing, De Wet recommended his hearers to be loyal to the new Government, and said: "Perhaps it is hard for you to hear this from my mouth, but God has decided thus. I fought until there was no more hope of upholding our cause, and, however bitter it may be, the time has now come to lay down our arms. As a Christian people, God now demands that we be faithful to our new Government. Let us submit to His decision."

Neither De Wet nor Mr. Steyn, former President of the Orange Free State, was wounded during the war. De Wet has not seen his wife for two years.

WITH BADEN-POWELL

Interesting Experience With the South African Constabulary

Fighting the Boers Under Great Difficulties—How Prisoners Were Taken By the British

Mr. Charles Barker received a letter yesterday from J. Lawrie, one of the young men who went out to South Africa with the Baden-Powell constabulary. It is written from Klerksdorp, bears the date of April 24, and reads:

"Things are not too bad in a way out here. We have been on column duty for the past two months and it is all right. There are a few hardships and inconveniences to put up with; still it is more exciting than blockhouse duty. We have a few farms to ransack every day. When there are no officers present we manage to help our scanty rations considerably with the aid of a chicken or two or a young pig.

"We bump into a few Boers almost daily and capture a few prisoners almost every time.

"Besides this we have had three good engagements.

"One of these was near Hortebusfontein. The Boers made it warm for a time, till the big guns got into action, then they deported, but with slight loss.

"Another time we came across Delarey, after making the record march of the Transvaal—86 miles without halting. It all went our way that day. Delarey had five guns; we took these, and wagons, carts, mules, oxen, food, cattle, rifles and ammunition, together with about 130 prisoners.

"The next one was at Rowival, and it was good and warm for a few minutes. The advance of the Boers was dressed in khaki and helmets. The South African constabulary got within five yards of them. The rifle fire was the hottest I ever heard. The Boers made a plucky attack, but were driven back.

"It is estimated that we accounted for 250 killed and wounded. A number of the Boers in the advance were hit four and five times each.

"General Dotguter was killed there. He stopped several bullets.

"When they retired we pursued them for about twenty miles, but got only two more prisoners and a couple of big guns. They must have been well mounted for we travelled some.

"Jack Marshall was there in his glory. He is good stuff; one of the best men in the company under fire.

"Our hospital wagon picked up over 100 dead and wounded. The Boers sent into camp that night for dressing, as they had a great number of wounded on their hands."

STRANGE LONDON POISONING

Young Man in a Theatre Ate Chocolates Given Him by Man In Next Seat

London, June 17.—The police are investigating a peculiar poisoning case. While a young couple were seated in the stalls of a variety theatre, a fussy, talkative, elderly person alongside the young man produced a box of chocolates and he good-naturedly accepted and ate some of the contents. The young woman with him declined to partake.

Shortly afterward the elderly man left the theatre. The youth became drowsy and then unconscious. A physician was summoned and found that the youth was suffering from the effects of a poison.

The victim remained unconscious for two days but is recovering. The police have not found the poisoner.

LYNCHED TWO NEGROES

A North Carolina Mob Hangs the Gillespie Brothers

Aged 11 and 16, Respectively—The Boys Confess Their Guilt, and are Shown no Mercy

Special to The Times.

Charlotte, N.C., June 16— Harrison and James Gillespie, negro boys, 16 and 13 years old respectively, who murdered Miss Nelly Benson on Monday afternoon, were taken from the jail at Salisbury this morning at 2.30 o'clock and hanged.

The two boys were arrested yesterday afternoon for the murder of Miss Nelly Benson, a white girl, near her father's home at Salisbury. The capture of the boys and their lodgement in jail here were the signal for an immediate demonstration, and in the early part of the night a large number of people gathered about the jail and openly declared that the boys should be hanged at once. At midnight a telegram was received from Gov. Aycock, authorizing the use of the local military company. After the militia had been called out the mob grew quiet and left the jail.

At 1 o'clock about 100 men on horseback suddenly appeared on the streets of Salisbury and started in the direction of the jail. Mayor Boyden met the mob and begged them to disperse, but without result. When the crowd came to the jail fifty men who were masked became the active force in the mob and demanded the surrender of the prisoners. Chief Julian, at the approach of the lynchers, had taken the boys from their cell and hidden them in the small attic of the jail. Here they were discovered by the mob placed in a carriage and hurriedly driven to the north end of the Southern railway yard.

The older boy, Harrison Gillespie, was hanged first. Just before the rope was placed around his neck he confessed that he and his brother had murdered Miss Benson. He declared that his brother, James, had thrown the first stone which knocked down Miss Benson and then he and James seized large stones and crushed the young woman's skull. The rope was placed around Harrison's neck and thrown over the limb of an oak tree, and then he was drawn slowly up and strangled to death. He showed no emotion at any time.

James Gillespie, the younger boy, went piteously. The leaders of the party forced him to climb the tree with the rope around his neck and then made him jump to his death.

Do You Use Oatmeal in Any Form in Summer Time

GIVE IT UP AND TRY DELICIOUS AND HEALTH-GIVING

Malt Breakfast Food

It Is a Body, Blood, Nerve and Brain Nourisher

Thousands use irritating and blood-heating oatmeal ignorant of the fact that it produces many serious digestive ailments, heats the blood and aggravates eczema and other skin troubles.

Malt Breakfast Food, delicious, healthful, light and refreshing to the stomach, keeps the blood at a normal temperature and promotes a regular and healthy digestive vigor. For summer health, energy and activity use Malt Breakfast Food every morning. All Grocers.

The Illness of King Edward

London, June 17.—King Edward to-day is suffering from a chill, which has prevented his Majesty from attending to-day's church parade of the Aldershot garrison. The chill came as a result of his prolonged stay outdoors last night, upon the occasion of the torch light tattoo at Aldershot. His Majesty's chill is a slight one, accompanied by symptoms of lumbago. Sir Francis Laking, physician-in-ordinary to his Majesty, was summoned to Aldershot early this morning. He prescribed for the King, and recommended that to-day be spent in perfect quiet. It has been learned that the King arose in the afternoon. This is considered a good reason for hoping that his indisposition is only temporary.

THIS SAYS HIS MAJESTY IS BETTER.

London, June 17.—King Edward, who was attacked yesterday by lumbago, following a chill contracted while reviewing troops at Aldershot, passed a good night, and is much between. Rain is falling, however, so he will not risk attending the grand review to-day. The Prince of Wales will take the salute in his Majesty's stead.

THIS REPORT IS MORE SERIOUS.

London, June 17.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Aldershot says:

"The King's illness has become of a much more serious nature than at first expected.

"Yesterday the King was in a low state, and laudanum was administered to allay the pain. Complications were feared this morning."

HIS MAJESTY IS MUCH BETTER.

London, June 17.—Lord Farquhar, master of the household, who is at Windsor Castle, said this afternoon that King Edward was much better, and that his Majesty would arrive at the Castle this evening from Aldershot, in accordance with his previous arrangements.

CARE OF THE INSANE

Annual Meeting of the Medico-Psychological Society

Special to The Times.

Montreal, Que, June 17.—The fifty-eighth annual meeting of the American Medico-Psychological Association will begin here today. This body is composed of the medical superintendents and medical assistants in the insane asylums throughout the United States and Canada, and has for its object the study of all subjects pertaining to mental disease, including the care, treatment and promotion of the best interests of the insane. The association has met yearly since 1881, up to the present with one exception, owing to the outbreak of civil war in 1861. Though the conventions extend over a period of more than half a century, but three of the gatherings have been held on Canadian soil.

The gathering will be called to order by the President, Dr. R. J. Preston, of Virginia. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by the Lieutenant-Governor, the Mayor of Montreal and the president of the Montreal Medico-Chirurgical Society. The annual address will be delivered by Dr. Wyatt Johnston. The sessions of the convention will continue until Saturday.

Paine's Celery Compound Has Proved A Blessing To All Ranks and Conditions of People in Summer

A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SPEAKS

The success of Paine's Celery Compound in banishing the ills and diseases that follow people into the summer time, has not been confined to any particular class of society. Men esteemed in business and professional life, mechanics, farmers, women leaders in society, and the wives and mothers of humble homes, have all by voice and pen, contributed strong testimony in favor of the medicine that restored them to health and strength.

When Paine's Celery Compound is used there is no more neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, stomach derangements, liver or kidney troubles. The blood, once foul and stagnant, is made fresh and pure, and courses with a regularity that brings vigor and happiness. The use of one bottle is often sufficient to establish a health robust enough to combat the dangers and perils that are common in hot weather. Mr. C. W. Ross, Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, Ont., says:

"For a long time I suffered from the pains and tortures of neuralgia, and the effects to my general system were so serious and alarming that my doctor ordered an ocean trip. I went to England at considerable expense, but had to return to Canada almost as bad as when I left it. After getting home I determined to use Paine's Celery Compound. After using the medicine for some time the results were most pleasing and gratifying. The attacks became less frequent and less severe, and soon the whole trouble was completely banished. I have not experienced a pain or an ache for months."

ANARCHIST HANGED IN RUSSIA.

The Man Who Shot at Lieut-Gen. von Wahl Put to Death

St. Petersburg, June 15.—An anarchist named Hirsch Lekuch was hanged yesterday in connection with the recent attack upon Lieut-Gen. von Wahl, Governor of Vilna.

As Gen. von Wahl was leaving the circus at Vilna on the night of May 18, Lekuch stepped up behind him and fired twice with a revolver, wounding the General in the hand and foot. Lekuch was arrested.

CONSUL AT PRETORIA.

Washington, June 17.—J. E. Proffit of West Virginia has been decided upon as Consul at Pretoria, South Africa.

TIENTSIN AGREEMENT CHANGED

Some Alterations in Plan for Ending Provisional Government

Special to The Times

London, June 17.—Replying to a question by Sir Charles Dilke in the House of Commons today, Mr. A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, said that Sir E. M. Satow, British Minister to China had reported that the representatives of the Powers in Pekin had agreed unanimously that the proposals made by the commanders of the international forces in Teintain regarding the termination of the provisional government in that territory be accepted subject to the following modifications:

The addition of a provision allowing a bodyguard of 300 to the Viceroy; the omission of the clause prohibiting native policemen from arresting foreign misdemeanants, the omission of the clause allowing foreign troops to continue to occupy private property and of the clause limiting the number of Chinese warships at Taku.

Items of Interest

Owen Sound, Ont., June 17.—The steamer City of Collingwood on Saturday afternoon towed in an upturned sailboat. Connected with the incident is one of the most thrilling stories of the Georgian Bay.

On Wednesday at noon three fishermen, Thomas Jones, Andrew Park, and a boy seventeen, named Ronald Claremont, all residents of Owen Sound, were sailing about eight miles from Cape Croker, and about thirty miles from this port. A ballast bag caught between the cleet and block, and jammed the halliards. A squall of wind at the same time caught the little craft and overturned her. All three of the occupants could swim, and clambered back on the side of the upturned boat. A small space about four feet long was not submerged, and they sat on that, clinging to each other, all through Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday night. They sighted the tug King early in the morning, but were not noticed. On Thursday Jones feared the boat would sink, and climbed over the side, went under the water, where he remained until he had extricated several ballast bags with a pike pole. This made the boat more buoyant, but cold and hunger were beginning to tell, and it was almost impossible for Jones to keep his companions awake.

During Thursday night they sighted the lights of several vessels, but were unable to attract attention.

On Friday the pangs of hunger were so terrible that the men resorted to desperate resources to get something out of the boat. Jones used the pike pole for several hours, and then secured three raw potatoes. These were eaten ravenously. On Friday evening the steamer J. H. Jones passed in the distance. Chilled with the cold and exposure, Claremont's hands and face started to swell. He fell into a stupor, and would have fallen from the side of the boat but for Jones.

All through the long hours of Friday night Jones watched his half-unconscious companions. When the day broke on Saturday morning no vessel was in sight. Jones kept his companions up by cheering words. He put his coat on the end of the pike pole as a signal of distress.

At 10.30 the City of Collingwood hove in sight, and Capt Foote saw the signal of distress, and lowered a boat to the rescue. When brought to the deck of the steamer Park and Claremont could not stand without assistance.

INFLUENTIAL BRITISHERS.

London, June 17.—Before the London Chamber of Commerce last week, Sir F. Pollock dilated upon the advantage which he considered would accrue to British in the official recognition of the Monroe Doctrine by the British Government. The head has been frequently mooted by prominent Britishers of late.

The Spectator suggests that Great Britain might first ask the State Department of the United States to state the doctrine in clear terms and then put on record Britain's acquiescence in it, and express at the same time the view that its maintenance is to the advantage of British interests.

"Such a course," The Spectator adds, "would certainly be for the peace of the world, as well as for the security of Canada and our other American possessions. The German Emperor thinks now that he has only to build enough ships to make the United States see the advisability of dropping the Monroe Doctrine as far as South America is concerned. That incentive to the profligate waste of German national resources might be withdrawn if the action we suggest were taken. The Americans, having got our adhesion to the doctrine, might submit it to Germany and other great powers. If their answers were favorable the great source of future quarrels would be automatically eliminated and the two Americans would by agreement be ruled out of the field of political ambitions. If Germany and the other powers would not join in assenting to the Monroe Doctrine, the two Americans would at any rate, know where they stood."

STREET CAR MEN TO VOTE ON A STRIKE.

Company Offers Hall for Use of the Employes but the Men Did not Bite

Toronto, June 16.—All efforts of the Street Railway Committee to settle the dispute with the company are at an end. Any negotiations hereafter must be initiated by the company, and that is extremely improbable. A sub-committee this morning had a conference with Mr. Keating and Mr. Moore, representing the company, the latter refusing to receive the committee appointed on May 31st to confer with the company on the question of wages and other alleged grievances. The men at to-night's mass meeting will decide whether or not they will strike.

THE CONFERENCE.

The sub-committee that conferred with Messrs. Keating and Moore this morning was composed of Messrs. Pickles, Langley and Thompson. The only question discussed was that of the credentials of the sub-committee, Messrs. Keating and Moore contending that the meeting of May 31st, when the resolutions forwarded to the company were drawn up, was not a meeting of the company's employes as such, but a strictly union meeting, among those in attendance being one or more union officials, who are not employes of the company. They asked the sub-committee for details as to how that meeting was called, and how those who attended were admitted. The men tried hard to convince the officers that their credentials were all right, and that they represented at least 900 of the about 950 motormen and conductors employed by the company. The question of wages was not discussed, this being left for a subsequent meeting, provided the company is satisfied that such a committee as may seek and obtain a conference is representative of the employes as a whole. The conference was closed at 12.30 by Mr. Keating promising to send the men a reply to the committee's headquarters at the Iroquis Hotel within an hour. This reply was received at 1.15 and is given above. One of the men upon returning to the hotel said:—"If we had met with Mr. Keating alone, we might have done something, but that man Moore; who could do anything with him?"

MEN WILL DECIDE.

After the letter had been received the committee at once went into session, and in few minutes Mr. Dilworth said: "We have exhausted our final efforts for a conference between our committee and the company, and the latter having refused, we will now report to that effect to the mass meeting to-night in the Star Theatre, and the men will decide on the question of a strike." The meeting in the Star Theatre is the only one that has been called, and is the only one we will attend."

The notice for this meeting is as follows:

"A mass meeting of the Toronto Railway Employees' Union will be held to-night at 12 o'clock midnight, Star Theatre, Temperance street. Everyone requested to be present, by order of the Committee: P. H. Pickles, W. T. Thomson, P. Langley, D. Jack and J. Barbour. Respectfully, F. Marshall, Chairman; F. McKanna, Secretary."

CIRCULARS ISSUED.

Circulars were issued this morning to the conductors and motormen of the Toronto Railway Company by a committee representing the men, calling them to a mass meeting at the Star Theatre to-night at 12 o'clock, when the situation between company and employes will be discussed. A great deal of importance is attached to this meeting, for if the question of "strike" or "not strike" is placed before them for vote, there is little doubt as to the result. In such a crisis the majority vote would be "strike," if the feeling of the men to-day can be relied on.

The company this morning posted up notices in the various car barns, placing Victoria Hall at the disposal of the men to-night for an employes meeting. It reads as follows—

"I have arranged that Victoria Hall will be at the disposal of the company's motormen and conductors at 12 o'clock, midnight, Monday, the 16 inst., for the discussion of any matters which they may desire to place before the management.

"The company will furnish cars for the purpose of conveying the men to and from the meeting.

"E. H. KEATING,
"General Manager."

The idea of the company is that such a meeting shall not have any "union" taint whatever, and shall appoint a committee to confer with the management.

COMPANY'S PLANS

"The company realizes," said Mr. Keating, "that they hold a public franchise, and we are going to make every effort to prevent that service being in any way disturbed or injured. We are making every effort to meet the men as employes and find out what they want, and after they have sent men here representing the employes, and not some section of them, we will be prepared to discuss with them any question they desire to bring to our notice."

When informed of this notice in the car barns, one of the men's representatives said: "They must think we are a lot of stiffs." Another said: "The company has an object in view in putting up that notice." A third made this remark: "We thank them kindly for their offers, but we don't bite."

FIND OUR OWN HALL.

D. Dilworth, of the International Union, treated the matter thus: "We choose our own hall, and hold our meeting when we like. We are not asking the company for a hall. The men will distinctly understand that no meeting is authorized other than the one called for the Star Theatre."

"May the call for a meeting in the Star Theatre not be rescinded?" he was asked.

"Under no consideration," was his reply. "That meeting will be held, no matter what takes place in the meantime."

POSTAGE RATES INCREASED

A DRASTIC STEP TAKEN BY POSTMASTER GENERAL MULOCK

Rates on Nearly Everything Except Letters Greatly Increased—The Post-Office to be Self-Supporting

Special to The Times.

Ottawa, June 16.—The announcement is made that the rates of postage is to be increased. The following are the new rates compared with the old:—On legal and commercial papers and all other matter either wholly or partly in writing (except the matter mentioned in the next succeeding section) the rate shall be two cents per ounce or fraction thereof. Present rate the same. On manuscript of books and newspapers, and on those documents of the Dominion and Provincial Governments and of municipal authorities, now subject to the one cent per two ounces rate, the rate shall be two cents for the first four ounces or fraction thereof and one cent for each additional two ounces or fraction thereof. Present rate one cent for each two ounces. On all matter other than newspapers, wholly printed or lithographed (including circulars, catalogues, pamphlets, books, etc), the rate shall be one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. Present rate one cent for four ounces or fraction. On maps, prints, drawings, engravings, photographs, plans (without specifications), sheet music, visiting cards (not written), printed forms without writing of any kind, botanical, entomological, and mineralogical specimens, the rate shall be two cents for the first four ounces or fraction thereof and one cent for each additional two ounces or fraction thereof. Present rate one cent for each two ounces. Seeds, cuttings (but not cut flowers), bulbs, roots, bedding plants, scions, or grafts and patterns and samples of merchandise shall be subject to the rate of two cents for the first four ounces or fraction thereof, and one cent for each additional two ounces or fraction thereof. Present rate one cent for four ounces.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTER

Merchandise or miscellaneous matter in general, including stationery and blank books, dry goods, groceries, hardware, etc., shall be subject to the rate of two cents for the first two ounces or fraction thereof, and two cents for each additional two ounces or fraction thereof. Present rate one cent per ounce weight or fraction. On all matter passing between the Atlin and Yukon districts and any other part of the Dominion (except such as is paid for at the latter rate of two cents per ounce or fraction thereof, circulars not exceeding two ounces in weight, and newspapers from the office of publication), the postal rates shall be double those charged on the same classes of matter passing in any other part of the Dominion.

A Surprising Discovery.

You will be surprised in trying Catarrhozone to find how quickly it cures cold in the head. The agreeable penetrating vapor traverses every air cell and passage of the nose, throat and lungs. In one breath it carries instant death to the millions of germs infesting the respiratory organs and breaks up a cold in ten minutes.

A trial will convince you that Catarrhozone is the most potent, satisfactory and pleasant cure for Colds, Catarrh, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung Trouble. Complete outfit $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Hamilton's Mandrake Pills cure Biliousness.

WEATHER NOTES.

Probs To-day—Fresh westerly winds; fine and moderately warm.

Fine warm weather was fairly general in Ontario and Quebec during Sunday, but showers and thunderstorms occurred in many localities. It is now showery

CORPORATION OFFICERS.

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Beck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, R. A. Peck, Warde, Davis, and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J.C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Crossley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. B. Bamford.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depar
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal	5.10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.23 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate	7.23 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.37 a.m.	8.20 a.m
London, Detroit, Chicago	9.00 a.m.	5.30 p.m
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and West	6.23 p.m.	11.10 a.m
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.25 a.m.	9.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.20 a.m
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston, Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.00 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.35 a.m.	8.25 a.m.
Lindsay local	7.20 a.m.	8.15 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 5c per month, and to outside points at $5 per year strictly in advance.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 17, 1902.

ANOTHER POSSIBLE RESULT

The immigration into Canada from the United States is regarded in that country from various points of view. The New York Evening Post seems to believe that the incoming of United States settlers will improve the relations between the two countries and that it will result in a lowering of the tariff which the United States now maintains for the purpose of excluding Canadian produce. The Post is strongly addicted to free trade relations and that may influence its view to some extent, but there is probably something in what it foresees. It says:

"Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest are repeating with great rapidity the history of the winning of our West. The problem of absorbing the Galicians, Russians and other refractory races is specifically Canadian, but the remarkable influx of American settler in those regions must affect Canada and ourselves. As yet we have no accurate statistics of this agrarian invasion. Yet some idea of its significance may be gained from the following figures. In the years 1899-1900 the total immigration from America to Canada was, respectively, 9.119, 11.945, and 15.500. By June 1 of the present year the Great Northern railroad alone had carried 15,000 immigrants into Manitoba. While some of these were taken directly from the incoming steamers, many were either American-born or thoroughly Americanised. This cannot continue without producing its effect upon the relations of the two countries. The United States can not wholly repudiate her children who have taken up Canadian farms and accepted Canadian citizenship. A constant social interchange and common agricultural interests in the North west will more and more reduce the boundary to its definition as an "imaginary line." The palpable "Chinese wall" now absurdly maintained between Canada and this country will never seem quite so absurd as it does where it prevents John Smith of North Dakota from selling surplus produce to or buying it from John Smith, jr., of Manitoba. At the present rate we shall soon be discriminating against our own people on both sides of the border, and a situation like that will appeal even to those Congressional crones who are still dandling imaginary infant industries. When the Chinese wall gives way to a neighborly fence, the Americans in the Canadian Northwest will be found to have done much towards affecting so sensible a change."

A NEW ERA.

That a new area of relationship between Great Britain and the United States has begun must be evident to those who study, however slightly, the signs of the times. Since the Spanish American war events have been gradually leading up to the formal drawing together of the two nations. From the day that Britain refused to be a party to European action against the Monroe doctrine, and so sealed the fate of Spain, and squelched continental designs, the olive leaf has been hung out by the United States, and the process of reconciliation has progressed slowly but surely, till it culminated a couple of weeks ago in President Roosevelt taking the unprecedented step of calling on the British Ambassador. It is true Lord Pauncefote was critically ill, but the step was none the less unusual or none the less significant. And then Wednesday night followed the reciprocal step when King Edward visited and dined with Ambassador Choate. Steps of such an unusual character, following as they do, upon the launching out of the United States into imperialism and the "hands off" attitude of the Republic during the the later stages of the Boer war, cannot be regarded as mere international courtesies. In the light of events since 1898 they cannot be mistaken in meaning anything else that a mutual recognition by the parent tree and the sturdy offshoot that their best interests not only lie in a friendly working agreement, but it is only in such an agreement that they are safe.

That such an interpretation may correctly be placed upon recent events the English-speaking world must earnestly hope. United for defence and offence, united in aim, Great Britain could not only preserve the peace of the world, but could exert a wonderful Christianizing and civilizing influence in all parts of the globe.

COMMERCIAL AFRICA

The Treasury Department of the United States has published some facts regarding the possibilities of trade with South Africa which are not without interest in this country, especially at the present time. Africa occupies fourth place in the list of the grand divisions of the world in its consuming power in relation to international commerce, the imports of the grand divisions, according to the latest available figures being as follows: Europe, $8 300,000,000; North America, 1,300,000,000; Asia, $900 000,000; Africa, $130,000,000; South America, $375,000,000; and Oceania, $325,000,000. Railroad development in Africa has been rapid in the past few years, and seems but the beginning of a great system which must contribute to the rapid development, civilization and enlightenment of the dark continent. Including all the roads now constructed or under construction, the total length of African railways is nearly 12,500 miles or half the distance around the earth. The Kimberely diamond mines, about 600 miles from Cape Town now supply 98 per cent. of the diamonds of commerce, although their existence was unknown prior to 1867, and the mines have been in operation but about thirty years. It is estimated that $350,000,000 worth of rough diamonds, worth double the sum after cutting, have been produced from the Kimberley mines since their opening in 1868-69, and this enormous production would have been greatly increased but for the fact that the owners of the various mines there formed an agreement to limit the output so as not to materially exceed the world's annual consumption. Equally wonderful and promising are the great Witwatersrand gold fields of South Africa, better known as the Johannesburg mines. Gold was discovered there in 1883, and in 1884 the value of the gold product was about $36,000. It increased with startling rapidity, the product of 1888 being about $5,000,000; that of 1890, $10 000,000; 1892, over $20,000,000; 1895, over $40,000,000 and 1897 and 1898, about $55,000,000. Work in these mines has been practically suspended during the war in progress in that section within the past two years. The gold production of the Rand since 1884 has been over $300,000,000.

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

$7,500,000.00

Havana - Electric Railway Co.

Five per cent consolidated mortgage fifty year gold bonds, being part of an authorized total issue of $10,000,000; the remaining $2,500,000 will be left in the treasury for future capital expenditure.

Central Trust Company of New York
TRUSTEE

BONDS DATED FEBRUARY 1st, 1902.

Interest payable semi-annually on February 1st and August 1st in the City of New York.

Principal payable by Sinking Fund at 105, either by purchase at or under that price, or by yearly drawings to commence January, 1906, and both principal and interest payable in gold coin, and free of any tax.

Coupons bonds of $1,000 each with provision for registration as to principal. Redeemable in whole or in part at 105 per cent. at the option of the company, on February 1st, 1907, or on any February 1st, or August 1st, thereafter, on giving six months' previous notice.

The trustee will issue negotiable interim certificates exchangeable against the bonds as soon as ready for delivery.

These bonds are issued partly to take up the following obligations of the Havana Electric Railway Company: $5,000,000 first mortgage bonds; 768,000 second mortgage bonds, 482,000 coupon notes, etc.

Practically all of which except about 20 per cent of first mortgage bonds have already agreed to exchange the same for the consolidated bonds.

The balance of the issue will be used for payment of the floating debt, for extensions, and for acquisitions of new property.

Messrs. Hanson Brothers, of Montreal, are authorized by the Company to receive applications for the above described consolidated mortgage bonds at $980 for $1000 bonds.

Payable on application	$125
Payable on allotment	250
Payable on July 10th	605
	$980

Applications will also be received simultaneously by Messrs. Glyn, Mills, Currie & Co., London, England, and Edward Sweet & Co., New York.

Subscribers may prepay instalment due July 10th, 1902, and interest thereon at 5 per cent per annum will be allowed, payable August 1st, 1902.

The first coupon for six months' interest will be payable February 1st, 1903, and interest on bonds sold will be payable on instalments as paid at 5 per cent per annum on August 1st, 1902.

Application will be made to list the bonds on the Montreal, New York and London Stock Exchanges.

The subscription lists will be closed not later than 4 p.m., on Monday, the 16th June, 1902.

Copies of trust deed full prospectuses and forms of application may be obtained at the offices of

Messrs. Hanson Brothers,
Canada Life Building, Montreal

Montreal, 10th June 1902.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

A MARVELLOUS MEDICINE
[illegible]
'No Cure No Pay,' is the Newest Proposal of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills
Editor Morning Times

Sir,—We make the following proposal: one who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, as enumerated below, and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being supplied as to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit $10 for any case that these pills do not help.

White Slave Trade

Special to The Times.

Paris, June 16.—It is believed that a concerted international movement to repress the iniquitous traffic in women will result from the conference which opened in Paris today. The first conference of this character, held in London three years ago, expressed the desire that an international agreement might be affected in order to influence as far as possible the same degree of punishment for the enticement or kidnapping of women or girls by fraud, abuse of authority of violence and for their admission and retention in houses of ill-repute and to permit the extradition of guilty parties by international treaties. As hundreds of girls are deceived and sent to the United States under false pretences each year, that country is particularly interested in the progress and results of the movement looking to the repression of the traffic.

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

King Edward VII.
Notepaper

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers. LEITH. Scotland.
THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE
ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.
MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE.
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST.
Montreal, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each, I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{90}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever.'

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

THE FASHIONABLE MAN
Of Nineteen Aught Two

Will find everything that is Correct and Up-to-date in MEN'S OUTFITTINGS. (Prices second to none)

—AT—

H. E. BRADLEY & CO.'S
High-class Tailors and Gentlemen's Outfitters.

THE
BLACK ROCK MINING CO.
LIMITED.

(no personal liability.)
SHARES 10c EACH. CAPITAL $150,000
Stock full-paid and non-assessable

CLAIMS.
There are three claims "New York" "Chicago" and "San Francisco."

SITUATED.
Yavapai Co., Arizona.

EXTENT.
The area of the three claims is 600 feet by 4500 feet.

ORE BODY.
Out-croppings show on the surface 200 feet to 450 feet wide and 4500 feet long, (nearly one mile)

DEPTH.
Shaft is down over 100 feet in ore from the surface and there is ore fully 70 feet above where the shaft starts.

CROSS-CUTS.
Cross-cuts on shaft of fifty feet each are entirely in ore, so also is thirty-foot Tunnel.

ORE IN SIGHT.
By expert calculations there is TWO MILLION TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT NOW.

ASSAYS.
THE BLACK ROCK MINING Co., equally high in Copper, with some silver. Total values running as high as $55.00 per ton.

COST.
Ore can be mined and treated on a proposition of this class, at less than $2.00 per ton by present processes.

The largest producing mines today pay big dividends on ore averaging from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton. This is only made possible by the enormous bodies of ore such as are found on the "Chicago" "United Verde" "Ore Grande" and other similar mines.

The "United Verde" with an original capital of three million dollars pays to its stockholders in cash profits about Two million dollars every month, or in other words pays back its entire capital every six weeks.

THE BLACK ROAK MININNG CO., LIMITED, will without doubt pay dividends of at least one per cent. a month before the end of the year. Now is the time to get in while stock is low. Only 10c. per share.

WRITE FOR GROUND FLOOR PROPOSITION.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.,
London, Ont.
217-218 Masonic Temple.

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will offer suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at	40c
Suspenders	[illegible]
Overalls, with bib, at	40c
Smocks, at	90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailor
One door south of Montreal Bank.

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
10 King Street West TORONTO

BIG G
CURE YOURSELF!
[illegible]

The New York Times

Saturday Review of Books.

$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—in fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times

SUNDAY EDITION

$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL - - - -	$1,000,000
RESERVE FUND - -	270,000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D. - President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, W. H. BEATTY, - Vice-Presidents.

JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P.
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government the Corporation accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice for the investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRATOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures consecutive action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELY CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR, Managing Director.
A. D. LANGMUIR Assistant Manage

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue, Design [illegible] Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits.
LACE CURTAINS, [illegible] CAPES, LADIES & GENTS, REAL SWISS, [illegible] LOOM HOSIERY, GUIPURE D'ART [illegible] HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $6.10

Lot No. [illegible] contains:—1 pair Rich Artistic Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, choice old lace design, 3½ yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair neat Floral Pattern Bed-Room Curtains, 3 yds. long, 50 in. wide, 1 pair new fashionable Sash Curtains, 1 table centre, [illegible] design, 1 set of Duchess Toilet Covers, one 45 in. long, and five smaller. [illegible] On receipt of Post Office Order for $6.10, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth.

Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable worth, Marvellous Value, and Durability. [illegible]

S. PEACH & SONS, [illegible], Nottingham, England. [illegible]

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

ALLAN LINE

LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE

ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 9 a.m.	21 June 9 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 6 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 9a.m.	5 July 8 p.m.

First cabin, $60 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $26 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... June 26th
Mongolian...... July 9th.

S.S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to: W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd

River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S.S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N.S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN, Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t V. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.

(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood o Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. fo Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inle and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 9.00 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO

STR. "ARGYLE"

(Commencing Thursday, May 22)

EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at - -	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at - -	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at - -	12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Excursion return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7.00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday	2 00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville - -	11.00 a m
" Trenton - -	1.15 p m
" Brighton - -	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte - -	7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For farther particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager, Picton, Ont

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS

"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA."

—FROM—

TORONTO

—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9 00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

5 Trips Daily (Except Sunday.

JOHN FOY, General Manager, Toronto, Ont.

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8 30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT, Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay

ESTURION

JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv	6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	7.15 a.m.	"	4.10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar	8.40 a.m.	"	5 30 p.m.
"	Lv	11 00 a.m.	"	5.45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	12.10 p m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar	1.15 p.m.	"	8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.

MANITA

JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon............	Leave	7 00 a. m.
Bridgenorth............	Arrive	9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth............	Leave	3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon............	Arrive	5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON, Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG. PORT HOPE. ROCHESTER. N. Y.

STEAMER

NORTH KING

Week Day Route Commencing May 12

SOUTH BOUND.

Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... 2.00 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... 3.30 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ...... 8.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... 8.45 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.

Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets ...... 9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester... ...... 9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... 3.00 p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... 3.30 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any point in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which tickets reads. For further information apply to.

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
Jas. Evans, Agent Port Hope

STEAMER

"MAJESTIC"

On Monday, June, 16th. Wednesday, 18th and Friday 20, the Steamer Majestic will leave Lakefield on the arrival of the morning train, returning in time to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor.
CAPT. SCOLLARD, Master

A Dramatic Moment.

At the close of the Crimean War the Duke of Cambridge, who had taken command in the absence of Lord Raglan, went in person to Marshal Canrobert to invite the French officer to review the English troops. It had not occurred to His Highness that the date fixed for the review was June 18, the anniversary of Waterloo. Nor indeed at the moment did Marshal Canrobert pay any heed to the date.

At the time agreed upon Canrobert was on the ground in full parade uniform, accompanied by his staff. The English army was drawn up in long file; to the right, the Guards, with their long, hairy head-gear; then the Highlanders, with their feather-trimmed caps, their strange costumes and their bagpipes, and with sounds stranger still; and last the infantry, with their tufted shakos and their red tunics with white gimp. The sun was beaming brightly, causing the arms to glisten, and the flags waving in the wind were all covered over with names embroidered in gold. It was a superb spectacle.

The Duke of Cambridge asked the marshal to take the right of the line of battle—it was the Guards who occupied it—and reviewing officers began to move along in front of their ranks. Having got level with the first battalion, Canrobert saluted it. At the same moment the flag was lowered to return his salute, and on the unfolded tissue he read, in large letters:

"Ramillies, Malplaquet, Los Arapiles, Vittoria . . . Waterloo."

Those were precisely the most disastrous days of the history of France that Canrobert, a French general, was thus compelled to salute on the anniversary of Waterloo, in the midst of English generals who had fought there. He was unable, do what he could, to repress the emotion that was choking him during that second. Cold shivers ran through his body; the hand with which he held his hat while saluting trembled like a dead leaf.

Still, anxious to let nothing of all that appear, he went on saluting, one after the other, down to the very last of them, the colors on which he could always read:

"Los Arapiles, Vittoria . . . Waterloo."

As may be imagined, Canrobert's emotion was all the more powerful that he was constrained to keep it down. When it was all over he was obliged to pull himself together in order to shake hands with the Duke of Cambridge, to tender him thanks, to offer him congratulations.

His Highness was far too quick-sighted not to have noticed what he had gone through, and far too tactful to make the faintest allusion to it. But from that day onward, whenever French officers were invited to review the English army, the colors remained under cover, and neither Saint-Arnaud, Pelissier nor Canrobert had in the future a similar ordeal to go through.

Railroad Search-Lights.

One of the recent safety equipments of the fast mail-trains, which of necessity run at a high rate of speed through the night, is the electric search-light. A number of engines on the leading roads have been supplied with such powerful search-lights that objects on the track can be seen nearly a mile away on the darkest nights. A small dynamo in the engine supplies the light, and the lamp itself is so arranged that the fireman can operate it from his position in the cab to suit the needs of the moment. It was found that a permanent light attached to the smoke-stack, as the old-time reflectors were, would cast its path of light off the track instead of on it when rounding curves. The fireman can now touch a lever and throw the light straight ahead, sideways, or up in the air. The largest of these locomotive search-lights are 6,000 candle-power, which, compared to the old-time reflectors, are remarkable products of the age.

The fast mail-trains travel over the ground so rapidly that an ordinary head-light casting a reflection four or five hundred feet is practically of little use. It might reveal to the engineer trouble ahead, but it could never help to avert the accident. The engineer might be able to shut off steam and apply the brakes, but by that time the engine would be upon the object. It is almost impossible for one of the fast trains to come to a dead stop much inside of 1,200 to 1,500 feet; and the heavier and faster the train, the greater length of time must elapse before a stop can be effected. Consequently, the old head-lights were of little real value to trains running fifty and sixty miles an hour. With the new powerful electric search-light, however, danger ahead can be seen in ample time for the engineer to bring his heavy train to a dead halt. As a safety equipment of the record-breaking trains, the search-light has thus become a necessity of the day.

Easily Satisfied.

Some men think they know everything. It was recorded of a freshly-made railway director, who was inspecting the permanent way, that he noticed at a curve in the line that the outside rail was higher than the other, and immediately called the engineer's attention to the defect. The engineer was a man of sense, and did not wish to enter into an explanation of the scientific character and the necessity of the rails being laid as they were, so he exclaimed: "All right, sir; I see exactly what is the matter, and I will have the rails levelled as soon as the up express has passed." And that sapient director went off perfectly satisfied.

Joe's Revelation.

Not long ago a nice young man was invited to dine at the home of a young woman and accepted the invitation with pleasure. It was just a family dinner, and everything was passing off well when an unpleasant and quite unforeseen incident occurred.

They were all discussing the pie, when the young woman's little brother, who had been regarding her closely, suddenly spoke up.

"Gee," he said, "look at Marie tryin' to put on style just 'cause Joe is here. She's eatin' her pie with a fork!"

It is needless to add that the cherubic child experienced a very unpleasant quarter of an hour after Joe had gone.

The Toreador's Rose.

Whenever I hear the "Toreador's March" from "Carmen" — that gay, devil-may-care melody, with its undertone of tragic sorrow, recalling a picture I once saw of a rose in a skull—I think of Jose Silverio. It was in old Madrid, the romantic city of guitars, dark eyes, love, and bull-fights: where the statue of the Virgin stands in the public square with the late King Alfonso's fatal sapphire burning blue on her carven finger. To the light lilt of merry music Jose Silverio, the handsome toreador, idol of all the young bloods and beloved by half the fair women of Madrid, rode into the ring. A murmur of admiration greeted him—he was splendid in spangles and mounted on a magnificent white horse. After him came his scarlet-cloaked matadors on foot, armed with light lances fluttering with streamers of many-colored ribbons. The bull's hoarse bellow struck into the music like the deep, mellow note of a bass viol. He was already in the ring pawing up the sawdust defiantly, a superb animal of the best breed of Andalusia, with delicate hoofs, curving horns, and a skin like black satin, under which the fierce muscles constantly rippled. The toreador lifted his dark, passionate eyes to a box above, where eyes equally dark, equally passionate, answered his mute, adoring message. The senorita was in black, the usual dress affected in public by Spanish women of high degree. A diamond star sparkled on her full bosom, and a crimson rose caressed like the lips of a lover the black, silken masses of her hair, over which a fold of the lace mantilla was coquettishly thrown.

An hour before he had passed the flower between her window bars, and he thrilled with exquisite joy to see it glowing in her dusky braids. The perfume of the rose, already wilting in the hot amphitheater was wafted to his nostrils with the woody smell of fresh sawdust and musky odors from hundreds of constantly moving fans. Its fragrance led him back in sweet retrospection to a walled garden, dim paths, checkered black and silver in the moonlight, the pressure of a soft breast, braceleted arms, and red lips yielding kiss for kiss, while his blue-ribboned guitar lay silent in the dew at his feet. Then the bull, goaded to splendid ferocity by the torturing banderillos, made his mad charge. The ring became an inferno of hoofs and horns, out of which flashed the keen lightning of the toreador's sword in a cloud of dust. No one could tell afterward exactly how it happened, though every eye was riveted on the arena, but the white horse rolled over in his death agony, disemboweled by one swift stroke from those terrible twin sabres fixed in the bull's powerful forehead. By the fraction of a second Jose failed to slip his feet from the stirrups in time to escape the second charge. His body described a glittering arc in the air, and fell lifeless in the sawdust. The sword, sent spinning from his hand, was caught by a matador, who delivered the coup de grace to the bull by a feat of nimble cunning that elicited a thunder of applause. Even the senorita clapped her little jeweled hands. She leaned over the edge of her box to look down at the limp, inert figure so full of proud courage and virile grace a moment ago.

"Dios! poor fellow," she said. Then, turning to a young man leaning over her chair, "Don Felipe, you may have the rose, though it is wilted now."—Minna Irving, in "Leslie's."

The Fable of Matsukata.

Count Matsukata, former Prime Minister of Japan, who is known in America as "the father of the gold standard," was asked during his recent visit to New York whether "Captains of Industry" in the Mikado's Empire were getting control of the country's trade and resources.

"Not to the same extent as in—more advanced lands," answered Count Matsukata with a smile. "Perhaps we are influenced by the old 'Myth of the Gold Man,' handed down from the ancient days of Sie Mu."

The count was requested to tell the legend, and he said:

"In the dim historic dawn a merchant eager for great wealth heard of a strange grove of wild lemon trees whose fabulous fruit, when eaten, would convert the hand that plucked it into gold.

"So the merchant journeyed to the grove, where the God of Riches, with a great sack on his shoulders, bade him help himself. He did so, and his arm was converted into gleaming gold. This he had amputated, and, though bereft of an arm, became a man of wealth.

"A banker, hearing of the strange case, determined to secure the total produce of the miraculous lemon trees. To that end he bought out the right of the guardian deity; but that shrewd being exacted so great a price that the covetous banker found his fortune depleted. To secure ready money he determined to eat of the fruit and sacrifice an arm.

"Raw lemon, however, was too astringent for his pampered palate, and so he sweetened the juice of several lemons, and, adding thereto wine of rare vintage, drank greedily of the potent and tempting beverage.

"In a few minutes he had turned into a pillar of gold.

"Then his heirs melted him down, coined him into convenient coinage, and, turning their backs bravely on the grove of golden lemons, proceeded with free hands to spend and enjoy their bountiful inheritance."

"What became of that lemon grove?" enquired a vigilant New Yorker who had listened eagerly to the story.

"There is no record," replied Count Matsukata, smiling, "of its having been destroyed, but happily our fortune-hunters have not been able to locate it."

"Do you think he would be a success in politics?" "Yes, indeed. Why, he has thoroughly mastered the knack of looking interested when he is being bored."—Chicago "Post."

"I left my husband's death notice here this morning," said the widow. "Yes," said the bright clerk in the publishing office of the "Daily Squib." "Now, I want to add 'Gone to Rest' in an appropriate place." "Yes, ma'am," replied the bright clerk, and the next morning she read: "Gone to rest in an appropriate place."—Philadelphia "Press."

The No Breakfast League.

Certain good people of Chicago have started a "No Breakfast League," the idea being that breakfast is a frivolous and unnecessary institution, and ought to be suppressed. People, they say, can work better and enjoy greater health by starting for the city in the morning without breakfast. On your way to the station you drink in the free air of heaven; and as you sit in the train you buckle up your waistcoat band another inch or two and feel a new man.

There has been for many years a "No Breakfast League" in everything but the name; although the members of the League do not brag about their connection with it. After what is popularly known as a "thick" night, breakfast has no charms whatever for the practised drinker. Perhaps this is the idea of the League. At any rate, anybody can start in the no-breakfast business for himself at any time. All you have to do is to mix your drinks judiciously the night before, so that you will wake up in the morning with a copper-colored taste in the mouth and general feeling that eating is a low and degrading habit anyhow. At such times even a sight of the breakfast ham gives you a dull, hard feeling in the chest; and when that stage is reached you will be a No Breakfaster of the first water.

More than likely, however, that the Chicago No Breakfasters are just the ordinary run of food cranks. If there is one thing in this world that you cannot prudently do, it is to advise your neighbor as to his dietary. And, as a natural consequence, we all think we know what is good and what is bad in the way of meals for the people. One man will tackle a breakfast big enough to make a dinner for three people, and if he hears that his neighbor's breakfast is limited to a slice of toast and a cup of tea, he at once predicts a lowered vitality and an early death. The tea and toast man, on the other hand, will no doubt hold that his neighbor is killing himself by inches with those heavy breakfasts; whereas, in these matters, it seems to be most true that every man is the best judge of what is good for himself. It is very likely that a breakfast limited to a run round the garden and a bit of dumb-bell exercise may suit the Chicago people, but it is very improbable that it would suit everybody alike.

The average enthusiast is apt to overlook the swing of the pendulum when taking up the newest craze in a whole-hearted manner. He will go without his accustomed breakfast on the first morning, and arrive at his office in a peevish and irritable mood. Somewhere about eleven o'clock he feels like throwing up the sponge, and sending the messenger out for a dry biscuit or two; but in most cases he will last out for the first experiment. At lunch time, though, the swing of the pendulum will come in. He has got to take a lunch that will average up to two meals; and in the first glorious rush at the good solid food there is a very fair chance that he will overdo the lovely business. The usual lunch hour will drag itself out into two hours and a half, or thereabouts; though it would be idle to fix a limit to it if it is going to be the first meal of the day under the new rules. The novice will eat—and drink—and the reaction after the unaccustomed fast will turn the meal into a considerable sort of orgie. "Thish ish the first drop I've 'ad to-day, ole feller! 'Ave anusser wiz me! Whoo-oop!"

Where is this No Everything going to leave off? They will carry these self-denying ordinances along till something occurs that will show the public that the wrong tack is being pursued. The papers the other day said that a Russian scientist had discovered that all the ills the flesh is heir to are due to our wearing—clothes. Let somebody start a No Clothes Society in this happy land of ours and see how it works. There would be a busy time on the first bright summer morning on which the Leaguers set out to justify their principles; and the authorities would be running round town buying up hundred-weights of trousers at contract price for the morning's batch of prisoners roped into the official strong-rooms. A league of this sort would impress the public with its stupidity, whereas you can't tell by merely looking at a man whether he has had his breakfast or not. And, as we know, what we can't see we don't trouble about to any extent.

Some people who profess to be very wise tell us from time to time that the average man eats too much. If the average man who hears the good news gets influenced by it, the chances are that he will thin his diet down a little, and thus save money for the doctor's bills that he will thereby incur. The average man, as a rule, eats what he thinks he wants. To some extent, he has probably learned by experience that a certain quantity of food is necessary for his well-being, and as soon as that quantity has become a habit he runs a considerable risk in changing it, for use is second nature. The scientist sits down and calculates that so many ounces of food are sufficient for an ordinary man, and calmly assumes that the last word on the subject has been said. Whereas, in the case of two men of equal size, one will often be satisfied with a dinner of oatmeal porridge and a glass of water, while the other will want soup, fish, joint, and cheese, and then as likely as not will want to order some biscuits with his wine just to fill up the still aching void.

You can't lay down a hard-and-fast rule in these matters; and if the No Breakfasters are going to have a free run in the country, I for one shall advocate an increase of accommodation in our lunatic asylums. It has long been a favorite rule of the medical profession that people oughtn't to eat suppers; and if we are now to be advised to do without breakfast as well, we might as well go the whole hog and live the higher life on two dry biscuits and a seidlitz powder per diem.—"Pick-Me-Up."

"It's an A1 display," said Mr. Pitt, at the dog show. "It's a first-class exhibition," replied Mr. Penn, "but you've got the wrong number." "How so?" "Instead of A1 it is K9."—"Dog Fanciers' Gazette."

"If any one asks for me, James, I shall be back in ten minutes," said Mr. Fosdick. "Yes, sorr," replied the Irish office boy; "and how soon will you be back if no one asks for you?"

Passing of the Artificial Flower.

"Harper's Weekly."

For the last hundred years artificial flowers have been the dearest decoration a woman could buy for her summer hat. The superlative has a double meaning in this connection — "dear" to feminine purse-strings, immeasurably satisfying to her sense of the artistic and appropriate. No one, not even the most logical man, could deny the daintiness of the instinct that led women to bedeck their multitudinous heads with copies of the sweetest things Divinity sets down upon this rolling ball. So it was that all these years, from her palace in the center of her kingdom, Fashion each spring sent out her unassailable decree that flowers were to deck hats.

At first the word "artificial" was always used in speaking or writing of linen or silk posies. Old "fashion items" contain many allusions to "artificial roses," "artificial lilies-of-the-valley,"—always to impress upon the reader that real flowers were not meant. Of late years the adjective has been almost entirely eliminated from the dictionary of the writer who dishes up modish delicacies. Nowadays, a hat is trimmed with "violets;" a boa is of "forget-me-nots." No woman—and not often a man—is so ignorant as to imagine anything else but artificial flowers is meant.

The making of these beautiful imitations of Nature's handiwork became a vast enterprise employing the skilled labor of thousands of men, women, and girls. In many parts of the world the trade of artificial-flower-making descended from mother to daughter. Whole families for generations cut, pasted, stitched and colored the beautiful evidences of their skill.

Until recent years the aim was always to make artificial flowers successful counterfeits of Nature's own darlings. Every one knows that the work was often done so ably as to defy the eye's discernment. At this time the art of artificial flower-making attained its highest perfection. The more faithful the likeness of the imitations to the originals the better the pay of the maker, and the greater the stimulation to effort.

Then came a creeping in of the grotesque and unnatural. Now and then Queen Fashion sent out edicts establishing the position of green roses, red lilacs, purple carnations, and all sorts of inartistic, even ugly, effects in artificial flowers. The unending search for novelty began it. Newness, no matter how unseemly, appeals to most people for a time. Then comes a reaction, when the full commonness of a popular fancy strikes people, and they put the whole, good and bad, aside for a period of dormancy. When the imitation blossoms of fantastic proportions and bald ugliness came to be the style, artificial-flower-making was a doomed industry. Milliners looked about for some artistic and new substitute. The hat itself, which from our great-grandmother's time down had been a thing of shape only, offered great possibilities for ingenious ideas. About three years ago fancy braids began to flood the market; wire frames were made with greater care than ever; all sorts of fantastic and beautiful effects were brought out in straw hats, which needed no extra adornment other than a trifle of ribbon, chiffon, or lace—and artificial flowers went off Fifth avenue to dwell among the folk who live on the outermost edge of Queen Fashion's realm, and read her royal mandates through poverty's spectacles.

Last year there were more fancy straws, and dozens of carefully planned shapes in hats, and this season the demand for the new straws has driven many dealers in artificial flowers out of business. During the month of April four heretofore prosperous firms were obliged to close their doors. One of these, a large wholesale house dealing exclusively in artificial flowers, went into bankruptcy, giving as the sole reason for so doing that there was no demand for their goods.

So long as the straws are as dainty and durable as they are this spring the situation is not likely to change. A walk past the series of fashionable Fifth avenue millinery shops establishes the truth of this assertion. There are whole windows displaying only hats of straw whose sole trimming is ribbon, lace, or chiffon. It seems a pity, when one thinks of the daintiness of the artificial flowers of past days, but there is no help for it until women tire of fancy straws and long for other novelties. Then the industry will awaken. In the meantime hundreds of girls and women who have no other employment are hopelessly out of work.

Keble's Mistake.

Apropos of the rather slighting remark in Cecil Rhodes's will, with reference to the college authorities of Oriel, that they "are like children as to commercial matters," someone recalls the story once current of John Keble, who in his time was bursar of Oriel. The worthy poet was thrown into a panic by the discovery that the college accounts came out about two thousand pounds on the wrong side. The learned and pious men of Oriel tried in vain to find out where the error was, and it was not until an expert was called in that it was discovered that Keble, in casting up a column, had inadvertently added the date of the year to Oriel's debts.

Husband's Face.

Benedicts who are in the habit of trying to palm themselves off as spring hatched roosters will learn, not without alarm, that the physiognomist is on their track. He has, in fact, evolved a new terror called the "husband's face." Every married man is said to possess it, and it marks him out a Benedict just as surely as if he had a label to that effect hung round his neck. Don't imagine, says "Pick-Me-Up," that we are going to give the secret away—the ladies know too much already—but any duly certified married man who sends along sufficient cheques and stamps to cover the postage, cost of packing, and registration, can have it by return, or later. It is just as well to be on your guard, boys. There is small comfort in being told by a casual confection that you are not what you pretend to be, even supposing you aren't, and if a little wrinkle from "one who knows" can avert trouble, I'm sure you're heartily welcome.

KILLED THREE GUARDS AND GAINED FREEDOM

Two Desperate Prisoners Escaped From Oregon Penitentiary

A POSSE AT THEIR HEELS

An Exciting Time in the State Prison—Men Will Be Recaptured

Salem, Ore, June 16.—Three guards at the State penitentiary were killed and one prisoner seriously wounded this morning by two desperate prisoners, Harry Tracy, a 20-year man, and David Merril, a thirteen-year man, and who were taking long chances for freedom. They escaped, and a posse of forty men is scouring the country near by for them, headed by Sheriff Durbin and Sheriff-elect Colbath.

The killed are Frank Ferrel, shop guard and S. R. Jones and Ben Tiffany, fence men. The wounded man is a life prisoner named Ingram, who tried to snatch the rifle from Tracy while he was doing his deadly work.

It was 7 a.m., and the prisoners had just been marched from the cells to the foundry for their day's work when Tracy suddenly appeared with a rifle. Taking deliberate aim, he shot Ferrell, who expired almost instantly. Ingram tried to snatch the rifle, and Merrill fired at him point blank. Ingram fell with a shattered leg.

Merril had whipped out a pistol and stood at Tracey's side. The two, pointing their weapons at the rest of the cowed prisoners, forced them to raise a ladder to the wall. Once outside they shot Jones, who was guarding the wall at a distance of 150 yards. Another shot hit Tiffany. Slightly wounded, he jumped down from his lofty perch and ran after the two escaping prisoners, firing as he ran.

Tracy turned, aimed coolly and with one shot killed Tiffany. Then the two escaped to the woods. Tonight it is believed that the posse, which started out promptly, has the men surrounded and that their capture is but a matter of a few hours.

MORGAN IGNORES FRENCH LINES

Regards Them as a Negligable Quantity in His Schemes

Special to The Times.

London, June 16.—The Times Paris correspondent quotes an interview with a Government authority, who asserts that while J. Pierpont Morgan was in Paris he made no effort to see the officers of the French steamship companies, though representatives of the companies informed Ambassador Porter that they were ready to communicate with him. It is believed that Morgan thought fit to treat the French ship-owners as a negligable quantity. The authority declares that the French lines have already lost heavily through the combination. The Messageries Maritime lost trade at Genoa and Leghorn, while the Trans-Atlantic in a few hours lost three-quarters of its passenger traffic. The trans-Atlantic companies were debarred from having enormous shipments because they could not enter Havre, while the big Hamburg steamships transfer passengers to the five steamboats at Cherbourg and Kuthr jou almost without stopping. The Trans-Atlantic companies have lately ceased to declare dividends, employing profits in basing a sinking fund. In order to obtain the speed demanded by the Government they have been obliged to use Cardiff coal, the price of which has risen to such an extent as to increase expenses $1,000,000 yearly. When they tried to make landings at Plymouth some years ago they were exposed to so many petty annoyances that they were compelled to abandon the plan. The authority expresses the hope that Morgan's operations will open the eyes of the Government and induce it to protect shipping interests and France's general trade.

RUSH FOR LANDS

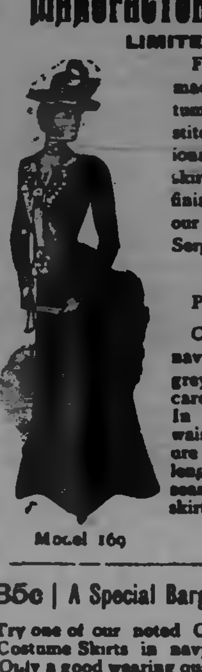
A Great Stampede Likely to Take Place To Morrow

Special to The Times.

Pocatello, June 16.—Tomorrow the rush for lands of the Fort Hall Indian reservation will be made. The boundaries of the reserve are lined with people ready to make a dash for the land, while some have gone so far as to squat right on the reservation, determined to hold the ground at all hazards. This is the result of the decision of the general land office to open the lands under the old "rush" system, instead of under the lottery plan as was adopted by the last land opening in the Indian Territory. The entries have all been made at the Blackfoot land office and the start will be made at noon tomorrow.

The opening involves nearly 300,000 acres ceded to the government by the Shoshone and Bannock Indians. It is estimated that about 300,000 acres are agricultural or grazing lands, which will be entered under homestead, lumber, stone and mineral laws, and all of these lands will be for persons who are first in the rush. That part of the reservation lying within five miles of this place is exempted from the general opening tomorrow, and will be sold at public auction at noon July 17.

There will be many histories of the war, but the final history will not be written for many years to come. When it is written, it will be perfectly frank but the men concerned in the war will be all, or nearly all, dead. You cannot say the brutal thing when the man about whom you are saying it — or wanting to say it—is at your elbow, the hero of the mob will shrink, the modest fellow will have his worth appraised; the general who was acclaimed will be found fallible and inept enough. But this history, when it is written, will be profoundly interesting. It will throw a flood of light upon much that is obscure. Above all, it will give credit to the Boers for the stand they made, although it will condemn the ambition of Kruger and Stayn, who were primarily responsible for precipitating the conflict.



$3.10 $3.10
THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.
LIMITED.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made our noted Chevio Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST
Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

New Telephone Directory

The BELL TELEPHONE CO, of Canada, will issue a new subscribers directory for Eastern Ontario, including the Town of Peterborough early in June.

Orders for new connections and changes of firms names should be sent in at once to insure entry in this book.

C. W. STRINGER,
Local Manager

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.
Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.
Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

APIOL & STEEL For Ladies PILLS
A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES
superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Penny royal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50 from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

HEADQUARTERS FOR PIG TIN,
LEAD AND ANTIMONY
ENQUIRE FOR PRICES
CANADA METAL CO
William St., Toronto, Ont.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND LONDON, ENG | send or JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octav., 334 pages, and all the original illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")
Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 336 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")
This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 328 pages.
Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 330 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.
FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE
An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.
Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 169 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.
Complete and Unabridged, contains 387 pages and all the Original Illustration by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.
Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

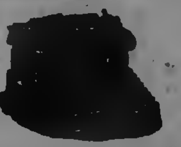
HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings Medicine Co
[illegible] YONGE ST., TORONTO



TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R-I-P-A-N-S Tabules. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

ARE YOU STOUT.

Edith Gordon, M. D., has the best treatment—has cured many cases of Obesity [illegible] Reducing [illegible] Hips a specialty. Health improved. [illegible] For terms, particulars, Address Mrs. Dr. Gordon, [illegible]

King Edward VII. Notepaper

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

VARICOCELE

I guarantee my Latest Method Treatment to be a permanent and positive cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without cutting, stretching or loss of time. In Varicocele it absorbs the bagging, or wormy condition, equalizes circulation, stops pains in the groins, also all drains, thereby giving the organs their proper nutrition, vitalizes the parts and restores lost powers; in Stricture it absorbs the Stricture tissue, stops smarting sensation, nervousness, weakness, backache, etc., while in all prostatic troubles it is the treatment par excellence. So positive am I that my treatment will cure you, you can

PAY WHEN CURED

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. This should convince you that I have confidence in my Latest Method Treatment, otherwise I could not make you this proposition. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, call or write me.

Each Time You Call You See Me Personally,

Or each time you write it receives my personal attention. The number of years I am established in Detroit, and the cures I accomplished after given up by other doctors, has placed me as the foremost specialist of the country. CONSULTATION FREE. Call or write for blank for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. All medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor, Can. All duty and express charges prepaid. Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 200 WOODWARD AVE., COR. WILCOX ST. DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up)...... ......$12,000,000

Reserved Fund...... 7,000,000

Undivided Profits...... 876,531

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO

SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

3½ Per cent interest allowed on deposits from day of deposit to day of withdrawal, re payable at any time.

4 Per cent paid on Debentures, issued for 1 or 5 years.

Money to loan at lowest current rates.

Open every Saturday afternoon.

Office, 437 George street

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterborough, March 14, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL

BARRISTERS

Office—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE, Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. Commercial rooms.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 317 Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck R. M. Dennistoun A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G W. Hatton C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 304 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate rates. Geo A. FRY 304 Park place.

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOsite roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 18 Toronto street Toronto

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & Electricians, new 44 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board of Engineers. Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, publisher St. Louis

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 334 George St., now occupied by Henry Best

No 332 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean 10 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mayo & Co., Room 711 and 25 Broadway, New York.

SOBER AND INTELLIGENT MAN to handle a Burglar Proof Window Sash Lock. E. S. ARNOLD, 237 King St. E., Toronto

ACTIVE SOLICITOR WANTED. The war is over. Agents clearing $8.00 to $20.00 daily with "Pictorial History of Our War in South Africa." Highest endorsements. Everybody wants it. Contains thrilling history of the brave deeds of our boys in the war, and complete history of the war and the country. 600 pages 8x10. Only $1.50. Freight and duty paid. Outfit free. COLONIAL PUBLISHING CO., Dept. 2, Chicago.

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady; either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

GREAT LITTLE CANADA

An American Opinion of our Wonderful Progress

CANADA'S LARGE REVENUE

As Compared with the United It Stands $10 to $7.70 per Head

Special to The Times.

New York, June 16. — The World says:

"A slowly growing but prosperous and energetic community is revealed in the Statistical Year-Book of Canada for 1901, just issued by the Ottawa Department of Agriculture.

"Canada's revenues are $10 per inhabitant, against $7.70 in this country. She last year spent $12,000,000 on railroads, canals, and public works without scandalous portioning of "pork." Grumblers say her debt grows too fast; at $66 per capita it looks large beside our $14.52, but it is small compared with the $150 burden on each person in France or Australasia's $253 per capita.

"Canada's bank assets are little more than half as great as the billion-dollar deposits in the New York State savings banks alone, but her foreign commerce is $72 per capita, as against $33 in this country. The total of $387,000,000 exports and imports is more than ten times those of Greece, more than double Turkey's and from 40 to 90 per cent. greater than those of Mexico, Belgium, Japan or Sweden. Most amazing of all, the foreign trade of this colony of 5,000,000 souls almost equals that of Russia and surpasses that of the world's most populous nation, China.

"For the trade of China we must compete with other nations, our share amounts to seven or eight cents for each of the 400,000,000 inhabitants of that far off land. The trade of Canada comes mostly this way, our share amounting to $34 per inhabitant.

"For purposes of trade one family in Canada is worth as much as from 450 to 500 families in the Orient."

RUSH FOR LANDS

A Great Stampede Likely to Take Place To-Morrow

Pocatello, June 16.—Tomorrow the rush for lands of the Fort Hall Indian Reservation will be made. The boundaries of the reserve are lined with people ready to make a dash for the land, while some have gone so far as to squat right on the reservation, determined to hold the ground at all hazards. This is the result of the decision of the general land office to open the lands under the old "rush" system, instead of under the lottery plan as was adopted by the last land opening in the Indian Territory. The entries have all been made at the Blackfoot land office and the start will be made at noon tomorrow.

The opening involves nearly 300,000 acres ceded to the government by the Shoshone and Bannock Indians. It is estimated that about 300,000 acres are agricultural or grazing lands, which will be entered under homestead, lumber, stone and mineral laws, and all of these lands will be for persons who are first in the rush. That part of the reservation lying within five miles of this place is exempted from the general opening tomorrow, and will be sold at public auction at noon July 17.

QUEEN'S TEA TO SERVANT GIRLS

10,000 Will Be Entertained by Her Majesty and Get Presents

London, June 16.—Queen Alexandra is responsible for a more novel feature of the coronation festivities than the King's dinner to 500,000 poor persons.

She has decided to entertain 10,000 London servant girls at tea and give each of them a brooch bearing a representation of her own and the King's head.

The Queen thought that while everybody else would be in the streets the housemaids would probably be detained inside by their household duties and she determined that they should not be forgotten.

London will be divided into districts and the public school houses will be used for the teas the day after the coronation. Questions of creed will not affect the selection of her Majesty's guests. The Queen will drive around and visit the various places in which the teas will be given.

An Archaeologists' Tour

Special to The Times.

New York, June 17—Under the direction of Dr. Arthur S. Cooley, the Greek scholar and archaeologist a party of students and others will leave this city today to spend the summer in Greece and Italy. The purpose of the trip is to make a study of the chief historic sites and architectural and artistic remains of ancient Greece and Rome. The itinerary includes Naples, Paestum, Salerno, Corfu, Athens, Eretria, Olympia, and Corinth.

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

My cabman was turning. In an instant more I should lose sight of my mother. The dark, malicious face of the woman in black rose before me as clearly as when the great eyes had goggled up at the box. A vague presentiment lay coldly on my breast. I knew that, somehow, a turning-point in my happy, quiet life had been reached. Nothing could ever be the same again.

With a curious feeling, as if a hand grasped my throat and constricted my breathing, on a sudden desperate impulse, I half rose from the seat and pushed up the little door in the roof of the hansom.

"Don't take me to the hotel yet," I stammered, guiltily. "I'll give you three times your fare to go after the lady I have just left—the lady in the yellow brocade cloak. Don't lose sight of her, but don't let her see that she is being followed."

"All right, miss," returned the man, and a whiff of spirituous fumes came down to me with the answer. His voice was slightly thick, as if he had had cotton wool under his tongue; but I scarcely thought of this at the time; I was only to remember later that I had dimly noticed it.

The moment I had acted upon my impulse, and reversed my mother's orders, I was deeply ashamed of myself; yet I would not undo what I had done.

I do not think that there was the slightest arriere pensee of vulgar curiosity in my motive. My feeling was far to poignant for that, and as far as I knew myself, my one desire was somehow to make sure that no harm befel my mother. I could not quietly go back to the hotel, where we were stopping for the season, leaving her alone to face—I knew not what. I could not let her disappear behind a veil of mystery and night-darkness, and at all risk I would be near her. I would at least know where she was going.

If her mind were not preoccupied with extremely serious matters, I was certain that she would not have sent me back to the hotel at this hour of the evening unaccompanied. She had always been very strict as to my comings and goings, almost unnecessarily so, I had often thought; and since she had brought me to town to be presented and experience the delight of a London season, I had not once been allowed to go into the street, even in broad daylight, unprotected by my mother or a maid. I seemed to myself now suddenly forlorn, uncared-for, and my heart would have ached with sheer self-pity if I had had time to dwell upon my own woes. But there was much besides this to think of.

My hansom had turned away from the pavement, and I was unable to see, without giving directions to stop again (which I dared not do), what had been my mother's next step. We went on slowly, and the idea in my mind was that she doubtless intended to call another cab for herself in which to follow the woman with the heart-shaped scar. I supposed that my driver was waiting until her movements should guide him as to the direction he must take. But suddenly a cab went by, and a ray of light striking the nearest window showed me a thing so strange that I was near to crying out in my astonishment.

CHAPTER II.

Telling of a Thwarted Chase.

I saw that my mother and the woman in black were together, sitting side by side. The light flashed upon their faces—mother's pale as marble—then they were blotted out in darkness. Their cab went on, my driver, obedient to instructions, following at a distance.

I had been in town only for a month, having come in time to be presented at the first drawing-room of the season, and I knew little of London, almost nothing of this neighborhood. When we had driven through the Strand, passed Trafalgar square and Pall Mall, rattling into a dingy side street, I began to lose the sense of direction. We soon left crowded thoroughfares behind, and came into a region of meaner streets, with smaller houses. I could see the four-wheeled cab about fifty feet ahead, sometimes less, sometimes more, and it began to seem as if I always had been, always would be, following on and on through the night to some mysterious goal, never to be reached. Were we going north, south, west or east? I did not know.

Suddenly the four-wheeled cab disappeared round a corner. For a few seconds it was out of sight, and when my hansom had also turned, there, in the next street, were two cabs. One had stopped in front of a house, the door of which opened and shut as we drew near. The other was jogging on at a distance.

We had never been near enough to see the number on the back of the cab, and now, when my driver huskily inquired whether I would stop to examine the first conveyance or proceed after the second, I was at a loss to decide. For an instant I hesitated, and then said that I would stop.

Almost as I spoke I saw that I had made a mistake. The lamps of the hansom shone into the face of the other driver, who sat half dozing on his box, with his vehicle drawn up beside the pavement, and I was at once assured that he was not the man I had noticed as my mother and I came out of the Lyceum. That one had been a young fellow, rather sprucely dressed; this one was white-bearded and shabby.

"Go on—go on, as quickly as you can!" I commanded, through the trap-door. "The cab we want must have been the one ahead."

The driver muttered something, which sounded surly, though the words were indistinguishable, but the trap slammed down and he gave the tired horse such a lash with his whip that the poor beast started, and flung his heels almost against the dash-board.

To be Continued.

Alligator Stories.

The game books kept by all the principal hostelries at Tampa Bay make exciting reading for the gentle stranger, in whom the various entries conjure up vivid reminiscences of Indian jungle or African river, where one goes

A-swimming in the muddy Nile,
And swims into a crocodile.

And while there is great excitement in playing a 150-pound tarpon, in netting a big catch of mullet, or in bringing down an imperial eagle, the sportsman who goes after alligators feels he is really emulating the hunter who returns from the jungle laden with tiger skins and elephant tusks, and this thrill can be experienced by anyone who finds his way to Tampa Bay, where alligators of seven, nine and eleven feet are continually bagged.

The belief was long current that the only vulnerable spot in an alligator was the eye, and that a rifle ball would glance from the skin of this tropical armed cruiser, but a modern rifle ball will penetrate his hide anywhere, though it is not always immediately fatal. Apropos of Florida alligators, here is an amusing record from one of the game books at Tampa Bay. Someone wrote: "Killed the largest alligator seen this year. Found in his stomach a book, a piece of pinewood, a fisherman's float, and some small fish!"

Right under this another sportsman wrote: "Killed a much bigger alligator. The stomach contained a gold watch, ten thousand dollars in Government bonds, and a cord of wood." Not to be outdone, a third hunter wrote: "Shot the biggest alligator ever killed in Florida. In the stomach were found the remains of a steam launch, a lot of old railroad iron, a motor car, and a quantity of melted ice, proving that it existed during the glacial period!"

Safe to Say.

For the benefit of those who are at a loss to know just what to say on seeing a new baby for the first time, and who naturally feel that they must say something, we give the following list of expressions, any and all of which are commonly used, there being no patent or copyright on them. Whether you shall offer to kiss the infant depends somewhat on its age and appearance, and the extent to which you are willing to sacrifice yourself in order to please the baby's mamma. The baby itself doesn't care a button for your feelings or your kisses, but you are expected to say: "What a pretty little thing!" "Bright-eyed little fellow, isn't he?" "Why, how large he is!" "I don't think I ever saw so young a child take so much notice of his surroundings." "He's the image of his father." "How much does he weigh?" "What lovely, silky hair!" "Looks very like you." "What a little rosebuddy of a mouth!" "Do let me see his little toes!" "How very wise he seems." "I really believe the little thing understands every word we say." "Oh, what a splendid big boy he is!"

Lee Low's Misapprehension.

Lee Low Wung, secretary of the Chinese consulate in New York, in the course of a conversation recently, spoke of some of the ideas prevalent in his country, as follows:

"In China it is generally supposed that a man's brains are located in his stomach, and the fatter he is the more his wisdom is deemed assured. Of course, there are many people in China who know that a man's brains are in his head, but they cheerfully assist in maintaining the jolly fiction of corpulent greatness.

"I began to learn English in China when I was 15 years old, under the instruction of Dr. Malcolm of Shanghai. I had begun to study it in secret by myself a year before, but it was too much for my unaided efforts.

"The word wind, being used in two senses, gave me as much trouble as anything else. For a long time I was under the impression that in England and America clocks and watches were filled with air to keep them going. I was curious to see this operation of winding the clock, and my disappointment when Dr. Malcolm explained the mystery was very acute."

The Switzerland of America.

The above caption is particularly appropriate to the region in the "Highlands of Ontario" known as "The Lake of Bays" district. It is replete with natural beauty and loveliness, and comprises some of the most beautiful water stretches and picturesque landscapes for which the locality is becoming so famous with the ever increasing army of tourists. The scenic grandeur of hill and mountain, the placid beauty of the lakes, the lovely rivers, are not surpassed in any country. One thousand feet above sea level. No Hay Fever, absence of flies, splendid speckled trout fishing, and good bathing and boating assured. Handsome illustrated descriptive matter giving full particulars can be had for the asking by applying to M. C. Dickson, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

His Advice.

The story is told of the present Archbishop of Canterbury that, upon a candidate for ordination essaying to read a chapter of the Bible before him to test his elocutionary powers, he was stopped with the abrupt comment, "Ye're inaudible!" "But, my lord," said the discomfited youth, "I've read the lesson in a big church, and been told that every word could be heard." "Who told ye—a lady? Are ye engaged to her?" The candidate owned the soft impeachment. "Then, don't believe a word she says—until ye're married to her," was the ungallant reply.

The Artist's Little Joke.

"This," said the Eminent Artist, "is my famous study of the Cows in the Clover." "But where is the clover?" we asked, not seeing any of it in the picture. "Oh, the cows have eaten it, you know."

Mrs. Jenkyns—I see Mrs. Hostong is going to have "King Lear" at her next private theatricals. Mrs. Newrich (furious with envy)—Is she? The affected thing. Do you know, I don't believe he's a real king at all.—"Tit-Bits."

America's BEST Republican ..Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories. Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year

Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

New Telephone Directory

The BELL TELEPHONE CO, of Canada, will issue a new subscribers directory for Eastern Ontario, including the Town of Peterborough early in June.

Orders for new connections and changes of firms names should be sent in at once to insure entry in this book.

C. W. STRINGER,
Local Manager

Canvasser
—WANTED—

to sell PRINTERS' INK—a journal for advertisers—published weekly at five dollars a year. It teaches the science and practice of Advertising and is highly esteemed by the most successful advertisers in this country and Great Britain. Liberal commission allowed. Address PRINTERS INK, 10 Spruce St., New York

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression

MAUDE MASSON, Principal.

Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture

CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. [illegible]

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
for Ladies

A REMEDY FOR [illegible]

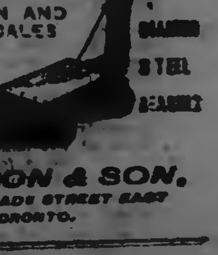
superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES



GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON.
31 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

HEADQUARTERS FOR

PIG TIN,
LEAD AND ANTIMONY

ENQUIRE FOR PRICES

CANADA METAL CO
William St, Toronto, Ont.

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R·I·P·A·N·S Tabule. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

ARE YOU STOUT.

[illegible]

50 Doses for 25c

IF THEY CURE YOU.

50 Doses for Nothing

IF THEY DO NOT CURE YOU

These are the terms upon which we will mail you a full size box of either

Dr. Dean's Nerve & Blood Builder

—OR—

Dr. Dean's Kidney Pills

We know you never tried the equal of these wonderful remedies and that's why we can offer to send back your money if you buy them and are not perfectly satisfied.

Send 25c. in stamps and get a box by return mail.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

-AND-

MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.)

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 17 1902.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—The Town Council will meet this evening.

—The 3rd Dragoons leave for camp this morning.

—The annual meeting of the Ontario Bank takes place today.

—The County Council will meet here of a complete lighting plant.

—The Fire Brigade and Band will run an excursion to Orillia tomorrow.

—Mr. Richard Winch has purchased the handsome residence of Mr. M. Riley, Stewart street.

—A large number went out fishing yesterday. A couple of fine 'lunge were caught in the Little Lake.

—The Finance Committee of the Town Council met last night and passed a number of accounts.

—The Canadian General Electric Co. are building for the town of Edmonton a dynamo and other accessories

—A young man was fined $5 and costs—$9 in all—for riding on the sidewalk in Lindsay and colliding with a child.

—The citizens of Bobcaygeon will tender Mr. J. H. Carnegie, member elect for the Legislature for East Victoria, a reception tomorrow evening.

—The Toronto Typographical Union is making matters uncomfortable for the T. Eaton Co. That organization advises people to buy at home instead of taking money to Toronto.

—Seven teamsters from Peterboro working on the railroad, quit work last week at Port Hope. They say that they are not permitted to water their horses at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., without being docked an hour.

—The young fruit crop on apple trees is rapidly developing and giving promise of an abundant crop everywhere throughout this locality. Pear trees are also carrying a plentiful crop and there will likely be a good supply of plums.

—The union excursion from Toronto will be held today to Peterborough. A special train will leave York at 7 a.m., and returning will leave Peterborough at 6 p.m., stopping at all stations from York to Mariposa, inclusive in both directions.

—The new time table for the C.P.R. came into effect on Saturday, the principal change being in the time of the afternoon train to Toronto which formerly left here at 4.45 p.m. and which will in future leave at 5.10 p.m. The train formerly leaving here at 9.15 a.m. will leave at 9.10 a.m. The local will leave for the east a few minutes later in the evening; leaving here at 7.30 p.m. The midnight will leave at 12.25 a.m. instead of 12.33 a.m.

—A gang of men numbering about 15, passed through from Trenton for Coboconk, where they will meet the Rathbun Co's drive of some 40,000 logs and take the same to Deseronto. The firm's alligator "McClintock" was shipped by train to Lindsay, and launched in the river near the company's mills there. It will be used for towing the drive.

—The warmhearted editor of our little George street contemporary asks in his paper: "Is there anything in the world quite so pretty and lovable and dainty and sweet as a little girl of 6 or 8 years of age?" Well, my dear boy, that depends. If the matter were left to the judgment of this g. f. j. we might suggest that a little girl of 18 or 20 might be even more dainty and loveable and sweet.

—Lindsay Post.—Architect Miller, of Toronto, estimates that a library building such as Mr. Carnegie's plans call for will cost $11,560, exclusive of all moveable fittings. At $10,000 the building would be smaller and without a fireproof vault. On Monday night the board decided that the estimate must be revised.

—Paris ratepayers have voted in favor of passing a by-law to accept from Mr. Carnegie the sum of $10,000 for the establishment of a free public library, the town paying $1,000 per annum for maintenance. What's the matter with Peterborough following suit.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for a list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co. Toledo Ohio.

Sold by all druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

OBITUARY

The many friends of Mr. John Greer an old and respected resident of the Township of Cavanagh, will learn with regret of his sad demise on Sunday, caused by a paralytic stroke. Mr. Greer was seventy-five years of age and was a successful farmer having retired from the farm about 3 years ago and moved to the village of Bailieboro where his death occurred.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Idyl-Wild Summer Hotel

This fine, beautiful spot is being put in fine shape this season, and is sure to command a large share of the tourists' trade. Mr. John English is in charge of the hotel, and is evidently the right man in the right place. The hotel is being greatly improved balconies put up, and other important changes made. It is a real pleasure to visit this delightful place, which is indeed one of nature's beauty spots. The fact that a daily boat service is in existence between Peterborough and Idyl-Wyld will make it easy to visit this lovely island.

REGIMENTAL RIFLE MATCHES

The Shooting at the Ranges—Some Splendid Shots

The following are the scores of the 2nd team of the 57th Regiment in the local series of the Canadian Military Rifle League. The shooting took place on Saturday at Curtis' ranges:

Lieut. R. E. Layfield	80
Col. Sgt. W. H. Moore	94
Col. Sgt. J. W. Edwards	82
Sergt. R. H. Shepherd	73
Sergt. W. H. G. Armstrong	84
Sergt. A. E. Jackson	86
Corpl. G. T. Brown	64
Pte. L. Hawn	81
Pte. E. T. Byshe	74
Pte. J. A Wilson	71
Total	798

Below will be found the scores of the regimental rifle shooting at the ranges on Saturday:

Sgt. Burnham, F. Co	27
Pte Finney, F. Co	37
Pte Watson, F. Co	10
Pte Conklin, E. Co	62
Pte Jackson, E. Co	10
Pte. Wilson, R.A., D Co	71
Sgt Best, D Co	70
Pte Henderson, D. Co	48
Pte Gordanier, D Co	38
Pte Bell, D. Co	70
Pte Perkins, C Co	76
Pte Craig, C Co	45
Pte Harrison, C Co	43
Pte Fredenburg, B Co	20
Pte Faux, B Co	2
Pte Brown, J G, A Co	12

COOL FOOD

For Hot Days

Better health comes with less meat and fat during the warm weather.

By proper and pleasant diet you can prepare the body for summer and feel from ten to twenty degrees cooler than your neighbor.

Grape-Nuts and cream, a little fruit and possibly a couple of soft boiled eggs is sufficient for the breakfast. An ordinary portion of Grape-Nuts contains sufficient nourishment to fully sustain the body until the noonday meal; being a predigested food, it does not overtax the stomach and contains none of the heat supplied by the heavy carbonaceous foods.

Fully cooked at the factory by food experts, brings it to you ready to serve, and does away with the heat of cooking and the time necessary to prepare ordinary food, and its crisp daintiness is pleasing to the palate of young and old.

Many delicious recipes are found in each Grape-Nuts package, so that the form of eating this wholesome food can be changed to suit the user.

These suggestions, if followed for ten days, will convince the most skeptical that a cool body, an active brain and an energy hitherto unknown will prevail and the general lassitude peculiar to warm weather will disappear.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature either by phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Mrs. C. B. McAllister is spending a few days in Toronto.

—Miss Emma Morrow joined Hon Geo. A. Cox and Mrs. Cox on Saturday, and will make the Coronation trip with them.

—Mr. A. Cox, Miss Cox and master Cox accompanied by Miss Ada McBain, will leave to-morrow an a trip to England.

—Mr. Bert Boomer, who has been connected with the Belleville agency of Messrs. Haight & Freese, stock brokers, has returned to Peterborough and is now on the staff of the local agency of that firm.

—Mr. Thomas P. Carney, of New Britain, Connecticut, arrived in Peterborough on Saturday, and has entered upon his duties as mechanical superintendent and manager of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company. Mr. Carney brings with him the highest testimonials as an experienced lock manufacturer.

—Mr. M. Riley, who has for 17 years been connected with the Lock Works, retires from the Company at the end of the present week. He will take a trip to the old country for the benefit of his health. Mr. Riley's many friends will join The Times in wishing him a safe voyage and renewed health.

ST. PETER'S T.A.S.

The Nominations Took Place at Last Regular Meeting

The following members of St. Peter's T.A.S. have been nominated as candidates for the different offices for the next six months;

President—John O'Brien.

1st Vice-Pres.—Messrs. G. H. Giroux, E. Hickey, and M. Ahearn.

2nd Vice-Pres.—Messrs. A. LeClaire and John Trombly.

Fin. Sec.—John Donovan.

Treas.—J. Primeau.

Marshall—Messrs. P. Kane, W. Crowley and J. Grisdale.

Guard—J. McCormack.

Trustees.—Messrs. G. H. Giroux, S. Anglesey, M. Sero, and John Murray.

People With Bad Breath

Generally suffer from Catarrh and should use Catarrhozone Inhaler four times daily and be cured. The pleasant scented Catarrhozone vapor spreads through every air passage of the breathing organs, and reaches the very root of the disease at once; it kills the germs, purifies and cleanses the mucous surfaces, and erradicates every vestige of catarrh in a short time.

Pure sweet breath, free from headache, sneezing and discharge are quickly derived from the use of Catarrhozone Inhaler. Complete outfit guaranteed to cure costs $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the liver.

The Motherly C. P. R.

Probably the longest journey that three self-dependent children ever undertook ended at Trial, B.C., last week, when four girls, whose ages ranged from 11 to 4 years, met their mother, after a trip 5,000 miles, which was started a month previously from Manchester, England. Miss Jessie, aged 11 years, who carried the purse, was the business manager. Their mother received them with gladness and has expressed her gratitude to the Canadian Pacific Railway and steamship companies.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Several Cases Before the Magistrate Yesterday Morning

A lad was charged with damaging the the irons of certain awnings by swinging on them. He was fined $6 or term in jail.

Mr. Isaac Richardson who was run down on Aylmer street some time ago, while riding a bicycle had his alleged assailant "pulled." The evidence showed that the accident was due to the horse having shied and not to carelessness of the driver. The charge was dismissed.

A man was found drunk on Sunday evening and contributed $5 for his spree.

Nerve Wrecked and Insomnious.

Everything goes wrong, head feels heavy and dull, mind is filled with strange forebodings, stomach is out of kilter. You need a good tonic like Ferrozone to bring back your lost appetite and digestion, and cleanse the blood of all impurities. Ferrozone is a wonderful invigorant and strengthener that will banish gloomy depression and quickly restore to you a healthy condition of mind and body. Nothing is so good for the sick, weary and debilitated as Ferrozone. Price 50c. per box at druggists or Ormond & Walsh.

Hamilton's Mandrake Pills cure Constipation.

MARK ST. EPWORTH LEAGUE

Another Delightful Lecture Given by Rev. Jos. Kilgour

The third of a series of most delightful lectures, addressed to the Epworth League, was given in Mark st. church last evening by Rev. Jos. Kilgour. The subject taken by the Rev. gentleman was the minor prophets, and his remarks and answers to the different questions were based mainly on the prophecies of Joel, Hosea, Amos and Micah. The rich variety in the personalities in the different books were ably dealt with. His answers were thoroughly comprehensive and explanatory brief and to the point.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Kilgour dwelt on the thankful hearts God's people should possess in comparing the excessive cruelty of ancient warfare with the wise and Christian manner in which England has drawn to a termination the late Boer war. The Bible to-day stands triumphant but its truth must be taken out as God puts it in not as we interpret it to please ourselves. The tendency of man is downward therefore we are given the Bible to look to as the guiding star of our existence.

In conclusion Mr. Kilgour thanked his hearers for the kind attention they had given him and more especially for the way they had listened to the truth of that remarkable book.

If we are to judge from the number of questions which were handed in we may regard Mark st. League as one large interrogation point. The questions showed marked intelligence and deep thought on the part of the interrogators. Considerable enjoyment was added to the clear and expressive rendition of a duet "Take my Hand" by Mr. and Miss Spears.

Rev. C. L. Thompson occupied the chair in his usual genial and hearty manner.

General - Sports.

The following is the draw in the second round of the president's tournament;

Miss Archer vs. Miss Sanderson.
Miss L. Davidson vs. Miss Clementi.
Miss D. Hall vs. Miss Edwards.
Mrs. Stratton vs. Miss A. Dennistoun.
Mrs. Richard Hall vs. Miss G. Hall.

This round must be played off by Thursday, June 19th.

The next club tea will be held on Thursday, June 19th. A bus will go out for those wishing to drive.

On Wednesday next the ladies visit Orillia and on Coronation Day a match will be played in Belleville. Sturgeon Point and Bobcaygeon are anxious to have their return matches arranged.

THE RING.

Savannah, Ga., June 17.—"Twin" Sullivan, the Boston welterweight, and Owen Zeigler have completed their work of preparation and are in readiness for their bout which is to be pulled off tonight before the Southern Athletic club. The distance is 20 rounds and as both men have the reputation of being hard hitters and shifty on their feet a lively contest is expected by the sporting fraternity.

Does Your Baby Cry at Night

If so, it is well to know the great value of Polson's Nerviline, a household remedy for stomach pains, cramps toothache, sick headache, and the manifold ills peculiar to children. A few drops of Nerviline in sweetened water makes a pleasant drink and never fails to quickly relieve. Nerviline is as good as the doctor in emergencies and costs only 25c. a bottle. Get Nerviline from your druggist today.

Dr Hamilton's Mandrake Pills for Headache.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies D a Oxfords, reg. $1.25, $1.50, for $1.00 | Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75 for..$1.25
M Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25 | Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00, for......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS! STRAW HATS!

Plain Straw Hat..............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c | Fine Panama Straw Hats....75c, $1.00 and $1.25
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00 | Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,
HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CORONATION DAY

JUNE 26TH.

DOMINION DAY

JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also Good going June 30th and July 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24th to July 1st, inclusive, valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from

W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26 | DOMINION DAY JULY 1

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3.

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y. Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

223 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 180, 185 and 215, day or night.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborou ,Ont

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

READ THIS.

READ THIS. $700.00 in Bank will yield you $21.00 per year, we can give you better security and a return of over $71.00 per year for same money.

See cards in our office window for other profitable investments.

Choice building Lots, Houses and Lots, Gardens and farms for sale.

T. HURLEY & CO.
Near Post Office
Phone, 378, Ground Floor

TENDERS WANTED.

Sealed tenders will be received by the undersigned until noon of Friday, June 20th, 1902 for the building of a Mission School on the lands owned by St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on corner of Wolfe and Reid Streets in the Town of Peterborough.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of W. Blackwell, Architect.

R. B. WOOD,
Chairman Building Committee

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 142
PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO WEDNESDAY JUNE 18 1902
PRICE TWO CENT

STREET RAILWAY COMPANY WILL NOT RECOGNIZE UNION

Mr. Dilworth Declined to State Whether the Union Would Recede on That Point

Toronto, June 17.—Negotiations, informal if not otherwise, are in progress this afternoon between the Toronto Railway Company and the Employes' Committee, through the medium of A. E. Ames, president of the Board of Trade. At noon Mr. Ames had a talk with representatives of the company, and it is significant that very soon afterwards Paul Jarvis, secretary of the Board of Trade, was despatched to the Iroquois Hotel to wait on D. Dilworth, J. McDonald and other members of the committee. Mr. Dilworth was out at the time, but Mr. Jarvis left his card, with the understanding that as soon as possible he should be acquainted of the committee's readiness to receive his mission.

It is rumored, however, that the company is to-day considering the question of a new schedule for the employes, and it is possible that some definite proposition may be made to the meeting to-night through the medium of the Board of Trade Council.

DENIAL OF OFFICIALS

The impending crisis between the Toronto Railway Company and their employes is somewhat relieved to-day by the evidence that both sides have given away a little. The men have agreed unanimously to attend the meeting of employes to-night in the Star Theatre, called by the council of the Board of Trade. At this meeting the company's representatives understand, all their bona fide employes interested in the present agitation will be admitted, probably by badge. The company to-day show a strong disposition to meet a committee, which may be appointed by that meeting, even should the members thereof be the same motormen and conductors whom they refused yesterday to receive because they came as representing the Street Railway Employes Union.

It is expected that the meeting tonight will be fully attended. The members of the Board of Trade council will be present, but one of the employes will preside.

Mr. Keating, when asked if the company was willing to meet a committee from such a meeting as that it is proposed to hold to-night, answered emphatically in the affirmative. "But the members of that committee may be all union men," observed The News reporter.

"What care we," he replied, "whether they are union or non-union men, as long as they represent the employes?"

"Was the schedule submitted to the non-union meeting in Victoria Hall prepared by the company?" he was asked.

"Certainly not," Mr. Keating replied, "we have not made any offer to the men, nor have we authorized any to be made."

In the course of an interview on this point, Mr. Moore, also representing the company, said: "We have offered no schedule, and have submitted no terms to the men."

Both Mr. Keating and Mr. Moore stated there had been no arrangements for a conference with the Board of Trade Council before the meeting to-night, neither did they expect any to be made.

Organizer McDonell, of the local union, stated this morning that among the conditions on which the employes agreed to delay their decision was that the company would agree to arbitrate any point which might not be agreed to in a conference between a committee and the company, and that the Board of Trade deputation, upon returning from interviewing the company, stated that the latter had conceded this point, as well as promising to remove from the cars, in the meantime, the conductors and motormen they have had in training.

MONDAY NIGHT'S ASSEMBLY

The meeting in the Star Theatre Monday night at midnight was attended by over 900 street car motormen and conductors. The doors were thrown open at five minutes past twelve, with Business Agent McDonald at the door, who requested all those seeking entrance to present their union cards. It was 1.25 before the last of the men arrived. Until the meeting was called to order, the men passed the time in singing songs and choruses.

TRADE DEPUTATION.

Soon after midnight a deputation from the Board of Trade arrived, and were admitted. They were appointed at a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade held yesterday afternoon when the time of the members was almost entirely taken up with discussion of the Street Railway troubles. It was moved and carried, "That President A. E. Ames, W. J. Gage, J. D. Allan, and Secretary Jarvis be requested to attend Monday night's meetings, and request that matters in dispute between the company and its men be submitted to arbitration and that everything possible be done to avert a strike or tie-up of the Street Railway system."

The remarks of these gentlemen were made first order of business. They stated briefly the grave features of a strike to the whole community, and urged that the members present do not declare a strike, but wait another day and have one final effort made in favor of arbitration. There was some cheering indulged in during the remarks of the peacemakers.

URGED TO DELAY STRIKE.

There was considerable speech-making of a brief character, the committee urging the men to delay declaring a strike for at least a day, and by that time they were sure it would be possible to secure a conference by which they thought a strike would be unnecessary. The men were determined, however, to take summary action. The Board of Trade Committee then requested that no strike be declared until they called on the street car officials and ascertain what could be done.

At [illegible] o'clock the committee left the theatre hurriedly and went to the company's headquarters, where General Manager Keating and other officials were awaiting news of the men's action. The union meeting informed the committee that the only condition upon which they would delay declaring a strike even for an hour was the assurance from the company of an undisputed character that every man that is being trained on the cars at present will be taken off and all men brought into the city within the past few days to take the places of the men be sent away to the places from which they came this morning. If the committee could bring the meeting this assurance no strike would be called for last night, but the men would wait for a conference during the day with the officials of the company. They made it plain, however, that it must be unequivocal, and that no delay would be tolerated.

The Board of Trade Committee hurried to the headquarters with this ultimatum, while the meeting of the union awaited the result of the committee's efforts.

POSTPONED DECISION.

At 4.10 the employes decided to postpone this decision until midnight Tuesday night, when another mass meeting will be held in the Star Theatre, which has been called by the Committee of the Council of the Board of Trade. At this meeting a committee is to be chosen which the company has consented to meet at an early date. The company has also agreed in the meantime to take off the cars all extra men now in training.

LEAVES THE UNION.

A surprise was sprung on the union meeting in the form a vigorous speech in favor of the company by Assistant Roadmaster F. McKenne, one of the best known men in the service. Mr. McKenne was promoted to his present position from a motorman's work, and has been a member of the union from the first week of its organization. He was entitled to admission, and at the first opportunity delivered an entertaining speech from the position of the man who had been all along the line. He pointed out where it would be to the men's advantage, in his estimation, to avoid a strike, and after much cheering, Mr. McKenne suddenly ceased his remarks and handed in a sheet of paper to the chairman which he said he presented with much regret. It was his resignation as a member of the union. Then he left the hall.

A DISORDERLY AFFAIR.

A non-union meeting was held in Victoria Hall, which had been placed at the disposal of the men by the company. Roadmasters McCarron and Wheeler were in charge, but less than thirty employes were in attendance. Among those who entered were noticed many old familiar faces. From before midnight until after the meeting was well under way union pickets were very active at the corner of Queen and Yonge streets and Queen and Victoria streets, and many men were turned back and induced to go to the Star Theatre.

The mob outside the hall was more than half composed of hoodlums, although there were a considerable number of street railway employes in the crowd also, who were apparently of undetermined mind, not desirous of incurring the odium among their unionist friends by going into the hall and equally anxious not to mix up with the crowd at the Star Theatre.

THIS MORNINGS MEETING

Times, Peterboro 9.30 a.m.

At a very largely attended meeting of street railway men this morning a committee of five were appointed to confer with Manager Keating of the Street Railway and to report the result at another meeting to be held as soon as possible.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

The death occurred on Sunday at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Christopher Fagan, of Mary Conway, relict of the late Patrick Conway. The deceased was [illegible] years of age and her husband predeceased her thirty years. She was born at Donegal, and came to Canada about [illegible] years ago, settling in the township of North Monaghan and subsequently removing to Peterborough. She leaves one son and two daughters to mourn her demise, Mrs. J. Regan of Orangeville, N.Y., and Mrs. Fagan, of town are daughters of deceased.

They Take Weeks

Ordinary remedies sometimes take weeks to even relieve cases that Catarrhozone cures at once.

Inhale Catarrhozone five minutes now and again and it cures a cold.

Inhale Catarrhozone five minutes four times a day and it cures stubborn coughs.

Inhale Catarrhozone five minutes every hour and we guarantee it will cure any case of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Lung or Throat Trouble, Deafness. It is very pleasant and convenient to use, quick to relieve and certain as the hereafter to cure. Large size, complete, price $1; small size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Headache.

DIAMOND JUBILEE WILL BE OUTDONE

Coronation Plans All On a Scale of Magnificence

WORLD' GREATEST SHOW

Full Peal of Bells To Welcome the King's Apprcach to Cathedrrl

The Event Attracting the Attention of the Civilized World—Police Precautions Taken—Magnificent Private Displays

Special to The Times.

London, June 18—Although it is a week before the coronation, London is already being crowded, and the prices of everything have been advanced. The 7,000,000 people in the metropolis expect to make a great deal of money out of their 1,500,000 guests, and from present prospects they are likely to succeed. The Americans especially are expected to furnish wealth for the Londoners, for while the bulk of the visitors will be from the English provinces, by far the greatest number of foreigners will be from America. Every Atlantic liner that has arrived during the past three or four weeks has brought its full quota of visitors from the United States. At all times Americans are regarded as rich plucking by the British shopkeepers and hotel-keepers, but this is supposed to be an unusually favorable opportunity for the craft. Interesting accounts are heard at various hotels for the arrangements made for the coronation season. At Claridge's rooms to the value of $10,000 are now occupied by Americans, and at the Hotel Cecil the Yankee visitors have put up $25,000 for rooms for the coronation procession.

The decorations of the city have advanced so far as to enable one to form a good idea of the scope and beauty of the general plan. Artists and others capable of judging of such matters, unanimously agree that this feature of the celebration will eclipse anything of its kind heretofore seen. A striking feature of the street decorations in Westminster are the triumphal arches at the end of Parliament street. There is a large central arch and two smaller ones in the Gothic style, supported by slender red and white columns, the whole covered with cloth of gold and decorated with the shields and arms of the counties of the United Kingdom and Ireland. On the summit there is an open balustrade of pinnacles on which St. George St. Patrick, St. Andrew and St. David are grouped around the lion. The balustrade is decorated with flowers.

The arch at Hyde Park corner has two sets of six columns decorated with the royal arms and those of India and the chief colonies. The columns are linked with wreaths of roses surmounted by winged allegorical figures in gold playing musical instruments. A similar arch in Whitehall street is lined with Venetian masts and decorated sheilds displaying the rose, and has a portcullis of long streamers showing the King's badges with wreaths, roses and the imperial crown with long tassels. Near Abbey Row all the white columns, bearing the royal arms and surrounded by the garter rise out of a forest of greenery. The columns are surmounted by winged figures standing on blue spheres: linked with festoons of roses and bound with white ribbons.

The decorations at Marlborough House are so arranged that after dark it will be possible to use them for illuminations. A beautiful arch of cut crystal, in the form of a branch of laurel leaves, has been erected over the gates. The crystal is of various natural tints, and is, so to speak, jewelled with ruby berries. Rising from the centre of the arch is a crystal medallion, beside the Garter and the motto of that ancient order. The King's cypher appears in the centre of the medallion and is surrounded by the royal crown and lion.

Gorgeous as are the decorations and illuminations of public edifices, they are rivalled by the embellishments of business houses and private residences. The decorations of Lady Burdett-Coutts' house are on a large scale and scarcely less imposing are the decorations of Lord Rothschild's residence. Other decorations on an elaborate scale have been carried out with pleasing effect by H. J. King, in Piccadilly, and M von Andre, brother-in-law of Mrs. Chauncey Depew. It is conceded that M. von Andre has gone one better than he did at the time of the queen's jubilee when his green and white decorations were voted the finest in all London. Carlton House Terrace, from one end to the other presents a fine appearance. All the big houses have been decorated both in front and back. During nights of next week they are to be magnificently illuminated. The finest private display of all, however, has been made by Lord Glenesk, at 19 Piccadilly, but it is hardly a cause for surprise, as few have ever surpassed him in festive decorations. In the matter of decorations the question of expense seems never to have been taken into consideration, but what has contributed still more to the success is the fact that a uniform and harmonious plan has been followed out with the result that there are no such eyesores as spoiled the effect of the decorations at the queen's jubilee.

SOFT COAL MINERS READY TO STRIKE

The Situation Regarded as Extremely Serious

COAL FAMINE IN CANADA

There is no Chance of an Early Settlement of the great Strike

President Gilray, Who Controls Central Pennsylvania Bituminous District, Tells Mitchell His Will Go Out If He Calls on Them For Help

Special to The Times.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 18.— Patrick Gilday, President of the Central Pennsylvania bituminous district of the United Mine Workers of America, who came here to consult President Mitchell on a matter local to his district, in a talk with a correspondent of the Associated Press gave an insight as to what the soft coal miners in his territory are doing to help their brother workmen in the anthracite field. Gilday said there are 32,000 soft coal miners in this district, and every one of them is taking a deep interest in the struggle now going on in this region. On the second day of the strike Gilday sent out instructions to every weighman and pit committeeman at the mines in his district to prevent the shipment of soft coal into anthracite territory, and thus far, he said, very little coal from his district has taken the place of anthracite. "There have been only four attempts by unionized mines to send soft coal to the anthracite markets" he said. "One order was intended for Mount Carmel, Pa., two for Philadelphia, and one for New York. As soon as the men at the mines learned the intended destination of the coal, we requested the mine owners not to send it, and they complied with our request. We are not interfering with the normal shipment of soft coal."

Men Ready to Strike.

President Gilday said he had no personal knowledge that the other bituminous district presidents were doing the same as himself, but he felt sure they were. There is some soft coal coming into the anthracite market from Central Pennsylvania and West Virginia, but it is mostly of non-union production. When asked regarding the feeling in his territory as to a general strike to help the hard coal miners, Gilday said: "Our men will do whatever President Mitchell says. They can have our financial support, and if Mitchell sees fit to ask our men to lay down their picks they will do it promptly. I do not believe, however, that there will be a general strike of the soft coal miners, because the anthracite men are going to win without it."

Asked as to how the miners expected to win in view of the fact that they have practically reached the limit of their resources in this region and the operators still stand out firmly, he replied: "By the slow destruction of mine property. By that I mean that if they do give the men the hours and pay they ask for the men will not consent to go into the mines and preserve the operations. The collieries will fill if the strike is not soon ended and the mines will begin to squeeze or cave in. All the timbermen are out and the timber which holds up the roofs of mines will soon begin to give way. These squeezes will cost thousands of dollars to repair and probably be the cause of the abandonment of many costly operations. When the investor's pocket begins to feel it, a change in the attitude of operators will come and the miners can wait for the change."

Object of Mission.

President Gilday's mission here was President Mitchell's consent to continue the strike against the Sonman Shaft Coal Company near Portage, Pa., and also the financial support of the national organization. He received both. The strike at that place was inaugurated on April 16th, because the company would not recognise the union and sign the wage scale. About 150 men are involved.

The strike at Bloomington mines, near Philippsburg, Pa., has been settled and the men will return to work tomorrow. Five hundred men struck there last Tuesday because four men would not join the union. The four men have quit work.

There were no developments here today. President Mitchell was in frequent telegraphic communication with his men in the west on general organization work. He had no information to impart on either the strike in this region or the West Virginia suspension.

The delegation of Illinois miners' officials who are coming to see President Mitchell, will not arrive until the middle of the week. Much interest is attached to their visit as it is expected they will bring era. Mitchell says they are mere information regarding the advisability of calling out soft coal mi'g

Ir coming to discuss some local differences in their state.

In regard to the above The Times interviewed Mr. J. H. McClellan, of the McClellan Coal Company, who said that everything pointed to a coal famine in Canada. The mines had now been closed down for nearly six weeks, and it would be impossible to catch up, as it took the entire output working every day in the year, to supply the demand. Coal could not now be purchased by the car load.

COMMISSIONERS TO MAKE WATERWORKS EXTENSIONS

25,000 to be EXpended for this Purpose--Town Council Adopt Reports and Pass By-Laws

The Town Council met in special session last night, when there were present, Mayor T. H. G. Denne and Aldermen Edgcumbe, Shortly, Rush, Morrison, Batten, Cockery and Clinkscale.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Walter Parnell asked for two weeks' holidays either this month or in July —Fire Water & Ligh Committee with power to act.

A couple of petitions for remission of dog taxes were referred to the Court of Revision.

TRANSFER OF TELEGRAPH LINE

The great North Western Telegraph Co complained that their line on Bethune and Edinburgh st connecting on Chemong Road with line to Omemee is in an unsatisfactory condition on account of numerous trees on the streets in question, and asked permission to transfer this line to run as follows:—From Bethune st. to follow the Grand Trunk track to Donegal st. from Donegal st. north to Smith st. from Smith st. east to Reid st. from Reid st north-east to Chemong road. The old line on Bethune and Edinburg streets will be removed in consideration of permission to build the new one as above specified.—Referred to the Town Engineer with power to act.

Wm. Madill complained of the street at the south-west corner of George and Hunter streets, where there is no outlet by which surface water can escape.—Referred to the Town Engineer with power to act.

OBJECTION TO POWER WIRES.

A letter from Mr. W. H. Moore was read as follows:—I understand that application has been made by the Otonabee Power Co to place a line of poles and wires on Stewart street, between Hunter and Simcoe streets, for carrying their power to various points in the town. Mr. Alexander Hamilton, whom I represent, owns a terrace of five houses on the east side of Stewart street, between Hunter and Simcoe streets, and I am authorized on his behalf to enter a protest against the location of such poles and wires at the point named because of the high voltage that will be carried over the wires, and the increased damage by reason of large shade trees on the street, which we object to being interferred with, and which would conduct the electricity from the wires and endanger life to those in the vicinity.

I would point out that when the General Electric Co. wished to obtain the privilege of placing a line of poles, etc. from Nassau to their works a short time ago, the Town refused to permit them to pass through the streets because of the danger they would be, but not greater than from the wires of the Otonabee Power Co. The placing of such poles and wires in front of or near Mr. Hamilton's property, would be a distinct damage to him, which I am sure the Council will appreciate and will not permit to occur simply to save the Company from putting in extra poles by taking a more circuitous route.—Received.

NO 4 DAM.

A communication was received from the Department of Railways and Canals, as follows:—"Sir,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the [illegible] ultimo, by which you ask that the Town Council of Peterborough be granted an extension of time of three months to give an answer on behalf of that Town in respect of their application for the grant of a lease of surplus water at Dam No. 4, on the Peterborough-Lakefield Division of the Trent Canal. In reply, I am directed to say that several other parties, a substantial Cereal Company amongst them, are applying for the grant of a lease of water power at the dam in question, and that the Department cannot very well therefore allow the matter to be in abeyance for the period desired by your Council.

L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

T. H. G. Denne, Esq.,
Mayor, Peterborough.

On movement of Ald. Rush, seconded by Ald. Shortly, the clerk was instructed to write the department, thanking them for their courtesy in this matter.

DEBENTURES INTEREST.

The Town Commissioners notified Council that they need $[illegible] for 4 months interest on Water Works' Debentures.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were referred to the Finance Committee:

Alexander & Miller	6 00
A. Kingscote	50
A. Kingscote	2 50
J. W. Butcher	7 70
I. G. Noble	50
A. H. Stratton & Co	6 [illegible]
West Chemical Co	2 [illegible]

FINANCIAL REPORT.

Ald. Rush submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

1. That the Town Solicitor be authorized to have the local improvement debentures for sewers and side walks and the debentures of the Smith street Bridge and the Canadian Cordage Company printed, and that the Finance Committee be authorized to dispose of them.

2. That cheque for $25 be issued to Mr. E. B. Edwards for the fee of Mr. C. Robinson in the case of Peterborough vs. C. P. R.

3. That the following accounts be paid:

Times Print. Co	[illegible]
Peterborough Review	[illegible]
R. H. Leary	[illegible]
Frank Smith	[illegible]
W. J. Kennedy	1 00
C.P.R. Co's Telegraph	[illegible]
Wm. Hamilton	[illegible]
Bell Telephone Co	[illegible]
C. N. Brown	[illegible]
P. J. Grady	[illegible]
Hall & Hayes	[illegible]
Wm. Buller	[illegible]
G. Walter Green	[illegible]
Registrar Co Peterboro	[illegible]
Kingan Hardware Co	[illegible]

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted as read.

FIRE WATER & LIGHT.

Ald. Clinkscale submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That, as it is in the interests of the Town that the Water Commissioners should be in a position to make necessary extensions of the water mains when sufficiently petitioned for, we recommend that a By-law be passed authorizing the Commissioners to expend in extensions this year an amount not exceeding [illegible].

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted as read.

COM. ON APPOINTMENTS.

Ald. Cockery submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That Thos. H. McGrath and John Kincaid be appointed Assessors for Wards No. One and Three, and Wm. Aldridge and Thos. McKee Assessors for Wards No. Two and Four and that they be paid a salary of $175.00 each.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted as read.

LEGAL COM. REPORT.

Ald. Edgcumbe submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Legal Committee beg leave to report as follows:

1. We recommend that the Treasurer be authorized to pay the accounts for the registration of voters under the Manhood Franchise Act and to pay for the polling places used at the Ontario Elections in accordance with the advice of the Town Solicitor and that as [illegible], Market Clerk, was put to inconvenience and wood belonging to him was burned in the Market Hall, he be paid the same as the others [illegible] in the Returning Officer's Certificate [illegible].

2. That, with [illegible] to the application of W. Moher, who occupies a house on the [illegible] Town is liable to be called upon to open the street at any time the Council cannot give any assurance as to his occupancy of the [illegible] ever, has received from Mr. Moher an acknowledgement that he is occupying a portion of the street and an agreement to become [illegible] eration at the yearly rental of one dollar a year and to give up possession on six month's notice.

The report was adopted as read.

WATER WORKS EXTENSIONS.

Ald. Clinkscale introduced a by-law to authorize the expenditure of [illegible] by the Peterborough Water Commissioners, out of the water Works revenue, for water works extensions, which passed its several readings.

ASSESSORS.

Ald. Cockery submitted a by-law to authorize the appointment of assessors for 1902, passed its several readings. The assessors appointed are Thos. H. McGrath, Jno. Kincaid, Wm. Aldridge and Thos. McKee, at a salary of $175 each.

POWER BYLAW.

Ald. Morrison introduced a by-law to amend by-law No. [illegible], and to approve of a form of agreement with the Otonabee Power Co. The former by-law only permitted the company to carry [illegible] volts into the town, whereas under the present by-law they will be allowed to run a current of not exceeding 6,000 volts from the Hunter street bridge to their substation on lot No. 5, south of [illegible] and east of Water street. The company are also empowered to make the extension of pole lines previously asked for. The by-law passed its several readings.

A QUESTION OF RENT.

On motion of Ald. [illegible], seconded by Ald. Clinkscale, the treasurer was authorized to pay each month the $1 rent for the extra vault, in C. N. Brown's building, used by the Town.

Council then adjourned till [illegible] evening at 8 o'clock, when an effort will be made to enter into a mutually satisfactory agreement with the Cereal Co. for dredging the Otonabee river and filling in water front lots.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains

Improperly digested foods usually form gases that cause a painful distention of the stomach and pressure against the heart. This results in much pain and distress—but Nerviline will relieve the distension, dispel the gas, and cure the dyspeptic pains very quickly. Polson's Nerviline is really an excellent remedy for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Cramps, Summer Complaint, and all Stomach and Bowel Trouble. No household is complete without Nerviline. Try a 25c. bottle.

OVER $2,500 worth of stocks can be purchased by you, through us, if you have an account with [illegible] amounting to $100. Largely amount to [illegible] you can secure the profit possible [illegible] on an investment of the above amount by actual investment of comparatively little money. We loan you balance of purchase money, at a charge not exceeding the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, for the time of the loan. No other business in the world offers you greater credit. Full particulars of the method plainly and clearly outlined, together with other valuable information, in our handsome 100 page, cloth bound, illustrated

"Guide to Investors,"

which we issue for free distribution. Our

"Daily Market Letter,"

makes unbiased analysis of market conditions so prepared as to benefit investor or trader upon margin. Send for both. They are free.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Established 1880. Main Office, 53 B'way, N.Y.

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.

Peterborough, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

COMMISSION ONE EIGHTH—The only licensed U. S. Stock Brokerage Corporation in business by permission of the Royal Government of the Province of Ontario.

W. F. NELSON, Peterborough.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depar
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal... ...	5.10 p.m.	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.33 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston ...	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.38 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate...	7.38 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.38 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West...	11.05 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.25 p.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9.00 p.m.	5.35 p.m.
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.35 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.30 a.m.	9.19 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Havelock	8.10 a.m.	8.25 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston, Montreal	9.05 p.m.	3.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.13 p.m.
Lakefield local	6.50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at $3 per year strictly in advance.

UNION LABEL

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 18, 1902.

SIXTH WEEK OF THE COAL STRIKE

The sixth week of the great coal strike opens with no sign of a settlement in sight, with an army of 165,000 men idle, including the bituminous miners of the Virginias, and a state of tension which threatens grave disorder any day, although thus far riotous demonstrations have been few and comparatively unimportant. Both sides seem to have settled down to a determined test of endurance; the owners of some of the mines evidently willing that their property shall be seriously injured by flooding rather than make any further concession to organized labor. The investigation by Commissioner Carroll D. Wright, at the President's instance has brough no fruit, and indeed, could not be expected to have any direct influence in affecting a cessation of the strike, as the officers of the Government are without power to intervene, at least in ways that they are disposed to adopt. Nothing further is heard from the Civic Federation, which appears to have abandoned its efforts for an agreement. The strike leaders are reticent as to their plans. No information is obtainable as to when, if at all, they purpose calling out the bituminous coal miners of the country to strike in sympathy. This seems to be their greatest reserve card which they will hardly attempt to play except as a last resort. Meanwhile the losses due to the strike are piling up enormously. A vast bill is being contracted which the coal monopoly will expect the coal consumers to pay. The public has been very patient under the Coal 'Barons' levies of tribute. The limit of that patience may be near.

SOURCES OF THE PRO-BOER FEELING

This is a good time for the British people—a team which includes Canadians—to take an honest and dispassionate look at the wave of pro-Boer feeling which swept over Europe and sections of the United States from time during the late war.

We were prone in the thick of the fight to put them down to anti-British animus, but was that a true entry in the book of history? Was there no other way to account for them? A people should not go out of its way looking for national hostility.

To begin with, no one would deny that much was due to the press subsidies of the Boers. These golden arguments first secured the sowing of opinion-making lies among a busy and ill-informed population; and then announced the sought-for opinion with great emphasis whether it existed or not. Much of the stuff we quoted from the European press, to our own great annoyance, was simply that the Boer bureau wanted "the organs of European opinion" to say. It would have been as fair to have quoted Dr. Leyds, as the voice of Europe.

Then a vast number of people, who did not take the trouble to look deeply into the causes and purposes of the war, sided at first thought with the Boers, because they were the smaller nation. It was simply the working of the instinct which makes bystanders take the part of the smaller boy in a street row. As a matter of fact, the forces were not, under the circumstances, badly matched; but they seemed to be. The superficial vote went against us, with the same certainty that the informed and interested vote went with us.

These two facts will account for a tremendous amount of the pro-Boer feeling which appeared on both sides the Atlantic. Of course, there are people with whom Britain is unpopular; but the Boer outcry was no fair measure of that sentiment.

THE CHINESE INDEMNITY

The powers in Pekin have agreed to a combined reduction of $10,000,000 of the Chinese idemnity, each one giving up a twenty-fifth part of its claim. It is the opinion of Mr. Hay, U.S. Secretary of State, interpreting the feeling of the government, that as is generally conceded, neither country's claim was even up to the figures for the loss they underwent. The claims of France, Russia and Germany are considered almost exorbitant.

The cause for the reduction is the steady depreciation of the value of silver. The powers combined and declared that their share of the indemnity must be paid in gold. The steady rise of the price of exchange on account of the depreciation of silver was such that a reduction of at least $10,000,000 was necessary to bring the aggregate of the claims of the nations to within 450,000,000 taels ($630,000,000), the figure at which the idemnity was fixed, and which was within China's ability to pay.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The "Boer" lecturers in the United States who have been passing the hat and denying that the Boers would ever surrender have disappeared from view. But who has the gate money?

• • • •

An object lesson in municipal ownership is supplied in the startling announcement that Glasgow's municipal tramway receipts will show a surplus this year of $500,000.

• • • •

It seems likely that France alone of the naval powers will have much use for submarine vessels in the near future. A German authority writing in one of the naval periodicals says that she will probably find them valuable for coast defence. The islands lying along her extensive Atlantic coast, together with the depth of the the ocean there, offer excellent hiding places for these craft, which would make a blockade exceedingly difficult. The large harbors and ports of England are also near enough, the writer thinks, to be assailed from this quarter. Submarine boats, skilfully and boldly handled, and sent against an English port immediately on the declaration of war, would probably interfere with the mobilization of the English ships, and do great damage. These reasons may justify France in spending considerable sums for the improvement of her submarine boats.

• • • •

Mr. Kruger comes out of the war with little credit; but he doesn't need it, for he came out of the Transvaal with plenty of cash.

• • • •

It was long and warmly disputed whether the Boers ever had more than 35,000 men in the field. Kitchener reports 7,000 so far surrendered, 37,000 are known to be held as prisoners, and this says nothing of those who were killed, permanently disabled or died of disease. It is clearly stated that there were more than 60,000 fighting Boers.

• • • •

Col. Lynch, member-elect for Galway, having landed in England and been promptly arrested on a charge of treason, threatens to become a burning question in British politics. The Government seems inclined to make a martyr of him, and the Irish members, according to a World special cable, are not disposed to give him much sympathy, because of his letter to Mr. Speaker apologizing for his services in the Boer army.

UNION BANK OF CANADA.

The thirty-seventh annual general meeting of the shareholders of this institution was held at the Banking House, in Quebec, on Saturday, June 14th, 1902.

There were present: Messrs. A. Thomson, Hon. John Sharples, D. C. Thomson, E. Giroux, E. J. Hale, Wm. Shaw, Geo. H. Thomson, John Shaw, Alex. Laurie, C. P. Champion, Robt. Brodie, Heber Budden, Wm. Brodie, J. H. Simmons, T. H. Norris, T. C. Aylwin, Lieut.-Col. Turnbull, Lieut.-Col. Jones, and Capt. Carter.

The President, Mr. Andrew Thomson, Esq. took the Chair, and requested Mr. J. Glanville Billett, to act as Secretary, and Mr. John Shaw and C. P. Cameron, scrutineers, which was agreed to.

The Chairman read the report of Directors which was as follows:

The Directors beg to submit a Statement of the Assets and Liabilities of the Bank at the close of the financial year ending 31st May last; also the following Statement of the result of the business for the past year:

PROFIT AND LOSS ACCOUNT, MAY 31st, 1902.

Balance at credit of Profit and Loss Acct on May 31st, 1901...	$ 23,635 27
The net profits for the year, after deducting expenses of management, reserving for interest and exchange, and making appropriations for bad and doubtful debts, have amounted to	242,320 68
	$265,955 [illegible]
Which has been appropriated as follows:
Dividend No. 70, 3 per cent	$ 60,000 00
Dividend No. 71 3 1-2 per cent ...	[illegible] 00
Transferred to Reserve Fund ...	100,000 00
Balance carried forward	35,955 [illegible]
	$265,955 [illegible]

The year has been a prosperous one, and the profitable character of the business now well secured has justified the directors in the payment of an increased dividend for the past six months of the year, being at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, as compared with 6 per cent per annum in the past.

An addition of $100,000 from the profits has been made to the reserve fund, which now amounts to $650,000, or 32 1-2 per cent on the capital.

It has been found necessary during the year to obtain new banking premises at some of our branches.

At Alexandria and at Carberry we have built good substantial premises on lots purchased at reasonable prices, and at Deloraine and Macleod we have purchased premises suitable for our requirements.

During the year, four new branches were established,—at Kemptville, Ont., and at Edmonton, Arcola and Qu'Appelle, N.W.T., all with satisfactory results.

It is quite evident to your directors that the increasing business of the bank would be greatly benefited by additional capital, and they recommend that the Board be authorized to obtain authority from the Treasury Board of the Dominion to increase the capital stock of the bank to the extent of $1,000,000, to be allotted to shareholders from time to time as deemed advisable by the directors.

The customary inspections of the branches have been made.

A. THOMSON,
President.

GENERAL STATEMENT

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock		$ 2,000,000 00
Reserve fund	$ 650,000 00
Balance of Profit & Loss Account carried forward	35,9[illegible]
Reserved for Interest and Exchange	14,545 [illegible]
Reserved for Rebate of interest on bills discounted	40,000 [illegible]
		740,531 28
Notes of the Bank in circulation ...	$ 1,836,[illegible]
Deposits not bearing interest	2,213,[illegible] 21
Deposits bearing interest	6,240,670 42
Balances due agents in Great Britain	244,765 [illegible]
Balances due other banks in Canada ...	3,423 39
Dividends unclaimed	1,058 61
Dividend No. 71......	[illegible],000 00
		10,618,008 63
		$13,367,539 91

ASSETS

Specie ... ...$	411,231 74
Dominion notes ...	594,174 00
Deposit with Dominion Government for security of note circulation	61,000 00
Notes of and cheques on other banks	282,426 78
Balances due by other banks in Canada	[illegible] 15
Balances due by agents in United States	114,778 00
Municipal and other bonds and stocks	112,461 61
Call loans on bonds and stocks	537,986 23
		$ 2,531,275 41
Other loans and bills discounted current	10,362,633 61
Overdue debts (estimated loss nil)...	22,526 16
Real estate other than bank premises	30,821 12
Mortgages on real estate sold by the bank	30,192 26
Bank premises and furniture	236,956 25
Other assets... ...	2,100 00
		10,836,264 50
		$13,367,539 [illegible]

E. E. WEBB,
General Manager.

Quebec, May 31st, 1902.

It was then moved by A. Thomson, Esq., and seconded by Hon. John Sharples:

"That the report submitted to this meeting be adopted and printed for distribution among the shareholders."—Carried.

Moved by A. Thomson, Esq., seconded by Lieut.-Col. Turnbull:

"That the capital stock of the Union Bank of Canada shall be increased from the sum of two million dollars to the sum of three million dollars by the issue of ten thousand new shares of one hundred dollars each and the new shares shall be issued at such times and at such price, and in such manner as the Directors may determine, and as provided in "The Bank Act," and that application be made by the Directors of the Bank to the Treasury Board of the Government of Canada for a certificate approving of this by-law, pursuant to the provisions of "The Bank Act."—Carried.

The President gave full explanations of the statement, and in referring to the increased capital asked for from the shareholders, explained that the first issue would be allotted to the shareholders at a premium of 25 per cent. and would not exceed $250,000, on obtaining the necessary authority from the Treasury Board of the Government of Canada.

Moved by Lieut.-Col. Jones, seconded by Capt. Carter:

"That the meeting now proceed to the election of Directors for the ensuing year, and that the ballot-box for the receipt of votes be kept open until one o'clock, or until five minutes have elapsed without a vote being offered during which time proceedings be suspended."—Carried.

The scrutineers appointed at the meeting reported that the following gentlemen were elected Directors of the bank for the ensuing year: Messrs. Edmond Giroux, E. J. Hale, William Price, Hon. John Sharples, William Shaw, Andrew Thomson and D. C. Thomson.

Votes of thanks to the Chairman for presiding and to the scrutineers, terminated the proceedings.

J. GLANVILLE BILLETT,
Secretary.

At a subsequent meeting of the new Board of Directors, A. Thomson, Esq., was re-elected President, and Hon. John Sharples, Vice-President.

Items of Interest

ARE VERY CONFIDENT.

New York, June 14.—So confident are the mine operators of winning their struggle with their employes in the anthracite region that a statement has been issued at Wilkesbarre to the effect that when operations shall have been resumed fewer men will be employed. It is planned to reduce the number of miners one-third and increase wages by one-third. In other words, the operators believe their forces can be reduced from an approximate of 147,000 men to 100,000.

The operators say they will not attempt to resume the mining of coal at all collieries, and that restrictions will be placed on the summary closing of the mines without notice by the men remaining away from work for the purpose of celebrating various holidays, etc., and they will be expected to be on duty every day the mine is open.

THE BARON USED HIS BOOTS.

London, June 17.—Baroness Halkett, formerly Miss Sarah Anson Phelps Stocks of New York, was granted a divorce to-day, on the ground of the cruelty and infidelity of her husband. The baroness left her husband in 1895, owing to ill-treatment. The suit was undefended. Baroness Halkett testified of her husband's cruelty. She said that on several occasions he kicked her.

COLD IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Cape Town, June 14.—Extreme cold, accompanied by storms of unprecedented severity, continues to prevail in Cape Colony. Thousands of sheep have perished, and the telegraph wires are down, and buried in snow-drifts.

ONLY WOMEN WERE KILLED.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, Monday June 9.—Advices received here to-day announce that the Venezuelan revolutionists attacked La Guaira, the port of Caracas, the capital, Saturday (June 7). The Government forces answered by shelling Maiquetia, a suburb of La Guaira, from the forts ashore and from the Venezuelan warship Miranda. Only peaceful women were killed.

Chicago, June 17.—"The time has come when the black man must depend upon himself for protection. I do not stand for mobs, but every negro should be prepared to protect his home, his wife and children even to the death."

This advice was given at a meeting of negroes last night by Bishop Alexander Walters, of the colored church of Ohio, after he had warned his hearers that all signs pointed to a time of great trouble for them. Bishop Walters is president of the Afro-American Council.

The meeting was held in the Olivet Baptist Church and was called for the purpose of taking action on the prosecution of the negro residents of Eldorado and Harrisburg, Ill., and the lynching of Louis Wright in Missouri last winter.

A resolution was adopted and telegraphed to Governor Yates calling upon him to take immediate steps to protect the lives and property of the colored people at Eldorado and Harrisburg, Ill.

Governor Yates, who is in Chicago, said last night:—

"The authorities have been ordered to proceed against any persons who may have been guilty of assaults against the colored people of that locality, and the law will be maintained."

Aldershot, Eng., June 16.—King Edward and Queen Alexander started for Windsor at 4.15 o'clock this afternoon in a motor car. The King showed little trace of his recent illness.

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers. LEITH. Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE
ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.
MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE.
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analyzed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{99}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

THE FASHIONABLE MAN
Of Nineteen Aught Two

Will find everything that is Correct and Up-to-date in MEN'S OUTFITTINGS. (Prices second to none.)

—AT—

H. E. BRADLEY & CO.'S
High-class Tailors and Gentlemen's Outfitters.

THE
BLACK ROCK MINING CO.
LIMITED.
(no personal liability)

SHARES 10c EACH. CAPITAL $150,000

Stock full-paid and non-assessable.

CLAIMS.

Thee are three claims "New York" "Chicago" and "San Francisco."

SITUATED.

Yavapai Co., Arizona.

EXTENT.

The area of the three claims is 600 feet by 1500 feet.

ORE BODY.

Outcroppings show on the surface 120 feet to 450 feet wide and 4500 feet long, (nearly one mile)

DEPTH.

Shaft is down over 100 feet in ore from the surface and there is ore fully 75 feet above where the shaft starts.

CROSS-CUTS.

Cross-cuts on shaft of fifty feet each are entirely in ore, so also is thirty-foot Tunnel.

ORE IN SIGHT.

By expert calculations there is TWO MILLION TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT NOW.

ASSAYS.

THE BLACK ROCK MINING Co. equally high in Copper with some silver, total values running as high as $50.00 per ton.

COST.

Ore can be mined and treated on a proposition of this claim, at less than $3 00 per ton by present processes.

The largest producing mines today pay big dividends on ore averaging from $3.00 to $8.00 per ton. This is only made possible by the enormous bodies of ore such as are found on the "Chicago" "United Verde" "Ore Grande" and other similar mines.

The "United Verde" with an original capital of three million dollars pays to its stockholders in cash profits about Two million dollars every month, or in other words pays back its entire capital every six weeks.

THE BLACK ROCK MINING CO. LIMITED, will without doubt pay dividends of at least one per cent. a month before the end of this year. Now is the time to get in while stock is low. Only 10c. per share.

WRITE FOR GROUND FLOOR PROPOSITION.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.,
London, Ont.
217-218 Masonic Temple.

TO THE ADVERTISER

Do you realize that it would be easy for you to increase your business to the extent of several thousand dollars a year?

Do you know that hundreds of people living in the country surrounding Peterborough never see your name in the newspaper they read; that they don't know why it would be to their advantage to deal with you?

Do you know that these people are sending to Toronto for goods they could buy from you, if they knew you wanted to sell them?

Do you realize that the merchants of Toronto and Montreal are reaching out for the trade of this, and other towns; that they are spending thousands of dollars, in advertising, to tell people who ought to buy from YOU all about their goods?

Are YOU telling the people about YOUR GOODS, and the LOW PRICES at which you sell them?

You CAN NOT do so thoroughly, if you don't advertise in THE TIMES, because THE TIMES reaches people whom you can't reach through any other medium.

At least 60 per cent. of the people living in the surrounding country read "THE TIMES" and NO OTHER newspaper. These people have money to spend and will spend it in Toronto because they think they can buy more cheaply there than here, if you don't secure their custom.

Use THE TIMES to tell them you can give them better bargains than they can get in Toronto.

You'll make money, you'll increase your business, you'll get new customers if you advertise in THE TIMES.

We are going to make THE TIMES the best daily paper in Eastern Ontario. We have made arrangemtns to improve the local news service and to push the paper to the foremost place in the front ranks. We want you to advertise in THE TIMES because it'll pay you to do so. Every dollar you spend for advertising in The Times will return with good interest added.

Remember—No matter how much business you are doing now—YOU CAN DO MORE if you advertise in THE TIMES.

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
10 King Street West, TORONTO

The New York Times

Saturday Review of Books.

$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—a fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times

SUNDAY EDITION

$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories. Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year
Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 8 a.m.	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 5 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 8a.m.	5 July 8 p.m.

First cabin, $60 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... .... June 28th
Mongolian...... ....July 9th.

S. S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to: W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd
River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S. S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; ; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S., calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t
W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. fo Parry Sound, Points au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 9.00 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information appl to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO
STR. "ARGYLE"
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)
EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at	- -	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at	- -	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at		12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at		5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00 Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.
STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday		7 00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday		2 00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday		Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent. Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville	- -	11.00 a m
" Trenton	- -	1.15 p m
" Brighton	- -	2.45 p m
Arrives Charlotte	- -	7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W HEPBURN, Manager,
Picton, On

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

5 Trips Daily (Except Sunday.

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont.

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay
ESTURION
JUNE 1ST TO OCTOBER 1ST

Bobcaygeon,	Lv 6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 7.15 a.m.	"	4 10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar 8 40 a.m.	"	5 30 p.m.
"	Lv 11.00 a.m.	"	5 45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 12.10 p m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar 1.15 p.m.	"	8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.
MANITA
JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon...........	Leave	7 00 a m.
Bridgenorth...........	Arrive	9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth...........	Leave	3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon...........	Arrive	5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to
W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt, G.T.R, Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG, PORT HOPE, ROCHESTER, N. Y.
STEAMER
NORTH KING
Week Day Route Commencing May 12

SOUTH BOUND.

Leaving Cobourg, Ontario......	..2.01 p.m
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario......	..2.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester)	...6.47 p.m
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets......	...8.45 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.

Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets	9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester...	......9.45 a.m
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario......	......2.01 p.m
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario......	......2.50 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any plac in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to.

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Evans Agent Port Hope

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"

On Monday, June, 16th, Wednesday, 18th and Friday 20, the Steamer Majestic will leave Lakefield on the arrival of the morning train, returning in time to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor.
CAPT. SCOLLARD, Master

Armed and Invincible.

WHEN the little woman opened the door, the burly fellow promptly pushed his way in. In alarm she hastily backed away, and he closed the door after him.

"What do you mean?" she demanded, trying to appear brave and determined. "Leave this house immediately."

"Oh, I guess not," he answered, impudently.

"I'll call my husband," she threatened.

"He ain't home," retorted the intruder; "there ain't nobody home but you. That's why I come in. See?"

She was badly frightened, but she tried not to show it. Furthermore, she was handicapped by the fact that she was in house-cleaning attire, with apron and cap, and a feather duster in her right hand. A woman cannot be as dignified and haughtily imperious as she would wish under these circumstances.

"What do you want?" she demanded.

"Money an' jew'lry," he answered. "I ain't perticl'ler wot it is, only so it's small an' val'able. I ain't lookin' fer no piano."

"Well, I should think not," she returned indignantly, "and you can't have anything at all. If you don't get right out of here I'll scream."

"Turn 'er loose!" retorted the intruder, carelessly. "There ain't nobody to hear you, but you better be quick about it, 'cause I ain't got no time to waste. I'm all business, I am, an' we been foolin' long enough. Reach fer the high note!"

"You're the most insulting man I ever saw!" she cried, angrily.

"Sure," he acquiesced—and then, with a slight show of impatience, "Better hand out that watch you're wearin' or I'll have to reach fer it, an' that wouldn't be wot you'd like."

"Don't you dare touch me!" she exclaimed, retreating to the parlor as he advanced. "You're a great big coward! You wouldn't dare do this if I had a pistol!"

"Sure I wouldn't," he admitted; "but I got to have that there ticker fer a start-off."

Her anger had been getting the better of her fear, and now her housewifely instincts added to her indignation.

"Don't you come into this room with those muddy boots!" she cried. "I've just swept and dusted. You go right back there and wipe your feet on the mat."

She pointed with the duster, and as that useful household utensil came in proximity to his face he hastily dodged back.

"Don't be sassy, little woman," he said with offensive familiarity, and that was the last straw. She was so angry that she could cry, and she would have done so if there had been any sort of a reasonable opportunity.

"Oh, if I only had a weapon!" she said, hotly. "I'd teach you manners, you big, burly brute—you coward! You knew I was defenceless, or you wouldn't have dared come in! Oh, why is a woman so helpless!" Then, as he advanced again, she suddenly pushed the duster into his face, with the peremptory command: "Go back there, you clumsy thing! Don't you dare traipse mud into this room!"

Now, a feather duster is about as disagreeable a thing as a man can have thrust in his face, and as the intruder jumped back his feet became entangled in the hall rug, and he was flat on his back before he knew what had happened. As he tried to raise himself he got the duster in the face again. He grabbed for it, but she was too quick for him. He needed his hands to get himself up and he needed them to protect his face, and then she made matters worse by suddenly throwing the loose end of the rug over him.

"Oh, if I only had a weapon!" she cried.

"Wot do you call that thing?" he growled, as he tried to disentangle himself, with the result that every time he took his hands away from his face he got a feather in his eye or a bunch of them in his mouth. Once he closed his teeth on them and thus tried to hold the duster until he could grab it, but she jerked it away, leaving a varied assortment of feathers and parts of feathers in his mouth.

"Oh, my eye!" he suddenly cried, as well as he could with his mouth full of things that made him sputter and choke. "Oo! oo! ouch! you've put it out!"

"If I only had a weapon," was her retort, "I believe I could manage you all right. I'll never be unarmed again when I'm alone in the house."

"You ain't now," he wailed, holding both hands to his eye. "Let me up an' I'll go—sure I will."

"Am I sassy?" she demanded, the light of victory shining in her indignant eyes.

"Sure not," he answered.

"Are you ever going to say 'little woman' to a lady again?"

"No, ma'am; never!" with great earnestness—for she was still plying the duster whenever he attempted to move.

"Aren't you ashamed of yourself to impose on a defenceless woman?"

"'Shamed ain't no name fer it," he asserted with feeling.

She hastily threw open the outer door.

"Get up," she said.

He struggled to his feet, while she watched him closely. His back was to the open door when he stood up, the eye that had met the duster blinking distressingly. For an instant he hesitated, but only for an instant.

"Out!" she cried, and the duster went straight to his face again. He went out backward in such a hurry that he nearly fell down the steps, and the door was promptly closed. His defeat, which up to the very last minute he had hoped to turn into victory, was complete.

"Wot's the matter?" asked the man who was waiting for him at the corner. "Was she armed?"

"Bill," was the solemn and impressive reply, "'cordin' to a man's idea she wasn't, but you can't never tell when a woman's armed."—Elliott Flower in "Leslie's Weekly."

The One Thing Lacking.

Much-rejected Contributor (at a white heat)—I shall write to this editor, and give him a piece of my mind! Wife (sweetly) Perhaps, dear, that's exactly what he's been waiting for!—"Outlook."

Big Buildings.

St. Peter's is the biggest building in the world. St. Paul's could be placed inside the great cathedral at Rome without blocking up the way through. St. Peter's stands on an area of two hundred and forty thousand square feet, with a front four hundred feet broad and a length inside of six hundred feet. The cost of building the cathedral was three and a half millions sterling—exactly the same sum as was spent on the British Houses of Parliament, and five times as much as the cost of St. Paul's. The Vatican, which can hardly be called a single building, has eleven thousand apartments, approached by two hundred staircases; and there is a mystery in Madrid which has twelve thousand windows and doors. But they can hardly be called single buildings, and, bearing this distinction in mind, the biggest building in the world is the Church of the Pope at Rome.

The builders of the Old World were more ambitious than our own. No such theater has ever been built in the modern world as the Coliseum, with its diameter of six hundred and fifteen feet, its height of one hundred and sixty-four feet, and its seats for a hundred thousand people. No wall has ever been built to equal the great wall of China, which runs thirty feet high and twenty-four feet thick for twelve hundred miles; and the Pyramids remain the wonder of the world in the twentieth century as in the first. Ancient Egypt had twelve palaces each with three thousand rooms; and the walls of Nineveh ran for a hundred miles a hundred feet high and wide enough for three chariots to drive abreast along the top.

"Young Never-Grow-Old."

The war has not as yet developed much pathetic poetry. It is not till the clatter and blare of the march is past that the cry of the mourner reaches the ear. Perhaps among the first-fruits of the harvest of poetic sorrow may be counted a short poem in "Longman's" by Mrs. Fleming. It is simply entitled "Spion Kop." Two stanzas may be cited out of five, all of which will go home to many a mother's desolate heart:

Young Never-Grow-Old, with your heart of gold,
And the dear boy's face upon you;
It's hard to tell, though we know it well,
That the grass is growing upon you.
Flowers and grass, and the graveyard mould,
Over the eyes of you, Never-Grow-Old,
Over the heart of you, over each part of you,
All your dear body, our Never-Grow-Old. . . .

Never-Grow-Old, your curly head
Will never streak with gray;
Young Always-Young, your springing tread
Will never pass away.
The morning glory of your eyes
Will light you now and ever;
You keep your boyhood in the skies,
The other side the River:
River that flows by the City of Gold,
River of Healing, dear Never-Grow-Old.

He Knew His Own.

Carlyle, speaking of America, once said that the North cursed the negro and bade him be free, and the South blessed him and bade him be a slave. His theory gives point to a story told in the Arkansas "Thomas Cat."

One of the old-time Southern negroes went to Boston to make his fortune. After a week of walking up and down, he found himself penniless and no work in sight. Then he went from house to house.

"Ef yo' please, sah," he began, when his ring at the front door was answered, "can't you gib a p'or culled man wuk ter do, er sumpin ter eat?"

And the polite answer invariably was, "No, mister; very sorry, but have nothing for you."

All who answered his ring addressed him as "Mr.," but shut their doors and hearts against him. Finally he rang the bell at a brown-stone front. A gentleman appeared, and the old man began, "Boss, I is starvin'. Can't yo' gimme some victuals?"

"You black, kinky-headed rascal!" exclaimed the gentleman. "How dare you ring the bell at my front door? Go round the back-yard way to the kitchen and the cook'll give you something, you black —"

But just there the old man fell on his knees, exclaiming, "Thank de Lawd, I foun' mah own white folks at las'! Thank de Lawd, I foun' 'em—I foun' 'em!"

Didn't Like Officers' Fare.

Anybody with any knowledge of nautical matters at all knows what an habitual growler "Jack" is. Never was he known to be satisfied with any possible condition of affairs, no matter what efforts might have been spent in pleasing him.

A good example of this is shown in a story told by the skipper of a large American sailing vessel now in port. On his last trip from San Francisco to this port he had with him some passengers; so, to prevent friction, he humored the seamen more than he otherwise would have done. On the second day out the crew all came aft and demanded to see the skipper.

Breaking the Ice.

Some society people, remarks Hal Berte in "Pick-Me-Up," are greatly perturbed over a problem that presents itself when two persons, of opposite sexes, who are strangers to each other, are introduced for the purpose of going in to dinner together. The vital question is which, under the circumstances, should speak first? Without posing as an authority on etiquette, I venture to suggest that the onus of speaking first naturally devolves upon the gentleman, because the lady is bound to ultimately get even by having the last word. Of course, if the gentleman really wants the lady to lead off, the best thing he can do is to accidentally tread on her dress. In which case she will probably say something commencing with the fourth letter of the alphabet. With this cue, profuse apologies can be tendered, and the rest is easy.

Interesting Items.

The Gloucester, Mass., fishermen regard Kipling as a hoodoo, as every one of the twenty fishing-boats belonging to their fleet named by him in "Captains Courageous" has gone down at sea, the last two of the ill-fated boats foundering in the recent big storm off the Massachusetts coast.

Only a little while ago a woman was arrested and taken to the police station for smoking on Broadway, New York. In the dining-room of a New York first-class hotel an engraved card is now placed on each of the tables each evening bearing this inscription: "Gentlemen and ladies wishing to smoke may do so in the gilt room." So the world moves.

For the first time in the history of Paris art exhibitions, photographs have been received as exhibits at the annual Salon. The photographs were submitted by Edward Steichen, a young New Yorker, and are regarded as a great triumph. It is said that the decision to admit photographs almost caused a split in the jury. The pictures were, therefore, entered under the title of engravings.

The experiment is being tried by the New Zealand Telegraph Department of issuing telegrams in typewritten form. The operators have, of course, not only to acquire speed at typewriting, but also to accustom themselves to the clicking of the keys of the typewriter as well as of the telegraph instrument. So far the experiment has worked well—to the receiver of the message it is certainly a great improvement upon manuscript telegrams.

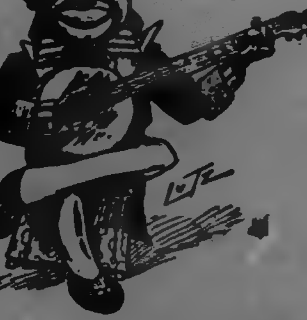
According to the "Pall Mall Gazette," Gandersheim, a German village, has recently been en fete. The occasion was the honoring of a hen which had laid its thousandth egg. Many of the houses were decorated with flags, while in the evening the proprietor of the hen entertained his friends at a supper at which the principal dish was a gigantic omelet. The function was a splendid success, and the health of the hen was drunk with great enthusiasm.

There seems no limit to the variety of uses to which a man-of-war can be put when past her work. Here is the latest. A syndicate of sporting men is said to be considering a scheme for purchasing the old American ship "Vermont," should the bill for her preservation fail to pass. The idea is to fit her up as a floating boxing-ring, which can be moved out to sea, so that the merry mills of the fancy may be brought off without police interference.—"United Service Gazette."

The "search-light telephone" is announced from Washington. The beam from a powerful light has been employed in lieu of a wire, and talking done to the distance of half a mile. The telegraphic account adds that the inventor has not yet taken out his patents. There are several reasons for this. It was in the same city of Washington, twenty years ago, that the excellent Dr. Graham Bell made his famous experiments with what he first called his photophone. It is curious that this amazing work is so little known. Dr. Bell talked over a ray of sunlight to a distance of near two miles. A pair of parabolic reflectors served for sender and receiver, and a pair of selenium cells answered to the magnets of an ordinary telephone.

The Kansas City "Journal" alleges Biblical authority for the declaration that the good die young. "Seth," it says, "lived 912 years. Enos lived 905 years, Cainan lived 910 years, Mahalaleel lived 895 years, Jared lived 962 years, Methuselah lived 969 years, and Lemach lived 777 years. Of Enoch, the only good one in the lot, the chapter says: 'And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him, and all the days of Enoch were 365 years.' Being good, Enoch lived a measly little period of only 365 years, while the others, being given to sin, lived to grow up to manhood. It always seemed strange to us that preachers pay so little attention to the facts of the Bible."

A contract was let last week for carrying Uncle Sam's mail in Alaska by dog-sleds. The successful bidder was Oscar Fish, and his route lies between Eagle and Valdes, a distance of 414 miles. He makes two trips a month, and receives nearly $1,500 a trip, or $35,000 a year. Only 300 pounds are carried per trip, and this is usually made up of letters, few newspapers. Post-Office Department officials say that the sum paid to Fish is very reasonable when it is considered that he makes the trip by dog-sledge, and that he has the most dangerous route of any mail-carrier in the world. He has several times been given up for dead by residents of Valdes and Eagle, but so far he has always managed to reach the end of his journey, although sometimes overdue, and occasionally very much battered up. He has fallen down precipices, got mixed up in avalanches, and has been starved and frost-bitten.



"Ping-Pong."

Spring.

Dame Nature, too, is cleaning house,
For in each cool retreat
She puts her verdant carpet down—
The one that can't be beat.—"Judge."

"You," sighed the rejected lover, "would find your name written in imperishable characters in my heart could you but look." "So?" murmured the fair young thing, who was aware of the fact that the swain had been playing Romeo at the seaside for something like twenty years. "So? Then you must have a heart like a hotel directory by this time."—Baltimore "American."

Mainly About People.

A High Church stranger who was visiting a rural church in England enquired: "Have you matins in this church?" "Oh, no, sir," replied the rustic verger, "but we have oilcloth right up to the chancel."

An Argyllshire elder was asked how the kirk progressed in his locality. "Ah, weel," said he, "we had four hundred members. Then we had a diveesion and there were only twa hundred left; then a disruption and only ten left. Then we had a heresy trial; and now there's only me and ma brither Duncan left, and I ha' grave doots o' Duncan's orthodoxy."

The great Mendelssohn was once compelled to accept the office of bookkeeper with a banker who was a very ignorant man. A few days after the banker said to Mendelssohn: "Do you think God works things wisely? You He made to be a bookkeeper, and me a rich banker." "Just notice the wisdom of God," promptly replied Mendelssohn. "If He had made me the banker, do you think I would engage you for a bookkeeper?"

The story is told that President Roosevelt was once traveling in Idaho, and passed a bookstore in the window of which was a copy of his "Winning of the West." Going into the bookstore he enquired, "Who is this author Roosevelt?" "Oh," said the bookseller, "he's a ranch-driver." "And what do you think of his book?" asked the President. "Well," said the dealer, slowly and deliberately, "I've always thought I'd like to meet the author and tell him that if he had stuck to running a ranch and give up writing books he'd have made a powerful more of a success at his trade."

The chief of the Leslies is said to have prayed before a battle: "Lord, be on our side! An' gin ye canna be on our side, aye lay low a bit, an' ye'll see thae carles get a hidin' that must please ye." An old Covenanter, who ruled his household with a rod of iron, is said to have prayed in all sincerity at family worship: "O Lord, hae a care o' Rab, for he is on the great deep, an' Thou holdest it in the hollow o' Thy hand. An' hae a care o' Jamie, for he has gone to fight the enemies o' his country, an' the outcome o' the battle is wi' Thee. But ye needna fash Yersel' wi' wee Wully, for I hae him here, an' I am cawpable o' lookin' after him myseel'."

Lord Kelvin, the great British scientist, now in this country, is much given to preoccupation. It is said his students were wont to accompany the endless repetition of the definition of an ideal magnet, "an infinitely long, infinitely thin, uniform, and uniformly and longitudinally magnetized bar," by a stately tramp of feet. At the conclusion of this staggering performance, Professor Thomson, as he then was, would invariably shout, "Silence." One day the boys put it up to keep absolutely still, but the cry of "Silence" came at the end just the same. It is told of him, too, that he once went sound asleep presiding at a banquet. It was the penalty of overwork.

Opie Read, the Southern novelist, who lives in Chicago, has accepted the nomination for alderman from a Republican convention in a Republican ward. Until the last Presidential campaign Mr. Read had always affiliated with the Democracy. During the campaign of 1900, however, he made speeches in the West in behalf of the sound-money ticket. When his bill of expenses went to Mr. Hanna the chairman noticed that Mr. Read's expenses in Denver were much larger than at any other place. Mr. Hanna called Mr. Read's attention to this. "I reckon as much," Mr. Read replied, "but did you ever play poker in that pesky town?" Mr. Hanna made no answer, but put an "O. K." on the account.

Clerk Newton of the Parker House, Boston, is telling a good story at his own expense. When a small boy on the farm his folks often sent him to the neighbors to buy a dozen eggs when their hens failed to lay enough. He noticed that the old farmer always held each egg before a lighted candle and examined it carefully. In his innocence of Yankee shrewdness, Newton supposed that this was prompted more by honesty and intention to detect whether the eggs were bad or not. One day, however, when he counted his eggs, according to custom, there were only eleven in the basket. With a determination not to be cheated, the lad trudged proudly back to the house, and quickly made known his discovery. "Oh," said the old farmer, "that's all right, my boy; one of them has a double yolk."

Written on the Face.

We write our characters on our faces; yet, though we are quick to read our neighbor's face we are slow to realise that our own is open for him to read. But it is. The story is there, and we are writing it every day of our lives. Not only do smiles and frowns leave traces, but every passion which sways the heart stamps its record upon the face. Even a ride in a street car on a short railway journey gives proof of this. Look around you. Those two strangers opposite you never saw before, yet you know that one is passionate, the other mean, and your heart warms to the little old lady near by. You want no one to assure you she is kind and gentle, while a whole network of wrinkles about the eyes tells you that the old gentleman in the corner loves his joke. Character, indeed, is written plainly on every face. Some speak of tragedy, some of comedy, and not a few give you a distinct warning.

Uneasy Lies, Etc.

An American chiropodist now in Berlin advertises that he "has removed corns from all the crowned heads of Europe."

Missed It.

"I missed one of my pullets last night, Rufus," said the colonel, sternly. "Sho," replied Rufus, evasively, "yo' oughtn't tuh shoot at pullets in de dahk, kunnel."—Ohio "State Journal."

Mr. Bacon—I see by this paper that ice one and one-half inches thick will support a man. Mrs. Bacon—I always said there was an enormous profit in ice, John.—Yonkers "Statesman."

Mainly About People.

Dr. Parr, on meeting Lord Chancellor Erskine, with whom he was friendly, once said: "Erskine, I mean to write your epitaph when you die." "Doctor," answered the great lawyer, "it is almost a temptation to commit suicide."

At a ball in the country a gentleman undertook to introduce a companion to a young but somewhat stout lady, who seemed to be pining for a dance. "No, thanks, old fellow; I don't care to waltz with a cart." A few evenings later the same young lady, who had overheard the conversation, beheld the young man seeking an introduction and asking if he might have the honor, etc. "No, thank you," she replied; "I may be a cart, but I am not a donkey cart."

A rich Irish-American, who frequently visits England and dearly loves a lord, loses no opportunity of talking of his great acquaintances. At a recent dinner party in New York, where there were several Roman Catholics, during a conversation on the subject of fasting, this gentleman said: "It is very strange how little Catholics in the higher ranks mind the fast days. I was dining at the Duke of Norfolk's on a fast day, three weeks ago, and there wasn't a bit of fish at dinner." "I suppose," said another Irishman, "they had eaten it all in the dining-room."

John D. Rockefeller recently told the following story: "I don't question the veracity of that story, but I am going to tell you one that I know to be true. It happened down in Washington. A negro was driving a wagon and in going through a street ran against a funeral. With the superstition of his race he thought it would be bad luck to cross behind the funeral, so he tried to cross ahead of it, but the driver of the hearse whipped up his horse, and the two went neck and neck for a time until finally the darkey sang out: 'Say, dah, pull up youah hoss! Mah boss is in a hurry an' yeah'n isn't!'"

Judge Pennypacker of Philadelphia tells a story which shows the readiness of the Pennsylvania Dutchman to obey those in authority: In 1864 Sheridan, under orders, burned every barn from a valley above Staunton to a certain point below Winchester. A band of angry rebels followed this raid, watching for a chance to pick up any stragglers. Among others who fell into their hands was a little Pennsylvania Dutchman, who quietly turned to his captors and enquired: "Vat you fellows going to do mit me?" The reply came short and sharp: "Hang you." "Vell," he said, meekly, "vatever is de rule." His good-natured reply threw the Confederates into a roar of laughter and saved his life.

One day last autumn Bennet Burleigh, the noted English special war correspondent, was encountered a few miles outside Pretoria by that volcanic rhetorician, General Tucker. "What the —— —— are you doing out here with that —— thing?" asked the general, pointing to a kodak which was slung round his shoulders. "Well, sir," promptly replied Mr. Burleigh, "I was intending to take some photographs; but had I known that I was to have the pleasure of meeting you I should have brought out a phonograph." At this audacity, it is said that even General Tucker's stock of sulphurous adjectives ran low.

Gilbert Parker, to illustrate the gullibility of some Englishmen in the colonies, recently told the following story: "Once in Australia on my way through the bush, with my friend Cabbage Tree Bill, we were accompanied by a burly and intelligent young gentleman from Devonshire, and as we came along we saw along the road, if it might be called a road, a young kangaroo. Bill said: 'Now wait a minute; you will see him take the letters.' The kangaroo was sitting up as if waiting for something, and Bill said, 'He has his pouch and everything ready to carry them,' but as we came along Bill snapped his whip and said, 'Nothing to-day,' and the kangaroo trotted off, the young gentleman believing for a great part of the rest of the journey that the object of the kangaroo's presence was as Bill had said."

John Philip Sousa, the bandmaster, usually wears his uniform at all times and seasons, and prefers that his men do the same. The practice has led to some very amusing experiences. For example, one night Mr. Sousa was standing in a railway station, on the platform, waiting for a train. A belated traveler ran up to him and asked, excitedly, "Has the nine-three train pulled out?" "I really don't know," responded Mr. Sousa. "Well, why don't you know?" shouted the traveler. "What are you standing here for like a stick of wood? Aren't you a conductor?" "Yes," said Mr. Sousa, pleasantly, "I am a conductor." "A nice sort of conductor, indeed!" exclaimed the man. "Well, you see," smilingly responded the musician, "I am not the conductor of a train, but of a brass band."

The Retort Cordial.

Counsel for the defendant (sarcastically)—You're a nice fellow, aren't you? Witness for the plaintiff (cordially)—I am, sir, and if I were not on my oath I'd say the same of you.—"Tit-Bits."

Beggars Can't Be Choosers.

Aunt Amandy—Hain't yew ashamed ter kum around here beggin'? Onnie Way—Well, die ain't a werry 'risterkratic neighborhood, fer a fact, but we mustn't be too pertickler, mum.—Chicago "News."

The Inferior Sex.

First Small Scholar—Please, miss, we've got such a beautiful cat, and she's just had some kittens.

Second ditto—Please, miss, our cat's a beauty, too; but (regretfully) he doesn't lay.—"Punch."

A woman's broken heart mends beautifully if it is attended to at once.—Ex.

"How is this? You have charged me twice the usual price for shaving." "My razor was dull, and it took me twice as long."—New York "Weekly."

Barber—That's strange. You say you have been here before. I don't seem to remember your face. Victim—Probably not. You see, it has all healed up now.—Glasgow "Evening Times."

$3.10 | $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.
LIMITED.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S

BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

New Telephone Directory

The BELL TELEPHONE CO, of Canada, will issue a new subscribers directory for Eastern Ontario, including the Town of Peterborough early in June.

Orders for new connections and changes of firms names should be sent in at once to insure entry in this book.

C. W. STRINGER,
Local Manager

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY
OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression

MAUDE MASSON, Principal.

Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture

CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R-I-P-A-N-S Tabules. For sale by Druggists The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
for Ladies.

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON,

Send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 324 pages, and all the original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 326 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.") This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 328 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE

An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 150 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, contains 357 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printin Co.

Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE

ALES AND PORTER

—OF—

THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips, cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S
ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings Medicine Co
786 YONGE ST., TORONTO

BIG G

CURE YOURSELF!

Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous.

Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles, $2.75. Circular sent on request.

King Edward VII.
Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

HEADQUARTERS FOR

PIG TIN,
LEAD AND ANTIMONY

ENQUIRE FOR PRICES

CANADA METAL CO
William St., Toronto, Ont.

VARICOCELE

I guarantee my Latest Method Treatment to be a permanent and positive cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without cutting, stretching or loss of time. In Varicocele it absorbs the bagging, or wormy condition, equalizes circulation, stops pains in the groins, also all drains, thereby giving the organs their proper nutrition, vitalizes the parts and restores lost powers; in Stricture it absorbs the Stricture tissue, stops smarting sensation, nervousness, weakness, backache, etc., while in all prostatic troubles it is the treatment par excellence. So positive am I that my treatment will cure you, you can

PAY WHEN CURED

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. This should convince you that I have confidence in my Latest Method Treatment, otherwise I could not make you this proposition. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, call or write me.

Each Time You Call You See Me Personally,

Or each time you write it receives my personal attention. The number of years I am established in Detroit, and the cures I accomplished after given up by other doctors, has placed me as the foremost specialist of the country. CONSULTATION FREE. Call or write for blank for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. All medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor, Can. All duty and express charges prepaid. Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., COR. WILCOX ST. DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up...... ......$12,000,000
Reserved Fund...... 7,000,000
Undivided Profits...... 876,531

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO
SAVINGS & LOAN
COMPANY

3½ Per cent interest allowed on deposits from day of deposit to day of withdrawal, repayable at any time.

4 Per cent paid on Debentures, issued for 3 or 5 years.

Money to loan at lowest current rates.
Open every Saturday afternoon.
Office, 437 George Street

W. G. MORROW, Manager
Peterborough, March 14, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT
STRATTON & HALL
BARRISTERS
OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE. Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. Commercial rooms.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 379 Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck R. M. Dennistoun A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 204 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo. A. FRY 204 Park place.

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOSITE roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 18 Toronto street Toronto

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & electricians, new 40 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board of Engineers. Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, publisher St. Louis.

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 381 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No 382 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages! By big wages we mean $8 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 and 95 Broadway, New York.

SOBER AND INTELLIGENT MAN to handle a Burglar Proof Window Sash Lock. E. S. ARNOLD 237 King St. E., Toronto

ACTIVE SOLICITOR WANTED. The war is over. Agents clearing $8.00 to $30.00 daily with "Pictorial History of Our War in South Africa." Highest endorsements. Every body wants it. Contains thrilling history of the brave deeds of our boys in the war, and complete history of the war and the country. 500 pages 8x10. Only $1.50. Freight and duty paid. Outfit free. COLONIAL PUBLISHING Co., Dept. 2, Chicago.

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady; either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

COUNTY PARLIAMENT.

The June Session of the County Council now On.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS

Many Matters of Interest to the to the County Referreu to

Must Have Improved Railway Cattle-guards —The Settlement of the Back Townships

The June Session of the County Council of the County of Peterboro opened at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The following members were in attendance. Mr. T. G. Eastland, Warden; J. B. Pearce, Dr. Jeffs, E. A. Peck, Wm. Anderson, Robt. Shaw, Paul Costello, G. W. Fitzgerald, W. H. Casement, and Richard Crowe.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

The Warden, Mr. T. G. Eastland, then presented the following address: To the members of the County Council of the County of Peterborough:

Gentlemen, — It affords me great pleasure to again meet you in this assembly for the transaction of county business. This year is of special interest to us as the year in which our present sovereign, King Edward VII, will be crowned. On such an occasion the members of the County Council of the County of Peterborough no doubt have been looking forward to this opportunity of expressing their united devotion on behalf of the rate payers of this county to his person and his crown. It will be fitting therefore for us to adopt means to carry out our wish, and I would suggest that an address expressive of our sentiments be drawn up and forwarded to His Majesty.

This year is also of special interest to us as being the year in which peace has been declared in South Africa, where so many of Canada's sons have bled and died, in defence of the mother country, thus more closely binding together the interests of Canada and the Empire.

At the last regular meeting a grant of $25 was made to each of the bona fide residents of this county who had volunteered for service and had been accepted on the 3rd Canadian contingent in South Africa, but as the contingent had sailed before the grant was made we did not know where to send the money, so I decided to wait until something definite was known of their proper addresses. A short time ago I received a letter signed by the representatives of the county on the third contingent requesting me to have the money paid to their relatives at home. This letter has been placed in the finance box and will come before that committee.

With reference to the inefficient state of cattle guards on railway lines passing through the county, you will remember that you gave me power at the January session to appoint a delegation to accompany any general deputation that might go to Ottawa to take action in this matter, to compel the railway companies to place more suitable cattle guards on their railway lines, than those in use at the present time.

I may say that since that time this council has not received any communication on the subject.

With reference to such deputation I would therefore suggest that you forward a copy of your resolution passed in January to other counties interested with a view of having such deputation as influencial as possible with the hope of having the injustice to the farmers regarding our railway lines removed.

The ice and spring freshets passed away without doing any serious damage to any of the county bridges, the expenditure on which are but of a slight nature and will be referred to fully in the County Engineer's report.

My attention has been drawn to the fact that there is likely to be some heavy traffic over the Burleigh Bridge. The floor of this bridge is not in a fit condition for such. I would suggest that you have it refloored with cedar.

I would draw your attention to the fact that there is a large quantity of vacant Government lands suitable for settlement and cultivation in the northern townships of this county. I would therefore suggest that you co-operate with the municipal council in these townships to bring the matter before the public.

The auditor's report and the estimates for the year will be laid before you, and I feel assured that they will receive as careful consideration from you as their importance demands.

T. G. EASTLAND,
Warden.

Upon motion of Councillor Pearce seconded by Councillor Jeffs, the Warden's address was received and referred to a committee of the whole Council.

The County Council will receive a deputation from the local municipalities Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in reference to the equalized assessment of the county.

Council then adjourned to go into committee and to meet again this morning.

THE LATE MRS. CAREY

Death of Mr. J. W. Carey's Mother in Owen Sound

The Owen Sound Sun contains the following concerning the death of Mrs. Joseph Carey, mother of Mr. J. W. Carey of town.

Mrs. Mary Carey, mother of Mrs. J. J. Merrill and Mr. Jos. Carey, passed away at the residence of her son-in-law on Wednesday, aged 82 years, surviving her husband about nine years. She was a native of Sligo, Ireland, where she was married in 1847 and came to Barrie two years later. Deceased was an exemplary woman and a member of the Methodist church for 60 years. The family who survive are Johnston and William in Toronto, J. W. in Peterborough, Robert in Chicago, Benjamin, in Moose Jaw, Joseph in town, Mrs. Dolman at Campbellford, Mrs. Tuceoll in San-francisco and Mrs. J. J. Merrill, town. Mrs. Dolman, Mrs. Tuceoll, Benjamin and Robert were unable to attend the funeral, which took place yesterday afternoon. The pall-bearers were the sons present, a grandson and son-in-law.

A PRETTY CATHEDRAL WEDDING

Nuptials of Mr. Patrick Dorris and Miss Mary Conroy

St Peter's Cathedral, yesterday morning was the scene of a very interesting wedding, when Miss Mary Conroy, daughter of Mr. David Conroy, of Ashburnham, was united in marriage to Mr. Patrick Doris, foreman of the Dickson Company, Peterborough.

Rev. Father McColl performed the solemn and impressive marriage ceremony in the presence of a great many of the numerous friends of the young couple, who filled the Cathedral to the doors.

White silk trimmed with silk applique formed the becoming gown of the bride, who carried a lovely boquet of white roses. Miss Lilian Primeau performed the duties of bridesmaid, suitably attired in muslinde soil and carrying pink roses.

Mr. David Conroy, jr., brother of the bride, ably supported the groom. The ceremony concluded, the wedding party drove to the residence of the bride's father, Ashburnham, which was handsomely decorated for the occasion, and where a sumptuous wedding dejeuner was partaken of by the guests.

Both of the young people are prominent in the social circles of Peterborough, where a wide circle of friends wish them many years of prosperity and happiness. The bride received many valuable presents, which testify to the esteem in which she is held, and the groom also was kindly remembered by his fellow employees of the Dickson Company, who presented him with a very handsome clock as a token of their high regard for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Doris will reside on Brown Street, Ashburnham. The Times unites in wishing them many years of prosperity and happiness.

MISS M'COLLUM'S RECITAL

A Pretty and Unique Entertainment, Given in St. John's School Room

The recital given by the elocution pupils of Miss Alma Frances McCollum, in St. John's spacious school room last evening surpassed the expectations of the most sanguine.

A charming fantasy was presented entitled "Pretty Miss spring" which displayed the superior and careful training and study of those who took part.

Peterborough should feel proud to possess a genius so versatile as Miss McCollum and undoubtedly all who have the pleasure of her acquaintance rejoice at the triumph she achieved last evening. Of the fantasy presented it may be said it was a gem. The pure and sweet poetry which is the production of Miss McCollum's own pen, was most expressively given, the costumes being both dainty and graceful and fully carrying out the idea of the author. The staging was excellent and together with the artistic costumes and flower garlands, of the young participants made an ideal picture of a fairy springtime that will not soon fade from the minds of those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Miss Kathleen Wallis assisted very materially to the evening's enjoyment by her expressive rendition of "Traumerei" on the violin. Miss Wallis is possessed of very fine genius and interpretation, quite remarkable in one so young.

Miss Mabel Pringle, who although quite small has an established reputation, gave several of her inimitable recitations and Miss Gertrude McClellan's graceful figure was seen to perfection in "The minuet" with violin accompaniment. The pantomine "Lead Kindly Light" by Miss Hazel Pentland was thoroughly appreciated and evoked much enthusiasm. Miss Rush contributed a solo in her usual pleasing manner and the recitations of Misses Gladys Pentland and Vera White displayed marked talent and received much applause. The different flower-fairies composing the fantasy were represented by Misses Lota Ostrom, Gertrude McClellan, Kathleen Wallis, Hazel Pentland, Vera White, Lilian Dean, Helen Stone, Robena Cumming Alice Clegg, Gladys Pentland and Mabel Pringle.

The closing number of laughable comediet's entitled "Six Cups of Chocolate" was given by Misses Rush, Burritt, Dean, Bradd, Mills and Wilson and showed marked histrionic ability on the part of these young ladies. The different accompaniments of the evening were played by Mrs. J. Wallis. The piano used for the occasion being a Stanley of ordinary drawing-room size and full even tone.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit $10 for any case that these pills do not help

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

From a trot he broke into a wild gallop. Down came the lash once more, making him rear, and, frightened and angry, I called to the driver, peremptorily forbidding him to use the whip again.

By this time the four-wheeler had turned another corner, and was out of sight. But my man went on as if he were sure of the direction, and I could only hope that he had reason for his certainty.

We also flashed round the corner, almost upsetting against a lamp-post, as one of the wheels ran on to the kerbstone. I strained my eyes through the darkness, and my heart sank as I found that the four-wheeled cab was still nowhere to be seen.

Presently we came out into a broad road. Here there were a number of vehicles, and I strove to peer into the windows of each as we tore past it, the frightened horse still plunging and throwing up his heels.

"None of these is the right one," I sharply informed my driver. "Perhaps it went to the left."

He took this as a command, and turned the horse suddenly, only just escaping another accident.

I began to see that something was very wrong. From the first the cabman's voice had been odd, and now his manner was equally strange. He drove wildly, apparently no longer with any method. We left the broad thoroughfare, and threaded our way into narrow streets once more, bringing up at last in a mews. I had hoped against hope that, from his high perch the driver could see more than I, and that he still kept the quarry in view.

But the mews was deserted, and just as the fellow was about to bring the whip down on the horse's back again —as if the animal were to blame for his failure—I raised the trap.

"I told you not to whip him," I exclaimed. "You have lost the cab we were following a long time ago, and you are driving at random——"

"Look 'ere, miss, 'oo's doin' this, you or me?" grunted the husky voice. "If you don't like the way I drive, you can pay me my fare and let me go. That's what would suit me best. I ain't no night cabman, I ain't. I want to get to my bed some time afore mornin'."

"Stop the cab and let me get out," I said. And I am afraid that my voice trembled a little, for I was very near to tears.

The cab drew up so abruptly that the horse stumbled, and before he could recover himself I jumped out of the vehicle on to the narrow pavement.

Fortunately I had my mother's purse in the pocket of my long evening cloak. It contained a roll of notes, several sovereigns and some silver as well. Fumbling in one of its compartments I extracted two half-crowns and held them up to the man, who took the crowns but broke into invective, violently demanding more.

Frightened at the strange oaths I well-nigh flung another florin into his extended hand, and then, his voluble complaints still following me, I turned and fairly ran.

I hurried out of the mews by the way I had been driven in, and was trying to recall the direction in which I ought next to proceed when I heard a faint patter of running footfalls behind me, then suddenly felt a violent blow on my right arm.

With my breath coming thick and fast I turned my head over my shoulder, hardly knowing what I expected to see, but with a vague impression that the cabman might have jumped from his seat and pursued me to take by force the extra payment he had demanded.

What I did see was the hideous, sodden face and form of a wretch in rags, a fluttering scarecrow of the night, who had caught a glimpse of the purse as I passed his dark lurking-place and meant to have it.

The blow on my arm had been intended to send the purse flying from my hand. When the attempt failed one lean, black claw caught my wrist while another seized the purse and tried to wrench it out of my fingers.

"Le' go—le' go, I sye, or I'll knife yer!" the thief hissed, panting in the struggle. For I fought with him, and would not loosen my hold on the purse. I was afraid, and the contact with so foul a creature sickened me.

While the thief held me with one hand, trying to pull the purse away with the other, he could not carry out his threat of using the knife, and I had the advantage, for my left hand was free.

In the distance I could see the lights of a cab coming down the street, and I doubted not that the thief saw them too. My object was to resist till the vehicle drew near; his, to snatch the purse and dart away before that could happen. Until this moment it had somehow not occurred to me to scream. But now I shrieked loudly the one word "Help!" and with my free hand I struck the man with all my force across his evil, bloated face.

The attack was unexpected, and it startled him.

His grasp on my wrist loosened, and, writhing myself free, I darted from him, running towards the approaching cab.

I heard him utter an oath. I knew that he pursued, furious at losing the prize so nearly his. I felt his breath on my cheek, and a hand twisting the fluffy collar of my cloak till it choked back the cry I tried to give. The lamps of the cab that was coming dazzled and ran together into one before my eyes. I thought the hansom stopped; but I was not sure—I was sure of nothing.

Wildly I threw the purse from me as far as I could in the direction of the cab. Had I not done that I could not have saved it this time, for the thief was shaking me by the collar, and my breath and presence of mind were both going.

Suddenly I was flung forward. I could not resist, and my one clear thought was that I should fall heavily upon my face on the stones. My head swam: for an instant I must have been half-unconscious. Then a voice brought me back to a knowledge of Curiosities of Book Sales.

Commenting on the phenomenal sale of some recent novels, a correspondent of the "Book Buyer" writes interestingly of notable books that years ago were popular, but since have become practically unknown. He says:

There was once a very popular preacher who wrote many books, and for every one there was a large demand on the day of publication. But most of them passed out of print while he was still living, and I doubt if a single one of them is now kept in stock by any bookstore. Not many years ago appeared a book which the laboring classes and the tenement-house population bought so eagerly as to run the sale into the hundreds of thousands, because they thought it showed how an equal distribution of all property might be brought about. Now it appears to be dead. Helper's "Impending Crisis" attained a sale of 140,000 copies, forty years ago, which was as great an achievement as half a million would be to-day. That was because of its bearing on burning political questions and the fact that it was systematically attacked in Congress. Now you can occasionally find a stray copy of it in a second-hand shop. Tourgee's "Fool's Errand," twenty years later, reached about the same circulation. For purposes of comparison, this and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" would seem to be closely analogous. But while the "Fool's Errand" has almost, if not quite, gone out of circulation, Mrs. Stowe's great novel, thirty years older, still sells largely in several editions, and at many libraries is called for more frequently than any other book. Mrs. Stephens' "Fashion and Famine" was the best selling novel of its day, and three translations of it were published in France. But to-day it is difficult to find a copy of it anywhere except in the lumber-room of a public library. Another example may be seen in the sudden popularity and subsequent deadness of "Robert Elsmere," the author of which is still writing successful books. Were it not that it might seem like telling tales out of school, something could be said of certain books that have begun life with a phenomenal sale, which has stopped suddenly and unaccountably, as if at some mysterious signal.

For the reverse of the picture, the most notable example is afforded by "Ben Hur." This book had no sale worth mentioning for a year after its publication, and was considered dead. Now it is said to have attained a circulation surpassing that of any other American novel, with the single exception of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Someone might prepare a curious and entertaining article on three classes of books in light literature: 1. Those that have had an immediate large sale, and have then gone to oblivion. 2. Those that have had no sale at first, but afterward have met with large success. 3. Those that have been popular at the start and never lost their popularity. The first class would be the largest. Probably the second class would be the smallest. Two that would shine in the third are the "Autocrat at the Breakfast Table" and "Reveries of a Bachelor."

The Making of Anagrams.

Apropos the renewal of the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy, an article by William Sheppard in the "Era" on the making of anagrams is enlightening. "A correspondent has asked me," says Mr. Sheppard, "to furnish him with some good anagrams on the names of famous people. He further informs me that he has spent a good deal of time trying to make an acceptable anagram on the United States, and has failed to do so. With reference to this failure, I would remind him that he must not be discouraged. The task he has attempted is an enormous one. United States has just a dozen letters. Now, mathematicians will tell him that a dozen letters will admit of seven thousand and twenty-nine millions (7,029,000,000) of possible transpositions. Old Camden has vividly described the vexation of soul undergone by anagrammatists when oft-repeated effort, with an oft-repeated approximation to success, have finally resulted in loss of time and labor: 'Some have been seen,' he says, 'to bite their pens, scratch their heads, bend their brows, bite their lips, beat their board, their paper, when they were fair for somewhat and caught nothing herein.' Again, let him comfort himself by the reflection that no one has yet succeeded in making a good English anagram on United States. Anagrammatists have been forced to fall back upon the more fluent and manageable Latin. It has been discovered that the letters forming United States may be transposed into the following Latin words:

In te deus stat. "God stands in thee."

Inde tutus stat. "Hence thou standest safely."

Dentatus est. "He has teeth," the "he" evidently referring to Uncle Sam.

Desiste, nutat! "Hands off, he shakes!" a sentiment which may have been applicable in 1861, when it was made, but is now, thank Heaven, without meaning or point.

Siste, nudat te. "Stop, he strips thee," which might be revived to-day by the Anti-Imperialists in their warnings to our new subjects in Cuba and the Philippines.

A te desistunt. "They keep off from thee," which is exactly the attitude which the anti's wish the United States to assume towards Cuba and the Philippines.

In Desperation.

The European king sighed and stirred uneasily. "My subjects," he exclaimed, "are getting so enlightened, so imbued with the ideas of democracy, that they no longer fawn upon me, toady to me. There's only one thing for me to do to relieve this monotony. I must visit America."—"Town Topics."

A Phenomenon of Sleep.

He had come on her dozing in a hammock, and when she woke up she accused him of stealing a kiss. "Well," he said, "I will admit that the temptation was too strong to be resisted. I did steal one little kiss." "One!" she exclaimed, indignantly; "I counted eight before I woke up."—"Household Words."

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will offer suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at 40c
Suspenders 15c
Overalls, with bib, at 40c
Smocks, at......................60c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailor
One door south of Montreal Bank.

Canvasser
—WANTED—
to sell PRINTERS' INK—a journal for advertisers—published weekly at five dollars a year. It teaches the science and practice of Advertising and is highly esteemed by the most successful advertisers in this country and Great Britain. Liberal commission allowed. Address PRINTERS INK, 10 Spruce St., New York

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
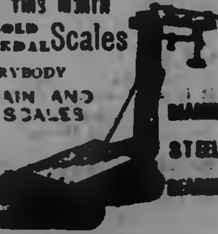
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.



SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH
Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales
FOR EVERYBODY
COAL, GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES
GET OUR PRICES
BEARING STEEL BEARING
C. WILSON & SON,
81 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS. Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewriter Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

READ THIS.

READ THIS. $700.00 in Bank will yield you $21.00 per year, we can give you better security and a return of over $71.00 per year for same money.

See cards in our office window for other profitable investments.

Choice building Lots, Houses and Lots, Gardens and farms for sale.

T. HURLEY & CO.
Near Post Office
Phone, 376. Ground Floor.

50 Doses for 25c

IF THEY CURE YOU.

50 Doses for Nothing

IF THEY DO NOT CURE YOU

These are the terms upon which we will mail you a full size box of either

Dr. Dean's Nerve & Blood Builder

Dr. Dean's Kidney Pills

We know you never tried the equal of these wonderful remedies and that's why we can offer to send back your money if you buy them and are not perfectly satisfied.

Send 25c. in stamps and get a box by return mail.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

CORPORATION OFFICERS.

F. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T. A. S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane,

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 18 1902

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is 'phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. TIMES.]

—A false alarm gave the Fire Brigade a run last night.

—St Paul's choir will pic-nic at Idyl Wild to-morrow, the steamer leaving the wharf at 9.30 a.m.

—Mr. Squire, of Norwood, Financial Agent for Dr. Ford, the Conservative Candidate for East Peterborough, was in town yesterday settling up election bills.

—The possibilities of the price of coal being considerably higher in Peterborough this fall are very good. The strike will fall heavy on the consumers.

—The summer resorts are gradually filling up. The indications are that there will be a big invasion of our cousins over the border this season.

—The Fire Brigade and Band will escort to Orillia to-morrow. During the absence of the fire fighters from town, all ex-members of the Brigade are requested to hold themselves in readiness to respond in case of fire.

—Nine maskilonge was the result of the fishing done by the guests of Chemong Park Hotel on Monday last. They were all beauties, and several of this weighing in the neighborhood of twenty pounds. Fishing never was better than it is at present in Chemong Lake.

—As Warden Eastland and Mr. Wm. Galien passed through Burleigh on their way to town on Monday, they saw 15 maskilonge lying on the rocks at Burleigh Falls, being the morning's catch of a party of Americans who are staying at the hotel.

—Mr. Burbidge, circulation manager of The Times, went to Lakefield last night, and will make a house to house canvass of the village for subscribers for this paper. We ask our Lakefield friends to give in all the assistance they can.

—Lt.-Col. Edwards received word yesterday that the annual inspection of the 57th Regiment will take place in Belleville on June 26th. This arrangement will be most satisfactory to all concerned. The Regiment had a drill last night

—The G.T.R. have reduced the fare from Toronto to Cobourg and return on Saturdays to $1.45, tickets good until the following Monday. It looks as if there was a chance for Peterborough to secure a cheap rate to town from the surrounding villages on Saturdays. The Board of Trade should have another try.

—A special advertising car of the great Forepaugh circus arrived yesterday, and a party of 25 bill posters, headed by Mr. Walter Stocker, were at work during the day decorating the fences of the town with circus posters. The high winds made the work of putting up the mammoth paper no easy task.

—Mr. Wm. Foster ex-reeve of Uxbridge, and Mr. R. R. Anderson, the well known contractor of the same town, were in the City yesterday on business in connection with the great re-union of the "Old Boys" of Uxbridge to be held on the 1st and 2nd of July 1902. The genial representative of the "Old Boys" expressed themselves as highly pleased with their visit to the "Plate Glass City" and before leaving for home expressed themselves as greatly delighted with their trip and decided that the "Old Town on the Otonabee River" could hold her own with the best in Ontario. Uxbridge and her representatives will always be welcome visitors to Peterborough.

—At the police court yesterday Mr. Giroux was the complainant in an assault case. "Max" says that Lorenzo Desautel met him in the south end of the town on Sunday and knocked off a silk tile which he was wearing. They also finished out the trouble later in the evening. The Magistrate held that an assault had been committed, and Desautel was fined $2 and costs.

—Hon. J. R. Stratton, President of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company, has written a letter to Mr. M. Riley, on his retirment from the Company's employ, expressing his appreciation and fidelity during his long term as superintendent, and expressing the hope that he will return from his trip abroad greatly improved in health.

—Mrs. J. Welsh, who resides near the corner of Downey and Simcoe streets, met with a painful accident one evening last week. She had been visiting a neighbor's and when leaving, she slipped upon a portion of a verandah under course of construction, and suffered a fall, in which she fractured her right arm near the wrist, besides sustaining several painful cuts and bruises. Medical aid was summoned, and she is now doing as well as can be expected.

Strawberry Festival

The Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' Church will give a Strawberry festival on the lawn of Mr. D. J. Lundy, Corner of Aylmer & Dalhousie streets to-morrow (Thursday) evening. The band will be in attendance. Come! Only 10 cents.

A Big Rush

Mr. George Brown, of the Chemong Park Hotel, was in town yesterday, and reports business booming at that popular summer resort. Already a large number of guests have arrived from Rochester and other points, and applications have been received for accomodation sufficient to ensure a "full house" by July 1st.

Election Matters

The election recounts have only brought disappointment all around—one party expecting an increase and the other a decrease. The Government majority stands still at three, and Premier Ross is off to the coronation on the strength of it. So far as West Peterborough is concerned there is, we are pleased to say, a growing feeling against protesting the election of Mr. Stratton, whose re-election should he be unseated, would be assured with a greatly increased majority.

A Big Excursion

Yesterday a large excursion party, under the auspices of the East York Farmers' Institute, Bonar Camp Sons of Scotland, Court Agincourt I.O.F., arrived in town per Grand Trunk and took the steamer City of Peterborough to Highland Park, twelve miles down the river, where a most enjoyable day was spent. The excursionists were delighted with the outing, and said that the route was a revelation to them.

An Old Peterboro Boy Honored

Mr. John G. Hall, brother of Mr. Kelsey Hall, town arrived from Montreal, and will spend a few days with relatives before leaving for Chicago. In connection with his departure from Montreal, the Gazette says; "Mr. John G. Hall, who has just resigned his position with the Grant-Hamilton Oil Co., as cashier, to go to Chicago, where he has accepted a position with a big oil concern, was presented last night at the Oxford cafe with a case of silver-mounted pipes by the travellers and members of the Montreal branch of the company. Mr. J. D. Johnston manager of the Montreal branch made the presentation. Mr. Hall will leave this evening for Chicago."

SECRETLY AND QUIETLY

Coffee Slowly and Steadily Poisons Some Persons

There is no doubt that coffee secretly and quietly causes an immense amount of misery to the human race, but in the majority of cases the person does not suspect the cause of the trouble.

A Virginia lady had an interesting experience with coffee poison. She says, "For five years I was troubled with indigestion, weak stomach and palpitation of the heart so bad that at times I would fall and would have to be carried into the house. Finally I began to have spasms and suffered untold misery. I tried all kinds of patent medicines and different doctors only to get temporary relief.

I finally gave up all hope of getting well. My stomach was in such condition that everything but stale bread would throw me into spasms. I nearly starved myself, but never suspected that coffee was the cause of all the trouble, nor did I have any idea of what the cause was.

One day Father told me he had been reading how Postum Food Coffee helped so many people who were sick from coffee drinking and urged me to leave off coffee and try Postum. I said, "Oh Father, I cannot try it and do not believe it would do me any good, but he persuaded me to try a package.

The first making tasted so flat that it made me half sick, but I determined to give it a fair trial so I read the directions carefully and found that it must be boiled at least fifteen minutes. Well I boiled some 25 minutes then added some good cream and I tell you it was delicious. I like it better than the ordinary coffee and of course, stuck to it.

Well I have been using it since the 15th of July now, quite two months I have gained about 25 pounds. I gained six pounds in 13 weeks and can eat anything I want and all that I want. My stomach never hurts me. I have gained strength until now I can do my own work and go to church every Sunday.

People say, 'You are looking so well what kind of medicine are you taking'? I tell them I have quit all kinds of medicine and also coffee and am only using Postum Food Coffee.

You may be sure I will recommend it and will guarantee a cure where the person will boil it long enough and drink enough of it. I would do without a meal for the sake of one cup of Postum.

I could tell a lot more but space will not permit. You are at liberty to print this letter and my name also for the benefit of others." Mrs. A. T. Brown, Central Station, W. Va.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature either by phone or in writing.—Ed. TIMES.]

—Mr. Wallace Murphy, of the Barber & Ellis Co., Toronto, was in town yesterday.

—Mr. F. M. Vanderwater has gone East on a business trip for Thos Barrie Wholesale Furrier, Peterborough.

—Mr. E. R. Anderson and Mr. Wm. Foster, ex-mayor of Uxbridge, were in town yesterday with the excursionists.

—Mr. J. S. Knapman was very much in evidence yesterday among the visitors from Uxbridge.

—Mr. Frank Miller, press agent of the great and only Forepaugh show, was in town yesterday and gave the Times a call.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Whiten will leave this morning for Orillia. Mr. Whiten will return in a couple of days, and Mrs. Whiten will spend a month with friends in Orillia and Collingwood.

—Mrs. J. H. McClellan, who has been spending several weeks in Hamilton, is now in Lindsay, where she will remain for a week, the guest of Mrs. Dr. McAlpine.

—Hon. Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, Ottawa, is booked to arrive in town to-morrow. While here he will be shown over the town, and the proposed improvements in the river laid before him. In the afternoon he will drive out to the Douro pic-nic.

—Mr. J. Miller Kelly, President of the Common Council of Rochester, with Mrs. Kelly and their daughter, Miss Mabel, passed through town on their way to Chemong Park Hotel, where they will remain for the hot months. They were accompanied by Mr. Mathias Kondolf, another of Rochester's prominent citizens, his wife and young son. This is Mr. Kondolf's eighth season at Chemong Park Hotel.

The Penalty of a Fast Life.

Is paid for by an irritable condition of body and mind, by exhausted energy poor digestion, unstrung nerves and broken sleep. If you must and will live the killing pace, better keep in mind the sustaining powers of Ferrozone, a wonderful tonic and reconstructor. Ferrozone is a blood maker, a nerve strengthener, a heart and brain invigorator. It creates appetite insures perfect digestion and undisturbed sleep, restores the vitality and strength lost by excessive living, very quickly. Ferrozone will do you inestimable good, try it. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at Druggists or Ormond & Walsh.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Headache.

UNION BANK OF CANADA

A Splendid Report Submitted at the 37th Annual Meeting

We heartily congratulate the General Manager, officers and shareholders of the Union Bank of Canada on the result of the year's operations, as shown by the financial statement submitted at the thirty-seventh annual general meeting of shareholders, held at the head office of that institution in Quebec, on Saturday last, June 11th

Quoting from this report itself: "The year has been a prosperous one, and the profitable character of the business now well secured has justified the directors in the payment of an increased dividend for the past six months of the year, being at the rate of seven per cent per annum, as compared with six per cent per annum in the past." The reserve fund has also been increased from $550,000 to $650,000, or 32 1-2 per cent on the capital

The directors were authorized to increase the capital stock of the bank from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. The first lot of this stock, as explained by the President, would be alloted to the shareholders at a premium of 25 per cent, and would not exceed $250,000.

The above tells its own story, and will be gratifying reading for the many friends and patrons of the bank throughout Eastern Ontario, who properly regard the Union Bank as one of the foremost financial institutions of the country.

INTERESTING WAGES CASE

Mary Eleanor Lane, Wife of Albert F. Lane the Defendant

The Times has been requested to publish the particulars of the action at law, brought by Sims against Lane, and tried at the last sitting of the County Court. It is an interesting case.

The plaintiff was Mr. A. E. Sims, a baker of Peterborough and the defendant was Mary Eleanor Lane, wife of Albert F. Lane, trading under the style and name of Lane & Co. Action was taken to recover $150 damages for breach of contract, and $40.25 wages, alleged to be owing plaintiff by defendant, who had, according to statement of claim, agreed to employ plaintiff at a salary of $12 per week for twelve months from July 1901, but who, it is alleged, wrongfully, and without just cause, discharged plaintiff in January. Defendant claims that plaintiff was not discharged as alleged, and that after said alleged contract plaintiff wilfully misconducted himself.

Judgment was against Mary E. Lane for $175 and costs, which will probably be $50 more.

POTENT REASONS

How Some Merchants Succeed where Others Fail

Statement by One who Knows

Mr. Frank Miller, one of the Chief agents of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Shows, was in town yesterday, and speaking on the subject of advertising he stated his belief that the chief, if not the only reason that the Forepaugh-Sells Bros. Shows were the biggest shows in the country, was the fact that they were the biggest advertisers of any of the shows; that the desire of the management to reach all classes of persons by the use of form and color in their advertising caused them to use the bill boards largely, but they had long recognized the fact that the newspapers were the source of their most profitable advertising by all odds. His personal observations extending throughout the entire country convinced him of the absolute accuracy of the rule for determining the successful merchants of any city as laid down above.

Continuing he said: "It has been learned by a system of careful investigation carried on for several years by James A. Bailey, one of the owners of our shows that for every dollar spent with their shows by people who come into town to see them, three dollars are spent by the same people with the merchants of the town—the term merchants to include everybody who has anything to sell from a suit of clothes to a meal. It is also known to a them, beyond the possibility of a doubt, that the merchants of the town who get the bulk of this money are those whose names are most prominent in the advertising columns of the newspapers."

MUSICIANS ORGANIZE

A Branch of the American Federation Located Here

A Peterborough Branch of the American Federation of Musicians has been organized with a membership of forty. The local branch will be known as No. 191, and the following officers were elected:

Pres.—Mr. Jos. Crowe.
Vice-Pres.—Mr. Robinson.
Secretary.—Mr. J. A. Harper.
Treasurer.—Mr. Thos Bysch.

Executive Committee, —Messrs. Ed. Cronk, W. Hughes, R. Gliddon and J. Davis.

Delegates to Trades and Labour Council—Mr. R. Gliddon and the President and Secretary.

Off to Camp

The 3rd Dragoons left yesterday morning for their annual camp at Kingston, where they will remain 12 days. "C" Squadron from town entrained at Peterborough at 8.30 o'clock, and "B" Squadron was picked up at Millbrook, "A" Squadron from Colborne will join the regiment at that place and the Prince Edward County Squadron will be taken on at Trenton. The regiment is in command of Lieut.-Col. David Sutton, with Major D. W. Johnston acting as Adjutant and Paymaster. The other staff officers are Surgeon-Major Young, Quarter-Master J. W. Garvin. Vet.-Lieut. B. R. Poole is not out with the regiment this year and his duties are being performed by Vet.-Surgeon Deyell of Millbrook. The local squadron is in command of Capt. W. H. Bradburn with his Lieut. George Hall.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies D[illegible]a Oxfords, reg. $1.25,$1.50, for $1.00 | Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75 for ..$1.25
M[illegible] Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25 | Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00, for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS ! STRAW HATS !

Plain Straw Hat.............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c | Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c,$1.00 and $1.25
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00 | Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

Coronation !

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S, HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CORONATION DAY

JUNE 26TH,

DOMINION DAY

JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

GOOD GOING JUNE 25th AND 26th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also GOOD GOING JUNE 30th AND JULY 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

GOOD GOING JUNE 24th to JULY 1st, inclusive, valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26 | DOMINION DAY JULY 1

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3.

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y. Black Rock, N.Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N.Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

233 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 180, 195 and 215, day or night.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborou ,Ont

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

—AND—

MALTING CO. Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.

Try Them.

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

L. 28 NO. 143 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO THURSDAY JUNE 19 1902 PRICE TWO CENTS

ERMANY AND BRITAIN ARE DEADLY ENEMIES

e Hatred of the Two Nations Steadily Growing

e Emperor's Friendship Cannot Stem the Current eat Britain Warned of the War That May Soon Come ecial to The Times.

London, June 19.—Fresh attention been attracted to the relations ween Great Britain and Germany the publication in the National Re- ew of two articles, both strongly tile to the Teuton. One of these ticles, by Sir Rowland Blennerhas- , is a general indictment of the atment of Great Britain and r interests by the German people nd Government. The other article hich is anonymous, and is signed, gnotus," is by a well known naval riter. In this article Ignotus points t the danger of allowing a first te German squadron to anchor, ob- rve and even survey the points on e western coast of Ireland at a e when no British fleet of equal rength is in the neighborhood. These rticles, though not nominally pub- shed until June 1, have already ached the German Embassy, and, have reason to believe, arouse deep terest in high quarters. I refer to e articles of Sir Rowland Blenner- asset and Ignotus because they indi- te a growing state of feeling ritain, and, perhaps after all, the al enemy is not the Dual Alli- ce of France and Russia, but is the ntral Continental Power, governed y the Kaiser.

Rightly or wrongly, antipathy to e German is growing in this coun- ry. The fact is deplorable, but it true, and, so far as I am able to serve matters, I think the Anglo- hobia in Germany and the Teuton- hobia in England is partly the re- lt of misunderstanding and is partly ue to the mischief making propensi- ies of irresponsible journalists. At e very time of the publication of e article by Ignotus deprecating civ- lities to the German fleet I happened o be myself the recipient of an extra- rdinarily gracious act of favor from e German Emperor. Anxious to tudy the conditions of German ra- ions in the Imperial fleet of Germany, applied for, and received, permission o make every investigation on the bject. I am now on a visit to Ber- in with the purpose of expressing my ratitude to his Imperial Majesty for is act of sympathy with the bluejack- ts of the British navy.

Emperor is a British Admiral.

It must not be forgotten that the two greatest powers in Europe are both governed by British Admirals. The King of Germany is a British Admiral, and William II, German Emperor, King of Prussia, K. G., G. C. V. O., is also an Admiral of the fleet. Prince Henry, of Prussia is also an Admiral, and when the Emperor and his brother, Prince Henry, were boys in the old days at Osborne they used to run over to Portsmouth and pick up naval lore in that Old World scene of former prowess. I mention these facts to show that whatever the German newspapers and the German public may say or do the Emperor is visibly actuated by friendly feelings toward the English people, or it would be impossible for a plain, middle class man, connected with the press, with exercise of influence, social or otherwise, to receive from His Majesty all the assistance sought for the avowed purpose of strengthening the British navy by improving the position of the British bluejacket.

When Lord Salisbury ceded Heligoland to Germany and assented to the evacuation by Great Britain of territory in West Africa and Samoa, the English electors believed that the wisdom of their Prime Minister had successfully arranged a lasting friendship with Germany. Every now and then events occur which show that the Emperor is not only friendly, but attached to the English connection. In former years before the Jameson raid business, the Eperor rarely missed the Cowes week. His Majesty was accustomed to telegraph to Professor Max Muller on the occasion of the Oxford and Cambridge boat race. The recent visit of Prince Henry, of Prussia with a division of the German fleet to Ireland has been the occasion of further amenities between the two Powers. Nevertheless it is plain to the thoughtful Englishman that German society, high and low doggedly refused to follow the example of their Emperor. The pro-Boerisms of Germany has produced its effect amongst the plain people. We are beginning to understand that a large proportion of the German people despise us. The newspapers in every part of the German Empire are directly or indirectly controlled by the German Government. Many of them are inspired by German ministers Venomous calumnies against England are the rule.

The Englishman's Conception.

These things puzzle the plain middle class Englishmen. He knows that Germany, like England, is a Protestant Power. He is sensible of the fact that Germany, unlike England, is not naturally a maritime Power. He is aware that the enormous increase in the German navy is avowedly undertaken in order to prepare for a struggle with England. The Germans believe that the English position in the world is undeserved; that it is the result of luck and accident, and that it is artificial and about to collapse, and cannot under any circumstances be maintained if Germany pursues her policy of making the German navy of the beginning of the twentieth century what the German army became at the end of the nineteenth.

GEN. VON CAPRIOI,
Chancellor of Germany.

Seeing that the Boer war is nearly at an end, it would be worth while for England to come to some understanding with Germany—an understanding that shall not rest on parchment, pedantries, or official assurances, but shall be the result of a clear explanation between the two peoples. If the German Kaiser is the ideal monarch he is painted by common consent, then clear answers to such questions as the following would do much to heal the breach that is arising between the two nations. Why are bills passed for the construction of a mammoth German navy when Germany has no colonies that require a navy of such dimensions? For what purpose are these vast quays at Emden, seeing that in the event of a war between Germany and Russia the German soldiers would not travel by sea, the same remark applying to a war with France or Russia? If the German navy is really intended as a preparation of war with Great Britain cannot the cause for war be discussed between two intelligent nations, and the calamity of a collision anticipated and provided against? If there be an explanation for the existence of this navy other than its intended use against England may that use be announced? If it is not intended for use against England, why maintain it?

ARNOLD WHITE.

KILLED IN A WRECK

How James Ferguson Met His Death in Vermont

Was Killed, With Four Others, in a Pitch-in on The Vermont Central Railway

Special to The Times.

Barre, Vt., June 18.—As one result of a cloudburst which struck the peak of Camel's Hump Mountain last night, a freight train on the Central Vermont Railway was wrecked in the town of Middlesex, and five of its crew, including the conductor, the engineer and two brakemen were instantly killed. The wreck of the train was due to a washout.

The locomotive leaped into a ditch and the freight cars piled on top of the engine. The engineer and fireman were instantly killed. The conductor and two brakemen were buried under the ruins of the freight cars. One of the brakemen, who was uninjured, went back in search of assistance.

The cloudburst caused a freat deal of other damage. The railroad bridge at Bolton was destroyed, and a sawmill with the house adjoining were demolished in the town of Middlesex, and the wreckage carried down the Winooski river. About 100,000 feet of logs were forced down the river by the torrent. In the valley on the east side the torrent washed out the rails of the Montpelier and Wells River Railroad at Plainsfield, fifteen miles from here. All the power lines of the Consolidated Electric Company which furnished power to the majority of the manufacturing establishments, including the granite quarries, were made useless.

The main line of the Central Vermont Railroad is tied up as a result of the washout at Middlesex, and the carrying away of the bridge at Bolton.

Note.—The above are the particulars of the accident by which James Ferguson lost his life. The deceased was married on May 29th to Miss Annie Patton, of North Monaghan. He was one of the crew of the train. The Times joins in extending to his young wife the sincerest sympathy in her irreparable loss.

Speedy Cure for Cramps and Colic.

The most reliable cure for Cramps, Colic, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint is ten drops of Polson's Nerviline in a little sweetened water. Nerviline removes the pain and distress at once, insures prompt relief and speedy cure in every case. Nerviline is an excellent remedy for all pain, whether internal or external, and should be in every household. All Druggists sell and recommend Nerviline. Price 25c.

CONSUMPTION IS UNKNOWN

A Sanitarum that will be Unique in th World's History

St. Petersbrug, June 18.—Dr. Bunge one of the foremost medical men of Russia, is arranging to establish a sanitarium for consumptives in the Polar regions. The project is based on his personal observations that the members of exploration parties returning from the far north are always in perfect health, owing to the purity of the air and the complete absence of all harmful microbes. In the Polar regions bronchitis laryngitis influenza and other contagious diseases are unknown.

NEARLY KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Daughter of the Late General Grant Has a Close Call

Cobourg Post:—On Saturday morning last at an early hour, Mrs. Sartoris and other inmates of "The Hill" received quite a shock during the heavy thunderstorm that they will be likely to remember for many days. During the progress of the storm, lightning flashes were numerous and very fierce and residents in every part of the town were aroused by the close proximity of the deafening thunder and the blinding flashes of lightning, and when one exceptionally heavy crash came, followed by a most destructive bolt, many arose to ascertain where the lightning had struck but none but the occupants of "The Hill" knew how close the deadly shaft had come to killing a number of people. Within a few feet of the house stood a large pine tree which lowered well over the roof, and as the lightning flashed from the heavens, this particular tree appeared to be directly in the course of the destructive element and with a terrible crash the tree was heard to fall into a thousand pieces, some portions of the branches falling on the roof of the building in which some dozen people were domiciled. The telephone and electric light wires and transformers were badly wrecked., but strange to say, none of the occupants were injured in the slightest. Mrs. Sartoris and her son, Capt. Sartoris, who is at present here, together with the other occupants, were quickly astir and made an examination of the premises which was found to be totally uninjured. The escape of the inmates and property from death and destruction was certainly a miracle, and Providence was thanked by all for their safe delivery from instant death.

Nervous Sleepless and Exhausted.

Not sick enough to lay up, but you are out of sorts, blood is weak, nerves unstrung, kidneys deranged, vitality is low. You should take Ferrozone at once: it will enrich, strengthen and purify the blood, invigorate and pacify the nerves and increase your energy vitality and power. Ferrozone will renew your appetite and digestion, make you sleep soundly—in fact will make you welll. Try Ferrozone. Price 50c. per box or 6 boxes for $2.50 at Druggists or Ormond & Walsh.

CONFERENCE TO AVERT A STRIKE

Street Railway Managers and Committee Meet

Prospects of Settlement—Nothing However Will be Definite for a Day or Two

Toronto, June 18.—Danger of a strike on the Toronto Street Railway is not yet passed, but the prospects are excellent. The situation to-day is that the committee of the employes chosen at Tuesday night's meeting has been met in a friendly spirit by the managers of the road, and to-day a series of conferences was begun. These will continue for several days, and until something tangible has been accomplished, both sides have decided to refuse to discuss the subject for publication.

The conferences are being held at the Toronto Railway Chambers. The company is represented by Messrs Keating and Moore, and the committee consists of Messrs. Pickles, Langley, Thomson, Barbour, and Jack.

They were closely closetd between eleven and two o'clock, and when interviewed neither the management nor committee would give out any information.

It is understood that the credentials presented were satisfactory, and that the men received a careful hearing. The discussion of recognition of the union will likely be the last thing taken up. The next meeting took place at 3 p.m.

THE CONFERENCE OPENS.

This morning sharp at eleven o'clock the committee appointed at the meeting of the motormen and conductors entered the offices of the company for the conference with the management. Prior to this the committee refused to give any information. They received their final instructions from Mr. Dilworth at the Iroquois Hotel, and were piloted to the office by Business Agent McDonald.

The men want to have the matter definitely decided one way or the other quickly, and yesterday morning a number of them waited upon Mr. Dilworth to see if this could not be arranged by giving the company a set time in which to answer to the requests of the men. This limit was placed by some of the men at not longer than 24 hours, but moderate counsel again prevailed, and the deputation decided that they would await a reasonable date for final decision.

WILL THE UNION INSIST?

"Will the union waive the right to be recognized as a union, providing the other requests are granted?" was one of the questions asked of Mr. Dilworth this morning, and the answer was: "Well, with negotiations pending I don't think it would be wise of me to make any statement. The matter is now practically out of my hands and in the hands of the committee. But you can say that we are very pleased by the spirit shown by President Ames and the others of the Board of Trade. I have seldom seen such a unanimous spirit among the men as there was on this occasion, and their appearance was quite timely."

REQUESTS, NOT DEMANDS.

The Street Railway Company have been inclined to look upon the requests of the men as demands. This morning one of the committee stated that the union had never made demands upon the company, and that if the company had taken any of their requests as demands they had misinterpreted their meeting.

Manager Keating refused to be interviewed, and said: "I have nothing to give out until after the committee see me."

TUESDAY NIGHT'S MEETING

The meeting of the Street Car Motormen and conductors, held in the Star Theater Tuesday night in response to an invitation from President Ames and other members of the Board of Trade, was attended by about 700 men. Frederick Marshall acted as chariman, Mr. Marshall is president of the local union, and was chairman at the meeting of May 31, when the present grievances were authorized for presentation to the company. He was also chairman at the meeting of that night previous. There was little business to perform, and the whole meeting lasted not longer than three-quarters of an hour. The business, of course, was the appointment of a committee to meet with the management of the railway and discuss grievances.

The committee appointed consists of W T. Thomas, Chairman, and James Barbour, Secretary of Local Union 963, with J. H. Pickles, P. Langley, and D. Jack.

As a guide to the committee in its meeting with the company, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, that the committee appointed by this meeting shall have general power to treat with the officers of the Toronto Railway Company regarding the differences between the company and the men, with the view of securing the consent of the company to a basis of adjustment with the committee can recommend the employes to accept.

Be it further resolved, that the committee keep the delegation from the Board of Trade advised of the progress of negotiations, and that the delegation be requested to call a meeting by public advectisement to receive the report of the committee at the earliest possible time.

STRONG HOPES OF SETTLEMENT.

President Ames of the Board of Trade acted as chairman pro tem, before the appointment of Mr. Marshall, and explained the reason for calling the meeting briefly. He was accompanied by Messrs. J. D. Allan, W. J. Gage, and Paul Jarvis. He was given a splendid hearing, and from the temper of the meeting, and from the alacrity with which the business was accomplished, the President of the Board of Trade stated after the meeting that "everything now points to an early settlement of the difficulty, and there is little prospect of a strike in the judgment of the Board of Trade delegation. The men manifested a fine spirit of fairness."

THE JUNE SESSION OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL

THE WORK OF THE SESSION PROGRESSING SATISFACTORY

The Warden's Address—Trade Relations with Britain—The Government Live Stock sale for Peterborough

The County Council spent the morning at committee work and went into session this afternoon, with Warden Eastland in the chair, and all the members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

HON MR. TARTE.

Mayor Denne addressed the Council to attend a reception to be tendered Hon. J. Israel Tarte at the Oriental hotel this evening.

On motion of Messrs. Casement and Crowe, the invitation was accepted.

THE KINMOUNT BRIDGE.

Messrs. R. J. McNeillie, Clerk of Victoria County, and Mr. Austin, Warden of the same County, were present urging that Peterborough County grant $500 towards the Kinmount bridge. This request has been made before, and the delegates laid all the information before the Council as to what Victoria and the Government was prepared to do. Mr. Chas. Fairbairn was with the deputation.

The request was referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Pearce presented the following report of the Committee of the Whole: The Special Committee on the Warden's address beg leave to report as follows:—

1. Your Committee congratulate His Majesty King Edward VII on his approaching coronation, and pray that his life will long be spared to reign over in peace and happiness his most loyal and contented subjects in all parts of the world. Your committee desire to place on record the loyalty and devotion of all classes of his people in the Dominion of Canada to the throne and person of the King, and to express their pride and confidence in that freedom, liberty and happiness of life which all His Majesty's subjects are privileged to enjoy.

2. Your committee recommend that the mode of payment of the special grants to members of the 3rd contingent to South Africa, and also the matter of the special grant to members for this country of the 4th contingent to South Africa be referred to the Finance committee.

3. Your committee recommend that a memorial be drawn urging the Dominion Government to pass such legislation as will remedy the many losses which occur owing to defective guards on railways.

4. Your committee recommend that the matter of re-flooring Burleigh bridge be referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

5. Your committee recommend that the matter of advertising the back country as a place of settlement be referred to the Finance committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted

J. B. PEARCE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted as read.

SCHOOL.

Mr. Fitzgerald presented the following report of the Committee on Schools.

Your Committee on Schools beg leave to report as follows:

Your committee recommend that the report of the County School Inspector be received, and that the clerk be instructed to print same in the minutes of the proceedings of the council.

G. W. FITZGERALD,
Chairman.

The report was adopted as read.

THE LONDON CONFERENCE.

Mr. Costello presented the following report of the Committee on Petitions:

The Committee on Petitions beg leave to report, recommending as follows:

That a memorial of this council be forwarded to His Excellency, the Governor General in Council recommending that the British Government be urged at the approaching conference in London to remove the present restrictions on the admission of Canadian cattle to Great Britain and also to give to the natural products of the colonies a preference in the Mother Country.

All of which is respectfully submitted

P. COSTELLO,
Chairman.

The report was adopted as read.

A LIVE STOCK SALE.

Messrs. F. H. Dobbin and T. M. Hunter were presented representing the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute and the Agricultural Society, asking the council to interest themselves in the effort these two organizations were making to secure the sale of live stock for Peterborough, that is to be held in the central part of the province. These sales were being arranged by the Government and it was felt that Peterborough was an excellent centre for one of them and preferable to Clairmont, where it was proposed to hold it. He asked the county to make a request for the sale for Peterborough.

Mr. Dobbin also asked for the usual grant to the Agricultural Society.

Mr. Hunter supported Mr. Dobbin and pointed out the advantages of such a sale here.

It was explained that it was proposed to give the exhibition grounds for the sale.

Mr. Anderson moved, seconded by Mr. Shaw, that the Provincial Government be memorialized to hold their live stock sale in Peterborough.

This was carried and the Council adjourned.

THE PROGAMME AT CORONATION TIME.

The programme for the Coronation festivities is as follows:

- Monday, June 23.—Arrival in London of the Royal representatives; dinner at Buckingham Palace and reception of the suites.
- Tuesday, June 24.—Their Majesties will receive the Special Foreign Envoys and Deputations to the Coronation, and give a State dinner at Buckingham Palace.
- Wednesday, June 25. — Reception of the Colonial Premiers and other Envoys; the Prince of Wales will give a dinner party at St. James Palace to the Princes and Envoys.
- Thursday, June 26.—The Coronation.
- Friday, June 27.—The procession through London, which will be a military pageant some two miles long, representing every portion of the British dominion.
  In the evening Their Majesties will attend a reception at Lansdowne House.
- Saturday, June 28.—The Royal party will leave London for the naval review.
- Sunday, June 29.—Dinners to the Foreign Princes by their respective Ambassadors.
- Monday, June 30.—Their Majesties return to London, gala performance of opera.
- Tuesday, July 1.—Garden party at Windsor Castle.
- Wednesday, July 2.—Departure of the Foreign Princes and Envoys; Their Majesties dine at Londonderry House.
- Thursday, July 3.—Their Majesties attend the services at St. Paul's and lunch at the Guildhall.
- Friday, July 4.—Their Majesties attend the reception of Indian Princes at the India Office.
- Saturday, July 5.—King Edward's dinner to the poor.

FRANCE SHORT $35,000,000

London, June 18.—The French deficit for the year, says the Paris correspondent of the Times, amounts to 173,000,000 francs, but Rouvier, the Minister of France, hopes by annulling certain credits to reduce it to 15,000,000 francs.

ON CORONATION DAY

Ottawa, June 18. — The leading Dominion public buildings all over Canada will be appropriately decorated on Coronation day. The flags and other material for the display were sent out by the Public Works Department to-day.

MAGNIFICENT BEHAVIOUR OF THE BURGHERS

Their Conduct Is a Reflection of Britain's Fine Treatment

BRITAIN AND THE CHINESE.

United States About to Obtain Credit Which Britain Is About to Lose

Special to The Times.

London, June 18.—The Times' Vienna correspondent quotes a letter from an American friend, who says the magnificent behavior of the Boers seems a reflection on the magnificent terms accorded them by the British. "Our own Southern States," says the American, "emancipated from the curse of slavery and all it entailed constitute a fair parallel. Their prosperity and loyalty to-day foreshadow what may be expected in South Africa in less time than has relapsed since Lee surrendered to Grant."

BRITAIN MAY LOSE CREDIT

London, June 18.—The Times Pekin correspondent says the British attitude in regard to the holding of TienTsin by the foreign governments is difficult to defend. Nine months after the final protocol was signed, the chief city of North China (larger than Liverpool) is still in foreign possession. The Chinese Viceroy, the correspondent says, now believes the United States will demand a modification of the conditions imposed upon China, and insist upon a return to Tien-Tsin, thus gaining the credit Britain seems willing to lose. The French deficit for the year is one hundred and seventy-three million francs, upon which the Minister of Finance can only effect a slight reduction.

SURRENDERS COMPLETE

London, June 18.—Under date of Pretoria, June 17, Lord Kitchener announces that the surrenders in the Transvaal and Orange River Colonies are now complete. In the Transvaal 11,225 men surrendered, and 10,813 rifles were given up, while in the Orange River Colony 5,306 men surrendered and 5,280 rifles were turned in. The figures for Cape Colony have not been fully received.

A Scientific Prescription That Guarantees True Summer Health

Paine's Celery Compound

Recommended and Prescribed By the Ablest Medical Men

If you are weak, rundown, pale nervous and sleepless in June, your body is filled with the seeds of disease that must soon develop into death-dealing maladies.

If you have suffered through the springtime from rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, blood diseases, liver complaints, be assured the coming hot weather will not help to lessen or ease your sufferings. The poisonous seeds of disease cannot be banished by the ordinary remedies of the day. It requires the powers and virtues of Paine's Celery Compound to accomplish the good work. No other medicine can so effectually reach the root of your troubles. The purifying of the blood, the cleansing of the system, bracing of the nerves, and the regulation of the digestion—all this renovating work should be done in June if health, vigor, activity and happiness are earnestly sought for. Thousands of permanent cures and the happy experiences of physicians point to Paine's Celery Compound as the greatest disease-banisher and life-saver.

CHANDOS.

—The farmers are busy with their root crops at present.

—Clydale made their first shipment of cheese on Tuesday.

—As there is no change in the government there is likely to be some change on the side road at the school house.

—Mr. Patrick O'Brien has returned home from town.

Capt. Maurice O'Brien was the guest of Mr. James Trotter on Sunday.

—Mr. Joseph Long was the guest of Mr. Fred. Hobbins on Sunday evening.

—The many friends of Mr. Scott will be glad to know that his foot has so improved that he can walk again.

The Clydale football and baseball teams expect to have a big day of sports of the 1st of July.

—Mr. Patrick Hibbins has returned home from Mr. A. McDonald's drive.

—Mr. William Scott was in Bancroft last week.

—Mr. John O'Brien is thinking about hiring for the summer with Mr. Thomas Caderell.

One of our boys goes to the store every Saturday evening to get his supplies for the week. Maurice, poor boys must have a hard time getting there, for his load is heavy, but he takes his time and gets there just the same.

WEATHER NOTES

Probs. To-day Fresh westerly winds, fair, and rather cool.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depart
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal... ...	5.10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.33 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston ...	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate...	7.32 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West...	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto...	11.40 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9.00 p.m.	5.38 p.m.
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.35 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.20 a.m.	9.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.25 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.03 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.15 p.m.
Lakefield local	6.50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

CORPORATION OFFICERS.

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rozzel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Beck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, R. A. Peck, Warde, Davis, and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Crossley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. B. Bamford.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at $3 per year. Strictly in advance.

UNION LABEL

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 19, 1902.

AN OLD-NEW LESSON

The general conclusion of expert writers upon the Boer war, is that the lessons it has taught are, after all, old lessons. Capt. Mahan, in his extended review of an English history of the conflict, says the Boers have received credit for their individuality in fighting, for their extended formation for their skillful use of cover, and for their great mobility. But he also points out that the American Indian successfully practiced similar tactics, until he compelled the American troops to imitate him in open-order fighting and in taking advantage of the ground; and as long ago as the time of Thermopylae it was shown that a handful of men, suitably disposed, may stop an army in a defile as well as from the kopjes or bed of a South African river. At Bunker Hill and at New Orleans the British commanders learned the danger of a frontal attack against an entrenched position, which their successors of this generation failed to heed. The British Army in South Africa, at the first, showed the same indisposition or inability to adopt new tactics adapted to the situation in hand, that General Braddock displayed in western Pennsylvania in 1755.

The Boers did not evolve any new principles of warfare, but they displayed great ability in adapting their tactics to the country in which, and to the conditions under which, they fought. Much has been said about the advantage given them by modern arms of precision. But it is questionable if their tactics would have been much different with the old weapons, if the enemy had been similarly armed. The modern rifle compels a single line of battle and an extended formation of five paces' intervals. The Boers improved upon this formation by making the intervals wider and each soldier virtually his own commander during the actual fighting. With the old "Brown Bess" the British formation would have been in two solid ranks, and the Boer formation no doubt a skirmish line and the comparative difference would have been about the same.

There is reason to believe that the British tactics would have been effective against a highly organized and thickly populated state. It does not follow that because the Boers were enabled to defend themselves so successfully that the people of one of the small states of Europe, like Belgium, Holland or Denmark, each with a much larger population than the Transvaal and Orange Free State combined, could do so well. The Boers were men especially fitted for such a conflict, every male being accustomed to outdoor life and the use of fire arms, and possessing an advantage of terrain that is nowhere found in Europe, save perhaps, in a somewhat less degree, in Switzerland. The Swiss, by adopting essentially the same tactics as the Boers, and availing themselves of their mountain defenses, maintained their independence against the assaults of the powerful neighboring states for centuries; and if they were called upon to defend their national life again, could no doubt sell their liberty at a price which would appal humanity.

A STRIKING CONTRAST

The contrast between the military pension of Great Britain and the United States is essentially the contrast between institutions that have sprung from democratic beginnings, and institutions that have developed through the process of modification from aristocracy. The British pension policy is marked by munificent rewards to the conquering heroes of the various wars, or to men who have rendered conspicuous brilliant service, with practically nothing to the rank and file. John Churchill and Arthur Wellesley were showered with riches and titles; Lord Harding was voted $25,000 a year; Lord Seaton and Lord Keene, $10,000 a year for three lives; Lord Gough, 15,000 for three lives; Lord Raglan, $10,000 for two lives; Lord Napier, $10,000 for two lives, and many others smaller, but still lavish sums. And within the last few days the gross sum of $250,000 was voted to Lord Kitchener. There was never any military pension system, up to the outbreak of the South African war, when, to encourage enlistments, parliament voted a small provision for the widows and orphans of soldiers killed or permanently disabled, but with the offensive statement that it was given as a gratuity, and not as a right.

The pension policy of the United States is based upon a very different theory. It is a recognition of the obligation of the government to those who risk their lives in its defence, and their widows and orphans. The laws granting pensions, place men of all ranks upon an equality. The officer of the highest rank who applies for a pension has it apportioned to him upon his degree of disability and not upon the position he occupied in active service, or his standing at home.

The governments of the United States and of Great Britain are both representative. In both the people, or public sentiment, may be said to rule; but in each the standards differ through inherited prejudice. In the Republic traditions lead to give full credit to the humblest who upholds the flag; while in England the masses are lost sight of in the dazzling glory of the leaders. The popular extension of the suffrage has not yet wiped out the ancient notion that the proletariat who were born to serve; that a chosen few were born, booted and spurred, to ride upon the backs of the many—hence that the many are not entitled to the rewards. And the difference in pension policy undoubtedly accounts in a measure, for the comparative inferiority of the material in the rank and file of the British army.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

And now the war is over, the Boers admit that they think more of the British than they do of any of their own foreign allies. That was worth fighting for.

• • • •

Col. Arthur Lynch seems to be in rather a tight place. The penalty for treason is death. If he is convicted of having fought for the Boers he is convicted of treason, which will be unpleasant; and if he is acquitted of having fought for the Boers he loses the popularity which elected him to parliament for Galway.

HARVEY.

The death on Tuesday of last week, of Mr. Adam Payne removes one of Harvey's oldest and most respected settlers. Mr. Payne came from County Down, Ireland, 46 years ago. For a short time he resided at Brighton on Lake Ontario, then he moved to Bobcaygeon, which at that time consisted of only a few shacks. Mr Payne stayed in the village for a year or more, then Mrs. Payne came out from Ireland. Land was then being taken up along the Bobcaygeon line, and Mr. Payne took up one of the best lots along the whole length of the line. For the last few years he has suffered terribly with a cancer that destroyed one eye and his departure was a blessed relief to him, that same all too slow. He was of a quiet, unobstructive disposition, but firm, sturdy and honourable in his dealing, and was generally respected throughout the settlement. He leaves a widow and a large family all well-to-do. The funeral was a very large one.

The Ontario Bank

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Ontario Bank was held at the banking house, Toronto, on Tuesday, June 17th, 1902.

Among those present were.—Donald Mackay, J. K. Macdonald, R. Grass, Henry Lowndes, A. S. Irving F. M. Purdy, John Flett, C. S. Gzowski, Arthur Harvey, C. Goode, R. D. Perry, Hon. R. Harcourt, F. B. Polson, T. H. Brunton (Newmarket), Wm. Spry, R. J. McLaughlin and others.

On motion, Mr. Donald Mackay was called to the chair, and Mr. McGill was requested to act as secretary.

Messrs. J. K. Macdonald and F. M. Purdy were appointed scrutineers.

At the request of the chairman the secretary read the following report:—

The directors beg to present to the shareholders the 45th annual report for the year ending 31st May, 1902, together with the usual statement of assets and liabilities.

Profit and Loss (brought forward from 31st May, 1901......		$16,996 04
Premium on New Stock		5,538 75
The net profits, after deducting charges of management, interest accrued upon deposits, and making provision for all bad and doubtful debts, were		168,500 79
		$191,035 58
Which have been appropriated as follows:—
Dividend 2 1-2 per cent paid 1st December, 1901...	34,670 89
Dividend 3 per cent payable 1st June, 1902	41,963 25
Added to Rest	75,000 00
Reserved for Officers' Pension Fund	5,000 00
		$156,624 14
Balance of profits carried forward		$ 34,411 44

Premises have been secured in this city at the corner of Yonge and Carlton streets, and a branch will shortly be opened there.

The Rest Account has been increased to $345,000, and the Profit and Loss Account now stands at $34,411.44

All the offices of the Bank have been inspected during the year.

The business of the bank continues to show a satisfactory increase.

G. R. R. COCKBURN,
President.

GENERAL STATEMENT.

LIABILITIES

Capital stock paid up	$ 1,299,060 00
Rest	425,000 00
Balance of profits carried forward	34,411 44
Dividends Unclaimed	675 59
Dividend payable 1st June, 1902	41,963 25
Reserved for Interest and Exchange	108,383 86
		$ 2,010,500 14
Notes in circulation	$ 1,255,707 00
Deposits not bearing interest ...	1,451,407 34
Deposits bearing interest	7,250,425 01
Due to agents of Bank in Great Britain	451,751 15
		$10,409,410 50
		$12,419,979 64

ASSETS

Gold and silver coin ... ...$	99,299 39
Government Demand Notes	508,060 50
Notes of and cheques on other banks	341,383 70
Balances due from Banks in Canada	71,830 75
Balances due from Banks in United States	196,306 93
Deposit with Dominion Government for security of note circulation	70,000 00
Municipal and other debentures	1,153,187 00
Call loans on stocks & bonds	794,165 23
		$ 3,226,914 59
Bills discounted & current loans	$8,042,567 66
Overdue debts ...	5,447 20
Overdue Estate (other than bank premises)	20,000 00
Bank premises (including furniture, safes, etc)	125,000 00
		$ 9,193,065 05
		$12,419,979 64

After a few remarks by the chairman, the report was adopted.

By resolution, the sum of $5,000 was granted to the Officers' Pension Fund of the Ontario Bank.

The scrutineers appointed at the meeting, subsequently reported the following gentlemen duly elected directors for the ensuing year, viz:—Geo. R. R. Cockburn, Donald Mackay, Hon. J. C. Aikens, A. S. Irving, R. D. Perry, Hon. R. Harcourt, R. Grass.

The new board met the same afternoon, when Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn was elected president, and Mr. Donald Mackay vice-president.

C. McGILL,
General Manager

The Ontario Bank, Toronto, 17th June, 1902.

BIG MINERS CONVENTION

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 18.— The long expected call for a special national convention of United Mine Workers of America was issued by President Mitchell at strike headquarters, to be held at Indianapolis at the earliest possible date. The convention will be held to discuss the advisability of involving all the soft coal miners in the United States in the present anthracite coal strike.

General - Sports.

LACROSSE.

The T.A.S. lacrosse team journeyed to Orillia yesterday with the Firemen's and Band's excursion and played a match with the lacrosse team of that town, which resulted in a win for Orillia by 5 goals to 6. The game was a good exhibition of lacrosse both teams put up a good clean game, no rough play being indulged in.

This is the first game played away from home by the T.A.S. with an outside Hon. J. Israel Tarte's visit. The minist. good showing they made.

GUN CLUB SHOOT.

The Gun Club will shoot this afternoon at three o'clock, on the Riverside Park.

BASEBALL.

The Peterborough Baseball team will play their next game in the Midland League series in Cobourg on June 24th. On July 1st Bowmanville will play in Peterborough and on July 15th Oshawa will play here.

The Auburns have organized with the following officers:

Manager.—Fred Davidson.
Treasurer.—W. Shaw.
Captain.—Frank Gazaut.

The team is open to receive challenges for games.

HUMAN METHEORS

Brilliant Spectacle in the Arenic Firmament

THE TEN PEERLESS POTTERS

Claimed They Give the Greatest Aerial Act On Earth

The Ten Peerless Potters, the Greatest Aerial Act on Earth, are one of the principal features of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous Shows United this season. For several years there were only five in the Potter Troupe, but they were so far in advance of all other aerialists that they headed the programme of these shows and the Barnum & Bailey Shows. The head of the troupe, Harry Potter, is rather an anomaly among circus performers. He began his aerial work in a college gymnasium and a liking for the work, diverted him from a career as a lawyer, which his father had in view for him, to his present avocation.

Having an ambition to be clearly at the head of his chosen profession he conceived the act he is now doing. In order to perform it he had to have five more aerialists, two men, two women and a boy, to correspond with the five in his original troupe. Two of the men he secured in this country. One of the women was Anita Stirk, the best trapeze performer of her sex in this country. The other woman was Marion Silbon, one of the famous English family of aerialists. The boy also came from England.

With these ten persons, including himself, he is now doing an aerial act that simply beggars description. Nearly all the time the act is going on there are all ten of them in the air going through a marvelous series of leaps, swings, flights, somersaults, dives, etc. It is known as hand-work, that is, they are thrown by each other instead of gaining their momentum from swings of any kind. It is by far the most difficult form of aerial work but it is done with such consummate skill and grace that it appears much easier than it really is.

It is certain that no one may expect too much from the Ten Peerless Potters when they see them here with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Shows, when they exhibit here on Tuesday, July 8.

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE

"No Cure, No Pay," is the Newest Proposal of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills

Editor Morning Times

Sir,—We make the following proposal to anyone who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, as enumerated below, and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being supplied us to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

King Edward VII. Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE

Market Block, Peterborough.

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers. LEITH. Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., L
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE
ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.
MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST.
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analyzed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{90}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

THE FASHIONABLE MAN
Of Nineteen Aught Two

Will find everything that is Correct and Up-to-date in MEN'S OUTFITTINGS. (Prices second to none.)

—AT—

H. E. BRADLEY & CO.'S

High-class Tailors and Gentlemen's Outfitters.

THE
BLACK ROCK MINING CO.
LIMITED.

(no personal liability.)

SHARES 10c EACH. CAPITAL $150,000

Stock full-paid and non-assessable

CLAIMS.

There are three claims "New York" "Chicago" and "San Francisco."

SITUATED.

Yavapai Co., Arizona.

EXTENT.

The area of the three claims is 600 feet by 4500 feet.

ORE BODY.

Out-croppings show on the surface 250 feet to 450 feet wide and 4500 feet long. (nearly one mile)

DEPTH.

Shaft is down over 100 feet in ore from the surface and there is ore fully 70 feet above where the shaft starts.

CROSS-CUTS.

Cross-cuts on shaft of fifty feet each are entirely in ore, so also is thirty-foot Tunnel.

ORE IN SIGHT.

By expert calculations there is TWO MILLION TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT NOW.

ASSAYS.

THE BLACK ROCK MINING Co. equally high in Copper, with some silver. Total values running as high as $56.00 per ton.

COST.

Ore can be mined and treated on a proposition of this class, at less than $2.00 per ton by present processes.

The largest producing mines today pay big dividends on ore averaging from $3.00 to $2.00 per ton. This is only made possible by the enormous bodies of ore such as are found on the "Chicago" "United Verde" "Oro Grande" and other similar mines.

The "United Verde" with an original capital of three million dollars pays to its stockholders in cash profits about Two million dollars every month, or in other words pays back its entire capital every six weeks.

THE BLACK ROAK MININNG CO. LIMITED, will without doubt pay dividends of at least one per cent. a month before the end of the year. Now is the time to get in while stock is low. Only 10c. per share.

WRITE FOR GROUND FLOOR PROPOSITION.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.,
London, Ont.
217-218 Masonic Temple.

TO THE ADVERTISER

Do you realize that it would be ea for you to increase your business to t extent of several thousand dollars year?

Do you know that hundreds of peo living in the country surrounding Pete borough never see your name in t newspaper they read; that they do know why it would be to their advanta to deal with you?

Do you know that these people a sending to Toronto for goods th could buy from you, if they knew y wanted to sell them?

Do you realize that the merchants Toronto and Montreal are reaching o for the trade of this, and other town that they are spending thousands of do lars in advertising, to tell people w ought to buy from YOU all about the goods?

Are YOU telling the people abo YOUR GOODS, and the LOW PRICE at which you sell them?

You CAN NOT do so thoroughly, if yo don't advertise in THE TIMES, becau THE TIMES reaches people whe you can't reach through any oth medium.

At least 60 per cent. of the people li ing in the surrounding country rea "THE TIMES" and NO OTHER newspap These people have money to spend an will spend it in Toronto because the think they can buy more cheaply tha than here. If you don't secure the custom.

Use THE TIMES to tell them yo can give them better bargains than the can get in Toronto.

You'll make money, you'll increas your business, you'll get new custome if you advertise in THE TIMES.

We are going to make THE TIME the best daily paper in Eastern Ontari We have made arrangements to improv the local news service and to push th paper to the foremost place in the fron ranks. We want you to advertise in THE TIMES because it'll pay you to do so Every dollar you spend for advertising in The Times will return with good interes added.

Remember—No matter how much business you are doing now—YOU CA DO MORE if you advertise in THE TIMES.

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
10 King Street West, TORONTO

The New York Times
Saturday Review of Books.
$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—n fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by;

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times
SUNDAY EDITION
$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican . . Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories. Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year
Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 9 a.m	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 6 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 5 a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $60 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... .... June 25th
Mongolian...... ....July 9th.

S. S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to:
W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to
THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC TEAMHIP CO., Ltd
River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S. S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July;; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t
W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood o Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. fo Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 9.00 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information appl to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.
Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO

STR. "ARGYLE"
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)
EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at - -	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at - -	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at -	12.30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.
STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7 00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday -	2 00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville - -	11.00 a m
" Trenton - -	1.15 p m
" Brighton - -	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte - -	7.30 p m

"Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager,
Picton, On

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9 00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

6 Trips Daily (Except Sunday.

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont.

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8 30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5 00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay
ESTURION
JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv	6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	7.15 a.m.	"	4.10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar	8 40 a.m.	"	5 30 p.m.
"	Lv	11 00 a.m.	"	5.45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	12.10 p m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar	1.15 p.m.	"	8.10 p.m.

Satu days boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.
MANITA
JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon...........Leave 7 00 a. m.
Bridgenorth...........Arrive 9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth ....Leave 3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon..........Arrive 5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG. PORT HOPE. ROCHESTER. N. Y.
STEAMER
NORTH KING
Week Day Route Commenc'ng May 12

SOUTH BOUND.
Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... ..3.01 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... ...3.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ....6.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... ....8.45 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.
Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets .... 9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester... ....9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... ......2.01 p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... ...2.50 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any plac in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to.

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Swartz Agent Port Hope

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"

On Monday, June, 16th Wednesday, 18th and Friday 20, the Steamer Majestic will leave Lakefield on the arrival of the morning train, returning in time to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor.
CAPT. SCOLLARD, Master

Wage-Earning School Children in England.

Whilst dreams of world-wide empire and visions of the subjection of the entire universe to the domination of the occupants of No. 10 Downing street, Whitehall, are disturbing the rest of the average Briton, and turning even the late followers of Gladstone into rampant jingoes, thinking men are reminded, by the publication of Blue Books such as the report just issued by the Home Office on the employment of school children, of some of the evils which are eating away the heart of the English nation. Child labor in England has been the subject of repeated legislation for nearly a century. Children eight years of age are no longer allowed to work in factories, nor are the hours of labor for older child-workers so long as heretofore. For the latter class a system of half work, half school, has been devised; while a series of acts of Parliament have been passed forbidding the employment of young children in chimney-sweeping, acrobatic performances, etc., and severely regulating their hours of labor in other and, in my opinion, equally objectionable occupations. It was fondly imagined that these enactments had finally exorcised the evil spirit of child labor; but the terrible disease of poverty is too deeply rooted in Great Britain to be eradicated by such measures; and though now and again a sore may be healed, it surely reappears in some other part of the body politic. Its latest development is to be seen in the spectacle of children of tender years trading in the streets, or working in shops, or engaged in some form of agricultural labor which has not been forbidden by any existing legislation. The first symptom was noticed by the Education Department through its school inspectors; and six years ago an investigation was held by that body in order to see whether the disease was quite so dangerous as represented. Enquiries were made from the various school managers throughout the country, with the result that it was reported that no less than 144,000 children attending school were employed either before or after school hours, or both, for a very small remuneration, at some form of work for periods ranging from twenty to forty, fifty, and even eighty hours a week. These figures rather underestimated the total number, as the compilers did not include those children who had a regular occupation after school, or those whose work was not, in their judgment, prejudicial to health.—Thomas Burke in the "Forum."

Figuring It Out.

The "little Johnny" of the following story may never have heard that

Great fleas have little fleas upon their backs to bite 'em,
And little fleas have lesser fleas, and so
ad infinitum,

but his method of reasoning is analogous. He had been gazing thoughtfully at his book of animal pictures, says the Salt Lake "Herald," when suddenly he called out:

"Sa, pa, does it cost much to feed a lion?"

"Yes."

"How much?"

"Oh, a lot of money."

"A wolf would make a good meal for a lion, wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes, I guess so."

"And a fox would be enough for the wolf, wouldn't it?"

"Yes, yes."

"And a fox could make a meal off a hawk, eh, pa?"

"I suppose so."

"And the hawk would be satisfied with a sparrow?"

"Of course."

"And a big spider would be a good meal for the sparrow, wouldn't it, pa? —wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes, yes."

"And a fly would be enough for the spider?"

"Sure."

"And a drop of molasses would be all the fly would want, wouldn't it?"

"Oh, stop your chatter!"

"But wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes."

"Well, pa, couldn't a man keep a lion more'n a year on a pint of molasses?"

The Last Words of Great Men.

On the subject of Cecil Rhodes' last words—so little done, so much to do—London "Truth" says: "Mr. Rhodes was not given to high-flown talk, and I suspect the story of his 'last words' is a fiction. Sydney Smith observed that it seems a necessity that every distinguished man should die 'with some sonorous and quotable saying in his mouth.' Mr. Pitt was supposed to have expired exclaiming 'How do I leave my country!' It was afterwards established on conclusive evidence that his real last words were, 'I fancy I could eat one of Bellamy's meat pies.' Mr. Fox was credited with some becoming observation about public affairs, whereas his last words conveyed a request for barley water. Sir Robert Peel was stated to have died after an ejaculation about the blessings of cheap bread. In reality he awoke for a few minutes, after several hours of sleep, said, 'God bless you all,' and died. Lord Beaconsfield was reported to have exclaimed, 'Any news in the Gazette?' with his last breath, whereas he muttered, 'I feel overwhelmed.'"

A Delicate Position.

Wedding presents are frequently distinguished for their uselessness, and gift-making at any time is always attended with some danger, but there is a contractor in Toronto who realises that the most generous intentions are likely to turn out disastrously. This is how it came about:

A faithful Irish employee announced his desire to take a month's vacation in order to visit his brother in the West. He had worked so well and steadily that his employer not only granted the request, but made him a present of a new valise. The night before Tim was to leave he received the gift, accompanied by a few appreciative words.

Tim stared at the valise for a moment and then asked: "What am I to do with thot?"

"Why, put your clothes in it when you go away, of course," answered the contractor.

"Put me clothes in it, is it?" said Tim. "An' phwat will Oi wear if Oi put me clothes in thot?"

When Victoria Was Crowned.

In the Marquis of Lorne's "Life" of Queen Victoria there is a chapter on the coronation now quite interesting in view of the much-discussed ceremony which is to take place in London in June. The former Governor-General's description of the pageant is too impressionistic to be very effective, but the following account of the ceremony, given by Lady Wilhelmina Stanhope, one of the trainbearers of the Queen, who later became the Duchess of Cleveland, is very amusing. She writes:

The Queen looked very well and was perfectly composed. She wore a circlet of splendid diamonds, and was dressed in gold tissue, over which was fastened a crimson velvet mantle, bordered with gold lace, and lined with ermine, with a long ermine cape, which very ponderous appendage we were to support. . . . We were all dressed alike, in white and silver. The effect was not, I think, brilliant enough in so dazzling an assembly, and our little trains were serious annoyances, for it was impossible to avoid treading upon them. We ought never to have had them; and there certainly should have been some previous rehearsing, for we carried the Queen's train very jerkily and badly, never keeping step properly, and it must have been very difficult for her to walk, as she did, evenly and steadily, and with much grace and dignity, the whole length of the Abbey.

The Abbey itself was a beautiful coup d'oeil, as we marched up amid thunders of applause and handkerchiefs and scarfs waving everywhere. The Queen acknowledged her reception very graciously. I think her heart fluttered a little as we reached the throne; at least, the color mounted to her cheeks, brow, and even neck, and her breath came quickly. However, the slight emotion she showed was very transient, and she stood perfectly motionless while the archbishop, in almost inaudible voice, proclaimed her our undoubted sovereign and liege lady. . . .

The burst of applause in the Abbey when the crown was placed on her head, and the sight of all the peers and peeresses crowning themselves at the same moment, was really most impressive, and in the midst of the cheering Handel's magnificent anthem, "The Queen Shall Rejoice!" thundered in. After this the Queen was enthroned, and we took up our station on the steps of the throne during the homage, and amused ourselves with watching Lord Surrey, the treasurer of the household, dispensing medals in the midst of a most desperate scramble, and nearly torn in pieces in the universal excitement. The pages were particularly active, and some of them collected ten or twelve medals apiece.

I saw little of the homage. The Duke of Wellington was prodigiously cheered. Lord Rolle fell down, and was carried away by two strong peers. . . . After the homage, we returned with the Queen to the chapel, where her mantle—now a purple one—was fastened on, and we waited for three-quarters of an hour for the procession to form in the same manner as on entering the Abbey.

The Queen complained of a headache from having the crown very ceremoniously knocked by most of the peers—one actually clutched hold of it; but she said she had guarded herself from any accident or misadventure by having it made to fit her head tightly. She had, besides, to bear the heavy orb and sceptre across the Abbey; but when she reached the robing-room, she disembarrassed herself of them, unclasped her mantle, took off her crown, and having got rid of all her royalty, sat down on the sofa and amused herself. We, too, were allowed to sit down for the first time.

But her day of fatigue was not yet over, for she had to entertain one hundred persons at dinner in the palace.

The Duke of Wellington had a great ball at Apsley House, two thousand persons having been invited, the cabinet ministers gave state dinners. Illuminations, fireworks, a fair in Hyde Park, and free admission to the theaters were provided for the gratification of Her Majesty's subjects in London. There was no accident of any importance, except in one case, where a balloon made a bad descent. The House of Commons voted $250,000 on account of the coronation, a very small sum when compared with the large amounts given for similar ceremonies abroad. A number of peers were created or raised a step in the peerage, among these being the father of General Lord Methuen, and twenty-nine baronets, among them Lytton Bulwer and William Herschell.

Mystifying the Audience.

At the first production of Augustus Thomas's dramatization of Richard Harding Davis's "Soldiers of Fortune," at New Haven, Robert Edeson, the star, made the first speech to the cheering Yale boys. Then there were calls for Richard Harding Davis, author of the novel, and Augustus Thomas, who had dramatized it. A large, smooth-shaven man, who tallied with the descriptions of the novelist, appeared and thanked the students for their kind reception of his book in play form, said he hoped it would awaken new interest in the book, enlarging its sale, and that he would like to have Mr. Thomas dramatise his latest novel, "In the Fog," which name he impressed upon possible buyers. About a third of the audience knew that the man who had represented himself to them as Davis was really Mr. Thomas. The rest saw the joke when Mr. Davis came out and said: "Of course this reception is very gratifying, but I don't think my dramatisation of Mr. Davis's story is particularly good. But then, to a man who has written a play like 'Arizona,' that has been successful all over America, and recently was praised by the King and Queen of England, dramatising a novel by a mere Richard Harding Davis seems unimportant and trivial."

The panic in the diamond market is growing worse instead of better. It is now almost impossible to get No. 2 whites in carload lots; No. 1 blues can be obtained only in bushel lots; and No. 1 straws are no longer quoted, except by the peck.—Chicago "Tribune."

Penelope—Mercy! Why did Mabel ever marry that young Slimkins? He's such a poor excuse of a man! Ann—Well, a poor excuse is better than none.—Chicago "Daily News."

A Ghostly Game of Chess.

"The International Hall of the Cafe Monico is a truly palatial chamber, ever so many feet broad by ever so many more feet long. On the evenings of Friday and Saturday of last week," says London "Outlook," "it was divided by a barrier into two unequal parts. In the smaller set, each at his board, the British chess-players competing against the American chess-players—who were not there. Through the larger roamed a selection of the chess public. . . . Inside the barrier, and next it, sat Mr. James Mason at a chess-board, facing us. We seem to have known Mr. Mason as a fine player these—well, say twenty years. On this occasion he is opposing Mr. J. R. Barry of America—who is not here; Mr. Barry is sitting in a room in Brooklyn three thousand miles away, under the eyes of American spectators. It is easy to say that the two men are connected by electric telegraph; but it is not wise to dispose of the mystery and romance of space in so rude a way. . . . But Mr. Mason, in this grand International Hall, seated opposite nothing better than a man with a book of telegraph forms who waits unconcernedly for the move, can he play thus dumbly and in absence against Mr. Barry in Brooklyn and think it chess? It is a very ghostly business, and we wonder Mr. Mason can get through with it at all. But he does. He is as solemn, as rapt in thought, as oblivious of all but the game as if Mr. Barry were opposite to him in the flesh, and not opposed to him only by electric telegraph. Clearly to him the play is everything, whether the opponent's move comes to him by actual touch, by telegraph, or by psychic suggestion. But for our part we cannot throw off a dread of the uncanny nature of the business. We feel inclined to look about for some manifestation of Mr. American Barry's spirit. What better evidence of it could we have than the arrangement of these wooden pieces on that wooden board? There is Mr. Barry—most effectually Mr. Barry, for he is causing Mr. Mason to think, and think, and think; to purse his lips in the old familiar way, to fall into immovable silences, wherein you would think he was revolving schemes of a new order of creation or puzzling out the mystery of man's origin and destiny; and Mr. Mason is doing the like to him in far Brooklyn. A strange and fascinating pursuit is chess, strange and unprofitable. Not politics, nor fame, nor wealth, nor love can so engross a man. These objects are usually compassed by flashes of passion, insight, and daring; but this slow, prolonged struggle of brain against brain, through the medium of pieces of fantastically carved wood, is pure devotion to an abstraction. The man who wins, who so hems in the piece of wood called a king that he may not move, gains nothing, proves nothing, establishes nothing but—"checkmate." Yet when he accomplishes that he tastes of a satisfaction deeper and more permanent than is accorded to statesman or lover, merchant or gambler. To accomplish it he deliberately, and for very love of the doing of it, undertakes an enormous mental effort, a thing which mankind in general shuns as if it were Satan himself. Truly a most mystical business this chess. In Paradise you will find politicians reading poetry, and poets studying morals; merchants will be cultivating the arts, and critics weeping on other people's necks; but the chess-players will be playing chess.

Dispensing With Early Rising.

Some genius has, according to his own advertisement, invented an apparatus to dispense with getting up so early in winter time to set the kettle boiling. As far as we understand it, you fix the new invention on your clock, and at the hour required it starts a fire under a kettle of water. As soon as the water boils a bell rings, and you wake up. This is not the sort of thing that takes the cake; it simply grabs it.

We once saw a remarkable invention of this nature in Sheffield. It consisted of a small, but powerfully built bedstead which had an ingenious clockwork arrangement attached, as you would expect, to the ticking of the mattress. In the morning a phonograph got up from under the bed, walked round to your side, and announced it was seven o'clock. After giving you two minutes to reply, one of the hands of the clock reached up and pulled your ear playfully. These were just preliminaries so to speak. If you didn't move then, the patent bed began business. It got up on its hind legs and ran downstairs with you inside it till it got to the garden, where you were shot into a modest little heap under the pump. By a clever arrangement of the process of suction you were drawn up to the mouth and a refreshing stream of cold water crawled down your back. If this didn't wake you, you had to wait for Gabriel's trumpet.

As a matter of fact, the inventor explained, it did wake most people. But in case you were too sleepy to collect your thoughts into fitting shape, by pressing a little knob in one of the blankets, a second phonograph would grind out a little appropriate profanity to ease your feelings. The invention is patented; and when it is put on the market it will beat all the spring mattresses going, as it does for summer, autumn and winter as well.—"Pick-Me-Up."

An "Infernal" Dinner.

A tiny girl of seven gave a dinner-party the other day, for which twelve covers were laid, and that number of small maidens sat down to dine. It was a real little girls' dinner, and the little hostess herself presided, sitting at the head of the table. She had been very anxious, in looking forward to it, to do everything as it should be done. "Mamma," she asked, "shall we say grace?" "No," said mamma; "it will be a very informal dinner, and I think you need not do that." That meant one ceremony the less to be gone through, and was a relief. But the little lady was anxious to have all her guests understand it. So, as they gathered about the table, she explained: "Mamma says that this is such an infernal dinner that we need not have grace to-day!"

The Despot of Vienna.

The citizen of Vienna who does not wish to be out of pocket must keep early hours, for after ten o'clock he is taxed on entering his own house, or, for the matter of that, any house. The "sperrgeld," or door-opening tax, is peculiar to Vienna, as the London "Express" explains. The entire population of that city, numbering nearly two millions, are practically imprisoned in their houses from ten o'clock in the evening until six the next morning. They can go in or out only by paying at least four cents to the janitor or "house-master," as he is called.

Vienna is built on the "flat" or apartment-house plan. Millionaires and working people alike live in houses of this description. The houses are large, having five or six floors, with four flats on a floor, so that it is not unusual to find a hundred persons living under one roof. There is one common entrance from the street, and after ten o'clock at night this door is bolted and barred. From ten until twelve all who go in or out must pay four cents. After twelve the charge is doubled.

The tax must be paid every time one passes through the doorway, without exception. If a man has occasion to go in and out half a dozen times, he must pay every time. One who has dined with a friend must, if he stay late, pay four cents to get out of his friend's house, and four more to get into his own. A telegram in the night necessitates the payment of the tax before the boy can enter.

The house-master also collects and keeps duplicate copies of the forms on which every individual in the house must report to the police his age, birthplace and religion, his exact occupation, and other personal details which the Austrian authorities insist upon knowing. Nor does the power of this important personage end even here. From the little guard-room which he occupies at the foot of the stairs he sees every one who goes in or out. He ascertains with amazing accuracy the amount of each tenant's income, the events of his family life, and the character of his visitors. His far-reaching power enables him to terrorise every servant in the house into entering his intelligence department, and thus he spies on the innermost life of the subjects in his five-storey kingdom.

In some cases the house-master is more powerful than in others. An English resident was obliged to move from an apartment that he particularly liked because he could not venture to speak with any degree of sharpness to the man at the door, even when the man was remiss in his duties. The flat was owned by a railway belonging to the State. This made the house-master a State official, an insult to whom is a very serious offence in Vienna. A reprimand for delaying letters would be construed into an insult, and the Englishman deemed it wise to move to other quarters.

Thousands of people in Vienna live in such terror of the house-master that, it is said, they never make an apple-tart without giving him half.

Buried by a Cougar.

A hunter who was trailing after bear meat in British Columbia reports to the "Western Sportsman" an experience which he calls a "narrow graze." If the incident happened as the hunter tells it, it was indeed a narrow graze; but one cannot help suspecting that some of the invigorating ozone of the North-West has got into the story. Nevertheless, it is worth hearing.

"It was warm and dry, and along in the middle of the afternoon I began to pine for rest and a pipe. It was all quiet and no traces of game, and so when I'd had a comfortable smoke I stretched out for a nap.

"It must have been an hour later that I woke up and found myself covered with two feet of leaves snug as the babes in the wood. I was all tucked in that cosy that nobody else could have done it but a cougar, and most likely a female cougar at that. It occurred to me with some force that I'd been filed away for future reference, and that I hadn't waked up any too soon. It didn't soothe me to figure on that cougar stowing me away as a dog hides a bone.

"It seemed that the best thing for me to do was to countermine that cougar's mine, as it were. So I hunted up a log about my size and covered it with the leaves—a nice fat hump on the ground. Then I shinned a tree close by, assuring myself beyond any doubts or peradventures that nobody had meddled with the working of my repeater.

"The cougar came in such a short time as to show how fortunate it was that I had waked up when I did, and with her, as I had calculated, were a choice lot of young ones. She had left a dinner located and had been off to get her family.

"Well, that cougar circled around the pile of leaves for a matter of minutes, crouching and picking a nice select place to spring from. When she got satisfied and made the leap she went through the air tremendous, throwing the leaves in a whirlwind and scratching and snarling. It was some of a shock when she found the log, but she didn't display any disappointment. She just took the scent and came to the foot of my tree and looked up, real venomous.

"It seemed to her an awkward job to handle, I having my gun ready so, and the cougar had an inspiration. She went to a tree about ten feet away and started to go up. She was after that meal and not to be discouraged by any trifles. It was her idea to climb up above me on the other tree and then bring me down with a flying leap.

"I didn't lose any more time with experiments or speculations, but let her have it the first time she came round the tree. The ball went through her jaw and breast, and the varmint went to the ground. The young ones were running around, and I knocked them over, too, with the gun.

"Since then I haven't gone to sleep in the woods so careless and casual like."

"Have the letters been duly examined by the hand-writing expert?" "Yes, your honor." "Very well, let the hand-writing expert now be examined by the insanity expert."—"Ohio State Journal."

SOFT COAL MINERS READY TO STRIKE

The Situation Regarded as Extremely Serious

COAL FAMINE IN CANADA

There is no Chance of an Early Settlement of the great Strike

President Gilray, Who Controls Central Pennsylvania Bituminous District, Tells Mitchell His Will Go Out if He Calls on Them For Help

Special to The Times.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 18.— Patrick Gilday, President of the Central Pennsylvania bituminous district of the United Mine Workers of America, who came here to consult President Mitchell on a matter local to his district, in a talk with a correspondent of the Associated Press gave an insight as to what the soft coal miners in his territory are doing to help their brother workmen in the anthracite field. Gilday said there are 42,000 soft coal miners in this district, and every one of them is taking a deep interest in the struggle now going on in this region. On the second day of the strike Gilday sent out instructions to every weighman and pit committeeman at the mines in his district to prevent the shipment of soft coal into anthracite territory, and thus far, he said, very little coal from his district has taken the place of anthracite. "There have been only four attempts by unionized mines to send soft coal to the anthracite markets" he said. "One order was intended for Mount Carmel, Pa., two for Philadelphia, and one for New York. As soon as the men at the mines learned the intended destination of the coal, we requested the mine owners not to send it, and they complied with our request. We are not interfering with the normal shipment of soft coal."

Men Ready to Strike.

President Gilday said he had no personal knowledge that the other bituminous district presidents were doing the same as himself, but he felt sure they were. There is some soft coal coming into the anthracite market from Central Pennsylvania and West Virginia, but it is mostly of non-union production. When asked regarding the feeling in his territory as to a general strike to help the hard coal miners, Gilday said: "Our men will do whatever President Mitchell says. They can have our financial support, and if Mitchell sees fit to ask our men to lay down their picks they will do it promptly. I do not believe, however, that there will be a general strike of the soft coal miners, because the anthracite men are going to win without it."

Asked as to how the miners expected to win in view of the fact that they have practically reached the limit of their resources in this region and the operators still stand out firmly, he replied: "By the slow destruction of mine property. By that I mean that if they do give the men the hours and pay they ask for the men will not consent to go into the mines and preserve the operations. The collieries will fill if the strike is not soon ended and the mines will begin to squeeze or cave in. All the timbermen are out and the timber which holds up the roofs of mines will soon begin to give way. These squeezes will cost thousands of dollars to repair and probably be the cause of the abandonment of many costly operations. When the investor's pocket begins to feel it, a change in the attitude of operators will come and the miners can wait for the change."

Object of Mission.

President Gilday's mission here was President Mitchell's consent to continue the strike against the Sonman Shaft Coal Company near Portage, Pa., and also the financial support of the national organization. He received both. The strike at that place was inaugurated on April 16th, because the company would not recognize the union and sign the wage scale. About 150 men are involved.

The strike at Bloomington mines, near Philippsburg, Pa., has been settled and the men will return to work tomorrow. Five hundred men struck there last Tuesday because four men would not join the union. The four men have quit work.

There were no developments here today. President Mitchell was in frequent telegraphic communication with his men in the west on general organization work. He had no information to impart on either the strike in this region or the West Virginia suspension.

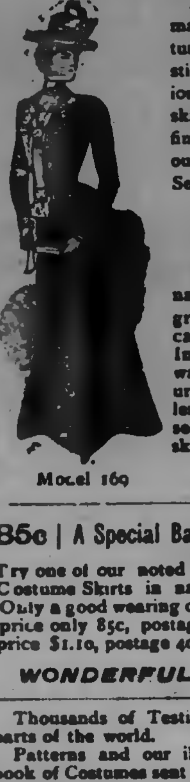
The delegation of Illinois miners' officials who are coming to see President Mitchell, will not arrive until the middle of the week. Much interest is attached to their visit as it is expected they will bring ers. Mitchell says they are mere information regarding the advisability of calling out soft coal mily coming to discuss some local differences in their state.

In regard to the above The Times interviewed Mr. J. H. McClellan, of the McClellan Coal Company, who said that everything pointed to a coal famine in Canada. The mines had now been closed down for nearly six weeks, and it would be impossible to catch up, as it took the entire output, working every day in the year, to supply the demand. Coal could not now be purchased by the car load.

$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.

LIMITED.



Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from al parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.

Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory, Bradford, England

AMERICA'S

BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly InterOcean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression

MAUDE MASSON, Principal.

Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture

CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.

Edith Borden, M. D., has the best treatment [illegible]

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R·I·P·A·N·S Tabules. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS For Ladies

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

Superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50 from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

Advertise in The Times.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP WORKS OF

Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRA LONDON,

Send or JOHN DIC catalogue of Cheap Lite Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octav, 394 pages, and all the original illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 336 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 328 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE

An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 169 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, contains 267 pages and all the Original Illustration by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 228 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tails-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printin Co.

Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE

ALES AND PORTER

—OF—

THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Soon to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle.

Hutchings Medicine Co

186 YONGE ST., TORONTO

King Edward VII. Notepaper.

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE

Market Block, Peterborough.

BIG G

CURE YOURSELF!

[illegible]

HEADQUARTERS FOR

PIG TIN,
LEAD AND ANTIMONY

ENQUIRE FOR PRICES

CANADA METAL CO

William St., Toronto, Ont.

NERVOUSNESS

Or despondency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early abuse, later excesses or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not eke out a miserable existence on account of your follies, you are not safe until cured—nature never excuses—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water comes freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not make it quite so freely, it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have a mucous deposit or brick dust colored sediment; give your condition immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed as a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chances. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., Cor. Wilcox Street, DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up...... ......$12,000,000
Reserved Fund...... 7,000,000
Undivided Profits...... 876,521
General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

3½ Per cent interest allowed on deposits from day of deposit to day of withdrawal, re payable at any time.

4 Per cent paid on Debentures, issued for 3 or 5 years.

Money to loan at lowest current rates.
Open every Saturday afternoon.
Office, 437 George street

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterborough, March 14, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL

BARRISTERS

OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. Commercial rooms.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 8½ Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck R. M. Dennistoun. A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 304 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo. A. FRY 304 Park place

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOsite roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 18 Toronto street Toronto

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & electricians, new 40 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board ... Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, publisher St. Louis

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 384 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No 372 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $6 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mage & Co., Room 711 44 and 46 Broadway, New York.

ACTIVE SOLICITOR WANTED. The war is over. Agents clearing $8.00 to $20.00 daily with "Pictorial History of Our War in South Africa." Highest endorsements. Everybody wants it. Contains thrilling history of the brave deeds of our boys in the war, and complete history of the war and the country. 600 pages $2.00. Only $1.50. Freight and duty paid. Outfit free. COLONIAL PUBLISHING CO., Dept. 2, Chicago.

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady; either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

Items of Interest

The appeals in the East Middlesex and Halton election cases came before Mr. Justice Osler at Osgoode Hall to-day, and were adjourned. Dates next week as first selected for the hearing, but as his Lordship will be engaged then, the cases must come up again this week, probably on Saturday afternoon. The counsel engaged are: In East Middlesex, A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., for the Liberals; C. H. Ritchie, K.C., and Eric Armour, for the Conservatives. In Halton E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., for the Liberals, and J. W. Elliott of Milton and Eric Armour for the Conservatives.

The South Bruce appeal is set down for Friday before Mr. Justice MacLennan, and the Lennox case will be heard by the same judge on Saturday at 11 o'clock. The Lennox case will surely go on. Geo. H. Watson, K.C., will appear for the Liberals, and S. H. Blake, K.C., and W. D. McPherson for the Conservatives.

Notice of appeal in Prince Edward County has been received at Osgoode Hall, but no word has as yet been received from North Grey, although an appeal is certain from that constituency.

London, June 18.—The official Gazette publishes a continuation of the field despatches written when Lord Roberts was in command in South Africa.

Lord Roberts speaks highly of the Canadian contingent, especially in connection with the unsuccessful attack on Cookson's camp March 31, 1900, in which he says the Canadian Mounted Rifles sustained the heaviest loss of the day. He particularly comments on the gallantry of Lieutenant Bruce Carruthers.

In conclusion, Lord Roberts says he wishes to record the fact that in April, 1900, Queen Victoria entrusted him with four woollen scarfs worked by herself, which she desired to be distributed to four distinguished private soldiers of the colonial contingents of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. The selection of the recipients in each case was left to the colonial officer commanding the contingent. The Canadian scarf goes to Private, now Lieutenant, Richard Rowland Thompson of the Royal Canadian Regiment, for personal gallantry in the field.

In a despatch dated March 31, in which he refers to the action at Brakspruit, Lord Kitchener praises highly the gallant stand made in this engagement by a handful of Canadians in an isolated position. Referring to this matter, Lord Kitchener remarks: "There have been few finer instances of heroism in the whole course of the campaign."

London, June 18.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's arrival is awaited with the keenest interest. Meanwhile Premier Seddon of New Zealand holds the field, with vigorous appeals for preferential tariffs within the Empire. Liberal journals chaff his ignorance of the doctrines of Adam Smith and Ricardo, but his views are being widely circulated.

Hon. Dr. Borden, when interviewed today by The Star representative, said that Canada will not establish any imperial defence fund over the expenditure of which she has no control. The colonies should be prepared to defend themselves and do it quickly. On that principle the Canadian Government acted in increasing the militia from 35,000 to 100,000 men.

Canadian Commercial Agent in Australia writes that in consideration of this

Ottawa, Ont., June 18.—J. S. Larke, Commonwealth having agreed to deliver letters from New Zealand bearing penny stamps without collecting any surcharge, he sought a like concession toward Canadian letters, and received the following reply:

"Regarding the decision of the Federal Government to accept letters from England and New Zealand prepaid only at the penny rate of postage, and your request that a similar privilege be extended to Canada, I have the honor to inform you that the decision of the Government was to receive, subject to approval of the country of origin, letters prepaid at one penny from all parts of the British Empire where that rate obtains as fully prepaid. This was wired to the Imperial Postmaster-General for communication to all countries concerned, but has been objected to by the Imperial authorities as interfering with the postal revenue of Great Britain."

"There seems," adds Mr. Larke, "to be good reason to believe that Canada can secure this privilege by negotiating with the Commonwealth and Imperial Governments. If so, it would relieve business with Canada from one of the annoyances it now suffers. Nearly one-half of the letters from Canada bear a two-cent stamp only, and the recipients are required to pay threepence additional before obtaining them."

The Eastern Extension Co. is persistent in its efforts to secure an agreement with the Australian Government. Their terms have not yet been made public. The drought continues over the island, and seriously hampers trade, but Mr. Larke considers that the orders sent to Canada are very good.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit $10 for any case that these pills do not help

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

all right, though. I haven't picked it up yet, but neither has he."

In the midst of these explanations I did lift my eyelids, despite the weight that tried to press them down. But it seemed only part of my dream that I should see a face not wholly strange—a strong, dependable face, not exactly handsome, but better than any handsome face I had ever known—better a thousand times than that of my cousin, Roger Cope, though Roger was considered one of the handsomest men in England.

He was supporting me against his shoulder, and when it suddenly dawned upon me that this was so my presence of mind came quickly back, and I promptly raised myself, standing up very straight and tall, as a tribute to my own dignity.

"I saw you in the theatre," I abruptly exclaimed. Then, as soon as the words were spoken, I wished them unsaid.

"I saw you in the theatre," he unhesitatingly answered. "I did not suppose that you had noticed me in the crowd. Forgive me for following you. You will think it very strange. But I beg that you won't misjudge me. I was afraid that you and—the lady you were with must be in trouble of some sort. That sounds a lame excuse, I know; but I've no better. I had the feeling that a force stronger than myself sent me after you. Perhaps I ought to have resisted. Yet I can't be sorry that I didn't. I hope you will allow me to offer you my cab. I can easily get another."

The dull, yellow light of a street lamp struck full upon his face as he talked, while mine must have been in shadow. He was flushed, and spoke rapidly, evidently in some haste to make good his case.

"It's all very strange," I said, slowly, my eyes studying his features, confusing him a little, perhaps. "I suppose—I must thank you, for—for——"

"Please don't thank me," he broke in. "I'd much rather you didn't. I don't deserve it. I know well enough, now that I begin to look at it in cold blood and from your point of view, rather than mine, that I had no right to do what I did. It was inexcusable. But don't visit my fault upon me. Please take the cab."

I hesitated. It was almost the first time in my life that the responsibility of making a "grown-up" decision had fallen upon me.

I liked this man; I believed in his sincerity and I was grateful, but I felt that probably I ought not to do any of these three things. If my mother were with me she would sweep me away from him with a stiff bow, a haughty word of thanks, at best, and hardly have waited till his back was turned before exclaiming at his impertinence. She would have said either that somehow the whole affair had been planned beforehand between this man and the cabman who had driven me, or else that the opportunity of doing me a favor was so unlooked for that the accident did not excuse his insolence in the first place.

Seeing that I had difficulty in deciding, he broke into the pause I made. "If I can read your mind," he said, "you are thinking that perhaps this offer is a deep-laid scheme to obtain your address. But, to show you that it is not so, I will leave you before you have given instructions to the driver."

"I will take the cab, since you are so kind," I stammered.

With curious perversity, I was now rather sorry that he should not hear my address, because, not knowing it, there was practically no chance that we should ever see each other again.

But I could not betray sentiments so unworthy of my bringing up. In silence I allowed myself to be helped into the hansom which was to be sacrificed to me, and, with a faint murmur of gratitude, I took the purse which he picked up from the pavement and handed to me, after wiping off a few spots of mud with his own handkerchief.

"Good-night," he said, lifting his hat. I noticed that his dark, close-cropped hair grew very nicely over his forehead, and was ashamed of myself for noticing it.

"Good-night, and thank you again." I faltered. He was moving away, as he had promised to do, without hearing the direction I should give the cabman. In another second he would be gone.

I felt the blood rushing hotly to my cheeks, and was conscious that I had called after him, not knowing quite what I intended to say. He looked at me questioningly, his hat still in his hand.

"I—I—only wanted to ask if—if you've told me all the reason why you followed me—I mean us?" I stammered, in great confusion.

"No," he said, sharply. "No. I have told you the true reason. But I have not told you all."

"Will you tell me now?" I demanded.

"I wish I could. But I cannot do that. It would be impossible that I could ever tell you."

He did not say this as if, with a little urging on my part, he might have been persuaded from his decision. Somehow, I knew that nothing that I could say would induce him to change. I was pierced with keenest curiosity, and I was vexed as well—more with myself than him. "Then—good-night," I exclaimed, almost sharply.

He moved away, and I waited until he had gone too far to overhear before I bade the cabman drive me to the Coburg Hotel. This was to punish myself, not him.

The hansom was briskly turned, and I was driven off at a good speed.

"What could have been his other reason?" I asked myself. "The reason it was impossible to tell?"

My mind dwelt upon it, repeating again and again that, as he had confessed, the explanation he had given was a lame one. It was not rational to suppose that a man should have risen in the midst of an absorbing play to follow two women from the theatre—follow one of them miles away from the theatre—merely because an impulse, inexplicable and uncontrollable, had goaded him to do so. There was something strange behind it all.

Where was my mother? I had hopelessly lost track of her long ago. And how was I to know whether some terrible evil had not befallen her?

CHAPTER III.

My Mother Comes Home.

By this time my mother might have arrived at the hotel, to find me playing truant. If this were the case, I could picture her anger, and I shrank from the thought, for the beautiful, sad woman whom I loved knew how to make

To be Continued.

Pennies by the Ton.

When one has put a penny in the slot and got his correct weight or a piece of chocolate, he seldom thinks of the thousands of other pennies dropped that very hour into other machines. The companies that own these "automatic vendors" receive tons of pennies, which they can turn back into circulation only through the United States Subtreasury, since banks refuse to handle pennies unless they are counted and packed in rolls, and the slot-machine companies would have to hire a large force of clerks to do this, and that would curtail their profits. The problem of counting pennies for deposit in the Subtreasury is simple. They are weighed like so many bullets on a scale, which registers not pounds and ounces, but dollars and cents. The collections from the slot-machines do not go directly to be weighed. The coin has first to be sorted, for it is mixed with all kinds of refuse—lead weights, buttons, bangles and counterfeits, put into the slot either in a spirit of mischief or to defraud the company. The boys who do this sorting wear antiseptic gloves, for the coins are very dirty and likely to spread disease. The refuse from the sorting process is usually valueless, although now and then gold pieces, bits of jewelry, gold and silver charms engraved with tender inscriptions find their way into the iron throat of the machine which swallows only copper cents. Hundreds of German pennies and many coins of higher value are found in the machines, put there through carelessness, for in these cases there can be no intention to cheat; there is nothing lower than a cent. Counterfeits abound. The cost of making is not great, and the per cent. of profit is large. People seldom take the trouble to look carefully at pennies, so counterfeits pass easily. On the Bowery in New York and at Coney Island from one to two per cent. of the copper in circulation is said to be spurious. So the owners of the penny-in-the-slot machines have more trouble with the actual money they receive than men in any other business. Making change relieves a street-car company from receiving nothing but nickels, but the penny-in-the-slot company must take the actual copper stuff and turn it into more convenient form. On lower Broadway it is no uncommon sight to see a wagon load of pennies going to the Treasury, in appearance only a load of canvas sacks, but really a clumsy embarrassment of riches.

A Believer in the Birch.

There are two very amusing little anecdotes in the newly-published "Memoirs of Herr von Busch," who lived for years in the confidence of Prince von Bismarck. It appears that the Iron Chancellor was not tender to his two sons when they were little, and spanked them for the slightest offence. Once Herbert and "Bill" had been caught stealing nuts in the garden of a neighbor, who, full of respect for the little gentlemen, only scolded them mildly.

At that very moment, however, Bismarck and Moritz Busch put in an appearance. "What!" cried the stern father; "is that all you find to say to these little scoundrels? Please cut one of the most elastic branches from your despoiled tree, and give them, under my very eyes, the best thrashing that they ever had. And, depend upon it, when I do it myself I do not spare them!" There was no getting out of it; so the neighbor set about the task as tenderly as possible, but Bismarck, stamping with his foot, kept on crying, "Go on! Go on! You coward!" till the wretched farmer, excited by the commanding voice, hit so hard that the boys asked for mercy.

Herr von Busch was indignant, and could not help venturing a few observations. "Bah!" Bismarck answered, "you are too much of a sentimentalist, and seem to ignore that the birch is the salvation of our German children. Look at the Prince Imperial himself! The birch never for a moment leaves the back of the chair of Fraulein H., his governess, who obeys orders, but hates beating her august pupil."

Then, choking with laughter, the Prince went on: "One day the poor, kind lady, after having administered a severe correction to Wilhelm, said, 'Believe me, your Highness, it hurts me more than it hurts you when I have to punish you so.' The boy shrugged his shoulders, looking somewhat incredulous. A little later, at luncheon time, when all the family was gathered round the table, he suddenly said to the governess, 'Is your back better?' On which Princess Victoria kindly asked her what was the matter with her back. 'Not much, I hope,' quickly answered the mischievous boy who is now Emperor, 'for I scarcely feel mine now, but you see, mother, Fraulein H. has such a sympathetic back that it begins to hurt her directly she commences to cane me, and she performed on me this morning.'"

The Glass Eye.

The following good story comes from Ceylon:—A tea-planter—he had a glass eye—was very desirous to go and have a day's shooting with a friend, but he knew that immediately the natives, who were at work on the plantation, got wind that he was away, they would not do a stroke of work. How was he to get off?—that was the question. After much thought an idea struck him. Going up to the men, he addressed them thus: "Although I myself will be absent, yet I shall leave one of my eyes to see that you do your work." And, much to the surprise and bewilderment of the natives, he took out the glass eye and placed it on the stump of a tree and left. For some time the natives worked like elephants, now and then casting furtive glances at the eye to see if it was still watching, but at last one of them, seizing the tin in which he carried his food, approached the tree, and gently placed it over the eye. As soon as they saw that they were not being watched they all lay down and slept peacefully until sunset.

Mrs. Hickay (who is entertaining her little son's playmate, aged five, to dinner)—Willie, can you cut your own meat? Willie (who is struggling with a piece on his plate)—Yes, thank you (with a desperate saw at the beef), I've cut quite as tough meat as this at home.—Glasgow "Evening Times."

Mainly About People.

"There was a witty fellow out in a Michigan hospital," says Representative William Alden Smith, "who had to be fed on a daily diet of egg and sherry. His physician asked him how he liked it. 'It would be all right, doctor,' he said, 'if the egg was as new as the sherry and the sherry as old as the egg.'"

It is related that once, when the Earl of Lauderdale was at dinner with King Charles, he remarked to the King: "There is a good saying, that fools make feasts and wise men eat them." "There is another as good," replied the Earl of Shaftesbury; "wits make jests and fools repeat them;" and the King advised Lauderdale to make sure of his man in future.

During the recent street car strike in St. Louis, Professor Hyatt, the weather observer, was about to get on a car, when a member of the strike committee stepped up to him and asked if he intended riding on the car. The professor replied that such was his intention. The striker sought to persuade him not to ride, but he started to get on the car. "Well, if you ride on that car we will withdraw our patronage from you," said the striker. "I don't care whether you patronize me or not. I'm in the weather business," replied Professor Hyatt, and he entered the car.

In a Georgia justice court a colored witness was asked to name the time a difficulty occurred. "Hit wus in fodder pullin' time, suh," he replied. "You don't understand me," said the judge. "I mean, what time was it by the clock?" "Dey warn't no clock dar, suh," said the witness. "Well, by the sun, then?" "Now," exclaimed the witness, triumphantly, "sence you hes come right down ter business I'll tell you plain: Ef de sun had been a-shinin' hit would er been 'bout two hours en a half by sun; but es de sun didn't show his face 'tall dat day I couldn't say fer sartin des what time hit was!"

At the funeral of a lawyer of state reputation, who lived and practised in a town not far from Philadelphia, and who was known among his friends as an unbeliever, an eminent gentleman from Philadelphia reached the house after the minister had begun the sermon. Not knowing how far the service had progressed, he accosted a well-known Quaker of the town, who was a friend of the deceased, and who was noted for his great sense of humor, and, leaning over his shoulder, asked in a whisper: "What part of the services have they reached?" To which the Quaker, without a smile, replied: "Just opened for the defence."

A story of poor Aurelien Scholl, who lately joined the majority, gives a good idea of the caustic humor which made him an oddity among French writers. At a celebrated cafe—not, I think, the Maison Doree, though he was at one time a great supporter of M. Verdier's, alas! moribund establishment—he was offered a Burgundy, which was praised by the host as "true velvet," but had, in fact, become a little sharp with age. "Yes," said Scholl, after tasting it, "velvet, but with pins in it!" Soon after came a Bordeaux, said on the same authority to be "the most generous wine in his cellar." "It is," was this time the verdict, "for it has given away all its good qualities!"

Magistrate Devoy, in the Myrtle Avenue Court, Brooklyn, recently had four darkies who were caught in a gambling raid before him. The first of the lot to be brought to the bar was an undersized man, with a comical face, as black as night. The dialogue between the magistrate and the prisoner created some merriment in the court. "What is your name?" enquired the magistrate, sternly. "Mah name's Smiff," replied the darky. "What is your profession?" "I'se a locksmiff by trade, sah." "What were you doing when the police broke into the room last night?" "Judge, I was pursuin' mah profession. I was makin' a bolt for the door." "Officer," said the magistrate, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "lock Smith up."

The late Sol Smith Russell had three young nieces living in the West, of whom he was very fond. On one occasion, so the story goes, he took the youngest of them for a walk and bought her some candy on the agreement that it was not to be eaten until they reached her home. They started, but before they had gone far the little girl proposed, "Let's wun!" Her uncle declined, and there was long pleading, all to no purpose. Finally, the little girl stopped, knelt down on the pavement, and offered up the petition: "Dod, please make Uncle Sol wun." It was simply a question of my losing my dignity, or her losing her faith in God," said Mr. Russell, in relating the incident, "so we ran as fast as we could for home."

Patronage.

The impressionist had finally sold one of his creations. A brother artist who had arrived, or, as we say, "got there," not only persuaded one of his own customers to buy a painting by the less successful man, at a good figure, but got him an invitation to visit the patron's house to see the picture as it hung on the wall.

It was a painting of a sky, a bridge and a stream, and as they stood before it the purchaser fairly exhausted his vocabulary of art in expatiating on the naturalness of the water and the poetic beauty of the sky. The man who had done the painting smiled and smiled, but at the same time mopped beads of perspiration from his brow. Finally he got his friend into the hallway and there exploded.

"Good gracious!" he groaned. "They've hung my picture upside down!"

Modern English.

A Washington lady who is so fond of her home that she stays in it sometimes all the year round was assailed, says "Lippincott's Magazine," by a conventional friend in conventional language.

"I knew that you usually wintered here," she said, "but I was astonished to hear that you had summered here!"

"I have not only wintered here and summered here," replied the unfashionable one, "but I will astonish you still further when I tell you that I always fall here and have sometimes sprung here."

THEY ARE PRETTY

For the month of May we will off suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at........	40c
Suspenders..............	15c
Overalls, with bib, at..........	40c
Smocks, at..............	60c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB

Ladies and Gent's Tailor

One door south of Montreal Bank

Canvasser

—WANTED—

to sell PRINTERS' INK—a journal for advertisers—published weekly at five dollars a year. It teaches the science and practice of Advertising and is highly esteemed by the most successful advertisers in this country and Great Britain. Liberal commission allowed. Address PRINTERS INK, 10 Spruce St., New York

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

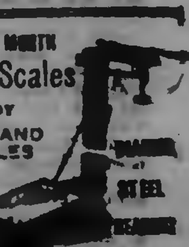
FOR EVERYBODY

COAL GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON

21 ESPLANADE STREET EAST TORONTO.



TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS. Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewriter Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N.Y

READ THIS.

READ THIS. $700.00 in Bank will yield you $21.00 per year, we can give you better security and a return of over $71.00 per year for same money.

See cards in our office window for other suitable investments.

Choice building Lots, Houses and Lots, Gardens and farms for sale.

T. HURLEY & CO.

Near Post Office

Phone, 375, Ground Floor.

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

- SWEATY FEET
- SORE FEET
- ACHING FEET
- BLISTERED FEET
- HOT FEET
- INFLAMED FEET
- SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

Shun any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper article.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

-AND-

MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 19 190

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is 'phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—The barbers of the town have formed a union.

—Another large excursion came up the river yesterday from Millbrook and Bethany.

—Chief Rossel wants an owner for a bridle which he found on the market.

—With the finest Canadian strawberries at 4 and 5 cents a thingful who cares about the price of meat!

—Next Thursday, being Coronation day, will be observed throughout the British domains as a public holiday.

—Mr. Arthur P. Choate, with his usual generosity donated $100 to the funds, of St. Joseph's Church, Douro.

At the cheese board yesterday the highest price paid was 9 5-8c. A full report will appear to-morrow.

—The first regular meeting of the newly organized Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's Church will take place tomorrow evening.

—At a congregational meeting held in St Andrews church last night the Rev J G Potter was elected as representative on the Nicholls Hospital Board.

—The fireman's excursion to Orillia yesterday was largely attended, there being about 250 citizens on board. The 57th Regt. Band accompanied the excursionists.

—One of our exchanges says that a thousand farmers attended a beet pic-nic at Jubilee Point. That's more beats than we ever saw at a farmers' pic-nic.

—The steamer City of Peterborough will leave the Peterborough wharf every 15 minutes during this afternoon, for the cemetery, callling at Ashburnham. Return tickets only 10 cts.

— A man named August Vainkingelsteinhausenklotzer has gone to work in the Grand Trunk car shops at Lindsay. This great family journal does not know exactly how big Lindsay is but the chances are August will have to stake his name outside the corporation every night.

—The question of the new equalized assessment for the several municipalities of the county will be dealt with at the session of the County Council this morning, when a deputation, representing the municipalities, will wait on the Council.

—Hon. Mr. Tarte will arrive in town this morning. His private car came attached to the regular C.P.R. morning express. The minister will be met at the station at 8 o'clock and after breakfast, which he will have in his car, he will be escorted up town by Mr. J. H. McClellan and Mayor Deane.

—Complaints are being received of the wanton robbing of birds nests in the west end by a gang of heartless boys. Perhaps they are not aware that the practice is punishable by a fine and imprisonment, and it is too bad that an example is not made of some of the offenders. Chief Rossel has been given the names of a number and steps are being taken to bring them to justice.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Hon. J. R. Stratton has been elected vice-president of the Traders Bank.

—Miss Chandler, of Belleville, is visiting Mrs. Birdsall, Edinburgh street.

—Mr. George W. Rannie of Belleville is renewing old acquaintances in town.

—Mr. C. B. McAllister and Mr. Wenkler have returned from a successful fishing trip to Buckhorn.

—Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Cox, Miss Maggie Cox and Miss Ada McBain left yesterday on a trip to England. They will be absent about six weeks.

In Honor of the Minister

The flags are raised on the public buildings to-day in town in honor of the Hon. J. I. Tarte, Minister of Public Works. It is always customary to raise the flags on public buildings on the occasion of a visit of a Minister of the Crown or the leader of the Opposition.

G. T. R. Increase Pay

An advance of ten cents a day has been granted by the Grand Trunk Railway to the yardmen and bosses on the middle division of the road, a circular from Mr. G. C. Jones, Superintendent of the division, issued yesterday, notifying the men of their increase. Foreman now receiving $2.10 a day will be paid $2.20 and yardmen receiving $1.60 to $1.70 will receive $1.70 and $1.80.

Unmistakable Signs of Catarrh.

If you have a ringing in the ears, dropping in the throat, bad breath, headache, morning weakness, bad taste in the mouth—then it's catarrh. Use Catarrhozone Inhaler four times daily and erradicate this awful disease from your system. Catarrhozone kills the germs, heals the inflamed membranes, clears nose, throat and air passages by one application. Catarrhozone quickly remedies the head noises and deafness, prevents dropping, and is guaranteed to absolutely cure all forms of Catarrh, Bronchitis Asthma, and Lung Troubles. Two months' treatment costs $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Headache.

A Double Presentation

A union gathering of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary and the Ladies' Aid Society of Charlotte street Methodist church was held Tuesday afternoon in the Sunday School Room. There was a large attendance. Addresses were presented to the retiring pastor and his wife. The latter was also the recipient of a beautiful tea set from the Missionary Society, and a magnificent jardinere from the Ladies' Aid Society. Mrs. Crossley was taken completely by surprise, but replied expressing her very great appreciation of the kindness shown her during the years of her stay in Peterborough, and thanking the ladies of both Societies for their very kind words and tokens of regard just presented. An hour or more was then spent in pleasant social intercourse, during which a splendid tea was partaken of, two large tables erected in the School Room being filled with the company.

DECORATION DAY

Programme of the Ceremonies Connected With the Honoring of the Dead

Arrangements are now complete for a successful observance of Decoration Day by the local Oddfellows, if the weather be fine this afternoon.

The procession will leave Central Park at 2 o'clock headed by the band of the 57th regiment and proceed to the cemetery, where, after the decoration of the graves, addresses will be delivered by the local clergymen.

Persons wishing to donate flowers may leave them at the store of Bro. I. Harry Long, on George street.

The general public are asked to join with the Oddfellows in making the occasion a very successful one. No doubt the attendance will be large as the date has now been definitely set for the third Thursday in June, in order that other events may not clash with the Decoration Day.

GO WAY BACK

Or Feed so you Can Keep Up

People must be well fed in this world if they are expected to do good work. A carpenter with poor tools must take less wages and handle the poor jobs. So in life, the person with a weak, badly d body, must get out of the way for the strong ones.

A school teacher writes from Vermont. She had been compelled to take a little, backwoods school for small wages because she had not the strength to conduct a better school.

"Small appetite and poor digestion kept me weak. I had been compelled to rest at the noon hour and shut myself away from all company morning and night. In this way only could I work, up to about a year ago, when a lady visiting here from California led me to share a dish of Grape-Nuts with her. During the winter I ate occasionally of the food, always with good results.

Last July it was necessary for me to attend the summer school for teachers. Being poor in purse and sick in body I could not pay the expense of boarding in a big place, so I rented a room and boarded myself. Grape-Nuts and cream tasted good and I lived almost exclusively on the food.

Gradually, to my surprise, toward the end of the second week the sort of mental haze that had been about me for a long time broke away and I grasped the thought presented with a clearness I had not known for a long time.

I came back to my school with better health and memory than I have known for 20 years, and, now, while at work, I repeat I have better nerve and brain power and better digestion than I have had before in 20 years."

There is reason for this. Grape-Nuts Food is a sure steady brain-builder. It is made for that purpose and anyone can prove its use. Name given by Postum Cereal Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A booklet of excellent recipes in each package of Grape-Nuts.

THE ONTARIO BANK

Elsewhere will be found the annual financial statement of the Ontario Bank, which was submitted to the shareholders at the annual meeting of that progressive institution on Tuesday last. We heartily congratulate the General Manager and officers of the bank on the splendid result of the year's operations

The net profits, after deducting charges of management, interest accrued on deposits, and making provision for all bad and doubtful debts, amounted to $163,500.73. Adding to this the balance brought forward last year, $16,996.04 and premiums on new stock, the total on the credit side of the ledger is $191,624.14 From this has been paid two half yearly dividends—one of 21.2 per cent and one of 3 per cent—amounting in the aggregate to $76,624.14; $5,000 to Reserve for Officers' Pension Fund and, $75,000 to Rest. There remains the sum of $34,411.14 to be carried forward to Profit and Loss. The Rest Account now stands at $245,000.

These figures tell their own story, and will prove most gratifying to the many friends of the bank in Peterborough and elsewhere.

The local branch, under the capable management of Mr. John Crane, has a splendid record, and is steadily increasing its business. No cast iron rules govern its dealing with its customers, such as prevailed in bygone days in many of the leading banks of the country. The result is that the bank is immensely popular, and probably enjoys the largest business of any bank outside the chief cities.

WANT SALE HELD HERE

Effort Being Made to Have Provincial Sale Held in Peterborough

A joint meeting of the directors of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society and the officers of the Farmers' Institute was held yesterday afternoon, when it was decided to urge upon the Superintendent of the Live Stock Association of the Province the claims of Peterborough for the third live stock annual sale.

It is hoped that the joint action of the two bodies will suffice to secure the coming sale here.

HON. MR. TARTE IN TOWN

The Minister of Public Works Arrived Early This Morning

Hon. Mr. Tarte arrived here this morning by C.P.R., and will spend the forenoon looking over the town. He will inspect the Cereal Works, and the river front, which it is proposed to improve. He will also view the lift lock, and the cordage works. The Minister is accompanied by Governor Julian and his wife of St. Pierre and Miquelon. Yesterday Mr. J. H. McClellan received a telegram, stating that the Minister would arrive as above.

In the afternoon Mr. Tarte and party, accompanied by Hon. Mr. Stratton, will drive out to the Douro pic-nic. He will return to town in the evening, and will attend a reception to be held at the Oriental Hotel in the evening. The party will return to Ottawa on the midnight C.P.R.

FEDERAL LABOR UNION

Supper and Entertainment Held Last Night in Labor Hall

A very successful and enjoyable entertainment of the Federal Labor Union was held last evening in the labor hall. Refreshments were to be served from 7 to 8 p.m., but the crowd in attendance was so large that it was 8.30 before the speeches and programme began.

The refreshment room was elaborately decorated with bunting flowers, &c. and contained three large tables each capable of seating about 50 people and these were continually filled. This feature of the entertainment was very ably prepared, and presided over by "Grandpa" Taylor

The hall was comfortably filled when Mr. J. McCann, Secretary of the Peterborough Labor Union, took the chair and in opening the meeting said he was pleased to see the ladies present, it being the first meeting of this union at which the ladies had turned out. In his opinion, Canada was in a highly prosperous condition; large dividends were being paid by most companies, business was flourishing, but this did not better the condition of the laboring classes. It was to accomplish such benefit that this union had been formed and it had been successful, and the members and their friends had met here to-night to congratulate each other on the success that had been achieved.

MR. D. O'CONNELL

Was the next speaker and in a very able and interesting speech said that he was glad to make his first speech in the interests of the labor union in Peterborough. In his opinion the laboring people were the greatest importance in the affairs of a country and it was in the countries where the franchise had been extended to the class known the world over as the "wicked class" that the prosperity was greatest. He thought that there was no limit to the prosperity and future of a country like Canada and it was the duty of every man to help build up the prosperity and success of our great Dominion in which every right and privilege possible had been granted to the laboring men; and the only way to do this was through the unity and co-operation of the great laboring classes.

Since the union had been established the laboring men had had more benefits, better wages, etc., than before the union was established. If the working men were as true to their own interests as to the mother land from which they came, there would be found cradled in the North American continent the future empire of the world here.

REV MR. DAVIDSON

Next spoke and expressed his pleasure at seeing such a large representation of the working classes present. It was the object of the union to unite the world's workers and the union would endeavor to stand together as long and as successfully as they could for the benefit of their fellow-laborers.

The chairman then read a letter from Mr. R. R. Hall expressing his regrets at his inability to be present and address the meeting.

MR. M. MACMAMORA

One of the oldest members of the union made a short speech but in view of the proceeding to come did not detain the audience long.

MR. J. H. MCLELLAN

congratulated the committee on the success of its entertainment. He was very sorry that Mr. Hall was unable to be present. When he joined this union their were only 26 members and the increase since then had been wonderful. While the union had not gained all they asked for they had obtained some valuable concessions. He had come into the union at the time of the C.P.R. strike and they had seen that amicably settled and the union was now beginning to be recognized.

When the members entered the union they had made a promise to "treat others as they would themselves be treated" and by sticking to that rule the union would be sure to succeed.

In conclusion he urged the men to unite with the one view of working for their wives and children.

The speeches were interspersed with songs, duets, instrumentals, etc., which added much to the enjoyment of the evening. This part of the entertainment closed by singing "God Save the King." Adjournment was then made to a room which had been especially fitted up, and various amusements indulged in.

The pleasure of the evening was also greatly added to by the kindness of Mr. J. R. Stratton M.P.P., in donating a number of cigars.

Council Did not Meet

Council did not meet last night as expected, but merely informally discussed in committee the question of dredging the Otonabee River. The measure will now stand in abeyance until after the Hon. I. Israel Tarte's visit. The minister will arrive in town to-day.

All Saints' New Church

It has been decided by the congregation of All Saints' to proceed with the erection of a new church. The proposed building will cost about $8,000, and will be an ornament to that part of the town. The matter of soliciting contributions and arranging further details was left in the hands of a committee composed of the members of the Advisory Board with power to add to their number.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25, $1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for 1.25
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75, for..$1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00, for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS ! STRAW HATS !

Plain Straw Hat..............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c, $1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ...ARCHITECT..
450 George Street

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CORONATION DAY

JUNE 26TH.

DOMINION DAY

JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y. Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

GOOD GOING JUNE 25th AND 26th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also GOOD GOING JUNE 30th AND JULY 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

GOOD GOING JUNE 24th to JULY 1st, inclusive, valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from

W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26 | DOMINION DAY

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 2,

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

An Established Fact

Malt Breakfast Food

A BANISHER OF DYSPEPSIA AND STOMACH TROUBLES

A True Nourisher of The Whole System

Malt Breakfast Food is now recommended by physicians and food experts as a banisher of all digestive troubles. Mr. R. V. Trent, Halifax, N. S. says: "For over five years dyspepsia made life a misery for me. After faithful dieting on Malt Breakfast Food for three weeks I am rid of dyspepsia. I now relish my meals thanks to Malt Breakfast Food." Grocers say it is the most popular food. Ask your dealer for a package.

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

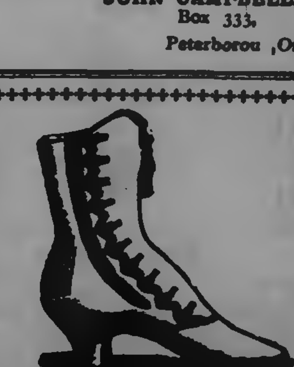
283 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 180, 195 and 215, day or night.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborou ,Ont



Coronation !

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,
HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

Electric Lamps 25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 144 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO FRIDAY JUNE 20 1902 PRICE TWO CENTS

THE AMERICANS' STRENUOUS AIMS CONSPIRACY AGAINST ENGLAND.

China the Plot, the Essential Interest and the Prize of the Contest--Where is Great Britain

All Eyes Are Turned Toward the East--The Fight For the Pacific.

Special to The Times.

Kobe, Japan, June 19.—In Japan here "the future of the Pacific," as a fact of the hour, is felt rather than perceived.

England seems too far away to come into the drama in person. Canada represents her.

Germany, with her two great shipping corporations as champions, is soon to appear on this vast oceanic stage. Russia is on the Pacific; but a corner of the ocean, not the ocean itself, concerns her—for the present, at any rate. Australia has a part to play, but it must be in the Southern Pacific for the present, whereas the Northern Pacific is the Pacific with the future.

CHINA THE PRIZE

And then there is China—China the plot the essential "interest" of the drama, the prize of the fight. Japan also other prizes, but she wants rewards in return, and is playing for them.

There is a fascination in the vastness of the problem; in its importance; in the panorama of possibilities it offers—a panorama now opening as the panorama of the Atlantic's future began to open half a century ago.

But America alone, as it seems as yet perceives of this panorama of possibilities. And there is, let it be said at once, what may be called a "geographical conspiracy" to give to America the very lion's share of the spoils of the fight if she enter into it with her own cunning energy, as indubitably she will.

Let us see how American men and American interests and other men and other interests are awakening to the future of the Pacific. Mr. James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway of the United States—James J. Hill, a man of the mould of the betterknown J. P. Morgan—initiated the boom in Pacific "futurities" which is now begun. His corporation is having built at New London, United States, four steamers of 20,000 tons displace ment each. They are for the Great Northern Railways trans-Pacific service—a service hitherto maintained in co-operation with steamship companies already on the Pacific.

NEW PACIFIC SHIPS 140,000 TONS.

The Pacific Mail Company is completing two steamers of 12,000 tons carrying capacity (even these are 6000 tons bigger than the biggest vessels at present running regularly on the Pacific) at Newport, U.S.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company is the British champion in this fight for oceanic spoils. Its three fine "Empress" lines have the first fame among travelers in this part of the world. At the last annual meeting of the company it was announced that the company will build several new vessels, one of them, the largest, to be an addition to the "Empress" trans-Pacific fleet, which means 6000 tons more on the total trans-Pacific tonnage.

The leading Japanese company the Nippon Yusen Kaisha (at present the ninth in the world in total tonnage), recently placed a new liner of 6300 tons on their Japan-Seattle line, and there is a likelihood that another may soon be added. Another Japanese company—the Toyo Kisen Kaisha—is soon to place two great new vessels on its trans-Pacific line.

All this is now trans-Pacific tonnage of the immediate future. It means a certain addition to the total of that tonnage of perhaps 140,000 tons within two years.

The compass of the Pacific boom can be translated into the simple statement that, whereas in 1890 the trans-Pacific steamship tonnage was, perhaps, 100,000, in 1903, it will of a certainty be 300,000, and in 1905 may easily be 350,000. This, be it understood, is exclusive of Australia's share in the present and future of the Pacific, and exclusive also of all speculations connected with the Nicaraguan Canal.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST ENGLAND.

The Pacific coast of America is 5000 miles distant from China and Japan. Europe—England, Germany, France—is 12,000 miles. There you have the geographical conspiracy stated in a nutshell. Inevitably, other conditions being equal, China and Japan must tend to do more trade with producing centres that are only 5000 miles away than with similar centres that are 12,000 miles away. As a matter of fact, the United States even now supplies onefifth of the yearly imports into Japan. Great Britain supplies one-fourth. Twenty years ago Great Britain supplied one-half and the United States one-tenth.

In reality, however, this is not a demonstration—not completely— of the success of the geographical conspiracy. That success in great part has yet to come. American trade with China and Japan—the Orient — has been run up in the past mainly through agencies that have little to do with the inexorable disabilities of distance. The operation of these latter in favor of American goods is for the future. At present, manufacturing America is the eastern half of the United States—the Atlantic States and the Middle States. If the western half of the United States—the Pacific coast States, that is—were the manufacturing America, all Europe might pant in vain after the illimitable trade possibilities of the Far East.

Even now however, it is the trans-continental railway rates that alone prevent American manufactures from sweeping the European product from the Far Eastern market. At the present moment several important classes of American manufactures are carried from New York to Far Eastern Asia via the Suez Canal at much less than the lowest rates across the American continent and across the Pacific, although long and the trans-continental, trans-Pacific route 9000 only. But the doubling of the trans-Pacific steamer tonnage in two or three years from now proves that rates must inevitably fall.

CLEVELAND IN POLITICS

The Ex-President of the United States Enter The Political Arena

Special to The Times.

New York, June 20.—For the first time since his retirement from the presidency Grover Cleaveland last night delivered a speech to a political audience. The occasion that drew the former President from his home at Princeton to New York was the opening of the new home of the Tilden Club, Broadway near Seventy-fourth street. That the gathering was of great political significance goes without saying, for it is well known that Mr. Cleaveland could not be induced to deliver a political address unless he were convinced that it would have an important bearing on the future welfare of his party. This fact is universally recognised and as a consequence those who take an interest in national politics manifested intense interest in the meeting.

The gathering was not for the purpose of launching a new Democracy, but to welcome all leaders of Democratic thought who may have been opposed to each other in the past and to make "the occasion of the opening of the club a direct effort to harmonise various discordant elements of the party."

Former Senator David B. Hill, believed that a complete reconciliation between him and Mr. Cleveland may be brought about. Among others who are expected to be present are Senator Bacon, of Georgia, Mayor Patrick Collins, of Boston, ex-Secretary of State Richard Olney, Dr. Felix Adler, John D. Milburn of Buffalo, William Everett of Massachusetts, Governor Aycock, North Carolina, W. Burke Cockran, Lewis Nixon, Judge of Arkansas, District Attorney Jerome of New York, Edward Atkinson, of Boston and many Democratic members of the United States Senate, the House of Representatives and the State Legislature.

A POPULAR REPRESENTATIVE

Is the Appointment of the New British Ambassador

Special to The Times.

New York, June 20.—Aside from the political significance of the appointment of the Hon. Michael Herbert to succeed the late Lord Pauncefote as the Ambassador of Great Britain to the United States, New York society is interested in the selection for Mrs. Herbert is a former New York belle She is a sister of the younger Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and a daughter of R. T. Wilson, the banker. Mrs. Herbert is a strikingly beautiful women, admirably fitted for her new position by her continued association with the elite of the Old World and there is no doubt that she will become immediately one of the leaders of Washington's Smart Set when her husband shall have assumed his duties in the Capital next autumn.

Kaiser Impersonates Charlemagne

Special to The Times.

Berlin, June 19.—Regarding his historic pilgrimage to the Holy Land in its vivid and striking imagery was the visit of the Kaiser to Aix la Chapelle today. In order to give more brilliancy to the occasion the imperial suite camped outside the walls from midnight to daybreak, when the party entered the city on horseback, the Kaiser dressed as Charlemagne. He was preceded by heralds trumpeting his arrival and followed by a company of feudal lords, all costumed as their ancestors were in the Middle Ages. At the city gates a body of notables delivered to the Kaiser the symbolical keys on a crimson cushion, and the cortege then proceeded through the mediaeval part of the town. After a solemn visit to the cathedral, the Kaiser was escorted to the town hall, the ancient quarters of Charlemagne, where he met the authorities and notables of the town.

Knighthoods for Three Canadians

London, June 20.—The list of coronation honors has not yet been passed, and the proposals are most strictly guarded. It would surprise no one if Messrs. Mulock, Fielding, and Borden were offered knighthoods, in view of their services on behalf of the preferential tariff, Imperial postage, and the war.

The Canadian coronation arch is almost completed. It is a magnificent emblem, in the heart of official and parliamentary England, and is already the centre of attention for crowds.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's speech in the Commons last night gives one more turn to the Customs union discussion. He declared it an extraordinary delusion to suppose the Government intended to change the principle upon which the fiscal system of the country is based. Liberal journals declare this third speech makes preferential tariffs impossible, except after a Cabinet upheaval.

The Canadian troops are now taking turn as guard of honor to the Colonial Premiers' quarters at the Hotel Cecil, to the great enjoyment of the crowd.

DECORATING THE GRAVES.

BY THE ODDFELLOWS OF PETERBORO' YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

A Very Pretty Ceremony—The Beautiful Cemetery Visited by Hundreds—The Procession, Headed by the Band

The graves of the deceased Oddfellows were decorated yesterday by the local brethren. The procession, headed by the band of the 57th Regiment, left Central Park at 2.30, and marched to the Cemetery. Arriving there the opening ceremony was proceeded with. A short invocation was offered, and the brethren united in singing an appropriate hymn. The brethren then divided into sections and proceeded with the decoration of the graves, each floral tribute being deposited with the usual ceremony. The graves decorated were those of the following;

Bro. Judge J. B. Hall, ex-M. P., 1st N.G., Otonabee Lodge.

" Sheriff W. S. Conger, ex-M. P., 2nd N. G. Otonabee Lodge.

" Chas. Perry, ex-M. P., 1st V. G., of Otonabee Lodge

" Col. McDonald, Otonabee Lodge.

" Sheriff Hall, Otonabee Lodge.

" Samuel Albro, Otonabee Lodge.

" Dr. Wm. Bell, Otonabee Lodge.

" Jas. Hamilton, Otonabee Lodge.

" W. Gilbert, Peterborough Lodge.

" Alex. Baptie, Peterborough Lodge.

" Wm. Hall, Otonabee Lodge.

" W. H. Wrighton, Otonabee Lodge.

" Jas. Jenkins, Otonabee Lodge.

" A. Sawers, Otonabee Lodge.

" F. Ferguson, Otonabee Lodge.

" W. H. Scott, ex-M.P., Peterborough Lodge.

" Jas. Ferguson, Otonabee Lodge.

" Jas. Harvey, Otonabee Lodge.

" E. Chamberlain, Otonabee Lodge.

" T. J. H. Bucket, Peterborough Lodge

" J. Martin, Peterborough Lodge.

" C. W. Rubidge, Peterborough Lodge

" J. L. Hughes, Otonabee Lodge.

" J. Robinson, Otonabee Lodge.

" Thos. Fortye, Otonabee Lodge.

" Dr. Allen, Peterborough Lodge.

" Dr. Bennett, Peterborough Lodge.

" A. White, Peterborough Lodge.

" A. Tully, Otonabee Lodge.

" D. Carlisle, Peterborough Lodge.

" Jas. Bird, Otonabee Lodge.

" W. Beal, Peterborough Lodge.

" W. H. J. Vizard, Otonabee Lodge.

" John Reid, Otonabee Lodge.

" Dr. McNab, Otonabee Lodge.

" Samuel White, Peterborough Lodge.

" James Foley, Otonabee Lodge.

" Fred Rubidge, Peterborough Lodge.

" Capt. Fraser, Otonabee Lodge.

" David Sim, Peterborough Lodge.

" J. Haggart, Otonabee Lodge.

" A. Mooney, Peterborough Lodge.

" G. Rubidge, Peterborough Lodge.

" T. H. Foster, Peterborough Lodge

" R. Rowe, Otonabee Lodge.

" W. C. Downer, Otonabee Lodge.

" Donald Bailie, Otonabee Lodge.

" A. Rutherford, Otonabee Lodge.

" Andrew Wilson, Peterboro' Lodge.

" Rev. W. Smith, Otonabee Lodge.

" Chevalier W. Smith (Canton No. 10.) Peterborough Lodge.

" W. J. Rombough, Otonabee Lodge.

" J. McKim, Peterborough Lodge.

" Wm. Moyes, Almonte Lodge.

" R. A. Smith, Otonabee Lodge.

" W. Crossley, Brandon Lodge, Man.

" S Roadhouse, Peterborough Lodge.

" J. W. Dowie, Otonabee Lodge.

" J. Eastland, Peterborough Lodge.

" Jos. Phillips, Otonabee Lodge.

" W. Kingdon, Selkirk Lodge.

" John Fraser, Peterborough Lodge.

" Fred Foote, Peterborough Lodge.

" J. M. Armstrong, Otonabee Lodge.

" N. Nicholls, Peterborough Lodge.

" L. E. Gillespie, Peterborough Lodge

" Thos. Connal, Otonabee Lodge.

" Geo. Milne, Otonabee Lodge.

" Wm. Cluxton, Otonabee Lodge.

" E. Parsons, Peterborough Lodge.

Catarrhozone

An instant relief and perfect cure for colds, coughs, catarrh, deafness, asthma, bronchitis, lung trouble and consumption.

Inhale Catarrhozone five minutes any time and it cures a cough or a cold in the head.

Inhale Catarrhozone four times daily and it permanently cures Chronic Catarrh, Deafness, Asthma and Hay Fever.

Inhale Catarrhozone ten minutes every hour and it cures Pneumonic Consumption, Lung Trouble, and prevents all contagious diseases. Complete outfit $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston

THE DOURO PIC-NIC.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER HELD IN PETERBORO DISTRICT

Hon. Mr. Tarte Present and Delivers and Oration—Hon. J. R. Stratton Also Present with a Number of Others.

The Rev. Father Kielty, the popular pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Douro, and the Committee who assisted him, have just reason to feel proud of the result of their annual picnic in aid of the funds of the Church, which took place yesterday. This event is always looked forward to every year with a great deal of interest and pleasing anticipations, but this year was more than ordinary so. This is accounted for by the fact that the Hon. J. I. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, Ottawa, and Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, were among the speakers.

Hon. Mr. Tarte and party drove out after dinner, and on their arrival at the picnic grounds, were given a hearty welcome by Rev. Father Kielty and committee in charge. After taking a look around the grounds, they were escorted to the platform, and publicly introduced to the people.

Speeches were made by the two ministers and a number of other gentlemen, after which refreshments were served and the party left for home.

BANQUETTED AT ORIENTAL.

In the evening the members of the Town and County Councils took advantage of the presence of a Public Minister being in their midst, and especially one whom they were greatly interested at present, and banqueted him with the other members of his party, Mr. Julian, the Governor of St. Pierre, Que., and Mr. Duvos, the Belgium representative in Canada, at the Oriental Hotel

At the head of the table sat the distinguished visitor, the Hon. J. Isreal Tarte, Minister of Public Works, while at his right were the Governor of St. Pierre, Que., and the Belgium Consul. On the left were the Mayor, Hon. J. R. Stratton, and Warden Eastland.

The first toast was proposed by the Mayor to the King which was enthusiastically drank by the guests.

The guest of the evening proposed by Ald. Rogers responded to by Hon Mr. Tarte who said that in his opinion Peterborough was destined to be one of the greatest manufacturing town in the Dominion. He said that without a doubt the great Trent Valley Canal, he had inspected that day would be carried out and completed, and he would recommend as much to his Colleagues at Ottawa. After dwelling for a short time on the great possibilities and future of Canada, he expressed his gratitude for the kindness received by him at the hands of the Mayor and committee, and in conclusion stated that he would leave with the opinion that Peterborough was one of the most progressive and aggressive towns in the Dominion.

The Mayor then proposed the health to our foreign guests, the Belegium Consul and the Governor of St. Pierre, Que.

The representative from Belgium first replied and also gave a very warm tribute to our country. He stated that while in his country the people were living on an average of 2 acres of land to each person, in Canada they gave them a free home of 160 acres and he did not see why his country could not send some to help them fill up our vast unsettled territories. He concluded by thanking the Mayor and committee for their kindness to him during his stay in town.

Mr. Julian then expressed his pleasure at being able to visit such a fine country as Canada with its riches, industries, prosperity and great future, and closed by drinking to the success of our great industries, etc., and the Trent Valley Canal.

Toasts to the Senate and Government were replied to in able speeches by Senator McHugh and Mr. J. R. Stratton respectively, while one to the county council was effectively handled by Warden Eastland, the final toast being made by Mayor Denne who thanked Mr. Tarte for his prompt and business-like way he had dealt with the Councils of Peterborough and hoped when the Hon. Minister visited this town again it would be to witness the completion of the Trent Valley Canal.

Owing to the party having to leave at midnight the gathering dispersed after singing the National Anthem.

WEATHER NOTES

Probs. To-day Fresh westerly winds, fair, and rather cool.

DEADLOCK REACHED IN THE TORONTO STREET RAILWAY SITUATION.

The Company's Offer not Satisfactory, the Men's Committee Dropped Negotiations

Special Despatches to the Times Early This Morning Say Men Will Strike

Special to the Times.

Toronto June 19.—From eleven o'clock Wednesday morning until two this morning three distinct meetings were in progress in an endeavor to arrange the trouble between the Street Railway Union and the company.

The first meeting took place in the office of the company, when for three hours the men's committee and management of the road talked matters over. As the hours drew on those who waited brightened, as it was felt that something must hang on the length of time, that the two sides at least had agreed upon amicable discussion. But at noon it was learned on the inside that little really had been done. While neither side would speak, it was stated unauthoritatively that the company had agreed that the men were entitled to an increase in wages, and that they were willing to give an increase, but they were not prepared to give 25 cents an hour. The company have, it is understood, acceded to the demands for car-cleaners, and also look upon the request to have the day's runs equal as a matter of little moment. A further conference was held in the afternoon, without anything definite being accomplished.

NEGOTIATIONS CEASED

Then Mr. Keating presented to the committee a statement in writing which told the committee just how far the company would go, and it is understood that the offer had as its most important proposition an increase of two cents an hour, and the offer of car-cleaners and time for the men while they carried in their fare boxes to the office. As a result of this document all negotiations between the company and the men ceased suddenly, and the probabilities are that if it had not been for the friendly offices of the Board of Trade committee they might not have commenced again. At 7.30 last night the committee of the Board of Trade met the Employees' Committee, and were in session till two o'clock Tuesday morning. At midnight Messrs. Dilworth and McDonald were called in and joined the conference.

At the conclusion of the meeting the following official report was handed out:

The committee representing Toronto Railway Company's employees and the Board of Trade held a lengthy session Wednesday night and thoroughly considered the report of the men of their meeting with the officers of the Toronto Railway Company. The Board of Trade Committee are to have a conference to-day with the officers of the Railway Company, with the hope of reaching a basis to which the company will agree, and which the men can feel justified in recommending to the meeting of conductors and motormen. The Board of Trade committee have hopes that this settlement will be arrived at to-day.

Special 1.30 a.m.

Toronto June 20.—Railway men are arranging for meeting to-day. Nothing definite was arrived at at last nights' meeting.

Special 3 a.m.

Toronto June 20.—A meeting of Street Railway Employees was held last night (or at an early hour this morning) and it is likely that a strike will take place at once. President Dilworth, of the union stated last evening that the Winnipeg Street Railway Men are going to make similar demands and a strike there is likely to occur.

Big Meeting of Leaguers

Special to The Times.

Washington, D.C., June 19.—A host of enthusiastic young Epworth Leaguers has invaded the national capital for the fourth general conference of the district organisation. The district comprises the states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, and part of New York, and have sent their full quota of delegates. The delegates will rally to night for a great demonstration and bright and early tomorrow morning a sunrise prayer meeting will usher in the business sessions. The annual report of the officers show the district to be in a flourishing condition, so far as the league work is concerned, the aggregate membership now being close to the 150,000 mark.

Combine Against Labor Demands

Chicago, Ill, June 20.—It is reported today that the plans for the formation of an association of merchants for the purpose of protection against unreasonable demands of labor are nearing completion, and within another week it is expected to have every store owner of prominence in the city enlisted in the movement. The demands made upon merchants in the past, especially in the course of the recent strike of department store wagon drivers, are said to be the chief force that caused the business men to get together for mutual protection. Organised labor threaten to retaliate with a general boycott of all the stores that may become members of the new organization.

RIVER NOTES

—The steamer Rainbow arrived in town yesterday with a large excursion from Hastings run under the auspices of the Church of England. The excursionists left for home at 4 o'clock p.m., all expressing themselves as highly pleased with their trip. The majority of the pleasure seekers took in the Decoration Ceremonies at the cemetery, and were greatly impressed with the proceedings. Dr. Berry of Hastings, was among the excursionists.

—The steamer North Star took the members of the Presbyterian church choir down the river yesterday.

—The steamer Water Lily arrived in port last night.

Good Crop Prospects

Special to The Times.

St. Paul, Minn., June 20.—Reports of crops of all kinds that have been coming in from all sources during the present week never have been more favorable at this time of year. Every part of the Northwest, except the wet region in the Red River Valley, where seeding was delayed, is sharing in the bright prospects. The outlook in southern and southwestern Minnesota is exceptionally bright. Reports from every place on the line of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad show a prospect that could hardly be improved upon. Corn, of which there is an increased acreage, is growing fast. Many points also report an exceptionally good prospect for heavy hay and potato crops.

KINDLY KING EDWARD

His Majesty's Attention to Lord Bute—The Titled Juniors.

Special to The Times.

London, June 20.—A pleasing impression has been created by the report that the King has intimated his wish to have the young Marquis of Bute attend the coronation, despite the fact that the latter, according to strict rule and precedent, would not be entitled to admission to the Abbey with his fellow peers. Lord Bute came of age today, but as he will not take his seat in the House of Lords before the coronation ceremony he would not be alloted the seat proper to his rank at the great function next week, if there was a strict adherence to official etiquette. It now seems, however, that the question of form will be waived and the young marquis will be found seated among his elders, instead of on the special bench provided for peers and peeresses in their own right who are minors.

If King Edward makes an exception in this case it will not be the first time he has showed special favor toward the young marquis. A year ago when the Marquis of Bute was received in audience by the King for the purpose of returning to the sovereign his dead father's insignia of the Order of the Thistle, the King was exceptionally cordial and gracious to the young peer, and by his conduct gave all to understand that the ill will and almost downright animosity toward the court manifested by the late Lord Bute during the late reign in connection with the treatment to which his aunt, the unfortunate Lady Flora Hastings, had been subjected while a member of the royal household some sixty years ago had become a thing of the past.

The permission to Lord Bute to sit with his elders will leave an even dozen little peers and peeresses to occupy the special bench. Little Lady Clifton will have to bring her nurse with her, but Lady Beaumont (judging from her self-possession as bridesmaid at a wedding the other day) will be quite able to take care of herself. As to the boy peers, most of them, as the Duke of Leinster, Marquis Conyngham and Lords Camoys, Torrington, de Clifford, Holmpatrick, and others, are of schoolboy age, and quite as competent to hold their own in a crowd as one or two of the nonagenarian nobles who may be expected to put in an appearance at Westminster next Thursday.

Society of the War of 1812

Boston, Mass, June 20.—The General Society of the War of 1812 began its annual meeting in Boston today with delegates present from Illinois, Ohio New York, New Jersey, The District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Maryland Massachusetts, and Connecticut. The gathering was called to order by the president general, John Cadwalader, of Philadelphia, and the opening prayer was by Bishop Coleman, of Delaware, chaplain-general of the society. The sessions are to continue throughout tomorrow, the business meetings being interspersed with short trips to places of historic interest in and about Boston.

APPLY FOR BOTH.

They are Issued Free.

Our 400 page, illustrated, "Guide to Investors." and "Daily Market Letter."

If you are looking for an investment, they will prove of value, assisting you, in your selection; if trading on margin, your chance for profit making will be greatly increased. The former is brimful of valuable information relative to Wall St., its markets and Securities: the latter, is a daily careful analysis of the financial situation, outlining therefrom the probable immediate movements of the markets. Write us, if contemplating buying any particular stock; we will be pleased to correspond with you, placing at your possession, any data we may have on file, in our statistical department, relative to same.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Established 1890. Main Office, 53 B'way, N.Y.

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.

Peterborough, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

COMMISSION ONE EIGHTH—The only licensed M. S. Stock Brokerage Corporation in business by permission of the Royal Government of the Province of Ontario.

W. F. NELSON, Peterborough.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depart
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal... ...	6.10 p.m.	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.32 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston	6.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	6.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate...	7.32 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	6.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West...	11.35 a.m.	6.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9 00 p.m.	5.33 p.m.
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.35 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.30 a.m.	9.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.13 p.m.
Lakefield local	6.50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at $3 per year strictly in advance.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 20, 1902.

MANITOBA CROPS

The crop bulletin just issued by the Manitoba Government contains important information which will be of interest throughout the Dominion.

Seeding in some parts of Manitoba began this year as early as April 1; but it was not general until after April 15. There was more rain during the season than the farmers desired, resulting in a few cases, in a decreased acreage under wheat, but this has been more than amply compensated for by the wonderfully rapid growth which all crops have made. Grass, like grain crops, has made remarkable progress and the pastures are in the finest possible condition. All kinds of live stock are thriving excellently and the dairying statistics are of the most encouraging character and full of promise for the increasing importance of that industry.

The increased acreage over last year in wheat is 28,105; in oats 35,169 in barley 139,781, and in flax, 20,222; the total increased acreage under grain crops being 223,149. The aggregate total area under all crops in Manitoba this year is 3,189,915 acres.

The conditions so far have been excellent. It is a good way off yet to the harvest, but there is every good ground for looking forward with confident hope to an abundant crop, surpassing all previous records. Never before have all the conditions been so propitious, and, with the continued favor of Providence a bumper harvest will fill the land with plenty and gladness.

DOURO.

—The Douro picnic was well attended by jolly folks from far and near.

—Miss Nellie Fenegan, of Capghough, is visiting her aunt Mrs. J. O'Toohil.

—Mr. Charles McNulty, of Norwood, wishes he had the position on the Cars, that he had a short time ago. He says he would not settle the strike. And that times would be better for him, especially at the Douro picnic of 1902.

—The Indian River Football Teamp layed a friendly game with the Warsaw boys on Friday evening, 13 inst, in which the latter were victorious. A return match had been arranged, but owing to Mr. Buck having an engagement with a young lady for that day. The Warsaw boys declared the match off, and hoped that before the next Douro picnic Conservative Buck would be married and enjoying all the pleasures of married life.

CORPORATION OFFICERS.

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Beck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, E. A. Peck, Warde, Davis, and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Crossley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. B. Bamford.

OTONABEE.

The following resolution of condolence has been received by Mrs. David D. Henderson from the Session and Deacons' Court of the Keene Presbyterian Church: To Mrs. David D. Henderson and family:

The Session and Deacons' Court of the Keene Presbyterian Church assembled yesterday, have instructed us to convey to you their heartfelt sympathy and condolence in your sad bereavement in the loss of a kind and loving husband and father, and trust that the loving and sympathetic Saviour, the unfailing Friend and Support of those in sorrow, may be your comfort and consolation in this the time of your great affliction.

It has been their pleasure to meet your late lamented husband from time to time in transacting the business of the church, and during his long illness they have very much missed his presence and counsel in their Court.

It is with feelings of sadness that we realize that we will no more in this world, have his sympathy and wise counsel in our deliberations, but we trust that what has been our loss has been his gain. Words fail to express our sorrow, but we can only submit to the will of our Heavenly Father who is too wise to err and too good to be unkind.

Signed on behalf of the Session and Deacons' Court.

JAMES McNEIL.
ANDREW SHEARER.

Keene, June 10th, 1902.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

Rev. Mr. Kilgour, of Peterborough, occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church on the 15th inst. We were glad to hear our worthy friend again as of yore. His text was taken from the 116th Psalm, "I Believed, Therefore have I Spoken; I was Greatly Afflicted: I said in my Haste All Men are Liars." From his long experience in the ministry he dealt with the subject in a masterly manner, which very few of our clergy choose as a text. Our town was glad to have a visit from him and listen to his counsel.

Rev. Mr. Kannawin being absent his pulpit was filled at his three stations by Rev. Mr. Edmison, who delivered a very earnest and eloquent address from the words spoken by the Apostle Paul to the Philipian church, "Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say rejoice," and from Thessalonians, where he repeats the same in stronger language "Rejoice Evermore."

Mr. John Handley attended the meeting of the High Court of Canadian Order of Foresters at Owen Sound last week.

Farmers are rejoicing at the prospects of a very bountiful harvest, the promise has been fulfilled which was expressed by God, Who said' I will send you the early and the latter rain." Refreshing showers have fallen upon this part of the world in abundance.

The garden party held last Friday night at the residence of Mr. Wm. Lough, of Ida, was a great success. The night was very favorable for it;

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL,

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Mrs' comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

E. H. GAY & CO

BANKERS.

Detroit United Railway

First Cons'd Mtge. Gold

4½% 1932 BONDS

AT A DISCOUNT.

Send for particulars.

157 ST. JAMES ST., MONTREAL.
Telephone Main 1907.

IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA

Proceedings of the Twenty-seventh Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders, held at the Banking House of the Institution in Toronto, on Wednesday, the 18th June, 1902.

The twenty-seventh annual general meeting of the Imperial Bank of Canada was held in pursuance of the terms of the charter at the banking house of the institution, June 18th, 1902.

There were present:—T. R. Merritt, St. Catharines; Wm. Ramsay of Bowland, Stow, Scotland; R. Jaffray, T. Sutherland Stayner, Elias Rogers; Wm. Hendrie, Hamilton; D. R. Wilkie, A. W. Austin, Rev. E. B. Lawler, Miss Robinson, R. L. Benson, Colonel Jas. Mason, J. G. Ramsey, W. T. Jennings, O. F. Rice, H. Sintzel; J. J. Gould, Uxbridge; Ira Standish, W. A. Smith, V. H. E. Hutcheson, Frank Smith, E. Hay, A. P. Burritt; Dr. L. S. Oille, St. Catharines; Rev. A. T. Love, Quebec; A. A. McFall, Bolton; Anson Jones, R. Thompson, R. W. Thompson, Rev. T. W. Paterson, A. Foulds, J. T. Small, W. C. Crowther; David Kidd, Hamilton; Jas. Todhunter, W. W. Vickers, J. H. Paterson, W. B. Hamilton, John Stewart, W. Gibson Cassels, R. H. Temple, Col. Merritt, Thomas Walmsley, H. B. Walker, Wm. Spry, J. G. Beaty, D. Smith, J. H. Eddis and others.

The chair was taken by the President, Mr. T. R. Merritt, and the Assistant General Manager, Mr. E. Hay, was requested to act as secretary.

The General Manager at the request of the Chairman read the report of the Directors and the statement of affairs.

THE REPORT

The Directors beg to submit to the Shareholders their twenty-seventh annual report, with statement giving the result of the business of the bank for the year ended May 31st, 1902.

It is with sincere regret that the Directors are called upon to place on record the death on the 27th of January last of the late President of the bank, Mr. H. S. Howland, who continuously filled that position since the opening of the bank in 1875. His ability, good judgment and fidelity to the interests of the bank contributed largely to its success.

The vacancy on the board occasioned by Mr. Howland's death was filled by the appointment of Mr. D. R. Wilkie as a Director.

Mr. Thomas R. Merritt, the Vice-President, was elected President; Mr. D. R. Wilkie, Vice-President, retaining his position as General Manager.

During the year branches of the bank have been opened at Rosthern, Saskatchewan, and Ferguson, B. C.

The capital of the bank was increased in 1900 by $500,000, making it as at present $2,500,000. Since then business of all kinds throughout the Dominion has greatly expanded, requiring increased banking facilities, which in the opinion of your Directors can be furnished most economically by the institutions which are already firmly established. Your Directors feel that to enable the bank to avail itself of present opportunities and to provide for future growth a larger capital is advisable, and you will be asked to approve of a by-law (No. 20) authorizing an increase of that account in the sum of $1,500,000, to be issued in such amounts and at such periods as the Directors may determine, at a rate of premium proportionate to the amount the Rest account bears to the Capital account at the time of issue.

Your Directors further recommend the adoption of a by-law (No. 21) authorizing the transfer from time to time of surplus funds in the Guarantee Fund to the Pension Fund.

The officers of the bank continue to perform their respective duties to the satisfaction of the Directors.

The head office and branches have all been carefully inspected during the year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. R. MERRITT,
President.

PROFIT AND LOSS ACCOUNT

Dividend No. 53, 5 per cent (paid 1st of December, 1901)	$125,000 00
Dividend No 54, 5 per cent, (payable 1st of June, 1902)	125,000 00
Transferred to Rest Account ...	275,000 00
Written off Bank Premises and Furniture Account	30,000 00
Balance of Account carried forward......	82,495 52
	$637,495 52
Balance at credit of Account, 31st May, 1901, brought forward	$104,637 98
Transferred from Contingent Account	85,000 00
Profits for the year ended 31st May, 1902, after deducting charges of management and interest due depositors and after making full provision for all bad and doubtful debts and for rebate on bills under discount	447,857 54
	$637,495 52

REST ACCOUNT

Balance at credit of Account, 31st May, 1901	$ 1,850,000
Transferred from Profit & Loss Account	275,000
	$ 2,125,000

LIABILITIES

Notes of the Bank in circulation		$ 2,381,191 00
Deposits not bearing interest ...	$ 3,800,910 10
Deposits bearing interest (including interest accrued to date) ...	13,906,210 59
		17,707,120 69
Deposits by other banks in Canada		74,874 45
Total liabilities to the public		$20,163,186 14
Capital Stock (paid up)		2,500,000 00
Rest Account ...	$ 2,125,000 00
Dividend No 54 (payable 1st June, 1902), 5 per cent	125,000 00
Former Dividends unclaimed	53 12
Rebate on bills discounted	54,706 00
Balance of Profit and Loss Account carried forward	82,495 52
		2,388,254 64
		$25,051,440 78

ASSETS

Gold and Silver coin	$ 532,585 49
Dominion Government notes	1,763,254 00
		$ 2,295,839 49
Deposit with Dominion Government for security of note circulation		105,000 00
Notes of and cheques on other banks		710,003 06
Balance due from other banks in Canada		426,649 83
Balance due from agents in the United Kingdom		273,500 43
Balance due from agents in foreign countries		1,877,060 00
		$ 5,778,344 15
Dominion and Provincial Government securities	$ 558,872 57
Canadian Municipal securities and British or Foreign, or Colonial public securities other than Canadian	1,096,033 36
Railway and other Bonds, Debentures and Stocks...	964,794 92
		2,619,700 85
Call and Short Loans on Stocks and Bonds in Canada		2,990,134 63
		$11,389,879 63
Other Current Loans, Discounts and Advances ...		13,442,763 93
Overdue Debts (loss provided for)		22,209 71
Real Estate (other than Bank premises)		42,468 41
Mortgages on real estate sold by the Bank		79,007 85
Bank premises, including Safes, Vaults and Office Furniture, at Head Office and Branches		382,331 54
Other Assets, not included under foregoing heads		3,838 97
		$25,051,440 78

D. R. WILKIE,
General Manager.

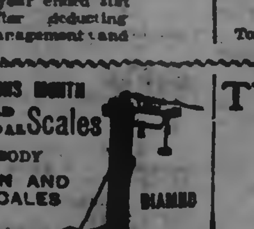
The scrutineers appointed at the meeting reported the following gentlemen duly elected Directors for the ensuing year, viz:—T. R. Merritt, D. R. Wilkie, Wm. Ramsay, Robt. Jaffray, T. Sutherland Stayner, Elias Rogers, Wm. Hendrie.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors Mr. T. R. Merritt was elected President and Mr. D. R. Wilkie Vice-President for the ensuing year.

By order of the Board.

D. R. WILKIE,
General Manager.

Toronto, June 18th, 1902.



SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL; GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

DIAMOND STEEL BEARING

GET OUR PRICES

O. WILSON & SON

21 ESPLANADE STREET EAST TORONTO.

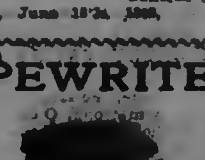
HEADQUARTERS FOR

PIG TIN, LEAD AND ANTIMONY

ENQUIRE FOR PRICES

CANADA METAL CO

William St., Toronto, Ont.



TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITE Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

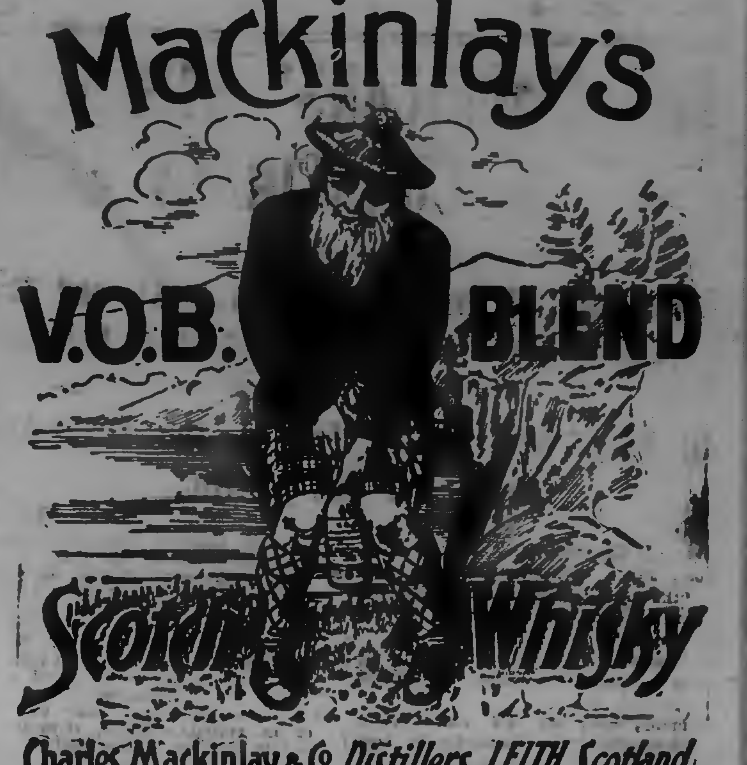
Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS

SEALS, PRICE MARKERS

10 King Street West, TORONTO



Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky
Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers, LEITH, Scotland

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd

AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.

MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST.
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{99}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

THE FASHIONABLE MAN

Of Nineteen Aught Two

Will find everything that is Correct and Up-to-date in MEN'S OUTFITTINGS. (Prices second to none)

—AT—

H. E. BRADLEY & CO.'S

High-class Tailors and Gentlemen's Outfitters.

THE BLACK ROCK MINING CO.

LIMITED.

(no personal liability.)

SHARES 10c EACH. CAPITAL $150,000

Stock full-paid and non-assessable

CLAIMS.

There are three claims "New York" "Chicago" and "San Francisco."

SITUATED.

Yavapai Co., Arizona.

EXTENT.

The area of the three claims is 600 feet by 4500 feet.

ORE BODY,

Out-croppings show on the surface 220 feet to 450 feet wide and 4500 feet long, (nearly one mile)

DEPTH.

Shaft is down over 100 feet in ore from the surface and there is ore fully 70 feet above where the shaft starts.

CROSS-CUTS.

Cross-cuts on shaft of fifty feet each are entirely in ore, so also is thirty-foot Tunnel.

ORE IN SIGHT.

By expert calculations there is TWO MILLION TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT NOW.

ASSAYS.

THE BLACK ROCK MINING Co. equally high in Copper, with some silver. Total values running as high as $56.00 per ton.

COST.

Ore can be mined and treated on a proposition of this class, at less than $2 00 per ton by present processes.

The largest producing mines today pay big dividends on ore averaging from $3.00 to $8.00 per ton. This is only made possible by the enormous bodies of ore such as are found on the "Chicago" "United Verde" "Ore Grande" and other similar mines.

The "United Verde" with an original capital of three million dollars pays to its stockholders in cash profits about Two million dollars every month; or in other words pays back its entire capital every six weeks.

THE BLACK ROAK MINING CO., LIMITED, will without doubt pay dividends of at least one per cent. a month before the end of the year. Now is the time to get in while stock is low. Only 10c. per share.

WRITE FOR GROUND FLOOR PROPOSITION.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.,
London, Ont.
217-218 Masonic Temple.

TO THE ADVERTISER

Do you realize that it would be easy for you to increase your business to the extent of several thousand dollars a year?

Do you know that hundreds of people living in the country surrounding Peterborough never see your name in the newspaper they read; that they don't know why it would be to their advantage to deal with you?

Do you know that these people are sending to Toronto for goods they could buy from you, if they knew you wanted to sell them?

Do you realize that the merchants of Toronto and Montreal are reaching out for the trade of this, and other towns; that they are spending thousands of dollars in advertising, to tell people who ought to buy from YOU all about their goods?

Are YOU telling the people about YOUR GOODS, and the LOW PRICES at which you sell them?

You CAN NOT do so thoroughly, if you don't advertise in THE TIMES, because THE TIMES reaches people whom you can't reach through any other medium.

At least 60 per cent. of the people living in the surrounding country read 'THE TIMES' and NO OTHER newspaper. These people have money to spend and will spend it in Toronto because they think they can buy more cheaply there than here. If you don't secure their custom.

Use THE TIMES to tell them you can give them better bargains than they can get in Toronto.

You'll make money, you'll increase your business, you'll get new customers if you advertise in THE TIMES.

We are going to make THE TIMES the best daily paper in Eastern Ontario. We have made arrangements to improve the local news service and to push the paper to the foremost place in the front ranks. We want you to advertise in THE TIMES because it'll pay you to do so. Every dollar you spend for advertising in The Times will return with good interest added.

Remember—No matter how much business you are doing now—YOU CAN DO MORE if you advertise in THE TIMES.

CURE YOURSELF!

Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous.

Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles, $2.75. Circular sent on request.

The New York Times

Saturday Review of Books.

$1,00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—in fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times

SUNDAY EDITION

$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year
Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 9 a.m.	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 5 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 5a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $65 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.

Carthaginian	June 25th
Mongolian	July 9th.

S.S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to:
W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to
THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd

River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S.S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply to
W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. fo Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 9.00 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO

STR. "ARGYLE"
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)

EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at	12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7 00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday	2 00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville	11.00 a m
" Trenton	1.15 p m
" Brighton	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte	7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager,
Picton, On

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA."
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.00 and 11.00 a.m., 2.00 and 4.45 p.m.

6 Trips Daily (Except Sunday.)

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont.

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9 15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8 30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a m, calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay

ESTURION

JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv 6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 7.15 a.m.	"	4.10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar 8 40 a.m.	"	5 30 p.m.
"	Lv 11 00 a.m.	"	5 45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 12.10 p.m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar 1.15 p.m.	"	8 10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.

MANITA

JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon	Leave	7 00 a. m.
Bridgenorth	Arrive	9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth	Leave	3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon	Arrive	5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG. PORT HOPE. ROCHESTER, N. Y.

STEAMER
NORTH KING
Week Day Route Commencing May 12

SOUTH BOUND.

Leaving Cobourg, Ontario	2.01 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario	2.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester)	6.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets	8.45 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.

Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets	9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester	9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario	2.01 p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario	3.50 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which tickets reads. For further information apply to.

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Swain, Agent Port Hope

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"

On Monday, June, 16th. Wednesday, 18th and Friday 20, the Steamer Majestic will leave Lakefield on the arrival of the morning train, returning in time to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor.
CAPT. SCOLLARD, Master

KILLED IN A WRECK

How James Ferguson Met His Death in Vermont

Was Killed, With Four Others, in a Pitch-in on The Vermont Central Railway

Barre, Vt., June 18.—As one result of a cloudburst which struck the peak of Camel's Hump Mountain last night, a freight train on the Central Vermont Railway was wrecked in the town of Middlesex, and five of its crew, including the conductor, the engineer and two brakemen were instantly killed. The wreck of the train was due to a washout.

The locomotive leaped into a ditch and the freight cars piled on top of the engine. The engineer and fireman were instantly killed. The conductor and two brakemen were buried under the ruins of the freight cars. One of the brakemen, who was uninjured, went back in search of assistance.

The cloudburst caused a great deal of other damage. The railroad bridge at Bolton was destroyed, and a sawmill with the house adjoining were demolished in the town of Middlesex, and the wreckage carried down the Winooski river. About 100,000 feet of logs were forced down the river by the torrent. In the valley on the east side the torrent washed out the rails of the Montpelier and Wells River Railroad at Plainsfield, fifteen miles from here. All the power lines of the Consolidated Electric Company which furnished power to the majority of the manufacturing establishments, including the granite quarries, were made useless.

The main line of the Central Vermont Railroad is tied up as a result of the washout at Middlesex, and the carrying away of the bridge at Bolton.

Note.—The above are the particulars of the accident by which James Ferguson lost his life. The deceased was married on May 29th to Miss Annie Patton, of North Monoghan. He was one of the crew of the train. The Times joins in extending to his young wife the sincerest sympathy in her irreparable loss.

Items of Interest

The appeals in the East Middlesex and Halton election cases came before Mr. Justice Osler at Osgoode Hall to-day and were adjourned. Dates next week as first selected for the hearing, but as his Lordship will be engaged then, the cases must come up again this week, probably on Saturday afternoon. The counsel engaged are: In East Middlesex, A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., for the Liberals; C. H. Ritchie, K.C., and Eric Armour, for the Conservatives. In Halton E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., for the Liberals and J. W. Elliott of Milton and Eric Armour for the Conservatives.

The South Bruce appeal is set down for Friday before Mr. Justice MacLennan, and the Lennox case will be heard by the same judge on Saturday at 11 o'clock. The Lennox case will surely go on. Geo. H. Watson, K.C., will appear for the Liberals, and S. H. Blake, K.C., and W. D. McPherson for the Conservatives.

Notice of appeal in Prince Edward County has been received at Osgoode Hall, but no word has as yet been received from North Grey, although an appeal is certain from that constituency.

London, June 18.—The official Gazette publishes a continuation of the field despatches written when Lord Roberts was in command in South Africa.

Lord Roberts speaks highly of the Canadian contingent, especially in connection with the unsuccessful attack on Cookson's camp March 31, 1900, in which he says the Canadian Mounted Rifles sustained the heaviest loss of the day. He particularly comments on the gallantry of Lieutenant Bruce Carruthers.

In conclusion, Lord Roberts says he wishes to record the fact that in April, 1900, Queen Victoria entrusted him with four woollen scarfs worked by herself which she desired to be distributed to four distinguished private soldiers of the colonial contingents of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. The election of the recipients in each case was left to the colonial officer commanding the contingent. The Canadian scarf goes to Private, now Lieutenant Richard Rowland Thompson of the Royal Canadian Regiment, for personal gallantry in the field.

In a despatch dated March 31, in which he refers to the action at Brakspruit Lord Kitchener praises highly the gallant stand made in this engagement by a handful of Canadians in an isolated position. Referring to this matter, Lord Kitchener remarks: "There have been few finer instances of heroism in the whole course of the campaign."

Ottawa, Ont., June 18.—J. S. Larke, Commonwealth having agreed to deliver letters from New Zealand bearing penny stamps without collecting any surcharge, he sought a like concession toward Canadian letters, and received the following reply:

"Regarding the decision of the Federal Government to accept letters from England and New Zealand prepaid only at the penny rate of postage, and your request that a similar privilege be extended to Canada, I have the honor to inform you that the decision of the Government was to receive, subject to approval of the country of origin, letters prepaid at one penny from all parts of the British Empire where that rate obtains as fully prepaid. This was wired to the Imperial Postmaster-General for communication to all countries concerned, but has been objected to by the Imperial authorities as interfering with the postal revenue of Great Britain."

"There seems," adds Mr. Larke, "to be good reason to believe that Canada can secure this privilege by negotiating with the Commonwealth and Imperial Governments. If so, it would relieve business with Canada from one of the annoyances it now suffers. Nearly one-half of the letters from Canada bear a two-cent stamp only, and the recipients are required to pay threepence additional before obtaining them."

The Sense of Humor.

He was an ordinarily mild and inoffensive little gentleman who had lived for many happy, uneventful years in farther Chelsea, when a volume of theatrical anecdotes came into his hands. In this he read of delicious practical jokes played with unfailing success by Vivier and Sothern, and of how that great comedian, J. L. Toole, brought confusion to a baker's shop displaying in the window a sign, "Families supplied," by requesting that three girls and a boy should be sent round as soon as possible.

"This," he said, "is the exercise of true wit." Then he went out, still chuckling.

In farther Chelsea, where custom is drawn by halfpence from the needy, stands an eating-house which endeavors to attract the hungry by pasting on its front this dubious message, "Everything as nice as mother makes it."

"The very place," said the little gentleman, and entered.

"I can have a meal?" was his first query.

"Yes—straight through," said the woman behind the counter, pointing to an inner partition of the shop.

"Any everything as nice as mother makes it?" he asked.

"That 's in the window."

"But how nice does mother make it?"

"Jim," said the woman, calling into space, "here's a cove wants to know how nice mother makes it," and she laughed.

"Garn," came a beery voice; "must be balmy on the crumpet. Turn 'im out."

Nothing daunted, the little man went on: "Supposing she doesn't make it at all nice? Supposing she makes it very nasty, what then?"

No answer.

The woman went on frying onions, but her eye gleamed.

"What if I don't remember any mother? What if she never made anything at all? What if——"

He got no further, but found himself thrust violently through the door to the pavement outside, while a voice admonished him: "'Ere, you, don't come interfering 'ere—if yer wants a sausage and mashed, say so. If not, get out." And as he retreated hastily, though with dignity, the voice followed faintly: "Bedlam—that's the place for the likes of you—Bedlam."

The discomfited little gentleman had walked nearly a mile before his recovery was completed by a sign, hung over a boot shop, which caught his eye. "Wear Parkinson's Boots," ran the legend.

The little man fairly leaped into the shop.

"Why?" he asked, in mild enquiry.

"Beg pardon, sir," said the assistant who had hurried forward to greet him.

"Why should I wear Parkinson's boots?"

"Because they are the best, sir. We use nothing but the best leather."

"What's the matter with my own?"

The assistant glanced down.

"Uppers want mending and heels leveling, sir. Do you a perfect boot for fifteen shillings."

"But supposing Parkinson's don't fit me?"

"We keep all sizes, sir."

"Yes, but I don't know that I care about wearing another man's boots."

"Of course, sir, if you prefer to go on buying boots like those you've got on; but," with a deprecatory smile, "we can turn you out a much better article for fifteen shillings."

"But my name is Pettigrew, and I don't think it would be legal for me to wear Parkinson's boots—it looks like robbery."

"Robbery?" said the assistant sharply. "Our prices are as low as they can be for sound wearing qualities. If there's nothing further to-day, sir," holding open the door, "good morning!"

"Some people," said Pettigrew to himself, as he waited for his homeward 'bus, "have no sense of humor. I wonder how Toole managed it?"—"Punch."

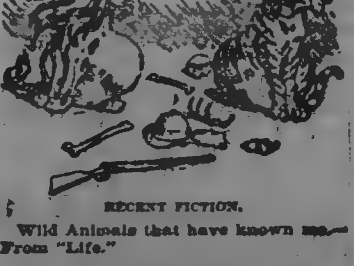
A Keen Sense of Smell.

One of the sorrows of childhood is the slowness of some older people to take a hint. It is often quite a strain on good manners to be obliged to reinforce a suggestion that should have been adequate in itself.

A little girl, calling at a neighbor's house, sat near a plate containing some apple-parings. At last, unable to keep silence any longer, she said, "I smell apples."

"Yes," returned her hostess, "it's those parings."

"No'm," said the little girl, solemnly. "I smell whole apples."



RECENT FICTION.

Wild Animals that have known me.—From "Life."

Is the Novel Dying?

Science and the stern reality of life are bound to destroy the novel. It is out of harmony with the scientific and materialistic spirit of the age. The more industrial and strenuous a nation is, the fewer novelists has she: only the backward, the passive, the visionary peoples produce great novelists. The fable, the national tale, the folk-song, have died. Why not the novel? It, too, is subject to the law of evolution. It has seen its acme, its highest point, and is on the decline.—"Novoye Vremya," St. Petersburg.

Unrewarded Solicitude.

Hostess (to guests, who have come to spend a few days)—We're so glad you've been able to come, Mrs. Gushington; but I do hope we are going to have better weather, or I'm afraid you won't enjoy yourself much. Miss Gushington—Oh, but, my dear Lady Bunnham, we didn't come here to enjoy ourselves. We came to see you.—"Punch."

Money and Dreams.

He settled himself in his roomy chair in his big, old house, where he had lived so long that the city had grown up away and beyond him, leaving the house, which had been in a fashionable neighborhood, so far down town that there was little more than the hum of business to be heard all day around it. The old man's housekeeper brought him a cool drink, and one of his nephews came in to enquire how he had stood the unusual heat of the day.

He had so many nephews and nieces to look after his comfort. Some even stayed in town all summer to be near him. When they tried to persuade him to go away for a little rest in the hot weather he would say:

"Rest! Who wants rest? If you let money rest it rusts—rusts! Turn it over, keep turning it over; it grows, it grows!" And he would add that the summer was the best time of all for work. The old financier was the possessor of many millions. But he walked alone. This evening he sat in the twilight which settled itself hot and thick about him. The night was bringing no cooling breath. The roar of the metropolis was dying away in tired sobs outside. The city's life seemed sapped with the heat. Even the old man, who never stopped his work for anything, realized that it was unusually hot tonight. He fanned himself with his newspaper and took a sip from the glass which stood near him on the table.

He closed his eyes. He felt such a strange sense of oppression. No, he was not dizzy. It had passed. He opened his eyes and put up his hand to unfasten his collar. At his neck he touched a twisted cord of silk that was around it. He pulled at the cord and drew out its length. From it hung a ring—a silver ring—old-fashioned and worn, and on it two raised hearts lying against each other and rubbed smooth by time.

He sat now with his eyes closed again and his hand folded over the ring on his breast. He dreamed once more, and it was his last dream. It was summer—yes—but it was nearly fifty years ago. The dust and roar of the city gave way to the scent and quiet of an old garden; the heat to the dew of a country evening, its breeze lightly moving the leaves of the trees and fluttering the ruffles of a girl's muslin frock, with its pattern of summer blossoms upon it.

A boy—such a boyish country boy—took the silver ring, then new and shining, from his pocket and put it on the hand of the girl in the flowered muslin frock. Then they kissed each other, and the girl fell to sobbing, with her arms about her companion's neck, and he spoke:

"Never mind, dear; Annie, dear. I am going away to make a fortune, and I'm coming back for you, and we will be married, and I will take you away to the city, and you will be rich and have everything you want."

"But I don't like the city. I should be so afraid and so confused, and you might not love me there as you do now here in the country. People in the city forget each other so."

"No, they don't; not if they really love each other, and I love you. Nothing can ever make me forget you. See, not as long as evening comes after the day and the stars come with it."

They kissed each other again.

The ring came back to him in a letter with a flower from Annie's grave.

Never once did he go to seek the grave to rest by it a moment. Work became his love and gold the star that guided him.

Now he clasped the silver ring tighter, tighter. By and by he gasped and fell forward. His clasp relaxed; he sighed once, a deep sigh, then lay there quite still. And later they found him so.—Margaret Klein in the New York "Herald."

A Useful Helpmate.

The editor of the Grapevine "Telegraph," after spending six years without a break, in the editorial harness, felt himself entitled to a vacation, and went away to the mountains for a month's hunting and fishing, leaving his wife in charge of the paper.

On his return he was astonished to find his office overflowing with potatoes. Everything that could be turned into a receptacle was filled with them. Each pigeonhole in his desk contained a potato. The drawer of his editorial table was bursting with potatoes. Old ink-kegs, lined with papers, were filled and heaped with them. There were potatoes in the coal-bucket, in the ashpan, and even in the stove itself.

They were no small potatoes, either. Every one of them was as big as his fist, and some were as big as two fists. The collection would have taken a premium at a county fair.

"Lucy," he said, after the greetings were over, "what does all this mean?"

"Oh," she almost sobbed, "I wanted to do something original, and so I announced, in the first number of the paper I printed after you went away, that the 'Telegraph' would be sent for one year to the person sending us the largest potato raised in this county, for six months to the person sending the next largest, and for three months to the one sending the third largest. The potatoes began coming in right away, and they've been coming ever since. Some persons, I am afraid, have tried to get all three of the prizes. I have begged the people not to send any more, and I do believe they are doing it now for a joke. We can't announce any prizes till they quit coming, and there are some boys in the other room with their pockets bulging with them right now, and—Oh, Cyrus, what shall we do?"

"Do?" said the editor, with a grin on his face. "Do? The right thing to do would be for me to go away for another month and let you continue to edit the paper. Potatoes are worth a dollar a bushel, and you have got enough of them here to pay all the expenses of my trip, and all they cost us is a dollar and seventy-five cents' worth of 'Telegraph.' If you want an apprentice, just consider me in line for the job."

Wife—I am going down town this morning to try and match a piece of silk. Husband—Very well, my dear; I'll tell the cook to save some dinner for you, and I'll put the children to bed myself.—"Tit-Bits."

Yale's "Criminal Club."

The Criminal Club of Yale will revive the custom of holding an annual banquet this spring. The announcement has revealed to many the existence of perhaps the most peculiar social organization in existence in the collegiate world. According to the New York "Sun," membership has never been based on the social or financial status of the students taken, nor have men been taken into the fold because of their prominence in the world of athletics, literature, or debating. The one requirement has been that the proselyte shall have been arrested and taken into the toils of the law, whether guilty or innocent of the offence with which he stood charged. Often to secure membership in this exclusive, yet thoroughly democratic club, students have violated the law, and then calmly awaited the coming of the police, as usual non-present at the time, and permitted themselves to be taken into custody. More often the men have been caught red-handed, without being able to escape the bluecoats. From year to year the club has increased in numerical strength, this depending wholly on the law-breaking proclivities of the undergraduates in college at the time. At present the club numbers one hundred members.

The annual banquets have long held a prominent place in undergraduate life. Where and when these feasts are held is never known to the uninitiated until long afterward. Usually, however, they are given in the grill-room of some student cafe in New Haven, or at a hotel at some of the near-by shore resorts. The men assemble individually, and never in conspicuous throngs. Every effort is made to avoid publicity. The dinners or banquets begin late at night, and end in the "wee sma'" hours. The men are ranged about the festive board in the order of their criminality—that is, they sit near or far from the head of the table as the crimes for which they were arrested were great or small. Usually, although, the rule is often violated, the man who has done the most daring crime, given the cops the greatest battle, or who has incurred the greatest punishment, heads the table and acts as toastmaster. Toasts of the following kind are responded to: "Policemen I Have Met," "How to Steal Signs and Escape, by One Who Didn't," "The Religious Aspect of Criminality," by Y.M.C.A. member; "How I Failed to Distance a Cop in a Handicap," by a member of the track team, and so on, by representatives of the different spheres of activity represented. The menu is usually made out with a black and white stripe effect, while handcuffs, dark-lanterns, and policemen's clubs intermingled adorn the top and bottom of the menu card. Usually a selected number of dirges are rendered by the university glee and banjo club members, who, the other Criminal Club members say, deserve honorary memberships for murdering music the way they do, if for no other reason.

Dooley on Reading.

Readin', me fri'nd, is talked about be all readin' people as though it was th' on'y thing that makes a man betther thin his neighbors. But th' truth is that readin' is th' nex' thing this side iv goin' to bed f'r restin' th' mind. With mos' people it takes th' place iv wurruk. A man doesn't think whin he's readin', or if he has to, th' book is no fun. Did ye iver have something to do that ye ought to do, but didn't want to, an' while ye was wishin' ye was dead, did ye happen to pick up a newspaper? Ye know what occurred. Ye didn't jus' skim through th' spoortin' intillygince an' th' crime news. Whin ye got through with thim, ye read th' other quarther iv th' pa-per. Ye read about people ye niver heerd iv, an' happenin's ye didn't undhersthand—th' fashion notes, th' theatrical gossip, th' s'ciety news fr'm Peoria, th' quotations on oats, th' curb market, th' real estate transfers, th' marredge licenses, th' death notices, th' want ads., th' dhry-goods bargains, an' even th' iditoryals. Thin ye r-read thim over again with a faint idee ye'd read thim befure. Thin ye yawned, studied th' design iv th' carpet, an' settled down to wurruk. Was ye exercisin' ye-er joynt intelleck while ye was readin'? No more thin if ye'd been whistlin' or writin' ye-er name on a pa-aper. If anny wan else but me come along they might say: "What a mind Hinnissy has! He's always readin'." But I w'u'd kick th' book or paaper out iv ye-er hand, an' grab ye be th' collar, an' cry, "Up, Hinnissy, an' to wurruk!" f'r I'd know ye were loafin'. Believe me, Hinnissy, readin' is not thinkin'. It seems like it, an' whin it comes out in talk sometimes, it sounds like it. It 's a kind iv nearthought that looks ginooyne to th' thoughtless, but ye can't get annything on it. Manny a man I've knowed has so doped himsilf with books that he'd stumble over a carpet-tack.

Breach of Promise Ethics.

If a man engages himself to marry a woman, and, on the understanding of that engagement, induces her to abandon, for, perhaps, a lengthy term, the chief business of her life—securing a suitable husband—and subsequently breaks his engagement, he inflicts just as real a cash wrong as if he had engaged her as governess and not paid her any wages. For a term of perhaps two years, possibly the best years of her life, he has kept the woman from the quest of a husband, and thus materially injured her matrimonial prospects. It is right, therefore, that he should pay compensation.—"Bulletin," Sydney.

A West Lambton Joke.

The following joke (if it is one) comes from West Lambton:—

Public School Inspector (testing a senior Part I. class in phonics in a school-room where election day brings the children a holiday)—"Now, little folks, who can tell me what this word is?" writing "e-lec-tion" on the blackboard.

Small boy (aside) whispering to Inspector—"Eh"-"leck"-"shun."

Inspector (not satisfied that the boy recognizes the word)—"What does it bring you, my boy?"

Small Boy (in a whisper)—"Money."

The Inspector was satisfied, but he declines to name the boy.

CONFERENCE TO AVERT A STRIKE

Street Railway Managers and Committee Meet

Prospects of Settlement—Nothing However Will be Definite for a Day or Two

Toronto, June 18.—Danger of a strike on the Toronto Street Railway is not yet passed, but the prospects are excellent. The situation to-day is that the committee of the employes chosen at Tuesday night's meeting has been met in a friendly spirit by the managers of the road, and to-day a series of conferences was begun. These will continue for several days, and until something tangible has been accomplished, both sides have decided to refuse to discuss the subject for publication.

The conferences are being held at the Toronto Railway Chambers. The company is represented by Messrs Keating and Moore, and the committee consists of Messrs. Pickles, Langley, Thomson, Barbour, and Jack.

They were closely closeted between eleven and two o'clock, and when interviewed neither the management nor committee would give out any information.

It is understood that the credentials presented were satisfactory, and that the men received a careful hearing. The discussion of recognition of the union will likely be the last thing taken up. The next meeting took place at 3 p.m.

THE CONFERENCE OPENS.

This morning sharp at eleven o'clock the committee appointed at the meeting of the motormen and conductors entered the offices of the company for the conference with the management. Prior to this the committee refused to give any information. They received their final instructions from Mr. Dilworth at the Iroquois Hotel, and were piloted to the office by Business Agent McDonald.

The men want to have the matter definitely decided one way or the other quickly, and yesterday morning a number of them waited upon Mr. Dilworth to see if this could not be arranged by giving the company a set time in which to answer to the requests of the men. This limit was placed by some of the men at not longer than 24 hours, but moderate counsel again prevailed, and the deputation decided that they would await a reasonable date for final decision.

WILL THE UNION INSIST?

"Will the union waive the right to be recognized as a union, providing the other requests are granted?" was one of the questions asked of Mr. Dilworth this morning, and the answer was: "Well, with negotiations pending I don't think it would be wise of me to make any statement. The matter is now practically out of my hands and in the hands of the committee. But you can say that we are very pleased by the spirit shown by President Ames and the others of the Board of Trade. I have seldom seen such a unanimous spirit among the men as there was on this occasion, and their appearance was quite timely."

REQUESTS, NOT DEMANDS.

The Street Railway Company have been inclined to look upon the requests of the men as demands. This morning one of the committee stated that the union had never made demands upon the company, and that if the company had taken any of their requests as demands they had misinterpreted their meeting.

Manager Keating refused to be interviewed, and said: "I have nothing to give out until after the committee see me."

TUESDAY NIGHT'S MEETING

The meeting of the Street Car Motormen and conductors, held in the Star Theater Tuesday night in response to an invitation from President Ames and other members of the Board of Trade, was attended by about 700 men. Frederick Marshall acted as chairman. Mr. Marshall is president of the local union, and was chairman at the meeting of May 21, when the present grievances were authorized for presentation to the company. He was also chairman at the meeting of the night previous. There was little business to perform, and the whole meeting lasted not longer than three-quarters of an hour. The business of course, was the appointment of a committee to meet with the management of the railway and discuss grievances.

The committee appointed consists of W. T. Thomas, Chairman, and James Barbour, Secretary of Local Union 962, with J. H. Pickles, P. Langley, and D. Jack.

As a guide to the committee in its meeting with the company, the following resolution was passed:

> Resolved, that the committee appointed by this meeting shall have general power to treat with the officers of the Toronto Railway Company regarding the differences between the company and the men, with the view of securing the consent of the company to a basis of adjustment with the committee can recommend the employes to accept.
>
> Be it further resolved, that the committee keep the delegation from the Board of Trade advised of the program of negotiations, and that the delegation be requested to call a meeting by public advertisement to receive the report of the committee at the earliest possible time.

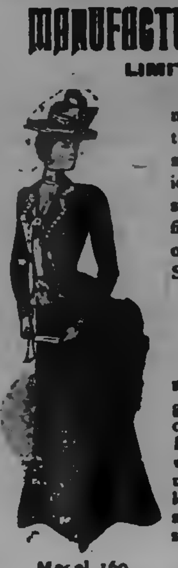
STRONG HOPES OF SETTLEMENT.

President Ames of the Board of Trade acted as chairman pro tem. before the appointment of Mr. Marshall, and explained the reason for calling the meeting briefly. He was accompanied by Messrs. J. D. Allan, W. J. Gage, and Paul Jarvis. He was given a splendid hearing, and from the temper of the meeting, and from the alacrity with which the business was accomplished, the President of the Board of Trade stated after the meeting that "everything now points to an early settlement of the difficulty, and there is little prospect of a strike in the judgment of the Board of Trade delegation. The men manifested a fine spirit of fairness."

FRANCE SHORT $35,000,000

London, June 18.—The French deficit for the year, says the Paris correspondent of the Times, amounts to 172,000,000 francs, but Rouvier, the Minister of France, hopes by annulling certain credits to reduce it to 15,000,000 francs.

$3.10 $3.10
THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.
LIMITED.



Model 169

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.
Patterns and our illustrated Sketchbook of Costumes sent post free on application to
THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory, Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST
Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican
News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.
The Weekly Inter Ocean
Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.
YEAR ONE DOLLAR
Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.
Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director
The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.
Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.
School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.
Edith Borden, M. D., Has the best treatment—has cured every form of Obesity. Safely reduces Stout Abdomen and Large Hips. [illegible]

R·I·P·A·N·S
There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R-I-P-A-N-S Tabules. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
for Ladies.
A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES
superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Penny royal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

Advertise in The Times,

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray
JOHN DICKS | 313 STRA LONDON,
send or JOHN DICKS com catalogue of Cheap Literat Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.
The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.
Demy Octav, 324 pages, and all the original illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")
Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of
Dombey and Son.
Demy 8vo., 336 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.") This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.
David Copperfield.
Demy Octavo, 328 pages.
Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.
Bleak House.
Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.
FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE
An Illustrated Edition of
The History of Henry Esmond
Demy vo., 168 pages.
Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 169 Illustrations.
The History of Pendennis
FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.
Complete and Unabridged, contains 327 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.
Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.
Vanity Fair.
Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tailo-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men
If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us
DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.
Kept in stock and made to order Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.
Times Printin Co.
Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED
They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES
Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, may the immortal Dryden—if of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips cheeks or hands as
CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM
It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The
Hutchings Medicine Co
786 YONGE ST., TORONTO

King Edward VII. Notepaper,
is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Flashwater," but never so fashionable as now.
IT IS THE GENUINE "FLASHWATER."
Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.
THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

BIG G
CURE YOURSELF!
Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous. Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles, $2.75. Circular sent on request.

HEADQUARTERS FOR PIG TIN,
LEAD AND ANTIMONY
ENQUIRE FOR PRICES
CANADA METAL CO
William St, Toronto, Ont.

NERVOUSNESS

Or despondency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early abuse, later excesses or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not eke out a miserable existence on account of your follies, you are not safe until cured—nature never excuses—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water cannot freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not make it quite so freely, it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have a mucous deposit or brick dust colored sediment, [illegible] immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed as a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you

PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chances. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., Cor. Wilcox Street, DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets.

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up) $12,000,000
Reserved Fund 7,000,000
Undivided Profits 376,521

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO

SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

3½ Per cent interest allowed on deposits from day of deposit to day of withdrawal, repayable at any time.

4 Per cent paid on Debentures, issued for 5 or 5 years.

Money to loan at lowest current rates.

Open every Saturday afternoon.

Office, 437 George street

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterborough, March 14, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT.

STRATTON & HALL

BARRISTERS

OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building, Peterborough.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE, Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. Commercial rooms.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, Barristers and Solicitors, 375 Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street Money to lend E. A. Peck R. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G W. Hatton C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 306 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo A. FRY 306 Park place

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOsite roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 18 Toronto street, Toronto.

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & electricians, new 40 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board engineers. Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, publisher St. Louis.

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 324 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No. 372 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $6 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 44 and 46 Broadway, New York.

ACTIVE SOLICITOR WANTED. The war is over. Yours clearing $2.00 to $10.00 daily with "Pictorial History of Our War in South Africa." Highest endorsements. Everybody wants it. Contains thrilling history of the brave deeds of our boys in the war, and complete history of the war and the country. 600 pages 8x10. Only $1.50. Freight and duty paid. Outfit free. COLONIAL PUBLISHING CO., Dept. 2, Chicago.

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

PETERBORO CHEESE BOARD

$45,000 Worth of Prime Cheese Boarded

There were 5,736 Boxes Boarded and All Were Sold—Bidding was Active—Ice for Railway Cars

A regular meeting of the Cheese Board was held Wednesday morning in the Council Chamber, when 5,736 were boarded. The buyers present were Messrs. Cook, Fitzgerald, Whitton, Bailey, Wrighton, Rollins and Kerr

Before bidding commenced the question of the railways supplying iced refrigerator cars for the trade was brought up in a letter from the Montreal Merchants' Association.

The necessity of this was urged, and Mr. E. M. Elliott moved that the Secretary communicate with Prof. Robertson and urge that he bring this matter before the railways, and ask that ice be provided at shipping points for refrigerator cars carrying cheese This was carried.

The rules called for weekly meetings after this date, but it was decided to meet two weeks hence and board one week's cheese, and then meet weekly thereafter.

THE BOARD.

The cheese boarded was as follows:

Keene	220
Warminster	112
Shearer	125
Central Smith	190
North Smith	136
Villiers	135
Warsaw	158
Westwood	240
Oakdale	200
Missing Link	115
Daisy D	112
Melrose Abbey	200
Lakefield	210
Pine Grove	120
Peterborough	90
Otonabee Union	75
Maple Leaf	145
Myrtle	118
Ormonde	278
Young's Point	150
Lang	216
Fraserville	155
Indian River	140
North Dummer	70
Ballyduff	35
East Emily	117
Trewern	150
Beaufort	155
Cedardale	65
Stony Lake	68
Cavanville	215
Mt. Pleasant	96
Norwood	225
Fleetwood	180
Oak Leaf	60
Darlington Union	100
Buckhorn	120
South Burleigh	44
Brickley	95
Shamrock	120
Dartford	118
Apsley	63
Total	5736

THE BIDDING.

Mr. Fitzgerald began the bidding with an offer of 9c. Mr. Wrighton raised it to 9 1-4c. Mr. Fitzgerald to 9 3-8c., Mr. Whitton to 9 1-2c. Mr. Wrighton to 9 9-16c. Mr. Fitzgerald to 9 5-8c. At this figure Mr. Fitzgerald got Central Smith, Fraserville and Myrtle.

Mr. Fitzgerald then bid 9 9-16 for further selections. Mr. Wrighton made it 9 5-8c. and secured Beaufort Warsaw, Peterborough and Mount Pleasant.

Mr. Wrighton offered 9 9-16 for further selections and East Emily, Shearer and Keene sold, and Villiers refused.

Mr. Wrighton bid 9 1-2c. for further Mr. Whitton and Mr. Fitzgerald made 9 9-16, and Mr. Bailey raised to 9 5-8 and got Ormonde, Norwood and Shamrock.

Mr. Bailey offered 9 9-16 but Mr. Whitton raised it to 9 5-8, and Westwood, Villiers and Melrose Abbey accepted.

Mr. Kerr next got the bid at 9 9-16c and also received North Smith, Trewern, Buckhorn, Lakefield, Missing Link and Dartford. Pine Grove, Cavanville and Young's Point refused.

Mr. Fitzgerald offered 9 1-2c. but Mr Rollins made it 9 9-16 and Warminster, Oakdale, Daisy D, Maple Leaf Young's Point, North Dummer, Cedardale, Stoney Lake, Apsley, and South Burleigh accepted.

Mr. Kerr took Ballyduff and Cavanville at 9 9-16c.

Mr. Kerr offered 9 1-2c for further Mr. Cook made it 9 1-16c for balance of the board. Darlington Union and Oak Leaf and Brickley accepted.

Indian River went to Mr. Bailley at 9 1-16c.

The board then adjourned.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit $10 for

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

herself reared as well. Yet I prayed that she might have been before me, and was ready to endure her reproaches rather than hear that she was still absent.

I fancied suppressed amazement on the face of the hall porter who helped me from the hansom, and handed up my fare to the cabman.

"Do you know if Lady Cope has come in yet?" I asked, nervously.

"I've only just come on duty, at midnight, miss," the hall porter replied. "I haven't seen her ladyship."

I felt unpleasantly sure that the big man suspected that I had been guilty of some imprudent escapade, which I was anxious that "her ladyship" should not discover, and from the good-natured twinkle in his eyes, as he held the door open and watched me fly towards the lift, he probably wished me luck.

But in an instant I had forgotten him and his conjectures. I asked no more questions as to my mother's return, but hurried straight to our rooms on the second floor.

I threw my cloak over the back of a chair, and knocked at my mother's door, softly calling her name in a voice that would tremble.

There was no answer, and I turned the handle to peep in. Her room was in darkness. Perhaps, I thought, she had returned, and gone straight to bed, taking it for granted that I was safely in the house, and not wishing, for reasons of her own, to see me until morning.

"I ventured to switch on the light, which was near the door. The bed was empty, the cover temptingly turned down, a silk night-dress and robe de chambre laid ready by the maid, who would be waiting at this very moment for her delayed summons.

There was just one hope left, and I pressed the bell connected with the little room occupied by my mother's maid, Swift.

In a moment she appeared.

"Oh, miss," she began, "I was just beginning to be afraid something was the matter. Her ladyship said you would be coming straight back after the theater."

"Then she hasn't sent any word?" I asked. This had been the one hope I had still relied upon.

"No, miss. No word has come for me. Isn't her ladyship with you?"

"She—she has gone with—a friend," I faltered, trying to make my voice sound natural, for mother was not one who would tolerate having her private affairs discussed by a servant. "I came back alone. But—I thought she would have been at home by this time, or let me know that she was not to be expected till later. No doubt it is all right. Only I—I can't help feeling a little anxious."

"Oh, if her ladyship is with a friend, there's nothing to worry about," Swift cheerily assured me. She had been with us for a long time, ever since I was quite a child, in fact, and I would have given much to ask her a few discreet questions, for it was just possible that she was more in mother's confidence than I was. But I put the thought behind me, and steeled myself in patience.

"You look as white as a ghost, miss," the maid went on. "I do hope you haven't got a chill. Better have a cup of chocolate, and let me get you to bed. By the time you're ready, her ladyship's sure to be here."

"I'm not at all cold, and I'm not sleepy," I protested. "I don't feel like being undressed yet, thank you. You can go to bed, and when Lady Cope comes I will do everything that she needs. If she should be ill, or really want you, why, of course, I will ring, and you can slip into a dressing-gown."

Swift murmured gratefully that she was "much obliged for my kindness," but though she decorously retired, there was that in her eye which told me she did not mean to avail herself of my permission. I had spoken calmly, I flattered myself, but I had not been able to conceal from her experience that something unusual had occurred, and doubtless she intended to wait, clothed and alert, for any emergency.

Never shall I forget the next hour. Though I had said I was not cold, I shivered with a nervous trembling, and mechanically sat down by the fire, stretching out my hands towards the blaze, which Swift had stirred into renewed life.

On the mantel stood a small clock, that ticked in a whisper, and every quarter-hour uttered a silver note. The hands scarcely seemed to move; days have passed more swiftly for me than those lagging quarter-hours. I imagined my mother trapped by a villainous plot into which she had fallen; murdered even, it might be—for crude tragedy did break into peaceful lives, even in this opening of an enlightened century.

As I so thought, the deep silence of the room was ruffled by a faint, all but inaudible, sound. It was as if someone outside had brushed against the handle of the door in going by. I sprang up, and, running across the room, threw the door open, just in time to catch my mother in my arms as she swayed and fell forward.

She was a Juno in height and build, while I was a slender girl, whose forehead came on a level with her chin, if we stood side by side; yet—somehow I held her.

I laid her down, and sank on my knees beside her. I was quivering all over, and for a moment was powerless to move. When I could rise, I rang the bell for Swift, and rushed to my own room for eau da Cologne.

I was back again before the maid could come, bathing my mother's forehead, and begging her to speak, in a strange, weak little voice, that did not sound like my own. Suddenly she opened her eyes—those wonderful eyes, with the haunting shadow that hid their depths. She was gazing straight into mine, yet I knew that she did not see me, and felt, with an eerie chill, that she was looking through me at something else.

So unearthly was the expression of

To be Continued

THE UNITED STATES SHIPBUILDING CO

$9,000,000.00

First Mortgage 5 Per Cent Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, due 1932

The entire issue has been underwritten in the United States and Europe.

Directors

HENRY T. SCOTT,
President of the Union Iron Works.

JOHN S HYDE,
President of the Hyde Windlass Company.

CHARLES R. HANSCOM,
President of the Eastern Shipbuilding Company.

CHARLES J. CANDA,
President of The Canda Manufacturing Company.

DANIEL LeROY DRESSER,
President of the Trust Company of the Republic

LEWIS NIXON,
The Crescent Ship Yard.

E. W HYDE,
President of The Bath Iron Works, Limited.

IRVING M SCOTT
Vice-President and General Manager of the Union Iron Works.

HORACE W. GAUSE,
President of The Harlan & Hollingsworth Company.

JOHN J. McCOOK,
of Alexander & Green.

Trustee for Bonds

MERCANTILE TRUST COMPANY, 120 Broadway, New York

Transfer Agents

TRUST COMPANY OF THE REPUBLIC, 71 William Street, New York.

Bankers

TRUST COMPANY OF THE REPUBLIC, 346 Broadway, and 71 William Street New York.

Counsel

ALEXANDER GREEN, 120 Broadway, New York.

Capital Stock

Preferred Stock, Six Per Cent Non-Cumulative	$10,000,000
Common Stock	$10,000,000

THE UNITED STATES SHIPBUILDING COMPANY,

OFFICES, 71 WILLIAM STREET.

The United States Shipbuilding Company has been organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey to acquire the plants and equipment of the following concerns or their capital stock, free from any liens:

THE UNION IRON WORKS	San Francisco, Cal.
THE BATH IRON WORKS, Limited	Bath, Maine.
THE HYDE WINDLASS COMPANY
THE CRESCENT SHIPYARD	Elizabethport, N. J.
THE SAMUEL L. MOORE & SONS, COMPANY
THE EASTERN SHIPBUILDING COMPANY	New London, Conn.
THE HARLAN & HOLLINGSWORTH COMPANY	Wilmington, Del.
THE CANDA MANUFACTURING COMPANY	Carteret, N.J.

The issue of $9,000,000, Series A, First Mortgage, Five Per Cent. Sinking Fund, Gold Bonds, due 1932, is part of an authorized issue of $16,000,000, Bonds of $1,000 each, $5,500,000, having been withdrawn from the public issue under the vendor's and subscriber's contracts and for providing cash working capital for the Company, and $1,500,000 being reserved in the Treasury of the Company. Additional bonds may be issued only for the purpose of acquiring additional plants and equipment and for improvement and betterments, upon such terms and conditions as shall be approved by the holders of the majority of the bonds outstanding at the time of such approval.

Messrs. Alexander & Green, Counsel for the Company, certify to the validity of the organization and of the securities issued, and the title of the Company to the property acquired.

Current books of account and contracts for work now in hand of the corporations above specified have been examined by W. T. Simpson, F.I.A., N.Y., and Riddell & Common, Accountants.

The distinct advantages of one corporation in the operation of a number of ship yards were stated in the report made on that subject on December 22, 1900, by Naval Constructor F. T. Bowles (now Rear Admiral and Chief Constructor of the U. S. Navy), as follows:—

1. Each concern builds that for which it is best fitted and equipped of that which its character, location and labor can accomplish most economically.

2. Structural materials, steel, iron, timber, etc., can be purchased at the lowest rates, a prompt supply secured at points where it is most needed.

3. The technical knowledge of design, which comes from experience, records and data of each concern, will be combined, thus giving confidence to customers that the results contracted for can be attained.

4. The healthy professional rivalry of the various yards can be utilized to produce the best results in design, construction and administration without the disastrous and narrowing devices of destructive competition.

5. The standardization of the numberless details of ship fittings, auxiliaries and appliances, which are now almost as various and incongruous in design as they are in number, and their production in quantity by those best qualified would produce enormous economies.

6. It would be possible to affect great economies by the separation of warships and merchant construction into different establishments, thus avoiding the great difficulties of organization and increased cost of radically different types of construction upon adjoining ships.

7. The better organization and management of the individual concerns would be a necessary and direct result of this incorporation.

These bonds are secured by a first mortgage upon the above-mentioned plants, appraised, as going concerns at more than $20,000,000, in addition to which these Companies will have a working capital of more than $5,000,000, and the constituent companies have now on hand contracts for work amounting to more than $32,000,000 on which the profits are estimated at over $5,000,000, or more than sufficient to pay interest on bonds and sinking fund for five years. These plants are earning $2,225,000 per annum on the contracts now on hand and have abundant facilities for additional work and increased earning capacity $2,225,000

Fixed charges 5 per cent. on $16,000,000	$800,000
Sinking fund	200,000	1,000,000
		$1,225,000

LESS ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

6 per cent on Preferred shares, $10,000,000	$600,000
Leaving for dividend on common shares, betterments and repairs, per annum	625,000
		$1,225,000

Simultaneous offerings of these bonds will be made in Paris, New York and elsewhere.

The entire issue of $9,000,000 has been underwritten in the United States and Europe.

Principal and Interest are payable in gold coin of the United States of America of the present standard of weight and fineness. Interest is payable in New York at the office of the Mercantile Trust Company, January 1st and July 1st, and the principal may be registered.

Application will be made to list these securities on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Trust Company of the Republic is authorized to receive applications for these bonds at 97 1-2 per cent., payable as follows: 25 per cent. on application, 25 per cent. upon allotment, 25 per cent. July 10th, and the balance, 22 1-2 per cent., July 24th.

Subscription books will be opened in Paris and New York on the 18th day of June, 1902, for the entire $9,000,000 of bonds, and be held open until 4 p.m., June 19th.

Application for bonds must be made to the undersigned with the amount of the deposit. If no allotment is made, the deposit will be returned in full; and where the number of bonds allotted is less than applied for, the amount will be applied toward the payment due on allotment, and any excess will be returned to the applicant.

For any further information apply to Allotments will be made as soon as possible after closing the books. NEGOTIABLE interim certificates to bearer will be issued pending the delivery of the definite bonds.

The Trust Company of the Republic reserves the right to close the subscription at any time, and to reject any and all subscription.

Trust Company of the Republic

346 Broadway and 71 William Street, New York, or to

E. H. GAY & CO., Bankers,

157 St. James Street, Montreal, Canada.

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

SWEATY FEET
SORE FEET
ACHING FEET
BLISTERED FEET
HOT FEET
INFLAMED FEET
SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

When any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper article,

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

—AND—

MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 20 190

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is 'phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—A large excursion from Hastings came up the river yesterday.

—The band will give their weekly concert in Victoria Park this evening.

—The Epworth League of Keene will run an excursion to town to-morrow.

—The Chief has a bicycle at the Police Station for which he wants an owner.

—The Douro picnic took place yesterday and was the most successful ever held in this section.

—The Mayor should proclaim a holiday on Coronation Day, and at the same time request the citizens to decorate their buildings.

—At the Police Court yesterday a small boy was given a short term in jail for stealing strawberries from Mr. R. A. Dutton's.

—A complimentary banquet will be given to Hon. Clifford Sifton by the citizens of Lindsay and the County at the Benson house this evening, after his lecture at the Collegiate Institute.

—Mr. Burbidge, the Times' circulation manager, is in Lakefield this week, and is adding scores to our already large list of subscribers in this village. It can be truly said of Lakefield that "everybody reads The Times."

—The annual picnic of St. Paul's Church Choir took place yesterday by steamer North Star to Idyl-Wild. The outing was thoroughly enjoyed by those who took it in.

—The merchants of Ashburnham closed their places of business yesterday in order that their clerks and themselves might participate in the decoration ceremonies.

—The regular meeting of Court Peterborough, No. 29, C.O.F., will be held this evening when reports will be presented by the delegates who attend the recent High Court meetings in Owen Sound.

—A change has been made in the rally programme for to-day, in the Baptist church. There will be only two sessions—afternoon at 3 o'clock, and evening at 7.45. The afternoon meeting will be especially interesting to S. S. workers. All who are interested in Sunday schools are invited to the evening meeting. Parents should try and be there in large numbers. An interesting programme has been provided. A collection will be taken.

—Mr. James Craig, of the Craig House, Lakefield, was in town yesterday, and dropped into the Times. Mr. Craig says that the prospects are unusually good for a big summer trade this season. Guests are arriving daily, and the house is almost full up already. The Craig House is one of the best managed and most popular summer resorts of the Kawartha Lakes.

—Local curlers are deeply interested in the cabled announcement that at a representative meeting of Scottish curlers, held at Edinburgh the other day, 45 curlers agreed to visit Canada next winter, the offer will be submitted to the Royal Caledonian Club of Scotland at its annual meeting for approval and the selection of a team. If the old country curlers come to Canada they will of course visit Peterborough, because nowhere else can they meet foemen more worthy.

—The strawberry festival given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of All Saint's church, assisted by the younger members of the congregation, last evening, on the lawn of Mrs. G. J. Lundy, was a most enjoyable affair. There was a large company present, and the weather was just cool enough to make an outing pleasant. The band of the 57th was present, and rendered a number of popular selections. The grounds were illuminated with Chinese lanterns, colored electric lights, etc. Refreshments of all kinds were served, and seemed to be much in demand. The receipts of the evening must have added a tidy sum to the treasury of the auxiliary.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Mr. R. Fair has returned from the New York markets.

—The Misses Taylor, of Toronto, are the guests of Miss Gertrude Kendry.

—Mrs. W. H. Foord, of Toronto, is in town on a month's visit with relatives.

—Hon. J. R. Stratton came down from Toronto on Wednesday evening, to attend the Douro picnic.

—Messrs. H. E. Bradley & Co., merchant tailors and outfitters, George St., have secured the services of Mr. Elmore Broderick, late of Detroit, as assistant stock-keeper and salesman.

A Great Sufferer Cured

Mr. Benjamin Dillon, of Leeds County, Ont., was cured of Muscular Rheumatism and says- "I feel my duty to proclaim Polson's Nerviline as an infallible cure for Rheumatism; it cured me after 30 years suffering, and nothing I know of can equal its penetrating power. Nerviline simply has no equal in quickly relieving and curing Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica and Lumbago. A trial will convince anyone. Price 25c.

Retail Merchants Association

It was decided by the General Executive Board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada on Wednesday to hold a provincial convention in Toronto on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 9th and 10th next. At least 500 delegates will be in attendance. The grocers' section last night decided to accept the invitation of the Natural Food Supply Company of Niagara Falls, N.Y., to visit their works during the second week of July. Peterborough branch will probably send delegates.

C. P. R. Schedule Settled

President J. T. Wilson, of the Brotherhood of American Trackmen says that the schedule of the C.P.R. trackmen is about settled, and that the Intercolonial Railway trackmen will also get a substantial advance. The most recent body of men seeking a new tariff are the trackmen of the Canadian Northern, who are seeking an advance of 15 per cent. over the old rates. Increases are reported on many important American lines, the most recent being on the Northern Pacific, where nearly all departmen's have had advances ranging from 5 to 15 per cent.

Questions For Lawyers

The lawyers of Ontario will meet at Osgoode Hall, Toronto on June 30th, at 1 p.m., to discuss the following subjects among others: Whether all High Court actions should be tried at County Court sittings. Whether the local judge of the High Court should have the same power in actions brought in the county as a High Court sitting in Single Court. Should examinations for discovery be taken free by court officers and fee for copies be reduced? Office of Division Court clerk to be abolished; work to be done by County Court clerk and fees reduced. Abolition of office of sheriff; duties to be performed by clerk of the court and constable or other officers, and fees to be reduced. Removal of all restrictions from solicitor's right to contract with clients for professional services. Dominion and provincial statutes to be given free to members of the profession. Dominion aid to County L. L. Associations. Publication of a work on practice by the Law Society. A system of nomination for benchers' election. Increase of Judges' salaries. Uniformity in Surrogate Court fees.

COFFEE SENSE

To Drink, Or not to Drink, the Question

A prominent St. Paul woman comments on coffee as follows:

"While I was drinking coffee I was troubled with sleeplessness and palpitation of the heart. I began to feel suspicious of coffee poison and having no desire to drug myself, realized how inconsistent it was for me to continue the use of anything that helped to break me down, so I quit coffee and began using Postum Coffee.

Now I sleep well and consequently feel refreshed, and am much strengthened. Palpitation of the heart has ceased and altogether life seems worth living.

Some of our family like a little coffee mixed in with the Postum; that, of course, is much healthier than the old fashioned coffee alone."

It is true that very strong coffee of the best flavor has a little more fascinating taste to some palates than pure Postum. On the other hand, there are thousands of people that prefer the flavor of Postum, pure and simple. If coffee agrees perfectly, and people are not ill in any way, there seems no good reason why coffee should be discontinued unless there is a fear of disease finally setting up from the continued use of a drug. On the other hand, if any member of a family is ailing in stomach, bowels, kidneys, eyes, or the nervous system, such a one should immediately quit ordinary coffee and take Postum Food Coffee. A sure result can be depended upon and a gradual feeling of health and strength will come from the change. Health, of course, is worth almost everything on earth.

Some people are so constituted that it is hard for them to give up a habit even if good health is the reward, but it is perfectly easy to leave off coffee when one can have a well boiled cup of Postum in its place.

THE IMPERIAL BANK

We once again heartily congratulate the General Manager and board of directors of the Imperial Bank on the result of the year's operations, as shown by the financial statement submitted at the annual meeting held in Toronto this week

Mr. D. R. Wilkie, whose utterances on financial matters are so carefully read and highly regarded everywhere alluded to the authority obtained to increase the capital by a million and a half dollars, and pointed out that it was a duty as well as an advantageous move for existing banks to afford the needed accommodation by increasing their capital. They owe it to the community to afford means by which available capital can reach the channels of trade, and they possess the requisite machinery as well as established connections with the business community. It is not intended to call out more than $500,000 of the new capital at any one time. The death of President H. S. Howland was fittingly recalled, and the vacancy was filled by the election of Vice-President T. R. Merritt, who is succeeded in the Vice-Presidency by General Manager Wilkie. Although comparatively a young man, Mr. Wilkie is, in point of service, the oldest General Manager now actively employed in Canada. He gave an interesting resume of the history of the bank, which he was active in establishing, and in which he has held the position of General Manager for twenty-seven years.

The bank was established in 1874, and amalgamated with the Niagara District Bank of St. Catherines in 1875 Mr. T. R. Merritt, the newly elected President, being on the board of that institution. An interesting report of the Niagara District Bank for 1855 showed £47,458 capital and £69,050 note circulation. A year later the total deposits in Canadian banks were $19,718,000, while now the Imperial Bank alone has $17,800,000. In 1883 the deposits and circulation of the Imperial Bank were five million dollars and the capital a million and a half, or 30 per cent., the dividend being 8 per cent. In 1892 the ratio of capital to deposits and circulation was 21 per cent., or $1,941,000 to $9,300,000 and the dividend declared was 9 per cent. In 1900 the deposits and circulation were $15,800,000, and the capital $2,500,000, or 16 per cent., the rate of dividend being 10 per cent. At the present time a capital of $2,500,000, earning 10 per cent. dividend, sustains deposits and circulation aggregating $20,163,000. This gradual lessening in the ratio of capital to the volume of business, the increase of deposits by 100 per cent, during the past ten years, while the capital was increased only 10 per cent., showed the need of the proposed increase, and it was also pointed out that the bank had of late been obliged to pay out the notes of other banks. The expansion of the past year was 20 per cent. in circulation and 15 per cent. in deposits. The staff of ten employees with which the bank had started has grown to a force of 274, and it is in accordance with modern ideas that the successful year has been marked by the distribution of $23,000 in bonuses to employees The rate of this distribution has been 10 per cent. on salaries up to $1,500 a year, and 5 per cent on salaries above that level. The growth of this institution is typical of Canadian development, and it is in many ways satisfactory that its two highest offices have been filled by promotion.

HOTEL MEN TO MEET

Sixth Annual Convention of Ontario License Holders Association

The license holders of the Province are to meet in annual convention in Toronto, next week, to take action in regard to the policy to be pursued in regard to the referendum. The following circular letter has been issued to the local license holders:

Peterborough, June 17th 1902.

Dear Sir,—I beg to advise you that the Ninth Annual Convention of the Ontario License Holders Protective Association will be held in the City of Toronto on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 24th and 25th. I am instructed to impress on all License Holders the importance of the Convention, in as much as the policy to be pursued at the Referendum vote in December next will be settled and as every License Holder in Ontario is interested each district should be represented in large numbers.

The Toronto Trade entertaining the delegates by having an Excursion to Niagara Falls, via the Navigation Steamers.

In order to make arrangements for this convention, the Peterborough Association propose holding a meeting of all License Holders in this district at the Opera House here on Friday, June 20th at 8 p.m. All License Holders should make an effort to attend, as matters of importance will be discussed.

Do not forget the date and the hour, Leave your business and be present.

Yours very truly,
M. L. HENRY,
Sec. Peterborough L.H.P.A.
ALEX. ELLIOTT, President.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH
Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25,$1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75, for..$1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00, for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS! STRAW HATS!

Plain Straw Hat............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,...50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats....75c,$1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ...ARCHITECT...
450 George Street

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will off suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at.............40c
Suspenders.....................15c
Overalls, with bib, at..........48c
Smocks, at......................90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailo
One door south of Montreal Bank.

A SPLENDID INVESTMENT

The United States Shipbuilding Company's First Mortgage Bonds

Elsewhere will be found the advertisement of the United States Shipbuilding Company. This affords a splendid opportunity for a safe and profitable investment, and one that should command the favorable attention of our capitalists.

Messrs. E. H. Gay & Co., Bankers, 157 St. James street, Montreal, have the handling of the Canadian business, which is in itself a sufficient guarantee for the investor.

Irritating Pimples and Disfiguring Blotches

They place many young girls at a disadvantage in life. The only cure is a blood purifier like Ferrozone. It cleanses the crimson flow of poisons and impurities, renews and strengthens it, and makes lots of red corpuscles that manifest their presence by a ruddy, healthy glow in the cheeks and lips. Ferrozone quickly masters all skin eruptions, builds up broken-down constitutions, and gives to weak, sickly women an abundance of spirits, vitality, energy and beauty. Try Ferrozone, it's all right. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at Druggists or from Ormond & Walsh.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"
Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CORONATION DAY
JUNE 26TH.

DOMINION DAY
JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also Good going June 30th and July 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24th to July 1st, inclusive, valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from
W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26
DOMINION DAY

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th
Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st
Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3,

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

READ THIS.

READ THIS. $700.00 in Bank will yield you $21.00 per year, we can give you better security and a return of over $71.00 per year for same money.

See cards in our office window for other profitable investments.

Choice building Lots, Houses and Lots, Gardens and farms for sale.

T. HURLEY & CO.
Near Post Office
Ground Floor
Phone, 376,

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

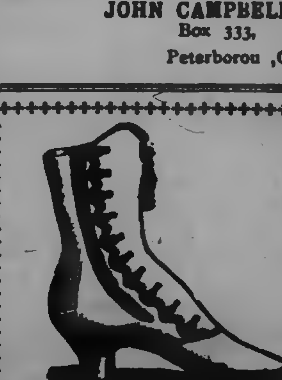
233 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 180, 195 and 215, day or night.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborou ,Ont



Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES
AT
JOHN KYLIE'S,
HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

THE MORNING TIMES

JUNE 21

1902

MICROFILMED BY

MICROFILMING SERVICES

2215 QUEEN ST. EAST
TORONTO, CANADA

START
OF REEL

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 145 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO SATURDAY JUNE 21 1902 PRICE TWO CENTS

LORD CHAS. BERESFORD DENOUNCES ADMIRALTY.

Says That Its Maladministration Is Seriously Endangering Britain's Navy

Scathing Speech Made by England's Only Admiral in the British House of Commons

Special to The Times.

London, June 21.—During the course of the discussion of the navy estimates in the House of Commons to-day, Rear-Admiral Lord Charles Beresford (Conservative), scathingly criticized the deficiencies of the navy. He declared the whole Admiralty system was rotten, and led to great extravagance and the general want of efficiency of the navy, on which depended the existence of the Empire. This was the judgment of all the commissions of inquiry, and had been proven to be a fact. Every increase in the number of ships and every improvement in them had been the result of outside agitation. As the result of such agitation the British Mediterranean fleet was now a fourth stronger than it was a year ago.

It was remarkable, Lord Beresford added that both army and navy officers were compelled to threaten to resign in order to get things righted. Great Britain had only 30,000 naval reserves instead of the requisite 80,000, and the engine room departments were thousands of men short. As to armament, both the United States and France possessed superior guns. Blunders would continue until a seperate business board was appointed at the Admiralty and was made responsible for the efficiency of the fleet. Treasury control was fatal to efficiency. As an instance, the speaker pointed out the case of Sir William Vernon Harcourt (Liberal), who, when he was Chancellor of the Exchequer put his pen through the ammunition supplies after the guns had been ordered.

AMERICAN ARMY IN KHAKI

The New Uniform to be Adopted by the United States Soldiers

Special to The Times.

Washington, June 21.—The United States army is to have a new uniform. Radical changes are to be made in both service and dress uniforms of officers and men of all branches of the service.

Some time ago Secretary of War Root appointed a special commission of army officers to investigate and report on the question of improvement in the uniforms now worn. This commission has held a number of hearings, examined the uniforms of the armies of other countries, and will shortly report to Secretary Root recommending a number of changes.

These recommendations will include the adoption of khaki as the service uniform for all arms, but full-length trousers for privates are to be abolished. The new service uniform proposed will have in place of full-length trousers knickerbockers and either leggings or a wrapping for the legs, similar to that used in the British Army. Long trousers are to be retained in the dress uniform, but the helmet will be abolished and a cap with a visor substituted. The Brown slouch hat with the service uniform will be retained.

The proposed changes in the uniform of officers are all in the direction of simplicity. The present long, heavy sword is to be abolished in favor of a short and light-weighted weapon similar to that now used in the Italian Army. In full-dress uniform officers will wear a cap with a visor, which is to be modelled after a pattern in use in the Prussian regiments of the German Army.

The knapsack is to be abolished and in its place there will be a canvas bag that will be suspended by straps over both shoulders. The bag will hang about the middle of the back.

American Troops For Canada

New York, June 6.2—One of the New York or Brooklyn regiments will be invited to participate in the big military review to be held in Montreal, Canada, on June 26. It will probably be the Seventh or the Twenty-third. The former command visited the Canadian city several years ago.

Hot Weather Breakfasts

Malt Breakfast Food

IS RECOMMENDED BY THE BEST PHYSICIANS

It Does Not Heat The Blood or Hamper Digestion

Heavy, rich and starchy foods cause digestive disturbances and stomach derangements in hot weather.

Delicious Malt Breakfast Food, a concentrated and nourishing breakfast cereal food is easily digested, soothes the irritated and inflamed stomach, and keeps the blood pure and cool in the hot weather. This most delicious of grain foods is sold by all Grocers.

Colonies will Not Get Preference.

London, June 20.—In the House of Commons last night Sir Charles Dilke and others of the Opposition demanded a specific statement from the Chancellor of the Exchequer in regard to the Government's attitude at the coming conference of the colonial Premiers. It was obvious, it was asserted, that the conference would discuss the whole fiscal policy of the country, and before committing itself the Government ought to give the public an opportunity for full discussion of the matter.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer emphatically repudiated the suggestion that the Government was contemplating a revolution in its financial policy, and said, in behalf of himself and his colleagues, that he wholly disavowed such an idea. It was not the policy of the Government to endeavor to encourage trade with the colonies by initiating tariff war with other countries.

The announcement made by Sir Michael Hicks-Beach that the tax on maize would be reduced by one-half has been accepted on both sides of the House as finally disposing of the idea of a British zollverein, and the Protectionist party in Parliament is greatly disappointed at the Chancellor of the Exchequer's deliberate repudiation of the idea.

GREAT COAL STRIKE

360,000 Men Likely to Quit Work in Coal Regions

A TERRIBLE COAL FAMINE

President Mitchell Calls a Convention Before Issuing Order

Will Probably be the Greatest Strike on Record—If the Plan Succeeds 360,000.00) Men will Stop Work in the Mines in Many States

Special to The Times.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 21.—Unable to make further progress in the anthracite coal strike President Mitchell this morning issued a call for a national convention of United Mine Workers which is to consider the advisability of ordering a national strike. If this move is successful it will involve over 360,000 men who now produce about 215,000,000 tons of coal a year. If the leaders can control the organization all the coal mining east, south and north of Tennessee, inclusive, except in the central Pennsylvania district, will be stopped and a suspension of work such as the world has never seen will occur.

The following statement in regard to the call was made:

A national convention of the miners of the country will be held at Indianapolis at the earliest possible date to consider the advisability of a national suspension of work. The call is made upon the acquiescence of five districts of United Mine Workers of America, that number being necessary to issue a call. This makes it obligatory for the President of the United Mine Workers to call the convention. The five districts are Nos. 1, 7, 9, 17 and 24. The date will be decided by the National Secretary of the United Mine Workers, W. B. Wilson.

These five districts are the three anthracite districts, the West Virginia and Michigan. The papers have been in the possession of President Mitchell for some time.

After a discussion on the telephone with Secretary-Treasurer Wilson, at Indianapolis this afternoon President Mitchell announced the date of the convention as July 17. Secretary-Treasurer Wilson will have notices printed and sent to each local throughout the country, bearing a copy of the call and orders to elect delegates. Each hundred mine workers in good standing are entitled to a vote and one delegate may represent as many as five votes, but no more.

The organized miners are, according to the union figures, entitled to 2,873 votes with some fifty added from the States which are not organized thoroughly but which have small locals. These figures are not exact, as no miner can vote for a delegate unless he is in good standing, and only about 70 per cent. have their dues paid to within the last three months. Then a complete organization is claimed in Virginia and West Virginia, where only about half the miners are organized.

The outlook, according to President Mitchell, is that the convention will have about 1,400 delegates present and they will represent, although he does not say this, about 2,500 votes. Of this number the regions now on strike, the Pennsylvania anthractic, West Virginia, Virginia and Michigan, will represent about two-fifths. The others will come from the soft coal regions of Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Alabama, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, where Mitchell says the organization is complete.

The anthracite men expect to get from these States enough votes to pass the strike resolution, a majority, and not a two-thirds vote being required.

Maryland, Colorado, Washington, Montana, Indian Territory, Arkansas, New Mexico and Texas and one-half the soft coal district of Pennsylvania are not well organized but there are small unions among them, which will be represented at the convention.

According to the best figures now obtainable, the districts now on strike will have to gain over 250 votes to carry their object.

The result of the strike would be far-reaching, and will paralize every industry in the United States, and greatly effect those in Canada, as well.

BIG LOTTERY TO AID POOR BOERS

Reitz and Meyer Coming Here to Boom It—Other Leaders to Visit Other Lands

Special to The Times.

Brussels, June 21.—It is reported here that Mr. Reitz, formerly State Secretary of the Transvaal and Gen. Lucas Meyer, the well known Boer leader, will make a tour of the United States with the object of collecting money for the benefit of poor Boer families by means of a great international lottery.

Gen de Wet, it is said, will visit Germany and Austria, in connection with the scheme, while Gen. Botha, ex-commander-in-chief of the Boer forces, will visit Belgium Holland and France. Gen. Botha will also be received in audience by the King of England.

The total number of Boers who surrendered, together with those who were captured, held prisoners in refugee camps or were killed or wounded or reported as missing, show that the Boer army during the entire war approximated 80,000 men of all ages, including the Cape Dutch.

GUATEMALA STILL SHAKING

Earthquake of Daily Occurrence—Railroad Badly Impaired

Special to The Times.

New Orleans, June 21—The British steamer Anselm from Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, brought a number of passengers from Guatemala City including H.M. Keith, President of the United Fruit Company. The passengers who came from Guatelama City over the railroad report it badly damaged by the continued earthquakes that have prevailed there. The train had to go very slowly the entire distance and even then it left the track several times. At the river Mortigum the bridge had been destroyed and the passengers had to cross the river in a boat. From Port Engneo the passengers themselves, twenty in number, took charge of the train, operated it and succeeded in reaching Puerto Barrios in safety.

No damage whatever was done by the earthquake on the Atlantic coast. Earthquakes still occur daily in the central part of the republic. Five shocks, the most severe for several weeks, were felt on May 28 between 3.30 and 4.30 p.m.

CASE AGAINST IRISH LEAGUE

Effort Being Made to Have Courts Declare It

Special to The Times

London, June 21.—Lord de Freyne, an Irish landlord, has started a great test case against thirty-one defendants, who are charged by him with conspiring to procure the non-payment of rents. He seeks to have the courts declare the United Irish League to be illegal.

The defendants include John Redmond, John Dillon and J. G. MacNeill, all members of the House of Commons; the directorate of the United Irish League, Michael Davitt and the directors of the Freeman's Journal.

THE WORLD'S BEST SUMMER MEDICINE

Paine's Celery Compound

Has Made People Well When Every Other Remedy Has Failed

Paine's Celery Compound cures disease, it has saved the lives of thousands of sufferers. It has made the weak strong vigorous and happy.

Paine's Celery Compound purifies the blood and builds up the nervous system, as nothing else can do; it is pre-eminently the great life-saver and health-maker.

Overworked and tired women stand in urgent need of this health-giving prescription to make and keep them well. All women should take advantage of the remarkable power of this best of medicines for restoring vigor to the blood and strength to the nervous system. The all-important thing for nervous, rundown and sleepless women is that Paine's Celery Compound fortifies the whole physical system, and by correcting digestion and regulating the nerves it ensures sound, refreshing sleep. In every case of sickness Paine's Celery Compound completely and permanently brings back health. Mrs. W. Allen, Jr., of Almonte, Ont., says:

"Through the pleadings of a friend I tried Paine's Celery Compound for nervousness and loss of sleep, and I find it has done more for me than any other medicine I ever used; it is certainly the best of all medicines. After using but two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound I find myself as well and strong as ever before. I recommend the Compound at every opportunity."

TORONTO STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYES WILL PROBABLY STRIKE THIS MORNING

Over Half a Million Deaths

New York, June 20.—Mr. Herbert Welsh, editor of City and State, Philadelphia, writes to The World and asks its authority for saying that "we have killed or caused the death of 600,000 Filipinos."

Senator Hoar in his great speech in the Senate used these figures and endorsed them as in his opinion trustworthy. He quoted the declaration of the Secretary of the province of Batangas that one-third of the population of that province have died within two years"—100,000 people. He also quoted from an interview of Gen. James M. Bell, printed in the New York Times in which that officer said that "one-sixth of the natives of Luzon have either been killed or have died of the dengue fever in the last two years"—600,000 people more. Mr Hoar added:

"I suppose that this dengue fever and sickness which depopulated Batangas in the direct result of the war, and comes from the condition of starvation and bad food which the war has caused. The other provinces have not been heard from. If this be true we have caused the death of more human beings in the Philippines than we have caused to our enemies, including insurgents in the terrible civil war, in all our other wars put together."

Editor Welsh sends The World a letter from a War Department official characterizing this statement of Filipino deaths caused directly or indirectly by the war as "an absurdity." The writer says "the aggregate killed and wounded [Filipinos] reported by commanding officers is 14,643 killed and 3,297 wounded." But he goes on to say that "as to the number of Filipinos whose deaths were due to the incidents of war sickness, burning of habitations &c., we have no information." It was of these deaths Senator Hoar spoke and he certainly quoted good authorities for estimating them at 600,000

Men's Committee Advised Against Terms of Company.

THE COMPANY DOES NOT EXPECT STRIKE

The Decision Rests with The Vote of the Men This Morning

Company Makes Known the Terms It Will Give the Men.

The Men Had Not Reached Any Decision at the Hour of 3.45 This Morniug

Special to The Times.

Toronto, June 20.—Whether there will be a strike or not of the conductors and motormen of the street railway now rests with the meeting called by the Board of Trade last night.

The situation is grave. The committee of the men interviewed the Board of Control this morning, and laid before them their final determination. The gist of it was that there would be a strike unless the company consented to arbitrate. Mediation will no longer suffice. Even the mention of the name of Chief Justice Meredith as intermediary was rejected at once. The men have had enough of mediation.

Judging by this determination it hardly seems possible that a strike can be avoided. What the committee stated to the Board of Control is a fair indication of what they will report to the meeting to-night, and in all probability that meeting will be largely guided by what the committee recommends.

The statement of the committee that they will accept only arbitration can mean nothing else than a recommendation against the offer of the company. And the demand for arbitration is one that the company have definitely stated that they will not accept.

The committee made it clear to the Board of Control that they had done all they could to come to some arrangement, and that the only negotiations they were prepared to undertake now were arbitration.

It is true that the meeting to-night may make a departure from the advice of their committee, but it is not likely.

A minor matter which they will have to decide, and which may affect the final result, is the manner of taking the vote. Will it be by ballot? or by a show of hands? It is conceivable that the difference of method in taking the vote might affect the result. The ballot is the more accurate means of ascertaining the opinion of the men, and unless it is adopted, it might easily be that, on a close vote to the comparative inaccuracy the show of hands might change the result. Besides, the ballot is secret, and the men would be more ready to express their true views under its shield.

The seriousness of the situation is emphasized by a statement made by President Ames of the Board of Trade. In answer to a question this morning he stated that the committee of the board had ceased its operations as far as negotiating with the company was concerned, and had done nothing today except call the meeting of the employes for to-night.

"Then all negotiations are off?" was the query.

"That is for the men to say to-night" came the reply.

Another question of importance is what majority shall decide. Shall a three-fourths vote be required to order a strike or shall two-thirds be accepted as sufficient?

What the feeling of the rank and file of the men may be it is impossible just now to find out.

Some of the men want recognition of the union, come what may; others seem equally insistent that Mr. McDonald be reinstated. Few seem satisfied with the wages. One man said: "After ten years' service I see we will be given twenty-one cents an hour. That is not good for us, because the average life of a motorman or conductor is not more than six years, for he is either discharged or leaves the position after an average of six years."

The meeting to-night will settle all these questions. The question is: How?

WAGES RAISED.

This afternoon the following notice was posted in all the car barns of the city:

NOTICE.

On and after this date the wages of the motormen and conductors employed by the Toronto Railway Company are as follows:

First year, 17c per hour.

Second year, 18c per hour.

Third, fourth, and fifth years, 19c per hour.

After fifth year to tenth year, 20c per hour.

After tenth year, 21c per hour.

E. H. Keating,
General Manager.

THE ALIEN LABOR LAW.

"If the Street Railway Company bring Americans in here in the case of a strike we will certainly see that our rights are protected," said one of the men to-day. "We have an Alien Labor law, and an Alien Labor law officer, and, while we realize that it might be a very difficult matter to bring the infractions of the law home, yet we will push the matter to the utmost to see that we are given a fair show."

It has been suggested that the Mayor be waited upon to discover his attitude regarding the importation of men to run the cars. In conversation with a representative of The Star His Worship said: "When the Board of Trade committee withdraw, I will likely have something to say. Of course, confusion might arise if I were to do anything now."

When asked as to his attitude regarding the possible importation of Americans or foreigners, Mayor Howland replied: "There is an Alien Labor law in force, and the men should look to that for their rights. I am not an Alien Labor officer, but I don't see any reason why that law could not be enforced if Americans should be brought in."

RENTING WHEELS.

Anxiety is felt over the possibility of a strike among those who are conducting amusements in the breathing spots about the city. If there is a strike, and the car service is demoralized, the Diamond Park, the amusements at Hanlan's Island, the boat owners and booth keepers, and the amusements in the eastern portion of the city might suffer. There is an increased activity among the bicycle dealers down town, and many wheels have been rented during the last twenty-four hours, the rent usually going for one or two months.

A MEETING FOR TO-NIGHT.

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock the conference between the Board of Trade and Toronto Street Railway Company came to an abrupt end.

The publication of the ultimatum was taken as a sign that the company had shown its hand, and the committee of the men immediately met the Board of Trade committee to receive a formal report of the conference with the company. The committee of the Board of Trade reported very carefully and fully, but after hearing it the committee representing the men decided that they could not take the responsibility of accepting the offer of the company. The representatives of the Board of Trade then suggested that they call a meeting of the employes, to be held in the Star Theater at midnight to-night, when they would present the offer of the company, with full explanations, and then withdraw, leaving the matter in the hands of the men for final decision. It is likely that this meeting to-night will be open to the entire body of conductors and motormen, regardless of unionism, but when it is stated that there are nearly 975 members of the union, and only about 40 outside the fold, it can easily be seen that the non-unionists cannot influence the decision to any great extent.

DOES NOT EXPECT STRIKE.

"It is said upon good authority that you have been over in Cleveland with a lawyer, and that as a result 500 men are waiting there that can be landed in Toronto on twelve hours' notice," said a Star reporter to Mr. Moore of the Street Railway Company.

When Mr. Moore heard this, he replied, "No; I haven't been in Cleveland."

"Well, has the lawyer?"

"Not that I know of."

"You, of course, are making very active preparations in the event of a strike?"

"No, we are not," replied Mr. Moore. "I don't really think there will be a strike. We have conceded much to the men as anyone can observe, and I think the better counsel of the wiser ones will result in accepting our offer."

"Still, you have men busily working getting men ready?"

Mr. Moore admitted that they were not letting any grass grow under their feet.

"Whereabouts are the agents working getting recruits?"

"Now, you don't expect me to answer that question for a minute, do you?"

THE MEN ASK.

1. A uniform rate of wages of [illegible] per hour for all conductors and motormen.

2. That time and a quarter should be allowed for Sunday work.

3. That the runs of the regular and relief men should be divided as nearly as possible so as to give each nine hours per day.

4. That the cars be cleaned ready for the men to take out in the morning.

5. That in cases of wrongful suspension men should be allowed their time, and that a man who considers himself wrongfully disciplined should have the right to have his case investigated by a committee of employes, who shall make a report or recommendation to the management in connection therewith.

THE COMPANY OFFERS.

1. Wages to be increased as follows: First year, increased from 15c to 17c; second year, increased from 16 2-3 to 18c; third, fourth, and fifth years, increased from 17c to 19c; after fifth to tenth year, increased from 18c to 20c; after tenth year, increased from 18c to 21c.

2. On Sunday work an increase in wages shall be made so as to make the wages earned on that day equal to those earned on other days of the week.

3. The company undertakes to have the cars cleaned for the motormen and conductors in the morning, but the men shall report ahead of time, as at present, without additional pay, and keep the inside and platforms of their cars clean as formerly while on duty.

4. The company undertakes to prevent as far as possible any injustice for men having to suffer by reason of being suspended without just cause, and that all shall have the right to appeal, without prejudice to their positions, to the General Manager at any time.

KEMP'S STORY OF THE WAR

Gives Interesting Figures as to Numbers Who Fought

Kimberley, Griqualand West, June 21—Commandant Kemp, Gen. Delarey's lieutenant, who surrendered at Mafeking, Bechuanaland, on June 11, has arrived here. In an interview he gave some interesting figures regarding the war. He said that about fifty thousand Boers were in the field at the outset, and that only one thousand five hundred out of six thousand men available fought at Colenso, where the Boer losses were not very heavy. At Spion Kop, where the British suffered so much the Boers had only 53 men killed. In one of the fights outside of Ladysmith the Boers had 56 men killed and over 100 wounded. Their losses were heavier at Bankspruit and Vlakenfontein. The Boers were often worried by the British Shrapnel and lyddite fire, but when entrenched they did not fear the shells. Members of the Boer forces often managed to get into Johannesburg, Krugersdorp and Pretoria, procuring valuable information, and frequently crossed the blockhouse lines at night. Commandant Kemp did not allow the Boers of his command to wear khaki.

CORPORATION OFFICERS.

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T. A. S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Beck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, R. A. Peck, Warde, Davis and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Crossley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. B. Bamford.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depar
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal	5,10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7,12 a.m.	7.33 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston	5,10 a.m.	12.26 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11,35 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & Intermediate	7,38 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12,25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West	11,35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11,40 a.m.	3.25 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9 00 p.m.	6.38 p.m
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5,35 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8,30 a.m.	9.19 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8,10 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston, Montreal	9,05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9,40 a.m.	8.38 a.m.
Lakefield local	5,00 p.m.	12.15 p.m.
Lakefield local	8,50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at [illegible] per month, and to outside points at [illegible] per year strictly in advance.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 21, 1902.

CANADA FIRST

It is interesting to note in view of the pronouncement of the British Parliament, the recent discussion by Canadian Boards of Trade of the scheme of proposed imperial preferential trade so loudly advertised by our Canadian jingoes. England has for the fiftieth time announced that she is for England first, and who can blame her? Canadians who knew what to expect and who looked upon the outcome of the conference with some regard to logic and common sense now feel that their judgment has been vindicated and that the empire is to consist as heretofore of units held together from force of habit more than from any other form of the principle of cohesion. The Peterborough Board of Trade, as others did, discussed the problem and instructed their representatives. Mr. Dumble's resolution presented at the conference at Toronto drawn up on the lines of the discussion here was formed upon this basis of individual responsibility rather than corporate union. It is evident now that Canada will best form part of the Empire by growing and expanding and by building her own means of defence. The delusion of British preference is removed. It is the best thing for Canada that it is so. We have no faith in the imperialism of the jingoes. It lacks the essential element of common sense.

THE SAD AFTERMATH

There is something doubly pathetic in the sight of people still counting their dead after peace has been declared. The grim list of the killed and wounded strikes a fitting minor note to the clangor of war, but peace brings the paean of victory in which there is no place for a minor key.

Still all the dead of the war are not buried yet—if some belated discoveries of this sad character may be taken as typical; and disease in its hospital ward takes no notice of the official announcement that hostilities are over. Men will die yet from their devotion to duty during the Boer war; and it is impossible to escape the feeling that there is quite a unique sadness about these deaths which occur after man has consented to cease his killing.

So much and sincerely have we honored the maimed veteran that his figure has lost the greater share of its pathos. It is hard to mourn for one who is the unchallenged hero of the rising generation, and to whose comfort his grateful country contributes. Still it is a fact that more men will carry the wounds of the war long after it has become a calm exhibit in the museum of history, than will go down to graves because of it, but after its close. All the effects of the butchery of war are not over when the order comes to "cease firing!"

KILLING SPEED ON THE RAIL.

With the renewed discussion of the possibility of trains running one hundred miles or more per hour there has been brought up the question of the speed effect on the engineer. Machinery with the aid of electrical development may come to the dreamed-of point of rapid moving. But how about the man to run it?

A medical expert of Glasgow recently declared that most railroad accidents of the ordinary sort are due to the failure of railway men's nerves. And upon no employee more than upon the engineer falls the strain of constant, necessary attention, which may readily lead to neurosis.

When the 120 miles an hour question was put to a working engineer by a Western reporter the reply was: "I suppose a man could stand it for a little while." The implication of an breakdown was supported by remarks based on experiences with fast trains of the present. Is any inventor getting ready a process by which we may spare men while continuing to save time?

The Times Letter Box

Letters from the People on Interesting and Timely Topics.

A QUESTION ANSWERED

Editor Morning Times,

Sir,—As The Times devotes considerable questions, I make bold to seek its advice. I am desperately in love with a young man whose only fault is his love for red soda pop. Do you advise me to marry him.

An early reply will greatly oblige,

GERTRUDE.

Ans.—No, tender maiden, you would not be happy with a pop fiend. A man man who has not more strength of character than to drink pop, will not be able to make a living for you. If he drank Calcutt's beer or straight rye, you would have the fun of reforming him. But a pop fiend would starve you. The oatmeal box would grow achy with void and the bacon board become a greasy memory. Never marry a man with a weak vice. The worst husband we ever knew was a deacon who smoked cubebs to keep from smoking tobacco. The happiest wife we ever knew was when living with a husband who drank a bottle of beer before each meal and ate seven times a day. A most devoted husband of our acquaintance was a fierce flirt before he got married. Now, dear, be sure to marry a man with character enough to be the real thing when he does take a flyer. He will love you better.

A Pertinent Question

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—On Thursday last two picnics were held for the purpose of raising money; one by a Protestant Church, i.e.: All Saint's Church—the other by a Roman Catholic Church, i.e.: St. Joseph's Church, in Douro. As an evidence of the charitable feeling existing on either side it would be interesting to know how many of the opposite creed attended either picnic, and how much was contributed by either creed to the success of the other's picnic. Yours, etc.,

June 19, 1902 CURIOSITY.

The Water Front

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see the Cereal Company demand the ownership of the lots fronting on the river. Now, sir, as the chief object of dredging the channel is NOT extra wharfage, but to increase the head of the new dam which the Company proposes to erect, it would appear to me that the town should not stand in the way of the proposed improvements. But, in any case, the ratepayers must be consulted. As the matter is an important one, I think it should be referred to the people. What does The Times think?

RATEPAYER.

UP IN MINNESOTA

The Woman Knew How.

Food, and good food, is the right kind of foundation to build good health on. A Minnesota woman writes, "I thought I would like to tell you of the good Grape-Nuts has done for me.

Last winter I got sick and kept getting weaker and weaker, I could not eat anything but [illegible] crackers and a little cup of beef tea for every meal. Then I was put on Grape-Nuts and used it with some cream for breakfast. My stomach got strong gradually and before I had used three packages my digestion was so good that I could eat any kind of food, even cabbage, pastry, etc., and I notice that my memory is very much better than it used to be.

On the [illegible] of July I weighed [illegible] pounds and two months later after using Grape-Nuts, I weighed [illegible] pounds and was able to do my house work.

This is a good honest statement of facts about Grape-Nuts and you can publish my name if you like." Mrs. E. Frederickson, Center City, Minn.

Delicious recipes for warm weather

General - Sports.

The second of the league games between the Y.M.C.A. and Athletics was played on the Oval last night before a large crowd of lacrosse enthusiasts.

Both teams played fast lacrosse from start to finish and made things interesting for the spectators. The Athletics took the first 4 goals. The Y.M.C.A. pulled together, making things warm for their opponents, and in a pretty piece of combination work tallied their first and only goal. In the second half the Athletics scored two the Y.M.C.A. failing to score.

The teams lined up as follows:

Y.M.C.A.		Athletics
Ellis	goal	Galley
Trollope	point	Dillon
Pennock	c. point	Morgan
Rickey	1st defence	T. Glover
Galley	2nd defence	Mein
McDonald	3rd defence	O. Dusty
Forman	centre	Dunsford
Dumble	3rd home	Graham
Robertson	2nd home	Parnell
Best	1st home	L. Dobbin
Long	o. home	Wasson
Angleay	in home	N Dusty

Y.M.C.A. field captain, Horace E. Ayres
Athletic field captain, A. W. MacPherson.

During the game Ernie Wasson of the Athletics had a small bone in his hand broken and had to retire, Long going off Y.M.C.A. to even up.

BASEBALL.

On Thursday evening the Never Wins one of the junior baseball teams occupying and controlling the northwestern section of the town, were defeated by the West Ends, another dust aggregation of the same species. The score at the conclusion was 16—8. The game was well played, considering the nature of the field and general surroundings which were somewhat detrimental to fast play. One of the features of the game was the neat catching of a long fly by the young right fielder of the Never Wins, which, thrown to second, and from there to third base, put out the players on first and third who were endeavoring to make the run. Mr. Raymond Stortz acted as umpire. Both teams have particularly good pitchers and catchers. Two matches had previously been played between these teams, resulting in a win for each, both being beaten on their own grounds. It is expected that a return game will shortly be played on the field of the present winners.

Lindsay Watchman-Warder—The first nine Lindsay baseballists are out on a little business venture of their own this season. They will pay no debts of the former clubs, nor are they organized into a club themselves. They have no officers but all the players will take a hand in the financing. They are going to pocket the revenue and announce that they will try to pay their way. Of course they will, for they will be personally liable under that program. If they could persuade those who handled the funds in '00 and '01 to pay it would give baseball a needed whitewash in this town.

CRICKET.

The Lindsay Collegiate Institute will be here to-day to play the Colts. The game will start at two o'clock sharp. The Lindsay team in a number of games with outside clubs this season have yet to meet defeat. The following eleven will be put in the field by the Colts: H. Walker, A. Boucher, capt., F. L. Bradburn, C. Keele, Hal. Burnham, C. A. Stapleton, J. D. Laundy, R. Cameron, H. S. Wood, G. Hall and A. Moore.

THE TURF.

Denver, Colo., June 21.—The running meeting of the Overland Trotting and Running Association which opens today, promises to be the most successful race meeting ever held in Colorado. Nearly $20,000 in stake and special races is offered. The event of the opening day is the Colorado Derby at one and one eighth miles.

Chicago, June 20. — The American Derby, the classic event of the Washington Park Jockey Club's summer meeting, will be run off tomorrow and horsemen throughout the country are intensely interested in the outcome. The field which will go to the post is not only larger than the ordinary derby fields, but it is made up of a class that cannot be beaten anywhere. All of the candidates were out on the track for practice today and were watched by throngs of rail-birds anxious to get a line of the probable winner of the $20,000 purse. From present indications Heno will go to the post a favorite at about 5 to 1, with Crusados as second choice.

THE RING.

New York, June 21.—Followers of the pugilistic game on this side of the water are awaiting with more amusement than interest the result of the so-called championship bouts to be pulled off during the coronation festivities in London. According to the programme the series of events is to be inaugurated tonight with a go between "Spike" Sullivan of America and Jabez White of England for the 134 pound championship of the world. Those who are to mix it up during the coming week are "Denver Ed" Martin and "Bob" Armstrong "Joe" Walcott and "Tommy" West Frank Erne and "Pat" Daly and last and least "Tom" Sharkey and "Gus" Rhulin who are slated to decide the heavyweight "championship." It would be difficult to get together a more representative lot of 'has-beens' than the American fighters named while the few Britishers to appear are of no larger calibre having taken their turn a long time ago at being walloped by second-raters from this side of the water.

New York, June 20.—In sporting circles considerable interest is manifested in the wrestling match before a local club tonight between Max Luttberg, of St. Louis, and Harvey Parker, who claims the world's championship. The articles of agreement provide for a catch-as-catch-can bout, best two out of three falls, at 140 pounds. Both men have been training hard since the match was made and an interesting contest is expected to be the outcome.

ATHLETICS.

New York, June 21.—A feature of the games to be held at Celtic Park tomorrow by the Knights of Columbus will be the [illegible] jump scratch. The best man entered and one looked on by students of form to win in this event is Ray C. Ewry, of the New York Athletic Club, the greatest standing jumper the world has ever seen. The event was put on the programme practically to give Ewry a chance to beat the present world's record of 11 feet 5 1-2 inches.

Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S, HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will off suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at 40c
Suspenders 15c
Overalls, with bib, at..........45c
Smocks, at................90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailo
One door south of Montreal Bank.

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS

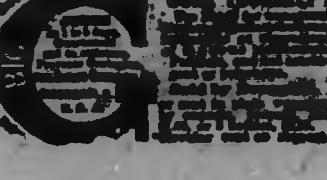
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS

10 King Street West, TORONTO

Cottam's Care.

You'd be surprised at the care taken with COTTAM'S Seed. Some say we'd get just as great sale for less carefully prepared food. But we prefer to satisfy ourselves as to what birds require.

[illegible]



Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers. LEITH. Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO. MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST.
Montreal, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{90}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

THE FASHIONABLE MAN
Of Nineteen Aught Two

Will find everything that is Correct and Up-to-date in MEN'S OUTFITTINGS. (Prices second to none)

—AT—

H. E. BRADLEY & CO.'S
High-class Tailors and Gentlemen's Outfitters.

A Combination

"Of interest is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an oppotunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $66.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

120 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited. A Canadian Company with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c...... $12 00

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a silver lead mine situated in British Columbia, Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $50.00 to the ton. SHARES 10c...... $5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends, SHARES 50 cents...... $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents...... 12 50

Total value...... $55 00

275 SHARES...... FOR $50 00 CASH

100 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. O. BENSON & CO.
FINANCIAL AGENTS.
217-218 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE

'No Cure No Pay,' is the Newest Proposal of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills

Editor Morning Times:

Sir,—We make the following proposition: Any one who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, or constipation, indigestion and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being supplied us to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit $10 for

The New York Times
Saturday Review of Books.
$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—n fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet,
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
HOWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times
SUNDAY EDITION
$1.50 - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General
Trusts Corporation.

ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL - - - - $1,000,
RESERVE FUND - - 270,000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.
JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D., - President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, - } Vice-Presidents.
W. H. BEATTY, - }
JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P.
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government the Corporation is accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice for the investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRATOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures continuative action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELRY CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR,
Managing Director.

A. D. LANGMUIR
Assistant Manager

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our Free Illustrated Catalogue. [illegible] Post Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits.
[illegible]
REAL SWISS, [illegible]
[illegible]

POPULAR PARCEL $6.10

Lot No. 607 contains—1 pair [illegible] Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 1 table centre, [illegible] 1 set of Duchesse Toilet Covers, [illegible] On receipt of Post Office Order for $6.10, [illegible] [illegible] Marvellous Value, and Durability. [illegible]

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established [illegible]

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Advertise in The Times, . . . Everybody reads The Times,

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

From Montreal. From Quebec.
Tunisian 14 June 9 a.m. 14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian 21 June 9 a.m. 21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian 28 June 7 a.m. 28 June 5 p.m.
Ionian 5 July 9 a.m. 5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $65 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... June 28th
Mongolian...... July 9th

S.S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to:
W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav. Peterborough, Ontario, or to
THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd
River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S.S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t V. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. for Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 9.00 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.
Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO

STR. "ARGYLE"
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)
EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at - - 7.00 a m
" Port Hope at - - 8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at - - 12.30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at 5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday 7.00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday - 3 00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of)

EVERY SATURDAY
Leaves Belleville - - 11.00 a m
" Trenton - - 1.15 p m
" Brighton - - 2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte - - 7.30 p m

Weekly excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager,
Picton, On

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA."
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

Six Trips Daily (Except Sunday.

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES
THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay

ESTURION

JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st
Bobcaygeon, Lv 6 15 a.m. and 3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point " 7.15 a.m. " 4.10 p.m.
Lindsay Ar 8.40 a.m. " 5 30 p.m.
" Lv 12.00 a.m. " 5.45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point " 12.10 p m. " 6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon Ar 1.15 p.m. " 8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.

MANITA

JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.
Bobcaygeon............Leave 7 00 a. m.
Bridgenorth............Arrive 9.30 a. m.
Bridgenorth............Leave 3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon............Arrive 5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt., G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG. PORT HOPE. ROCHESTER. N. Y.

STEAMER
NORTH KING
Week Day Route Commencing May 12

SOUTH BOUND.
Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... 2.45 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... 2.10 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ...... 6.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... 8.15 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.
Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets ...... 8.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester ...... 9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... 2.45 p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... 2.30 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to

H. H. Gildersleeve, James Swain
General Manager, Agent
Kingston Port Hope

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"

On Monday, June, 16th. Wednesday, 18th and Friday 20, the Steamer Majestic will leave Lakefield on the arrival of the morning train, returning in time to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor.
CAPT. SCOLLARD, Master

CLEVELAND IN POLITICS

The Ex-President of the United States Enter The Political Arena

Special to The Times.

New York, June 20.—For the first time since his retirement from the presidency Grover Cleveland last night delivered a speech to a political audience. The occasion that drew the former President from his home at Princeton to New York was the opening of the new home of the Tilden Club, Broadway near Seventy-fourth street. That the gathering was of great political significance goes without saying, for it is well known that Mr. Cleveland could not be induced to deliver a political address unless he were convinced that it would have an important bearing on the future welfare of his party. This fact is universally recognised and as a consequence those who take an interest in national politics manifested intense interest in the meeting.

The gathering was not for the purpose of launching a new Democracy, but to welcome all leaders of Democratic thought who may have been opposed to each other in the past and to make "the occasion of the opening of the club a direct effort to harmonise various discordant elements of the party."

Former Senator David B. Hill, believed that a complete reconciliation between him and Mr. Cleveland may be brought about. Among others who are expected to be present are Senator Bacon, of Georgia, Mayor Patrick Collins, of Boston, ex-Secretary of State Richard Olney, Dr. Felix Adler, John D. Milburn of Buffalo, William Everett of Massachusetts, Governor Aycock, North Carolina, W. Burke Cockran, Lewis Nixon, Judge of Arkansas, District Attorney Jerome of New York, Edward Atkinson, of Boston and many Democratic members of the United States Senate, the House of Representatives and the State Legislature.

Big Meeting of Leaguers

Special to The Times.

Washington, D.C., June 19.—A host of enthusiastic young Epworth Leaguers has invaded the national capital for the fourth general conference of the district organization. The district comprises the states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, and part of New York, and have sent their full quota of delegates. The delegates will rally to night for a great demonstration and bright and early tomorrow morning a sunrise prayer meeting will usher in the business sessions. The annual report of the officers show the district to be in a flourishing condition, so far as the league work is concerned, the aggregate membership now being close to the 150,000 mark.

Society of the War of 1812

Boston, Mass, June 20.—The General Society of the War of 1812 began its annual meeting in Boston today with delegates present from Illinois, Ohio New York, New Jersey, the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Maryland Massachusetts, and Connecticut. The gathering was called to order by the president general, John Cadwalader, of Philadelphia, and the opening prayer was by Bishop Coleman, of Delaware, chaplain-general of the society. The sessions are to continue throughout tomorrow, the business meetings being interspersed with short trips to places of historic interest in and about Boston.

The Switzerland of America.

The above caption is particularly appropriate to the region in the "Highlands of Ontario" known as "The Lake of Bays" district. It is replete with natural beauty and loveliness, and comprises some of the most beautiful water stretches and picturesque landscapes for which the locality is becoming so famous with the ever increasing army of tourists. The scenic grandeur of hill and mountain, the placid beauty of the lakes, the lovely rivers, are not surpassed in any country. One thousand feet above sea level. No Hay Fever, absence of flies, splendid speckled trout fishing, and good bathing and boating assured. Handsome illustrated descriptive matter giving full particulars can be had for the asking by applying to M. C. Dickson, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

His Advice.

The story is told of the present Archbishop of Canterbury that, upon a candidate for ordination essaying to read a chapter of the Bible before him to test his elocutionary powers, he was stopped with the abrupt comment, "Ye're inaudible!" "But, my lord," said the discomfited youth, "I've read the lesson in a big church, and been told that every word could be heard." "Who told ye—a lady? Are ye engaged to her?" The candidate owned the soft impeachment. "Then, didn't believe a word she says—until ye're married to her," was the ungallant reply.

The Artist's Little Joke.

"This," said the Eminent Artist, "is my famous study of the Cows in the Clover." "But where is the clover?" we asked, not seeing any of it in the picture. "Oh, the cows have eaten it, you know."

Jack—"I wonder why time is said to fly?"

Maud—"Probably it is because so many people are trying to kill it."—Harlem Life.

◆◆◆

Mrs. Jenkyns—I see Mrs. Hostong is going to have "King Lear" at her next private theatricals. Mrs. Newrich (Suspicious with envy)—Is she? The affected thing. Do you know, I don't believe he's a real king at all.—"Tit-Bits."

Mr. D. Speptic—My dear, I wish you would prepare something occasionally to tempt my appetite. Mrs. W.—The idea! Why, you have not any time to tempt.—"Morning [illegible]

The Insane Philosophy of Tolstoi.

Tolstoi's book on the sex question, in which he advocates absolute chastity, even at the cost of the gradual disappearance of the human race, continues to arouse spirited discussion. "La Revue Blanche" (Paris) recently asked the opinion of several prominent Europeans regarding Tolstoi's views. Some of the replies are appended. Madame Judith Gauthier, a retired opera singer who is now a literary woman, was the only one to endorse Tolstoi's position.

Max Nordau—"Count Leo Tolstoi preaches absolute chastity. I wonder if he can convince Madame Tolstoi and the fine family she has raised! At all events, we should congratulate ourselves that his parents did not share his opinion. Otherwise we should have had no 'War and Peace' or 'Anna Karenina.' . . . Speaking seriously, it seems to me that the ideas of Count Tolstoi on the marriage question are absolutely delirious, and delirium can be diagnosed, but not discussed. It is useless to defend women against the absurd lucubrations of a sick brain."

Enrico Ferri of Rome—"The affirmations of Tolstoi on the sexual question only confirm Lombroso's theory of the degeneracy of genius. The fundamental needs of humanity are bread to preserve life and love to preserve the species. To preach absolute chastity is as absurd as preaching absolute fasting. Marriage, whatever Tolstoi may say, is the ideal state of human life."

Emile Zola—"The idea of Tolstoi is not new. Marriage is legalized by society, but it exists in nature without laws. Christ did not get married, because he was too busy to think about it. I confess that I do not understand Tolstoi. . . . It is insane."

Madame Judith Gauthier — "I will limit my consideration of the problem to the question of birth. It seems to me an act of truest wisdom to prevent the unhappiness of existence, and many wise men, including Christ, have indicated the path which we have failed to follow. To give life and then inflict death would constitute the greatest of crimes, did not nature, in her search for victims, strike with blindness and unconsciousness those whom she allures into her snares."

Albert Reville—"Pascal said, 'Man is neither angel nor beast, and the man who wants to be an angel plays the part of a beast.' If the hope of a future life is reasonable, and I believe it is, we may be able one day to rise above the organic conditions of this mysterious life. But as long as we live on earth, we are bound to admit the legitimacy of the acts and functions without which our own life and the life of humanity would be impossible. To state that marriage is unchristian, because Christ was not married, is absurd. It is like reasoning that we could not go to heaven because we travel by rail and wear trousers, whereas Christ did neither. Christ himself said that marriage was a holy and divine institution (Mark x. 2-9).

New and Aggressive.

Much knowledge of human nature is gathered up in the expression, "A new broom sweeps clean." The new bank, the Sovereign, which opened in Toronto last week in new premises, with a new staff, new officers, new issue of bills—everything new—is one of the financial brooms that is evidently going to make a clean sweep. The popularity of the new bank and of its management has been demonstrated daily since it opened its doors, by the large number of business men and people in all the walks of life who have transacted business over its counters. Centrally situated on the north side of King street, but a short distance from Yonge, and commodiously appointed to the smallest detail, the premises of the Sovereign Bank are amongst the most convenient and the most suitable for their purpose of any in Toronto. The financial standing of the Bank is high; it starts on its career with an authorised capital of $2,000,000 and a subscribed capital of $1,300,000. The Board of Directors, upon which appear the names of Messrs. H. S. Holt, Montreal; Randolph Macdonald, Toronto; James Carruthers, Montreal; A. A. Allan, Toronto; Arch. Campbell, M.P., Toronto Junction; Hon. Peter McLaren, Perth; John Pugsley, Toronto; Hon. D. McMillan, Alexandria, Ont.; Henry R. Wilson, New York, is a list of gentlemen of recognised standing and proven capability as financiers. In Mr. D. M. Stewart, Canada has her youngest and undoubtedly one of her very ablest general bank managers. In addition to all the ordinary features of a banking business, the Sovereign will issue Travelers' Letters of Credit on J. S. Morgan & Co., London, and Morgan, Harjes Company, Paris. These credits are available in all parts of the world, and just the thing for persons contemplating a visit to Europe or to the coronation this summer.

All About Men.

One of the greatest advantages of the silent man is that he cannot be misquoted.

Men who ride hobbies would not be nearly so objectionable if they did not want all the road to themselves.

A man will often make small faults conspicuous in order to insinuate that he has no great ones.

Often the pleasantest memories men have are of events that never happened.

The things that come to the man who waits are generally the cast-offs of somebody else.

It is not always what a man does that goes against him, but what he happens to get caught in.

There are men who do not care to be judged by what they really are, but what they want others to think they are.

Nothing makes a man quite so angry as to realize that he has no just cause for anger and to realize that others realize it.

Some men's idea of a friend is someone who will stick to them through adversity, take their part against uncharitable neighbors, lend them the last shilling without security and when Fortune smiles will take a back seat.

A wise man can find plenty of suggestions where fools have [illegible] [illegible]

"The Umbrella."

An English exchange makes the following remarks with reference to the umbrella:

"It seems that the same Sherlock Holmes-like instinct which is prepared to reconstruct a man's whole mode of life from a study of his cigarette ends has now been brought to bear upon the umbrella, and the expert umbrellist is prepared to give a complete character-sketch of any individual, with the principal events in his past and future history, after a critical survey of his behavior with an umbrella. For instance, if a man is observed carrying an umbrella over a lady's head in such a way as to preserve her Bond street hat from the rain, while a little stream trickles softly down the back of his own neck, it is pretty safe to prophesy that she is his Best Girl. If, on the other hand, it is his own gasometer which is kept dry, while the trickle is reserved for the lady, it is a safe thousand-to-three on that she is his wife. When a man carries an umbrella horizontally under his arm, it is generally a sign that someone is shortly going to have his, or her, eye put out. When a brand-new umbrella is deposited with a lot of others in the umbrella-stand of a club, it is frequently a sign that it is about to change owners. There are many other ways in which the umbrella may be taken as an indication either of coming events or of character, but the Best Girl, who has been running her eye over the above, says emphatically that it is perfectly absurd to judge any average man from his umbrella. When pressed for a reason she explains sarcastically, 'Because it so seldom belongs to him!' And there is something in that."

Dooley on the Romantic Novel.

But lithrachoor is th' gr-reat lifewurruk iv the modhren woman. Th' conthrol is passin' into th' hands iv th' fair sect, an' th' day will come whin th' wurrud book will mane no more to an ablebodied man thin th' wurrud gusset. Women write all th' romantic novels that ar-re anny good. That's because iv'ry man thinks th' thrue hayroe is himself an' ivry woman thinks he's James K. Hackett. A woman is sure a good, sthrong man ought to be able to kill anny number iv bad, weak men, but a man is always wondherin' what th' other la-ad w'u'd do. He might have th' punch left in him that w'u'd get th' money. A woman niver cares how many men are kilt, but a man believes in fair play, an' he'd like to see th' polis interfere about Chapter Three.

Woman writes all th' good romantic novels, an' reads thim all. If anny proud la-ad in th' gum business thinks he riprisints th' ideal iv his wife's soul, he ought to take a look at th' books she reads. He'll l'arn there th' reason he's where he is because he was th' on'y chanst, not because he was th' first choice. 'T w'u'd humble th' haughtiest prince iv thrade to look into th' heart iv th' woman he cares most f'r an' thinks last about, an' find that, instead iv the photygraft of a shrewd but kindly man with a thrillin' absence iv hair on his head an' a burglar-proof safe on his watch charm, there's a pitcher iv a young la-ad in green tights playin' a mandolin to a high front stoop. On th' stoop, with a rose in her hand, is his lawful-wedded wife, th' lady Annamariar Huggins iv Peotone. Ye can't keep her away fr'm a romantic novel. No matther what Edward Atkinson tells ye, she prefers "Th' Age iv Chivalry" to th' mos' atthractive housewurruk. — "Century Magazine."

A Different View.

"I never like to go to the theater with Fred. He always goes out between the acts." "You mean he comes in between the drinks."

Very Little Difference.

"Is that an historical novel you're reading?" "That's what they called it at the library, but it seems to me to be more hysterical than anything else."—Chicago "Record-Herald."

An Esquimaux Tradition.

There is a remarkable tradition amongst the Esquimaux which explains why the women in the north are deft with the needle while those of the south dance nimbly. Long ago the northland was inhabited by men only, and no woman had ever come among them. It was noised abroad that far away in the south one woman dwelt alone, and one of the northerners set his face southward and journeyed until he reached the woman's dwelling. In course of time he married her, and rejoiced that he had a wife while the son of the headman of the north was still a bachelor. But meanwhile this same bachelor was traveling southward with the same object in view, and, coming to the house while the man was within, hid himself and waited until night fell. Then he forced his way in, and, seizing the woman, began to drag her away. The noise, however, woke the husband, who grasped his wife's feet, and both tugged violently, with such effect that the poor body was torn in twain, the robber going off with the upper half only. The rightful husband carved a body of wood and fastened it to his wife's legs, while the other man completed his half in a similar manner, each addition receiving life as soon as finished, two women being thus made out of one. But, although the woman of the south could dance nimbly, her wooden fingers prevented her from embroidering, while the woman of the north excelled only in needlework, and thus originated the characteristics of the women of the south and north.

Edward Everett Hale said at the celebration of his eightieth birthday last month, "I never had but one enemy, and last week, when I was trying to think of his name, I found I had forgotten who he was." This is better than keeping him in mind by making plans every day for "getting even."

"There, now, Clara, how would you like to be those people who can't get home from Paris because their funds gave out?" "Well, dear me, Clarence, they are better off than we, whose funds gave out before we got started."—"American Register."

Seventy-Five St. Lousan Eats Dirt.

Newest and most singular of St. Louis sects are the dirt-eaters, a community of seventy-five men and women whose Moses is William Windsor. The dirt-eaters take every day a spoonful of dirt. Their leader believes that grit is necessary to every animal, and that because mankind will have no dirt in his food he is subject to many stomach troubles that no other animal has. So the dirt-eater goes every day to his little sack of soil. He plunges a teaspoon in and brings it forth heaped with good old earth. He washes it down with a glass of water, smacking his lips and blinking his eyes as though no morsel e'er tickled the palate of man so deliciously as dirt.

Dirt-eating is easy—when one is a child or an experienced dirt-eater. At all other times it is hard, and it must be learned. It is not easy to forget that it is dirt. It is not reassuring to think that the particles of dirt in the stomach might cause a thousand diseases now unknown because dirt has been kept out of the stomach for hundreds and hundreds of years. But after a while the dirt-eater develops his appetite. He comes to relish his dirt as a girl loves her fudge. He carries a sack of it with him, and whenever he is seized by a feeling that he is getting away from the animal plan upon which he was created, he steps into a corner and regales himself with a loam lunch. The dirt-eater is particular, though, what sort of dirt he eats. He would be no true epicurean if he were not. This article of his singular diet is technically a sand. It comes from the river bottoms, and is made up of many little particles of granite, marble, quartz, and flint well rounded with age. The chief dirt-eater has the sand collected and sterilized, and he distributes it among his followers at 25 cents a sack. The sack is small, but it holds a good deal of sand. So that daily dirt-eating after the St. Louis fashion costs about 10 cents a week.

Dirt-eating in St. Louis is six months old, and flourishes like a green bay tree. The chief dirt-eater looks happy and prosperous. The lesser dirt-eaters have every day a keen hunger for their dirt, and they bring in their friends. The dirt-eaters have pretentious quarters. They are up at Eighteenth and Olive streets, in what was until recently the home of the Merchants' League Club. Here the chief apostle of dirt-eating, Mr. Windsor, has offices and a lecture-hall. He receives visitors during the day, and every night he lectures to his class. He has now seventy-five men and women who attend his lectures and eat dirt.

This is an amusing sect, and amuses no one more than its founder. Kris Kringle himself is not a more rotund nor more rollicking character than Dirt-Eater Windsor. He is fifty. He is bald. He has the Senator Bill Mason build. He can sit in a chair and tweedle his thumbs on his stomach, which they say is the piece de resistance in happiness.

"Are you the chief dirt-eater?"

"Yes, sir, I'm the chap. I've eaten my peck a hundred times over. Dirt is good."

Then he laughs as fat men can laugh, and brings out a sack of the sacred soil.

"Have a dirt sandwich with me?"

"No, thanks."

"What are you afraid of—sandbar in the stomach?"

Then he takes a heaping spoonful and swallows it with that sly wink with which a Kentucky colonel takes his whiskey. He sends a glass of water to chase it, and heaves a huge sigh of content.

The Courtship of the Future.

He—Do you love me as much as ever?

She—Oh, more. Since I received your thought registering machine I have been so close to you!

"And I to you. By the way, where are you?"

"I'm in Naples. And you?"

"In Harlem. I came here from London. Did you hear me call you up at midnight last night?"

"Yes, dear; but I could not answer. I had just eaten a broiled lobster, and the psychic current wouldn't respond."

"Sometimes I wish I could see you—hold you in my arms."

"What nonsense! That's so unnecessary."

"But an actual kiss!"

"There! Feel that? Wasn't that nice?"

"For a vibration, yes. But I can't help feeling——"

"Nonsense! You're such an old fogy. By the way, when shall we be married?"

"The sooner the better."

"Well, I will arrange it all. We can have the ceremony performed, if you like, by the Graboni system."

"All right. And the wedding trip?"

"Oh, we can take every morning, say from eight to ten—that is, if you can get away from business."

"But wouldn't it be nice to take it together? I should like—say, I long, actually to hold you in my arms."

"Why, you goose, don't you see that would spoil the whole romance?"—N. Y. "Life."

Why Jason Was Late For School.

Schoolteachers get some curious written excuses for absence. Here is one: "Mister sir, my Jason had to be late to-day. It is his bizness to milk our cow. She kicked Jase in the back to-day when he wasn't looking or thinking of her actin' so; he thot his back was broke, but it ain't. But it is black and blue, and the pane kept him late. We would get rid of that cow if we could. This is the fourth time she kicked Jase, but never kicked him late before. So excuse him for me."

A Georgia man, who has gone to Washington in search of a Government job, gives as his qualifications: "I can not only write poetry and novels, but there ain't a Government mule that can throw me!"—Atlanta "Constitution."

In describing a certain variety of kiss, Mark Twain said it reminded him of the sound made by a cow in dragging her hind foot out of a swamp.

Mrs. Toonyce (as Willie backs away from the dinner table)—Now, what do you say, dear? Willie (after a hard think)—My! It's so long since we had company before, I've clean forgot.

KINDLY KING EDWARD

His Majesty's Attention to Lord Bute—The Titled Juniors

Special to The Times.

London, June 20.—A pleasing impression has been created by the report that the King has intimated his wish to have the young Marquis of Bute attend the coronation, despite the fact that the latter, according to strict rule and precedent, would not be entitled to admission to the Abbey with his fellow peers. Lord Bute came of age today, but as he will not take his seat in the House of Lords before the coronation ceremony he would not be alloted the seat proper to his rank at the great function next week, if there was a strict adherence to official etiquette. It now seems, however, that the question of form will be waived and the young marquis will be found seated among his elders, instead of on the special bench provided for peers and peeresses in their own right who are minors.

If King Edward makes an exception in this case it will not be the first time he has showed special favor toward the young marquis. A year ago when the Marquis of Bute was received in audience by the King for the purpose of returning to the sovereign his dead father's insignia of the Order of the Thistle, the King was exceptionally cordial and gracious to the young peer, and by his conduct gave all to understand that the ill will and almost downright animosity toward the court manifested by the late Lord Bute during the late reign in connection with the treatment to which his aunt, the unfortunate Lady Flora Hastings, had been subjected while a member of the royal household some sixty years ago had become a thing of the past.

The permission to Lord Bute to sit with his elders will leave an even dozen little peers and peeresses to occupy the special bench. Little Lady Clifton will have to bring her nurse with her, but Lady Beaumont (judging from her self-possession as bridesmaid at a wedding the other day) will be quite able to take care of herself. As to the boy peers, most of them, as the Duke of Leinster, Marquis Conyngham and Lords Camoys, Torrington, de Clifford, Holmpatrick, and others, are of schoolboy age, and quite as competent to hold their own in a crowd as one or two of the nonagenarian nobles who may be expected to put in an appearance at Westminster next Thursday.

MANITOBA CROPS

The crop bulletin just issued by the Manitoba Government contains important information which will be of interest throughout the Dominion.

Seeding in some parts of Manitoba began this year as early as April 1; but it was not general until after April 15. There was more rain during the season than the farmers desired, resulting in a few cases, in a decreased acreage under wheat, but this has been more than amply compensated for by the wonderfully rapid growth which all crops have made. Grass, like grain crops, has made remarkable progress and the pastures are in the finest possible condition. All kinds of live stock are thriving excellently and the dairying statistics are of the most encouraging character and full of promise for the increasing importance of that industry.

The increased acreage over last year in wheat is 23,105; in oats 35,109 in barley 136,781, and in flax, 20,222; the total increased acreage under grain crops being 223,149. The aggregate total area under all crops in Manitoba this year is 3,189,015 acres.

The conditions so far have been excellent. It is a good way off yet to the harvest, but there is every good ground for looking forward with confident hope to an abundant crop, surpassing all previous records. Never before have all the conditions been so propitious, and, with the continued favor of Providence a bumper harvest will fill the land with plenty and gladness.

Good Crop Prospects

Special to The Times.

St. Paul, Minn., June 20.—Reports of crops of all kinds that have been coming in from all sources during the present week never have been more favorable at this time of year. Every part of the Northwest, except the wet region in the Red River Valley, where seeding was delayed, is sharing in the bright prospects. The outlook in southern and southwestern Minnesota is exceptionally bright. Reports from every place on the line of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad show a prospect that could hardly be improved upon. Corn, of which there is an increased acreage, is growing fast. Many points also report an exceptionally good prospect for heavy hay and potato crops.

Kaiser Impersonates Charlemagne

Special to The Times.

Berlin, June 19.—Regarding his Majesty's pilgrimage to the Holy Land in its vivid and striking imagery was the visit of the Kaiser to Aix la Chapelle today. In order to give more brilliancy to the occasion the imperial suite camped outside the walls from midnight to daybreak, when the party entered the city on horseback, the Kaiser dressed as Charlemagne. He was preceded by heralds trumpeting his arrival and followed by a company of feudal lords, all costumed as their ancestors were in the Middle Ages. At the city gates a body of notables delivered to the Kaiser the symbolical keys on a crimson cushion, and the cortege then proceeded through the mediaeval part of the town. After a solemn visit to the cathedral, the Kaiser was escorted to the town-hall, the ancient quarters of Charlemagne, where he met the authorities and notables of the town.

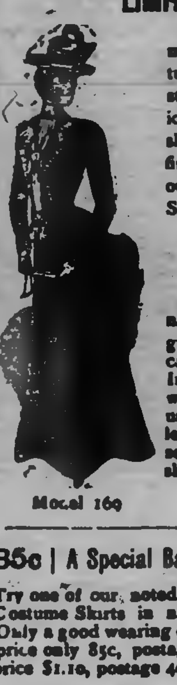
$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.
LIMITED.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front



Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black. Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST

Editorially Fearless.
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings. IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886 TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.
Edith Barden, M. D., [illegible]

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of a R-I-P-A-N-S Tabule. [illegible] The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
for Ladies
A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES
superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. [illegible]

Advertise in The Times.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, Send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature, Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 284 pages, and all the original illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 286 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.") This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 288 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.
FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE
An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 189 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis
FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 387 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 332 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.

Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

King Edward VII. Notepaper,

is "quite Eng'ish, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, and the imperial lines of a woman whose [illegible] [illegible]

CAMPANA'S
ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, [illegible] Freckles.

Hutchings Medicine Co
YONGE ST., TORONTO

[illegible]

HEADQUARTERS FOR PIG TIN,
LEAD AND ANTIMONY
FOR PRICES
CANADA METAL CO
William St., Toronto, Ont.

NERVOUSNESS

Or despondency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early abuse, later excesses or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not eke out a miserable existence on account of your follies, you are not safe until cured—nature never excuses—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water comes freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not make it quite so freely, it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have a mucous deposit or brick dust colored sediment; give your condition immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you

PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chances. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., Cor. Wilcox Street, DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE . MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up)......$12,000,000

Reserved Fund...... 7,000,000

Undivided Profits...... [illegible]

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO

SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

3½ Per cent interest allowed on deposits from day of deposit to day of withdrawal, re payable at any time.

4 Per cent paid on Debentures, issued for 3 or 5 years.

Money to loan at lowest current rates.

Open every Saturday afternoon.

Office, 437 George street

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterborough, March 14, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL

BARRISTERS

Office—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. Commercial rooms.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, [illegible] Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck R. M. Dennistoun A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton C. J. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 304 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo A. FRY 304 Park place

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOSITE roof—better than metal; will not [illegible] other cements. Daniel Allen, 18 Toronto street Toronto

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & electricians, new 40 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board [illegible] Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, publisher St. Louis

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain-stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 381 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No 382 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

WANTED—A house of 7 or 8 rooms with all modern conveniences. State location and rent wanted. Address P. O. Box No. 81 town

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you make big wages? By big wages we mean $5 to $10 a day; you can do it with our saleable copying book. Moore & Co., Room 711 [illegible] Broadway, New York.

ACTIVE SOLICITOR WANTED. The war is over. [illegible] "Pictorial History of Our War in South Africa." Highest endorsements. Every body wants it. Contains thrilling history of the brave deeds of our boys in the war, and complete history of the war and the country. [illegible] Only $1.50. Freight and duty paid. Outfit free. COLONIAL PUBLISHING Co., Dept. 2, Chicago.

ARE YOU STOUT?

[illegible]

KILAUE NOW IN ACTION

Great Hawaiian Volcano Spouts Fire on June 10th

It Is Not Known Yet Whether Lava was Ejected—Connection With Martinique Volcanoes—Story Of the Migration of Turtles That is Taken as a Sign

Special to The Times.

Honolulu, June 10, via San Francisco, June 21.—Kilauea broke out in violent eruption on the morning of June 3, when a great column of flame rose from the crater to an immense height and has continued to flame up steadily since then.

Whether there was any lava or ashes cannot be learned until the steamer arrives tomorrow.

It is a curious fact, as showing a connection between the Martinique eruptions and the Hawaiian volcano system that during the six hours when Mont Pelee was in most violent eruption there was marked disturbance of magnetic conditions at the observatory, near Ewa on Oahu Island.

A NEW FARM SWINDLE.

How a Pair of Fakirs Rope in the Honest Yeoman

A new swindling game has made its appearance in Michigan, and may be tried in Ontario. A stranger offered a farmer $7,000 for his place and paid $25 down to "bind the bargain." Then he went away. Along came another stranger who offered $9,000 for the farm. He was told to come around in a few days. Back came the first stranger. The farmer paid him $275 to give up his option, and now is patiently waiting for the second stranger to return.

ZION—OTONABEE.

The members of the W. A. held their tea and entertainment on Tuesday in Stewart's Hall. A large number of people patronized the event about 200 people partaking of the tea. The ladies upheld their good reputation of providing always the best, and the whole event proved to have been highly successful.

After the tea the entertainment was given. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt was in the chair. During the intermissions Mr. R. and A. Wilson and Mrs. C. C. Munro gave instrumental selections which were much appreciated. The programme consisted of the following numbers:

Dumb-bell exercises ... Three Girls
Vocal Duet...... ....Misses Hasbidge
Recitation...... ....Miss Emily Deyell
Song...... ....Mr. H. Kindred
Song...... ....Miss Smithson
Song...... ....Mr. Bert. Deyell

After this programme Rev. E. A. Langfeldt gave a lecture on "China" illustrated by lime light views which Mr. R. B. Rogers kindly exhibited. The singing of the National Anthem brought this successful entertainment to a close.

HARD TO CHOOSE.

So Many Good and Great Things Makes Choice Difficult

One of the difficulties attending a mention of the features of the coming Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Shows is to select from among them those that are the most prominent. There are so many and they are so varied that it is impossible to find room in an ordinary newspaper article to name them all. A haphazard selection would include the great list of twenty-three star riders of both sexes; Minting, the Marvel, the famous fellow who rides a wriggling unicycle up and down a spiral tower that reaches from the ground to the top of the tent; The Ten Peerless Potters, whose performance is described as the greatest aerial act on earth; the four herds of performing elephants; the great Jackson Family Cycling Septette; an army of star clowns; Dailie Julian, the only living lady somersault rider, and Emma Stickney, who is rightfully called the empress of all equestriennes; the Aurora Zouaves, the gallant Illinois boys who have won all the interstate drills of recent years, and who have been declared by the press and public of Europe, where they have been drilling for more than a year, to be the best drilled soldiers in the world; Captain Hugh Thomason's Roosevelt Rough Riders, the greatest military horsemen of the world, who are all veterans of the famous Sixth U. S. Cavalry and the immortal regiment that followed Roosevelt up the heights of San Juan Hill and glory; and a long line of other features of almost equal importance.

It is indeed a most wonderful aggregation of the curious, the rare, the novel and the exclusive in things that will amuse and amaze. There is some satisfaction in the fact that the shows as presented here will be an exact duplicate in every way of the great shows that so aroused the enthusiasm of the press of New York City at the regular annual opening of the season at Madison Square Garden last April. They will be here on Tuesday, July 8.

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

the white face that involuntarily I turned my head over my shoulder, half expecting to see that someone had stolen noiselessly into the room, to stand close behind me. But no one was there.

Her lips were moving stiffly. I bent over her as she lay among the cushions, and her breath, as it rustled past my cheek, was cold, or I fancied it.

"The scar—the scar!" she was whispering. "After—all—these years. What a fearful revenge! It is—my death."

"Mother!" I cried, my voice breaking into a sob. "Don't say that; you shall not die. I am here—your Sheila."

Her eyes slowly came back from that world where she had been, and she saw me at last. I could see the recognition coming like water that moves under ice; but no light of love came with it, only a sudden, bleak gleam of horror—or hate, I dared not think which.

"You—you!" she said. "If it had not been for you——" Her voice died, then rose again, chokingly. "To atone——" she cried, aloud. "Sheila—save—find—you must find——"

Her breath went with a gasp. She pressed her hand over her heart, half sitting up, her face convulsed with pain. I slipped an arm behind her shoulders, and laid her gently down again. She yielded; but as her head touched the pillow once more she raised both hands, laying one on each of my shoulders; and then I saw a terrible thing that almost forced a scream from my lips. I held it back by force, but my forehead was wet, and a wave of sickness swept over me.

My mother invariably wore long sleeves with her evening dresses, though sometimes, as to-night, they were of thickly shirred chiffon or gauze.

I knew the reason for this whim of hers—for a whim those in ignorance of the truth might have called it. On one of those beautiful white arms of hers there was a thing to hide—the same thing which that other woman had so ostentatiously displayed in the theater.

Now, as she lifted her arms, the sleeve fell back from the right one, cut and torn from wrist to shoulder, spotted here and there with crimson. And where the purple scar had been there was a fresh, raw burn, as if the flesh had been cauterized with red-hot iron.

"The West Wing," she panted. "The West Wing."

I knew that she strove to say something that she could not utter, and I tried to help.

"The West Wing, at home?" I asked. "Is there something I can do for you there?"

She answered only with her eyes. They seemed to say: "Yes—a hundred times yes!" And having said it, they closed. Her hands slid from my shoulders, and, feint and shuddering, I softly laid the poor hurt arm down by her side.

As I did so, Swift came forward. I had not heard her enter the room.

"Go and tell them to send for a doctor," I exclaimed. "Quick—she is very ill."

Swift went away again. It seemed to me that she was gone a long time, though I do not suppose it could have been more than five or six minutes. I bathed my mother's forehead and hands with the eau de Cologne, but she did not speak or open her eyes.

"Have you seen her ill in this way before?" I asked Swift, when she had returned.

"Never so bad," the woman answered, in an awed tone. "But she has suffered with attacks of palpitation of the heart sometimes. She told me I was never to mention it to you, and I haven't till now. There's some medicine in the next room, I've dropped for her more than once. I think it's called digitalis. Shall I get it now, and try what it will do?"

I nodded assent; and presently Swift came back with a small bottle.

"The label's been torn off lately," the frightened maid announced. "I can't remember what the dose was. I daren't give it to her ladyship, miss. And, oh, only look at her! Her teeth are locked together. It would be hard to get her to swallow anything now."

Somehow the time passed, and the doctor came. Afterwards, I heard that scarcely twenty minutes had gone by between the moment when Swift left me to take the message downstairs and that when he arrived. But the minutes seemed ten times twenty.

The doctor was an elderly man, with grey hair and keen eyes, and a quick, concise way of speaking that inspired one with confidence. He asked questions as to my mother's previous state of health, smelt the medicine in the unlabelled bottle, and put it aside. Evidently it was not what was needed now.

He sounded the heart with his stethoscope, abruptly ordering Swift to get brandy and bring it to him as quickly as she could. Bending his face down, with his ear at the instrument, I saw his eyes suddenly fall upon the fresh burn on my mother's arm.

For her sake I could have wished to hide it from him, for I knew how sensitive she had been regarding the scar, what anger she had shown when once, as a child, I had tactlessly asked her to tell me what it was and how it came to be there. But I had resisted the impulse to cover up the spot and conceal it from the doctor, thinking that the injury—which must have caused great pain and shock—might partially account for my mother's condition.

"What's this?" the old man brusquely asked, turning with a slight frown to me. "How did she burn herself?"

"I—don't know," I stammered. "She has been out, away from me for several hours, and only came in a few minutes before we sent for you."

"Humph!" he muttered, his bushy brows drawing close together. "She has had a shock, and—the heart is very weak. You are her daughter?"

I nodded; for tears choked my voice.

"I'm afraid I ought to warn you, then, that she is in great danger. If the action of the heart——"

To be Continued

To Invade the United States.

A recent issue of The Philadelphia Press contained an account of an interesting enterprise undertaken by Mr. Alfred Mosely, an Englishman, who has gained great wealth in South Africa. The Press says:—

In November next by the best of ocean steamships, and at the most luxurious of American hotels, and on the finest of special trains, there is to be made out of England an invasion of the United States. At the personal expense of Alfred Mosely this invading force is to be organized, maintained and transported, a force of 120 leaders, forty of them conspicuous in the world of educational affairs, forty more being men of authority in the trade unions of Great Britain, and forty more being capitalists. The visit will be prolonged until January of next year, and when this company returns to England it is expected that their fellow-citizens will be enlightened as to those mystic influences which have made it possible for the United States to gain equal rank with other nations in world affairs and in many things preeminent rank.

Mr. Mosely was one of the invited guests at the installation of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler as President of Columbia University last Saturday. He sat with that representative and distinguished group, which, as a whole, was a composite representative of all the intellectual and material influences that have made the United States what the nation is to-day. He was peculiarly impressed by the ceremony, and especially by the presence, in enthusiastic accord and sympathy, with all that the election and installation of Dr. Butler means, of men of affairs, men of distinction in commerce, in manufacture, in applied science, and in finance. That was something to which celebrations at English or European universities, of which Mr. Mosely has had knowledge, can offer no counterpart. In the presence and in the enthusiasm of these men he discovered one of the reasons why the United States has been and is now passing by unconscious promotion from the rear rank of nations to a place of supremacy.

He was reminded of the attempt made by the Duke of Devonshire a few years ago when one of the ancient and most famous of the English universities, finding itself in some pecuniary need, made appeals for help. The Duke undertook to raise a considerable fund, having in mind as much as $500,000, American money. But when he turned to the men of commerce he found them deaf. When he appealed to the financiers he discovered that they looked upon the university as something apart in all its influences and scope from their vocation. When he approached the manufacturers he learned that even Oxford with its venerable traditions was for them a mere incident in the national life of Great Britain. So that, having at last secured a scanty $50,000, the Duke abandoned his undertaking. And Mr. Mosely, after he had identified the various personalities prominent in finance and in all material activities who shared in the installation ceremonies of last Saturday, discovered one of the reasons why Oxford and Cambridge are, comparatively speaking, dead, so far as their influence upon the prosperity and advancement of Great Britain are concerned. Nor was he surprised when he was told that had an American prince of finance been appealed to as the Duke of Devonshire was some years ago, he would have, and many times in recent years he has within a day or a week or a brief time, secured the hundreds of thousands, and even millions, that the university needed. Columbia itself had an experience of that kind last winter.

Mr. Mosley might have been told—perhaps he was—of a recent experience of Yale's young president—all agreed to Arthur Hadley that there ought to be raised for Yale, so that administrative and other convenient buildings might be constructed, $1,000,000, and he hoped that it would be possible for him to announce at the bi-centennial that this money had been pledged. He had not then learned the art of approach, however, or the manner by which rich men make up large funds, so that he began to despair of success. Then one day he met an alumnus of Yale, M. C. D. Borden, a man of wealth, and to him Mr. Borden said in effect; "You are not doing this the right way. What you want first is a nucleus of, say, $500,000, secured from a few men, and when you have got that there will be no trouble about the rest."

"But who is to form this nucleus?" President Hadley asked; and Mr. Borden replied, "I will. I will begin it with $100,000. To-morrow I will see Mr. Vanderbilt and one or two others." And on the next day in less than five minutes' chat with Frederick W. Vanderbilt Mr. Borden had secured his pledge of $100,000, Mr. Vanderbilt's only comment being, "It will give me great pleasure to do it," and a day or two later two others were secured pledging a like amount, and at last James J. Hill, and thus President Hadley had his nucleus of $500,000, and it was a mere detail to secure the rest.

Such an experience, according to Mr. Mosely's view, would have been impossible in Great Britain, even for Oxford or for Cambridge, and these institutions staggering under land poverty and the indifference to them of the powerful men of material affairs in Great Britain cannot in Mr. Mosely's view, or in that of American educators, even though stimulated by the endowments made possible by the will of Cecil Rhodes, give to American youths that training, experience, and character which they may obtain at home, and which they need, if they are to be of service in their day and generation. In fact, the American youth would probably do better were they to attend some of the universities in the greater cities of England, for some of the quickening influence of modern times has been felt in those institutions.

The sowing of seed by hand is not an economical method, as more seed is required than when a drill is used, and there is a larger return from the drill, owing to better covering of the seed and greater uniformity of depth. The drill has been improved to a high degree of efficiency, and some have fertilizer attachments. In all experiments made to determine the comparative value of the drill and hand seeding a less quantity of seed, carefully drilled in, yielded more bushels per acre, in proportion to seed used, than seeding by hand.

An absolutely exact duplicate of the performances given at Madison Square Garden by these the only shows big enough or good enough to exhibit in the Metropolis, and the only Circuses, Menageries and Hippodromes that ever have or do exhibit in New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and other Eastern cities.

WILL EXHIBIT AT

PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, JULY 8th

AT THE DRIVING PARK

THE GREAT ADAM FOREPAUGH AND SELLS BROTHERS ENORMOUS SHOWS UNITED.

J. A. BAILEY, W. W. COLE, LEWIS SELLS and PETER SELLS, Equal Owners

DIAVOLO LOOPS THE LOOP ON A BICYCLE

Possessing an aggregate wealth of Resources, Experience and Capital far greater than that of all other shows combined, they are positively the only shows to present anything of any kind that is not old, worn out, cheap or commonplace. Having undisputed control of the show markets of the world they have an unyielding

MONOPOLY OF AND THINGS GOOD AND GREAT, NEW AND EXCLUSIVE

Only room enough here to name a few of the leading stars of these All-Star, First-time-Seen Features Shows:

IN THE NOW WORLD-FAMOUS FEATURE

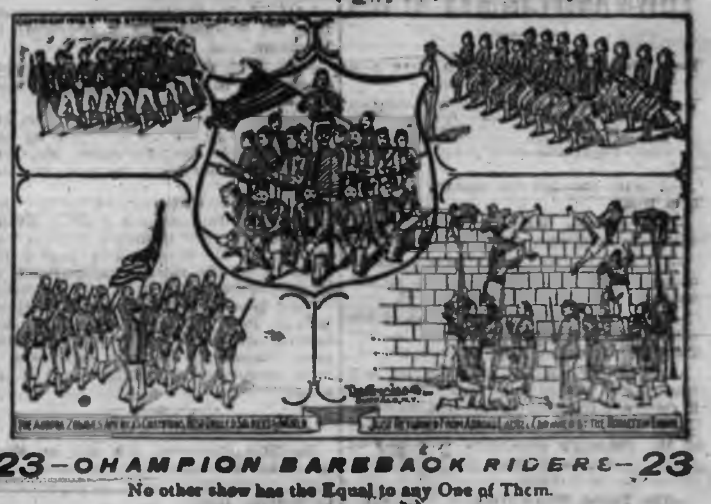
Dare-Devil Diavalo Looping the Loop

Which created an unprecedented sensation at New York City and in all the large American cities, and was generally acknowledged the most daring and thrilling achievement of the Twentieth Century.

AURORA ZOUAVES

BEST DRILLED SOLDIERS IN THE WORLD.

Just Returned from a Triumphant Conquest of all Europe.



23—CHAMPION BAREBACK RIDERS—23

No other show has the Equal to any One of Them.

TEN PEERLESS POTTERS

Greatest Aerial Act on Earth.

MINTING, The Marvel, World's Only Spiral Riding Unicyclist

4—HERDS OF ELEPHANTS—4

Trained Animals of Every Description.

RYAN, WEITZELL AND ZORELLA; HEROES OF THE HIGH HORIZONTAL BARS

Quartet of Cake-Walking Horses, Princes of Equine Aristocracy

AN ARMY OF ALL-STAR CLOWNS, FUNNIEST FOOLS ALIVE

3—GREAT TROUPES OF FRENCH ACROBATS—3

5 DE LUCCAS, 4 LA MONTES, 5 ST. LEONS.

STARR, THE SHOOTING STAR. LA DUO DE VENE.

In addition to a Countless Congress of Champion Circus Celebrities, in the 3 rings, on the 2 stages and in the vast enclave of the dome. Its Mammoth Double Menageries a University of Natural History. Its Huge Double Hippodrome a Colossal and Genuine Race Course.

On the forenoon of exhibition day there will pass through the principal streets

AN ALL NEW AND MAGNIFICENT FREE STREET PARADE

Including an Allegorical Representation of the Wars of the Nation

Two Performances Daily, Rain or Shine, in New Process Waterproof Tents.

Doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. for the Menageries and Grand Promenade Concert by Merrick's Massive Military Band. Arenic display 1 hour later. On exhibition day Numbered Coupon actually Reserved Seats may be secured at the regular prices at

MADILL'S OAK HALL DRUG STORE.

Admission only 50c. Children under 9 yrs half-price

BABY TALK

"It's So Easy" for mothers to prevent loss of sleep and worry, if they would only understand the value of POWLEY'S LIQUIFIED

OZONE

FOR BABY ILLS.

Just a quarter of a teaspoonful in a teaspoonful of water, sweetened to taste, three times a day, or oftener if you wish, will keep baby in the best of health, preventing Diarrhoea, (Cholera Infantum), Bilious Fevers, Measles, Diphtheria, Worms Colic, etc.

[illegible]

The Ozone Company, Toronto

Foot Elm.

This is the original and reliable remedy for feet that are blistered, hot, feverish, sweaty, tired, aching, etc.

It gives immediate relief.

It preserves the leather

It is the cheapest because the best.

All honest druggists sell it. If any man offers you a substitute for the sake of making a little extra profit out of you, write us about it, giving the name. We will send you the name of some honest dealer in your vicinity who will give you what you ask for.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING
-AND-
MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.)

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 21 1902

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times]

—A drive through the country just now is a treat.

—The steamer Water Lily will arrive with an excursion from Keene to-day.

—The County Council will adjourn about noon to-day, when the business of the session will have been completed.

—The summer closing exercises of the South Ward Kindergarten will be held Tuesday afternoon next at two o'clock.

—The Orangemen of this district will take to the woods this year. They are to celebrate the 12th of July in Lindsay.

—Someone stole a [illegible] from in front of Mr. Stinson's shoe store yesterday at about 11 o'clock. Unless it is returned there will be trouble.

—The Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's Church met last night. There was a good attendance, and much interest manifested in the new society.

—We are indebted to Farrier Corporal W. H. Blanchard, No. 667 F Squadron, 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles for Capetown papers.

—There has been a serious outbreak of scarlet fever in Lindsay, and a special meeting of the Board of Health has been called to deal with it.

—Judge Barron, of Stratford, has held that a servant girl could not leave at the end of a month, without notice and recover her wages.

—Regular meeting of Court Peterborough, No. 23, C.O.F., was held last night, when reports were presented by the delegates who attended the recent High Court meeting at Owen Sound.

—A garden party under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Church will be held on the Rectory grounds on Tuesday, June 24th. An enjoyable evening may be expected, and the public are cordially invited.

—Mr. J. M. Brooks, the popular proprietor of the Palace Hotel, has made extensive improvements to his cottage at Chemong Park. Mr. T. Rutherford had the contract.

—The steamer Beaver, and scow arrived in port yesterday with an excursion from Gore's Landing under the auspices of the Presbyterian church there. There was about [illegible] of the visitors.

—Yesterday while Mr. George Webber was seated in his buggy in front of Ellis & White's grocery, a passing rig collided, and upset Mr. Webber's buggy, throwing him out, but fortunately without doing him any injury.

STEAMER MAJESTIC

The Steamer Majestic will connect with the G.T.R. for Stony Lake on Thursday the 19th and Saturday the 21st, leaving Lakefield on arrival of the Morning train and Returning in time to Connect with the evening train

[illegible] agent of the Toronto Street Railway [illegible] in town ostensibly on other business but really to pick up men to supply the strikers. It is said that an offer of $1.50 per day is being made, with a guarantee of steady employment.

[illegible] gentleman told The Times yesterday that there was a pot of money to be made out of the band by any one who would provide a Highland uniform and take them on a tour through the large cities of Canada, and the [illegible]. He says that a better musical organization is not to be found in Canada, not even excepting the "Kilties."

—According to the return of convictions made by His Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the County of Peterborough for the quarter ending the second Tuesday in March last there were but three convictions during the term, one being for using profane language, and the other two for assault. In each case a fine was imposed which was paid forthwith to the Treasurer of the municipality in which the prosecution took place.

Orillia News-Letter:—"The Peterborough firemen and the 57th Regiment band, accompanied by several hundred excursionists, are to-day doing the town. The firemen and band are being entertained by the local fire laddies and musicians, and seem to be having an enjoyable time. Orillia will endeavor to send the visitors down to defeat at lacrosse this afternoon on the oval grounds to avenge the trouncing received in Peterborough last year. The visitors declare that Orillia is just as nice a place as they make them. They will always be welcome to our picturesque town."

—The C.P.R. has issued a handsome illustrated folder describing that magnificent fast-service train, the Imperial Limited that travels from Montreal to the Pacific Ocean in 100 hours. Of the construction of the train itself the folder says: "The cars are solidly built, are widely vestibuled throughout, and in their arrangement and appointment it is apparent that the comfort of the traveller has been aimed at in the most marked degree. Each train consists of two or more palace sleepers of the most modern type, a tourist sleeper, a dining car and a baggage car. The exteriors are uniformly finished in mahogany of the well-known Canadian Pacific standard." These splendid rolling palaces have the most luxurious appointments and traverse in their lengthened flight the grandest scenery in the world. A trip to the coast on the Imperial Limited is an ideal holiday.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times]

—Miss Grace Barnett, of Renfrew, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. B. McAllister.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Stewart leave on Monday for a trip to the Old Country.

—Mr. J. H. McClellan went up to Lindsay last night to attend a banquet given to Hon. Clifford Sifton.

—Cadet Gerald R. Hall is home from the Royal Military College, Kingston, for the summer vacation.

—Mr. J. H. McClellan has returned from an extended visit with friends in Hamilton and Lindsay.

—Mr. J. H. Carnegie, M.L.A., of Cobocónk, was in town yesterday, on a visit to his father, Mr. John Carnegie.

—Ald. Best has returned from an extended visit to the "Soo," where he has a considerable financial stake. Mr. Best says that things are booming in that section.

—Mr. W. J. Paterson, of town, has passed his Intermediate Council Examination, and Mr. Cameron Wilson, son of Rev. J. P. Wilson, has passed his primary, at the recent examinations of the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

—Mr. Eastwood, of the Buckhorn Hotel was in town yesterday. He says that fishing never was better than it is just now. Guests are arriving daily, and a busy season at the popular resort is assured.

Two Drills Next Week

The 57th Regiment will drill on Monday and Tuesdays, in anticipation of their approaching visit to Belleville on Coronation Day.

Died in Kingston

A special despatch from Kingston says Mrs. George Miller, sr., died Thursday morning, aged [illegible] years. She was a native of Ireland, and was married [illegible] years. Besides her husband she is survived by George and Thomas, of Kingston; Wm., of Ottawa; Joseph, of Peterborough, and Mrs. W. Evans, of Toronto.

A New Yacht.

The Hastings Star says: "Mr. H. G. Buck's new yacht, which has been under construction at this place during the past three months will, it is expected, be launched to-day. Mr. Hickey, of Peterborough, the builder, informs us that it is the best boat for its size on these waters, nothing but the very best material being put in it, and we would judge from the appearance of her that nothing on these waters can compare with her in any way. The boat is 48 feet over all in length, and 9 1-2 feet beam. She is calculated to travel twelve miles an hour. Mr. Buck has spared nothing in having a first class boat, and as a result has got one. The cost is placed at $3,000.

Want The Railway

The people of Campbellford are becoming anxious for a branch line of the proposed electric railway from Cornwall to Toronto. The business men of that thrifty village are desirous of a more direct line of communication with the county town, and our citizens should put forth every effort to induce the company to consider the project and carry it out at the earliest date possible.

Diarrhoea Weakens the System and if not checked becomes a chronic condition. No remedy compares with Nerviline which is prepared specially for stomach and bowel troubles. As a radical cure for Cramps, Colic, Gas in the Stomach and Summer Complaint, Nerviline excels everything in the medical line, is an indispensable household staple and costs only 25c. Buy a bottle today. Try Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake Pills.

Conservative Convention

Mr. Whitney, leader of the Conservatives in the Provincial Legislature has issued a call for a general meeting of the Conservative Association of Ontario in Toronto on Wednesday next. The object of the meeting is to discuss the situation, and decide on the protests to be entered in connection with the election. That a vigorous and aggressive policy will be adopted goes without saying. It is therefore very probable that protests will be entered wherever any chance [illegible].

PER DIEM RULE ADOPTED

C. P. R. and G. T. R. will Put American System in Force

Beginning July 1st a per diem rule of charges for foreign cars will go into effect on the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways. Under the new system there will be a charge of 20c per day, and 50c per day after the expiration of one month, for each car. Formerly the charge was so much per mile. The new system is in operation on all the big United States lines. Yesterday agents were at the Union Station from various points, and had the new rule interpreted to them by the superintendents and terminal agents of the two roads.

TO MANUFACTURE TYPWRITERS

A Company Formed in Peterborough with $100,000 Capital

For some time past the work of forming what will be known as the "Colonial Typewriter Company Limited," has been going on quietly in Peterborough. Yesterday morning the organization of the company was completed, when officers and directors for the company were duly elected, as follows.

President, C. B. McAllister.

Vice-President, A. H. Stratton.

Sec.-Treas., Roland Wadell.

Directors, Messrs Peter Campbell, and J. Crane, Peterborough, and Messrs. J. P. O'Connor, W. J. Derby, and W. Keteley, Toronto.

The business of the company will be to manufacture typewriters and handle all kinds of typewriter supplies. The Company is looking for a suitable site in town for their factory, which will be in charge of a competent New York expert at the business; it is said that about 100 hands will be employed in the factory.

TO BE LAUNCHED TO-DAY

A Handsome New Steamer Built at Hastings

The handsome new steam launch, built at Hastings for Mr. H. G. Buck of Norwood, will be launched to-day. Mr. Buck has spared neither time nor expense in making his boat first class in every respect. The boat is handsomely furnished and equipped and will be one of the finest pleasure yachts on the inland waters. The hull is 48 feet over all; 9 ft. 6 in. beam and 4 ft amidships, and is built principally of blue oak. The keel is one piece, 6x7 inches, fastened through keelson (6x5 in.) with half inch iron 18 inches apart. The frames are of oak, 3x4 in., fastened together with carriage bolts. She is planked with blue oak 1 1-4 inches thick, fastened with 4 1-2 inch galvanized nails. There are two cabins, forward and aft, furnished with cherry and upholstered with railroad plush, with seating accommodation for nearly fifty persons. The lavatory and pantry are in the rear of the after cabin, and there are also canopied decks forward and aft for observation purposes. The boat is driven by one high pressure marine engine with water tube safety boiler, 200 lbs pressure, manufactured by Messrs. Davis & Son, Kingston, and the boat will have a speed of 12 miles an hour. The hull was designed by Messrs. J. W. Hickey & Son, of Peterborough. The carpenter work was done by Messrs. J. W. Hickey, John Wills and Fred Profit; the steam fitting by Messrs. W. P. Plant, of Hastings, and W. T. Carberry, of Norwood; the painting by Messrs Loughridge and Patterson; the upholstering by Mr. E. H. White, of Peterborough.

Mr. Buck has invited a party of young people from Norwood and Hastings to accompany him on a trip up Rice Lake on Coronation Day.

It is understood that the new boat will be taken to Stony Lake, where it will remain.

Sabbath School Work

The Peterborough Sabbath School Convention, which opened yesterday in the Murray Street Baptist Church, held an important meeting last night. There was a large attendance of Sunday School Workers. Addresses were delivered by the popular pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Bastow, and the Rev. J. C. Tebb, M.A., Toronto, a well-known Provincial worker in Sunday school as well as Boy's Brigade circles gave an address on "What kind of teachers we ought to be, and what kind of work we ought to do"; Rev. J. P. Wilson, President of the Methodist Conference, and the Rev. Dr. McDonald, pastor-elect of Keene Presbyterian church also spoke.

[illegible]

Farmers are well satisfied with the crop outlook.

Large quantities of live stock are being marketed.

Election matters here are quieted down. People generally are content to go on as before, and continue to prosper.

Rev. Mr. Edmison, formerly of Peterborough, occupied the Presbyterian pulpit here very acceptably on Sunday.

Rev. Mr. McDonald, of Keene, will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit here on Sunday.

There will be a large crowd take in the excursion on Saturday, via Peterborough and Lakefield, to Lindsay.

Samuel English's summer resort at Idyl Wyld will attract many from here.

Mr. J. J. Nichols had his leg amputated at the knee Tuesday by Dr. Greer, of Peterborough, assisted by Drs. Cameron and Keith of this place. The patient stood the operation well, considering his long suffering from his leg.

The Canadian Order of the Woodmen of the World are flourishing and intend holding a garden party and picnic on Coronation Day.

[illegible] Colonial Institute

Special to The Times

London, June [illegible].—The annual conversazione of the Royal Colonial Institute took place to-day in the Natural History Museum and was of unusual interest. The attendance included many distinguished visitors from the colonies and India here for the coronation, colonial premiers, privy councillors and officers commanding colonial troops being among the number.

FOR FREE ADVICE

Every Woman Should Write Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium.

Mrs. C. L. Byron.

Mrs. C. L. Byron, of 546 Lincoln avenue, Chicago, Ill., is President of the Chicago German Woman's Club. She has the following to say of Peruna, the great catarrh remedy, which relieved her of a serious case of catarrh of the bladder:

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"I was cured of a very severe case of bladder trouble which the doctors did not know how to reach. I had severe headache and dragging pains with it, but before the second bottle was used I felt much relieved, and after having used the fifth bottle life looked different to me. This was nearly a year ago, and I have had no recurrence of the trouble. I cannot praise Peruna too highly."—MRS. C. L. BYRON.

Free Home Advice.

In view of the great multitude of women suffering from some form of female disease and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned specialist on female catarrhal diseases, has announced his willingness to direct the treatment of as many cases as make application to him during the summer months without charge.

Those wishing to become patients should address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CORONATION DAY

JUNE 26TH,

DOMINION DAY

JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

GOOD GOING JUNE 25th AND 26th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also GOOD GOING JUNE 30th AND JULY 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

GOOD GOING JUNE 24th to JULY 1st, inclusive, valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from

W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborou ,Ont

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTR

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26 | DOMINION DAY

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th
Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st
Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3.

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

Gough Bro's

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25,$1.50, for $1.00 | Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75, for..$1.25
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25 | Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00, for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS ! STRAW HATS !

Plain Straw Hat..............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c | Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c,$1.00 and $1.25
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00 | Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITE. Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1882.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewriter Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

E. H. GAY & CO
BANKERS.

Detroit United Railway

First Cons'd Mtge. Gold

4½% 1932 BONDS

AT A DISCOUNT.

Send for particulars.

157 ST. JAMES ST., MONTREAL
Telephone Main 1907.

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

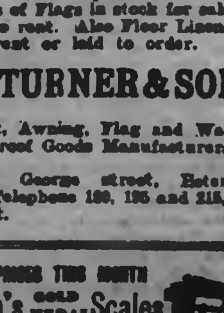
J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

283 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 189, 195 and 215, day or night.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales



FOR EVERYBODY

COAL; GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON
61 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

READ THIS.

READ THIS, $700.00 in Bank will yield you $21.00 per year, we can give you better security and a return of over $71.00 per year for same money.

See cards in our office window for other profitable investments.

Choice building Lots, Houses and Lots, Gardens and farms for sale.

T. HURLEY & CO
Near Post Office
[illegible] Ground Floor

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 146

PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO MONDAY JUNE 23 1902

PRICE TWO CENTS

THE HIGHEST VOLTAGE NIAGARA TO TORONTO

The New Power Line to use 60,000 Volts of Electric Energy

WONDERFUL POWER PLANTS

How Electric Energy is Being used in Some Western Cities and Towns

The Enormous Pressure of the Niagara-Toronto Line Declared Upon After Practical Experiments Which Indicate the Success of the Proposition

Special to The Times

Toronto, June 21—It has been decided that the transmission of Niagara power to the city of Toronto shall be affected at a voltage of 60,000. The power will be generated at a voltage of 11,000, and step-up transformers will raise the pressure to 60,000, at which the electric current will be sent over the cables. The distance from Niagara Falls to Toronto is 90 miles, and for all this distance a transmission line carrying three cables will be erected. There is every prospect that the cables to be used on this latest notable transmission scheme will be of aluminum.

In connection with the proposed transmission of electric power at a voltage of 60,000 it is interesting to observe that whereas several installations contemplate using this high pressure in transmission, none of them has as yet done so. The nearest this voltage is approached in commercial transmission is on the line of the Missouri River Power Company, which extends from Canyon Ferry to Butte Montana, a distance of 65 miles. On this transmission line the voltage used is 50,000, and in time it is expected to develop and transmit about 100,000 horse power. But up to the present time this amount of power is not developed.

50,000 Volts in Missouri.

The use of 50,000 volts on the line of the Missouri River Power Company is really the first application of this potential to a thoroughly commercial service, and it was instituted about the first of last March. In the construction of this plant a dam was thrown across the Black Rock Canyon, the distance being about 400 feet, and designed to give a head of about 80 feet. A low-lying valley is utilized as a reservoir, and in this way a lake seven miles long and from two to three miles wide is formed. The water reaches the power station through a canyon varying from 400 to 700 ft. wide and less than a half-mile long. A strange fact is that while the water in the lake above freezes that in the canyon does not, so that the water reaches the power station wholly free from ice.

With all its enlargements and improvements the power plant at present consists of ten 750 direct connected generators and four exciters. All the generators are of the three-phase type. The transmission line consists of two pole lines about 50 feet apart. Each line has three seven-strand copper cables, arranged in an equilateral triangle with a spacing of 78 inches between centres, and each cable has a cross-section of a little more than 106,000 c.m. In running between Canyon Ferry and Butte the cables are transposed five times, while the poles are set about 110 feet apart.

At the Canyon Ferry end of the line six 950 kw. oil-insulated transformers raise the voltage from 550 to 50,000 volts, while at the Butte end of the line a similar number of the same type of transformers reduce the voltage from 50,000 to 2300. Ever since it was placed in operation this line of remarkable high voltage has been successfully operated, no mishap of any kind having occurred. This indicates that electrical engineers will handle the high voltage of the future with as great success as they have the lower voltage with which it has been their custom to deal.

The success of the Butte line goes to show that many places far distant from sources of power can be supplied with current by high voltage transmission lines, and as the voltage keeps bounding up, the current is sent to greater distances from the generating plant.

Experimenting With High Voltage.

At Niagara Falls for some little time an experimental line has been in operation at a voltage of 60,000, and all the various kind of influences likely to affect it have been created. For instance, an artificial rainstorm was created over a section of the cable, in order that the influence of rain on cables carrying such voltage might be ascertained. The result has been that it has been determined definitely that the commercial use of 60,000 volts is possible, and this information coming from Niagara is important.

Growth of Aluminum's Use.

During recent years, especially since 1895, about which time the manufacture of Aluminum began at Niagara Falls, the use of this metal has been constantly on the increase for transmission line purposes. When the big power development of the Niagara Falls Power Company was projected, one of the first concerns to avail itself of the generous supply of electricity was the Pittsburg Reduction Company, and the fact that it located at Niagara made it possible to manufacture the white metal at a reduction in cost so that aluminum has of late years been a strong competitor of copper.

At present aluminum transmission lines are in use in connection with the installation and transmission of the Standard Electric Company, of San Francisco, the Bay Counties Power Company of California, the Niagara Falls Power Company, and also in connection with various lighting installations throughout the country. Now it is proposed to build the 90-mile transmission line between Niagara Falls and Toronto with aluminum cables, and when this is done it will signify that aluminum has made a wonderful leap into popularity.

Pays Penalty For Murder

Special to The Times.

Brandon, Man., June 20.—The execution of Walter Gordon took place this morning. Gordon's crime was the murder of two men named Daw and Smith at Whitewater in 1900. The crime resulted from a dispute over a farm which Gordon was negotiating to buy from Daw.

A Good Quarter Dollar's Worth

Is contained in a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, which cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Toothache, Headache, Cramps, Sick Stomach and Indigestion. Mothers find Nerviline a first class liniment for children's sore throat, cold in the chest and taken in hot water before retiring is a splendid remedy for colds. Don't be without Nerviline; it is the most economical, potent and reliable household liniment made, and costs only 25 cents.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Constipation.

TO HOIST BLACK FLAG.

How Some of the Irishmen Will Observe Coronation Day

Special to The Times.

London, June 23—The United Irish League is preparing to "keep coronation day as a day of mourning for Ireland." The district council of Clare-Morris (Mayo county), has resolved to hoist a black flag over the council chamber, June 26 and 27, and has issued an invitation to the other councils to join in thus celebrating the "coronation of the English King to whose government the people of this country are so much indebted for famines, coercion and castle rule."

DRANK TOO MUCH WHISKEY

Barnardo Boy Dead Yesterday as a Result of an Overdose of Whiskey

Lindsay, June 21—Peter Brodie, a Barnardo boy aged 19, in the employ of Mr. James Peel, a South Verulam farmer, died yesterday afternoon from the effects of an overdose of whisky.

The young man helped his employer and Mr. William Germyn to drive a bunch of cattle to town yesterday, and about dinner time he demanded from Mr. Peel some money on account of his wages. Knowing that he was somewhat addicted to liquor, Mr. Peel gave him 25c., claiming that was all the change he had, but later on was coaxed into giving a further sum of 75c.

When the time came to start for home Brodie made his appearance, somewhat under the influence of liquor, and soon after leaving town he produced a pint flask of whisky and asked Peel and Germyn to drink. They refused and warned him that he had already taken enough but he persisted in drinking and soon emptied the flask. Then he became excitable and talkative under the influence of the liquor and finally went to sleep with his head hanging over the dashboard.

When Mr. Peel reached home he asked Germyn to aid him in getting Brodie into the house. On lifting him out of the buggy they were alarmed to see that his face had become very black, and that his breathing was heavy and labored. On reaching the house they applied restoratives and rubbed and slapped him vigorously, but without effect, and when they finally felt the heart its action had ceased.

After spending half an hour longer in endeavors to restore animation, Peel abandoned the task and hurried back to Lindsay to inform the authorities. Coroner Burrows drove out and found that Peel's fears were well-founded—the young man was dead, having succumbed to an attack of apoplexy induced by his excessive consumption of raw whisky. Under the circumstances an inquest was deemed unnecessary.

Learned Men Meet

Pittsburg, Pa., June 22.—Scientists from all parts of America—representing chemical, geological, mathematical, microscopical, astronomical, psychological, and kindred societies, will gather in Pittsburg next week to attend the fifty-first annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. As regards both the number and high professional standing of the participants the meeting will be the most notable of its kind ever held in this country. The sessions are to continue throughout the week and the discussions will cover a wide range of scientific subjects.

How the Cocaine Habit Starts

Generally from using catarrh snuffs and ointments containing this deadly drug. It is well to remember that the only direct scientific cure for Catarrh is Catarrhozone, which cures by the inhalation of medicated air. Simply breathe Catarrhozone, and it will cure all forms of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Lung Troubles and Deafness. Every breath through Catarrhozone Inhaler, soothes, heals and relieves. Permanent cure guaranteed even though other remedies failed. Try Catarrhozone, price $1.00 small size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Biliousness.

ENGLAND'S BIG WEEK.

London the Centre of All Interest this Week.

WORLD'S GREATEST SHOW

Immense Crowds from All Parts of the World Attend

The King Once More in the Best Health—The Royal Families of Europe Well Represented.

Special to The Times.

London, June 23.—The opening of coronation week finds the metropolis rapidly filling with visitors. The decorators have put the finishing touches to their work and the city has blossomed out in a mass of gorgeous color. Princes and other titled visitors sent to represent their respective rulers have been arriving at short intervals throughout the city and the attaches delegated to receive them have been kept busy. Prominent among those now here are Prince Henry of Prussia, the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Serge of Russia, the Crown Prince and Princess of Roumania, the Duke and Duchess of Aosta, the Princess of Asturias and her husband, Prince Albert of Flanders and the Crown Prince of Sweden. A few of the more important personages have been quartered at Buckingham and St. James palaces, while provision has been made for the others at the Hotel Cecil, Claridges and elsewhere. Great preparations have been made for the dinner to be given at Buckingham Palace to-night in honor of the foreign envoys, and which will be the first of the grand state functions preceding the coronation.

To-night will be a gala night also for the American colony. The Bradley-Martins give an elaborate dinner at their house, in Chesterfield Gardens, which is likely to outrival in luxuriance the famous Bradley-Martin ball. Mrs. John W. Mackay's Carlton House Terrace mansion is to be the scene of another big dinner, while also Reginald Ward gives a dinner of eighty covers.

The King and Queen interrupted their work of preparation for the coronation to-day long enough to take part in a little gathering in celebration of the eighth birthday of little Prince Edward of York. The British public is only just beginning to look upon the little Prince in the light of the future King. The coronation has served to draw attention to the importance of the little fellow's place in the machine of state.

According to present plans Prince Edward will be a sailor, like his father, and within a few years he will go upon the training ship Brittania to get his first taste of sea life. His present education consists of a few short lessons daily, given by Mlle. Bricla, for many years companion to the late Duchess of Teck. The King is said to be strongly opposed to "stuffing children with too much knowledge." His recollection is keen of how unpleasant it was to be a "walking dictionary" at twenty.

THE ANGLO-JAPANESE TREATY A SUCCESS

Bishop Awdry Speaks on Conditions in Flowery Kingdom

GREAT BRITAIN HAS PRECEDENCE

Christianity is Gradually Extending its Influence Throughout the Business Classes.

Special to The Times.

Montreal, June 22.—There has been a marked change throughout Japan since the Anglo-Japanese treaty was concluded, and it has already proved most beneficial to both nations. The Japanese, on the one hand find that they will always have a power to help them in case Russia should decide to occupy Korea, and it is pleased that England should have departed from all precedents in order that the treaty might be concluded. The English will be benefitted by it inasmuch as they will be accorded precedence over all nations and we missionaries will find it much easier to go about and accomplish our work."

The speaker was His Grace Bishop Awdry, of Tokio, Japan, who was at the Place Viger yesterday on his way home to England. He is accompanied by Mrs. Awdry.

MAKING STEADY PROGRESS.

"During my six years' stay in the country," the Bishop went on to say, "I consider that the cause of Christianity has made steady, even if not very rapid progress. The most satisfactory fact is that the class of Christian is the very best in the country and the most respected by their fellow-citizens. For instance, the Chairman of the House of Representatives is a Christian and this, notwithstanding the fact that there are but fifteen Christian members out of three hundred. The chief of police and the leading members of other departments are likewise Christians. The reason for this is that they are morally a fine lot of people, and have been able to gain the confidence of all. What strikes one, especially among the Japanese, is that, unlike the people of other nations, they do not appreciate a man for the number of dollars he may happen to have, but simply for his true worth.

"Then, again, my experience has show me that for the most part the Japanese have been misunderstood by the people of other nations. It is not in the commercial towns that you find the real type of Japanese, for up to the present time the better class of the people have not become engaged in commercial enterprises. It is only the lower class who have anything to do with business and the European has only too often made the mistake of judging the nation by the members of this class. They are not the real Japanese at all. The real Japanese belongs to the military class, and the civilization of this class is in many respects greater and nobler than that of European peoples. In saying greater I mean that their ideals are loftier than those of other nations. They have little or no regard for money, and spend a great deal of time in improving the mental which may have been given them.

"Coming into contact with the European will, therefore, I am afraid, destroy their ideals of civilization to a certain degree instead of improving them."

"And of your own diocese?"

POPULATION OF 10,000,000

"While only about as large as Vancouver Island it contains a population of ten million people. Of course, but a small portion is Christian, but this is due to the fact that we have not a very large number of missionaries to attend to the work. And it takes almost a superior class of missionary to go among them work with any degree of success. Particularly astute, the Japanese can only be convinced by sound reason. He considers himself to be in every way equal to the Englishman, and while working among them you must be ever mindful of this. Much progress has recently been made in a commercial way throughout the country, and now I can reach nearly any part of my diocese by railway.

Of the Japanese soldier I can only say that he is the soul of honour. He will obey his officer regardless of what order is given, and I am sure that they will extend the same fidelity to the English commanders."

A DELIBERATE SUICIDE

Mrs. Mighton Wife of a Toronto Traveller Found Dead in Bed

Special to The Times.

Toronto, Ont., June 22—Mrs. S. J. Mighton, wife of a commercial traveller residing at 255 Denison ave., was found dead in her bedroom, having been suffocated by gas. The case was one of suicide of the most deliberate nature. Mrs. Mighton, who was about 45 years of age, had just returned from visiting her husband at Winnipeg. She was last seen by the neighbors on Monday, and these, becoming alarmed, called in the police, who broke into the house. The door of one of the bedrooms was locked and a piece of wood was wedged in to keep out the air. Mrs. Mighton was found in bed on her face. She had been dead for two or three days. Mrs. Mighton's husband recently wrote to her from Hotel Vendome, Winnipeg.

BEWARE OF THEM

Sleeplessness, Weakened and Irritated Nerves Lead to Insanity

Paine's Celery Compound

Calms and Strengthens the Nervous System and Gives Sweet, Restful Sleep

The "Immortal Alfred" of England divided the day into three portions of eight hours each, assigning one for refreshment and the health of the body by sleep, diet and exercise, another for business, and the third for study and devotion. Sir Philip Sidney calls sleep "the poor man's wealth," and he might have added, it is every man's wealth.

Are you sleepless and restless at night? Do you rise in the morning unrefreshed and weary, and unfitted for the day's work and duties? If you meet each opening day in this condition, your vitality is low and disease is surely working in some form.

The experience of able physicians proves that Paine's Celery Compound permanently banishes insomnia, strengthens the weakened, irritated and inflamed nerves, produces new nerve fibre and nerve force, and gives firm flesh and hard muscles. The use of Paine's Celery Compound is honestly and strongly urged for every sleepless, tired, nervous and irritable man and woman who would be rugged and strong and fitted to withstand the dangers of a hot summer. The trial of one bottle will convince you that Paine's Celery Compound has no equal.

Eastern Kansas Wheat

Special to The Times.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 22.—The wheat harvest in eastern Kansas will be finished this week, and threshing will commence this week. The yield of wheat in Eastern Kansas promises to be most as large as that of last year when the crop was the largest on record in Kansas. Six weeks ago the prospect for a wheat crop in this section of the state was very discouraging, but rain came in time to save it.

SYMPATHISERS OF STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYEES CAUSE RIOT IN TORONTO

Several of the Imported Men Seriously Injured, Motorman Johnston Reported Killed

OVER 2,000 OF THE MILITIA CALLED OUT.

Including 750 Mounted Men from Niagara Camp Five Cars Badly Wrecked

Special to The Times.

After a discussion lasting eight and a half hours, the Street Railway Men's Union decided to strike. The vote was practically unanimous, there being only one dissenting voice, that of a conductor who refused to vote on the strike motion on religious grounds.

The Board of Trade Committee's report, embodying the schedule of wages offered by the company, and which was posted up in the car barns as being effective from Friday, was presented at the open meeting, and was rejected on the following vote:

Yeas.......173
Nays.......345

The Grievance Committee then reported to the Board of Trade committee that the men would not accept the wage schedule, even if the company agreed to recognize the Grievance Committee.

The Grievance Committee also reported that the men would accept a wage scale of 18c and 20c., the company to recognize the Grievance Committee.

After waiting for several hours to hear from the company through the Board of Trade, and receiving no answer, the motion to strike was put before the meeting and carried unanimously.

MEN ASKED FOR PAY.

The railway pay office was visited by many of the employees this morning who handed in their pay tickets and demanded the amount coming due. They were astonished at receiving a curt refusal. Many of them gathered on the sidewalk in front of the offices at the offices at the corner of King and Church and speculated as to the cause of the refusal of the company to cash their pay tickets. These tickets are issued at the car barns by the time-keepers, and the men are able to cash them on the same day that they are issued. The pay tickets are issued on the 7th and 22nd of each month, when the 22nd falls on Sunday the men are paid on the 21st at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. This morning they were told that they would not be paid. Later on the cashier informed them that their money would be ready this afternoon.

The official statement of the Grievance Committee was handed out this morning by the international representative, Mr. Dilworth, and Organizer McDonald.

The vote on the strike was as follows:—

Yeas.......918
Nays.......1
Total.......919

The method of taking the vote was as follows: Each member of the union was given a balloting ticket and passed from the auditorium into the hall, depositing the ballot with the scrutineers. Everyone present was provided with a card, and the vote polled voiced the sentiment of the entire union.

The committee met in St. Andrew's Hall at noon, and at one o'clock a general meeting of the men will be held, at which they will give their opinions on the strike, and discuss plans for carrying out the fight. The pickets from the various barns will also present reports, and a relief system of pickets adopted. A special committee will be appointed to arrange for a bus service.

W. D. Mahone, president of the International Street Railway Men's Union will not arrive in the city until Tuesday, being engaged in an arbitration on Monday.

A man in the Street Railway Company's building this morning said that the company had 300 men ready to go to work. A large detachment arrived on the 7 o'clock train from the east this morning, and were taken at once to the Albion Hotel. Roadmaster Green was in charge and all the hacks in Station street were commissioned for the occasion.

Up till 8.30 o'clock this morning empty cars were standing at several of the corners. At the corner of Queen and Yonge there were seven or eight, there was one at the corner of York and Queen, and others at various points around the city. They were night cars which had been vacated by the men when the meeting was called at midnight. As soon as the meeting was over—about 8 o'clock—the men responsible returned to the cars and ran them to their respective barns, before saying "good bye" to the service of the company.

AT DUNDAS CAR BARNS.

There was intense suppressed excitement at the Dundas street car barns this morning, when no word arrived from the union's officers down town. The men lined the big doorways, each one with his hands in his pockets. They joked and laughed, but the laugh had a nervous note.

"Where is Wheeler?"

"He left on the five o'clock car with Kearns, another roadmaster, and has not come back."

"The big fool. It would not surprise me if he was killed.

Such was one conversation. There were but a handful of conductors and motormen, too few, the barn superintendent thought, to send out any cars but a crowd of laborers, who stopped for a minute on their way to work, made quite a throng, and when a big, yellow automobile passed carrying Christie-Brown's employes from the Junction to their work, they were cheered lustily.

The Street Railway Company to-day posted the following notice in the various buildings:

Inasmuch as the company recognizes that their men are exhausted by their long conference, and therefore physically unable to operate their cars to-day, the management wishes to state that all the men desiring to continue in the employ of the company are expected to report for duty to-morrow, Sunday, at 7 a.m. and will receive full pay for Saturday.

E. H. KEATING.

Sympathisers Cause a Riot

2.30 a.m.

Several of the imported men were roughly handled by sympathisers of the Street Railway employees today. Motorman Johnson is reported killed. Riots occurred at corner of Scollard and Yonge and bloor and Yonge streets, in proximity of Yorkville last night.

An attempt to run five cars at Lorne street east barns this morning, was accompanied by scenes of greatest disorder and violence, several persons being injured, including W. H. Moore, Secretary to President McKenzie, who was hit in the face with half a brick as well as being badly wounded in the side by stones.

All five cars were badly shattered in less than five minutes. At Dundas street attempt to run cars resulted similarly and all efforts to run the cars for the company had to be abandoned for to-day. Meantime civil authorities were communicated with and it was decided to call out militia; 750 mounted men from Niagara camp, left Niagara with their horses in 3 special trains at 10 o'clock last night, and will arrive at daylight. In addition to which 500 Queen's Own, 300 Grenadiers and 300 Highlanders have been ordered to parade at Armouries. Several hundred extra policemen have also been sworn in. One hundred and fifty men arrived tonight to take the strikers places and hackmen refused to drive them to the different barns.

MEN'S ORIGINAL DEMAND.

A flat rate of 25 cents an hour recognition of union; reinstatement of McDonald; nine-hour day investigations into suspensions; leave of absence to union men when necessary for union work.

COMPANY'S OFFER IN EFFECT TODAY

1st year men, wages increased from 15 cents to 17 cents an hour; 2nd year, 16 2-3 cents to 18 cents, 3rd, 4th, and 5th years, 17 cents to 19 cents; 6th 7th 8th 9th and 10th, 18 cents to 20 cents; after 10ty year, 19 cents to 21 cents; company to clean cars.

MEN'S FINAL DEMAND.

A wage of 18 cents an hour for first year and 20c. an hour for every year thereafter, with recognition of Grievance Committee. Other demands abandoned.

General Manager.

SHAH IS UNWELCOME

Persian Tyrant is Not Wanted at the Vatican at Rome

Special to The Times.

Rome, June 22.—The Osservatore, Jesuit organ, says it is glad that nothing came of the Shah's proposed visit to the Vatican.

"If the holy father had received him, it would have been but an act of grace and pity toward a heathen and a barbarian."

Other Catholic papers regret that Cardinal Rampolla threw so many difficulties in the shah's way.

He demanded, among other things, that the shah drive to the Vatican from a legation having a minister accredited at the Holy See.

This the shah refused to do, saying that he had his own legation in Rome and would not stoop to any masquerades to please his hardinalship.

FREE INFORMATION presented, in a handsome clothbound, illustrated volume, relative to every security dealt in, upon the Exchanges. The irreducible sort of information, essential to have, in either selecting investments, or securities to buy upon margin. Contains 200 pages of most valuable reading. Compiled by writers long experienced in Wall St. Its contents is invaluable to the business man and indispensable to investor or speculator. Why not secure a copy, when you can secure one for nothing, upon request at any of our offices. Ask for both our "Guide to Investors," and

"Daily Market Letter."

Orders solicited for

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.
10 shares upwards. $1000 upwards. 1000 bushels upwards. 100 bales upwards.

On Very Moderate Margins.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.
Established 1890.
Main Office, 53 B'way, N.Y.
Peterborough, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

COMMISSION ONE EIGHTH—The only licensed N. S. Stock Brokerage Corporation in business by permission of the Royal Government of the Province of Ontario.

W. F. NELSON, Peterborough.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depart
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal	5.10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.23 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate	7.23 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9 00 p.m.	5.35 p.m.
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.35 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.20 a.m.	8.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.35 p.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	8.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.15 p.m.
Lakefield local	6.50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at [illegible] per month, and to outside points at $3 per year Strictly in advance.

UNION LABEL

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 23, 1902.

IMPERIAL NAVAL DEFENCE

The Imperial Federation (Defence) League, in its most recently published pamphlet No. 17 presents twenty "reasons why the self-governing colonies should be invited to contribute to the maintenance of the Royal Navy." These reasons are as follows:—

1. The work of the Royal Navy is to protect every part of the Empire by making impossible the active existence of any hostile fleet upon the high seas.

2. The Navy ensures the safety of the sea-borne commerce of every country in the Empire, amounting in the total to £1,367,000,000 annually.

3. The safety, honor and welfare of every part of the Empire is therefore equally dependent upon the existence of a powerful and efficient Navy.

4. For more than a hundred years the people of the United Kingdom have maintained the Navy at their own cost though giving its services freely to the other countries of the Empire.

5. Of recent years the cost of the Navy has largely increased, owing in great measure to the enormous growth in the wealth which it has to defend, and especially to the expansion of colonial trade. It is right that all this wealth should be included under contribution for its own protection.

6. It is the fact today that if a man goes from Ireland, England or Scotland to live in Canada he at once ceases to contribute anything to Imperial expenditure, such as the maintenance of the Navy. Those who remain in the United Kingdom have to pay his share as well as their own, though he continues to enjoy the services of the Navy as much as they do.

In [illegible] the cost of the Navy was [illegible]. In [illegible] it is [illegible]. With insignificant exceptions the whole of this is paid by the taxpayers of the United Kingdom.

7. It is manifestly unfair that this burden should remain upon the shoulders of the forty-one million people of the United Kingdom, while the eleven million people of the self-governing colonies go practically free.

8. This inequitable state of affairs is not primarily the fault of our fellow subjects in the colonies; they have never yet been officially invited to share in the Imperial expenditure. Consequently they have never refused.

10 It can only be remedied by public and official action on the part of the Government of the United Kingdom, taken immediately in the interests of its own people, and ultimately for the sake of consolidating the whole Empire.

11. No other community but that which inhabits these Islands would consent to remain for long in such an intolerable position, and the colonies whose Governments are so commendably alert wherever the interests of their people are concerned should surely be the first to recognize the justice of the representations of the Home Government.

12. The prosperity of these colonies their trade, their revenues, their population, their wealth and their importances in the world, combine to show that the time has arrived when their people should be invited to assume the responsibilities of their position.

13. That eleven million people capable of exercising, unofficially, a powerful influence upon imperial policy should remain free from all political and financial responsibility for the results of that policy is a danger to the state which it is not easy to exaggerate.

14. The Earl of Rosebery, the Liberal Foreign Secretary, pointed out in 1893 that "our foreign policy has become a colonial policy, and is in reality at this moment more directed from the extremities of the Empire, than from London itself." Foreign policy derives its sanction from a powerful Navy; without such a force in the background diplomacy is of no avail.

15. Until the colonies have undertaken to bear their share of Imperial expenditure, it is impossible to admit them, officially, to the Imperial Councils. They cannot be put in a position in which their right to dispose of funds provided solely by the United Kingdom would be officially recognised.

16. There is no means by which the colonies can so effectually and so economically provide for their maritime security, as by taking their share in the finest and most efficient navy in the world.

17. The Secretary of State for the Colonies has told them that "nothing could be more suicidal than for any of these great groups of colonies to neglect themselves to take their fair share in the prospective resources of the mother country.

18. Other self-governing countries, claiming to be civilized, such as Chili, Peru, Argentine, Japan, etc., with far less resources than the colonies have had to maintain for many years costly Navies for their protection. To invite the colonies to assist in maintaining the Navy, is, therefore, proposing to them a much lighter burden than they would have to bear were they independent of the Empire.

19. Though it is fully recognized that the colonies cannot be compelled to accept the proposed invitation, and that it is within their right to decline it, at the same time their frequent expressions of loyalty to His Majesty the King and to the Empire, and assertions of readiness to do their part in Imperial defence as well as considerations affecting their own interests, manifestly at stake, afford good grounds for believing that this invitation will not be lightly rejected.

20. Lastly, if after a reasonable time for negotiation has passed such an understanding cannot be reached, the hopes entertained of consolidating the Empire can never be fulfilled; the only possible alternative—that of gradual disintegration—will then have become inevitable and each country should at once take steps to provide for its individual protection.

With the foregoing "reasons" taken as a whole, first published as timely suggestions to the members of the approaching colonial conference, but which may well be submitted to the British people the world over, a large majority of the people of Canada will probably be inclined to agree quite heartily; not perhaps with every word or every sentence therein, but with the general scope and argument.

[illegible]

A SOULLESS CORPORATION

Kissing goes by favor. By whose favor? Why, by the favor of the lady, of course. At least, this used to be the universal rule—but recently a soulless corporation has ventured to presume that a third party has something to say about it, and that third party is itself. A few days ago the Pennsylvania Railroad company caused copies of the following notice to be posted at the Jersey City station:

New York, June 13.

NOTICE.

All trainmen, gatemen and ticket examiners in charge of the Jersey City exits will stop all persons from exchanging kisses upon the arrival and departure of trains in this station. This order must be rigidly enforced.

F. P. A. ABERCROMBIE,
Superintendent P.R.R. Co.

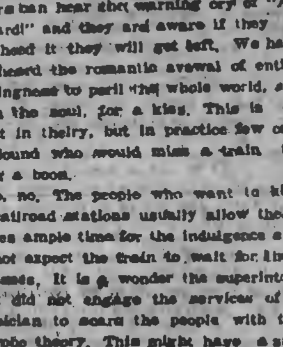
New Jersey is the home of the American trust octopus and of several other octopuses or octopi of a monopolistic character, and it is possible that the people have become so tame and subdued in spirit by the proximity of the monsters that they will submit tamely to this outrage. But fancy the excitement and indignation if such a heartless order were promulgated in a Western community! Would it be obeyed? We trow not. The trainmen, gatemen, ticket examiners, etc., might esteem themselves lucky if they did not have the station pulled down about their ears.

The people who greet and say farewell to each other at railroad stations are usually those of close consanguinity or friendship. Among them are numbered husbands and wives, lovers, parents and children, friends of various shades of intimacy. Shall they be deprived of the osculatory privilege, just because it makes some crabbed superintendent nervous to witness such happiness, or because he fears that the displays of affection will strike a tender chord in the breasts of his employees and make them less callous to the righteous complaints of the travelling public?

The excuse of the superintendent is that too much kissing delays the trains. How preposterous! Does a kiss take up any time? Not if we accept the testimony of the devoted lover or the tender husband. To him the joy is all too fleeting. But it is absurd to suppose that the train would stop in any event for a farewell kiss. It has its schedule time. Even lovers can hear the warning cry of "All aboard!" and they are aware if they do not heed it they will get left. We have all heard the romantic avowal of entire willingness to peril the whole world, and even the soul, for a kiss. This is all right in theory, but in practice few can be found who would miss a train for such a boon.

No, no. The people who want to kiss at railroad stations usually allow themselves ample time for the indulgence and do not expect the train to wait for their caresses. It is a wonder the superintendent did not engage the services of a physician to scare the people with the microbe theory. This might have a salutary effect, furnishing an excuse where the kissing is really undesirable—as between women and women, or where the maiden aunt of uncertain age seems to be entitled to the chaste salute; but neither corporate power nor scientific bugaboos will ever induce people who really want to kiss to abandon the practice, at railroad stations or elsewhere.

ST. JACOBS OIL
TRADE MARK
THE GREAT REMEDY FOR PAIN



Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES
AT
JOHN KYLIE'S,
HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will off suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at	40c
Suspenders	15c
Overalls, with bib, at	45c
Smocks, at	90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chances

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailo
One door south of Montreal Bank

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

Swift's return interrupted him. But I knew what he would have said, as well as if he had finished the sentence.

"Cut the other sleeve open," he directed the maid. In an instant it was done, and with a tiny hypodermic syringe he injected brandy into the left arm.

This he did again and again, each time raising a slight lump with a tiny dot of red on the top, while I watched in silence, my heart beating fast in my throat.

At last her lips moved. "The—West Wing!" she said again, with a fluttering breath. The words ended in a long sigh. A curious, indescribable change came over her features. Never had she been so beautiful. Never had she looked, since I had known her, so thoroughly at peace.

The doctor's hand was on her breast, his eyes on the wonderful, marble face. For a long moment he did not move. Suddenly, my mother's long lashes quivered, and her eyes opened wide, black as mountain tarns at midnight. Whatever she had seen before, when she had seemed to look through and beyond me, she now saw, or thought she saw, once more.

"Mother!" I cried out sharply. "What is it—oh! what is it?"

"My child," said the old doctor, "your mother has gone to sleep. She will not wake again in this world."

She was dead. And she had died seeing it.

CHAPTER IV.

A Sound at the Door.

Only one thing I recall distinctly in connection with that night, after the moment that brought the knowledge and shock of my mother's death. It seemed a trifle to stand out, while other matters, more important, perhaps, receded into the background of my mind; yet the great events of life are reared on a foundation of trifles.

When my mother's beautiful dead body, in all its bravery of mist-grey crepe and glittering stars of steel, was lifted from the sofa where I had laid her down to die, I noticed something that had passed unobserved before, in the excitement of her coming and her sudden illness.

I had half carried, half dragged her from the door to the lounge, after she had fallen against me, fainting, without removing the cloak that lay loosely over her shoulders, and when I placed her on the sofa, the wrap lay between her and the nest of cushions.

When they took her away it was still there, and as I stood staring dazedly at the place where she had been it was suddenly borne in upon me that this cloak was not the one which she had worn to the theater; I had never seen it before.

She had gone out in a long, primrose-tinted wrap of satin, brocaded with great marigolds in shining threads of gold. She came home to die in a short wrap of lustreless black silk, lined with a deep shade of purple.

I shuddered at sight of the thing, remembering the black, jetted dress worn by the woman with the scar on her arm, the woman whom I could not help secretly regarding as my mother's murderess. I could not bear to see it lying where mother had lain, and in a sudden passion I seized the black, purple-lined garment and flung it violently from the sofa into a far corner of the sitting-room, where it lay in a heap on the floor.

Next day my cousin, Roger Cope, came. He had inherited my father's title long ago, and was Sir Roger Cope. An estate which went with the baronetcy had also gone to him; but he had never lived there. The old home by the sea, in Dorsetshire, which I loved, had been my mother's. She and my father were distant cousins, and though Roger had inherited the title, as next-of-kin, after my father's death, he was even more nearly related to my mother.

Very little money had gone to Roger with the title and estates, for my father had been poor, my mother rich, and the new Sir Roger Cope let his place in Dorsetshire, living in town. He was a solicitor, and since mother and I had come to London for my first season, we had been twice invited to tea at his delightful old chambers in the Temple.

When we were ready to leave the Coburg Hotel—Swift and I—for the sad journey down to Dorsetshire, the maid came to me at the last moment, carrying the black, purple-lined cloak in her hand.

"What is it, miss?" she asked. "I never saw it before. It can't be yours—or my poor lady's. Was it—what she wore home that night—by mistake, perhaps?"

"Yes," I answered. "She wore it that night——"

I was about to add that the thing should be left in the hotel, where perhaps the owner would one day come to inquire for it, when I remembered that I might reproach myself later for letting a possible clue to the woman in black pass out of my hands.

"Give the wrap to me," I said instead. "I should like to look at it."

Swift laid the sombre folds over my arm, and I examined the purple lining for a pocket. There was one on each side, that on the left long and narrow, for the reception of a fan; that on the right only large enough for a purse and a handkerchief.

I plunged my hand into one after the other, and at first thought that both were empty. But into the corner of the purse-pocket was pushed a tiny, crumpled bit of paper. I pulled it out, smoothed it between my fingers, and saw that I had possessed myself of a small slip cut from the column of a newspaper.

"Lady Cope and her only daughter, Miss Sheila Cope," I read, "are spending the season at the Coburg Hotel, in Carlos place."

This gave me a new idea. I rang and sent for the manager. Of him I asked if it would be possible to find out, even now, whether anyone had called to see my mother while we were at the theater on the evening of her death.

To be Continued

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY.

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make.
SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE
ALL FURNISHINGS AT COST AND UNDER.

H. F. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS, 353 GEORGE STREET.

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky
Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers, LEITH, Scotland

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE
ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.
MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
MONTREAL, April 8th, [illegible]

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 90/100 to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever.

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interests is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $55.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited. A Canadian Company with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property situated in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c $12 50

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a silver lead mine situated in British Columbia. Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $[illegible] to the ton. SHARES 10c $5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends. SHARES 50 cents $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents $12 50

Total value $55 00

275 SHARES .... FOR $50 00 CASH

125 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.
FINANCIAL AGENTS,
217-218 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

The New York Times

Saturday Review of Books.

$1,00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—in fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times

SUNDAY EDITION

$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL - - - - $1,000,
RESERVE FUND - - - 270 000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D., - President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, W. H. BEATTY, - Vice-Presidents.

JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P.
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government he Corporation is accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice forthe investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRTOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures consecutive action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELY CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR,
Managing Director.

A. D. LANGMUIR
Assistant Manager

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue; Foreign Edition Post Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits,
LACE CURTAINS, [illegible] LADIES & GENTS, REAL SWISS, [illegible] LOOM HOSIERY, GUIPURE D'ART [illegible] HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $5.10

Lot No. [illegible] contains:—1 pair Rich Artistic Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, choice old lace design, 3½ yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair neat Floral Pattern Bed-Room Curtains, 3 yds. long, 50 in. wide, 1 pair new fashionable Sash Curtains, 1 table centre, renaissance design, 1 set of Duchess Toilet Covers, one 45 in. long, and five smaller. Sent if desired. On receipt of Post Office Order for $5.10, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth.

Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable work, Marvellous Value, and Durability. Prize Medals, Toronto [illegible]; Chicago, [illegible].

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established [illegible].

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Advertise in The Times, Everybody reads The Times,

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 8 a.m.	21 June 8 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 6 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 6a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $50 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... .... June 26th
Mongolian...... ....July 9th.

S. S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal,

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leave Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to:
W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to
THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd

River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S. S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t
W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood o Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. fo Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 9.30 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information appl to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO

STR. "ARGYLE"

(Commencing Thursday, May 22)

EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at	12.30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC ANU ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7.00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday	2.00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.
Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville	11.00 a m
" Trenton	1.15 p m
" Brighton	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte	7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th
For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager,
Picton, On

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA."
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9 00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

6 Trips Daily (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont.

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay

ESTURION

JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv	6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	7.15 a.m.	"	4.10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar	8.40 a.m.	"	5 30 p.m.
"	Lv	11.00 a.m.	"	5 45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	12.10 p.m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar	1.15 p.m.	"	8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.

MANITA

JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon...........Leave	7.00 a. m.
Bridgenorth...........Arrive	9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth ....Leave	3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon.......... Arrive	5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt., G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG, PORT HOPE, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

STEAMER
NORTH KING
Week Day Route Commencing May 12

SOUTH BOUND.
Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... ...[illegible] p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... ...2.30 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) .... [illegible] p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... ....[illegible] p.m.

NORTH BOUND.
Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets .... [illegible] a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester... ....[illegible] a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario....... ......[illegible] p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... ...[illegible] p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any plac in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to.

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Swaab, Agent Port Hope

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"

On Monday, June, 16th Wednesday, 18th and Friday 20, the Steamer Majestic will leave Lakefield on the arrival of the morning train, returning in time to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

P. P. YOUNG,
Proprietor.

CAPT. SCOLLARD,
Master

KILAUE NOW IN ACTION

Great Hawaiian Volcano Spouts Fire on June 10th

It Is Not Known Yet Whether Lava was Ejected—Connection With Martinique Volcanoes—Story Of the Migration of Turtles That Is Taken as a Sign

Special to The Times,

Honolulu, June 16, via San Francisco, June 21.—Kilauea, broke put in violent eruption on the morning of June 8, when a great column of flame rose from the crater to an immense height and has continued to flame up steadily since then.

Whether there was any lava or ashes cannot be learned until the steamer arrives tomorrow.

It is a curious fact, as showing a connection between the Martinique eruptions and the Hawaiian volcano system that during the six hours when Mont Pelee was in most violent eruption there was marked disturbance of magnetic conditions at the observatory near Ewa on Oahu Island.

HARD TO CHOOSE.

So Many Good and Great Things Makes Choice Difficult

One of the difficulties attending a mention of the features of the coming Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Shows is to select from among them those that are the most prominent. There are so many and they are so varied that it is impossible to find room in an ordinary newspaper article to name them all. A haphazard selection would include the great list of twenty-three star riders of both sexes: Minting, the Marvel, the famous fellow who rides a wriggling unicycle up and down a spiral tower that reaches from the ground to the top of the tent; The Ten Peerless Potters, whose performance is described as the greatest aerial act on earth; the four herds of performing elephants; the great Jackson Family Cycling Septette; an army of star clowns; Dallie Julian, the only living lady somersault rider, and Emma Stickney, who is rightfully called the empress of all equestriennes; the Aurora Zouaves, the gallant Illinois boys who have won all the interstate drills of recent years, and who have been declared by the press and public of Europe, where they have been drilling for more than a year, to be the best drilled soldiers in the world; Captain Hugh Thomason's Roosevelt Rough Riders, the greatest military horsemen of the world, who are all veterans of the famous Sixth U. S. Cavalry and the immortal regiment that followed Roosevelt up the heights of San Juan Hill and glory; and a long line of other features of almost equal importance.

It is indeed a most wonderful aggregation of the curious, the rare, the novel and the exclusive in things that will amuse and amaze. There is some satisfaction in the fact that the shows as presented here will be an exact duplicate in every way of the great shows that so aroused the enthusiasm of the press of New York City at the regular annual opening of the season at Madison Square Garden last April. They will be here on Tuesday, July 8.

AMERICAN ARMY IN KHAKI

The New Uniform to be Adopted by the United States Soldiers

Special to The Times.

Washington, June 21.—The United States army is to have a new uniform. Radical changes are to be made in both service and dress uniforms of officers and men of all branches of the service.

Some time ago Secretary of War Root appointed a special commission of army officers to investigate and report on the question of improvement in the uniforms now worn. This commission has held a number of hearings, examined the uniforms of the armies of other countries, and will shortly report to Secretary Root recommending a number of changes.

These recommendations will include the adoption of khaki as the service uniform for all arms, but full-length trousers for privates are to be abolished. The new service uniform proposed will have in place of full-length trousers knickerbockers and either leggings or a wrapping for the legs, similar to that used in the British Army. Long trousers are to be retained in the dress uniform, but the helmet will be abolished and a cap with a visor substituted. The brown slouch hat with the service uniform will be retained.

The proposed changes in the uniform of officers are all in the direction of simplicity. The present long, heavy sword is to be abolished in favor of a short and light-weighted weapon similar to that now used in the Italian Army. In full-dress uniform officers will wear a cap with a visor, which is to be modelled after a pattern in use in the Prussian regiments of the German Army.

The knapsack is to be abolished and in its place there will be a canvas bag that will be suspended by straps over both shoulders. The bag will hang about the middle of the back.

GUATEMALA STILL SHAKING

Earthquake of Daily Occurrence—Railroad Badly Impaired

Special to The Times.

New Orleans, June 21—The British steamer Anselm from Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, brought a number of passengers from Guatemala City including H.M. Keith, President of the United Fruit Company. The passengers who came from Guatemala City over the railroad report it badly damaged by the continued earthquakes that have prevailed there. The train had to go very slowly the entire distance and even then it left the track several times. At the river Motagua the bridge had been destroyed and the passengers had to cross the river in a boat. From Port Engano the passengers themselves, twenty in number, took charge of the train, operated it and succeeded in reaching Puerto Barrios in safety.

No damage whatever was done by the earthquake on the Atlantic coast. Earthquakes still occur daily in the central part of the republic. Five shocks, the most severe for several weeks, were felt on May 28 between 2.30 and 4.30 p.m.

—Judge Barron, of Stratford, has held that a servant girl could not leave at the end of a month, without notice and recover her wages.

A German Court Martial

A court-martial which has aroused an immense amount of interest in Germany has been brought to an end. For over a year two non-commissioned officers named Marten and Hickel have lain under the charge of having murdered their commanding officer, Captain Von Krosigk. The trial, which has just ended in their acquittal, was the third to which they have been subjected. Late in the afternoon of January 21, 1901, Captain Von Krosigk was shot dead by an unknown hand through an embrasure in the wall of the riding school, where he had been superintending the riding exercise of some of his troopers. The murdered officer had a reputation for extreme severity in his dealings with his men, and had at least on one occasion been punished for exceeding the legitimate dictates of military discipline. The elaborate investigations which were instituted at Gumbinnen and which were partly conducted with the aid of a detective from Berlin laid bare the whole domestic economy and the daily life of the barracks. They showed that among those who had suffered most from the excessive harshness of Captain Von Krosigk was the non-commissioned officer Marten, as well as his father, a senior sergeant who had formerly served in Von Krosigk's squadron, but had obtained his transfer to another in order to escape the persecution to which he had been subjected by that officer. Hickel was the brother-in-law of the younger Marten and was involved in the suspicion which fell upon him, as he had been in Marten's company a few minutes before the murder. Both in the former trials and in that which, lasting ten days ended recently the evidence was chiefly furnished by dragoons of the squadrons who attempted, so far as their somewhat hazy memories served, to give an account of what they had observed during the half-hours and even the minutes which preceeded and followed the crime. One witness maintained that he had seen Marten near the carbines stand a few minutes before the murder, while another had seen two persons with stiff caps like those of non-commissioned officers near a peep-hole in the wall of the riding school. On the other hand, Marten and Hickel, it was proved, had both been in the house of the parents of the former no later than ten minutes before the fatal shot was fired.

At the first trial last June Marten and Hickel were both acquitted. At the second trial in August Hickel was acquitted, while Marten was condemned to death, an attempt to escape from a military custody which, according to his own account, was almost intolerable, having weighed heavily against him. The Supreme Military Court, however, quashed the second verdict in the case of both of the accused, on the ground of a technical flaw in the proceedings. The final trial brought to light no fresh evidence of importance but the sensation excited by the case had apparently inspired a number of uneducated people to come forward with stories equally sensational, but unsupported by any corroborative testimony. Thus a woman in Gumbinnen declared that on the afternoon of January 21 she had heard a shot fired in the barracks and had immediately afterwards seen in the moonlight two civilians running out of the gates. It was proved, however, that on that evening the moon did not rise till three hours later than the hour of the murder. A good deal of evidence was adduced regarding previous attacks under cover of night upon the house and the property of Capt. Von Krosigk and it was testified that he himself had attributed those outrages to civilians.

The close of the final trial was rendered dramatic by a declaration made by Marten on the invitation of the Court. He said:—

"I only ask leave to say as a last word in my defence what I feel in my inmost heart. To my great grief I have heard the prosecutor propose that punishment should be inflicted upon me. The whole nation must know, and I declare with a loud voice—as sure as there is a God in heaven I can swear from the depth of my heart that I am innocent. My words are no mere phrase, they are the very truth. At the close of the investigation the Kriegsgerichtsrath said to me: 'If You are condemned you can appeal to the mercy of his Majesty.' If I were guilty I should be ashamed to ask mercy of my Kaiser. I have always been heart and soul a soldier, like my father. Now I am only a shadow of what I was, and I have been dragged through the mire before the whole world. I ask the Court to give me justice."

In declaring its verdict the Court admitted that there were strong grounds for the suspicion which had been entertained regarding Marten and Hickel, but that, on the other hand, part of the circumstantial evidence was utterly untrustworthy and part of it of doubtful accuracy. There was nothing to show that the enmity of the Marten family against Captain Von Krosigk was of such a deep-seated and permanent character as to have driven the younger Marten and Hickel to commit this terrible crime.

Whitewash in the House.

There is more virtue in whitewash for the poultry house than most people are willing to credit. There are two ways to apply whitewash to a poultry house. One is with a brush and the other with a spray pump. These pumps are obtainable almost anywhere now, and are the best implements for putting on whitewash. The sides and ceiling of the poultry house should be given an application of whitewash. The roosts and nest boxes should not be neglected. The whitewash should be of the consistency of thick cream, and it will be found a good plan to put some kerosene in each pailful. Mites can be killed and lice will not survive where a frequent and thorough application of whitewash is given. One can put on some old slip of a garment, an old hat, and with a spray pump can in a few minutes have a good application of whitewash that will make everything sweet and clean. What falls on the floor will make a good floor itself when mixed with the hard dirt or coal ashes, or of whatever material the floor is made.

Humor of the Hour.

Mistress—Now, Jane, there is no use of further argument as to how this dish should be prepared, but our ideas on the subject are so different that it is evident one or the other of us is crazy.

Jane—True for you, ma'am; an' it's not the likes of me as would be after sayin' the likes of you would have no more since than to keep a crazy cook.—Chicago News.

◆

A northerner who had never been below Mason and Dixon's line went down to Georgia, nearly to the Florida line, last winter. Guided through the country by an old negro, they reached the edge of a stream, and the traveller said: "What is that dark object in the water?"

"Oh, dat's a alligatah, Sah," was the reply.

"And what is that other dark thing over there on the sand?" was asked.

"Dat's a alligatah, too, Sah," the guide answered.

"Then these alligators of yours are amphibious creatures, are they?" queried the Northerner.

The old negro scratched his head, pondered deeply, finally smiled knowingly, and answered:

"Oh, yes, Sah, yes Sah. 'Course dey's amphibilous. Dey eats niggers jes de same as white folks."—New York Times.

◆

Nurse was reading nature-stories of the chickens, ducks and geese.
"Johnny, tell me, what's a gander?" asked she with a smile of peace.
Little Johnny looked up quickly, all his fancy turning loose,
As he answered, smiling proudly, "It's the rooster of the goose."
—Judge.

◆

She—Isn't that a beautiful parrot?

He—Well, I like the cage better than I do the parrot.

"Pshaw! The cage can't talk."

"That's the reason I like it."—Yonkers Statesman.

◆

"I saw him," said the complaining witness, "steal a hammer from this hardware store and bolt for the door, upon which I noticed he had riveted his attention from the start.

"Yes," said the Magistrate, encouragingly.

"Well, I tried to hold him, but he gave a wrench and got a weight, and then I quietly called a policeman who nailed him."

"You employed grate tact," said the Magistrate. "Tin months."

Which shows how convenient it would be if we would only fit our conversation to circumstances.—Baltimore News.

◆

The Judge—According to the evidence, Mrs. O'Hoolihan, you threw a flat iron at your husband."

Mrs. O'Hoolihan—Yis, your honor, an' accordin' to his face, Oi hit him, b'gorry."—Chicago News.

◆

Bridget and Pat were sitting in an armchair reading an article on "The Law of Compensation."

"Just fancy," exclaimed Bridget; "accordin' to this, whin a man loses wan av 'is sinses another gits more developed. For instance, a bloind man gits more sinse av hearin' an' touch, an——"

"Shure, an't it's quite thrue," answered Pat.

"Oi've noticed it mesilf. Whin a man has wan leg shorter than the other, begorra the other's longer."—Philadelphia Times.

◆

It was a New England parson who announced to his congregation on a recent Sunday: "You will be sorry to hear that the little church at Jonesville is once more tossed upon the waves, a sheep without a shepherd."—Boston Christian Register.

◆

"They tell me Maude Burlocks is going to be married."

"You're misinformed. Miss Burlocks is going to marry the man who is going to be married. Your difficulty is that you don't know Miss Burlocks."—Baltimore News.

◆

"Poor child!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodart, who had been touched by the appeal to the extent of a quarter, "and how did this accident happen to your father?"

"Why," replied the bright little girl, "he begged so much money one day that he got drunk and was sent to jail."

"But you told me his arms were cut off."

"Oh! No, ma'am, I said 'alms.'"—Philadelphia Press.

◆

Alas, the nights are nearly here
While Mr. Skeeter will
His songs unhushed, and then forthwith
Present his awful bill.
—Cincinnati Commercial.

"Why don't you wash your face?"

"Aw, say, I ain't goin' to try no experiments."—New York Journal.

◆

"[illegible] not what you'd call an advanced woman?"

"No, [illegible]"

"Has no mission in life, I suppose?"

"Oh, I believe she claims to have one, but it's nothing of any importance."

"What is it?"

"Just a mission to make some good man happy, understand."—Chicago Post.

◆

Young Lady—A friend of mine is engaged to a man, and now he refuses to marry her. What would you advise her to do?"

Old Lawyer—Is the man wealthy?"

Young Lady—No. He hasn't a shilling.

Old Lawyer—Then I'd advise her to write him a nice letter of thanks.—Tit-Bits.

◆

Colonel John C. Haskell of Columbia, S.C., has on his place an old negro woman who acts as [illegible] for his brother's motherless [illegible]. One day the Colonel, after [illegible] experiences of several small losses which had been fastened on the children, said to her:

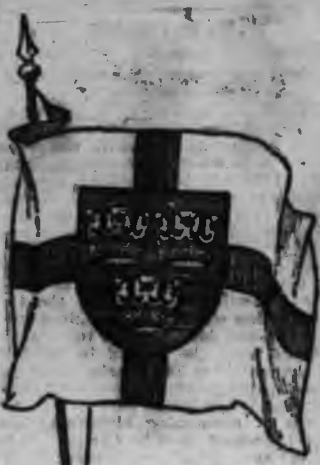
"[illegible], I think these children are getting dishonest."

"Well, sah, dat's a fac'. I tell dem daddy he oughter let 'em be'n'd. Children ain't got no judgment in stealin'. Wen dey do steal things, jes as likely dey'll take somethin' you'll miss!"—New York Times.

A New Flag.

It is a pleasant surprise, in these days of heraldic decadence, says The Daily Graphic, to find that a really handsome and correct new flag has come into existence. Our illustration shows the new East Anglian flag, adopted by the London Society of East Anglians in accordance with the recommendation of the committee appointed for the purpose of inventing such an ensign. "Mindful of the great traditions of East Anglia," says Mr. Charles Fenton, the Secretary, in a report on the flag, "it has been the endeavor of the committee to obtain a flag which should be especially associated with the old Kingdom of Engle, or Angle Land, from which England takes its name, and be also a worthy emblem of East Anglian energy."

The design of Mr. G. H. Langham, one of the members of the society, has been chosen—namely, the ensign of St. George, argent a cross gules, charged with an escutcheon bearing "the arms of St. Edmund—namely, azure three crowns or." While thus associating the arms of St. Edmund, the East Anglian King and martyr, with those of the patron saint of England, provision has been made in it, adds Mr. Fenton, "to enable our kindred in other parts to come within its folds and share its significance. The first quarter of the flag has been exclusively reserved for them, and it is suggested that in it should be placed the badge (as distinct from the arms) of the Dominion, State or colony in which East Anglians may be resident. For example, East Anglians in Canada should add the maple leaf, in Australia the kangaroo, and so forth."



St. George and St. Edmund: A new flag for East Anglia.

In this matter the East Anglians have taken a step which might well be followed by other ancient provinces of England—Mercia, for instance, and Wessex. Several very interesting flags might thus come into existence for the coronation festivities—an auspicious occasion, surely, for the evolution of new flags—and help to adorn our streets. One thing only impairs the keen satisfaction with which the few surviving lovers of heraldic symbolism will hail the East Anglian flag and that is that the flag is not of the ancient square shape, but is of the odious modern "twice-as-long-as-high" form, so ill adapted for heraldic display. On a modern flag the cross of St. George is distorted in absurd fashion, the cross arms being longer than the shaft, whereas, in the ancient banner the arms were at least of equal length. A perfectly square flag is a handsome enough object on a staff, as may be seen in the case of the German Imperial banner, which preserves the mediaeval form, and the name "banner," there correctly used, is a finer sounding word than flag. "The banner of East Anglia" is a better phrase than "the East Anglian flag."

Care of Horses' Feet.

Quarter cracks are generally occasioned either from improper shoeing, permitting the feet to become very dry by standing on hard, dry floors, paring away the bars and weakening the heels, burning the foot in shoeing or springing the shoe off at the heel. These causes produce contractions of the hoof, which becomes dry, loses its elasticity and finally cracks. In treating the object is to remove the contracted disposition in the hoof by rasping it at the quarters until an appearance of serum, after which let the crack be opened on both sides with a drawing knife, so that friction of the fractured parts may be avoided. Then rasp or cut out the bottom of that quarter which is cracked, so that no part of it may bear on the shoe. After the wall has been lowered, should the frog project below the bottom of the foot, pare it flat. By doing this the frog will grow wider and assist the foot in expanding. When the cracks occur well back at the heels it is sometimes necessary to protect the weak parts from [illegible] by applying a bar shoe.

Commence thinning the shoe at the centre of the quarters, carrying it off both toward the heel and toe, having the shoe light and [illegible] wide to obtain strong frog pressure. When the cracks occur opposite the wings of the coffin bone toward the foot and [illegible] the toe is not so [illegible]. If the crack exists only on one side have the shoe cut off on the side of the crack so as not to extend clear to the latter. This will relieve the wall quarter of all the weight. If there are cracks on both sides of the hoof fire with a [illegible]. Keep the wall on both sides of the crack from contact with the ground surface as far as can be done with safety. New growth of hoof can be promoted by keeping the hoof moist with cold water bandages around the coronet. Have the shoe removed every three weeks to prevent excessive growth of horn.—J. J. Shepherd, in Twentieth Century Farmer.

Do not overlook buckwheat, especially where bees are kept. It will grow on poor land and if not desired for the grain makes an excellent crop for ploughing under. It provides forage for bees at a time when many other plants are not in flower.

GREAT COAL STRIKE

360,000 Men Likely to Quit Work in Coal Regions

A TERRIBLE COAL FAMINE

President Mitchell Calls a Convention Before Issuing Order

Will Probably be the Greatest Strike on Record—If the Plan Succeeds 360,000 Men will Stop work in the Mines in Many States.

Special to The Times.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 21.—Unable to make further progress in the anthracite coal strike President Mitchell this morning issued a call for a national convention of United Mine Workers which is to consider the advisability of ordering a national strike. If this move is successful it will involve over 360,000 men who now produce about 215,000,000 tons of coal a year. If the leaders can control the organization all the coal mining east, south and north of Tennessee, inclusive, except in the central Pennsylvania district, will be stopped and a suspension of work such as the world has never seen will occur.

The following statement in regard to the call was made:

A national convention of the miners of the country will be held at Indianapolis at the earliest possible date to consider the advisability of a national suspension of work. The call is made upon the acquiescence of five districts of United Mine Workers of America, that number being necessary to issue a call. This makes it obligatory for the President of the United Mine Workers to call the convention. The five districts are Nos. 1, 7, 9, 17 and 24. The date will be decided by the National Secretary of the United Mine Workers, W. B. Wilson.

These five districts are the three anthracite districts, the West Virginia and Michigan. The papers have been in the possession of President Mitchell for some time.

After a discussion on the telephone with Secretary-Treasurer Wilson, at Indianapolis this afternoon President Mitchell announced the date of the convention as July 17. Secretary-Treasurer Wilson will have notices printed and sent to each local throughout the country, bearing a copy of the call and orders to elect delegates. Each hundred mine workers in good standing are entitled to a vote and one delegate may represent as many as five votes, but no more.

The organized miners are, according to the union figures, entitled to 2,3[illegible] votes with some fifty added from the States which are not organized thoroughly but which have small locals. These figures are misleading, as no miner can vote for a delegate unless he is in good standing, and only about 75 per cent. have their dues paid up within the last three months. Then a complete organization is claimed in Virginia and West Virginia, where only about half the miners are organized.

The outlook, according to President Mitchell, is that the convention will have about 1,400 delegates present and they will represent, although he does not say this, about 2,500 votes. Of this number the regions now on strike, the Pennsylvania anthracite, West Virginia, Virginia and Michigan, will represent about two-fifths. The others will come from the soft coal regions of Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Alabama, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, where Mitchell says the organization is complete.

The anthracite men expect to get from these States enough votes to pass the strike resolution, a majority, and not a two-thirds vote being required.

Maryland, Colorado, Washington, Montana, Indian Territory, Arkansas, New Mexico and Texas and one-half the soft coal district of Pennsylvania are not well organized but there are small unions among them, which will be represented at the convention.

According to the best figures now obtainable, the districts now on strike will have to gain over 300 votes to carry their object.

The result of the strike would be far-reaching, and will paralize every industry in the United States, and greatly effect those in Canada, as well.

BIG LOTTERY TO AID POOR BOERS

Reitz and Meyer Coming Here to Raise Money—Other Leaders to Visit Other Lands

Special to The Times.

Brussels, June 21.—It is reported here that Mr. Reitz, formerly State Secretary of the Transvaal and Gen. Lucas Meyer, the well known Boer leader, will make a tour of the United States with the object of collecting money for the benefit of poor Boer families by means of a great international lottery.

Gen. de Wet, it is said, will visit Germany and Austria, in connection with the scheme, while Gen. Botha, ex-commander-in-chief of the Boer forces, will visit Belgium, Holland and France. Gen. Botha will afterwards be received in audience by the King of England, etc.

The total number of Boers who surrendered, together with those who were captured, held prisoners in the camps or were killed, wounded or reported as missing, show that the Boer army during the entire war approximated 80,000 men of all ages, including the Cape Dutch.

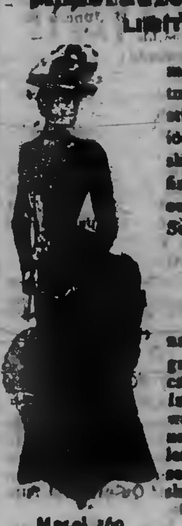
CASE AGAINST [illegible] LEAGUE

Effort Being Made [illegible] Courts Declare [illegible]

Special to The Times.

London, June 21.—Lord de Freyne, an Irish landlord, has started a great legal fight against thirty-one defendants, who are charged by him with conspiring to procure the non-payment of rents. He wants to have the courts declare the United Irish League to be illegal.

The defendants include John Redmond, John Dillon and J. G. MacNeill, all members of the House of Commons; the [illegible] of the United Irish League, Michael Davitt and the directors of the Freeman's Journal.



$3.10 $3.10
THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO. LIMITED.
Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well cut skirt, well made and finished. Made our noted Chevi Serge. Price only $3.10
Postage 50c extra.
Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front
Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c
Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black. Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c. Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.
WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.
Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to
THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST
Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican
News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.
The Weekly Inter Ocean
Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.
YEAR ONE DOLLAR
Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY
[illegible]
MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO Hon. G. W. Allan, President.
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.
Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director
The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.
Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.
School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.
[illegible]

R·I·P·A·N·S
There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of RIPANS Tabules. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
A REMEDY FOR [illegible]
superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. [illegible] post free for $1.50 from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria, British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

Advertise in The Times.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray
JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON,
Send to JOHN DICKS for a catalogue of Cheap Literature, Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.
The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.
Demy Octavo, 324 pages, and all the original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")
Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of
Dombey and Son.
Demy 8vo, 327 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.") This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.
David Copperfield.
Demy Octavo, 328 pages.
Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.
Bleak House.
Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.
FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE
An Illustrated Edition of
The History of Henry Esmond
Demy 8vo., 166 pages.
Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and coloured wrapper. Price Sixpence. 16 Illustrations.
The History of Pendennis
FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.
Complete and Unabridged, contains 367 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.
Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.
"Vanity Fair.
Containing 332 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tailpieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials.

Business Men
If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us
DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.
Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.
Times Printing Co.
Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
of
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED
They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES
Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, says the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips, cheeks or hands as
CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM
It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The
Hutchings Medicine Co
105 YONGE ST., TORONTO

King Edward VII. Notepaper,
is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.
IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."
Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.
THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

BIG G
CURE YOURSELF!
Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous.
Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles $2.75. Circular sent on request.

Lead and
Small Block Tin Pipe
WILLIAM STREET, TORONTO.

VARICOCELE

I guarantee my Latest Method Treatment to be a permanent and positive cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without cutting, stretching or loss of time. In Varicocele it absorbs the bagging, or wormy condition, equalizes circulation, stops pains in the groins, also all drains, thereby giving the organs their proper nutrition, vitalizes the parts and restores lost powers; in Stricture it absorbs the [illegible] tissue, stops smarting sensation, nervousness, weakness, backache, etc., while in all prostatic troubles it is the treatment par excellence. So positive am I that my treatment will cure you, you can

PAY WHEN CURED

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. This should convince you that I have confidence in my Latest Method Treatment, otherwise I could not make you this proposition. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, call or write me.

Each Time You Call You See Me Personally,

Or each time you write it receives my personal attention. The number of years I am established in Detroit, and the cures I accomplished after given up by other doctors, has placed me as the foremost specialist of the country. CONSULTATION FREE. Call or write for blank for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. All medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor, Ont. All duty and express charges prepaid. Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., COR. WILCOX ST. DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

E. H. GAY & CO
BANKERS.

Detroit United Railway
First Cons'd Mtge. Gold
4½% 1932 BONDS
AT A DISCOUNT.
Send for particulars.
157 ST. JAMES ST., MONTREAL
Telephone Main 1907.

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH
General Banking Business Transacted.
SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT
Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.
Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets
JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal
(Established 1817.)
HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL
Capital (all paid up)......$12,000,000
Reserved Fund......6,000,000
Undivided Profits......[illegible]
General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.
Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.
W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO
SAVINGS & LOAN
COMPANY

Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend for the three months ending 30th June, 1902, being at the rate of

6 PER CENT.

per annum, has this day been declared upon the capital stock of this institution, and that the same will be payable at the offices of the company, Peterborough, Ontario, on and after

Wednesday, the 2nd day of July next.

The transfer books will be closed from the 17th to the 30th of June both days inclusive.
By order of the board.
W. G. MORROW, Manager
Peterboro, 6th June, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT
STRATTON & HALL
BARRISTERS
OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

JOHN STARK & CO.
26 TORONTO ST. TORONTO.
Stocks Bought and Sold
ON TORONTO, MONTREAL AND NEW YORK EXCHANGES
Correspondence Invited.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 324 Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 415 Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck, R. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. D. W. Hatton, C. E. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 324 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo. A. FRY 324 Park place

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOsite roof—better than metal; will not rust or other cements. Daniel Allen, 16 Toronto Toronto

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co. Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 381 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No. 382 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

WANTED—A house of 7 or 8 rooms with all modern conveniences. State location and rent wanted. Address P. O. Box No 21 town

THE COUNTY COUNCIL

COUNTY COUNCIL CONCLUDED THEIR SESSION ON SATURDAY

Committee Reports were Presented and Adopted — Finance Recommendations—County Rate Fixed

The County Council held its concluding session Saturday morning, when Warden Eastland presided and the members were present.

The work which had been done in committee was represented in the several reports which were presented.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

COUNTY PROPERTY.

Mr. Peck, Chairman, presented the following report of the Property Committee as follows:

Your Committee on County Property beg leave to report as follows:

1. Your Committee recommend that the county engineer prepare plans of the proposed alterations in the Registry Office and submit them at the next sittings of this council.

2. Your Committee recommend that the matter of securing registration fyles for the County Clerk's office be left in the hands of the Warden and this committee with power to act.

3. Your committee recommend that the matter of heating and repairing the office of the county clerk be left in the hands of the County Engineer, Mr. E. A. Peck, chairman of this committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

E. A. PECK,
Chairman.,

The report was adopted.

EQUALIZATION AND ASSESSMENT

The Committee on Equalization and Assessment, through Mr. Casement reported as follows:

The Committee on Equalization and Assessment beg leave to report as follows:

1. Your Committee recommend that all the municipalities comprising the County of Peterborough be assessed for the purpose of county rates at the values set forth in the schedule hereto annexed, and that such valuation shall be the equalized assessment for County purposes for the year 1902.

2. Your committee recommend that this Council determine that this Council is willing to have the final equalization of assessment, in case of appeal, made by the County Judge.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. H. CASEMENT,
Chairman.,

Dr. Jeffs moved, seconded by Mr. Pearce that this report be adopted.

Mr. Fitzgerald moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Costello, that the report be referred back to the committee and North Monaghan's assessment [illegible] as it was last year.

The amendment was voted on and lost.

Mr. Casement, before the motion was voted on, moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Crowe, that the report be refered back to the Committee with instructions to reduce Douro's assessment by $25,000. Mr. Casement supported his motion, pointing out that Douro had had its assessment increased by $51,000 and this amendment proposed to reduce this increase by half.

This amendment was also lost and the report was adopted. Messrs. Anderson, Peck, Jeffs, Pearce and Shaw voting for it.

THE FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Pearce, chairman, reported for the Finance Committee as follows:

The Committee of Finance beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That the following accounts be paid:

B. Shortly	$3 75
R. H. Leary	4 00
Alexander & Miller	1 00
Joseph Moloney	1 50
Duncan & Douge	1 00
R. Hamilton	8 25
H. S. McDonald	40
Geo. Keefer	4 50
Lakefield News	19 25
Bell Telephone Co., 3 accts.	25 25
H. Cajoun	5 00
Havelock Standard, when certified	16 00
Peterboro Review, 2 accts.	55 25
Victoria Industrial School, re Colby	26 00
James McCracken	53 25
John Smith	12 75
Messrs, Boyd, & Co.	16 00
James A. Fife	5 00
Peterborough Hardware Co.	1 15
Robt. Fair & Co.	1 00
P. Connal & Co.	1 25
Adam Hall, 2 accounts	6 00
J. E. A. Fitzgerald	10 50
Peterborough Light and Power Co, 3 accounts	172 00
Peterborough Hardware Co., when certified	22 15
W. Doidge	3 00
J. E. Belcher, 2 accounts	57 00

Your Committee recommend that a special grant of $25 each be given to the East and West Peterborough Farmer's Institutes, as soon as the County Treasurer is satisfied that such Institutes have complied with Government regulations.

Your committee recommend that the payment set forth in the memorandum hereto attached of accounts and monies amounting to $342 65 be paid by the treasurer on the authority of the Warden or under contract duly entered into be confirmed.

Your committee recommend that the sum of $25 be paid to each member of the South African contingent, resident in this county, who enlisted for duty, and who have not yet been paid. In case of any member enlisting and serving a second term, he shall be entitled to a second payment of $25.

Your committee recommend that a special grant be given to each of the East Riding and West Riding Agricultural Societies.

Your committee recommend that with respect to advertising the settlement and colonization of the northern parts of this county, the local municipalities interested submit to this Council the suggestions and plans which they would recommend the matter.

Your committee recommend that the rate for 1902 to be [illegible] devied on the whole rateable property within the jurisdiction of this council sufficient to pay all valid debts of the corporation whether of principle or interest, falling due within the year shall be fixed at 2 2.5 mills on the dollar.

Your Committee recommend that the County Police Magistrate be paid for rent and reasonable necessary travelling expenses the sum of $100 each year, and that he be allowed at the rate of $125 per year exclusive of rent for the time now in arrears.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. B. PEARCE.
Chairman.,

On motion the report was adopted.

The remainder of the report of the proceedings is held over until Tuesday.

◆

Lazy Livers and Sluggish Kidneys

When these organs fail to perform their proper functions, the blood becomes poisoned and suffering and disease commence. This can be avoided by keeping your vitality at high-water mark, the blood rich and pure by taking one Ferrozone tablet after each meal.

Ferrozone has a mild but rapid action on the liver and kidneys, and is certainly the greatest producer of red, vitalizing blood known to science. Morning tiredness, Langour, Dizziness, Pain in the back and Sick Headache disappear at once when Ferrozone is used. Get it today. Price 50c at Druggists or Ormond & Walsh.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Biliousness.

SPORTING NEWS
Taylor

SPORTING NEWS

LACROSSE.

St Catharines beat the Tecumsehs at the Island on Saturday by a score of 7 to 3.

Brantford defeated Orangeville on Saturday by a score of 11 to 2.

London defeated Stratford at London on Saturday by a score of 15 to 3.

At a meeting of the C.L.A. Executive in Toronto Myles McDonough was reinstated, which action will enable him to figure on the Port Hope team on July 1st, when Oshawa plays in that town.

The next City League game will probably take place on Wednesday evening notwithstanding the fact of the following day being a public holiday.

BOWLING.

The games scheduled for this evening are as appended:

H. Armstrong, vs. W. Salisbury.
F. H. Dixon, vs. H. Rush.
M. Green vs. J. M. Brooks.
Dr. McClelland vs. C. N. Brown.

Each skip is requested to have his men on hand by 7.15 o'clock sharp.

The schedule has been issued in book form and may be secured on application to the Secretary-Treasurer, to whom dues may also be paid.

GOLF.

The Golf Colts have been invited to Sturgeon Point to play the Lindsay club on Coronation Day. About a dozen members are expected to go over. The return match will probably be played here on July 1st.

BASEBALL.

Newark won from Toronto on Saturday by 10 to 3.

CRICKET.

Lindsay defeated the Colts cricket team on Saturday.

THE RING.

Special to The Times.

London, June 22.—The fistic programme arranged for tonight is the most notable in the series of coronation bouts and as a consequence there promises to be a crowded house at the National Sporting Club. The wind-up will be furnished by two Americans—Tommy West, formerly of Australia, and Joe Walcott, the Barbados black. Though neither fighter is as good as he once was, they are still recognized as clever boxers with considerable steam in them and are expected to put up a contest well worth seeing. In the preliminary "Kid" McFadden of San Francisco and Ben Jordan will go fifteen rounds and it is possible that their bout will be the most interesting of the evening. Since coming to this country McFadden has knocked out Jem Williams, the bantam champion, and other prominent fighters in his class and has consequently become a great favorite. All of the fighters appear to be in good condition.

WHIST.

Special to The Times.

New York, June 22.—The twelfth annual congress of the American Whist League began here today at the Oriental Hotel Manhattan Beach, with more than 300 delegates in attendance. Boston, Chicago, Detroit and Baltimore are the cities most numerously represented, but every city of the east and middle west has whist enthusiasts present and there are many from the south. California is also in evidence, despite its distance. The playing this year is for the Hamilton Cup Trophy, the American Whist League Challenge Trophy, the Minneapolis Pair Trophy, the Brooklyn Trophy, the Associate Members' Trophy, and the Milwaukee Mixed Four Trophy. Additional prizes of value are also offered.

The business meetings of the league, which begin tomorrow, promise to be of more than ordinary interest owing to the movement set on foot some time ago looking to a secession of the western clubs and the formation of a new association. A majority of the members appear to oppose the movement, and steps probably will be taken to prevent its coming to a head.

◆

JUBILEE POINT HOTEL

This Popular Resort Crowded With Visitors—Good Fishing

On Saturday Mr. Dan Foley, Manager of the Jubilee Point Summer Hotel, was in town, and reports things booming at that popular resort. The house is nearly full and applications are coming in every day for accommodation. The following guests were registered last week: Mr. Barry, Guelph; John Roswell, Toronto; Miss May McGee, Norwood; Miss Maggie Richardson, Miss Nellie Preston, Wm. Preston and Bert Preston, Hastings; Geo. Chalmers, Mr. Talbot and A. Talbot, Mr. Crossley, R. Armstrong, T. Desetaul, W. Creamer, Mrs. Neil and son Percy, Peterborough.

—Several fine maskinonge have been caught by the guests of the hotel on Saturday.

—There is an excursion to Jubilee Point from some direction almost every day.

—Mr. Dan Foley is in need of a good cook and a dining room girl. Wages from $10 to $20 per month.

—A large number of American visitors have been booked for July and August.

—The Times is eagerly looked for every morning by the guests of the hotel.

◆

Queen's Servants Ill

Special to The Times.

The Hague, June 22—Miss Van Ostersee, the queen's reader, and a half dozen other of her personal servants, are down with typhus, their illness, like the queen's, being charged to the unhealthy condition of Castle Het Loo.

The latter is now being thoroughly overhauled, new plumbing and a different water supply being put in.

◆

Prevented a Lynching

Special to The Times.

Vincennes, Ind., June 22—The lack of leadership is all that saved William Edson from lynching early this morning. It was almost 3 o'clock when the mob that surrounded the jail all night, dispersed. They had street car rails with which to batter down the doors of the jail. A local company of militia, on orders from the governor, today took up the duty of guarding the man accused of assaulting little Irma Pfohl. Edson's trial begins tomorrow and the sheriff is apprehensive of the outcome of the trip from the jail to the courthouse with his prisoner.

OZONE
FOR WOMEN'S ILLS.

Powleys Liquified Ozone is the greatest curative agent in troubles peculiar to women, that scientists have ever known, and so much safer and pleasanter than drugs. Many Canadian women have escaped the dreaded knife. Others made well after hospital treatment failed, through the use of OZONE.—Prove it by writing to the following Toronto women.

Mrs. Harry Mason, 23 Blackburn Place
Mrs. Kells, 561 Church St.
Mrs. Harry White, 327 Young St.
Mrs. Cavan, 988 Dovercourt Rd.
Mrs. J. Caldwell, 40 Bond St.
Mrs. Blach, 13 Irvine Aue.
Mrs. Joseph Blackburn, 11 Northview Terrace.

Write for special book on Women's diseases.

THE OZONE CO.
TORONTO

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world. Well written, original stories. Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year
Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

KIDNAPPED BY MISTAKE

Queer Theory in the Mary Murphy Case—Mrs. Gibbs Tells of Threats Made

Special to The Times.

Buffalo, June 22—An interesting rumor was abroad yesterday in connection with the disappearance of six-year-old Mary Murphy from the home of her parents at 257 West avenue. It was suggested that the girl had been kidnapped in mistake for the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Gibbs, who board at the corner of West avenue and Pennsylvania street, near the Murphy home.

Mrs. Gibbs is a sister of Alonzo J. Whiteman, who is about the cleverest bank-swindler, forger and all-round crook in America, who has been arrested more than twenty times and who was released on parole in Boston last October. Mrs. Gibbs has supplied money to Whiteman several times when he has been in trouble with the police, always against the wishes of her husband, she says, and because blood is thicker than water.

Within the last year Whiteman is said to have made frequent demands for more money, and to have threatened Mrs. Gibbs when he recently failed to get it.

Mr. Gibbs is the son of a wealthy stove manufacturer of Newark, N. J., who died several years ago. He is not engaged in business at present and he and Mrs. Gibbs have been abroad most of the last three years. They came to Buffalo from Detroit a week ago, and previously had spent some weeks in Minneapolis. The couple have two children, a boy and a girl. The daughter, Aileen, is about the same age as Mary Murphy, and the clothing of the little girls was similar in color. The resemblance ended there, however, for while Mary Murphy is very fair, Aileen Gibbs is of a remarkably dark complexion. Mary Murphy and Aileen Gibbs became friends soon after the Gibbs family went to the Pennsylvania street boarding house, and played together on several occasions.

On Wednesday morning, when it became generally known that the little Murphy girl was missing, a rumor got around in the neighborhood of the Murphy home that she had been kidnapped in mistake for Aileen Gibbs. How this rumor started is not known. Murphy heard it but considered at the time that his daughter had wandered away and was being cared for by some one who would return her before long.

◆

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE

No Cure, No Pay,' is the Newest Proposal of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills

Editor Morning Times

Sir,—We make the following proposal: one who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, as enumerated below, and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being supplied us to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit $10 for

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
10 King Street West, TORONTO

CORPORATION OFFICERS

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T. A. S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

Foot Elm.

This is the original and reliable remedy for feet that are blistered, hot, feverish, sweaty, tired, aching, etc.

It gives immediate relief.

It preserves the leather

It is the cheapest because the best.

All honest druggists sell it. If any man offers you a substitute for the sake of making a little extra profit out of you, write us about it, giving the name. We will send you the name of some honest dealer in your vicinity who will give you what you ask for.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING
—AND—
MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 23 1902

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—Saturday was the longest day of the year.

—The 57th Regiment will drill this evening and tomorrow evening.

—The police magistrate disposed of a number of dog tax cases on Saturday.

—The Toronto Star says that a Peterborough Old Boys' Association is being formed in that city.

—The steamer Water Lily brought in a large party of excursionists from Keene on Saturday.

—A beautiful parlor organ, five octaves and eleven stops, for sale for $37.50 It is brand new and cost $100. Apply at Times Bookstore.

—The Stanley Piano Company on Saturday shipped a handsome upright piano to Miss Legros, music teacher, at St. Jean Joliet, Quebec.

—As a result of the heavy rain on Saturday there was only a small market and high prices prevailed. Merchants who had arranged for a big day's business were somewhat disappointed.

—A. W. Elmhirst, son of Mr. Elmhirst of Asphodel, saved a boy from drowning at Watertown the other day, and after rescuing him from the water, worked with him until he became conscious.

—Those wishing to secure Chinese lanterns and fire crackers for Coronation Day will find large variation at The Times Bookstore. The Young Canada cannon firecracker just in is something entirely new.

—And now it is No. 4 Dam that is in trouble. Two applications for this valuable water power have already been made—one by the Cereal Company and one by Mr. R. R. Hall. The town should get the dam.

—Among the many handsome floral designs that were donated to the Oddfellows for Decoration Day, were contributions from Miss Chamberlen, Mrs. Cooney and Mr. Walter Hooper. They were sent to Mr. Harry Long's, where the Oddfellows received them.

—On Friday last the Chief received a message from Port Hope, to be on the lookout for a stolen horse and vehicle. A slight description of the rig was given and Chief Roszel located the same at the Southern Hotel. He arrested the man alleged to have stolen the outfit, but he proved to be the wrong individual, and he was allowed to go. The owner of the horse and buggy came up from Port Hope on Saturday and took charge of his property.

STEAMER MAJESTIC

The Steamer Majestic will connect with the G.T.R. for Stony Lake on Thursday the 19th and Saturday the 21st, leaving Lakefield on arrival of the Morning train and Returning in time to Connect with the evening train

Fishing is "Immense."

The fishing at Chemong Park this year is phenomenally good. The Kelly-Kondoff party have had great luck, each member having caught the limit every day On Friday Mr. Kondoff hooked a 24 pound 'lunge—the largest fish caught this season in the Kawartha Lakes.

The Street Railway

Mr. Thos. Campbell, of the Peterborough street railway, arrived in town on Saturday from Detroit. Negotiations looking towards the commencement of active operations are still in progress. At present there is nothing new to report.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE.—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Mr. T. Blezard, ex-M.P.P., was in town Saturday.

—Mrs. Geo. H. Brown, Chemong Park Hotel, was in town on Saturday.

—Mr. Wm. Christie, formerly of Asphodel, expert machinist, is now in the employ of the Cereal Works Co., His many friends wish him all kinds of success

—Mr. Burbidge, circulation manager of The Times, returned on Saturday from Lakefield, where he took a large number of subscriptions to the paper. Everybody reads The Times.

—Mr. Dan. Foley, the popular manager of the Jubilee Point summer hotel, dropped in to see The Times in Saturday.

Rev. Father Kelity, of Douro, was in town on Saturday.

Miss Lila Bell McMahon, of town, was bridesmaid at the wedding in Cobourg on Wednesday of Miss Lillian McMahon to Mr. Edward Henneay, all of Cobourg.

The Late John Greer

Millbrook Reporter:— The death of John Greer, of Bailieboro, removes one of Cavan's oldest and most respected residents. Deceased came to Cavan over fifty years ago and as carpenter and farmer was known far and wide as an energetic and upright citizen. He has been unwell some time, but a stroke a few weeks ago terminated his life. A large family are left to mourn his loss; James and John in Monaghan, others in Manitoba and daughters at home. The funeral took place on Tuesday to the Presbyterian cemetery, Centreville, of which church he had been an active supporter.

A Wonderful Tonic and Strengther

Said a druggist today, "No doubt about it, the tonic that gives the best results is the biggest seller, and that is Ferrozone. It enriches and purifies the blood, restores strength and energy to the feeble, and is a scientific reconstructor that was always popular. In Chlorosis, Anaemia, Tiredness, Langour Brain Fag, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, its action is prompt, and satisfactory cures always follow. Yes, I recommend Ferrozone to my customers, because I believe it is the best tonic and strengthening medicine money can buy. Large bottles cost 50c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Secret Meetings Not Popular

Daily Star: Some Toronto Aldermen urged secret sessions of committees, and it was decided to let the Board of Control experiment. A little over a month was sufficient to convince the advocates of secrecy that it would "never do.". They discovered that in the month members of the Board were overlooked by the newspapers, and in consequence the people heard nothing about what the aldermen were doing. Now it has been to go back to the old form and open meetings will be held in the future.

Of Interest to Military Men

Lieut.-Col. Cook v. Lieut.-Col. Cole just decided in Montreal, is of interest to militiamen everywhere, as showing the difference in the legal standing of regulars and militiamen. Off duty or parade the latter are private citizens and as such have the rights and liabilities of private citizens only and are not subject to the stringent regulations of the regular soldiery. The law is the same regarding the rights of a superior over an inferior officer, since all are private citizens off parade. It is evidently the D. O. C. who alone is on duty at all times and to whom belongs the right of changing by an order at any time the private citizen into an active militiaman. Lt.-Col. Cole, the defendant, had been made the subject of arrest. The review of the law is interesting and instructive.

The Bonus Evil

The system of granting bonuses is becoming more and more unpopular every day, and of late has placed many towns in a very bad shape. "Writing upon this subject the Kingston Daily News says it is becoming unpopular throughout Canada. Municipalities are realizing that it is not profitable to burden themselves with taxes in order that industries may be equipped and started. The News adds: Towns and cities would be more prosperous with industries employing large staffs of men, than without them provided they did not have to pay large bonuses for them. It is all right, by way of encouragement, to give promoters of factories free sites and exemption from taxes, but to go further and add on cash bonuses is nothing less than reckless expenditure of public funds. Kingston has given away large sums of money in bonuses and received little in return. It is safe to say that the ratepayers will not in future be induced to vote for bonuses, no matter how urgent that demand.

Health - Giving Malt

Is Found Only in
Malt Breakfast Food

The Health Food That Keeps Young and Old Strong Happy

Health-giving Malt is found only in Malt Breakfast Food. The scientific combination of the choicest wheat and the purest Malt produces a food that the most eminent physicians recognize as a perfect health breakfast food. Malt Breakfast Food is fast displacing oatmeal and other starchy grain foods. Try a package. Your Grocer has it.

THE 57TH REGIMENT

The Corps to be Increased by Addition of Two Companies

The 57th Regiment, which heretofore consisted of 277 officers and men, has been increased to 21 officers, 30 staff sergeants, 300 rank and fyle.

The above changes will mean an addition to the 57th Regiment of two more companies and officers therefor, 90 of all ranks, making the total 387.

SICHE GAS ON STONY LAKE.

Mr. Sims, Manager of the Siche Gas Company, on Thursday last lit up the first plant put in on Stoney Lake. The pipe, machine, etc., arrived by the boat at half past four Wednesday and the job was completed, and the cottage lit up by the following evening. This is better time than the Siche Co. ever made in Muskoka, where so many Siche plants are in use by summer hotels and cottages. Mr. Sims says about four more plants will go in on Stony Lake before the middle of July, and probably one or two at Lakefield. Persons interested may at any time see the plant in operation on Eaglemount Island if they row over (about fifteen minutes row from the "Victoria" at McCracken's or Viamede at Mount Julien).

The Times Letter Box

Letters from the People on Interesting and Timely Topics.

THE FARMER'S PICNIC

Editor Morning Times.

Sir.—I was surprised this morning when told that some of the excursionists who were down at Jubilee Point on the 13th inst., attending the Farmers' Picnic had been making complaints about the arrangements and treatment and service they received from the management Now, as one who was there, and would be about the first to hear complaints if there was any cause. I heard noting but commendation of the treatment received by visitors, the speakers, and committee at the hands of a popular manager at the Point, Mr. Dan Foley Our three local papers were all represented also the Norwood Register and the Farmer's Sun, and they all made complimentary references in their report, on the same lines, and I feel it a duty to repute any such reports as those that are calculated to injure any of our fellow citizen Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain, yours,

WM COLLINS,
Secty Committee.

Peterborough, June 21st, 1902.
Examiner and Review please copy.

Pleasant Cure For Weak Lungs

The best remedy for sore, weak lungs, is the soothing vapor of Catarrhozone, which traverses every air cell and passage of the breathing organs. It treats remote parts that cough mixtures and sprays can't approach and kills thousands of germs at every breath. Catarrhozone drives away pain, congestion and inflammation; it makes breathing easy and regular, and exerts a marvelous influence over Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Catarrhozone cures at once, is delightful to inhale, and simple to use. Price $1.00; small size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Constipation.

I.O.O.F. NOTES

Arrangements have been made to instal the officers in Peterborough District No. 24, I.O.O.F early in July. Bro M W. Matchett, D.D., G.M., will be the installing officer assisted by the other members of the District Committee.

Installation at Norwood will be on Wednesday, July 2nd.

On Friday, July 4th, there will be public installation at Pontypool and on Friday, July 11th, the officers of Havelock will be publicly installed.

There will be a joint installation at Peterborough on Monday, July 14th of the officers of Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges. After this installation the District Committee will meet to wind up the business of the year.

Mr. W. D. Jewett has been nominated as the next D.D.G.M. his duties to begin after the next meeting of the Grand Lodge in August next, at Toronto.

Bros. Tully and Rutherford will represent Otonabee Lodge at Grand Lodge. The representatives of Peterborough Lodge will be Bros. Matchett, Wallis and Brownlee.

ENNISMORE WEDDING

Nuptials of Miss Kate Guiry and Mr William Crough

On Wednesday last a very pretty wedding was solemnized by Father Fitzpatrick, in St. Martin's church, Ennismore. The contracting parties were Mr. William Crough and Miss Kate Guiry, daughter of Mr. Daniel Guiry.

The bride, who was most becomingly attired, was attended by her sister, Miss Teresa Guiry, and Mr. Timothy Crough performed a similar office for the groom. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the wedding party was addressed by Rev. Father Rijn, who is conducting a mission at St. Martin's, on conjugal felicity.

The party then drove to the residence of the bride's father, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was partaken of by the guests who numbered about sixty

The Times tenders its best wishes for a long, happy and useful life to this popular young couple.

SPLENDID MUSIC

By One Of the Oldest Military Bands Coming With the Circus

Under the direction of Mr. Wm. N. Merrick for twenty-six consecutive years the superb military band of the Sells Brothers Show has attained a distinction quite unique among such organizations. When the Sells Brothers Show was consolidated with the Adam Forepaugh Show the band was augmented by several of the best musicians of the Forepaugh band. This makes the largest musical organization ever carried with a tenting exhibition. Their long training under the skilful baton of Director Merrick has brought their precision down to mechanical accuracy and their expression a correct reflex of the director's feeling and interpretation of the composer's ideas. It gives a series of promenade concerts for an hour before each performance in the arena that may be perfectly heard in all parts of the menagerie as well as in the arena, which makes the time spent at these shows pass pleasantly and profitably. This magnificent military band may be heard when these great shows exhibit here on Tuesday, July 8.

Is Now Deputy Judge

We congratulate Mr. George Edmison, K.C., on his appointment to the position Deputy Judge during the absence of His Honor Judge Weller. Mr. Edmison's promotion as acting judge will be received with favor by the legal profession and the people of Peterborough town and county generally.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH
Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25,$1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75, for..$1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00, for........1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS ! STRAW HATS !

Plain Straw Hat.............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c,$1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITE Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1883.

Address A. E. Wilber's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

Situations Wanted.

COOK—Good Cook wants a place. Address care of Times office.

SERVANT GIRL—experienced—is open for engagement after July 4th. Wages required, $8 per month. Was 3 years in last place. References. Apply at Times Bookstore

HOUSEMAID—Capable girl requires situation as housemaid or dining room help, 12 good plain cook. Margaret Wallis, care Box 100.

TWO ENGLISH GIRLS, just over, would like good places in respectable houses. Apply care of Times office.

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $10 to $30 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 44 and 60 Broadway, New York.

ACTIVE SOLICITOR WANTED. The war is over. Agents clearing $8.00 to $15.00 daily with "Pictorial History of Our War in South Africa." Highest endorsements. Everybody wants it. Contains thrilling history of the brave deeds of our boys in the war, and complete history of the war and the country. 600 pages 8x10. Only $1.50. Freight and duty paid Outfit free. COLONIAL PUBLISHING CO., Dept. 2, Chicago.

GIRL WANTED at once to learn book binding. Apply at the Times Bookstore, George Street.

DINING ROOM GIRL and good cook wanted. Apply to D. FOLEY, care H. Calcutt, Ashburnham. Wages from $10 to $20 per month.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE, Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. commercial rooms.

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterboro ,Ont

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

288 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 188, 195 and 215, day or night.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY
COAL; GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

DIAMOND STEEL BEAR

GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON
31 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

READ THIS.

READ THIS, $700.00 in Bank will yield you $21.00 per year, we can give you better security and a return of over $71.00 per year for same money.

See words in our office window for other profitable investments.

Choice building Lots, Houses and Lots, Gardens and farms for sale.

T. HURLEY & CO.
Near Post Office
Phone, 226, Ground Floor

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CORONATION DAY
JUNE 26TH.
DOMINION DAY
JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y. Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

GOOD GOING JUNE 26th AND 28th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also GOOD GOING JUNE 30th AND JULY 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

GOOD GOING JUNE 25th to JULY 1st, inclusive, valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from
W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"
Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26
DOMINION DAY

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3.

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y., Black Rock, N.Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 147
PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO TUESDAY JUNE 24 1902
PRICE TWO CENTS

HAS KING EDWARD HAD A STROKE? A SLIGHT ATTACK OF PARALYSIS

The Statement Made by One Close to the King but Subsequently Denied

A SLIGHT PARALYSIS OF THE LEFT SIDE.

London Press Ignores the Alarming Rumors and Prints Reassuring Statements as to the King's Condition.

Special to The Times.

London, June 23.—If it were not for the sensational reports about the King's health, London would look forward to next week's festivities with the most jubilant anticipations. The sinister rumours find little or no credence and they serve merely to throw a slight shadow on the spirit of popular rejoicing, which has already taken possession of the metropolis.

A Circumstantial Statement.

It is inevitable that the indisposition of King Edward during the past week should give rise to sensational rumours as to his condition. The most circumstantial of these is the following, the authority for which is named as being "a personage in attendance on his Majesty."

"For months past the health of the King has been far from good, and the strain imposed by the preparations for the coronation culminated a week ago in a nervous breakdown. This was followed on Tuesday last by a stroke of paralysis.

"On Saturday last the King, against the advice of Dr. Laking, declared himself to be able, and attended the military review at Aldershot. During that afternoon his Majesty complained of a headache and of weariness, but he refused to retire. Later in the evening a serious collapse, mental and physical occurred.

Paralysis of the Left Side.

On Sunday the King remained in bed and on Monday he had so far recovered that he was able to be taken to Windsor reclining upon an improvised couch in a closed carriage. The medical attendants felt considerable anxiety on account of the twitching of the muscles of the face. This symptom continued on Tuesday morning and was followed afternoon by a slight stroke of paralysis in the left side.

Further complications have been avoided thus far. The King takes daily drives in a closed carriage, and the present opinion of his advisers is that it will be possible for him to undergo the coronation ceremony on Thursday next.

"The death of the King of Saxony was seized upon as a welcome excuse for cancelling the State Ball last night and the King will remain in absolute retirement until next Thursday."

Growth of the Alarmist Reports.

The first alarmist reports gained circulation on Monday. They were met by a prompt denial from his attendants, it was nothing new or startling to hear stories of this nature, for similar rumors have gained currency several times within a few months. At one time it was confidently asserted that he was suffering from a cancerous affection of the throat when he really was afflicted with no serious ailment.

On Thursday ominous rumors connected with his present illness were revived, one version being that he was suffering from Bright's disease. It was not until today that the above statement gained a limited circulation, but it is the main topic of conversation in the West End clubs tonight.

Author of the Statement Affirms Its Truth.

A Sun reporter traced it to its source, this being a person intimately associated with the King. In reply to questions this individual affirmed the absolute truth of his statement.

In view of an emphatic official denial, however, it would be better to receive the story with considerable incredulity.

Not Necessarily Dangerous.

With regard to certain details of the story it may be stated that this is not the first time that King Edward has suffered from a nervous affection causing a twitching of the muscles of the face. It should also be noted that a slight attack of paralysis does not necessarily imply any serious danger.

Sir Thomas Barlow, who is attending the King in consultation with Sir Francis Laking, is the greatest English specialist of paralytic affections. It was he who was called to Osborne when Queen Victoria's illness assumed this phase.

It is well known that the King, although under a great strain of work for many weeks, has enjoyed heartily many functions that he has attended, especially public amusements, where he has always appeared in the best of spirits. It is only within a fortnight that he has shown obvious signs of fatigue.

King Nervous About a Prophecy

It is said of him that he is sufficiently superstitious to be nervous about somebody's prophecy that he would reign but never be crowned. In spite of the prophecy and even considering the worst version of the present condition of his health now current, it is reasonable to conclude that the premium of 10 per cent. demanded early in the week on policies insuring the coronation within a month was far far too high.

The afternoon newspapers state that after the coronation King Edward will cruise in his yacht, it being the opinion of his physicians that he will need further rest and change after the fatigue of the functions which he must attend during the next fortnight.

Reassuring Statements in London.

It is significant of the unanimous loyalty of the British press that not a word of the more serious reports of the King's health has been thus far published. No Medical bulletin has been issued regarding his illness. Such widespread and important interests are involved that an alarming announcement would cause consternation, that would have disastrous consequences in some directions. The public receives such statements as the following, which will be published tomorrow:—

"The King has so far recovered from his recent indisposition that it is felt at Windsor Castle that there is no need of further official intimations as to his Majesty's health. The Bishop of Winchester was invited to the Castle this afternoon. On leaving he said that the King was well. It is ascertained from other sources that the week's rest has done his Majesty a great deal of good, and he would have been quite able to visit Eton in the afternoon had the function not been postponed. The King went driving in a closed carriage at 5 o'clock in the private grounds of the castle. According to present arrangements the King and court will leave Windsor on Monday for Buckingham Palace."

Denial from King's Secretary.

The anticipated official denial of the King's illness has been promptly forthcoming. Sir Francis Knolly, the King's private secretary, has telegraphed the following in reply to an inquiry:

"Windsor Castle, June 23, 4.15 p.m.

"If you like to contradict such a ridiculous report you can, of course, do so. I need hardly say there is not a word of truth in it."

The Day of Miracles Not Past

A Toronto Star reporter investigated the case of Mr. George Warner, and found that after thirteen years of almost total deafness, he had been cured by inhaling Catarrhozone.

This proves that where Catarrhozone treatment is employed, impaired hearing and deafness can be cured. Catarrhozone always brings quick relief, and is warranted to give lasting satisfaction. All sufferers from impaired hearing, deafness, head noises and ringing in the ears are advised to inhale Catarrhozone and derive the great benefit it is capable of affording. Price $1.00, small size 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

SOME STIRRING TIMES AHEAD IN IRELAND

The Government to Go After The Land League

WRITS OUT FOR LEADERS.

Drastic Measures About to be Adopted Against Irish Agitation

Now That the Boer War is Over Measures will be Taken to Put a Stop to Irish Troubles

Special to The Times.

London, June 24—Now that the Boer war is over, it is believed that the government will punish the Irish agitators, who are stirring up strife in that unhappy land. Writs have been issued from the Vice-Chancellor's Court in Dublin to restrain John Redmond and twenty-nine of his colleagues from pursuing the land agitation in Connaught and for damages for alleged injury done to Lord de Freyne by the United Irish League.

De Freyne is the nominal plaintiff, but it is a Government scheme advised by the Attorney-General.

This proceeding has caused a big sensation both here and in Ireland.

John Redmond, M.P., the Chairman of the Irish party, gave the World correspondent the following statement in explanation of this suit:

"Chief Secretary Wyndham having funked in suppressing the United Irish League in the ordinary way, now hopes to do it through the instrumentality of a notorious partisan judge. He has caused a suit for damages and for an injunction to restrain members of the Governing body of the League to be brought in the Vice-Chancellor's Court, a proceeding without a precedent. This judge, the willing instrument of the landlord party, will issue the injunction demanded. Then when any enjoined Irish member makes a speech he will have the member up for contempt of court, put him in jail without trial for an indefinite period and without appeal. He will also, under the law of contempt as it exists in Ireland, seize the papers and documents of the League, attach its funds and the private funds of the enjoined members.

"This is by far the most formidable step against this movement the Government has taken in Ireland for many years, and the most cowardly. It means a national movement and that Dublin Castle is once more in death grips. If it should succeed, it would end in the personal ruin and imprisonment of all the leaders in the movement. But that would have consequences satisfactory neither to the Government nor the landlords.

"It is evident that we are going to have stirring times for the coronation in Ireland."

AN ISSUE IN DENMARK

Opponents of the Sale Active But Weakly Supported

Copenhagen, June 24.—The opponents of the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States are again active, but they admit they are meeting with little success. The response to the appeal for funds to aid in the movement in opposition to the sale was decidedly weak. The meetings are held secretly, but beyond a few politicians, they have mostly been attended by business men interested in the proposed steamship line to the island of St. Thomas. The Government discountenances the anti-sale agitation. The Danish West Indies Treaty will be a prominent issue of the campaign preceding the elections to the Landsthing. The Premier, Dr. Deuntzer, starts on a speechmaking tour next week.

England's Slap at Louisiana

Baton Rouge, La., June 24. — Governor Heard has been notified by the British Consul at New Orleans that cattle shipped from Louisiana will not be allowed to land in South Africa.

It is believed that this action is in retaliation for Governor Heard's efforts to have the British mule shipping station at Chalmette, La., declared to be in violation of the neutrality laws.

W. J. Bryan's Protest.

Lincoln, Neb., June 24.—Kaiser Wilhelm's plan to present a statue of his great-grand father to the United States draws from William J. Bryan a decided protest. In the Commoner tomorrow the editor will say:

"It is reported that the United States has been offered a statue of Frederick the Great on condition that it be put in the national chapel. It is hardly possible that any large number of our people will be in favor of accepting such a gift, no matter how kindly they may feel toward the person offering it. The difference between a monarchy and a republic is so great that a republic can hardly afford to begin the erection of monuments to kings and emperors. We cannot afford to obliterate the difference between a government resting upon the consent of the governed and a government resting upon the divine rights of kings. The fact that the statue is offered as a gift does not change the situation. There is an old proverb that a gift is more expensive than a purchase, and it would be a costly gift to receive if our nation would have to appear before the world as friendly to monarchial ideas."

Wreck of the Maine

Washington, June 24.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Darling has written to Chairman Foss, of the House committee on Naval Affairs, approving the proposed bill providing for the raising of the wreck of the Maine, and the recovery of the bodies thought to be in the wreck.

Mr. Darling says: "The interests of the Department are in no wise affected by the proposed legislation, which appears to be designed, as far as the recovery and interment of the dead aboard the Maine are concerned, to gratify a laudable sentiment throughout the country in favor of such action, and no objection is perceived to the passage of the measure."

It has been asserted at times that the Navy Department was not desirous of having the wreck removed on account of the issues it would revive over the the cause of the wreck.

BARBER SAILS WITH HAIR OF EDWARD VII

He Cut It Off Years Ago, and Hopes the King Will Appreciate It

Washington, June 23—Louis Butlar, an aged negro, who for many years was a barber on steamboats on Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac River, sailed for England this week on the St. Louis. He carried with him a package of the hair of King Edward. He hopes to get an audience with the King.

In 1859, when the Prince of Wales was in this country, he came to Washington by the boat on which Butler was the barber. An hour or two before reaching Washington, when strolling about the boat, the then Prince noticed the barber shop. He saw that it was clean, neat, and that the barber was an intelligent negro. He thought he would have his hair trimmed and stepped into the barber shop and after a short talk with the barber had a haircut and a shampoo.

After his hair had been cut Butler, the barber, carefully took all the hair from the floor and from the apron, and placed it in a large envelope. The King asked him what he did that for. "Well," said Butler, "the hair is my perquisite and some day you'll be King of England and I would like to keep it."

The Prince of Wales made no objections, but said:

"I'd like to see this hair when I become King and compare it with the hair I then have."

Butler has lived since that day in the hope that he would be able to show King Edward his own hair. He has carefully preserved it and has saved all the money he could. A few years ago he grew so old that he could work no longer on the boat and retired. The officials of the steamboat company knew his great ambition and took steps some time ago to raise a purse for the old man to aid him to go to England with the hair. He started this week. He is seventy-five years old, but he says that some way perhaps he can get in to see the King, recall the circumstances, and present him with the hair. He has an idea that the King may do something for him.

HAS ANOTHER CHANCE

Mr. Robinette Will Appeal to Cabinet on Behalf of Rice

Special to The Times.

Ottawa, Ont., June 23—Mr. Robinette, counsel for Lee Rice, the prisoner condemned to death for murdering Constable Boyd in Toronto, will have another chance to get his appeal for clemency on behalf of the prisoner before the government. Leave has been given to Mr. Robinette to prepare a statement of the grounds on which he asks for clemency, which will be considered at a cabinet council this week. It might be a cruel thing, however, to arouse hopes on the part of the prisoner that there is any chance of the sentence of the law not being carried out.

IS PERHAPS IN CANADA

Leprous Syrian is Deported From United States to Detroit

Ottawa, June 24—Dr. Sprague, of Detroit, has sent a report to the surgeon-general of the United States Marine Hospital Service, stating that a suspected case of leprosy was encountered at Detroit on May 22 in the person of an alien immigrant from Syria.

The man gave a story of having landed at Halifax, N.S., about the middle of March, and having remained in Canada until May 20. The diagnosis was confirmed by bacteriological findings. The man was certified for deportation immediately following the first examination. The question now arises whether he is in Canada or has gone back to Syria. Dr. Montizambert, Director of Public Health, says he has no official knowledge of the case.

St. Pierre Flooded by Rains

Roseau, Island of Dominicia, June 24—The ruins of St. Pierre were visited yesterday by the Administrator of the Island of Dominica, and a party of friends, who proceeded for Martinique on the steamer Yare. Mont Pelee was in eruption, and ashes fell upon the Yare when she was passing Le Precheur. The summit of the volcano was completely obscured by clouds of steam and ashes and dense volumes of steam, apparently from small craters, rose by the seashore.

The ruins of St. Pierre presented a ghastly sight. Torrential rains had removed much of the sand and ashes, and many corpses were partly exposed. The valley of the River Roxellane has been blocked, and a portion of the river has been turned into the ruins of St. Pierre. The north end of the Island of Martinique, is gray with ashes, and the whole population appears to have left the scene of death and desolation.

It Leads and Saves

Paine's Celery Compound
DR. PHELPS'
WONDER-WORKING MEDICAL PRESCRIPTION

Paine's Celery Compound is the world's great leading medicine and life saver. It has no equal for feeding exhausted nerves; it stands first as a builder of the weak and shattered nervous system.

Paine's Celery Compound has long ago proved its power as a banisher of dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver complaint, and as a purifier of the blood. Thousands of men and women, tired out, sleepless, nervous, morose and despondent, have been given perfect health, strength and buoyancy of spirits through the well-advised use of Paine's Celery Compound. It has given a new and happy life to a vast number of people who once were tired of life and suffering.

If your health is impaired; if you are burdened with any weakening or painful malady, use Paine's Celery Compound to-day; it is specially adapted to your case; it will make you well and strong. Mr. D. Hill, Chatham, Ont., says:

"I was so seriously ill I was obliged to take to my bed, where I laid for four months. The doctors here and in Toronto said my trouble was Addison's disease of the kidneys, and told me I would never walk again. In November I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After having used a number of bottles I was enabled to attend to business, and felt like a new man. I can affirm with confidence that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life."

TORONTO STREET RAILWAY STRIKE IS OVER

Company Grant Men the Scale and will not Interfere with the Union--Result of Conference

Toronto, June 23.—The strike is settled. The terms have been agreed upon and are now being submitted to the union for ratification.

A conference is still in session between the Executive Committee of the Employes' Union and the Board of Trade conciliation Committee. The later committee, having held a conference with the officials of the Street Railway Company reported the following terms to the Employes' Executive:—

"The company will agree to the scale submitted by the men, calling for 18c. and 20c. an hour, but will not recognize a Grievance Committee. The company agree to recognize a committee of employes, by whom complaints may be made to the management.

This agreement appeared to be satisfactory to the local committee and to Mr. Dilworth, the International representative, but before it can be accepted by the men, Mr. Mahon, the International President, who is now on his way to Toronto will be asked to give consent.

The acceptance of the wage schedule of the men is claimed as a victory and the agreement of the company to recognize a committee of employes, who will, of course, be union men, is also taken as a victory, because it practically recognizes the organization of the men, the greatest factor in the present fight.

In the meantime it is understood by the men's executive that the company will not operate the cars today.

Shortly before 11 o'clock Mr. J. W. Flavelle, one of the officers of the Board of Trade Committee, called at the Iroquois Hotel, in company with Mr. Jarvis, Secretary of the Board of Trade, and waited upon Mr. Dilworth in his room. The conference was a short one and when Mr. Flavelle returned to the rotunda he was smiling and acting in a manner which gave the the impression that a satisfactory agreement had been reached between the men and the company.

Mr. Jarvis had anticipated a call of a call of a committee meeting and had a number of speedy bicycle messengr boys from the C.P.R., who were given tickets, on which was written plainly the names and addresses of the members of the Executive Committee, asking them to attend immediately a special meeting of the Board of Trade. It is understood that at this meeting the committee will prepare a report, which will be submitted to the men for ratification at the meeting in St. Andrew's Hall this afternoon.

The conference between the Board of Trade Committee and Messrs Dilworth and McDonald opened in the Board of Trade Council Chamber shortly after 11 o'clock. Messrs. Ames, Allan, Flavelle, and Secretary Jarvis representing the Board of Trade. The session was of the most secret nature, a messenger standing guard at the door.

At 12 o'clock the Board of Trade Committee left the conference and it is understood went to interview the street railway officials. In the meantime Mr. Dilworth and Mr. McDonald awaited their return. At 3.15 the committee returned and the conference was resumed.

There is a slight hitch between the two committees on the "recognition" question, the Strikers' Committee demanding complete recognition, the Board of Trade men not being willing to go that far, this being probably the temper of the railway officials in the matter. It is thought an amicable settlement, however, will be reached.

Mayor Howland stated this morning that he had given directions that the Toronto Railway be notified to resume their service, and the City Engineer had sent the notification. This will strengthen the hands of the city when it seeks to enforce its claim for the percentage of possible earnings and recover damages under the penalty clause.

After a lengthy discussion between the Board of Trade Committees and Messrs. Dilworth and McDonald, representing the Railway Men's Union, the following agreement was drawn up, which was satisfactory to the Railway Company and the union's representatives and will be submitted for ratification at the meeting this afternoon.

The agreement is practically a recognition of the union, stating in one of the clauses that the company will not object to any of its employes from joining any organization they desire.

The wage scale of 18c and 20c. an hour will go into effect on July 1.

The Committee of the Board of Trade having again intervened between the officers of the Toronto Railway Company and the committee appointed by the employes at the meeting held under the auspices of the Board of Trade, and recommended further negotiations, a meeting was held on the morning of the 23rd inst and the following comprise arrived at:—

SCALE OF WAGES.

The wage scale which has been published to and until the first of July. In the meantime the employes may hold a meeting, to be called under the auspices of the Board of Trade committee, and if the majority of the regular and relief men vote by ballot to substitute the scale of 18 cents per hour for the first year of service and 20 cents thereafter, the company will substitute it for the present scale.

GRIEVANCES.

The company will not interfere with the freedom of the railway employes to organize under any form of constitution, but the company decline to give recognition to the union or to receive a Grievance Committee from the union, but any employees who may have been suspended or dismissed or who may have any other grievance shall have the right to appeal in person to the General Manager and to bring with him such of his fellow employes or other witnesses who may have any knowledge of the facts and circumstances of the case.

The company agree that the cars shall be cleaned for the motormen and conductors every morning, but that the motormen and conductors will report fifteen minutes ahead of time as at present without additional pay, and will keep the inside and platform of their cars clean as formerly while on duty; that on Sunday the increase shall be such as to make the day equal to a working day in the week.

(Signed) E. H. KEATING,
Manager Toronto Railway Co.
A. E. AMES,
J. D. ALLAN,
J. W. FLAVELLE
PAUL JARVIS,
Committee of Board of Trade.
J. E. PICKLES,
Chairman Committee of Men.

RATIFIED.

The meeting of the Union in St. Andrew's Hall this afternoon ratified the agreement unanimously.

It was stated by those in attendance that the men would immediately return to work and would commence the running of the cars as soon as possible.

SEARCH FOR MISSING MEN

Disappearance of Soldiers in th Philippine Islands

Washington, June 24.—The War Department is considering the advisability of a systematic enquiry into the number of officers and men who have been lost by disappearance in the Philippines. From time to time many men have been reported as having been lost in the various expeditions and campaigns. Inquiries come frequently from relatives of men who have disappeared in this way, and in most cases there is no information to be given. It can only be said that according to official reports the particular individual asked about was lost sight of at some certain point on a certain date. In a few cases of disappearance the men had subsequently been found and tried as deserters. Some have been heard from and never apprehended, having gone over to the Filipinos as officers, or having taken native wives and expatriated themselves, so far as citizenship in the United States is concerned. These cases are, however, few. In the case of two officers, Major Charles M. Rockfeller, of the regular army, who had served since 1861 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1867, and of Lieutenant Stockley, one of the recent appointments from civil life, the Department has concluded that the Filipinos must have murdered the missing men, and their names have been taken off the rolls. It is believed that when the islands are more thoroughly occupied by our forces and officials, more of the number of men who have disappeared will turn up and be accounted for. It is known that several enlisted men have turned prospectors and are engaged in the search for gold in the mountain regions in the north of Luzon.

FOOLISH IRISH PATRIOTS.

New York, June 24.—The Times referring to the plan of certain Irish patriots" to fly the black flag on Coronation Day, says King Edward is an amiable and kindly-disposed monarch, and it is a poor way to gain his interest by insulting him gratuitously and foolishly.

$17,000 FOR A HUSBAND.

And the Young Man Didn't Wait for a Second Proposal.

Cincinnati, O., June 23—Miss Rose E. Guggenheim, of Chicago, who is worth $2,000,000, paid $17,000 to the young man of her choice, the only consideration being that he should marry her and should care for her children if she had any. Thomas G. Fisher, thirty-eight years old, is the young man who made the trade with her, and who has become her husband. He is manager of the Oatl. Company of Chicago. Miss Guggenheim is the divorced wife of Henry L. Wineman. She applied for the license.

After securing the license the couple went to the court-room of Judge Mock, where they made acknowledgment to the ante-nuptial agreement. The agreement was carefully drawn up by a Chicago attorney, and, stripped of legal verbiage, was to the effect that Miss Guggenheim, the bride, should pay Fisher $17,000 in cash in consideration of the marriage. The money was given to the groom without any conditions or reservation save the agreement to marry her. The document says that the money is given to Fisher in fee simple to use as he pleases.

They were married at the home of mutual friends here. The draft for the money was on a New York bank.

Do You Belch Gas?

If you have uneasy sensations in the stomach, a bad taste in the mouth, headache—remember that ten drops of Polson's Nerviline in sweetened water is a quick and certain cure. Nerviline aids digestion, dispels the gas, makes you comfortable and free from distress at once. Nerviline is just splendid for cramps, colic, dysentery, stomach and bowel troubles, and costs only 25c. Better try it.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

Advertise in The Times.

CORPORATION OFFICERS

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Meedames Beck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, E. A. Peck, Warde, Davis, and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Crossley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. B. Bamford.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depar
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal... ...	5.10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.33 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston ...	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate...	7.30 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West...	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9 00 p.m.	5.38 p.m
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	6.35 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.30 a.m.	9.19 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	8.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.15 p.m.
Lakefield local	5.50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at $1 per month, and to outside points at $3 per year strictly in advance

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 24, 1902.

OUR ARMY'S MAGNIFICENT WORK

It is estimated that the Boers had an army of 80,000 men. This force acted generally on the defensive, was well armed and knew how to ride and shoot and take cover. They were fighting in their own country, where they knew the lay of the land, and had a base of supplies in every farm house.

Given these conditions, and it is doubtful whether any European power would attempt to conquer such an army with even the force which Great Britain employed. The advantage possessed by the defence is now one of the commonplaces of military tactics; and we shall not likely see any nation assume the offensive again unless assured of overwhelming superiority in numbers or arms.

Certainly the British army in South Africa has reason to be proud of its achievement. It was not a large force pitted on even terms against a small one; but a very small force doing work which might well have taxed the ability and courage of a far larger. When this war comes to be contrasted with some similar conflict, fought under modern conditions, we will learn to appreciate fairly the magnificent showing of our army during the last few years. And it is doubtful whether we will properly understand it until we have some such up-to-date war between well-equipped civilized powers to contrast it with.

European officers who accompanied the British forces in the field were frequently reported to have said that they did not know any other troops who would have "gone ahead" on some occasions when "Tommy" faced "fearful odds" and overcame them. This can easily be credited; and one of the assets which the British Empire will bring out of the Boer war is a splendid army with the prestige of a splendid record.

NATIONALIZING THE BOER.

A despatch from Pretoria to the London Times, dated June 9, shows that the Anglicizing of the Boer is about complete, and shows how it was done. The despatch says:

"The remarkable feeling of comradeship displayed between the British soldiers and the Boer is a leading feature of the surrenders everywhere. The soldiers have behaved magnificently, not a single word being uttered which could possibly hurt the feelings of the defeated burghers, who are most enthusiastic in their appreciation of this considerate treatment. They declare that they never expected such magnanimity, and that the British soldier is a thorough gentleman. Every Boer on his arrival received first of all a pint of beer and was then supplied with as much food as he wished."

Tommy Atkins welcoming his new brother Briton with first of all a pint of beer and then all the grub he could eat is nothing if not English.

MY MOTHER'S PRAYER

[Published by request.]

As I wandered round the homestead
Many a dear familiar spot,
Brought within my recollections
Scenes I'd seemingly forgot;
There, the orchard—meadow, yonder—
Here the deep old-fashioned well,
With its old moss-covered bucket,
Such a thrill no tongue can tell.

Though the house was held by strangers
All remained the same within;
Just as when a child I wandered
Up and down, and out and in;
To the garret dark descending,
Once a source of childish dread—
Peering through the rusty cobwebs—
Ho! I say my trundle bed.

Quick, I drew it from the rubbish,
Covered o'er with dust so long;
When, behold, I heard in fancy
Strains of a familiar song;
Often sung by my dear mother
To me in that trundle bed—
"Hush, my dear, lie still and slumber!
Holy angels guard thy bed!"

While I listen to the music
Stealing on in gentle strain,
I am carried back to childhood—
I am now a child again;
'Tis the hour of my retiring,
At the dusky eventide;
Near my trundle bed I'm kneeling—
As of yore by mother's side.

Hands are on my head so loving,
As they were in childhood's days;
I, with weary tones, am trying
To repeat the words she says.
'Tis a prayer in language simple
As a mother's lips can frame;
"Father, Thou who art in heaven,
Hallowed, ever, be Thy name."

Prayer is over, to my pillow
With a "good-night!" kiss I creep,
Scarcely waking while I whisper;
"Now I lay me down to sleep."
Then my mother o'er me bending,
Prays in earnest words, but mild,
"Hear my prayer, O heavenly Father,
Bless, oh bless, my precious child!"

Yet I am but only dreaming,
Ne'er I'll be a child again;
Many years has that dear mother
In the quiet churchyard lain;
But the mem'ry of her counsels
O'er my path a light has shed,
Daily calling me to heaven—
Even from my trundle bed.

Reward of $30,000 Offered for Lynchers.

Charlotte, N.C., June 24.—Gov. Aycock today offered rewards aggregating $30,000 for the arrest and conviction of those who took part in the lynching one week ago, at Salisbury, of George Gillespie, sixteen years old, and his brother, James eleven years old, negroes. About seventy-five men were engaged in the lynching of the boys, and the Governor offered a reward for the arrest and conviction of each of the lynchers. This in the aggregate is the largest reward ever offered by a Southern State for the capture of criminals.

There is a bitter sentiment against those who took part in lynching, for it is a well-established fact that the younger of the brothers took no part in the murder of Miss Benson.

It is believed that the offer of such a large reward will have the effect of bringing many of the mob to justice and will do much to prevent lynching in this State in the future.

Mother Eddy's New Lieutenants

Boston, Mass., June 24.—A step taken to insure greater democracy in the Christian Science Church was taken to-day, when for the first time since the opening of the "Mother Church" here a change was made in its readers. Judge Septimus J. Hanna, first reader for 10 years, and Mrs. Eldora J. Gragg, second reader, retire and Herman S. Hering, of Baltimore, becomes first reader, and Mrs. Ella E. Williams, of Chelsea, Mass., becomes second reader. They are to serve for three years.

In the Official Board of Officers today's meeting made little alteration. The clerk, William B. Johnson, of Boston, and the treasurer, Stephen A. Chase, of Fall River, were re-elected, while in place of John B. Willis a new president was chosen in the person of John W. Reeder, of Roxbury.

Malt Breakfast Food

For Weak and Sicly Summer Appetites

The Great Health Food That Gives Energy, Vigor and Life to Braid and Muscle Toilers

Popular in Thousands of Canadian Homes

During the hot summer weather when bodily energy is quickly used up, Malt Breakfast Food is an absolute necessity for the morning meal. It is the only form of nourishment that can build up weak and sickly summer appetites, and give energy and strength to those who toil with brain or muscle. Malt Breakfast Food is the most economical for all homes. Twenty-five meals for 15 cents. All grocers.

WHY FITZJONES LEFT HOME

A Tragedy of one Spring

Written For The Times

Thomas Clarence Fitzjones led a most charming young woman to the altar a little less than a year ago, and the happy pair settled down at once in a snug cottage on the banks of the raging Otonabee, all their own, and furnished in a style befitting their modest yet elegant tastes. For Clarence was a rising young man, who had the instinct of thrift to a degree stopping just short of nearness and who found in his wife a fitting helpmate—or helpmeet, whichever suits the reader best.

The first year of wedded life left little to be desired. The rocks on which young couples too often go to pieces had been carefully avoided by the mutual exercise of considerate good nature and helpful tact. The future looked brighter, if possible, than during the honeymoon. A choice circle of friends had been gathered about them, business prospects constantly improved, there had been the same cook and the same maid in the house almost from the beginning, and they were constant readers of The Times, Peterborough's great family journal.

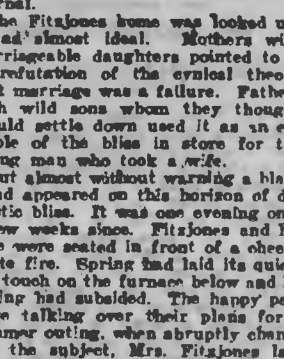
The Fitzjones home was looked upon as almost ideal. Mothers with marriageable daughters pointed to it in refutation of the cynical theory that marriage was a failure. Fathers with wild sons whom they thought should settle down used it as an example of the bliss in store for the young man who took a wife.

But almost without warning a black cloud appeared on this horizon of domestic bliss. It was one evening only a few weeks since. Fitzjones and his wife were seated in front of a cheery grate fire. Spring had laid its quieting touch on the furnace below and its raging had subsided. The happy pair were talking over their plans for a summer outing, when abruptly changing the subject, Mrs. Fitzjones laid her hand on her husband's arm, and in tones of deepest intensity, said:

(To be Continued)

Closed the Incident

The driver lashed the mule,
To make her travel faster,
The mule, she landed one swift kick—
And got another master.



oronation !

BOOTS and SHOES

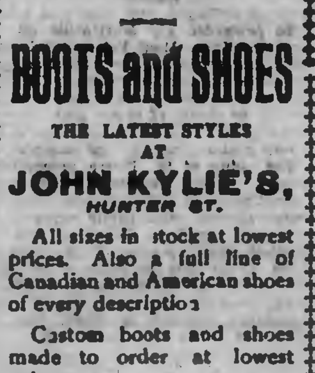
THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,

HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.



THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will off suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at 40c
Suspenders 15c
Overalls, with bib, at 45c
Smocks, at.............................90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB

Ladies and Gent's Tailo

One door south of Montreal Bank.

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

In a few moments word came back that a lady had called. She had seemed greatly disappointed at hearing that Lady Cope was out, and had inquired where she might be found. Our box for the theater had been ordered by telephone from the hotel, therefore the lady had been informed that we were at the Lyceum.

The lady had been tall, dark, dressed and cloaked in black, and she had come in a cab. She had left no name, and nothing further was known about her. But it was enough to serve as an answer to the question I had asked. The woman in black had gone to the theater in expectation of seeing my mother, and for that purpose alone. The meeting had not come about by chance.

No one save the doctor who had attended my mother, Swift, and myself, knew that anything mysterious had happened that last night. Though the doctor had asked a question or two, and frowned in a puzzled way at the burn on her arm, he had not hesitated to certify that she had died from an acute attack of the heart disease which had troubled her, menacing her life for years. Any sudden shock would have aggravated this disorder, and the doctor was certain that some such shock she must have received. Beyond this he knew nothing, save that she had been absent from home for a few hours.

Swift was aware only that her mistress had not come back with me, and had returned later in a dying condition, while my knowledge was not of a kind to establish proof of foul play against any person or persons unknown.

I did not even believe that there had been actual foul play. I thought that there was a mystery; that some news of a disturbing nature had been revealed to my mother; that she had learnt some secret which had come upon her with a great shock. I wished to find the woman in black, not through a hope of bringing her to justice, but because I was sure that my mother had tried to repeat to me the secret she had herself heard. I could think of no way of learning it, except from the woman who had shown the heart-shaped scar; and though I shrank with physical loathing from the thought of seeing her again, with her cat-eyes and wicked smile, still my reason told me that I must endeavor to do so if I could.

My mother had liked Roger Cope, but I did not like him; and I could not bring myself to confide in him, establishing a new intimacy between us by relating to him the events of that unhappy night. I resolved to depend upon myself alone, and when I found the newspaper cutting in the pocket of the cloak, discovering, too, that the probable owner had called at the hotel, I would not encourage the impulse to rid myself of the hateful garment.

I determined to take it away with me to the country, and decide later upon a way of using it as a clue to the mystery. Perhaps I ought to have applied to Scotland Yard, calling in the assistance of the police. But I was reluctant to do this, for I felt that such a course would be abhorrent to my mother if she could know. Besides, there was really little to tell which could make the case seem an important one.

So I kept the cloak, already vaguely forming a plan in my mind concerning it.

We went drearily down into the country, taking my mother's body; and Roger Cope went with us and was very kind.

Then came the funeral: and it was on the night which followed that my memory begins again to paint vivid pictures of events.

I was tired out. A pall of desolation had fallen upon my spirits, and I had gone early to my room. Old friends of my mother's had come to me and tried to be kind, but it was a great relief to be alone.

I had thought that when I had sent Swift away and was quite by myself, above all things in the world it would do me good to cry—to cry till I should be spent with crying.

But when I stood by the window, in my long white cashmere dressing-gown, with only the cold glass between me and the furious storm, the relief I had been looking forward to would not come. I had no longer any desire for tears. I could not even concentrate my mind upon my sorrow.

Suddenly I thought of the West Wing and the broken words my mother had stammered. Had she meant that I was to search for something and find it in the West Wing?

The West Wing was the oldest portion of a very old house; but there was nothing mysterious or secret about it, so far as I knew.

The chapel was there, unused for many a year. There was a great picture gallery, which was also a ballroom, and had a gallery for musicians at one end. There were three or four little wainscoted rooms which had once been sacred to the family priest as long ago as the days of Queen Mary. These connected with the chapel by a private staircase, and my mother had used the prettiest room in the suite, octagon-shaped and mullion-windowed, for a study. She had liked writing letters and reading there; and when she had been in the "octagon room" it was tacitly understood that she was "not at home." Nobody was allowed to break in upon her writing or other studies.

There were other rooms also in the West Wing; huge, lofty bedchambers, only occupied when we had a house party, a thing which seldom happened; though once in a while, when Roger came for the shooting, people had been asked, to please him. Old servants, who had lived at Arrish Mell Court in my father's time, soon after his marriage with my mother, could tell of gay doings, and the West Wing rooms full of guests, who danced in the picture gallery below nearly every night. But my father had died abroad when I was a baby, and we were traveling on the Continent, I had been told; so that the West Wing had few bright associations for me.

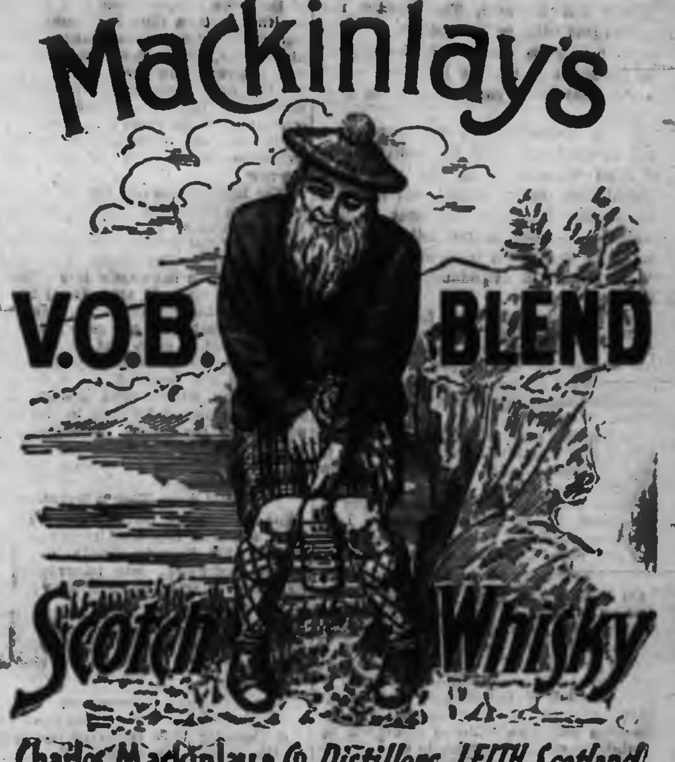
To be Continued

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make. SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE ALL FURNISNINGS AT COST AND UNDER.

H. E. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS, 353 GEORGE STREET



Charles Mackinlay & Co Distillers: LEITH, Scotland

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd

AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE

ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.

MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{90}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE CUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interests is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $55.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited. A Canadian Company with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c...... .... — $12 50

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a silver lead mine situated in British Columbia. Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $50.00 to the ton. SHARES 10c...... .... $5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends. SHARES 50 cents...... .... $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents... .... 12 50

Total value...... .... $55 00

275 SHARES...... ....FOR $50 00 CASH

100 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.

FINANCIAL AGENTS,

317-318 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

The New York Times
Saturday Review of Books.
$1,00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is markable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, d remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains xpressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

ANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
WIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
NSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
N BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
ARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
AN BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
N KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
SES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
N LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
NRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

HEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times
SUNDAY E[illegible]TION
$1.50 - - - - P[illegible]ear

ncluding MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT[illegible] WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATI[illegible]LEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday dition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in he Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for tocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL - - - - $1,000,000
RESERVE FUND - - 270,000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D. - President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, W. H. BEATTY, Vice-Presidents.

JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government he Corporation is accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice forthe investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorised to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRTOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures consecutive action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELY CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR,
Managing Director.

A. D. LANGMUIR
Assistant Manager

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue; [illegible] Post Free. [illegible] complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save [illegible] Profits.

LACE CURTAINS, [illegible] CAPES, LADIES & GENTS [illegible] LACE HOSIERY, [illegible] HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $5.10

Lot No. [illegible] contains—1 pair Rich [illegible] Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, [illegible] Dining-Room Curtains, choice old lace design, [illegible] yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair neat Floral Pattern Bed-Room Curtains, 3 yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair new fashionable Sash Curtains, 1 table centre, [illegible] design, 1 Set of Duchesse Toilet Covers [illegible]. [illegible] if desired. On receipt of Post Office Order [illegible] direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth.

Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable work, Marvellous Value, and Durability. [illegible] Prize Medals, Toronto [illegible]; Chicago, [illegible].

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. [illegible]

[illegible] may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Advertise in The Times, Everybody reads The Times,

Navigation

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE

ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 3 a.m.	21 June 8 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 6 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 8a.m.	5 July 8 p.m.

First cabin, $60 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $26 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... .... June 25th
Mongolian...... ....July 9th.

S.S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to:
W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to
THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd
River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S.S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 4th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t V. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. for Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 3.00 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information appl to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO
STR. "ARGYLE"

(Commencing Thursday, May 22)

EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at - - 7.00 a m
" Port Hope at - - 8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at - - 12.30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at 5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday 7.00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday - 3.00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte, Port of)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville - - 11.00 a m
" Trenton - - 1.15 p m
" Brighton - - 2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte - - 7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager,
Picton, On

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA,"
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9 00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

5 Trips Daily (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont.

Navigation

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5 00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay

ESTURION

JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon, Lv 6 15 a.m. and 3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point " 7.15 a.m. " 4.10 p.m.
Lindsay Ar 8.40 a.m. " 5 30 p.m.
" Lv 11.00 a.m. " 5.45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point " 12.10 p.m. " 6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon Ar 1.15 p.m. " 8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.

MANITA

JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon..........Leave 7.00 a. m.
Bridgenorth..........Arrive 9.30 a. m.
Bridgenorth ....Leave 3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon..........Arrive 5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG, PORT HOPE, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

STEAMER
NORTH KING
Week Day Route Commencing May 12

SOUTH BOUND.

Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... 2.15 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... 2.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ...... 6.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... 8.05 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.

Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets ...... 9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester... ...... 9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... 2.15 p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... 2.50 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
[illegible], Agent, Port Hope

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"

On Monday, June, 16th, Wednesday, 18th and Friday 20, the Steamer Majestic will leave Lakefield on the arrival of the morning train, returning in time to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor.
CAPT. SCOLLARD, Master

ENGLAND'S BIG WEEK.

London the Centre of All Interest this Week.

WORLD'S GREATEST SHOW

Immense Crowds from All Parts of the World Attend

The King Once More in the Best Health—The Royal Families of Europe Well Represented.

Special to The Times.

London, June 23—The opening of coronation week finds the metropolis rapidly filling with visitors. The decorators have put the finishing touches to their work and the city has blossomed out in a mass of gorgeous color. Princes and other titled visitors sent to represent their respective rulers have been arriving at short intervals throughout the city and the attaches delegated to receive them have been kept busy. Prominent among those now here are Prince Henry of Prussia, the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Serge of Russia, the Crown Prince and Princess of Roumania, the Duke and Duchess of Aosta, the Princess of Asturias and her husband, Prince Albert of Flanders and the Crown Prince of Sweden. A few of the more important personages have been quartered at Buckingham and St. James palaces, while provision has been made for the others at the Hotel Cecil, Claridges and elsewhere. Great preparations have been made for the dinner to be given at Buckingham Palace to-night in honor of the foreign envoys, and which will be the first of the grand state functions preceding the coronation.

To-night will be a gala night also for the American colony. The Bradley-Martins give an elaborate dinner at their house, in Chesterfield Gardens, which is likely to outrival in luxuriance the famous Bradley-Martin ball. Mrs. John W. Mackay's Carlton House Terrace mansion is to be the scene of another big dinner, while also Reginald Ward gives a dinner of eighty covers.

The King and Queen interrupted their work of preparation for the coronation to-day long enough to take part in a little gathering in celebration of the eighth birthday of little Prince Edward of York. The British public is only just beginning to look upon the little Prince in the light of the future King. The coronation has served to draw attention to the importance of the little fellow's place in the machine of state.

According to present plans Prince Edward will be a sailor, like his father, and within a few years he will go upon the training ship Brittania to get his first taste of sea life. His present education consists of a few short lessons daily given by Mlle. Bricola, for many years companion to the late Duchess of Teck. The King is said to be strongly opposed to "stuffing children with too much knowledge." His recollection is keen of how unpleasant it was to be a "walking dictionary" at twenty.

DRANK TOO MUCH WHISKEY

Lindsay, June 21—Peter Brodie, a Barnardo boy aged 19, in the employ of Mr. James Peel, a South Verulam farmer, died yesterday afternoon from the effects of an overdose of whisky.

The young man helped his employer and Mr. William Germyn to drive a bunch of cattle to town yesterday, and about dinner time he demanded from Mr. Peel some money on account of his wages. Knowing that he was somewhat addicted to liquor, Mr. Peel gave him 25c., claiming that was all the change he had, but later on was coaxed into giving a further sum of 75c.

When the time came to start for home Brodie made his appearance, somewhat under the influence of liquor, and soon after leaving town he produced a pint flask of whisky and asked Peel and Germyn to drink. They refused and warned him that he had already taken enough but he persisted in drinking and soon emptied the flask. Then he became excitable and talkative under the influence of the liquor and finally went to sleep with his head hanging over the dashboard.

When Mr. Peel reached home he asked Germyn to aid him in getting Brodie into the house. On lifting him out of the buggy they were alarmed to see that his face had become very black, and that his breathing was heavy and labored. On reaching the house they applied restoratives and rubbed and slapped him vigorously, but without effect, and when they finally felt the heart its action had ceased.

After spending half an hour longer in endeavors to restore animation, Peel abandoned the task and hurried back to Lindsay to inform the authorities. Coroner Burrows drove out and found that Peel's fears were well-founded—the young man was dead, having succumbed to an attack of apoplexy induced by his excessive consumption of raw whisky. Under the circumstances an inquest was deemed unnecessary.

TO HOIST BLACK FLAG.

How Some of the Irishmen Will Observe Coronation Day

Special to The Times.

London June 23—The United Irish League is preparing to "keep coronation day as a day of mourning for Ireland." (The district council of Clare-Morris (Mayo county), has resolved to hoist a black flag over the council chamber, June 26 and 27, and has issued an invitation to the other councils to join in thus celebrating the "coronation of the English King to whose government the people of this country are so much indebted for famines, coercion and castle rule."

A Living Faith.

SERMON BY
GEORGE H. HEPWORTH.

He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief, but was strong in faith.—Romans, iv, 20.

The difference between the man of faith and the man of no faith is practically the difference between paradise and purgatory.

A man does not need to believe many things, just enough to give him a safe anchorage in stress of weather. Long creeds are tiresome, and the longer they are the more tiresome they become. As spiritual helps they are of very little value. If a man's theology consists of a few simple propositions there is small chance of his having a controversy within himself, whereas a complicated creed introduces many points of doubt.

If a man believes in little else than an honorable life, but believes in that at all hazards, and stands by it in all emergencies, he will make a good citizen, a loyal friend and cannot miss the approval of God. Such a man could not go to any other place than heaven, even if he wanted to, for he does not belong in any other locality. In like manner, if a man believes only in the law of gravitation, but believes in that with might and main, he will not put up a building that is likely to tumble down and bring him ruin. What he does build will be strong and solid. It may not be specially ornate, but it will last.

It is better to be absolutely sure of one essential thing than half sure of a dozen things. And so I venture to say that if a man is thoroughly convinced that he is in a world governed by law, and that behind the law is the Lawmaker, that right is everlastingly right and wrong always wrong, he has a sure clew to lead him through the intricacies of life, its bereavements, its poverty, its hardships and the strange change which comes when he falls asleep at last. The whole of religion, all that is necessary to keep him in the high road to heaven, will lie like a panorama in full view. A few certainties, and after that he may speculate as much as he pleases, for his many speculations will not interfere with his few certainties.

The difficulty with the man who has no distinct belief is that he is not a safe guide for himself. He is not only afloat, but adrift. There is nothing he can depend on, very little of that patience and resignation which make things easy and a good deal of that rebellion which makes them hard. He has more responsibility for himself than he can carry, and keeps watch on the bridge night and day, not knowing that there is a captain at the helm.

I can speak with confidence concerning this mental attitude, because in my younger years I passed into and through some of the more radical phases of doubt. The sky was not very blue in those days, and I got very little out of life. I was compelled to be honest with myself, and was therefore as miserable as I was honest. When at length I found good holding ground my anchor chain made merry music as it sought the solid bottom. I wanted little, but I wanted that with a yearning inexpressible, for there is a desperation in feeling that you are a stray waif in a strange world, and that you are certain of nothing but uncertainty. One cares very little what he does when there is no God visible and no heaven to go to. With the grave as the miserable terminus of our journey, one grows selfish and discontented. On the other hand, with a horizon line stretching beyond sundown, one is careful what he does, because to-morrow he may be sorry.

A good, plain, square religion which everybody can understand, which appeals to the common-sense of mankind, to the logic of the business man, and the research of the philosopher, is the only thing to set this old world right and keep it right. You are bound for a port on the other shore, and you must govern yourself accordingly. There must be no death in our thoughts, for that is fatal to the development and discipline of the higher nature. Nothing makes a man so large, so generous, so unselfish or so noble as a belief in immortality, and immortality must therefore be a fact or the universe is a huge deception. There must be another world somewhere in which these crooked things shall be made straight and these mysteries explained. Surely there will be a chance in some more favorable clime for us to make another effort in the light of a larger intelligence. We must also be able to look forward to a reunion after the hard separations which carry our dear ones into the light before the dark.

With such a faith vouchsafed by the Christ and by the longings of human nature we can bear and forbear, because the hour of rest is not far off. There is much more than this to believe if we have time to investigate, but it will serve our purpose.

The Passing of the Horse.

Very early in the development of electric traction it was predicted that the use of the horse would ultimately decrease and perhaps disappear. Electric traction has now, however, been brought to a high degree of perfection, and yet the horse is still with us. Notwithstanding this, statistics show, we are assured editorially by the "Electrical Review" (April 19), that the horse is going—slowly, perhaps, but none the less surely. Says this paper:

"Some interesting statistics lately published by our lively French contemporary, 'La Locomotion Automobile,' show that in Europe the horse is rapidly disappearing in the various large cities. For example, in Paris the total number of horses in 1901, according to a municipal census of these animals, was 96,000, while this year it is only 90,730, a falling-off of about six per cent. In London, in the same period, the equine population has decreased ten per cent., while in Berlin, Vienna, and even in St. Petersburg, the same falling-off exhibits itself. This is partly due to the new trolley-roads, and very largely to the numerous and continual increase in the number of automobiles used both for pleasure and business.

"In this country the supersession of the horse by the trolley-car has been absolutely astonishing in its extent. Probably to-day in New York there are not more than two-thirds as many horses employed as were used twenty years ago. So far, the automobile appears to have made no great inroads into the horse business, and it is likely that the extension of the use of automobiles will have to wait upon the growth of more scientific ideas regarding street-paving and road-making. However, the decadence of the horse is upon us, and his disappearance may be looked for sooner or later.

"As certainly as anything can be predicted the progress of engineering advance will totally extinguish the horse as a beast of burden. We may look forward with certainty and satisfaction to the day when cities at least will be horseless and when we will be removed from the tyranny of this animal, which has imposed upon us stone-paved streets, unending dirt, and, curiously enough, the house-fly—an insect dependent upon the existence of stables for its birth and breeding. What the future of the horse will be is hard to say. It is likely that horses will continue for centuries to come to be used as instruments of sport and pleasure, but the day of their emancipation from hard labor in the streets and roads is not far distant."

Earthquakes and Causes.

One of the most disastrous earthquakes of recent times is that reported from Russian Transcaucasia. The town of Shamaka has been practically destroyed, only a dozen houses being left standing, while a population of 25,000 has been rendered homeless. The number of fatalities is as yet unknown. Over 200 bodies had been recovered at the latest accounts.

To the student of seismic phenomena, says the San Francisco "Chronicle," the interesting and suggestive feature in the Shamaka earthquake is that it has occurred in the neighborhood of the Baku oil district—the most productive field in the world, not excepting that of Beaumont, in Texas. It is, furthermore, a section of the world which has hitherto been exempt from these phenomena. The scientific enquirer will naturally search for a cause, for cause and effect go together in the scientific analysis of all phenomena. Is the great natural oil reservoir tapped by the oil wells of Baku, on the shores of the Caspian Sea, located under the site of Shamaka, and has the tremendous drain of mineral oil from the same caused a void and a subsequent shrinkage in the earth's crust in that neighborhood? The enquiry is not far-fetched. It is usually assumed that water takes the place of the oil withdrawn from the measures, filling the vacuum created by the latter's withdrawal, but if the water, being more tenuous, should find an independent vent elsewhere, the vacuum created by the draining of the mineral oil would remain, and a shrinkage of the unsupported crust of the earth would naturally follow sooner or later.

It has been suggested that the tapping of the oil measures in the southern part of California has relieved the mineral oil-bearing formations from the pressure of the gas created in them, and the possible subterranean gas explosions produced by excessive pressure, and thus removed one of the supposed causes of earthquakes in that section. There may be nothing in the theory, but it has been observed that the Los Angeles district has been notably exempt from seismic disturbances since the oil measures were tapped and vent given to the gases generated in them. Likewise, the theory that the Shamaka earthquake was due to the drain on the petroleum reservoirs in the Caucasus by the Baku wells may be entirely at fault. But the two phenomena seem to invite the attention of the scientist, and open a new field for the study of seismic disturbances.

Bees in War?

We do not know that bees have ever been recognized as among the accessories of war, but there is an old army story current in the Southern States of a party who were out scouting or foraging, probably both, one morning, and saw a much larger party of the enemy's cavalry riding down on them. It was useless to retreat across an open plain, for the horses would go faster than they, while to surrender meant a fate but little better or perhaps a little worse than death. They gathered behind a wall or outbuilding, [illegible] as closely as possible, when one of their number spied a stand of beehives a little way behind them. Quickly the [illegible] each to seize a hive and throw it over the wall in front of them. Very quickly these bees were at work [illegible], and while the riders might have faced them, the horses would not, but were soon in full retreat a half mile away. Some of the boys got stung [illegible] the enemy, but they all [illegible] again [illegible] needing the surgeon's [illegible]

The Love Letters of a Christian Scientist.

My beloved Prince of the New Thought—I have been wondering today if our exchange of gifts seems as beautiful to you as it does to me. Most lovers exchange rings, but how much more your betrothal gift to me really means! The thought that you have given me your well-studied and dog-eared copy of Science and Health with a Key to the Scriptures, and that I have given you my copy of the Mother's Words, thrills me to the heart—or would, if there were any reality in matter. (Heart would come under the head of matter, wouldn't it? And matter is reflected, of course, from mortal mind, which is evil.)

Do you remember the day, darling Vibration of the Mind Universal, that we sat together planning what we should represent at the Lemar's Book Party? It seems but yesterday! We decided that you would wear goggles and your college cap and gown, for you were to represent Science, and I, Health (trusting to my red cheeks, to treating the guests for Intelligence, and to silent affirmations that I was Health), to reveal the name of our book—the Mother's Book—and our Engagement! (Do you know, Beloved, they say the Mother has demonstrated an immense fortune out of her Words—really, three dollars and fifty cents to give for them is something fierce; isn't it?) Well, we were just finding a way to represent the Key (by putting ourselves in touch with the Way Universal), when your mother came in and asked the day of the month, and apologised for addressing us in English, adding sarcastically that she didn't speak Christian Science! Ah, my Own, I have to vehemently affirm that I am one with Love Omnipotent, Omnipresent, Omniscientific, every time I think of your mother. I begin each day by treating myself for Love and Non-resistance, and yet I must say your mother is without exception the most antagonistic old party I ever met! But then she is your mother—our mother—and All Is Love, and You are All—or almost All.

I hope my gift with a Key to the Scriptures will arrive safely and bring you the kisses I entrust to its wise care. How dear are the Mother's Words! Do you like kisses? Yours, with a Key to the Scriptures, would I could wear at my heart! It was so sweet of you not to select as the first manifestation of your Individual Love, some vulgar thing to dazzle the world, such as a grand piano. I would so much prefer having you simple, adorable Radiator of Hope, like Wisdom. Hold me in your Thought, as I hold you in mine—even as Thought (the Universal Mind)—holds us both to its breast! And come in to tea soon—soon.

P. S.—You remember, Bobby, don't you, Beloved? The poor child has such a frightful claim of superfluous flesh—actually, the neighborhood boys call him "the fat boy of the circus," but he is getting strongly in accord with the Principle of Life and will yet demonstrate his Freedom. Yesterday, Bobby was walking along with Ralph Hughes, when an unenlightened little street urchin yelled, "Hello, Skinny! hello, Skinny! hello, Skinny!"

"Smash him!" suggested Ralph.

"Not on your life!" said Bobby. "He is giving me a Treatment!"

Isn't it touching to see such Belief in the Power of the Word as this child has? Did I tell you that we have given up the claim of mice? Yes. We are now entirely free from them!—Ethel Shackelford in "Life."

Chimmie Fadden on Company Promoting.

"I see by de poipers where a company dat is going to make birch-bark canoes—or is it go-carts?—by machinery, offers stock for toity-tree cents a share which is sure to pay one hundred per cent. on one hundred dollars a share. Dis proves how wonderful is de metods of modern finance. But dat is not what most excites my fancy. De same company says de same stock will be forty-seven cents in tree days, a dollar and six-bits in ten days, and will sell for two or tree hundred dollars inside of six monts. Dat being so, sir—and of course dey would not say so if it was not—I is filled wit astonishment dat dey lets de public in at toity-tree cents!"

"Dey may be philantropists," says Miss Fannie.

"I am not sure," says Mr. Paul., "De only ting sure about 'em is dat dey is not in jail; and a man out of jail may be anyting. Den dere is de oil companies wit spouting wells, pipe lines, and railroads, who is selling stock dat's wert seven hundred dollars a share for from four to twenty cents. As de poet says, 'I often wonder what de vendors buy one-half so precious as de stuff dey sell.'"

"Mostly, dey buys advertising space," says Whiskers, and den he near falls out of his chair laughing at his joke.

England's Royal Guests.

It is expected that more royal personages will be in London at the coronation than England has ever before seen together. When Victoria was crowned not a European court sent a representative with rank higher than ambassador extraordinary; but in the years between that occasion and her Jubilee the Queen fortified England against another such slight by becoming grandmother to most of the ruling monarchs of Europe. The accommodation of so much royalty is giving the Royal host some anxious moments. London has no such [illegible] of colonial royal palaces as most of the great European capitals. Marlborough House and Buckingham Palace will not lodge comfortably any save the privileged close relations of the King and Queen. It is said that a large hotel near Buckingham Palace has been taken for the King's guests, and that several noblemen have placed their London houses at King Edward's disposal. After the coronation week many of the royal guests will visit Windsor and Sandringham, and certain of the great country houses of England; so mighty preparations for elaborate entertaining are being made throughout the length and breadth of the land, as well as in London, and the amount of money that will be inevitably spent during the season is beyond ordinary calculation.

THE HIGHEST VOLTAGE NIAGARA TO TORONTO

The New Power Line to use 60,000 Volts of Electric Energy

How Electric Energy is Being used in Some Western Cities and Towns

The Enormous Pressure of the Niagara-Toronto Line Declared Upon After Practical Experiments Which Indicate the Success of the Proposition

Special to The Times.

Toronto, June 21—It has been decided that the transmission of Niagara power to the city of Toronto shall be affected at a voltage of 60,000. The power will be generated at a voltage of 11,000, and step-up transformers will raise the pressure to 60,000, at which the electric current will be sent over the cables. The distance from Niagara Falls to Toronto is 20 miles, and for all this distance a transmission line carrying three cables will be erected. There is every prospect that the cables to be used on this latest notable transmission scheme will be of aluminum.

In connection with the proposed transmission of electric power at a voltage of 60,000 it is interesting to observe that whereas several installations contemplate using this high pressure in transmission, none of them has as yet done so. The nearest this voltage is approached in commercial transmission is on the line of the Missouri River Power Company, which extends from Canyon Ferry to Butte Montana, a distance of 65 miles. On this transmission line the voltage used is 50,000, and in time it is expected to develop and transmit about 100,000 horse power. But up to the present time this amount of power is not developed.

50,000 Volts in Missouri.

The use of 50,000 volts on the line of the Missouri River Power Company is really the first application of this potential to a thoroughly commercial service, and it was instituted about the first of last March. In the construction of this plant a dam was thrown across the Black Rock Canyon, the distance being about 480 feet, and designed to give a head of about 80 feet. A low-lying valley is utilized as a reservoir, and in this way a lake seven miles long and from two to three miles wide is formed. The water reaches the power station through a canyon varying from 400 to 700 ft. wide and less than a half-mile long. A strange fact is that while the water in the lake above freezes that in the canyon does not, so that the water reaches the power station wholly free from ice.

With all its enlargements and improvements the power plant at present consists of ten 750 direct connected generators and four exciters. All the generators are of the three-phase type. The transmission line consists of two pole lines about 50 feet apart. Each line has three seven-strand copper cables, arranged in an equilateral triangle with a spacing of 78 inches between centres, and each cable has a cross-section of a little more than 105,000 c.m. In running between Canyon Ferry and Butte the cables are transposed five times, while the poles are set about 110 feet apart.

At the Canyon Ferry end of the line six 950 kw. oil-insulated transformers raise the voltage from 550 to 50,000 volts, while at the Butte end of the line a similar number of the same type of transformers reduce the voltage from 50,000 to 2300. Ever since it was placed in operation this line of remarkable high voltage has been successfully operated, no mishap of any kind having occurred. This indicates that electrical engineers will handle the high voltage of the future with as great success as they have the lower voltage with which it has been their custom to deal.

The success of the Butte line goes to show that many places far distant from sources of power can be supplied with current by high voltage transmission lines, and as the voltage keeps bounding up, the current is sent to greater distances from the generating plant.

Experimenting With High Voltage.

At Niagara Falls for some little time an experimental line has been in operation at a voltage of 60,000, and all the various kind of influences likely to affect it have been created. For instance, an artificial rainstorm was created over a section of the cable, in order that the influence of rain on cables carrying such voltage might be ascertained. The result has been that it has been determined definitely that the commercial use of 60,000 volts is possible, and this information coming from Niagara is important.

Growth of Aluminum's Use.

During recent years, especially since 1895, about which time the manufacture of Aluminum began at Niagara Falls, the use of this metal has been constantly on the increase for transmission line purposes. When the big power development of the Niagara Falls Power Company was projected, of the generous supply of electricity was the Pittsburg Reduction Company, and the fact that it located at Niagara made it possible to manufacture the white metal at a reduction in cost so that aluminum has of late years been a strong competitor of copper.

At present aluminum transmission lines are in use in connection with the installation and transmission of the Standard Electric Company, of San Francisco, the Bay Counties Power Company of California, the Niagara Falls Power Company, and also in connection with various lighting installations throughout the country. Now it is proposed to build the 20-mile transmission line between Niagara Falls and Toronto with aluminum cables, and when this is done it will signify that aluminum has made a wonderful leap into popularity.

$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO. LIMITED.

Model 169

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made of our noted Chevio Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from al parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74. St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST
Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for the WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings. IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G., President.
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.
Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director
The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.
Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.
School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.
[illegible]

RIPANS
[illegible]

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES
[illegible]

Advertise in The Times,

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, ENG. | send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature, Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 224 pages, and all the original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 236 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 228 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 220 pages; with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENC

An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 169 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 287 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printin Co.
Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED
They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers.

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES
[illegible]
CAMPANA'S
ITALIAN BALM
[illegible]
Hutchings Medicine Co.
[illegible]

King Edward VII. Notepaper,
is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.
IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."
Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.
THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

Lead and
Small Black Tin Pipe
[illegible]
WILLIAM STREET, TORONTO.

VARICOCELE

I guarantee my Latest Method Treatment to be a permanent and positive cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without cutting, stretching or loss of time. In Varicocele it absorbs the bagging, or wormy condition, equalizes circulation, stops pains in the groins, also all drains, thereby giving the organs their proper nutrition, vitalizes the parts and restores lost powers. In Stricture it absorbs the Stricture tissue, stops smarting sensation, nervousness, weakness, backache, etc., while in all prostatic troubles it is the treatment par excellence. So positive am I that my treatment will cure you, you can

PAY WHEN CURED

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. This should convince you that I have confidence in my Latest Method Treatment, otherwise I could not make you this proposition. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, call or write me.

Each Time You Call You See Me Personally,

Or each time you write it receives my personal attention. The number of years I am established in Detroit, and the cases I accomplished after given up by others, has placed me as the foremost specialist of the country. CONSULTATION FREE. Call or write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. All medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor, Can. All duty and express charges prepaid. Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 Woodward Ave., Cor. Wilcox St. Detroit, Mich.

Financial

E. H. GAY & CO
BANKERS.

Detroit United Railway
First Cons'd Mtge. Gold
4½% 1932 BONDS
AT A DISCOUNT.
Send for particulars.
157 ST. JAMES ST., MONTREAL
Telephone Main 1987.

Ontario Bank !

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH
General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT
Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal
(Established 1817.)
HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL
Capital (all paid up...... ......$12,000,000
Reserved Fund...... 7,000,000
Undivided Profits...... 876,581
General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.
Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.
W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO
SAVINGS & LOAN
COMPANY

Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend for the three months ending 30th June, 1902, being at the rate of

6 PER CENT.

per annum, has this day been declared upon the capital stock of this institution, and that the same will be payable at the offices of the company, Peterborough, Ontario, on and after

Wednesday, the 2nd day of July next.

The transfer books will be closed from the 17th to the 30th of June both days inclusive.
By order of the board.
W. G. MORROW, Manager
Peterboro, 6th June, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL
BARRISTERS
OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

JOHN STARK & CO.
26 TORONTO ST. TORONTO.

Stocks Bought and Sold
ON TORONTO, MONTREAL AND NEW YORK EXCHANGES
Correspondence Invited.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, Barristers and Solicitors, [illegible] Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office [illegible] Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck, R. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton, C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, [illegible] Park Place—Painting, [illegible] Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo. A. FRY [illegible] Park place.

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOsite roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 13 Toronto Street Toronto

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd. London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:
No. [illegible] George St., now occupied by Henry Best.
No [illegible] corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.
Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

WANTED—A house of 7 or 8 rooms with all modern conveniences. State location and rent wanted. Address P. O. Box No 31 town

OPINION OF AUSTRALIANS

THE PREMIER AND THE LEADER OF THE OPPOSITION

With Reference to a Preference to Colonial Grains — Mr. Reide Say the Agitation in Australia is "Impudent."

London, June 24.—In anticipation of the colonial preference the speeches of prominent Australians with regard to the grain duties are recalled as indicating the course they will advise at the July meeting. Speaking in Melbourne with reference to the proposal to give preferential treatment to the products of the colonies, Mr. Barton, the Premier of the Commonwealth, said:—"It is understood, I believe, that we need all our grain and flour ourselves at present, but the giving of preference to our growers will unquestionably have a good effect in the near future. It would encourage them to increase the production, and generally would be advantageous. If these grain and flour duties are carried they will give a larger basis than before to work upon in a mutual preference scheme. Hitherto the articles upon which reciprocity has been possible have been very few, and have not extended very far beyond Australian wine. To this extent, therefore, that the area of discussions will be enlarged, these duties will be useful. I cannot say until after further consultation with my colleagues, whether Australia, through the Government, is as yet prepared to enter into a full and comprehensive preferential arrangement. The whole subject is to be dealt with at a conference between a British Government representative and the Premiers of States in London at coronation time. It will there be given, without doubt, all the attention and care it unquestionably deserves."

Mr. Reid, the leader of the Opposition of the Commonwealth Parliament, declared that the movement was an impudent one, so far as Australia is concerned. "To ask Great Britain," he said, "to give us concessions here in Australia, while we are imposing large taxation and giving no preference to British manufactures, is nothing short of impudence—sheer impudence. As to Canada, I must qualify my remarks, for the Dominion has shown some consideration to and gives some slight preference to British manufactures, and to the extent of the concession they are now entitled to look forward in the matter of grain and flour to a reciprocal arrangement. I am not adverse to the consideration of the question of reciprocal trade relations between the Mother Country and Australia, but the consideration must be governed by larger ideas as to the nation's welfare than prevail now in Australia. I believe firmly in Britain's welfare as a great empire is bound up in her open door policy. If Britain abandons the open door policy, and closes the now free avenues of trade against France and Germany, and the rest of the world, she will sacrifice one of her strongest bulwarks. She will at once have largely to increase her standing army, and face the responsibility of becoming a military nation."

In conclusion, Mr. Reid said:—"If Great Britain cannot hold her own at home, she cannot hope to do so on the broad ocean. The open door is her soundest and best policy, and it is our duty to recollect that to ask for concessions where we give in return only oppression, is sheer impudence."

WAR HAS COST $170,326,596

Secretary Root Furnishes Senate With Desired Information

Special to The Times.

Washington, June 24 — Secretary Root yesterday answered the senate resolution asking for information as to the cost of the war in the Philippines. Following are the expenditures by years:

Fiscal year 1898 (two months, May and June), expended $2,[illegible]; liabilities nil.

Fiscal year 1899, expended $28,220,673; liabilities nil.

Fiscal year 1900, expended $50,888,543; liabilities nil.

Fiscal year 1901, expended $55,767,422; liabilities $12.

Fiscal year 1902 (ten months, July to April, inclusive) expended $34,490,[illegible]; liabilities $472,060.

Total expended, $169,853,510; liabilities, $472,072.

The total cost of the war up to date, including outstanding liabilites, is $170,326,596. For the expenses of the commission $50,000 was advanced, but this was afterward reimbursed out of the Philippine treasury. Secretary Root calls attention to the fact that a large amount of property, included in the expense statement, was still in the islands and ready for future use. Other expenses incurred in keeping up the army would have had to be met whether the soldiers were in the Philippines or not.

COLONIAL CONFERENCE WILL MEET ON JULY 2.

London, June 23.—The opening of the Colonial Conference has been fixed for July 2—It has been decided that the conference will sit every day except Saturday and Sunday, and will last a fortnight

SPORTING NEWS

A special meeting of the Athletic section of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society was held last night for the purpose of making further arrangements for the series of sporting events to be held on the Murray street school grounds on Tuesday next, Dominion Day. A long list has been prepared, including a lacrosse match between the Cobourg lacrosse team and the team of the T.A.S. also races, jumping, etc., of sufficient variety to give a chance for everybody. Medals will be awarded to the victors in the contests of the day and Hon. J. R. Stratton has kindly given a gold medal, which will be placed in possession of the member of the T.A.S. winning the greatest number of victories during the entire day.

Mr. Jean O'Brien occupied the chair and Mr. T. Begley acted as secretary of the meeting. On motion Mr. Joe Begley was appointed referee for the lacrosse match. For the other sports Mr. Ed. Hickey was chosen for starter and Messrs. R. J. Frost and Joe Begley as judges. The chairman was given full authority to proceed with the clearing of the grounds, which already have been greatly improved by the removal of the trees which formerly rendered the field useless as a sporting ground, and were of no value for shade. By the energetic manner in which the members have proceeded with the preparations it is evident that the affair will be successful in the fullest sense of the word.

A lacrosse match has been arranged for between the T.A.S. junior team and the Campbellford juniors to be played in that village on Coronation Day. The boys are in good trim and an exciting game will probably be the result.

GOLF.

Miss Genevieve Hecker's unofficial golf score of 7 [illegible] Saturday last over the New York course, was fine proof of the athletic girl's prowess. It is not long since women players were applauded if they finished in "the nineties."

Mont Pelee Buries Basse Terre in Mud

Fort De France, Martinique, June 24.—Mont Pelee shot out yesterday a column of mud over a hundred yards high, which fell on Basse Terre and buried the lower part of the town under about sixteen feet of slime. Twenty-two houses were engulfed.

Le Precheur also suffered from this eruption.

No loss of life is reported from either place.

Basse Pointe and Lorraine had previously been flooded by torrential rains.

The volcano continues to throw cinders over the northern part of the island, which has been rendered uninhabitable.

The river which flows by Basse Pointe has risen suddenly four times since yesterday, and thirty houses have been carried out to sea.

The first flood time a torrent of muddy water forty yards wide and five yards high came down with frightful rapidity. The first houses struck were thrown high into the air.

All yesterday afternoon thick smoke issued from the crater at the head of the River Falaise, and the river has been rushing with such violence that its banks have been carried away and it has taken a new course.

Items of News

TEN PERSONS HURT.

Chicago, June 23.—Ten persons were hurt in a trolley car collision last night. The accident occurred at Clark and 13th streets, a south-bound Wentworth avenue and a west-bound 12th street meeting at the crossing. Each motorman thought he had the right of way, and both cars were going at full speed.

MANY SILK MILLS OPEN.

Paterson, N. J., June 23.—Many of the silk mills were open at the usual hour this morning, but probably less than one-third of the regular number of employes reported for work. Details of infantry and cavalry were on duty at the mills today. There were large crowds near the mills and the streets were full of idle workmen but there was no disorder.

NO PARTY POLITICS.

London, June 23.—The Times' correspondent at Pretoria says that Gen. Louis Botha, speaking of the future of the Transvaal expressed the opinion that one of the main factors auguring prosperity lay in the fact that for years there would not be any party politics to disturb the country. Botha added that Cape Colony constitution ought undoubtedly be suspended.

RUSSIA WITHDRAWS FROM TIEN-TSIN CITY.

London, June 23.—The Pekin correspondent to The Times cables that Russia announces that she withdraws from Tien-Tsin: that she will take no further part in the discussion of the terms for the restitution of Tien-Tsin city and district to the Chinese, and that she will not be a party to imposing upon the new Chinese conditions drawn up by the British general and other allied commanders as a preliminary to permitting a friendly viceroy to resume the work of the Government at his own yamen. By this clever move, says the correspondent, Russia once more shows dexterity in dealing with the Chinese and obtains material advantage.

She gains credit by assisting China in her difficulty, and cast odium upon the British, whom she does not fail to represent as mainly responsible for the retention of the chief city of Pechili Province. The correspondent remarks that Gen. Wogack, the Russian representative of Tein-Tsin provisional government was one of the commandres who drafted conditions which Russia now takes credit for refusing to assent to. Gen. Wogack has left China on his way back to Russia and his place will not be filled.

LARGEST GUN IN THE WORLD.

New York, June 23.—A 16-inch gun—the largest in the world,—will be completed at Watervliet arsenal by Wednesday, and sent to the United States Government proving grounds at Sandy Hook.

It is the most powerful weapon yet devised by man, and is expected to revolutionize the art of gun-making. The work upon this gun has been going on for years. Monster cranes have been constructed in order that the various parts of the record-breaking gun may conveniently shifted.

London, June 23.—A telegram from Dublin to the Times says the Charmorris District Council has adopted a resolution that the black flag be floated over the board room on June 26, and 27. The resolution says the flag is to be floated "in celebration of the coronation of an English King, to whose Government and its predecessors the people of this country are so much indebted for famines, coffin ships, coercion, Castle rule," etc. It was also resolved that other County Mayo Councils be asked to celebrate coronation in the same manner.

Paris, June 23.—One of King Leopold's ablest girl friends, Gabrielle Fisson, known on the stage as Nana, fought a regular duel with her rival, Victorine Gict who calls herself La Marquise.

Both girls were in love with the same man, but this time it wasn't a case of revenge, for Leon Bourbon, though a society man, has only an income of 600 francs a month. All the girls worship him for his shape and his mustache.

The two women met on one of the boulevards and addressed each other in about the same words:

"Thou lovest Leon. I love him also. He can belong only to one of us. Hence we must fight.

After the insulter Nana sent a male friend to La Marquise to arrange the meeting. As La Marquise had her seconds ready, they quickly came to an understanding.

Meeting place: A corner in the Bois, where Count Boni and other hot-heads usually exploit their "affairs."

Time: Six next morning.

Weapons: Stilettos.

Dress: Naked to the waist save silk corset cover or linen shift. No corsets.

The duel came off as provided, and lasted ninety seconds by the watch.

It ended when La Marquise stumbled to the ground, with a jagged wound in her left breast.

At the same time mounted police agents appeared on the scene. The manager of the Folies, where the girls are engaged, had given the information.

Nana allowed herself to be hustled off into a carriage, but the weapon was forced from her hand only after a struggle.

Even then she begged that the blood of her enemy might be wiped off on her handkerchief as a souvenir. La Marquise will die.

As the duel was arranged with all due formalities, seconds, physicians, etc., Nana will probably get off with a few months.

"Never mind," she says, "when I come out I will have Leon."

One Common Cause of Headache

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone, which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the throat and lungs, deafness, bronchitis, asthma and catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size $1.00, trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

NEGRO BECOMES A PRIEST

A Darkey Becomes a Priest of the Roman Catholic Church

Special to The Times.

Baltimore, M.D., June 21.—The Rev. J. Harry Dorsey, colored, was ordained a priest in the Roman Catholic church today. The ordination was performed in the Cathedral, Cardinal Gibbons officiating with the assistance of all the prominent priests of the diocese.

Father Dorsey has the distinction of being the second colored man ever ordained to the Catholic priesthood in this country. He is a native of this city and received his education in the public school here, and subsequently at St. Paul, where he had the extraordinary honor of studying history, philosophy and theology under the preceptorship of Archbishop Ireland. Young Mr. Dorsey remained several years in Epiphany College here and was graduated in 1893. He then entered St. Joseph's Seminary, through which he managed to pass in spite of illness and the peculiar difficulty of the studies he was compelled to master. In all, he has spent fourteen years in arduous preparation for the ministry. Tomorrow he will say his first mass.

OZONE
FOR WOMEN'S ILLS.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is the greatest curative agent in troubles peculiar to women, that scientists have ever known, and so much safer and pleasanter than drugs. Many Canadian women have escaped the dreaded knife. Others made well after hospital treatment failed, through the use of OZONE.—Prove it by writing to the following Toronto women.
Mrs. Harry Mason, 23 Blackburn Place
Mrs. Kells, 561 Church St.
Mrs. Harry White, 327 Young St.
Mrs. Cavan, 988 Dovercourt Rd.
Mrs. J. Caldwell, 40 Bond St.
Mrs. Blach, 13 Irvine Ave.
Mrs. Joseph Blackburn, 11 Northview Terrace.
Write for special book on Women's diseases.

THE OZONE CO.
TORONTO.

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the superb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories. Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year
Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
10 King Street West, TORONTO

The Saving Stock of Health is lots of red and vitalizing blood to nourish and invigorate the body. If your blood is thin and watery use Ferrozone. It supplies the necessary elements, such as phosphorus and iron, and quickly restores lost strength and spirits. Ferrozone is an unequalled restorative for the tired, the sick and the run down. It stimulates appetite, aids digestion, soothes the nerves, and makes the system too healthy for disease to exist. No tonic does so much good in a short time as Ferrozone. Get it to-day from any druggist for 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE

'No Cure, No Pay.' is the Newest Pledge of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills

Editor Morning Times

Sir,—We make the following proposal: one who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, as enumerated below, and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being supplied us to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit $10 for

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

SWEATY FEET
SORE FEET
ACHING FEET
BLISTERED FEET
HOT FEET
INFLAMED FEET
SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

Shun any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper article.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

-AND-

MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.)

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 24 1902

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is 'phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—Thursday will be Coronation Day.

—There was no police court yesterday.

—Saturday was the longest day of the year.

—A meeting of the Board of Works took place last night.

—A business college is about to be established in Lindsay.

—The Chief has a lady's belt for which he would like an owner.

—Don't forget that the trains are now running on the summer time card.

—The 57th Regiment had a drill last night. This will be repeated tonight.

—The establishment of the 57th Regiment has been increased from six to eight companies.

—The Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church is running an excursion to Buckhorn on Coronation Day.

—If you can't find any other way for celebrating Coronation day you may coronate yourself with a big straw hat and go a-fishing.

—The stores of the town will be open on Wednesday night. Thursday will be observed as a holiday by the merchants.

—A beautiful parlor organ, five octaves and eleven stops, for sale for $37.50 It is brand new and cost $300. Apply at Times Bookstore.

—The Proclamation appears in the Canada Gazette enjoining the observance of June 26th as a day of general thanksgiving and rejoicing throughout Canada.

—Those wishing to secure Chinese lanterns and fire crackers for Coronation day will find large varieties at The Times Bookstore. The Young Canada cannon firecracker just in is something entirely new.

—Bogus $5 of the Molson's Bank are in circulation. They are new in appearance and bear the number of 214,356 and are a very poor counterfeit; it is as well to be on the lookout for them.

—Strawberries are selling in almost every other place except Peterborough at four boxes for a quarter. Here the price is 3 for a quarter. How is this?

—The Midland Free Press says that according to a rough estimate there must be 100 cases of measley measles in that town, with considerable scarlet fever thrown in.

—Saturday's Lindsay Post: Mr. Geo. Matthews, jr., of Peterborough and wife and family passed through yesterday to Sturgeon Point where they will take possession of their cottage for the summer.

—The members of the Counties Council who went to Rochester on the Warden's excursion last week, came back on Saturday. All report having had a pleasant time while in the Flower City. Several of them had never been across the lake before.

—The by-law to grant a bonus of $20,000 to the Union Hat Works, of St. John's Que., to locate in Brockville, which was defeated by ratepayers of the latter place some time ago, owing, it is believed, to the conditions not being properly known, is to be submitted to them again on the 30th prox. The company would guarantee to remain in the city for twenty years.

—The adjourned inquest on the body of a child found in the sawdust pit in Ashburnham about two weeks ago, was resumed last evening at the Council Chamber. The view has been held that a crime had been committed, the child having been put to death after birth. However, the physician in attendance at the time testified that the infant had been stillborn and the jury gave a verdict accordingly.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Mr. Jas. Martin and son took a short trip to Port Hope on Saturday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Matthews are enjoying a short outing at Sturgeon Point.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, of Hancock, Michigan, are visiting Mrs. Wm. Wareham, Water street.

—Miss Moloney, trained nurse, has returned after spending some time in Lindsay.

—Mrs. Harper and Miss Mabel Harper of Norwood, are the guests of Mr. and Miss J. B. Harper, Stewart st.

—Miss Ethel Robertson and Miss Georgie Stewart, of Belleville, are the guests of Miss Daisy Hamilton, Ashburnham.

—Miss E. L. Beattie, of the nursing staf of St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, is spending her holidays with her parents, Ashburnham.

—Mrs. D. R. Murray, Miss Wilma, and Mrs. J. S. Swanton, of Lindsay, are spending a few days with Mrs. J. B. Larocque, of the Montreal House.

—Mr. Vic McFadden, who for some time past has been pursuing his studies in the Seminary of Philosophy, Montreal, returned home yesterday for his summer vacation.

—Mr. R. M. Bell, paying teller of the local branch of the Ontario Bank, was yesterday transferred to Ottawa, leaving last night on the midnight C.P.R. His removal is only temporary however and a host of friends will anxiously await his return to the old post.

—Lakefield News: Rev. Father Nolan of North-East Pennsylvania, has been conducting a mission at St. Paul's church, Lakefield, last week. The services, which were very largely attended, closed on Wednesday last. Father Nolan has been conducting missions at Chandos and Keene, and is now holding one at Young's Point, where he is the guest of Rev. Father Phelan.

License Holder's Association

The local branch of the Provincial License Holder's Association held a meeting last night at the Palace Hotel and selected delegates to attend the annual Convention which meets in Toronto today. Quite a number of the local hotel men will attend the Toronto meeting, at which matters pertaining to the trade to the trade generally will be discussed.

To Visit Peterborough

—Thomas A. Duff, of Toronto, Grand Organizer of the Loyal Orange Association, will visit Peterborough on Thursday, June 26th. A meeting will be held in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, at 8 o'clock p.m. All members are requested to attend.

The Water Commissioners Meet

The Board of Water Commissioners held a meeting yesterday afternoon. The proposed extension of the water mains was gone into, and authority given for the work to be proceeded with. The Board having assumed the deficit of $3,000, a new scale of rates will be introduced to take effect in January next. Every town in the Province where a system of water works exists, will be communicated with, so that a scale of prices will be prepared that will be fair to the user as well as to the corporation.

How to Beautify the Complexion

To have a soft, smooth skin, free from eruptions and pimples, the blood must be healthy and pure. Ferrozone invigorates enfeebled blood, and cleanses it of all impurities and poisons; it brings color to the lips and cheeks, brilliancy to the eyes, whitens the teeth and sweetens the breath. No tonic compares with Ferrozone in rapid action and permanent results. Try it. Price 50c., at druggists, or Ormond & Walsh.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure headache.

Enlarging His Store

Mr. R. C. Braund the enterprising south end storekeeper, is busily engaged in enlarging his premises. The business which Mr. Braund has created has assumed such proportions that more space became absolutely necessary. His dwelling house will be taken in as part of the store, increasing it nearly double the present size, and a new dwelling house will be erected. Mr. Braund has made a success of his business and the present move will put him in better position that ever to cater to his increasing trade.

An Hotel Man's Experience

"I had a nervy customer on Saturday" said the wine clerk at the Palace Cafe, to The Times yesterday. A country-looking yap who had seen the free-lunch sign outside, came gawking in, and as soon as he got his bearings made a dive for the solid food counter. In a minute he had made the pickle dish look like 30 cents and had put the crackers and cheese out of business entirely. I glued my eyes on him and sung out: 'Hey there! Have a beer?' He was too busy to talk but shook his head no. 'Mebbe some whiskey?' I says. 'Nope,' he says with his mouth full of corned beef sandwich. Well, say, he was so busy over there that I thought it was up to me to put a stop to it, so I says, sarcastic like, 'How about a bottle o' wine?' 'Much obliged,' says he, 'but when I left home I promised the old folks I wouldn't drink nothin'.' I was so stunned I let him go out without leaving his card. He probably was from Lindsay."

Lightning Remedy for Cramps

Some people have cramps pretty often, others only now and again. But when you do have them its a mighty quick relief you want. Polson's Nerviline is as sure as death to relieve cramps in five seconds—is't instantaneous. just a few drops in sweetened water and the pain is gone. Buy a bottle of Nerviline to-day, and keep it handy. Nerviline is a common household necessity and only costs 25c.

Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake Pills cure constipation.

—A good, smart messenger boy wanted at the Times Bookstore.

BIG MINING DEAL

An English Company Buys Properts at Head of Stony Lake

A telephone message was received last night by The Times from Lakefield stating that the Corundum Mines, at the head of Stony Lake, have been disposed of to an English Company known as the Sapphire Corundum Company, Limited. The capital of the company is a million pounds sterling.

The new company propose to work the mines on a large scale, and will employ about 300 men at once. The product of the mines will be shipped by the Company's steamers to Lakefield, thence to its destination.

This will mean a great deal for Peterborough and the back country, and will be the beginning of what may prove to be the great mining boom for the section.

Street Novelty

It is said that Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Consolidated Shows have at last discovered a novelty for their street parade, something that all managers are in search of and the public will be glad to see. This novelty comprises a series of allegorical representation of the battles of our nation, by the the presence in parade of a troop of soldiers, correctly mounted and uniformed, from all the great American armies from the Revolutionary War down to the war with China, which culminated with the fall of the walls of Pekin. Every costume and flag is absolutely accurate in design and material and the accouterments of the horses are of the same degree of genuine production. The allegories are added to the already stupendous parade given by these shows, and the new things in the parade are greatly augmented by a large number of entirely new cages, chariots, tableau cars, cavalcades, etc. It is by all odds the most pretentious street pageantry ever seen upon American streets, and will be seen when the great Forepaugh Sells Brothers consolidation exhibits here on Tuesday, July 8.

WEST PETERBOROUGH ELECTION

No Protest for This Riding Has Been Fyled at Toronto

Hon. J. R. Stratton is now safe in his seat, no protest having been fyled against his election. Yesterday was the last day for entering obections, and he is therefore now beyond harm.

East Peterborough is also safe for the Liberal candidate, Mr. Wm. Anderson, the talked of protest having fell through.

STRAWBERRIES IN ABUNDANCE.

But They Do Not Come from Local Gardens —Fruit Selling Cheap

While local strawberries have been late in coming in this year and are not yet ripening to any extent for want of sun, there has been a good supply of the fruit, which has been of excellent quality, and has been very cheap, selling at three boxes for 25 cents. The fruit has arrived in large quantities from Grimsby and towns in the Niagara district, but that supply is falling off now and a rise in prices will follow until the local crop comes in. When the local crop is marketed, it is generally thought that it will be heavy, of good quality and reasonable price. The raspberry crop promises well but will be two or three weeks late. The best time for the housekeeper to buy strawberries for preserving will likely be in about a week, but this is dependent on the weather as a few days' hot sun will rapidly ripen the fruit.

An Editor Who Works
(Athens Reporter.)

We ask the indulgence of our readers this week. We have been putting in a new engine, and cutting out the side of the building and putting in a new window, besides building an annex to our carriage barn and making extensive repairs to the cellar wall of our residence. These all required our personal supervision and time, rendering it impossible to do but very little work on the getting up of the paper. Next week we hope to have everything running along as usual and with the help of a new foreman will be in a position to handle all orders for job work promptly.

THE AWFUL COST

What the Boer War Cost—Over a Million Dollars

The total cost to England of the Boer war, including the estimates for the year ending March 31, 1903 is £222,974,000, or about $1,100,000000. A pamphlet of the Cobden Club shows that this is sufficient to establish fifty universities, while Oxford and Cambridge are desperately poor and hardly able to keep their heads above water. This money has been spent "in the partial devastation of two British colonies, and the almost complete devastation of two neighboring republics." Of the money so spent £150,000,000 has been, or is to be, borrowed. The increase of taxation in the United Kingdom since the beginning of the war is £34,173,000 for the current year, and of this sum £17,000,000, or more than one-half, has been the increase of the income tax. This is the proper place to look for the means of carrying on a war, and we can understand how it happens that some of the titled classes, after footing their income tax bills, are asking to be excused from the coronation ceremonies on the ground of expense.

—Trenton has voted upon and carried a by-law for raising $30,000 for the erection of a cold storage warehouse.

—On Thursday next every person in town who possesses a flag should have it displayed in honor of the King's coronation.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH
Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25, $1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75 for..$1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00, for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS ! STRAW HATS !

Plain Straw Hat............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c, $1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

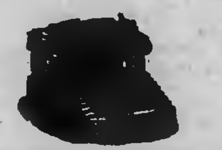
BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

TYPEWRITERS



I deal extensively in TYPEWRITE Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

Address A. E. Wilber's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

Situations Wanted.

COOK—Good Cook wants a place. Address care of Times office.

SERVANT GIRL—experienced—is open for engagement after July 5th. Wages required, $8 per month. Was 3 years in last place. References. Apply at Times Bookstore.

HOUSEMAID—Capable girl requires situation as housemaid or dining room help. Is good plain cook. Margaret Wallis, care Box [illegible].

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $10 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Moore & Co., Room 711 44 and 46 Broadway, New York.

GIRL WANTED at once to learn book binding. Apply at the Times Bookstore, George Street.

DINING ROOM GIRL and good cook wanted. Apply to D. FOLEY, care H. Calcutt, Ashburnham. Wages from $10 to $20 per month.

APPRENTICE WANTED to learn the printing business. Apply at this office.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. commercial rooms.

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

More Hope of Victory

Special to The Times.

Wilkesbarre, June 23.—President John Mitchell's call for a 'joint anthracite-bituminous convention has greatly strengthened the hopes for victory among the strikers in the hard coal region. Until July 17, the day for the meeting at Indianapolis, the strike here will drift as it has been drifting for the past three weeks. The policy of keeping strikers quiet and drawing out on a strike the non-unionists at work in the mines will be continued, but no radical steps in the campaign are expected.

The delay of a month in holding the convention is puzzling to the local men. Although it is argued that the operators are thus given time to load up with soft coal, the miners' officials say the output of bituminous coal can be restricted in a measure.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

Too Busy to Write Ads., Because:

The bargains we are giving in Houses and Lots, Garden Lots and Farms, of all sizes and prices, and the easy terms our long experience enables us to arrange for our buyers, keeps our entire staff hustling from early morning until late at night and still our work is only well begun, as new properties are being listed daily. All are invited to our New Ground Floor Office, so convenient to call when you go to the Post Office, or call up phone 376 for any information desired regarding REAL ESTATE.

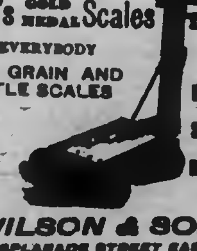
T. HURLEY & CO.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL: GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES



DIAMOND STEEL BEARINGS

GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON
81 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborough, Ont

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

223 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 189, 195 and 215, day or night.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CORONATION DAY
JUNE 26TH,
DOMINION DAY
JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

GOOD GOING JUNE 25th AND 26th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also GOOD GOING JUNE 30th AND JULY 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

GOOD GOING JUNE 24th to JULY 1st, inclusive valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from
W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26
DOMINION DAY

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th
Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st
Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3,

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 148 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO WEDNESDAY JUNE 25 1902 PRICE TWO CENTS

KING EDWARD VII UNDERGOES AN OPERATION FOR PERITYPHLITIS

OPERATION ONE OF SINGULAR SEVERITY SURGEON'S OPINION IS SATISFACTORY

His Majesty Passed Through the Ordeal Successfully and was Resting Easy According to The Latest Reports

Special to The Times.

London, June 24—12.20 p.m.—The Coronation has been postponed indefinitely on account of the indisposition of King Edward.

London, June 24—12.40 p.m.—King Edward is suffering from perityphlitis, and is undergoing a surgical operation.

London, June 24—12.46 p.m.—Sir Francis Knollys, the King's private secretary, has issued the following official medical announcement—"The King is suffering from perityphlitis. His condition on Saturday was satisfactory that it was hoped that with care His Maesty would be able to go through the ceremony On Monday evening a recrudesence became manifest, rendering a surgical operation necessary today.

(Signed) LISTER' THOMAS SMITH, LAKING, THOMAS BARLOW, TREVES.

Lister is Sir Joseph Lister, surgeon Surgeon-in-Ordinary to King Edward famous for the discovery of an antiseptic treatment in surgery.

Thomas Smith is Sir Thomas Smith, Sergeant Surgeon to the King and late vice-president of the Royal College of Surgeons.

Laking is Sir Francis Henry Laking, Physician-in-Ordinary and Surgeon Apothecary to the King.

Thomas Barlow is Sir Thomas Barlow, Physician to His Maesty's household and Professor of Clinical Medicine, and Physician to the University College Hospital.

Treves is Sir Frederick Treves, Sergeant Surgeon to the King and was Surgeon Extraordinary to the late Queen Victoria.

London, June 24—1.06 p.m.—The operation on the King occurs at two o'clock. It is privately admitted that His Majesty's condition is more serious than represented by the medical bulletin.

London, June 24—The operation on King Edward was successfully performed at two o'clock. The King did not lose consciousness and is now asleep.

London, June 24.—2.46 p.m.—The following bulletin has been posted at Buckingham Palace—

"The operation has been successfully performed. A large abcess has been evacuated. The King has borne the operation well, and is in a satisfactory condition."

London, June 24.—3.40 p.m. — The King was progressing very satisfactorily.

London, June 24—4.30 p.m.—It was announced that the King continues to sleep and is progressing satisfactorily.

GRAVE CAUSE FOR ANXIETY.

London, June 24—5.05 p.m.—In conversation with a representative of the Associated Press at 4.30 p.m. that there had been practically no change since the operation. "His Majesty," he said continues to sleep well, and is progressing favorably.

There is no question, however, that the King's condition is extremely critical.

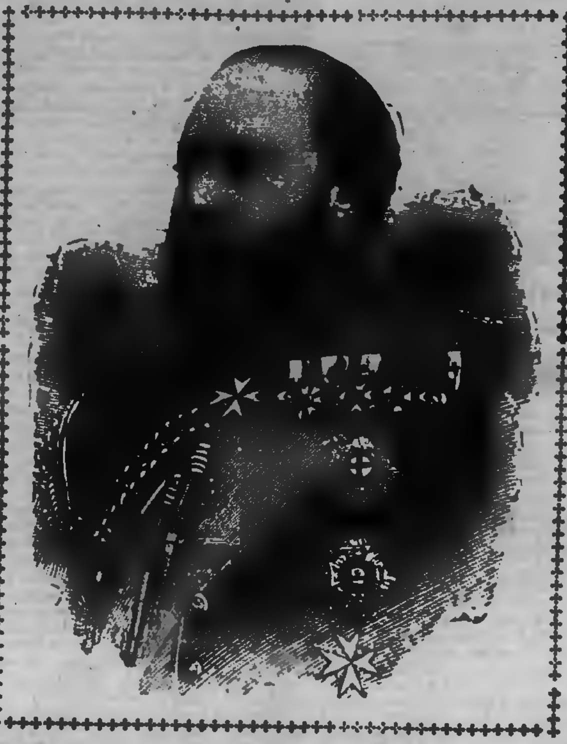
London, June 24.—The first news of the renewed illness of the King came came from the House of Commons, where court officials gave an intimation that the arrangements for Thursday would better be suspended forthwith, as the coronation would be postponed indefinitely on account of the indisposition of his Majesty.

London, June 24.—The Lord Mayor, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, visited the Duke of Fife (son-in-law of the King) late this afternoon. The Duke said His Majesty was peacefully sleeping and that his pulse and temperature were satisfactory.

London, June 24.—The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace at 6 o'clock this evening—

"His Majesty continues to make satisfactory progress and has been much relieved by the operation.

Signed LISTER, TREVES, SMITH, LAKIGN, BARLOW.



A VOLCANO IN ACTION

Near View of the Great Volcano of St. Vincent

A STEAMER DRIVEN BACK

Fury of La Soufriere When In Its Angry Mood

Tremendous Lightning Flashes Above the Crater—The Changed Appearance of the Mountain

St. Lucia, June 24.—The steamer Wear was sent from St. Lucia to carry Government despatches to St. Vincent and to report upon the extent of the eruption of the volcano which has just been reported to have taken place there. The writer and an officer of the garrison applied for and obtained permission to accompany this vessel.

The Wear was to sail at 6 p.m. At about 5 p.m. a steamer was signalled making for Port Castries, and she came to anchor in the harbor about 5.30. As soon as the first person went alongside the captain implored that medical assistance should be immediately rendered, as nearly everyone of his crew of twenty-eight men was dead or dying, having been enveloped in a volcanic eruption off St. Pierre, Martinique. This ship was the Roddam, whose escape has since been described.

In her condition then she was quite unrecognizable. She was incrusted from stem to stern in a layer of volcanic ash of a dead gray color, and it lay several inches thick upon her decks. The funnel, which was previously black, red and white in large bands, was now of the same uniform gray, and her name was almost undecipherable.

This was an illustration for us of what a volcano could do, and we were soon to have other evidences of the same kind. As the Wear steamed past the Roddam, the destruction was clearly seen. Derricks adrift, the stanchions and part of the awning aft hanging over the stern, and the whole vessel bore evidence of the fury of the fiery tornado through which she had passed. With such a sight before us, and such dreadful accounts ringing in our ears, the Wear started up on her voyage.

All the way across huge flashes of light could be discerned from the direction of the Soufriere at St. Vincent, these flashes on each occasion being accompanied by roars as of distant thunder.

The captain of the Wear was a native of St. Vincent, and knew the coast well. About midnight, to our great alarm, while the crater was flashing and thundering away on our left, the vessel ran into a dense mass of volcanic ashes and dust falling over the sea in all directions, through which it was impossible to see further than a few feet.

DANGEROUS SAILING.

This continued to get worse and worse until it was hardly possible to stand on deck except under cover and it became difficult to breathe, as eyes, nose and mouth were getting choked. All hands were posted at various points of the deck peering into the black void, but nothing could be seen except the flashes from the crater, which appeared to be constantly in eruption some two or three miles away on the port bow.

Suddenly the vessel ran into calm water and the lookout man in the bow cried out "Cliffs ahead!". The helm was instantly put over hard a starboard and the ship came round. The lookout now cried "Land on the port side," but soon afterward the vessel ran into rough water again and we were clear.

The noise of the crater was kept on the starboard quarter, astern of us, and after long steaming the showers of ashes became less and less, and eventually we ran into a clear atmosphere. Soon afterward the ship was put on a new course, and again we ran into falling ashes, but on this occasion the showers were lighter and we soon got out of the dust.

THE SOUFRIERE.

Shortly afterward land was observered on the port side and we went at half speed until it was ascertained that we were well down the leeward coast of St. Vincent. Then full speed was ordered and we reached Kingstown at 5.15 a.m., five hours late.

After emerging from the belt of falling ashes the view of the crater in its constant activity was awful to behold. What appeared like a gigantic pillar of smoke rose straight up into the heavens, and hung steadily over the mouth of the crater.

TREMENDOUS LIGHTNING FLASHES

Through this at every roar could be observed flashes of light. This pillar appeared like an enormous mass of electricity. Flashes of forked lightning were constantly being emitted from it, like fiery serpents, running up and down the pillar and crosswise, sometimes three or four flashes at the same moment without any intermission.

We made several attempts to count the number of flashes to the minute, but they were so many and constant that it could not be done. The mountain was infinitely more impressive in its grandeur that night than when seen in the midst of its activity on the passage back next day.

We found that Kingstown had the previous afternoon been covered with a layer of dust and small stones, and the residents were much alarmed. Many deaths had already been reported from the neighborhood of the Soufriere, among them some of the principal planters of the island and their families.

There were reported to have been in nearly all cases killed by lightning—those dreadful flashes we had ourselves seen on the voyage.

While we were at Kingstown an enormous pillar of smoke or steam rapidly covering the heavens came floating from the volcano, covering the island. Shops and houses were quickly closed and the residents gazed upon it terrified. Eventually it spread in all directions and gradually floated away.

SUFFERING OF THE ISLANDERS.

At Baronallie the Rev. Thomas Huckerby, the newly appointed Wesleyan minister at Chateau Belair, came on board and gave us sad stories of distress. Ashes fell in places two and three feet deep and were still falling, he said. All the refugees from the interior were crowding to the coast places, and food was running short, and there was no water. Some refugees had tramped for thirty-six hours through the volcanic dust without any water whatever, and all the cattle were dead or dying.

THE MOUNTAIN IN ERUPTION.

At Mr. Huckerby's request, we called again at Baronallie on our return, and towed his boat from there to Chateau Belair, where there were said to be about 700 refugees.

It was when nearing Chateau Belair that the mountain could be seen in all its grandeur. The summit was covered with a dense cloud, but the side of the mountain was clearly visible.

Everything was blackened and seared, only the stumps remaining of the large forest trees that three days before had covered the slopes. From every foot of this slope streams of a liquid having the appearance of lava were rushing down into the valley below.

The impression it gave me was that of a large net thrown over the mountain side, every mesh and strand of which was a lava stream. Huge volumes of steam were thrown up where the lava entered the stream.

At this spot what appeared to be new land of a reddish brown color could be clearly observed running out from the base of the cliffs to the sea on an easy gradual slope. The sea itself was covered with the wreck of trees, etc., brought down from the land.

STEAMING AROUND THE LAND.

At this moment the wind veered slightly, and the dense cloud of ashes and mud, falling seaward as far as the eye could reach, which lay right in our track for St. Lucia, began slowly to roll down toward us. A few moments later Mr. Huckerby cast off and we entered this belt, but for a few moments only could we face it, and the ship was put about and we ran out of it.

About five miles further seaward it appeared as if there was a clearer opening in this belt, and we steered for it and again attempted to pass through, but unsuccessfully. The ship was instantly enveloped in this cloud, and although we only penetrated about 300 yards, when we emerged everything was gray, and there was about a quarter of an inch of ashes on deck.

The Agonizing Pains of Rheumatism

Swollen, aching joints, muscles are stiff and sore, every movement accompanied by pain. The most potent remedy is Polson's Nerviline, which has five times the pain-subduing power of any other preparation. Apply the Nerviline copiously, rub it on well and then bind in a hot flannel bandage. This will cure the worst cases in a short time. Try Nerviline for rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica or lumbago—it's all right and only costs a quarter.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

DAWSON CITY AS IT IS INTERESTING LETTER ABOUT THE NEW MADE CITY.

A Building Craze—Many Handsome Residences Going Up—Dawson as a Residential City

Miss Wilkins, daughter of Mr. James Wilkins, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Welbrun, of Dawson City for a couple of years past, in a letter to her father under date of May 29, writes entertainingly of the far northern city, as it is today. Miss Wilkins says:

"Business is very slow in Dawson just now, there is very little doing except building, and there is a craze for that. Every empty space on the main streets is being filled no with a store. And such large ones! I do not see anything to justify such a proceeding, because every different line of business is already well represented, and none but the ice cream parlors seem to be doing a great deal. Summers & Orrell—formerly of London—have moved into a new store. I think they have done very well in Dawson.

"Then there are so many pretty cottages being put up, especially on the hillside behind the business portion of the town. The view is very pretty from the hill, and that makes it a very desirable location for a summer residence.

"I do not think you people back east have a very accurate idea of what Dawson is like. From the hillside it looks like a great block divided into exact squares—the streets are laid out so regularly. You can look down to the west, and the river lies right before you, running north and south. On the opposite bank is West Dawson, a tiny village. There are a number of gardens over there and greenhouses. There is a tower trolley, on which the boats go and come from West Dawson. It is quite interesting to watch them operating the trolley. The current is so strong that the boats cannot cross without floating down stream a considerable distance, and turning up the other side: so they have adopted this method to save time, and it is very successful.

"Then you get a splendid view of the docks. Just at present there are about fifteen steamers in from different points along the river. It is a pretty sight to see them flying their different flags, and it makes one feel as though they are in the world again. Looking in the same direction you can see all the large companies' stores and the residences of the different consuls. Nearly all of the dwelling houses and all of the stores and ffices are flying flags. They are all represented—the Germans, French, Austrians and American, and above all the Union Jack.

"Then to the north-west are the Catholic buildings, which are very fine—the church and palace, hospital and schools. They have a very pretty location. Looking south you see the barracks, with all their offices and they have quite nice grounds, and the court house and Governor's residence, both fine buildings, and also the two fire halls.

"Then right in front of you are the Presbyterian, Episcopalian and Methodist churches and the Salvation Army headquarters, and behind the churches is the large, new administration building. The Presbyterian church and manse are also fine modern buildings and would be a credit to any city, and our own church (Methodist) presents a very pleasing appearance, although we are not quite as fine as our neighbors. The Episcopal is an insignificant building, but they are going to erect a new one. The Salvation Army have quite a lot of property and keep their buildings looking very nicely.

"In the centre of the city is the post office and a little further up is the public school, which is an up-to-date building in every way. Then there are a number of large hotels fixed up very attractively. Then all around you are pretty cabins and cottages, all with verandahs, looking very pretty indeed with their hammocks and cushions and flags. It is a very pretty scene altogether with the hills for a background.

"We are gypsies here in the summer, living out doors almost entirely."

Lord Salisbury's Statement in the House of Lord's Reassuring, King Asks to See the Prince of Wales.

Special to The Times.

London, June 24—10.30 p.m.—Consternation was caused in the hotel Cecil tonight, where many of the Colonial Premiers and other distinguished visitors are stopping, by a report brought from the Palace by one of the King's servants who is in attendance on the Premiers that oxogen is being administered to His Majesty.

London, June 24.—Lord Salisbury, in the House of Lords today said:

"All we can do at present is to hope and pray for the best, and console ourselves with the knowledge that the surgeons entertain a most satisfactory view in regard to the progress of the distinguished patient. More definite language than this is impossible. An operation of singular severity has been performed, and leaves behind it every hope of a prosperous issue. Some weeks will elapse before His Majesty is restored to his usual health. The progress of his Majesty towards convalescence will be accompanied by the sympathy and sincere hopes and affection of his subjects."

Statement in the Commons.

The House of Commons was crowded today by members and others who were anxious to hear the expected statement of the Government leader, A. J. Balfour, on the subect of the King's illness. After reading the early bulletins referring to his Majesty's illness, Mr. Balfour said he had intense gratification in saying that a successful operation had been performed on the King, and that his Majesty was progressing as well as possible.

"That announcement" proceeded Mr. Balfour," removes a great load of anxiety from our minds. My first first inclination on hearing the melancholy news this morning was to suggest that the House mark its sense of the disaster that has befallen the whole community by adjourning. But on more careful reflection I have come to the conclusion that such a course is ill-advised. The anxiety we all feel must be great and that anxiety is necessarily augmented by the circumstances under which the disaster has befallen the royal family and the whole country. I have come to the conclusion that if the House were to take the exceptional course to which I have adverted, that which is now anxiety in the public mind might become a panic, and a wholly exaggerated idea of the present state of things might go abroad. The state of things is undoubtedly grave, but we ought not to use stronger epithets in regard to it than those I have just used and I am convinced that if we were to consider the King's condition to be such that it would be improper to carry on the business of the country, we should produce a wholly false impression. In these circumstances, we do not propose to suggest any exceptional course, and I am only thankful to have been able to inform the House, that, so far as we know, at present everything is going on as well as can possibly be expected."

The Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, expressed his entire approval of the course taken by Mr. Balfour, and the House resumed its ordinary business.

King Asked for Prince.

Immediately after recovering from the operation the King asked for the Prince of Wales, and it was annouced that a bulletin would be issued at 6.30 p.m. and a final one at 11 p.m. The fixing of these times was regarded as a good sign. Lord Salisbury, the Premier, and other members of the Cabinet, called at the Palace during the day. The Cabinet has been summoned to meet at 6 o'clock this evening.

Taking Away Decorations.

The work of demolishing the stands and all the paraphernalia prepared for the Coronation pageant was in full swing during the later part of the afternoon. Hundreds of workmen who this morning were engaged in putting finishing touches on the various jobs were busily engaged in tearing down all that has taken weeks to accomplish. The barriers in the streets were being removed the barricades merchants had constructed to safeguard their shop windows were rapidly disappearing, vans filled with garlands and multi-colored bunting stripped of masts and house fronts lined the streets, and London promised soon to resume its usual appearance.

In conversation with a representative of the Associated Press this afternoon a high Government official said there was undoubtedly very grave cause for anxiety. His latest information from the palace was that the King had successfully passed the chloroforming stage, but nobody could say definitely for the next 24 hours how matters would turn out.

HOLIDAY IN CANADA TO BE CANCELLED.

Ottawa, June 24—The Secretary of State, Hon. R. W. Scott, the senior Cabinet Minister in Ottawa, told your correspondent this morning that a proclamation will be issued at once withdrawing the order for the observance of Coronation Day on Thursday.

"'I shall have," he said. "'a special of the Canada Gazette issued at once, declaring the holiday throughout Canada off. This is the only thing for us to do under the circumstances. The whole Empire must be shocked by the suddenness of the attack. Let us all hope that our King has the strength to pull him through."

CABLE FROM LAURIER.

Ottawa, Ont., June 24. —The following message has been received by Sir Richard Cartwright from Sir Wilfrid Laurier:

"London, June 24.—Have to report very sad intelligence of his Majesty's serious illness. Has to undergo operation this afternoon. Coronation ceremonies indefinitely postponed."

THE COLONIALS' PLANS ALL UPSET.

London, June 24.—The King's illness and the postponement of the Coronation created something like consternation at the Hotel Cecil this morning, and upset all the plans of the Colonial Premiers.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was much better to-day. He attended Mr. Chamberlain's reception last night. He called at Lord Lansdowne's house this morning, and was out for a drive this afternoon. In view of the complete upheaval Sir Wilfrid's future movements are quite undecided.

The Alexandra Palace Trustees have apologized to the Canadian and other troops for the fiasco of the military tattoo.

IOWA MOB KILLS A MURDERER

Surrounded His House and Shot Into It Until He was Dead

Special to The Times.

Jefferson, Ia., June 24 — City Marshal Swearingen was shot and instantly killed this morning by S. M. Shipman, whom he sought to arrest. The latter was killed by a mob, and the town is now in an uproar.

The trouble originated when two boys on the way to a circus said something about Shipman, which caused the latter to throw stones at them. They swore out a warrant for Shipman's arrest, and the City Marshal went to Shipman's house to serve it. In response to the knock, Shipman fired twice, killing Swearingen instantly.

News of the shooting spread and a mob surrounded Shipman's house bearing weapons of all sorts. The house was literally riddled with bullets. One from the sheriff's revolver is believed to have inflicted the fatal wound. After Shipman's death the mob dispersed.

COLONIAL CONFERENCE WILL MEET ON JULY 3.

London, June 24—The opening of the Colonial Conference has been fixed for July 3—It has been decided that the conference will sit every day except Saturday and Sunday, and will last a fortnight

WINTER OVERCOATS IN JUNE

Lots of Them Out—Mighty Chilly Weather for the Month of Roses

Winter overcoats were a common sight on the streets since Sunday morning, and the men in them didn't look as if they cared whether the fan makers went on strike or not. At night more men went out with their heavy clothes and winter coats on, and the rest stayed home and hugged the kitchen fire.

Last Sunday was the coldest Sunday in June anybody could remember, and the fact was frequently remarked that the longest day of the year had been passed by and there hadn't been any real warm weather.

It has been a most unusual half year. February was about the most agreeable month of the six. There were many indications of early spring last winter, but never for years has the fair and fickle creature been so backward.

There are indications now, however, that warm weather is coming, so that those who were afraid they were going to be done out of their summer vacation may take heart. This g.f.j. will venture to prophesy a warm spell in July.

122 Miles in 120 Minutes

Special to The Times.

Altoona, Pa., June 24 — While the public has been watching the speed records of the new flyers on the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, Engineer Birney Rorke of Harrisburg, has been quietly discounting the achievements of the big passengers by bringing mail train No. 11 over the middle division at a mile-a-minute clip. This morning he beat his own record, making the run of 122 miles in 120 minutes. This is the fastest long run on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Wall St. Interests are most entertainingly and plainly portrayed in our 400 page, clothbound, illustrated

"Guide to Investors,"

it is most exhaustive and complete, in dealing with the subject: its statistics are absolutely reliable and correct. The best methods for successful speculation are fully discussed and presented, by writers of long experience. The work contains highest and lowest prices for from 10 to 20 years; complete reports of every security, dealt in upon the Exchanges, together with maps of the various Railways. We issue it free for the asking. Shall we mail you a copy? If you are an investor in trade or stocks, our will prove of interest to you. Mailed free, every afternoon. We solicit orders, both large or small for purchase or sale, for cash or on moderate margin.

"Daily Market Letter"

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Established 1890. Main Office, 53 B'way, N.Y.

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.

Peterborough, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

COMMISSION ONE EIGHTH—The only licensed N. S. Stock Brokerage Corporation in business by permission of the Royal Government of the Province of Ontario.

W. F. NELSON, Peterborough.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depar
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal... ...	6.10 p.m	11.25 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.23 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston ...	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.25 a.m.	6.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate...	7.23 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West...	11.25 a.m.	6.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.25 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	3 00 p.m.	5.38 p.m.
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.35 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.20 a.m.	9.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.25 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.13 p.m.
Lakefield local	6.50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at $3 per year strictly in advance.

UNION LABEL

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 25, 1902.

A NOTABLE LETTER

Sir Cavendish Boyle, Governor of Newfoundland, writing from St. John's under date of May 16, to the London Times, in a letter which appeared in that journal on May 26, called attention to the valor of the Canadian troops making special mention of Pte. Charles Napier Evans. He also emphasized the fact, not always remembered, that though Newfoundland did not raise a contingent for South Africa, many of her hardy sons, equally devoted to the imperial cause, came to Canada and enlisted in the various units that they might share in the work and glory of defending the Flag and upholding the unity of the empire. Canadians will appreciate this intervention of Sir Cavendish as at once a tribute to his imperialism and to his interest in matters Canadian. His letter to the Times follows:

"To the Editor of the Times:

"Sir,—The death in battle of one of Canada's sons has recently been noticed in the Dominion papers; but I am not aware of any special mention of it in English journals. If I am mistaken I would offer you my apology for thus encroaching upon your time; otherwise the following brief record may find a place in your columns:

"Charles Napier Evans, a native of Port Hope, in Ontario, enlisted at the age of 26, in February, last, as a private in the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles for service in South Africa.

"During the engagement at Kleinharts river." (I quote from Ottawa publications), "standing alone in the face of the onrushing Boers, every comrade, dead or disabled, Evans, himself mortally wounded, fired his last cartridge, and then broke his rifle over a boulder, preferring death to surrender.

"A Canadian by birth, a graduate of the public and high schools of Ontario, a scholar, an athlete, and a member of the volunteer militia force, his spirit of loyalty had been imbibed and nurtured under purely local influences, and it is on this account particularly, that his fellow countrymen are so proud of his performance; by his simple but splendid action he has won imperishable renown both for himself and his country.

"There has been, no doubt, numberless deeds of bravery performed in South Africa, deeds which even if recorded, have not been made known to the general public; and Canadians, justly proud of the gallant action of Evans, have, perhaps, hesitated to give it publicity at home—how those words ring with imperial unity. But Canada has, in common with the other great dependencies of the crown, freely furnished her quota towards the maintenance of the empire's right — and amongst the Dominion battalions I rejoice to think that many from Newfoundland—unable herself to furnish a separate contingent—have found their way to the front, and have borne themselves as brave men, therefore, in admiration of the spirit of loyalty and devotion throughout the empire called forth by the present war, I venture to ask that through you this brave soldier's death may be brought to the notice of the thousands at home, who, informed of it, cannot fail to join with their brothers over sea in its full appreciation."

THE SALUTE AROUND THE WORLD

To many the most impressive feature of the coronation of Edward VII. will be the naval salute around the world to be given by British war vessels in the ports of the empire. In this way the historic event will be heralded throughout the British possessions, and the might of Britain on the seas will be emphasized. At the supreme moment the signal will be given at Spithead, and response will be made in the ports of every British possession where a British war vessel is stationed. It is a subject upon which British loyalty naturally grows eloquent. No other demonstration could so dramatically impress upon Englishmen, and, indeed, upon the world, the extent of the British colonial empire and the provision that has been made for its defence. The London Telegraph rapturously says:

"The homage of King Edward's fleets rolling from shore to shore, will add yet another impression of Empire to all our experiences, and make us feel, as we have never felt before, that England, with a foot on every Continent, and a fleet in every sea, is the one and only Power which, as the old ballad has it, can 'rise with the sun and ride with the same until the next morning he riseth again.' * * * So the whole circle of Empire will be expressed by the most wonderful girdle of sound which man has ever yet put about the earth. Nothing imaginable could have been better calculated to interpret at once the glory and the genius of that vast political system over which the coronation will solemnize King Edward's sway. We have seen in the South African war that the navy, and the navy alone, is the fundamental and indispensable agency by which the Empire subsists. Even in our warlike emergencies, the most purely military in appearance, our army would be no more effect without sea supremacy than would the arrow without the bow."

The Telegraph truthfully exclaims that never since gunpowder was invented by Roger Bacon and artillery by Berthold Schwarz has a coronation been attended by anything remotely approaching "the homage of iron throats which has superseded the clashing of shields." It was eminently fitting that the omnipresence of the British naval power should be demonstrated in this striking way, by a salute around the world. The British fleets are maintained and constantly augmented at vast expense, but they are necessary, if the Empire is to "subsist" in its present extent and with its present prestige. Long ago it was resolved that its naval strength should at least equal that of any two Continental Powers.

The fleets of other countries aspiring for sea power are continually increasing. This imposes a heavy burden upon Great Britain. Disarmament is more remote than ever, and England can permit no pause in her naval preparations.

The expenditure voted for the British navy this year was $154,375,000, an increase of $900,000 over that of last year. It will add twenty-seven new vessels of all types to the already great array of warships, while twenty-five of the old vessels will be improved and modernized. The Admiralty, following the example of Germany and France, resolved the improve the armament of many of the old armored ships. The effectiveness of the fleet has been challenged of late. Its usefulness may have become impaired, but the Admiralty are evidently resolved to bring it up to the modern standard of effectiveness. The navy will play an extremely interesting role on the coronation occasion.

"How could the spirit of British sovereignty be conveyed in a way which would make a simultaneous appeal to the imagination not less of the colonies than the mother country? * * * The answer has been found in the idea of the salute round the globe, to be given on Coronation Day by the squadrons of the King's navy throughout the seven seas."

The Transvaal and Orange River Boers have all surrendered and there are 16,000 of them. The Cape Colony rebels will add to the list enough to boost it beyond the 20,000 mark,—about as large an army as the Boers were credited with at the beginning of the war.

St. Jacobs Oil

The greatest remedy in the World because it never fails to cure

RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA
SCIATICA LUMBAGO
PLEURISY
HEADACHE
TOOTHACHE
FACEACHE
EARACHE
BACKACHE
STIFFNESS
SORENESS
SPRAINS

And all Bodily Aches and Pains. It penetrates and removes the cause of pain.

Conquers Pain

CORPORATION OFFICERS.

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Beck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, R. A. Peck, Wardle, Davis, and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Crossley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. J. Bamford.

Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,

HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will offer suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at	40c
Suspenders	15c
Overalls, with bib, at	45c
Smocks, at......................	90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailo
One door south of Montreal Bank.

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

If my mother had meant to send me on a mission to the West Wing to discover something of importance to her interest or my own, I thought that, without doubt, I should begin my quest in the octagon-room. Probably many papers of hers were kept there, and only to-day I had come into possession of a bunch of keys which unlocked, among other things, the drawers of the old escritoire at which she often wrote.

I would have given almost anything if she had been able to finish the sentence broken short by death, for I could not bear to feel that there was an ardent wish of hers which I might not be able to carry out. But I could only do my best to guess at her meaning, groping in the dark; and as the sound of her voice rang in my ears like an echo from the past, I was pricked to eagerness in the desire to carry out her instructions—at once, without delay.

It was not yet eleven o'clock, and no time would be better for my quest than night, when there would be no prying eyes about, no whispering tongues.

To-morrow, at half-past ten, Roger was coming to Arrish Mell Court, from the inn at the village of Lull, close by, where he was spending the night. He had said that he wanted to have a talk with me on business of importance; and, as he had been my mother's lawyer for the past few years, I fancied it might have to do with money matters. I had begged for a respite of a few days before business of any sort need be discussed, but Roger had urged that everything must remain at a standstill until the matter had been thrashed out between us, adding that he was only stopping at Lull for the purpose; so that I had consented to see him. He would probably keep me talking long, and would have to be invited to luncheon (since life must go on in the usual way, even in a house of sadness); therefore, if I put off my visit to the West Wing now, I must wait, at all events, until to-morrow afternoon.

I had sent Swift to bed, and I was sure that the other servants had gone to their rooms also—were probably fast asleep by this time, for it had been a long, tiring day, and we were very early people at Arrish Mell Court.

I took up a branching silver stick, holding two candles, from my mantel, and went into the corridor outside my bedroom, which was dimly lighted for the night by one hanging lamp. At the end of this corridor was a baize door, which opened into the West Wing.

I was not a cowardly or superstitious girl, for my mother had brought me up in stern creeds, and I had no fear of going at night into a part of the house which happened to be unoccupied. Without a quiver of the nerves I opened the baize door, and moved from a region of comparative light into one which would have been dark but for my two flaring candles. I went on, threading my way through several intricate passages, past the empty, closed bedchambers, until finally I arrived at the door of the rooms which had been sacred to priest and chaplain.

There was a legend that these and the private staircase which led down to the disused chapel were haunted by the uneasy ghost of a certain priest, dead in the days of Oliver Cromwell. He was supposed to have betrayed the master of the house to the enemy, and killed himself in remorse, ever after walking by night up and down the stairs or through his old rooms, telling his beads and wringing his hands. But I had almost forgotten this story, and there was no thought of it in my mind as I grasped the handle of the door.

Suddenly, as I was about to open it, I heard a faint stirring on the other side.

CHAPTER V.

A Midnight Search.

I paused, and my pulses gave a quickened throb. Who could be in the octagon room at this time of night?

I thought that I saw the tall form of a priest, in a long black robe, standing at the escritoire, his back to me, and, brave as I fancied myself to be, I grew cold with a chill more subtle than the sudden current of damp air could have struck into my blood. I remembered the legend of the priest, and for the first time in my life I felt the prickling shudder of superstitious fear.

I had brought with me no matches, even if I could have found presence of mind to use them; and, as a soft sound of footsteps began pattering nearer to me and to the door, I turned and ran. In the darkness I stumbled against some object unseen, and dropped the candlestick with a loud crash, that went echoing through the silent house; but I did not stop. Knowledge of every passage, step and turning, carried me instinctively at last to the baize door, and beyond that there was light. In each corridor of that part of the house most lived in a lamp burnt faintly through the night, and it was like waking from a dream of terror to come back into the peaceful twilight.

Suddenly, I was afraid no more, and I was ashamed of myself that I had been afraid. To test my courage, I determined that I would go to my own room, take the little reading-lamp which stood on a table by the bedside, and return to the octagon room.

I was sure now that only my imagination had conjured up the image of the tall black priest, and as for the violent draught of cold air which had extinguished my candle, possibly the storm had blown open one of the windows. The reading-lamp was shaded with a globe, and I thought that its flame might be proof against an attack of swooping wind.

But the nearer I came to the door of the octagon room the more possible did it begin to seem that, after all, there might be a foundation of truth for old ghost stories. Still, I would not be driven back by nervous terrors, and once more I laid my fingers on the door handle. This time there was not a sound within, and, strangely enough, the air on the other side was no longer disturbed. My lamp did not even flame as I crossed the threshold. This

To be Continued

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make. SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE. ALL FURNISHINGS AT COST AND UNDER.

H. E. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS, 353 GEORGE STREET

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers: LEITH, Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE

ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.
MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST.
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 130 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{90}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interests is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $85.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited. A Canadian Company with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c $12 50

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a silver lead mine situated in British Columbia, Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $50.00 to the ton. SHARES 10c $5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends. SHARES 50 cents...... $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good returns guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents...... 12 50

Total value...... [illegible]

275 SHARES...... ......FOR $50 [illegible]

100 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. O. BENSON & CO.
FINANCIAL AGENTS
217-218 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

The New York Times
Saturday Review
of Books.
$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—in fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy,"
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell,
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author, "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet,
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English, at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York

The New York Times
SUNDAY EDITION
$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique, its many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General
Trusts Corporation.
ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL - - - - - $1,000,000
RESERVE FUND - - 270 000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast
Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS
JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D., - President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, W. H. BEATTY, - Vice-Presidents.

JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government the Corporation is accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice for the investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRATOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures competent action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELRY, CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description. FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR, Managing Director.
A. D. LANGMUIR Assistant Manager

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue, Post Free. [illegible]

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits. [illegible]

POPULAR PARCEL $6.30

[illegible] curtains [illegible] On receipt of Post Office Order for $6.30, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth. [illegible]

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established [illegible]

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Advertise in The Times, —Everybody reads The Times.

Navigation

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 3 a.m	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 5 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 5 a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $50 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... .... June 25th
Mongolian...... ....July 9th.

S.S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to: W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd
River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S.S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN, Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply to W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. for Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 1.00 p.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.
Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO
[illegible]
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)
EVERY THURSDAY

Leave Cobourg at - - - 7.00 a m
" Port Hope at - - 8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at - 12.30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at 5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Excursion return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday 7.00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday - 3 00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of).

EVERY SATURDAY
Leaves Belleville - - - 11.00 a m
" Trenton - - - 1.15 p m
" Brighton - - - 2.45 p m
Arrives Charlotte - - - 7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager, Picton, Ont

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA."
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—
NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, LEWISTON, and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9 00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m. [illegible] (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY, General Manager, Toronto, Ont

Navigation

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT, Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer
Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay
ESTURION
JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv	6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	7.15 a.m.	"	4 10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar	8.40 a.m.	"	5.30 p.m.
"	Lv	11.00 a.m.	"	5 45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	12.10 p.m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar.	1.15 p.m.	"	8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.
MANITA
JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER—TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon............Leave 7 00 a. m.
Bridgenorth............Arrive 9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth ....Leave 3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon............Arrive 5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON, Up-town Agt., G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG, PORT HOPE, ROCHESTER, N. Y.
STEAMERS
"NORTH KING" AND "CASPIAN"
Daily Route Commencing June 29

SOUTH BOUND.
Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... ......2.00 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... ......3.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ....8.15 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets) ....8.45 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.
Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets ....9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ....9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... ......[illegible] p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... ......3.50 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to,

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Swann, Agent Port Hope

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"
CAPT. W. SCOLLARD, Master.

For week ending June 28th, the Majestic will connect as follows:—

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday will leave Lakefield on arrival of morning train, returning to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

On Thursday there will be no regular boat. Monday morning, June 30th, will leave Lakefield on arrival of the evening train for the lakes.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor
Lakefield, June 23, 1902.

SOME STIRRING TIMES AHEAD IN IRELAND

The Government to Go After The Land League

WRITS OUT FOR LEADERS.

Drastic Measures About to be Adopted Against Irish Agitation

Now That the Boer War is Over Measures will be Taken to Put a Stop to Irish Troubles

Special to The Times.

London, June 24—Now that the Boer war is over, it is believed that the government will punish the Irish agitators, who are stirring up strife in that unhappy land. Writs have been issued from the Vice-Chancellor's Court in Dublin to restrain John Redmond and twenty-nine of his colleagues from pursuing the land agitation in Connaught and for damages for alleged injury done to Lord de Freyne by the United Irish League.

De Freyne is the nominal plaintiff, but it is a Government scheme advised by the Attorney-General.

This proceeding has caused a big sensation both here and in Ireland.

John Redmond, M.P., the Chairman of the Irish party, gave the World correspondent the following statement in explanation of this suit.

"Chief Secretary Wyndham having funked in suppressing the United Irish League in the ordinary way, now hopes to do it through the instrumentality of a notorious partisan judge. He has caused a suit for damages and for an injunction to restrain members of the Governing body of the League to be brought in the Vice-Chancellor's Court, a proceeding without a precedent. This judge, the willing instrument of the landlord party, will issue the injunction demanded. Then when any enjoined Irish member makes a speech he will have the member up for contempt of court, put him in jail without trial for an indefinite period and without appeal. He will also, under the law of contempt as it exists in Ireland, seize the papers and documents of the League, attach its funds and the private funds of the enjoined members.

"This is by far the most formidable step against this movement the Government has taken in Ireland for many years, and the most cowardly. It means a national movement and that Dublin Castle is once more in death grips. If it should succeed, it would end in the personal ruin and imprisonment of all the leaders in the movement. But that would have consequences satisfactory neither to the Government nor the landlords.

"It is evident that we are going to have stirring times for the coronation in Ireland."

THE AWFUL COST

What the Boer War Cost—Over a Million Dollars

The total cost to England of the Boer war, including the estimates for the year ending March 31, 1903 is £222,974,000, or about $1,100,000000. A pamphlet of the Cobden Club shows that this is sufficient to establish fifty universities, while Oxford and Cambridge are desperately poor and hardly able to keep their heads above water. This money has been spent "in the partial devastation of two British colonies, and the almost complete devastation of two neighboring republics." Of the money so spent £159,000,000 has been, or is to be, borrowed. The increase of taxation in the United Kingdom since the beginning of the war is £34,173,000 for the current year, and of this sum £17,000,000, or more than one-half, has been the increase of the income tax. This is the proper place to look for the means of carrying on a war, and we can understand how it happens that some of the titled classes, after footing their income tax bills, are asking to be excused from the coronation ceremonies on the ground of expense.

WAR HAS COST $170,326,596

Secretary Root Furnishes Senate With Desired Information

Special to The Times.

Washington, June 24 — Secretary Root yesterday answered the senate resolution asking for information as to the cost of the war in the Philippines. Following are the expenditures by years:

Fiscal year 1898 (two months, May and June), expended $2,686,850; liabilities nil.

Fiscal year 1899, expended $26,230,672; liabilities nil.

Fiscal year 1900, expended $50,868,543; liabilities nil.

Fiscal year 1901, expended $55,767,422; liabilities $12.

Fiscal year 1902 (ten months, July to April, inclusive) expended $34,490,062; liabilities $473,868.

Total expended, $169,853,516; liabilities, $473,871.

The total cost of the war up to date, including outstanding liabilites, is $170,326,596. For the expenses of the commission $50,000 was advanced, but this was afterward reimbursed out of the Philippine treasury. Secretary Root calls attention to the fact that a large amount of property, included in the expense statement, was still in the islands and ready for future use. Other expenses incurred in keeping up the army would have had to be met whether the soldiers were in the Philippines or not.

COLONIAL CONFERENCE WILL MEET ON JULY 2.

London, June 24—The opening of the Colonial Conference has been fixed for July 2—It has been decided that the conference will sit every day except Wednesday and Sunday, and will last a fortnight

The White Star Line.

It is not perhaps generally known that the White Star Company, whose accession to the Morgan pool created so deep an impression in England, run New Zealand and Australian lines of steamers. For many years the Australian trade was carried on by the company's fleet of sailing vessels. These were sold, and replaced by a line of five steamships running between Liverpool and Australian ports, via the Cape, viz., the Afric, Medic, Persic, Runic and Suevic. The New Zealand service dates from 1883. Three vessels are employed, and each of them makes the voyage round the world twice or thrice a year. The steamers in this service are the Gothic, Delphic and Ionic. They are specially fitted for dealing with the frozen mutton trade. The White Star also owns a Pacific line worked by the Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company of San Francisco. The Gaelic, Coptic and Doric are the White Star ships in this branch. They run between San Francisco, Yokohama and Hong Kong. The remaining vessels of the White Star Line are exclusively employed on the Atlantic. The service is double—a fast passenger and mail service and also one for cargo and cattle. Below is given a complete list of the steamships hitherto owned by the White Star Line, all of which have been built by Messrs. Harland & Wolff.—

	Date built.	Gross tonnage.
Oceanic	1899	17,274
Cymric	1898	12,647
Afric	1898	11,984
Medic	1898	11,984
Persic	1899	11,984
Runic	1900	11,984
Suevic	1900	11,984
Georgic	1895	10,077
Majestic	1890	10,000
Teutonic	1889	10,000
Cevic	1894	8,301
Delphic	1897	8,273
Gothic	1893	7,755
Bovic	1892	6,583
Nomadic	1891	5,749
Tauric	1891	5,727
Germanic	1875	5,070
Britannic	1874	5,004
Cufic	1883	4,827
Ionic	1883	4,748
Doric	1883	4,676
Coptic	1881	4,352
Gaelic	1885	4,205
Pontic, Tender.. ..	1883	395
Magnetic, Tender.	1890	619
Total		190,202

Improve the Brood Mares.

We think the great reason why so many ordinary horses are bred on the farms comes from relying wholly upon the stallion and paying little attention to the character and breeding of the mares. In horses uniformity is worth money in any market, especially in those of good class, whether they are heavy draughts or carriage teams, and you cannot get uniformity in the produce except through kindred blood. You cannot breed a mare of Percheron and trotting blood and other with coach, Clydesdale and trotting blood, to the same stallion, and get a pair of matched colts. Nature will not belie herself, and she has declared so often and emphatically that "like produces like," and what you sow so shall you reap, that it is useless to attempt longer to do the impossible.

So, the first thing a farmer should do when he starts raising horses is to get brood mares of the class he wants and with more or less of the blood of the breed he proposes breeding them to—the more the better. This will be found equally advisable whether he proposes raising draughts, carriage horses or roadsters. And such mares should not be matched haphazard, but after careful examination of the stallion and his breeding, and of some of the colts if possible. But do not condemn a stallion because he gets some poor colts until you examine their dams. As a rule, you will find most of the trouble is with the mares, not the horse, although, of course, there are worthless stallions of all breeds.—Michigan Farmer.

Summoned His Father.

An immaculate-looking boy about twelve years of age, clad in a good Eton suit and snow-white collar, once appeared in the witness-box of a London Police Court, according to a recently published volume of reminiscences.

"Please, sir, I want a summons."

"Against whom?"

"My father, sir."

"What has your father done to you?"

"Please, sir, he has assaulted me."

"That was very wrong of your father. Why did he do so?"

"Please, sir, he said that I had been rude to my sister."

"Did he, though? Yes, you can take a summons."

"Please, sir, how much will it be?"

"Two shillings, my little man."

"Please, sir, I am under twelve. Can't I have it half price?"

"Oh, no, my boy; we have no half prices here."

"But I have only one shilling, sir."

"Then you must go and get another before your summons can be issued."

They thought they had done with him, but no; in a short time the boy came back with another shilling, and the summons was issued. One day therefore father and son appeared in court. The father, a portly, well-dressed man, was boiling with rage, and could scarcely restrain himself while the boy gave evidence and told how his father had beaten him.

"Has your father ever assaulted you before?" the Magistrate asked. "No, sir, this is the first time." "I am sorry for that," said the Magistrate, "because I am going to dismiss the summons—on one condition only, and that is, that your father takes you home and gives you a double dose of what he gave you last time." And, turning to the father, "and mind you do it, sir."

"I will cheerfully carry out your Worship's instructions," the father said.

"Having formally [illegible]" said the President of the [illegible] club, "we must now [illegible] aim of our society."

"[illegible]" asked the [illegible] "A [illegible] notoriously bad."—Philadelphia Press.

Seventy-Five St. Louisan Eats Dirt.

Newest and most singular of St. Louis sects are the dirt-eaters, a community of seventy-five men and women whose Moses is William Windsor. The dirt-eaters take every day a spoonful of dirt. Their leader believes that grit is necessary to every animal, and that because mankind will have no dirt in his food he is subject to many stomach troubles that no other animal has. So the dirt-eater goes every day to his little sack of soil. He plunges a teaspoon in and brings it forth heaped with good old earth. He washes it down with a glass of water, smacking his lips and blinking his eyes as though no morsel e'er tickled the palate of man so deliciously as dirt.

Dirt-eating is easy—when one is a child or an experienced dirt-eater. At all other times it is hard, and it must be learned. It is not easy to forget that it is dirt. It is not reassuring to think that the particles of dirt in the stomach might cause a thousand diseases now unknown because dirt has been kept out of the stomach for hundreds and hundreds of years. But after a while the dirt-eater develops his appetite. He comes to relish his dirt as a girl loves her fudge. He carries a sack of it with him, and whenever he is seized by a feeling that he is getting away from the animal plan upon which he was created, he steps into a corner and regales himself with a loam lunch. The dirt-eater is particular, though, what sort of dirt he eats. He would be no true epicurean if he were not. This article of his singular diet is technically a sand. It comes from the river bottoms, and is made up of many little particles of granite, marble, quartz, and flint well rounded with age. The chief dirt-eater has the sand collected and sterilized, and he distributes it among his followers at 25 cents a sack. The sack is small, but it holds a good deal of sand. So that daily dirt-eating after the St. Louis fashion costs about 20 cents a week.

Dirt-eating in St. Louis is six months old, and flourishes like a green bay tree. The chief dirt-eater looks happy and prosperous. The lesser dirt-eaters have every day a keen hunger for their dirt, and they bring in their friends. The dirt-eaters have pretentious quarters. They are up at Eighteenth and Olive streets, in what was until recently the home of the Merchants' League Club. Here the chief apostle of dirt-eating, Mr. Windsor, has offices and a lecture-hall. He receives visitors during the day, and every night he lectures to his class. He has now seventy-five men and women who attend his lectures and eat dirt.

This is an amusing sect, and amuses no one more than its founder. Kris Kringle himself is not a more rotund nor more rollicking character than Dirt-Eater Windsor. He is fifty. He is bald. He has the Senator Bill Mason build. He can sit in a chair and tweedle his thumbs on his stomach, which they say is the piece de resistance in happiness.

"Are you the chief dirt-eater?"

"Yes, sir, I'm the chap. I've eaten my peck a hundred times over. Dirt is good."

Then he laughs as fat men can laugh, and brings out a sack of the sacred soil.

"Have a dirt sandwich with me?"

"No, thanks."

"What are you afraid of—sandbar in the stomach?"

Then he takes a heaping spoonful and swallows it with that sly wink with which a Kentucky colonel takes his whiskey. He sends a glass of water to chase it, and heaves a huge sigh of content.

The Courtship of the Future.

He—Do you love me as much as ever?

She—Oh, more. Since I received your thought registering machine I have been so close to you!

"And I to you. By the way, where are you?"

"I'm in Naples. And you?"

"In Harlem. I came here from London. Did you hear me call you up at midnight last night?"

"Yes, dear; but I could not answer. I had just eaten a broiled lobster, and the psychic current wouldn't respond."

"Sometimes I wish I could see you—hold you in my arms."

"What nonsense! That's so unnecessary."

"But an actual kiss!"

"There! Feel that? Wasn't that nice?"

"For a vibration, yes. But I can't help feeling——"

"Nonsense! You're such an old fogy. By the way, when shall we be married?"

"The sooner the better."

"Well, I will arrange it all. We can have the ceremony performed, if you like, by the Graboni system."

"All right. And the wedding trip?"

"Oh, we can take every morning, say from eight to ten—that is, if you can get away from business."

"But wouldn't it be nice to take it together? I should like—nay, I long, actually to hold you in my arms."

"Why, you goose, don't you see that would spoil the whole romance?"—N. Y. "Life."

Why Jason Was Late For School.

Schoolteachers get some curious written excuses for absence. Here is one: "Mister sir, my Jason had to be late to-day. It is his bizness to milk our cow. She kicked Jase in the back to-day when he wasn't looking or thinking of her actin' so; he thot his back was broke, but it ain't. But it is black and blue, and the pane kept him late. We would get rid of that cow if we could. This is the fourth time she kicked Jase, but never kicked him late before. So excuse him for me."

* * *

A Georgia man, who has gone to Washington in search of a Government job, gives as his qualifications: "I can not only write poetry and novels, but there ain't a Government mule that can throw me!"—Atlanta "Constitution."

In describing a certain variety of tune, Mark Twain said it reminded him of the sound made by a cow in dragging her hind foot out of a swamp.

Mrs. Tossyce (as Willie backs away from the dinner table)—Now, what do you say, dear? Willie (after a hard think)—My! It's so long since we had company before, I've clean forgot.

"The Umbrella."

An English exchange makes the following remarks with reference to the umbrella:

"It seems that the same Sherlock Holmes-like instinct which is prepared to reconstruct a man's whole mode of life from a study of his cigarette ends has now been brought to bear upon the umbrella, and the expert umbrellist is prepared to give a complete character-sketch of any individual, with the principal events in his past and future history, after a critical survey of his behavior with an umbrella. For instance, if a man is observed carrying an umbrella over a lady's head in such a way as to preserve her Bond street hat from the rain, while a little stream trickles softly down the back of his own neck, it is pretty safe to prophesy that she is his Best Girl. If, on the other hand, it is his own gasometer which is kept dry, while the trickle is reserved for the lady, it is a safe thousand-to-three on that she is his wife. When a man carries an umbrella horizontally under his arm, it is generally a sign that someone is shortly going to have his, or her, eye put out. When a brand-new umbrella is deposited with a lot of others in the umbrella-stand of a club, it is frequently a sign that it is about to change owners. There are many other ways in which the umbrella may be taken as an indication either of coming events or of character, but the Best Girl, who has been running her eye over the above, says emphatically that it is perfectly absurd to judge any average man from his umbrella. When pressed for a reason she explains sarcastically, 'Because it so seldom belongs to him!' And there is something in that."

Dooley on the Romantic Novel.

But lithrachoor is th' gr-reat lifewurruk iv the modhren woman. Th' conthrol is passin' into th' hands iv th' fair sect, an' th' day will come whin th' wurrud book will mane no more to an ablebodied man thin th' wurrud gusset. Women write all th' romantic novels that ar-re anny good. That's because iv'ry man thinks th' three hayroe is himself an' ivry woman thinks he's James K. Hackett. A woman is sure a good, sthrong man ought to be able to kill anny number iv bad, weak men, but a man is always wondherin' what th' other la-ad w'u'd do. He might have th' punch left in him that w'u'd get th' money. A woman niver cares how many men are kilt, but a man believes in fair play, an' he'd like to see th' polis intherfere about Chapter Three.

Woman writes all th' good romantic novels, an' reads thim all. If anny proud la-ad in th' gum business thinks he riprisints th' ideal iv his wife's soul, he ought to take a look at th' books she reads. He'll l'arn there th' reason he's where he is because he was th' on'y chanst, not because he was th' first choice. "T w'u'd humble th' haughtiest prince iv thrade to look into th' heart iv th' woman he cares most f'r an' thinks last about, an' find that, instead iv the photygraft of a shrewd but kindly man with a thriftin' absence iv hair on his head an' a burglar-proof safe on his watch charm, there's a pitcher iv a young la-ad in green tights playin' a mandolin to a high front stoop. On th' stoop, with a rose in her hand, is his lawful-wedded wife, th' lady Annamariar Huggins iv Peetone. Ye can't keep her away fr'm a romantic novel. No matther what Edward Atkinson tells ye, she prefers "Th' Age iv Chivalry" to th' mos' atthractive housewurruk. — "Century Magazine."

A Different View.

"I never like to go to the theater with Fred. He always goes out between the acts." "You mean he comes in between the drinks."

Very Little Difference.

"Is that an historical novel you're reading?" "That's what they called it at the library, but it seems to me to be more hysterical than anything else."—Chicago "Record-Herald."

An Esquimaux Tradition.

There is a remarkable tradition amongst the Esquimaux which explains why the women in the north are deft with the needle while those of the south dance nimbly. Long ago the northland was inhabited by men only, and no woman had ever come among them. It was noised abroad that far away in the south one woman dwelt alone, and one of the northerners set his face southward and journeyed until he reached the woman's dwelling. In course of time he married her, and rejoiced that he had a wife while the son of the headman of the north was still a bachelor. But meanwhile this same bachelor was traveling southward with the same object in view, and, coming to the house while the man was within, hid himself and waited until night fell. Then he forced his way in, and, seizing the woman, began to drag her away. The noise, however, woke the husband, who grasped his wife's feet, and both tugged violently, with such effect that the poor body was torn in twain, the robber going off with the upper half only. The rightful husband carved a body of wood and fastened it to his wife's legs, while the other man completed his half in a similar manner, each addition receiving life as soon as finished, two women being thus made out of one. But, although the woman of the south could dance nimbly, her wooden fingers prevented her from embroidering, while the woman of the north excelled only in needlework, and thus originated the characteristics of the women of the south and north.

* * *

Edward Everett Hale said at the celebration of his eightieth birthday last month, "I never had but one enemy, and last week, when I was trying to think of his name, I found I had forgotten who he was." This is better than keeping him in mind by making plans every day for "getting even."

"There, now, Clara, how would you like to be those people who can't get home from Paris because their funds gave out?" "Well, dear me, Clarence, they are better off than we, whose funds gave out before we got started."—"American Register."

OPINION OF AUSTRALIANS

THE PREMIER AND THE LEADER OF THE OPPOSITION

With Reference to a Preference to Colonial Grains — Mr. Reids Say the Agitation in Australia is "Impudent."

London, June 24.—In anticipation of the colonial preference the speeches of prominent Australians with regard to the grain duties are recalled as indicating the course they will advise at the July meeting. Speaking in Melbourne with reference to the proposal to give preferential treatment to the products of the colonies, Mr. Barton, the Premier of the Commonwealth, said:—"It is understood, I believe, that we need all our grain and flour ourselves at present, but the giving of preference to our growers will unquestionably have a good effect in the near future. It would encourage them to increase the production, and generally would be advantageous. If these grain and flour duties are carried they will give a larger basis than before to work upon in a mutual preference scheme. Hitherto the articles upon which reciprocity has been possible have been very few, and have not extended very far beyond Australian wine. To the extent, therefore, that the area of discussions will be enlarged, these duties will be useful. I cannot say until after further consultation with my colleagues, whether Australia, through the Government, is as yet prepared to enter into a full and comprehensive preferential arrangement. The whole subject is to be dealt with at a conference between a British Government representative and the Premiers of States in London at coronation time. It will then be given, without doubt, all the attention and care it unquestionably deserves."

Mr. Reid, the leader of the Opposition of the Commonwealth Parliament, declared that the movement was an impudent one, so far as Australia is concerned. "To ask Great Britain," he said, "to give us concessions here in Australia, while we are imposing large taxation and giving no preference to British manufactures, is nothing short of impertinence—sheer impudence. As to Canada, I must qualify my remarks, for the Dominion has shown some consideration to and gives some slight preference to British manufactures, and to the extent of the concession they are now entitled to look forward in the matter of grain and flour to a reciprocal arrangement. I am not adverse to the consideration of the question of reciprocal trade relations between the Mother Country and Australia, but the consideration must be governed by larger ideas as to the nation's welfare than prevail now in Australia. I believe firmly in Britain's welfare as a great empire is bound up in her open-door policy. If Britain abandons the open-door policy, and closes the now free avenues of trade against France and Germany, and the rest of the world, she will sacrifice one of her strongest bulwarks. She will at once have largely to increase her standing army, and face the responsibility of becoming a military nation."

In conclusion, Mr. Reid, said:—"If Great Britain cannot hold her own at home, she cannot hope to do so on the broad ocean. The open-door is her soundest and best policy, and it is our duty to recollect that to ask for concessions where we give in return only oppression, is sheer impudence."

AN ISSUE IN DENMARK

Opponents of the Sale Active But Weakl Supported

Copenhagen, June 24.—The opponents of the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States are again active, but they admit they are meeting with little success. The response to the appeal for funds to aid in the movement in opposition to the sale was decidedly weak. The meetings are held secretly, but beyond a few politicians, they have mostly been attended by business men interested in the proposed steamship line to the island of St. Thomas. The Government discountenances the anti-sale agitation. The Danish West Indies Treaty will be a prominent issue of the campaign preceding the elections to the Landsthing. The Premier, Dr. Deuntzer, starts on a speechmaking tour next week.

IS PERHAPS IN CANADA

Leprous Syrian is Deported From United States in Detroit

Ottawa, June 24—Dr. Sprague, of Detroit, has sent a report to the surgeon-general of the United States Marine Hospital Service, stating that a suspected case of leprosy was encountered at Detroit on May 22 in the person of an alien immigrant from Syria.

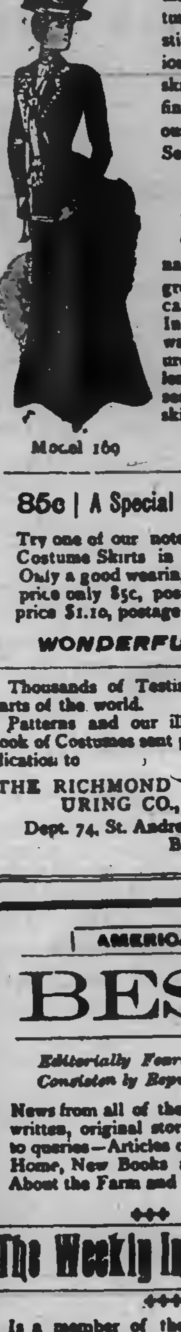
The man gave a story of having landed at Halifax, N.S., about the middle of March, and having remained in Canada until May 20. The diagnosis was confirmed by bacteriological findings. The man was certified for deportation immediately following the first examination. The question now arises whether he is in Canada or has gone back to Syria. Dr. Montizambert, Director of Public Health, says he has no official knowledge of the case.

NATIONALIZING THE BOER.

A despatch from Pretoria to the London Times, dated June 9, shows that the Anglicizing of the Boer is about complete, and shows how it was done. The despatch says:

"The remarkable feeling of comradeship displayed between the British soldiers and the Boer is a leading feature of the surrenders everywhere. The soldiers have behaved magnificently, not a single word being uttered which could possibly hurt the feelings of the defeated burghers, who are most enthusiastic in their appreciation of this considerate treatment. They declare that they never expected such magnanimity, and that the British soldier is a thorough gentleman. Every Boer on his arrival received first of all a pint of beer and was then supplied with as much food as he wished."

Tommy Atkins welcoming his new brother Briton with first of all a pint of beer and then all the grub he could eat is nothing if not English.



$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.
LIMITED.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made of our noted Chevio Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from al parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST

Editorially Fearless.
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly InterOcean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression

MAUDE MASSON, Principal.

Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture

CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.

[illegible]

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R-I-P-A-N-S Tabules. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
for Ladies.

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50 from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria, British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

Advertise in The Times

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, ENG. | Send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 334 pages, and all the original illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 336 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 336 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE

An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 169 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 357 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.

Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips, cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S
ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings Medicine Co
185 YONGE ST., TORONTO

King Edward VII.
Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Flashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "FLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

BIG G

CURE YOURSELF!

[illegible]

Lead and
Small Block Tin Pipe

[illegible]

WILLIAM STREET, TORONTO.

VARICOCELE

I guarantee my Latest Method Treatment to be a permanent and positive cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without cutting, stretching or loss of time. In Varicocele it absorbs the bagging, or wormy condition, equalizes circulation, stops pains in the groins, also all drains, thereby giving the organs their proper nutrition, vitalizes the parts and restores lost powers; in Stricture it absorbs the Stricture tissue, stops smarting sensation, nervousness, weakness, backache, etc., while in all prostatic troubles it is the treatment par excellence. So positive am I that my treatment will cure you, you can

PAY WHEN CURED

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. This should convince you that I have confidence in my Latest Method Treatment, otherwise I could not make you this proposition. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, call or write me.

Each Time You Call You See Me Personally,

Or each time you write it receives my personal attention. The number of years I am established in Detroit, and the cures I accomplished after given up by other doctors, has placed me as the foremost specialist of the country. CONSULTATION FREE. Call or write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. All medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor, Ont. All duty and express charges prepaid. Medicine sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., COR. WILCOX ST. DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up)...... $12,000,000
Reserved Fund...... 7,000,000
Undivided Profits...... 976,521
General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO

SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend for the three months ending 30th June, 1902, being at the rate of

6 PER CENT.

per annum, has this day been declared upon the capital stock of this institution, and that the same will be payable at the offices of the company, Peterborough, Ontario, on and after

Wednesday, the 2nd day of July next.

The transfer books will be closed from the 15th to the 30th of June both days inclusive.
By order of the board.
W. G. MORROW, Manager
Peterboro, 6th June, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL
BARRISTERS
OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

HENRY C. MARA — ALBERT W. TAYLOR

Mara & Taylor

Members Toronto Stock Exchange
STOCK BROKERS. 5 TORONTO ST

Orders promptly executed on the Toronto, Montreal and New York Exchanges

JOHN STARK & CO.

26 TORONTO ST. TORONTO.

Stocks Bought and Sold

ON TORONTO, MONTREAL AND NEW YORK EXCHANGES
Correspondence Invited.

Legal

DOUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, Barristers and Solicitors, 419 Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. F. Doussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street. Money to loan. R. A. Peck, R. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 314 Park, Photo—Fitting into Line— Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo. A. FRY 314 Park Street

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOsit to roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 18 Toronto Street Toronto

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 381 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No 382 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

WANTED—A house of 7 or 8 rooms with all modern conveniences. State location and rent wanted. Address P. O. Box No 21 town

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS

SEALS, PRICE MARKERS

10 King Street West, TORONTO

THE COUNTY COUNCIL

Conclusion of the Business of the June Session

Committee Reports Were Presented and Adopted—Road and Bridge Matters—Report of the Committee Deals Matters—The County Levy on the Different Municipalities

The following is the remainder of the proceedings of the concluding session of the County Council, held on Saturday:

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Anderson, chairman, presented the following report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges:

1. Your Committee recommend that action be taken upon the application of the County of Victoria for a special grant to the Kinmount bridge over Burnt river in Somerville.

2. Your Committee recommend that the moneys still unpaid to the Township of Smith, under section 8 of the report of your Committee, adopted on the 27th day of January, 1900, be left in the hands of Mr. George W. Fitzgerald as Commissioner for the same, he to furnish a certified statement in detail of the manner in which said moneys shall be expended.

3. Your Committee recommend that the report of the County Engineer be received and adopted.

4. Your Committee recommend that the County Engineer, after due notice to all interested parties, construct an additional 500 feet of longitudinal flooring on the Pigeon Creek bridge.

5. Your Committee recommend that the County Engineer be instructed to place guide booms in connection with the swing opening in the Chemong Lake bridge.

6. Your Committee recommend that the matter of re-flooring the Burleigh bridge be left in the hands of the Warden and County Engineer with power to act.

7. Your Committee recommend that the matter of repairing the Young's Point bridge and the Nassau bridge be left in the hands of the Warden and County Engineer, with power to act.

8. Your Committee recommend that the matter of replacing the floor and joists of the Crombie bridge be left in the hands of the Warden, Mr. R. A. Peck and County Engineer, with power to act.

9. Your Committee recommend that the matter of repairing the Buckhorn bridge be left in the hands of Mr. Robert Shaw, with power to act.

10. Your Committee recommend that the cost of the repairs to Evans' bridge be paid upon the order of the chairman of the Finance committee.

11. Your Committee recommend that the action of Mr. George W. Fitzgerald with respect to the repairs to Dunlop bridge on the boundary between Monaghan and Cavan, at an expense of $75 for flooring, and $20 for filling, and all payments made be confirmed.

12. Your Committee recommend that Payne's bridge in the Township of Dummer, and the Burnt Mill bridge in the Township of Belmont, be assumed as County bridges.

13. Your Committee recommend that the share of the salary of W. J. Downer, caretaker of the Locks bridge, to be paid by the County, be $45 a year, commencing on the 1st day of July next.

14. Your Committee recommend that paragraph 8 of the report of this Committee adopted on the 31st day of January, 1902, be amended by striking out the words, "provided the Government contributes $1,000," and that the words, "provided the Provincial Government contribute $1,000," be substituted therefor, and that said paragraph 8 as amended be confirmed.

15. Your Committee recommend that the matter of rebuilding or repairing Union Creek bridge on the boundary between Somerville and Galway be left in the hands of County of County of Victoria, with power to act, this County agreeing to pay for the proportion of the cost on being furnished with a detailed statement of the expenditure duly certified.

WM. ANDERSON,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Hon. Mr. Stratton, who was present, was, on motion, asked to address the Council. Mr. Stratton said his only came at the instance of the Harvey and Galway commissioner in regard to the appropriation for the floating bridge at Gannon's Narrows. He explained his his position in regard to the first grant asked for this work. It being more than perhaps the Government might like to give, He saw by the report the appropriation asked from the Governments had been reduced, and that, therefore, there might be hope of carrying it through. Mr. Stratton also referred to the Union Creek bridge, which, he said, was in bad condition, and the Government might take an interest in the work, Mr. Stratton also explained what the Government had done in regard to the Kinmount bridge, and he said Victoria should not be bothering this County, under the arrangements offered.

Bylaws confirming the adoption of the several reports were adopted.

THE COUNTY RATES.

Mr. Pearce introduced a bylaw fixing the assessment to be raised as county rate by each municipality. Under the equalized value the assessments are as follows:

Ashburnham	$1,062,32
Lakefield	698,06
Norwood	695,97
Asphodel	2,354,72
Belmont	771,23
Methuen	41,73
Burleigh	91,27
Anstruther	58,41
Chandos	181,94
Dummer	1,334,30
Douro	2,197,82
Ennismore	1,018,73
Galway	193,35
Cavendish	22,66
Harvey	52,28
North Monaghan	1,360,63
Otonabee	5,121,64
Smith	3,752,39
Havelock	263,10

The by-law was given its readings and passed.

A SPECIAL NOVEMBER SESSION.

Mr. Pearce also introduced a bylaw authorizing the issuing of debentures to meet the expenditure on roads and bridges.

This bylaw was given two readings and third was postponed until a special meeting to be held on the 10th of November, the bylaw in the meantime to receive the necessary publication as required by law.

The Council then adjourned.

The County's New Valuation.

The Valuator's Figures are Changed in the Case of Each Municipality, The Changes Made and the Valuation as It Passed the Council and Finally Stands

One of the most important questions up for consideration at the meeting of the County Council at the session which closed this morning was the new valuation and the fixing of the equalized assessment for the county.

It will be remembered that Messrs. Hawthorne and Edmison completed their work as county valuators and made in their report at the January session of the Council. This report made changes in the valuation of all the municipalities and was the cause of more or less objection in the different townships or villages. The County Council did not deal with it at the January session, but allowed it to stand until the June session.

THE VALUATORS' FIGURES.

In order that the figures may be before all the ratepayers of the county, the Review again gives the report of the valuation as made by the valuators at the January session:—

MUNICIPALITY	Valuation	Local Assessm't	Per Cent.	Total Ass'ment	Increase or Decrease	Equalized Value
Ashburnham	40,250	42 485	5.552	469,853	*26,086	443,764
Havelock	14,425	13,950	3.405	141,905	4,831	146,736
Lakefield	34,776	36,150	13.76	298,945	*41,180	257,785
Norwood	22,150	21,723	1.955	206,320	4,036	210,356
Asphodel	128,000	124,225	6.258	843,160	52,765	895,925
Belmont	40,700	23 435	73.672	180,575	133 035	313,610
Methuen	2,250	1,675	40.304	15,050	6,065	21,114
Burleigh	7,800	11,014	41.206	64,789	*26,696	38,093
Anstruther	4,550	5,472	20.263	33,247	*6,738	26,510
Chandos	6,400	4,072	57.171	56,110	32,078	88,188
Douro	108,700	97,420	3.366	767,658	25,846	793,504
Dummer	87,550	88,560	1.496	614,505	*9,193	605,311
Ennismore	55,650	49,025	13.513	357,990	48,375	406,366
Galway	6,500	3,420	90.058	50,600	45,567	96,169
Cavendish	1,950	1,110	71.052	7,430	5,279	12,708
Harvey	23,700	19,830	19.396	176,535	34,240	210,774
N. Monaghan	56,550	56,400	0.266	596,225	1,585	597,810
Otonabee	264,500	261,250	1.244	1,978,308	24,610	2,002,918
Smith	190,180	186,890	1.760	1,457,935	25,665	1,483,600
					*Decrease

A COMPRAISON.

In order to allow a comparison to be made between this new valuation as made by the valuators and the former valuation the following figures are given:—

	New Eq. Value.	Old Eq. Value.
Ashburnham	$ 443,764	$ 370,373
Havelock	146,736	57,886
Lakefield	257,785	209,847
Norwood	210,356	201,927
Asphodel	895,925	915,300
Belmont	313,610	279,645
Methuen	21,114	10,979
Burleigh	38,093	32,116
Anstruther	26,510	18,427
Chandos	88,188	51,073
Douro	793,504	805,259
Dummer	605,311	587,611
Ennismore	406,366	377,429
Galway	96,169	59,944
Cavendish	12,708	4,716
Harvey	210,774	191,061
N. Monaghan	597,810	556,522
Otonabee	2,002,918	2,013,299
Smith	1,483,600	1,537,391
Total	$8,650,244	$8,361,097

THE COMMITTEE'S FIGURES.

These were the figures that came before the County Council in committee in considering the matter. Needless to say there was much discussion and many changes proposed, in line with what was proposed by the deputations which had appeared before the Council. Changes were made in every township, but really these changes all round make little difference in the amount to be contributed, as the reductions in each case were pretty much the same proportion of the increase or decrease that had been made by the valuators.

The valuation as it finally was decided on in committee and as it went through the Council and now stands is as follows:—

Ashburnham	$ 407,008
Havelock	100,808
Lakefield	228,866
Norwood	206,141
Asphodel	905,660
Belmont	296,627
Methuen	16,046
Burleigh	35,104
Anstruther	22,468
Chandos	69,630
Douro	844,431
Ennismore	391,818
Galway	74,596
Cavendish	8,712
Harvey	200,917
North Monaghan	577,166
Otonabee	2,008,108
Smith	1,520,496
Total	$8,506,164

A comparison can be made of these figures, which are the basis now of the county levy, with the old valuation and with the valuators' figures, both of which are given above.

THE CHANGES MADE.

To assist in this comparison, however, the figures showing the changes made in committee may be given.

The valuators' figures were lowered in the following cases and by the following amounts:

Ashburnham	$36,086
Havelock	45,928
Lakefield	28,919
Norwood	4,714
Belmont	16,982
Methuen	5,067
Burleigh	2,988
Anstruther	4,041
Chandos	18,558
Dummer	18,960
Ennismore	14,468
Galway	21,562
Cavendish	4,096
Harvey	9,856
North Monaghan	20,644

The valuators' figures were raised in the following cases and for the following amounts:

Asphodel	$ 9,735
Douro	50,927
Otonabee	5,190
Smith	36,896

At the Council meeting this morning the amount required from each municipality was fixed in accordance with this valuation as it passed the committee.

Municipalities may appeal to the County Judge, but it is questionable whether any of them will or not, although an effort was made to change North Monaghan's and Douro's valuations when the report came up in Council, but these efforts were not successful, each motion simply having the support of the two representatives of the municipality.

Turning Down the Doctors

The marvellous cures of Catarrhozone are being much talked about. Thousands are daily recognizing the exceptional merit of this simple inhaler treatment, and instead of running to the doctor with their winter ills, they protect themselves with Catarrhozone; it kills cold in the head in ten minutes, quickly relieves catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, lung troubles, and cures even though all other remedies have failed. Catarrhozone is very pleasant, safe and convenient to use. It's best recommendation is its enormous sale; try it to-day. Price $1.00, small size 25c, at druggists.

Advertise in The Times.

Reducing Soft Coal Output

Clearfield, Pa., June 24.—The Executive Board of District No. 2, United Mine Workers, in order to aid the anthracite mine strikers and to prevent the filling of anthracite contracts with bituminous coal, today issued an order fixing the working days of each week at four instead of six. The order continues:

Therefore, all miners in the territory named are requested to suspend work on Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week where coke ovens are to be charged, and on Fridays and Saturdays of each week at all plants where there are no coke ovens, the restriction to commence on June 25 and 27.

Some Results of Impure Blood

A blotched, pimply, disfigured face, feeling of exhaustion, wrecked nerves, headache and a dull brain. The proper cure is one Ferrozone tablet after each meal. Ferrozone clears and beautifies the complexion by making rich, pure blood. It restores the enfeebled brain and unstrung nerves to a healthy, vigorous condition. It invigorates all the physical and mental powers, and brings strength and ambition to the depressed. Refuse a substitute for Ferrozone—it's the best tonic, rebuilder and invigorator known. Price 50c., at druggists, or Ormond & Walsh

MURDER NEAR LONDON.

London, Ont., June 23.—Augustus Sinham, an Oneida Indian, was brutally murdered about 1 o'clock yesterday morning at the Woodbine Hotel, midway between this city and Springbank. He had been drinking with other Indians, but it that his murderer was a white man who struck and kicked him to death. According to the story of one of the murdered man's companions, he accosted a couple of white men, and being repulsed by them, remarked that he had a right ton the highway. One of them then stepped out and struck and kicked Sinham. No arrests have been made so far, but the police are working on clues to the murder.

OZONE

FOR WOMEN'S ILLS.

Powleys Liquified Ozone is the greatest curative agent in troubles peculiar to women, that scientists have ever known, and so much safer and pleasanter than drugs. Many Canadian women have escaped the dreaded knife. Others made well after hospital treatment failed, through the use of OZONE.—Prove it by writing to the following Toronto women.

Mrs. Harry Mason, 23 Blackburn Place
Mrs. Kells, 561 Church St.
Mrs. Harry White, 327 Young St.
Mrs. Cavan, 988 Dovercourt Rd.
Mrs. J. Caldwell, 40 Bond St.
Mrs. Black, 13 Irvine Ave.
Mrs. Joseph Blackburn, 11 Northview Terrace.

Write for special book on Women's diseases.

THE OZONE CO.
TORONTO.

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE

GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories. Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year

Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

Woman Defaulter a Suicide

Special to The Times.

Richmond, Va., June 24 — Mrs. E. A. Scott, postmistress at Prospect, Va., committed suicide at her home last night by tying one end of a rope around her neck, the other to the banisters and jumping over.

She left a note to her husband saying she was several hundred dollars short in her accounts at the office, which she wished him to pay and save her bondsmen. The appearance of a post office inspector was the cause of her suicide.

Mrs. Scott was Miss Bettie St. Clair. She was at one time quite wealthy, but her fortune has been lost since her marriage.

Sunday School Workers at Denver

Special to The Times.

Denver, Colo., June 25 — Arriving trains to-day brought hundreds of delegates to the Tenth International Sunday School Convention, which begins its sessions to-morrow, with the Hon. Hoke Smith, of Georgia, presiding. The gathering promises to be largely attended by Sunday school workers from all parts of the United States and Canada, and from Hawaii and Porto Rico. The various committees held meetings to-day at the Brown Palace hotel, and completed their reports for presentation to the convention.

ARE YOU STOUT.

Edith Bordon, M. D., [illegible]

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE

'No Cure, No Pay,' is the Newest Proposal of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills

Editor Morning Times

Sir,—We make the following proposition: any one who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, as enumerated below, and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being supplied us to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit $10 for

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

SWEATY FEET
SORE FEET
ACHING FEET
BLISTERED FEET
HOT FEET
INFLAMED FEET
SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

Shun any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper article.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING
-AND-
MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.)

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 25 1902

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—A good, smart messenger boy wanted at the Times Bookstore.

—The Young Men's Guild excursion will take place to Stony Lake tomorrow as arranged.

—The Deputy returning officers in the recent provincial elections can now obtain their remuneration from the Sheriff.

—Circus advertising men were engaged yesterday in decorating the awnings in front of the stores with posters.

—There can positively be no sale of tickets at the station for the Young Men's Guild excursion, as the supply is exhausted.

—A beautiful parlor organ, five octaves and eleven stops, for sale for $37.50. It is brand new and cost $100. Apply at Times Bookstore.

—The cancelling of tomorrow as a public holiday will not interfere with the excursions that have been arranged for.

—Two bulletins placarded in front of The Times office yesterday, regarding the King's health, attracted great attention.

—Those wishing to secure Chinese lanterns and fire crackers for Coronation day will find large varieties at The Times Bookstore. The Young Canada cannon firecracker just in is something entirely new.

—At the meeting of the Board of Works last night, Zimri Blodgett was given the contract for crushing and hauling stone for corporation purposes.

—Parties attending the Young Men's Guild excursion on Thursday around the lakes, are asked to have their baskets properly addressed, and they will be looked after from the time of leaving the station.

—There are to be a number of dog owners up at the police court this morning. There are a number of citizens whose names appear on the assessment roll and who are assessed as dog owners who have not taken out tags and summons will be issued to them at once.

—One of the prettiest little features of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous Shows United are the performances of a lot of little midget elephants, ponies and dogs. They will be a source of unfailing delight to the children when these shows appear here on Tuesday, July 1.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS ARE CORDILLY INVITED.

There will be an EXHIBIT of HIGH GRADE PORTRAITS at the studio of R. M. ROY, on Saturday, June 28th. It will be a display of TRULY ARTISTIC WORK, SEPHIA, BEAUTIFUL WATER COLORS, and everything that is newest and best in portraiture.

—Not one person in a thousand in any class denies that earlier closing of stores would be a good thing. The one difficulty, a great one, is that purchasers will buy late if they find stores open, and that one merchant or storekeeper in a hundred, if unwilling to close at the same hour as the other 99, can scare all that 99 into keeping open. One way to help make this difficulty less is for people to make a principle of not buying anything in the evening.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Miss Mabel Bradburn has returned to town for the summer.

—Mr. DDickson Jewett was in Cannington yesterday, on business.

—Mrs. (Rev.) A. M. Langfeldt, has returned from a visit to her parents in Orillia.

—Miss L. Bourchier has gone to Toronto to enter the Sick Children's Hospital as a nurse.

—Rev. W. L. Armitage has returned from Lindsay where he delivered a sermon to the Masonic fraternity on Sunday morning.

—Miss Alice O'Connor, of Lindsay, has reutrned home after a pleasant visit with her friend, Mrs. Bert. Kennedy, Lake street.

—Mrs. M. B. Lyle went to Oshawa yesterday to attend the funeral of B. J. Rowse, whose sudden death took place Monday.

—Mr. J. H. Learmouth, C.E., of Ottawa, has arrived in town and will have charge of the construction of the Cereal Co's new dam across the river.

—Mr. John Henderson, who has been spending a few days at Stoney Lake and who has been the guest of Dr. and Miss Caldwell, while in town, left for his home in Rochester yesterday.

—Mr. R. M. Bell, late paying teller of the Ontario Bank, left on the midnight C.P.R. for Ottawa on Monday to assume his new duties. A large number of his friends were at the station to see him off.

The 57th Will Not Go to Belleville

Owing to the illness of King Edward and the cancelling of Thursday as a national holiday, the 57th Regiment, who were to go to Belleville to take part in the celebration in that city on Coronation Day, will not go. This is felt very keenly by the boys who were looking forward to the day. The special train has been cancelled and the men will have to wait for further orders as to their inspection.

C. G. E. Anglers.

The members of the Anglers' Club of the Canadian General Electric Co., visited Chemong on Saturday afternoon for an afternoon's sport, but owing to the inclement state of the weather only a few members of the club ventured to do any fishing. Messrs. Wilson, Sharp, Munro, Patterson and Peace succeeded each in landing a ten pounder while the "brats" got a few perch and sunfish.

Those who went out in boats got a bad soaking, especially the three in the canoe, who afterwards had to be stripped of their garments and hung up to dry.

The remaining members stayed in doors and played ping pong up to the time of leaving.

The drive home was rather a chilly one, but songs and stump speeches kept the club in good humor.

The next meeting will be to White Lake on Saturday next. 'Busses will leave Fitzgerald's livery at 1.15 p.m.

On the Lakefield Express

The popular conductor of the Lakefield lightning express was handed a ticket the other day by a lady who was on her way to Stony lake for a few days, and who was accompanied by a bright-looking little girl. He looked at the child and then asked for another ticket.

"I've never had to pay for her before," was the mother's reply.

"How old is she?" asked the conductor.

"Seven years."

"Why, mamma! I'm ten" protested the child.

"She's—she's nearly ten, hurriedly explained the mother. "That is, she's just going on ten."

The conductor looked at the mother for a second, and then, as he turned away, said:

"Well, madam, if I were you, I'd buy a ticket for her on the return trip. She's likely to be all of ten by then."

HAMPERS BUSINESS

Coffee Drinking Incapacitates Some People For Business at Times

A gentleman from McBain, Mich., says, "Coffee drinking has cost me much, for during my life I have been many times so thoroughly put out of condition that I have been compelled to abandon business for a day or two at a time. The attacks of headache would commence on the right side behind the ear and become so severe as to totally incapacitate me for any exercise, even mental. I have frequently had to take morphine to relieve the suffering. Sour stomach troubled me and I had a nervous heart that gave me a great deal of trouble.

Four years ago I saw an advertisement for Postum Food Coffee which recited the ill effect of coffee on the nerves. I at once decided to make the change and leave off coffee and take on Postum. The result has been all that one could expect.

I am never constipated any more, the bilious attacks never come on except from some indiscretion such as drinking coffee, which I am foolish enough to indulge in now and then. I have no more headaches, no more sour stomach and no bilious spells. I have not been sick to my stomach or had a nervous vomiting spell in three years. Am now 56 years old, and have better health and do a better business and more comfortable than ever before in my life. I certainly attribute the change to leaving off coffee and using Postum, for I have taken no medicine to aid in making the change.

The experiment as stated is absolutely true. I am willing, if necessary, to attach my affidavit to it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

WEDDING BELLS

Nuptials of Miss Nellie Wareham and Mr. Fred C. Miller

Yesterday evening the home of Mrs. George Wareham, at No. 737 Water street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when her daughter, Miss Nellie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Fred. Miller, son of Major Miller, town. Promptly at seven o'clock the bride entered the drawing room to the strains of a wedding march played by Miss Maud Shera. The drawing room was prettily decorated with palms and cut flowers and presented a most beautiful appearance in fact the whole house was so arranged for the occasion that it presented a very charming spectacle.

The bride was beautifully attired in a dress of white organdie, trimmed with valencias lace and insertion, and wore the customary bridal veil, and was assisted by her sister, Miss Bertha Wareham, while Mr. John Miller, brother of the groom, performed the duties of groomsman.

The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. W. L. Armitage, of All Saints' Church, in the presence of about fifty guests, the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The wedding presents were numerous and costly, showing the esteem in which the young couple were held by their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will take up their residence on Dublin street.

Their many friends extend to them their heartiest congratulations.

A Masonic Service

The brethren of Corinthian and Peterborough Lodges, A.F. & A.M., commemorated the Festival of St. John the Baptist last night, by participating in a religious service held in the Masonic Hall, at the corner of George and Simcoe streets. Bro. Rev. C. L. Thompson, pastor of Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, preached an exceedingly eloquent and instructive sermon, very appropriate to the occasion. Bro. Rev. J. G. Wilson, pastor of George street Methodist church also assisted in the service.

Montreal Star's Annual Prize Competed For

The ten dollars sent annually to Mr. G. E. Whiten by the Montreal Star, to encourage rifle shooting was competed for at the Curtis range last week. Members of the 57th figure in the list of winners:

1st, Fred. Bartlett	$3.00	86 points
2nd, G. Fitzgerald	2.00	85 points
3rd, Sergt. Moore	1.50	84 points
4th, J. Gibson	1.00	79 points
5th, Sergt. Sheppard ...	1.00	78 points
6th, D. Cameron	1.00	78 points
7th, Lieut. Cameron ...	50	75 points

Servant Girl Wanted

Good General Servant wanted with some experience. No laundry work. Family of four. Good wages. Apply to Mrs. Hugh Charles.

MARRIAGES.

REID—CAMERON—On Thursday, June 19th by Rev. Mr. Moore, at St. Margaret's church, Toronto, David Francis Reid, formerly of Peterborough, to Miss Nellie Henrietta Cameron, of Toronto.

ROPER—FISKE—On the 18th inst. 1902 at St. Stephen's church, Coaticook, by the Rev. Albert Stevens, William Percival Roper, of Halifax, N.S. to Nina Beatrice Fiske, daughter of Mr. J. J. Fiske, "The Pines," Coaticook.

MILLER—WAREHAM—On Thursday evening, June 24th, by the Rev. W. L. Armitage, Mr. Fred. Miller to Miss Nellie Wareham, daughter of Mrs. George Wareham.

General - Sports

GOLF.

On Thursday afternoon of this week a competition will be held at the links between the married and the unmarried ladies. All who wish to take part are asked to be present at 3.30. The ladies are asked to provide for the holding of an informal tea at the club house.

TENNIS.

Following are the draws and handicaps for the Y.M.C.A. tennis tournament, which were arranged Monday evening—

1—P. McLean, 15, vs. H. Cluxton, s.

2—A. O. McCallum, half 15, half 30, vs. A. E. Jackson, 15.

3—R. F. McWilliams, s., vs H. Brown, half 15.

4—S. R. Hall, minus 15, vs. R. P. Watt, 15.

5—H. E. Ayers, s., vs. S. S. Moore, 15.

6—H. Burnham, minus 15, vs. C. Graham, half 15 half 30.

9.—J. M. Laing, 15, vs. F. McGill 15

10—A. W. McPherson, minus 15, vs. W. G. Cochrane, half 15.

11.—R. Glover, s., vs. Wood, half 15.

12—G. Perks, half 15, vs. W. D. McCallum, 30.

14—P. Campbell, 15, vs. H. D. Burnett, minus 15.

15—S. Fraser, 15, vs. E. A. Froude 15.

16—F. Bradburn, s., vs. W. W. McLean, 15.

17.—C. Kemp, half 15, half 30, vs. H. Armstrong, half 15.

18—R Hall, 15, vs R. Thompson, half 15, half 30.

19—F. A. Clark, s., vs. Dr. McFall half 15.

20—J. McDonald, half 15, vs. R. Dobbin., half 15.

21—A. Bouchea, s. vs. W. D. Campbell, half 15.

22—F. J. A. Hall, half 15, vs C. SSeymour, half 15 half 30.

23—J. G. Tate, 15, vs. R. J. McLennan, 30.

24—R. T. Conkling, 15, vs. M. J. Quigley, 30.

25—Dr. Wightman, half 15, vs. W. H. Collier, s.

SECOND ROUND

A—Winner of 17 plays winner of 15.
B—Winner of 24 plays winner of 19.
C—Winner of 13 plays winner of 16.
D—Winner of 14 plays winner of 22.
E—Winner of 4 plays winner of 12.
F—Winner of 23 plays winner of 8.
G—Winner of 21 plays winner of 16
H—Winner of 11 plays winner of 3.
I—Winner of 20 plays winner of 25.
J—Winner of 9 plays winner of 7.
K—Winner of 1 plays winner of 19
L—Winner of 10 plays winner of 2.
M—Winner of 6 bye.

THIRD ROUND.

1—Winner of E vs. winner of I
2—Winner of K vs winner of A.
3—Winner of M vs. winner of H.
4—Winner of B vs winner of D.
5—Winner of F vs. winner of G.
6—Winner of C vs. winner of J.
7—Winner of L, bye.

FOURTH ROUND.

A—Winner of 2 vs. winner of 6.
B—Winner of 7. vs winner of 1.
C—Winner of 3 vs winner of 4.
D—Winner of 5 bye.

FIFTH ROUND.

1—Winner of 3 plays winner of D.
2—Winner of B plays winner of A.
1 plays 2.

The first round must be played by the middle of next week.

LACROSSE.

The T.A.S. and Y.M.C.A play on the oval tonight.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25,$1.50, for $1.00 | Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75, for..$1.25
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25 | Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00 for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS ! STRAW HATS !

Plain Straw Hat............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c | Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c,$1.00 and $1.25
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00 | Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1858.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

Situations Wanted.

COOK—Good Cook wants a place. Address care of Times office.

SERVANT GIRL—experienced—is open for engagement after July 4th. Wages required, $8 per month. Was 2 years in last place. References. Apply at Times Bookstore

HOUSEMAID—Capable girl requires situation as housemaid or dining room help. 12 good plain cook. Margaret Wallis, care Box 53.

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $10 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 44 and 46 Broadway, New York.

APPRENTICE WANTED to learn the printing business. Apply at this office.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE, Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day, commercial rooms.

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

BIG G

CURE YOURSELF !

[illegible]

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

Too Busy to Write Ads., Because:

The bargains we are giving in Houses and Lots, Garden Lots and Farms, of all sizes and prices, and the easy terms our long experience enables us to arrange for our buyers, keeps our entire staff hustling from early morning until late at night and still our work is only well begun, as new properties are being listed daily. All are invited to our New Ground Floor Office, so convenient to call when you go to the Post Office, or call up phone 376 for any information desired regarding REAL ESTATE.

T. HURLEY & CO.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL, GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

DIAMOND STEEL BEARINGS

GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON
21 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborough,Ont

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

233 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 188, 188 and 215, day or night.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

CANADIAN PACIFIC

CORONATION DAY JUNE 26 | DOMINION DAY

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th Returning until June 27th

Good Going June 30th and July 1st Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3.

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

CORONATION DAY

JUNE 26TH.

DOMINION DAY

JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich. AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

Good going June 25th and 26th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also Good going June 30th and July 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 24th to July 1st, inclusive valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from

W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL 28 NO. 149 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO THURSDAY JUNE 26 1902 PRICE TWO CENTS

ALL HOPES FOR KING EDWARD'S RECOVERY ARE NOT REASSURING.

The Latest Despatches Say the King is in Very Critical Condition

Another Report Says Only a Miracle Can Save King Edward.

Official Medical Statement says That Peritonitis or Hemorrhage are the Things Feared--News Briefly Told

London, June 25—The King's life still hangs by a thread. Only a miracle can save him. The tube described in the account of the operation was not for the purpose of frainage, but to replace a section of the bowel was not for the purpose of drainage, b in another operation to remove the tube, draw the bowels together and sew them up. The chances of such an operation being successful are very slight.

LATEST OFFICIAL BULLETINS.

London, June 25—6.25— The following bulletin was issued at 3.30 p.m.:

"His Majesty passed a fairly comfortable day. His general strength was well maintained, and there are no symptoms causing special anxiety."

(Signed) LISTER, TREVES, SMITH, LAKING, BARLOW.

London, June 25.—7.20 p.m.—The private secretary of King Edward. Sir Francis Knollys, said at 7.15 p.m. that His Majesty continued to improve and that everything was going on satisfactorily.

London, June 25.—Never was any city plunged from gaiety into grief with such rapidity as the face of London has been changed within the past twenty-four hours. Yesterday morning the greatest pageant which the earth has witnessed since the august rulers of imperial Rome marched in triumph was in full preparation. On all hands the ancient city of London was being reclothed in holiday garb, on every street looking upon the route of the proposed royal procession hundreds of workmen were busily engaged in creating accommodation stands from which the people could view the procession; in Westminster Abbey the final touches necessary to transform an atmosphere of the middle ages into one modern, highly spectacular and fin de siecle were being imposed; officials of the court were engaged every moment in rehearsing the details of the magnificent heraldic display with which they confidently hoped to dazzle the world; Ambassadors, Prime Ministers, heathen Princes, Christian magnates from all corners of the earth were impatiently awaiting the day when they should be summoned to add lustre to the coronation ceremonies of the greatest emperor the world has known; the King himself, though indisposed and laboring under a superstitious fear that he would not live to be crowned, was also making preparations for the great day of his life. In the midst of all these doings simple announcement of five words: "The King is ill; coronation postponed," was sufficient to cause the greatest scene of disorganization which any capital, save in the hands of a victorious and pillaging enemy, has ever presented. Workmen threw down their hammers; decorators cast aside banners and colored drape; tradesmen went into figurative mourning for the fondly-hoped for harvest now vanished; court officials ceased the laborious preparations of weeks; the ringing sound of the workmen's tools ceased in the old abbey; ambassadors, princes, magnates made ready for a homeward journey, after a fruitless visit; an empire was thrown out of gear. In the good old city of London all the bewilderment of the event is still present in full force. Thousands of tradesmen will be ruined. A plethora of goods of every imaginable nature, from the rich silks to articles of diet, had been ordered in anticipation of the immense sales which vast visiting crowds would have entailed. These goods cannot now be disposed of, but must be paid for. When the the full measure of London's loss is known it will be found that a veritable catastrophe has overtaken the bulk of her tradesmen. Meanwhile, the King lies in danger of his life. For three days it will not be known whether he will live or die. In any event the carefully-prepared pageant is useless, and an air of mourning has taken the place of the gladsome looks of but yesterday. When the time for the Coronation comes, if it ever does come, the ceremony will, perforce, be shorn of its chief features, for no gathering such as that now in London can again be produced. Thus does Providence easily dispose of man's most proud imaginings.

PERITONITIS OR HERMORRHAGE FEARED.

London, June 25—At 3.30 p.m.—Today Sir Francis Knollys, private secretary to King Edward told a representative of the Associated Press that no particular change had occurred, but that the King was maintaining the improvement in his condition.

The following statement was made this afternoon on the highest medical authority:

"Until the tubes now draining the cavity of the abcess have been withdrawn it will be impossible to feel certain that the King will pull through. What his physicians have now to fear is that peritonitis or hemorrhage may supervene. There must be always this danger in such cases. Again it is a fact that an abscess to perityphlitis may have a fatal issue without any warning symptoms. All the indications are often masked until the post-mortem, and there are many cases on record where the disease was only discovered after death from an extraneous cause, such as an accident. Whatever the outcome, the King's grave illness must invalid him for a long time." A WORS

Private information from Buckingham Palace substantially bears out the official bulletin issued at 10.30 o'clock, except that the King had rather a worse night that was indicated herein. His Majesty, however, is resting easier, and was sleeping at 10.30 o'clock this morning.

HIGH MEDICAL AUTHORITY ON KING EDWARD'S ILLNESS.

New York, June 25—The following special cable was received today by the New York Medical Journal from its London correspondent, whom they consider the highest medical authority in Great Britain, and who is in intimate touch with everything that transpires at the bedside of the King:

THE ELECTION SAW OFF

West Peterborough Conservatives Very Much Chargined.

A section of the Conservative party in West Peterborough appear to be very much disgusted over the withdrawal of the election protest against Mr. Stratton. This feeling, happily, is, we believe, not general, and is confined to a comparatively small section of the party. The rank and file have come to regard the re-election of the Provincial Secretary as a good thing for Peterborough, at least. While they would have preferred a change of government, it is hardly surprising that, failing in this, Mr. Stratton's election should be satisfactory to them.

The serious part of the business, however, is the rupture that the settlement has caused within the Conservative party. Those who are opposed to any saw-off are very bitter, and make no bones about letting it be known. That the Conservative party in Peterborough is in a state of disruption is generally believed.

Another Operation is Necessary, Tubes said to Have been Put in Bowels to Replace a Section Cut Away.

London, June 25—The King's disease is perityphlitis, following cold contracted nine days previously. His symptoms became rather acute a week ago, but had subsided, and it was hoped that he would go through the Coronation ceremony. Owing to a sudden exacerbation early on Tuesday morning an operation was decided upon at 10 o'clock, and the operation was performed at noon on Tuesday by Sir Frederick Treves, the anesthetic being administered by Dr Frederick Hewitt. The abscess was opened around the caecum, the pus evacuated and the cavity drained. There was no resection of the bowel; the newspaper reports that tubing was required to preserve the continuity of the intestine, being entirely misleading. The recovery from anaesthesia was satisfactory; the patient passed a restless night, succeeded by improvement, his condition being favorable on Wednesday at noon.

DISGRACEFUL SCENES ON LONDON'S STREETS.

London, June 24—The scene on the streets last night, especially the Strand and Fleet street, was one of which London might well be ashamed. An immense crowd had gathered and the throng had not altered its holiday demeanor a whit. Cheers, songs, the braying of trumpets, the sounds of concertinas and other forms of noises which the London lower classes delight in made up the demonstration. The crowds, however, were entirely composed of those responsible for the disgraceful orgy on peace night, and very few of the respectable classes were present. Speaking of the people who were on the street during the day, Senator Chauncey M Depew says:—"I was watching from my window in the Carlton Hotel the crowds thronging towards Trafalgar square. It was a happy mass of perambulating humanity. When the news carts with great posters telling of the illness of the King drove along the streets there was never such a sudden transition of feeling exhibited except at the shooting of President McKinley at Buffalo. The people's change of demeanor then was much the same as here today."

THE OPERATION SAVED
HIS MAJESTY'S LIFE

London, June 25 King Edward is in a room facing the beautiful gardens of Buckingham Palace and far from the street and crowd. Should any complication occur, as peritonitis or blood-poisoning, it is feared that his Majesty's present physical and nervous condition would prove unequal to the strain involved. There is consequently intense anxiety as to the outcome.

The King's doctors believe his Majesty would have been dead before now except for the operation. His condition became so alarming on Monday night that at one time it was feared death might ensue before the surgeon's knife could afford him relief. Intense swelling of the extremities, accompanied by alarming symptoms of mortification, constituted the emergency which demanded an immediate operation. To the last the King tried to avoid this, and he was willing to be carried to the Abbey for the Coronation service, in order that it should occur as arranged. The influence of Queen Alexandra was enlisted, however, and at an early hour yesterday morning the Royal patient was prepared for the operation, which, even in the hands of England's best surgeons, was fraught with grave danger.

TO-MORROW APPOINTED A DAY OF INTERCESSION.

London, June 25—The medical bulletins are rapidly posted about London and the same scenes as witnessed yesterday were enacted today. By noon long strings of carriages were waiting to put down visitors at the Ambassadors' and main entrance of the Palace.

To-morrow has been officially appointed a day of intercession for the King, and in every parish church in the United Kingdom special intercessory services will be held. Catholics, non-conformists, Jews, Salvationists and other religious bodies are all arranging special prayers, while in the camps of the colonial and other visiting troops be they Mohammedans, sun worshippers, Brahmins, or fire or fetish worshippers; whether from China, Borneo, Fiji, Central Africa or Hindustan, or from the Indian reservations of Canada, the usual hour for prayers finds them supplicating their deity in behalf of the King.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA IS BEARING UP WELL.

London, June 25.—The United States special Ambassador Whitelaw Reid is busy today cancelling all his engagements.

He has determined to close up the special Embassy as quickly as compatible with decorum. He will go to the continent for a short stay and may possibly visit Scotland, returning to America early in the autumn.

It is said that Queen Alexandra is bearing up well, and is much touched with the expressions of sympathy pouring in from all parts of the world. Among the telegrams was one from General Booth, who is in Berlin, to the Queen, in which he says the Salvation Army all over the world will pray for the recovery of the King.

EARTHQUAKE SURVIVORS

Those Who Escaped on Steamer Roraima now in New York

Their Awful Experience on That Fatal Day in May—All Badly Burned and Otherwise Injured

Special to The Times.

New York, June 26.—The last three survivors of the steamer Roriama, which escaped from St. Pierre at the time of its destruction, arrived here yesterday aboard the steamer Fontabelle, of the Quebec Steamship Company. The same vessel also brought up from Martinique George Kennan, the traveller; Prof. Heilprin of the Philadelphia Geographical Society; Dr. C. R. Dudley, of St. Louis; H. C. Mitchell, who took down relief money and is a representative of Flint, Eddy & Co.; Nicola Paravicino, the Italian Consul at Barbadoes, and several newspaper correspondents.

The three sailors of the Roraima, whose names are Guiseppe Lucino, Salvator Aniele and Francesco D'Angelo, have been in the hospital at Fort de France ever since their rescue and were only discharged the day before the Fontabelle sailed. They were the worst burned of any of the survivors who have recovered. All of them have new faces practically, as the skin was burned almost entirely off and that which has taken its place is of a different color from the rest of their bodies, with the exception of patches on the arms, hands and feet, which is also new skin.

Lucino has one of his ears almost burned off and the other made shapeless. His hands were so badly burned that he has not yet recovered the use of them. All three were barefooted at the time the vessel was swept by the fire and ashes, and their feet and legs are still yellow from the sulphur. The three sailors were scrubbing on the bridge when the mountain exploded. They leapt overboard, they said, swam to some wreckage and then became unconscious. The French cruiser Suchet picked them up.

H. C. Mitchell, who took down 25,000 francs, and made an investigation of the island's future trade, said that there was no business to be found anywhere on the island now outside of Fort de France.

Consul Ayme of Guadeloupe, who went to Fort de France for the Government, arrived here yesterday on the steamer Carracas. He is on his way to Washington, where he is going to make a report on the relief funds that passed through his hands.

THREE MEN DROWNED

Sad Result of Attempt to Change Seat While Fishing

Special to The Times.

Milwaukee, June 26.—Three men were drowned today in Lake Michigan while fishing from a boat, which capsized. They were:

Beyer, Jacob, aged fifty years, of Chicago.

Falbe, W. F. C., forty-five, Milwaukee.

Greely, Joseph, fifty, New York City.

Charles Tuschel, a boy of twelve was saved by clinging to the boat. He says Beyer, in trying to move to another part of the boat, fell overboard. He was hauled back, but during the rescue the boat filled with water and capsized. Beyer went down, and was drowned immediately. Falbe went down twice and failed to rise, while Greeley swam about one hundred and fifty feet and then sank. The bodies of Falbe and Beyer have been recovered.

WEATHER NOTES.

Thursday—Clearing and cooler.

POISONED CATTLE SENT TO AFRICA

Revenge of Pro-Boers and Muleteers Upon British

Inoculations Said to Have Started Disease Now Raging Among Live Stock in South Africa

Special to The Times.

New Orleans, June 26.—According to a story printed here today, the diseases now raging in South Africa among the live stock are due to inoculation made in this port by Boer sympathizers and disgruntled muleteers playing even with the British.

It is stated that the virus used was secured from a Philadelphia chemist, and that it consisted mostly of carbon and glanders.

It is also stated now that the British suspected that the crime was being constantly committed, and for that reason removed their headquarters from this city to Montreal.

The inoculations, it is said also, were made in Lathrop, Mo., so that it was necessary to break up that camp as well.

The British are now retaliating, so it is intimated, by refusing entrance of Louisiana cattle in South Africa.

MONSTER MURDER TRIAL

Two Naptha Works Directors Charged With Killing 300 Persons

Special to The Times.

Bakku, June 26.—A monster trial is in progress here, two directors of Rothschild's naphtha works being accused of killing some 300 people by an explosion due to culpable neglect on their part. Though foreigners, they may be sent to Siberia for life.

NO NOISE, NO SMOKE, IN BATTLES OF FUTURE

French Artillery Officer's Wonderful Invention

Even Flashes of Rifle and Canon Said to be Completely Suppressed—Warfare May Be Revolutionized

Special to The Times.

Paris, June 26.—Colonel Humbert, a French artillery officer, has invented an apparatus which applied to a rifle or to a rapid firing cannon completely suppresses the flash, sound and smoke, even of black gunpowder. Colonel Humbert says:

"I have succeeded in converting the explosive powder which has been known for centuries into a motor power, giving impulse to projectiles from rifles and cannon without report, without smoke, without flash, without recoil, and without any diminution of force or effect."

The military authorities here attach supreme importance to this discovery, which they consider will bring about a complete revolution in the methods of warfare.

DOTES ON BULL FIGHTING

Spain's National Sport Has Enthralled Alphonse

Madrid, June 26.—Your correspondent learned from a court official that the newspaper stories saying King Alfonso disliked bull fights, were due to the influence of his queen-mother, but do not conform to the facts.

Since witnessing the bloody sport at his crowning, Alfonso almost continuously takes bull fights with his intimates. He is very eager to see another, and has given his mamma to understand that as sovereign king he will no longer brook any objections to his attendance at the national sport.

BRITISH SHIP COMBINE IS MORGAN'S RIVAL

The New Company Has a Capital of a Hundred Million Dollars

IS NOW PRACTICALLY A FACT

The British Syndicate Has a Big Advantage Over Morgan on Account of its Government Subsidies

London, June 26.—The British shipping combination, which intends to compete with the Morgan syndicate for the North Atlantic and Pacific freight and passenger business, is now practically consummated.

Mr. Christopher Furness is to be at the head of the new combination. It is to be capitalized at £20,000,000 ($100,000,000) The Cunard Company is included in the deal.

The British Government has agreed largely to increase the present subsidies, while Canada promises at least £200,000 ($1,000,000) yearly.

In the minds of those who support the scheme the Atlantic aspect is not greater than the Pacific.

The main idea is the utilization of the Canadian Pacific Railway as the chief link in a chain bringing Australasia, India, China, and Japan into nearer and more intimate touch with England and providing an all-British route shorter than any at present avigable.

The Breakfast Table Leader

Malt Breakfast Food
Has No Equal in the World

The Most Concentrated Form of Nourishment

As a hot weather breakfast dish, Malt Breakfast Food has no equal in the world. It is health nourishment in the most concentrated form. It is delicious to the taste, satisfying, appetizing and easily digested. Malt Breakfast Food energizes and invigorates body and brain. It is the only sensible food for young and old in the hot weather. Your Grocer recommends it.

Montreal Star's Annual Prize Competed For

The ten dollars sent annually to Mr. G. E. Whiten by the Montreal Star, to encourage rifle shooting was competed for at the Curtis range last week. Members of the 57th figure in the list of winners:

1st, Fred. Bartlett	$3.00	86	points
2nd. G. Fitzgerald	2.00	85	points
3rd. Sergt. Moore	1.50	84	points
4th. J Gibson	1.00	79	points
5th. Sergt. Sheppard ...	1.00	78	points
6th, D. Cameron	1.00	78	points
7th, Lieut. Cameron ...	50	75	points

CZAR THRASHED BY HIS UNCLE

"Now Will You be Good?" Shouts The Crazy Grand Duke To His Prostrate Sovereign

EMPEROR IS BADLY PUMMELED

Frail Nicholas no Match For Lunatic—Is Twice Felled to the Floor By Jolts on the Head

From Friday's Times.

St. Petersburg, June 26.—It has leaked out that Grand Duke Constantine, who went insane, as exclusively reported in these despatches last Sunday, gave his nephew, the Czar, a terrible beating just before he was placed under restraint. Nicholas was upbraiding his uncle for the latter's slipshod administration of the military academies, when Constantine, without any warning, gave his majesty a rap on the head. Nicholas called for help, but before his adjutants arrived Constantine had knocked the frail monarch down twice. When the officers rushed in, Constantine was pummeling his imperial nephew, shouting: "Now, will you be good?".

Constantine was the most gifted member of the imperial family and translated Shakespeare's foremost works into Russian. The translations are considered classic. Since being under restraint he declaims Hamlet continuously.

GERMANS NOT RESPONSIBLE.

The Imperial Government was informed that the police in German watering places which Russian ministers of state and other high officials may want to visit cannot guarantee their safety. They must bring their own guards.

TESTING WORLD'S BIGGEST GUN

Immense Weapon Goes to Sandy Hook Probably on Wednesday

Special to The Times.

Albany, N. Y., June 26.—By Wednesday a 16-inch gun—the largest in the world—will be completed at Watervliet Arsenal and sent to the United States Government's approving grounds at Sandy Hook. Its operations are expected to astonish the world. It is the most powerful weapon as yet devised by man, and is expected to revolutionize the art of gun making.

The work upon this powerful weapon has been going on for years. Monster cranes have been constructed in order that the various parts of the record-breaking arm might be conveniently shifted. It will cost many thousands for one discharge of the mammoth gun.

—The Midland Free Press says that according to a rough estimate there must be 100 cases of measley measles in that town, with considerable scarlet fever thrown in.

CORPORATION OFFICERS.

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Peck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, E. A. Peck, Wards, Davis, and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J.C. Davidson, Rev. J.P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Dressley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. S. Bamford.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depart
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal	5.10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.32 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto & intermediate	7.32 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	8 00 p.m.	5.38 p.m
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.35 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.30 a.m.	9.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	3.05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.13 p.m.
Lakefield local	6.30 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

The Times is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at [illegible] per annum, and to outside points at $6 per year strictly in advance.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 26, 1902.

THE KING'S ILLNESS

Edward VII. is close on sixty-one years of age. This fact lends seriousness to what in a younger man might not be a cause for grave apprehension. The earnest sympathy of all in the empire will go out to the King in his danger. His life has been a manly and public-spirited one, and the hearty wish of all in the empire must be that many years of a prosperous and happy reign remain to him.

A GERMAN LAMENT

The Germans who want their country to have all the trade there is, feel that the surrender of the Boers is a heavy blow. Not only on political grounds, says the Rheinische-Westfalische Zeitung, is the situation serious, seeing that as a South African colonial power we shall in future be face to face with a compact and gigantic South African power which is entirely English, and which is no more menaced by a Boer state. "We shall also have to suffer from commercial exclusion. England is now supreme over the Boer republics, and will constantly have a vast quantity of custom to dispose of. All the railroads will be built by England; all German monopolies, like the famous German dynamite monopoly, will be abolished; English, not German, officials will be employed; industry subject to English influence will be preferred, and English goods, English imports, will be favored by the customs arrangements. In a word, a portion of the earth is once more lost as a market for the products of German labor, and is secured for our English rival."

This lament is a correct description of the situation. Of course, England will get all the trade she can out of her new possessions. They have cost her much. "The peace which Great Britain has made with the Boers," says the New York Investor, "is calculated to impress them anew with the greatness of the British Empire, and of the British character. Great Britain has come out of the war in a manner profoundly to impress minds that are raised above prejustice and passion with the fact that she is still the most humane, the most generous, the most self-reliant of nations. She deprives the conquered of no real liberty, she devotes several years of time, hundreds of millions of money, and a great many thousands of lives to the task of making a handful of stiff-necked Dutchmen, accord her citizens simple justice, but when this task is accomplished she displays a generosity which is unparalleled, exacting no indemnity, to cover her enormous expenditures, but actually advancing a great amount of cash to put her late foes in comfortable material circumstances once more. Such magnanimity denotes fundamental characteristics in the British race which—it is impossible to conceive otherwise—must be regarded as presaging a long-continued greatness."

THE PREMIER'S DIFFICULT DUTY

The new campaign in the Province of Quebec against the adoption of an imperialistic policy in Canada has taken definite form, says The News. Delegates from some ninety-three parishes in the eastern townships attended a mass meeting of some five thousand French-Canadians, held yesterday at Drummondville. Resolutions setting forth the great danger to the French nationality in Canada of the adoption of an imperial policy were adopted, and it was decided to send these resolutions by cable to Sir Wilfrid Laurier for presentation to the King.

It is quite natural that the French-Canadian people of Quebec should object to the adoption of an Imperial policy in Canada, for there can be no doubt that, with the filling up of our Northwest by Anglo-Saxon settlers, the French-Canadian influence in our public life would be greatly minimized. The adoption of an Imperial policy, and the securing by Canada of a preference in British markets for her surplus grain crop, would certainly have the effect of hurrying along the inevitable filling up of that great western country with an Anglo-Saxon population which, represented in Dominion Parliament, would destroy the balance of power now held by the Province of Quebec in Dominion affairs. It's only what might be expected therefore, that the French people should try and put off that inevitable as long as possible.

But there is no good reason why the great majority of English-speaking people of Canada should take that view. As a matter of fact they don't, and won't do anything of the kind. What they expect and what they have a right to expect, is that any policy, Imperial or otherwise, which will people the Northwest with good settlers should be adopted. That is why they are in favor of an Imperial policy.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, though a French-Canadian, is Prime Minister of all Canada, and his duty is to do all in his power to secure a preference in British markets which will benefit all Canada, even if it does interfere with the solid voting power in Federal elections of the Province of Quebec.

Sir Wilfrid, during the next few weeks, will be called upon to exhibit the qualities of a great statesman, and not those of a parochial politician. That is why his course will be watched with the deepest interest in this country.

THE YUKON BOUNDARY DISPUTE

The apprehension expressed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in an interview in New York, prior to his sailing for England on Saturday, over the danger of the unsettled Alaskan Boundary dispute precipitating a disgraceful conflict in the event of the discovery of gold in the disputed territory, is shared by all who understand the dangerous conditions which exist.

It is an international misfortune that this troublesome question was not disposed of before the gold was discovered in the Yukon which caused the rush of miners to that frozen country, and enhanced the value of the disputed territory.

The stand now taken by the United States Government, that there is nothing to arbitrate, is entirely out of keeping with its appointment of representatives on a joint high commission to obtain evidence as to the contentions of the United States and Canada with a view to the amicable settlement of differences which exist. From the stand now taken it is evident that the Government at Washington would at once proceed as if it owned the disputed territory in which gold might at any moment be found in quantities which would bring on another rush of miners and the formation of new towns and mining camps. Canada's claims to territorial possession would simply be ignored and the result might be serious international trouble, and possibly a resort to violent measures in the disputed territory.

It would be an act of wisdom for Sir Wilfrid to press for a settlement of this question at an early date on the best terms that can be secured.

HONOR ROLL.

Honor roll for the month of June, 1902, for the Apsley Public school.

Sr. II—Hurrel Eastland, 1504; Geo. McColl, 1206; Anne Henry, 1038; Alex McIlvena, 930.

Jr. II—Bruce Eastland, 1332; Ethel Bulled, 1247.

Sr. Pt. II — Everrard Sullivan, 707; Richard Bulled, 678; Charlie Eastland, 562.

Jr. Pt. II — Joseph Gallagher, 964.

Pt. I (c)—Willie McIlvena, 446.

Pt. I (b)—Willie Sullivan, 790; Charlie Smith, 692; Thos. McKay, 516; Elijah McKay, 463.

Pt. I (a)—Flora Eastland, 1166; Josie McIlvena, 1101; Rosie McKay, 616; Daniel Gallagher, 577; Fanny Henry, 558; Hugh McColl, 526; Thomas Levoir, [illegible]; Alfred Levoir, 334; Stanley Windsor, 220.

Do You Belch Gas

If you have uneasy sensations in the stomach, a bad taste in the mouth, headache—remember that ten drops of Polson's Nerviline in sweetened water is a quick and certain cure. Nerviline aids digestion, dispels the gas, makes you comfortable and free from distress at once. Nerviline is just splendid for cramps, colic, dysentery, stomach and bowel troubles, and costs only 25c. Better try it.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

RIPENING OF CHEESE

Discovery Which is Expected to Revolutionize the Business

A hitherto unknown element in milk, a new ferment, has been discovered, called galactose, which is proving of value in the ripening of cheese. The properties of this ferment are similar to the secretion of the pancreatic organ of the human body. Old cheese is a pre-digested food, and the digestion is wrought by the galactose. It was found that galactose would go on working at very low temperatures, temperatures at which bacteria were practically inert. Cheese was put in a refrigerator and kept frozen for months. Other cheese was kept just above the freezing point. It was found that the finest cheese is cured at from 40 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Practical cheese manufacturers had maintained that 40 degrees was the lowest temperature at which cheese could be worked without becoming bitter and worthless. The new discovery will, it is believed, revolutionize cheese manufacture, doing away with curing rooms, the cheese being sent directly to the refrigerator.

King Edward VII. Notepaper,

is "quite Eng'ish, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE

Market Block, Peterborough.

Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,

HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will offer suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at	40c
Suspenders	15c
Overalls, with bib, at	48c
Smocks, at	80c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB

Ladies and Gent's Tailo[r]

One door south of Montreal Bank.

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers
Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody,
Her Royal Highness, Lady
Mary of the Dark
House, etc.

seemed the more peculiar, as I had hardly been ten minutes away.

My first thought was to examine the windows. All were closed and tightly fastened, but my lamp showed me that the bare, polished floor under the one nearest the escritoire was wet. I wondered if it would be possible, in such a gale as raged to-night, for a window not only to blow open, but to blow shut again.

I carried my lamp from room to room, but all was quiet. Only the shadows flickered on the curtains that hung down over the quaint bedstead where the treacherous priest had killed himself, and made them look as if they moved slightly to and fro. But I knew that this was only an optical illusion, and I went back to the study and the escritoire, which I unlocked with one of my mother's keys.

I thought that there might be a letter addressed to me, to be opened in case of my mother's death, or perhaps a diary, which might give me an inkling of the thing she had so ardently desired to say at the last. But I could find nothing of the sort in the escritoire.

I had to close the escritoire in disappointment at length, still with her agonized appeal ringing in my memory. So thrilling was the sound, which only the ears of my soul could hear, that I made further search in every nook and cranny of the octagon room, the quaint cupboard by the deep fireplace, the drawers of an old bookcase, an inlaid chest from India, and one or two other places where it seemed possible that objects of value, relative or intrinsic, might have been kept.

But the search was a failure, and I went into the bedchamber adjoining, wondering if my mother had ever used it and the dressing-room as store-places in connection with the study of which she had been so fond. I peered into a chest of drawers, to find it empty; and in the dressing-room beyond I opened a huge wardrobe and explored its dusky depths with the aid of my lamp. An old silk tea-gown hung there, which I remembered seeing my mother wear a year or two ago. It had been very smart in its best days, but afterwards she had used it carelessly.

A sudden impulse bade me find and search the pocket, and just as my fingers had come in contact with some small object there a slight sound behind me caused me to give a start and glance wide-eyed over my shoulder.

I could see nothing that I had not seen before, yet I tingled with the impression that I was being watched.

What I had found in the pocket was a miniature key, which might almost have belonged to a piece of doll's furniture, so tiny was it.

Suddenly, when I had withdrawn the key and closed the wardrobe, I remembered that, behind me, and in the direction whence the faint noise had come, was the door which opened on the private staircase. Summoning all my resolution, and acting before it could die away, I hurried to the curtain of old tapestry which draped the door, and tried to turn the handle. If anything were really there I wanted to see it. But the handle would not move, and I had at last to conclude that the door was locked and the key taken away.

There was just one comfort in this theory. If the door was fastened nothing could have looked out at me, and my imagination must have played me another trick as it had in the matter of the priest—that was all.

My blood was up now, however, and, dimly glad to be away from the place where I had fancied such strange things, I visited every other bedroom in the West Wing.

It was one o'clock when I returned to my own room. I had been two hours away, and I was no wiser than I had been when I started.

The little key from the pocket of the tea-gown I laid on the dressing-table. I would not lose it, because it had been my mother's and because it might yet prove able to unlock some receptacle which I had not discovered. I did not attach any importance to it, however. If my mother had valued it, or anything connected with it, it appeared unlikely that the key should have lain neglected in the pocket of an old tea-gown scarcely ever worn of late.

The battle of the storm went on throughout the night.

I was thankful when morning came, bleak and gray, with no feeling of soft April in the air, and a splashing of rain upon the window-panes.

"Perhaps Roger won't come for his business talk," I thought. But the hope was faint. It took a great deal to turn Roger from any purpose he had formed.

"Oh, miss, what a dreadful night it's been!" exclaimed Swift, when she appeared to dress me. "It's a queer thing they were saying downstairs last evening—that there's always a storm like this when one of the old family dies. It either comes on the night of the death or of the funeral, sometimes one and sometimes the other. I just passed Mrs. Ewarts"—Ewarts was the housekeeper, who had been a grown-up woman and in service at Arrish Mell Court when my mother was a child—"and she said she'd scarcely had a wink of sleep for the queer noises about the house. You know what they do say happens, don't you, miss"—and Swift's voice fell to a tone of mystery—"when there's been a death at this place?"

"No. What do they say?" I asked, curiously, as Swift made ready my bath and hung the great soft bath-towel to dry before the newly-lighted fire.

"They say that then the priest walks, not only in his own rooms, but through the house. And Mrs. Ewarts was almost sure she heard footsteps moving about in the middle of the night. She was up and at her door once or twice, the noises all about the place were so weird."

"I was in the West Wing looking through some old papers, and so on, of Lady Cope's, from eleven to one," I said. "Perhaps she heard me. I dare-say she could in her room; and once I [illegible]

To be Continued

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make. SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE.

ALL FURNISHINGS AT COST AND UNDER.

H. E. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS, 382 GEORGE STREET

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers, LEITH, Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd

AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE

ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.

MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
Montreal, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{88}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interests is the order of the day and this form of Investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $55.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited. A Canadian Company with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c $12 50

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a silver lead mine situated in British Columbia, Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $50.00 to the ton. SHARES 10c $5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends. SHARES 50 cents $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents 12 50

Total value $55 00

275 SHARES ...... FOR $50 00 CASH

100 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.

FINANCIAL AGENTS,

211-212 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

The New York Times Saturday Review of Books.

$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—in fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION

THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times SUNDAY EDITON

$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL	$1,000,000
RESERVE FUND	270 000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D., President.
HON. S. C. WOOD,
W. H. BEATTY, Vice-Presidents.

JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P.
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government the Corporation is accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice for the investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRATOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures consecutive action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon All Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELRY, CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR, Managing Director.
A. D. LANGMUIR, Assistant Manager

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

[illegible] Illustrated Catalogue [illegible] Post [illegible] complete List of Lace Goods [illegible]

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the [illegible] and save three Profits.

[illegible] REAL SWISS, [illegible] CAPES, [illegible] LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL [illegible]

Lot No. [illegible] contains— [illegible] Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, [illegible] yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair [illegible] Floral Pattern [illegible] Curtains, 3 yds. long, 60 in. wide, [illegible] On receipt of Post Office Order for $6.30, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth.

Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable work, Marvellous Value, and Durability. [illegible]

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established 1857.

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Advertise In The Times, —Everybody reads The Times.

Navigation

ALLAN LINE

LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE

ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 6 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 3 a.m.	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 6 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 6a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $50 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $26 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... June 25th
Mongolian...... July 9th.

S.S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to: W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd

River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S.S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN, Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply to W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.

(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. for Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 9.30 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO

STR. "ARGYLE"

(Commencing Thursday, May 22)

EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at	12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7 00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday	2.00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville	11.00 a m
" Trenton	1.15 p m
" Brighton	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte	7.30 p m

"Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager, Picton, Ont

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS

"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.

—FROM—

TORONTO

—TO—

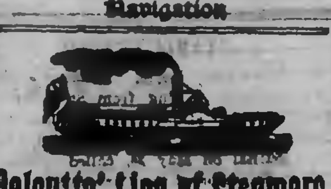
NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9 00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

Six Trips Daily (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY, General Manager, Toronto, Ont

Navigation



Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay

ESTURION

JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv 6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point "	7.15 a.m.	"	4.10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar 8.40 a.m.	"	5.30 p.m.
"	Lv 11.00 a.m.	"	5.45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point "	12.10 p.m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar 1.15 p.m.	"	8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.

MANITA

JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon............Leave	7 00 a. m.
Bridgenorth............Arrive	9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth............Leave	3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon............Arrive	5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt., G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG, PORT HOPE, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

STEAMERS

"NORTH KING" AND "CASPIAN"

Daily Route Commencing June 29

SOUTH BOUND.

Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... 2.00 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... 2.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ...... [illegible] p.m.
Arrive Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... [illegible] p.m.

NORTH BOUND.

Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets ...... [illegible] a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester)...... [illegible] a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... [illegible] p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... 2.50 p.m.

Baggage can [illegible] checked to any place in Rochester, [illegible] from Rochester to an point [illegible] ticket reads. For further information apply to

H. H. Gildersleeve, [illegible]
General Manager, Agent
Kingston Port Hope

STEAMER

"MAJESTIC"

CAPT. W. [illegible], Master.

For week ending June 28th, the Majestic will connect as follows:—

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday will leave Lakefield on arrival of morning train, returning to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

On Tuesday there will be no regular boat

Saturday evening, June 28th, will leave Lakefield on arrival of the evening train for the lakes.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor

Lakefield, June 23, 1902.

A VOLCANO IN ACTION

Near View of the Great Volcano of St. Vincent

A STEAMER DRIVEN BACK

Fury of La Soufriere When In Its Angry Mood

Tremendous Lightning Flashes Above the Crater—The Changed Appearance of the Mountain

St. Lucia, June 21.—The steamer Wear was sent from St. Lucia to carry Government despatches to St. Vincent and to report upon the extent of the eruption of the volcano which has just been reported to have taken place there. The writer and an officer of the garrison applied for and obtained permission to accompany this vessel.

The Wear was to sail at 6 p.m. At about 5 p.m. a steamer was signalled making for Port Castries, and she came to anchor in the harbor about 5.30. As soon as the first person went alongside the captain implored that medical assistance should be immediately rendered, as nearly everyone of his crew of twenty-eight men was dead or dying, having been enveloped in a volcanic eruption off St. Pierre, Martinique. This ship was the Roddam, whose escape has since been described.

In her condition then she was quite unrecognizable. She was incrusted from stem to stern in a layer of volcanic ash of a dead gray color, and it lay several inches thick upon her decks. The funnel, which was previously black, red and white in large bands, was now of the same uniform gray, and her name was almost undecipherable.

This was an illustration for us of what a volcano could do, and we were soon to have other evidences of the same kind. As the Wear steamed past the Roddam, the destruction was clearly seen. Derricks adrift, the stanchions and part of the awning aft hanging over the stern, and the whole vessel bore evidence of the fury of the fiery tornado through which she had passed. With such a sight before us, and such dreadful accounts ringing in our ears, the Wear started up on her voyage.

All the way across huge flashes of light could be discerned from the direction of the Soufriere at St. Vincent, these flashes on each occasion being accompanied by roars as of distant thunder.

The captain of the Wear was a native of St. Vincent, and knew the coast well. About midnight, to our great alarm, while the crater was flashing and thundering away on our left, the vessel ran into a dense mass of volcanic ashes and dust falling over the sea in all directions, through which it was impossible to see further than a few feet.

DANGEROUS SAILING.

This continued to get worse and worse until it was hardly possible to stand on deck except under cover and it became difficult to breathe, as eyes, nose and mouth were getting choked. All hands were posted at various points of the deck peering into the black void, but nothing could be seen except the flashes from the crater, which appeared to be constantly in eruption some two or three miles away on the port bow.

Suddenly the vessel ran into calm water and the lookout man in the bow cried out "Cliffs ahead!". The helm was instantly put over hard a starboard and the ship came round. The lookout now cried "Land on the port side," but soon afterward the vessel ran into rough water again and we were clear.

The noise of the crater was kept on the starboard quarter, astern of us, and after long steaming the showers of ashes became less and less, and eventually we ran into a clear atmosphere. Soon afterward the ship was put on a new course, and again we ran into falling ashes, but on this occasion the showers were lighter and we soon got out of the dust.

THE SOUFRIERE.

Shortly afterward land was observed on the port side and we went at half speed until it was ascertained that we were well down the leeward coast of St. Vincent. Then full speed was ordered and we reached Kingstown at 6.15 a.m., five hours late.

After emerging from the belt of falling ashes the view of the crater in its constant activity was awful to behold. What appeared like a gigantic pillar of smoke rose straight up into the heavens, and hung steadily over the mouth of the crater.

TREMENDOUS LIGHTNING FLASHES

Through this at every roar could be observed flashes of light. This pillar appeared like an enormous mass of electricity. Flashes of forked lightning were constantly being emitted from it, like fiery serpents, running up and down the pillar and crosswise, sometimes three or four flashes at the same moment without any intermission.

We made several attempts to count the number of flashes to the minute, but they were so many and constant that it could not be done. The mountain was infinitely more impressive in its grandeur that night than when seen in the midst of its activity on the passage back next day.

We found that Kingstown had the previous afternoon been covered with a layer of dust and small stones, and the residents were much alarmed. Many deaths had already been reported from the neighborhood of the Soufriere, among them some of the principal planters of the island and their families.

These were reported to have been in nearly all cases killed by lightning—those dreadful flashes we had ourselves seen on the voyage.

While we were at Kingstown an enormous pillar of smoke or steam rapidly covering the heavens came floating from the volcano, covering the island. Shops and houses were quickly closed and the residents gazed upon it terrified. Eventually it spread in all directions and gradually floated away.

SUFFERING OF THE ISLANDERS.

At Barouallie the Rev. Thomas Huckerby, the newly appointed Wesleyan minister at Chateau Belair, came on board and gave us sad stories of distress. Ashes fell in places two and three feet deep and were still falling, he said. All the refugees from the interior were crowding to the coast places, and food was running short, and there was no water. Some refugees had tramped for thirty-six hours through the volcanic dust without any water whatever, and all the cattle were dead or dying.

THE MOUNTAIN IN ERUPTION.

At Mr. Huckerby's request, we called again at Barouallie on our return, and towed his boat from there to Chateau Belair, where there were said to be about 700 refugees.

It was when nearing Chateau Belair that the mountain could be seen in all its grandeur. The summit was covered with a dense cloud, but the side of the mountain was clearly visible.

Everything was blackened and seared, only the stumps remaining of the large forest trees that three days before had covered the slopes. From every foot of this slope streams of a liquid having the appearance of lava were rushing down into the valley below.

The impression it gave us was that of a large net thrown over the mountain side, every mesh and strand of which was a lava stream. Huge volumes of steam were thrown up where the lava entered the stream.

At this spot what appeared to be new land of a reddish brown color could be clearly observed running out from the base of the cliffs to the sea on an easy gradual slope. The sea itself was covered with the wreck of trees, etc., brought down from the land.

STEAMING AROUND THE LAND.

At this moment the wind veered slightly, and the dense cloud of ashes and mud, falling seaward as far as the eye could reach, which lay right in our track for St. Lucia, began slowly to roll down toward us. A few moments later Mr. Huckerby cast off and we entered this belt, but for a few moments only could we face it, and the ship was put about and we ran out of it.

About five miles further seaward it appeared as if there was a clearer opening in this belt, and we steered for it and again attempted to pass through, but unsuccessfully. The ship was instantly enveloped in this cloud, and although we only penetrated about 300 yards, when we emerged everything was gray, and there was about a quarter of an inch of ashes on deck.

Testing It For Herself.

He watched her arranging the violets in the big Kakiri bowl.

She looked so very pretty, and yet she must be told.

Lighting a cigarette, he braced himself for the telling. As he tossed the match in the direction of the blazing fire, she came toward him, holding in her hand a few of the purple flowers.

"For you," she said, simply, and pressed close to his side as she put them in his buttonhole.

After that she bent and kissed him, slowly and deliberately. He sat transfixed. In all their platonics her lips had never before touched his.

Ere he could recover himself she kissed him again.

Not a word nor a caress accompanied either kiss. They stood out against a background of utter incomprehensibility.

Then she walked over by the fire. He looked anxiously after her.

She faced about, and he saw that her lips were moving slightly, while her eyes had a far-off gaze.

At last she spoke.

"You can marry her!"

There was a pause—she seemed to be indulging in further meditation—and then—

"Yes, you can marry her. I don't care at all. You —, I kissed you on purpose. I did it twice to make sure, and I didn't feel even the faintest quiver either time. I was very careful, and tasted each kiss thoroughly, and I know now that—that you can marry her."

He rose, his form and his rage towering together. What man could be calm on learning that his lips possess no power to thrill?

"Good-bye," he said, putting out his hand.

"Good-bye," she answered, smiling.

He went out, and the door closed behind him.

She stood where he left her, banding her clasped fingers across her eyes. The sunlight streamed in between the window arches and shot a ray of glory over the violets, the woman and the woman's yellow hair. It caused the diamonds on her hand to sparkle brilliantly, and something on her cheek shone too.

"Dear heaven!" she murmured, softly, "what must it be to have him do the kissing!"

His Advice.

The story is told of the present Archbishop of Canterbury that, upon a candidate for ordination essaying to read a chapter of the Bible before him to test his elocutionary powers, he was stopped with the abrupt comment, "Ye're inaudible!" "But, my lord," said the discomfited youth, "I've read the lesson in a big church, and been told that every word could be heard." "Who told ye—a lady? Are ye engaged to her?" The candidate owned the soft impeachment. "Then, dinna believe a word she says—until ye're married to her," was the ungallant reply.

The Artist's Little Joke.

"This," said the Eminent Artist, "is my famous study of the Cows in the Clover." "But where is the clover?" we asked, not seeing any of it in the picture. "Oh, the cows have eaten it, you know."

Spring.

Dame Nature, too, is cleaning house,
For in each cool retreat
She puts her verdant carpet down—
The one that can't be beat.—"Judge."

"You," sighed the rejected lover, "would find your name written in imperishable characters in my heart could you but look." "So?" murmured the fair young thing, who was aware of the fact that the swain had been playing Romeo at the seaside for something like twenty years. "So? Then you must have a heart like a hotel directory by this time."—Baltimore "American."

Mainly About People.

A High Church stranger who was visiting a rural church in England enquired: "Have you matins in this church?" "Oh, no, sir," replied the rustic verger, "but we have oilcloth right up to the chancel."

An Argyllshire elder was asked how the kirk progressed in his locality. "Ah, weel," said he, "we had four hundred members. Then we had a divession and there were only twa hundred left; then a disruption and only ten left. Then we had a heresy trial; and now there's only me and ma brither Duncan left, and I ha' grave doots o' Duncan's orthodoxy."

The great Mendelssohn was once compelled to accept the office of bookkeeper with a banker who was a very ignorant man. A few days after the banker said to Mendelssohn: "Do you think God works things wisely? You He made to be a bookkeeper, and me a rich banker." "Just notice the wisdom of God," promptly replied Mendelssohn. "If He had made me the banker, do you think I would engage you for a bookkeeper?"

The story is told that President Roosevelt was once traveling in Idaho, and passed a bookstore in the window of which was a copy of his "Winning of the West." Going into the bookstore he enquired, "Who is this author Roosevelt?" "Oh," said the bookseller, "he's a ranch-driver." "And what do you think of his book?" asked the President. "Well," said the dealer, slowly and deliberately, "I've always thought I'd like to meet the author and tell him that if he had stuck to running a ranch and give up writing books he'd have made a powerful more of a success at his trade."

The chief of the Leslies is said to have prayed before a battle: "Lord, be on our side! An' gin ye canna be on our side, aye lay low a bit, an' ye'll see thae carles get a hidin' that must please ye." An old Covenanter, who ruled his household with a rod of iron, is said to have prayed in all sincerity at family worship: "O Lord, hae a care o' Rab, for he is on the great deep, an' Thou holdest it in the hollow o' Thy hand. An' hae a care o' Jamie, for he has gone to fight the enemies o' his country, an' the outcome o' the battle is wi' Thee. But ye needna fash Yersel' wi' wee Wully, for I hae him here, an' I am cawpable o' lookin' after him mysel'."

Lord Kelvin, the great British scientist, now in this country, is much given to preoccupation. It is said his students were wont to accompany the endless repetition of the definition of an ideal magnet, "an infinitely long, infinitely thin, uniform, and uniformly and longitudinally magnetised bar," by a stately tramp of feet. At the conclusion of this staggering performance, Professor Thomson, as he then was, would invariably shout, "Silence." One day the boys put it up to keep absolutely still, but the cry of "Silence" came at the end just the same. It is told of him, too, that he once went sound asleep presiding at a banquet. It was the penalty of overwork.

Opie Read, the Southern novelist, who lives in Chicago, has accepted the nomination for alderman from a Republican convention in a Republican ward. Until the last Presidential campaign Mr. Read had always affiliated with the Democracy. During the campaign of 1900, however, he made speeches in the West in behalf of the sound-money ticket. When his bill of expenses went to Mr. Hanna the chairman noticed that Mr. Read's expenses in Denver were much larger than at any other place. Mr. Hanna called Mr. Read's attention to this. "I reckon as much," Mr. Read replied, "but did you ever play poker in that pesky town?" Mr. Hanna made no answer, but put an "O. K." on the account.

Clark Newton of the Parker House, Boston, is telling a good story at his own expense. When a small boy on the farm his folks often sent him to the neighbors to buy a dozen eggs when their hens failed to lay enough. He noticed that the old farmer always held each egg before a lighted candle and examined it carefully. In his innocence of Yankee shrewdness, Newton supposed that this was prompted more by honesty and intention to detect whether the eggs were bad or not. One day, however, when he counted his eggs, according to custom, there were only eleven in the basket. With a determination not to be cheated, the lad trudged proudly back to the house, and quickly made known his discovery. "Oh," said the old farmer, "that's all right, my boy; one of them has a double yolk."

Written on the Face.

We write our characters on our faces; yet, though we are quick to read our neighbor's face we are slow to realize that our own is open for him to read. But it is. The story is there, and we are writing it every day of our lives. Not only do smiles and frowns leave traces, but every passion which sways the heart stamps its record upon the face. Even a ride in a street car or a short railway journey gives proof of this. Look around you. Those two strangers opposite you never saw before, yet you know that one is passionate, the other mean, and your heart warms to the little old lady near by. You want no one to assure you she is kind and gentle, while a whole network of wrinkles about the eyes tells you that the old gentleman in the corner loves his joke. Character, indeed, is written plainly on every face. Some speak of tragedy, some of comedy, and not a few give you a distinct warning.

Uneasy Lies, Etc.

An American chiropodist now in Berlin advertises that he "has removed corns from all the crowned heads of Europe."

Missed It.

"I missed one of my pullets last night, Rufus," said the colonel, sternly. "Sho," replied Rufus, evasively, "yo' oughtn't tuh shoot at pullets in de dahk, kunnel."—Ohio "State Journal."

Mr. Bacon—I see by this paper that ice one and one-half inches thick will support a man. Mrs. Bacon—I always said there was an enormous profit in ice, John.—Yonkers "Statesman."

A Ghostly Game of Chess.

"The International Hall of the Cafe Monico is a truly palatial chamber, ever so many feet broad by ever so many more feet long. On the evenings of Friday and Saturday of last week," says London "Outlook," "it was divided by a barrier into two unequal parts. In the smaller sat, each at his board, the British chess-players competing against the American chess-players—who were not there. Through the larger roamed a selection of the chess public. . . . Inside the barrier, and next it, sat Mr. James Mason at a chess-board, facing us. We seem to have known Mr. Mason as a fine player these—well, say twenty years. On this occasion he is opposing Mr. J. F. Barry of America—who is not here; Mr. Barry is sitting in a room in Brooklyn three thousand miles away, under the eyes of American spectators. It is easy to say that the two men are connected by electric telegraph; but it is not wise to dispose of the mystery and romance of space in so rude a way. . . . But Mr. Mason, in this grand International Hall, seated opposite nothing better than a man with a book of telegraph forms who waits unconcernedly for the move, can he play thus dumbly and in absence against Mr. Barry in Brooklyn and think it chess? It is a very ghostly business, and we wonder Mr. Mason can get through with it at all. But he does. He is as solemn, as rapt in thought, as oblivious of all but the game as if Mr. Barry were opposite to him in the flesh, and not opposed to him only by electric telegraph. Clearly to him the play is everything, whether the opponent's move comes to him by actual touch, by telegraph, or by psychic suggestion. But for our part we cannot throw off a dread of the uncanny nature of the business. We feel inclined to look about for some manifestation of Mr. American Barry's spirit. What better evidence of it could we have than the arrangement of these wooden pieces on that wooden board? There is Mr. Barry—most effectually Mr. Barry, for he is causing Mr. Mason to think, and think, and think; to purse his lips in the old familiar way, to fall into immovable silences, wherein you would think he was revolving schemes of a new order of creation or puzzling out the mystery of man's origin and destiny; and Mr. Mason is doing the like to him in far Brooklyn. A strange and fascinating pursuit is chess, strange and unprofitable. Not politics, nor fame, nor wealth, nor love can so engross a man. These objects are usually compassed by flashes of passion, insight, and daring; but this slow, prolonged struggle of brain against brain, through the medium of pieces of fantastically carved wood, is pure devotion to an abstraction. The man who wins, who so hems in the piece of wood called a king that he may not move, gains nothing, proves nothing, establishes nothing but—'checkmate.' Yet when he accomplishes that he tastes of a satisfaction deeper and more permanent than is accorded to statesman or lover, merchant or gambler. To accomplish it he deliberately, and for very love of the doing of it, undertakes an enormous mental effort, a thing which mankind in general shuns as if it were Satan himself. Truly a most mystical business this chess. In Paradise you will find politicians reading poetry, and poets studying morals; merchants will be cultivating the arts, and critics weeping on other people's necks; but the chess-players will be playing chess."

Dispensing With Early Rising.

Some genius has, according to his own advertisement, invented an apparatus to dispense with getting up so early in winter time to set the kettle boiling. As far as we understand it, you fix the new invention on your clock, and at the hour required it starts a fire under a kettle of water. As soon as the water boils a bell rings, and you wake up. This is not the sort of thing that takes the cake; it simply grabs it.

We once saw a remarkable invention of this nature in Sheffield. It consisted of a small, but powerfully built bedstead which had an ingenious clockwork arrangement attached, as you would expect, to the ticking of the mattress. In the morning a phonograph got up from under the bed, walked round to your side, and announced it was seven o'clock. After giving you two minutes to reply, one of the hands of the clock reached up and pulled your ear playfully. These were just preliminaries so to speak. If you didn't move then, the patent bed began business. It got up on its hind legs and ran downstairs with you inside it till it got to the garden, where you were shot into a modest little heap under the pump. By a clever arrangement of the process of suction you were drawn up to the mouth and a refreshing stream of cold water crawled down your back. If this didn't wake you, you had to wait for Gabriel's trumpet.

As a matter of fact, the inventor explained, it did wake most people. But in case you were too sleepy to collect your thoughts into fitting shape, by pressing a little knob in one of the blankets, a second phonograph would grind out a little appropriate profanity to ease your feelings. The invention is patented; and when it is put on the market it will beat all the spring mattresses going, as it does for summer, autumn and winter as well.—"Pick-Me-Up."

An "Infernal" Dinner.

A tiny girl of seven gave a dinner-party the other day, for which twelve covers were laid, and that number of small maidens sat down to dine. It was a real little girls' dinner, and the little hostess herself presided, sitting at the head of the table. She had been very anxious, in looking forward to it, to do everything as it should be done. "Mamma," she asked, "shall we say grace?" "No," said mamma; "it will be a very informal dinner, and I think you need not do that." That meant one ceremony the less to be gone through, and was a relief. But the little lady was anxious to have all her guests understand it. So, as they gathered about the table, she explained: "Mamma says that this is such an infernal dinner that we need not have grace to-day!"

A NOTABLE LETTER

Sir Cavendish Boyle, governor of Newfoundland, writing from St. John's under date of May 13, to the London Times, in a letter which appeared in that journal on May 26, called attention to the valor of the Canadian troops making special mention of Pte. Charles Napier Evans. He also emphasized the fact, not always remembered, that though Newfoundland did not raise a contingent for South Africa, many of her hardy sons, equally devoted to the imperial cause, came to Canada and enlisted in the various units that they might share in the work and glory of defending the Flag and upholding the unity of the empire. Canadians will appreciate this intervention of Sir Cavendish as at once a tribute to his imperialism and to his interest in matters Canadian. His letter to the Times follows:

"To the Editor of the Times:

"Sir,—The death in battle of one of Canada's sons has recently been noticed in the Dominion papers; but I am not aware of any special mention of it in English journals. If I am mistaken I would offer you my apology for thus encroaching upon your time; otherwise the following brief record may find a place in your columns:

"Charles Napier Evans, a native of Port Hope, in Ontario, enlisted at the age of 23, in February, last, as a private in the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles for service in South Africa.

"During the engagement at Kleinharts' river," (I quote from Ottawa publications), "standing alone in the face of the onrushing Boers, every comrade, dead or disabled, Evans, himself mortally wounded, fired his last cartridge, and then broke his rifle over a boulder, preferring death to surrender.

"A Canadian by birth, a graduate of the public and high schools of Ontario, a scholar, an athlete, and a member of the volunteer militia force, his spirit tured under purely local influences, and it is on this account particularly, that his fellow countrymen are so proud of his performance; by his simple but eloquent action he has won imperishable renown both for himself and his country.

"There has been, no doubt, numberless deeds of bravery performed in South Africa, deeds which even if recorded, have not been made known to the general public; and Canadians, justly proud of the gallant action of Evans, have, perhaps, hesitated to give it publicity at home—how those words ring with imperial unity. But Canada has, in common with the other great dependencies of the crown, freely furnished her quota towards the maintenance of the empire's right — and amongst the Dominion battalions I rejoice to think that many from Newfoundland—unable herself to furnish a separate contingent—have found their way to the front, and have borne themselves as brave men, therefore, in admiration of the spirit of loyalty and devotion throughout the empire called forth by the present war, I venture to ask that through you this brave soldier's death may be brought to the notice of the thousands at home, who, informed of it, cannot fail to join with their brothers over sea in its full appreciation."

WINTER OVERCOATS IN JUNE

Lots of Them Out—Mighty Chilly Weather for the Month of Roses

Winter overcoats were a common sight on the streets since Sunday morning, and the men in them didn't look as if they cared whether the ice makers went on strike or not. At night more men went out with their heavy clothes and winter coats on, and the rest stayed home and hugged the kitchen fire.

Last Sunday was the coldest Sunday in June anybody could remember, and the fact was frequently remarked that the longest day of the year had been passed by and there hadn't been any real warm weather.

It has been a most unusual half year. February was about the most agreeable month of the six. There were many indications of early spring last winter, but never for years has the fair and fickle creature been so backward.

There are indications now, however, that warm weather is coming, so that those who were afraid they were going to be done out of their summer vacation may take heart. This g.f.j. will venture to prophesy a warm spell in July.

Reducing Soft Coal Output

Clearfield, Pa., June 24.—The Executive Board of District No. 2, United Mine Workers, in order to aid the anthracite mine strikers and to prevent the filling of anthracite contracts with bituminous coal, today issued an order fixing the working days of each week at four instead of six. The order continues:

Therefore, all miners in the territory named are requested to suspend work on Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week where coke ovens are to be charged, and on Fridays and Saturdays of each week at all plants where there are no coke ovens, the restriction to commence on June 26 and 27.

132 Miles in 129 Minutes

Special to The Times.

Altoona, Pa., June 24.—While the public has been watching the speed records of the new flyers on the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, Engineer Barney Rorke of Harrisburg, has been quietly discounting the achievements of the big passengers by bringing mail train No. 11 over the middle division at a mile-a-minute clip. This morning he beat his own record, making the run of 132 miles in 129 minutes. This is the fastest long run on the Pennsylvania railroad.

$3.10 $3.10
THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.
LIMITED.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made of our noted Chevio Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74. St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.
Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director
The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.
Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.
School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.
Edith Berdan, M. D., has the best treatment—has cured [illegible] of Obesity. Safely [illegible] Reduces Stout Abdomen and Large Hips [illegible] [illegible] Dr. Berdan, [illegible]

R·I·P·A·N·S
There is scarcely any condition of health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R-I-P-A-N-S Tabules. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
for Ladies.
A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES
superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

Everybody reads The Times.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, ENG. | Send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 324 pages, and all the original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 326 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.") This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 328 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 330 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE

An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 159 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 387 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.

Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips, cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings' Medicine Co
[illegible] YONGE ST., TORONTO

BIG G
[illegible]
U.S.A.
CURE YOURSELF!
Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous.
Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper [illegible]

King Edward VII.
Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

Lead and
Small Block Tin Pipe
WILLIAM STREET, TORONTO.

NERVOUSNESS

Or despondency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early abuse, later excesses or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not eke out a miserable existence on account of your follies, you are not safe until cured—nature never excuses—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water comes freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not make it quite so freely, it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have a mucous deposit or brick dust colored sediment; give your condition immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed as a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chances. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE.,
Cor. Wilcox Street,
DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up) $12,000,000
Reserved Fund 7,000,000
Undivided Profits 876,521
General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO

SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend for the three months ending 30th June, 1902, being at the rate of

6 PER CENT.

(6%) per annum, has this day been declared upon the capital stock of this institution, and that the same will be payable at the offices of the company, Peterborough, Ontario, on and after

Wednesday, the 2nd day of July next.

The transfer books will be closed from the 17th to the 30th of June both days inclusive.
By order of the board.
W. G. MORROW, Manager
Peterboro, 6th June, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL,
BARRISTERS

OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building
Peterborough.

HENRY S. MARA — ALBERT W. TAYLOR

Mara & Taylor

Members Toronto Stock Exchange
STOCK BROKERS. 5 TORONTO ST

Orders promptly executed on the Toronto, Montreal and New York Exchanges

JOHN STARK & CO.

26 TORONTO ST. TORONTO.

Stocks Bought and Sold

ON TORONTO, MONTREAL AND NEW YORK EXCHANGES

Correspondence Invited.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 379 Water Street. Money to loan at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck, R. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton, C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 304 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. See A. FRY 304 Park Place

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOsition roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 16 Toronto St. east Toronto

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:
No. 321 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.
No 322 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.
Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

WANTED—A house of 7 or 8 rooms with all modern conveniences. State location and rent wanted. Address P. O. Box No. 31 town

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
10 King Street West, TORONTO

Items of News

As his very few European visitors know the Sultan's palace at Constantinople is a monument to fear. It is assassin-proof fire-proof, microbe-proof. Architects and engineers are building and rebuilding incessantly. Some new secret retreat is always under way. The entire domain is surrounded by an immense wall, thirty feet high, and the choicest troops of the empire stand guard around it. An inner wall, twelve feet thick with gates of iron, enclose the private residence itself. The walls of the Sultan's dwelling are filled with armor plate to resist projectiles. It is said that a mysterious passage connects with ten secret bed chambers, forming an intricate labyrinth. No one but his body attendants know where the sultan may sleep during any particular night.

He has electric lights and telephones in his own apartments, bur forbids them in Constantinople. Telephones might prove handy for conspirators and he believes that a dynamite cartridge could be sent over a wire into the palace. He fears electric explosions, so Constantinople still gets along with gaslight. He hates the word dynamo, because it sounds like dynamite. Ballons are tabooed, lest one should pause long enough over him to drop a chunk of explosive. As to the real luxury of the Yildis, that is a matter of course. The domain is a small world in itself. Five thousand persons live within the outer world, not counting a small army of workmen and the 7,000 Imperial guardsmen. There are shops, factories, arsenals, stable, a library, museums, picture gallery, theater and even a managerie. The monarch loves trees, but he keeps their branches well lopped off, so that he can see the furthest corner of his palace grounds.—Household Words.

AQUATIC.

New London, Conn., June 25—This New England town is preparing to rejoice in its annual college outing, for the crews of Yale and Harvard contest for supremacy on the Thames to-morrow. The town is decorated impartially in blue and crimson, and everywhere on the streets are many madess of students. Gales Ferry and Red Top, the training quarters of the two crews, were besieged throughout the day by crowds of students and lovers of aquatic sports.

It is generally conceded that the three races, 'varsity eight, 'varsity four, and freshman eight, will be the most closely contested event held in years. Few wagers are reported so far, but the betting is expected to be heavy when the crowds arrive from New York and Boston to-morrow morning. The races this year will be run off at noon instead of in the evening, as last year. There will be the regulation three meets between the 'varsity shells, the four oar and the freshman boats. The first race will be the four-oared, and will start at 10 a.m., from the drawbridge, racing up stream to the navy yard. At 10.30 the freshmen will take up the start at the navy yard and row up to the ferry. At 2 o'clock the 'varsity will be called, and will be rowed down stream over the usual course, starting opposite Gales Ferry and finishing at the bridge. This arrangement, the first of its kind for five years, is necessitated by the tides. If it is stormy, or the conditions are at all unfavorable, the regatta will be postponed until evening, when the reverse arrangements will be followed out.

The referee's boat will be The Scout, owned by Mr. August Belmont. The Mirage, owned by Mr. Cornelius Vanderbuilt, will be the official boat. These and the launches of Yale and Harvard will be the only boats allowed to follow the races. William [illegible] will act as referee. President Roosevelt is scheduled to arrive here this evening on board the United States dispatch boat Dolphin and his presence to-morrow is expected to add much to the interest of the occasion.

With 16,000 to 18,000 Boers now surrendering, 26,000 Boers previously prisoners of war, 20,000 in the concentration camps or on parole, 6,000 serving as National Scouts with the British forces, the foreigners, the exiles, the dead and wounded, evidently at least 80,000 were in the Boer forces, and possibly 100,000. No wonder the republics were confident at the outset.

THE RING

London, June 24—The programme of bouts arranged for the National Sporting Club is the best of the coronation series. Three of the four fighters scheduled to appear are Americans, and two of them at least are at the top of their class. The wind-up will be furnished by Tommy Ryan and Johnny Gorman, and is to decide the middleweight championship of the world, though it can hardly be said that the winner of the go will be in possession of an undisputed title. Nevertheless, the bout should prove to be one well worth seeing. Ryan hopes to retain his title, while Gorman is equally anxious to wrest it from him. The backers of both men declare that the bout will not go the limit.

In the preliminary Frank Erne, who lowered his colors to Joe Gans at Buffalo a short time ago, will go on with Pat Daly, a British product. As a scientific exhibition the bout is expected to be a good one, with the odds in favor of the American boy.

ARMED ROBBER BANDS

Are All That Remain of the Insurrection in Philippines

Special to The Times.

Chicago, June 25 — Don Felipe Buencamino, who was secretary of state in Aguinaldo's cabinet, will make Chicago the principal stopping place in his tour of commercial investigation. He arrived from St. Louis last night and will remain here until he hears from Canton, where he hopes to call on Mrs. McKinley, if her health will permit the visit.

Don Felipe has come to learn about the political and commercial prospects of the Philippines and has already visited Washington, Charleston, Atlanta and St. Louis. He is strongly in favor of the continuance of American rule in the archipelago. "My objects in coming to this country are many," said he. "I want to explain to the people of the United States the situation in the Philippines at the present time; to ask for amnesty for former rebels; for further educational facilities for the people, such as an appropriation permitting the education of the young Filipinos in this country; to secure 6,000 more American teachers in the islands at higher salaries than they are now receiving, and to collect data to hold an exposition in Manila in honor of the Filipino hero, Dr. Rizal. Another purpose of my visit is to further the development of commercial relations between the archipelago and the United States. The American people should understand clearly that peace is completely restored. All that remains are a few robber bands which easily can be disposed of by the native constabulary, and they probably will be dispersed or exterminated within six months. In regard to the reports of atrocities committed by American soldiers in the islands, there have been some abuses, but the authorities have seen that the perpetrators received the punishment they deserved. It is not fair to condemn the whole army for the abuses of a few soldiers."

ON EVE OF CORONATION

London Gaily Decked for the Great Event On Thursday

Special to The Times.

London, June 24—Outward and visible signs that London is on the eve of the coronation are abundant. The decorators have done their work so thoroughly that the facades of many buildings are completely hidden beneath masses of flags and bunting. The inrush of visitors during the past twenty-four hours has caused the leading thoroughfares to present a congested appearance. Detachments of military are clattering hither and thither; bands are to be heard here, there and everywhere, and visiting royalties, including princes, grand dukes and those of inferior rank, are to be encountered at every turn. The slump predicted by the pessimists has failed to materialize. Evidently they had not calculated on the rush of visitors from foreign parts. The latter began to arrive several weeks ago, but the King's loyal subjects in all parts of the United Kingdom are only now putting in their appearance, but they are coming with a rush that threatens to upset all of the early calculations. Railroad officials, police authorities and others who are in a position to give reliable estimates all agree that London to-day is entertaining the largest crowd in its his- will, for they will be personally liable un- tory.

ANOTHER ODE TO BURLEIGH FALLS

Another ode to Burleigh falls.

[Note—Seeing a poem headed "Ode to Burleigh Falls," in the Times a few days ago, I venture to work off the following, at the risk of breaking your printing press. By One Who Was There.]

They told me you were frigid
    Burleigh Falls;
And your liquor laws were rigid
    Burleigh Falls;
That your rocks were never ending,
And big fish were ever sending
Your ways were never mending
    Burleigh Falls.

That your winters were a fright
    Burleigh Falls;
And your summers froze up tight,
    Burleigh Falls;
That men were always broke
That truth was never spoke
That this is an idle joke
    Burleigh Falls.

They tell me not the truth
    Burleigh Falls;
I will tell them so, forsooth,
    Burleigh Falls;
With your rocks and falls and lake
Every record you can break
And you always take the cake
    Burleigh Falls.

You have money running loose
    Burleigh Falls;
The same is true of booze
    Burleigh Falls;
Your summers are rich and fair
Your winters finely rare;
At your rocks the world would stare
    Burleigh Falls.

Men will lie in every clime
    Burleigh Falls;
Some do it for pastime
    Burleigh Falls;
But your rocks and swaying pines,
Water full of rods and lines,
And the natives read the Times
    Burleigh Falls.

[illegible] CINCINNATI, O. U.S.A.

CURE YOURSELF!

Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous. Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for [illegible] Circular sent on request.

THE ASHBURNHAM PUBLIC SCHOOL JUNE PROMOTIONS

NAMES OF SUCCESSFUL PUPILS AT THE RECENT EXAMS.

Marks Obtained at the Monthly Examinations—Names are in Order of Merit

Names are in order of merit
Junior IV to senior IV—
Violet Whitaker,
May McCubbin,
Bruce Fisher,
Gordon Butcher,
Maggie Anderson,
Evelena Gardiner,
Harry Fisher
Ruby Quartermaine,
Willie Butcher
Senior Third to Junior Fourth—
Honors—David Smith
Fred. Wyatt
Mabel Lewis,
Arthur Packenham,
Passed—Lillian Rogers.
Herbert Faint,
Fred. Cunningham.
Junior Third to Senior Third—
Honors—Norman Geale,
Mabel Hinds,
Passed—John Kerr,
Annie Hinds,
Wesley Crowe,
Daisy Smith.
Neva Davey.
Senior Second to Junior Third—
Honors—Hazel Greenwood
Ethel Clarke,
Passed—Doris Donaldson
Mabel Oliver,
Albert Whitaker,
Iola Fisher,
Grant Rightmeyer,
Junior Second to Senior Second—
Honors—B. Cross.
E. Wyatt
W. Noyes
M. Russel
A. Weart.
Passed—A. Henthorne
G. Evans
E. Dailler
Sr. Pt. Second to Jr. Second—
Honors—J. Garvin Markle
J. Graham,
M. Adams,
O. Waterman,
L. Williams
Passed—H. Goodenough
R. Brotherson,
M. Caldwell
G. Hartley
Junior Pt. II to Sr. Pt. II.—
Honors—L. Rogers,
F. Long
R. Gerkins,
F. Mather
O. Girven
A. Crowe
W. Manicoe
V. Hinds
A. Waddell
Passed—K. VanNorman
L. Lilley.
Sr. Pt. I to Jr. Pt. II.
Honors—Mary May,
Alex. Butcher
Earl Cross,
Passed—Ada Adams,
Alice Neil,
Bertie Gillespie,
Janet Renwick
Percy Telford.
Howard Wyatt
Intermediate I to Sr. Pt. I
Honors—Lulu Greenwood
Hazel Crane
Passed—Freddy Long
Maxie Swanston
Alex. McCallister
Elma Graham
Cecil White
Jr. Pt. I to Intermediate I.
Douglas Johnston.
Honors—Bertha Record
Greta Packenham,
Passed—Ernest Parker
Eva McLean
Willie Rutherford
Hugh Stewart
Willie Thompson
Bruce Clark
Ethel Lossey.

It is understood that any pupil who has been promoted and does not do satisfactory work in the class to which he has been promoted, will not be allowed to remain in it. All promotions must therefore be regarded as provisional.

School will re-open on Tuesday, Sep-

Appended are the reports concerning the standing of the pupils in the different rooms of the Ashburnham public school.

Entrance class, 870 marks — Clara Craig honors, 742; H. Williams, honours, 656; B. Curtis, 650; E. Packenham 638, L. McCubbin 635, E. Pollock 612, C. Adams 611, W. Swanston 583, F. Scott 5779, D Brealey 560, C. Crane 533, F. Nayes, 5517, J. Quinn, 509, A. White 493, H. Anderson 441, H. Geale 291.

Senior Fourth Class, 870 marks — Elva Greenwood 421, Jennie Gillespie 356 Kathleen Long 355, Muriel Scott 339. G. Butcher, A. Straine, A. Hunter, E. Sawyer, L. Henthorn, E. Quinn.

Junior Fourth Class — 870 marks — 606, Willie Butcher 578, May McCubbin 565, Harry Fisher 562, Bruce Fisher 519, Evelena Gardiner 513, Maggie Anderson 506, Tillie Graham 444, Eva Crane 429, Ruby Quartermaine 413, Hazel Craig 411, Willie Henthorn 386, Annie Crocker, 373, Guy Quartermaine 308.

Senior III — Lillian Rogers, Mabel Lewis, Fred. Cunningham.

Junior III — Norman Geale, Daisy Smith, John Kerr.

Senior II — Hazel Greenwood, Ethel Clark, Iola Fraser.

Junior II — Bertram Cross, E. Wyatt, A. Henthorne.

Senior Part II — J. Garvin Markle, Muriel Caldwell, Laura Williams.

Junior Part II — Ormond Girven, Fred. Mather, Leah Rogers and Fanny Long, equal.

Senior Part I — Mary May, Janet Renwick, Alex. Butcher, Earl Cross and Percy Telford, equal.

Intermediate — Lulu Greenwood, Hazel Crane, Cecil White.

Junior Part I — Bertha Record Greta Packenham, Eva McLean.

—Farmers are now upon public highways, filling up washouts, depositing gravel, grading, repairing bridges, renewing culverts, removing boulders, filling up mud holes, and doing other work for the improvement of the roads.

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories. Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year
Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

A PREACHER GRAVELY ACCUSED

A Father Whips Rev. O. C. Burt, of Quarryville, Pa., and Has Him Arrested

Lancaster, Pa., June 25 — The Rev. O. C. Burt, pastor of the Quarryville circuit of the Methodist Church, a married man with three children, was arrested on Saturday night for disorderly conduct and alienating the affections of Miss Anna Shank the 20 year old daughter of Franklin Shank of Quarryville. At a recent meeting of the Philadelphia Conference of the Methodist Church charges affecting his character were preferred against Burt, who was placed upon a year's probation.

Recently Miss Shank's mother found a schedule made by her daughter of a proposed trip on July 2 of herself and Burt to New York, but when questioned she obstinately refused an explanation. Saturday evening Burt was summoned to Shank's house, when he boldly declared that he and the girl loved each other and he would have her, no matter what happened. Shank then gave him a terrible flogging and threw him out on the porch, afterward kicking him off it. The preacher was so badly injured he had to be assisted to bed.

Later in the night he was arrested and held under bail for a hearing. A crowd of excited people gathered and threatened mob violence.

Buds and Flowers of Home Life

Paine's Celery Compound

MAKES AND KEEPS THE CHILDREN WELL AND STRONG

Mothers Make It the Home Medicine For the Little Ones

The children, God bless them, are the buds and flowers of our homes. Without their prattle and hearty laughter, our homes would be desolate. They should ever be carefully tended in childhood and youth, if we expect them to ripen into perfect men and women.

In the home and at school, the children have their times of ill-health and suffering. We often note the pallid and bloodless cheeks, heavy eyes, nervous movements and twitchings of limbs and muscles. They complain of headache, drowsiness, dyspepsia and indigestion. All such symptoms and ailments mean that seeds of disease will have a fast and firm hold, unless proper measures are taken to restore a perfect condition of health.

Thousands of wise and prudent parents have made their children happy, healthy and vigorous by giving them nature's medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. In many severe and complicated cases, Paine's Celery Compound has restored health when the little ones were given up by physicians.

If your dear ones are not as hearty, strong and rugged as they should be in June, try the health-giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound. It makes and keeps the children well.

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE

'No Cure No Pay,' is the Newest Proposition of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills

Editor Morning Times

Sir,—We make the following proposition: one who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, as enumerated below, and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being supplied us to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 60 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada Chemical Company will forfeit [illegible] for

A GREAT ENGINEERING FEAT

To Connect Cape Breton and Nova Scotia at a Cost of Five Million Dollars

Sydney, C. B., June 26.—The bridging of the Strait of Canso, between Cape Breton and the mainland of Nova Scotia, will be undertaken at once. The task is an immense one, involving great engineering difficulties and an outlay of of about $5,000,000. J. A. L. Waddell, of Kansas City, has been engaged to oversee the work. Mr. Waddell is a Canadian and was graduated at McGill, and has been knighted by the Emperor of Japan, where he was at one time professor of Civil Engineering in the University. Mr. Waddell says the bridge will be a cantilever, with a span of [illegible] feet, the longest in the world. It will span the Strait between Port Hastings, on Cape Breton side, and Cape Porcupine, on the Nova Scotia shore, a distance of [illegible] feet. The construction of this bridge will remove all delays and inconveniences now experienced in crossing the Strait.

Lady Pauncefote's Departure

Special to The Times.

Washington, D. C., June 26. — Lady Pauncefote and the Honorable Misses Pauncefote left Washington to-day, en route to England to make the necessary preparations for the reception of Lord Pauncefote's remains at the late Ambassador's ancestral home at Preston. The body will be carried to England by the cruiser Brooklyn, now being made ready for sea at the New York navy yard.

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

SWEATY FEET
SORE FEET
ACHING FEET
BLISTERED FEET
HOT FEET
INFLAMED FEET
SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

Shun any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper article.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

-AND-

MALTING CO.. Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 26 1902

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—A good, smart messenger boy wanted at the Times Bookstore.

—Belleville will carry on its celebration today but the 57th Regt. will not be in attendance.

—A splendid Doherty organ 11 stops, cost $250, will be sold for $35. Apply at Times Bookstore.

—The Times just now is making a thorough house-to-house canvass of Keene and Allandale.

—A first class ladies' bicycle, nearly new, cost $40, will be sold for $15. This is a snap. Apply at Times Bookstore.

—A beautiful parlor organ, five octaves and eleven stops, for sale for $37.50 It is brand new and cost $200. Apply at Times Bookstore.

—The High School entrance examinations began at the Collegiate Institute building yesterday. A large number of pupils are writing.

—The union Coronation service, which was to have been held in the George street church this morning, has been withdrawn.

—The Board of Education will meet tomorrow evening, instead of the first Tuesday in July, which falls on Dominion Day.

—Those wishing to secure Chinese lanterns and fire crackers for Coronation day will find large varieties at The Times Bookstore. The Young Canada cannon firecracker just in is something entirely new.

—St. Luke's Bible class excursion advertised for today has been cancelled. North Star will take all who wish to use the tickets purchased. Others who do not wish to use tickets purchased will be refunded their money.

—On Tuesday evening a cow belonging to Mr. Robert Duff, of the 11th con., of Smith, was killed by lightning. The cow was in the stable at the time and was being milked by Mr. Duff's boy, whose escape from death was indeed miraculous.

—The Uxbridge Old Boys in Peterborough propose going to that town to take part in the festivities there on July 1st and 2nd. The Times job rooms printed 30 badges for the members of the Association.

—Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co., the popular clothiers, have a force of men at work on their new premises next door to the Bank of Toronto. The new store will have a double entrance—one on George street and the other on Hunter street.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS ARE CORDILLY INVITED.

There will be an EXHIBIT of HIGH GRADE PORTRAITS at the studio of R. M. ROY, on Saturday, June 28th. It will be a display of TRULY ARTISTIC WORK SEPHIA, BEAUTIFUL WATER COLORS, and everything that is newest and best in portraiture.

—As today will not be observed as a public holiday as previously announced, the store will not open after 8 p.m. In consequence the specials advertised for last night by Gough Bros. have been withdrawn, but they have been introduced into a strong list of special bargains for Saturday and Saturday night. See the list in another column.

—The Ashburnham public school board held a special meeting last night

—The Young Men's Guild excursion will take place to Stony Lake today as arranged.

—John Reginald Hooper, of Port Hope, well-known in Peterborough, after serving eight years of his twenty-five years' sentence, has been pardoned and will this week have cause as a free man to sing with heart and voice God Save the King.

—The most delicious absured burlesque ever seen in the circus ring is that of Frank Oakley with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous United. Oakley, besides being a clown of rare humor, is an expert rider, and he gives a burlesque of the riding by the "Queen of the Arena" that is simply side-splitting in its fun. He is one of the army of star fools with these great shows, who make of life a jest, and of the blues a memory. They will be seen at both the afternoon and evening performances of these shows, when they exhibit here on Tuesday, July 8.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine, is suffering from an attack of appendicitis.

—Miss Pearl Lundy is home from the Havergal Ladies' College for her summer vacation.

—Mr. J. M. Brooks, of the Palace Hotel, has been elected Second Vice Presi. dent of the Ontario License Holders Association.

—Mr. W. H. Bradburn is back from military camp at Kingston, being called home on account of the illness of his bookkeeper.

—Miss Lillie Simons, daughter of Mr. P. Simons, is taking a course of training in St. Mary's hospital, Rochester, and is home for a few days' holidays. Miss Simons is taking a three years course.

—Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood, is now on his way to Ireland where he will spend three months. Rev. Father McNulty, of St. Michael's College, Toronto, is taking charge of the Norwood and Havelock Roman Catholic churches during Father Conway's absence.

One Common Cause of Headache

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone, which traverses every air cell and air passages of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid cure for headache, and its action is unfailing in diseases of the throat and lungs, deafness, bronchitis, asthma and catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

I. O. O. F. NOTES

At the regular meeting of Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, I.O.O.F., on Monday, June 30, the Past Grands present will vote by ballot for Grand Lodge Officers, using the Hare-Spence system.

The voting at Peterborough Lodge will take place at the regular meeting on Thursday, June 26.

The District Committee will also meet in Thursday evening, June 26, to practice for the approaching public installations at Pontypool and Havelock. It is hoped all will be present.

There will be a joint installation at Peterborough on Monday, July 14, of the officers of both Lodges.

A GENEROUS GIVER

Mr. E. A. Peck, Again Remembers the Ashburnham Schools

For some years past Mr. E. A. Peck has given annually to the pupils making the best record in spelling and arithmetic in each class, a handsome book by some first class writer.

All interested in Ashburnham public school appreciate Mr. Peck's interest manifested in this way.

The prize winners this year are:

Senior IV.—Clara Craig.
Junior V.—Bruce Fisher.
Senior III.—Arthur Packenham.
Junior III.—Norman Greene
Senior II.—Hazel Greenwood.
Junior II.—Bertram Cross.

A record is kept throughout the term of the pupil's work in these two subjects, so to win a prize a pupil must attend regularly and work faithfully.

SUMMER FROLIC

Get Ready Now

Give the brain and body food during the summer that does not overtax the stomach and heat the body.

Grape-Nuts is a crisp, dainty and delicious food, selected parts of grain treated by heat, moisture and time to slowly and perfectly develop the diastase from the grain and transform the starch into grape sugar in the most perfect manner; the small particles of phosphate of potash found in certain parts of the cereals are retained and these elements vitalize and nourish the body, brain and nerve centers.

In its predigested form, it furnishes the necessary strength and energy in an easy way for the system to absorb without undue energy and removes the general feeling of heaviness usual to hot weather.

Grape-Nuts and cream, a little fruit, and possibly an egg or two cooked to suit the taste, is an ideal breakfast and will fully sustain the body until the noonday meal. Delicious deserts for luncheon and supper can be quickly made and have a flavor of their own from the peculiar, mild but satisfying sweet of the grape sugar.

Grape-Nuts will save the heat of cooking and the exertion of preparing food; will make you feel internally ten degrees cooler and fit you for the summer's heat so that you may enjoy the full pleasures of the season.

THE STREET RAILWAY

The Hitch in the Deal will Probably be Arranged

There is considerable disappointment over the delay in the street railway work. It was understood that the new company had taken possession and were only waiting to get legal formalities disposed of. It appears, however, that such is not the case. The new company is not yet in possession, although a deposit of $5,000 has been made on account. It is understood that $20,000 additional is required before anything can be done.

Yesterday Mr. J. C. Shook, Manager of the Dickson Company received a letter from Mr. R. R. Bene, President of the National Construction Company stating that he hopes to be town in the course of a day or two, and will try and complete the deal and make a start.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

Will be Held on Dates Originally Set for Them

The Ontario Department of Education has announced that owing to the postponment of Coronation Day the entrance examinations will take place on the dates originally set for them, namely, June 25, 26 and 27.

The examinations for Peterborough are now taking place at the Collegiate Institute here.

PRAYER FOR THE KING

Intercessory Prayer Meeting Held Last Night in Town

The regular Wednesday night prayer meetings in several of the leading churches last night took the form of intercessary prayer for the recovery of the King.

In St. Luke's, Ashburnham, a special service was held and also in St. John's In St. Paul's and in George Street Methodist churches earnest supplications were offered on behalf of His Majesty.

The Coronation Service which was to be held on Thursday in St. John's church has been postponed. A Service of Intercession will be held instead, at 11 a.m. at which Rev. A. E. Langdelft will give the address.

A VICIOUS COW

Mrs. Peter Preston, of Smith Has a Narrow Escape

On Friday last Mrs. Peter Preston of North Smith met with a very serious accident. A cow with a calf was in the field near the house where Mrs. Preston was working and some pigs which were in the field with the cow, annoyed the cow until she was infuriated. Mrs. Preston went into the field to drive away the pigs and the cow, which was dehorned, attacked her knocking her down and inflicting a very serious wound on her lower limbs with its feet. The animal was luckily frightened away before doing any further damage or it might have resulted fatally. The doctor was summoned and the wounds dressed. Mrs. Preston is doing very nicely but it will be some time before she shall be around again.

The Savings Bank of Health

Is lots of red and vitalising blood to nourish and invigorate the body. If your blood is thin and watery use Ferrozone. It supplies the necessary elements, such as phosphorus and iron, and quickly restores lost strength and spirits. Ferrozone is an unequalled restorative for the tired, the sick, and the run down; it stimulates appetite, aids digestion, soothes the nerves, and makes the system too healthy for disease to exist. No tonic does so much good in a short time as Ferrozone. Get it to-day from any druggist for 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Dr Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

MARRIED,

CRAIG — BROWN — On June 24th, 1902, by Rev. Wm. Bennett, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. W. F. H. Craig, of Klamount, to Miss E.R.G. Brown, youngest daughter of James Coyle Brown, Esq.

PIACY — BUCHANAN — On June 24, 1902, by Rev. Wm. Bennett, Mr. John Piacy, Belmont, to Miss Elizabeth Buchanan, of the same place.

A Watch Lost

A ladies gun metal watch lost yesterday afternoon, either on Dickson, McDonnel or Water streets, or in Victoria Park. Finder will kindly leave the watch at this office.

SATURDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIALS AT GOUGH'S

Here's important news for Saturday and Saturday night shoppers at Gough Bros:

All our $12.50 Men's Fine Suits, strictly 1902 fashionable styles and patterns, specially reduced, Saturday and Saturday night only, at........$8.90

See our display in large plate glass window.

25 doz. Fancy Bicycle Hose, regular price 75c and $1.00 special........39c

doz. black and Drab Fine Fur Panama Fedoras, regular price $2.25, special........$1.50

100 pairs Men's Dongola bals. regular price $1.75, special $1.25

100 pairs Men's Dongola bals. regular $1.75. Special........$1 25

TULLY & MERRELL, Manager

Servant Girl Wanted

Good General Servant wanted with some experience. No laundry work. Family of four. Good wages. Apply to Mrs. Hugh Charles.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH
Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25,$1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for........1.75
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75 for..$1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00 for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS! STRAW HATS!

Plain Straw Hat..............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c,$1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

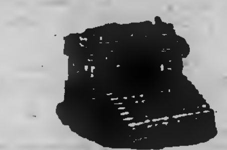
BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

TYPEWRITERS



I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1885.

Address A. E. Wilber's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

Help Wanted.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $10 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 44 and 46 Broadway, New York.

APPRENTICE WANTED to learn the printing business. Apply at this office.

GIRL WANTED at once to learn book binding. Apply at the Times Bookstore, George Street.

DINING ROOM GIRL and good cook wanted. Apply to D. Foley, care H. Calcutt Ashburnham. Wages from $20 to $25 per month.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE, Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. commercial rooms.

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

NOTICE.

The Peterboro Radial Railway Company.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

that a Special General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Peterboro Radial Railway Company will be held at the offices of Messrs. Roger and Bennet, 375 Water Street, Peterboro, on

Monday, 28th July, 1902

at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of electing Directors of the said Company, and for the transaction of business generally.

Dated 25th June, 1902.

G. M. ROGER, Secretary.
JAMES C. SHOOK, President.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

Too Busy to Write Ads., Because:

The bargains we are giving in Houses and Lots, Garden Lots and Farms, of all sizes and prices, and the easy terms our long experience enables us to arrange for our buyers, keeps our entire staff hustling from early morning until late at night and still our work is only well begun, as new properties are being listed daily. All are invited to our New Ground Floor Office, so convenient to call when you go to the Post Office, or call up phone 376 for any information desired regarding REAL ESTATE.

T. HURLEY & CO.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH
Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales
FOR EVERYBODY
COAL, GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

DIAMOND STEEL BEARINGS
GET OUR PRICES
C. WILSON & SON
51 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborough, Ont

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

233 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 130, 135 and 215, day or night.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"
Issued by the
INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the
MARITIME EXPRESS
Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for
QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

CANADIAN PACIFIC

DOMINION DAY, July 1

Will Issue Return Tickets at
Single First Class Fare
Good going June 30th and 30th Returning until June 27th
Good Going June 30th and July 1st Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third
Good going June 24 to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3,

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, BUT NOT FROM, Buffalo, N.Y. Black Rock, N.Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

DOMINION DAY
JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich.—ALSO TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare
Good going June 30th and 30th, returning from destination on or before June 27th, also Good going June 30th and July 1st, valid for return until July 2nd. 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third
Good going June 24th to July 1st, inclusive valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from
W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

Electric Lamps
25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 150 - PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO FRIDAY JUNE 27 1902 PRICE TWO CENTS

EMPEROR WANTS PEACE BUT PEOPLE WANT WAR

The Situation Between Great Britain and Germany Is Not Reassuring

The Feeling in England Against Germany Growing Daily

The King's Serious Illness Will Not Stay This Growing Dislike

Now that the Boer War Has Ended, Britain is in no Mood For Insult

Special to The Times.

London, June 26 — The general situation between Germany and England is exceedingly grave, and as I have had the opportunity of discussing it both with leading Englishmen and with leading Germans, your readers may perhaps be interested in a brief survey. I do not know that the relations between England and Germany are anywhere set forth more accurately and concisely than in Mr. Henry Norman's recent book on Russia. In discussing international relations of Russia, Mr. Norman describes with singular insight and complete accuracy the exact situation as it exists today, so far as regards the relations of England and Germany.

The feeling of the British people towards Germany has been marked by a change for the worse during the last few months. The announcement of peace with the Boers has left England free to deal with other subjects, and it is disquieting to observe that the constant calumnies of the German press have at last roused public opinion in this country to the point of expressing strongly anti-German views. In the National Review for this month an article, entitled "Another 'Graceful Concession,'" by a writer who calls himself "Ignotus," deals in an unfriendly spirit with the recent visit of the German Squadron, under Prince Henry of Prussia, in Irish waters. "Ignotus" says: "For the first time in our history a foreign force, superior to any squadron which we have in commission in home waters, superior, indeed, to any individual squadron of any navy in waters outside the Mediterranean, has been at work upon our coasts, performing evolutions, learning the navigation of our harbors and training for war. This force comes today as a friend, but we know enough of the openly expressed intentions, both of the German nation and the men who direct German policy, to understand that in future it may come as an enemy. And as it is always present in northern waters, it is of the utmost importance that Englishmen should understand what exactly its strength is."

ANTI-TEUTONIC FEELING.

In the same number of the National Review Sir Rowland Blennerhassett, whose knowledge of German politics is second to none, writes a powerful indictment of the work of the Pan-Germanic League. Sir Rowland Blennerhassett gives expression to the anti-Teutonic feeling which has been roused in England by the calumnies of the German press, by the overbearing character of German diplomacy, and by the indecent caricatures of our late Queen and of King Edward VII. These caricatures have been published broadcast without interference by the German police, although lese majeste is officially and socially regarded in Germany as a heinous offence.

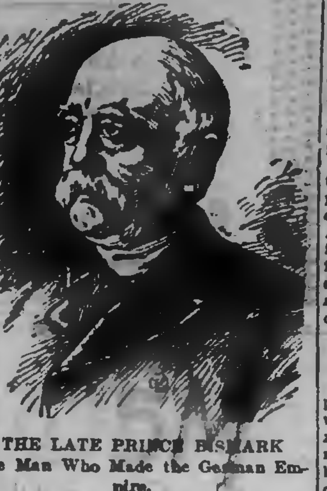
It is true that Dr. Leyds and the Boer representatives of Brussels have corrupted the German press with Boer money, just as they have corrupted the press of France, Belgium and Russia. But there are other influences besides the late agent of the the late Boer Republics who are striving their utmost to embitter the relations between Germany and England.

POISONED WITH SUSPICION.

I have reason to believe, in fact I may go so far as to say I know, that in Germany, at all events, there is more than a suspicion that money is being spent by a certain wealthy Anglophobe, whose nationality is neither Russian nor French, to exasperate Germany with England and England with Germany. It is true, that originally Bismarck systematically subsidised and debauched the press.

The atmosphere of Germany is poisoned with suspicion of England. The pressure on the means of subsistence arising from the vast growth of population, and what may be fairly described as the diseased growth of credit, give promise of trouble in the near future. The great banks of Germany have given credit beyond the limit which would be regarded as the safety point either in England or in the United States. Hence the necessity that arises for extending the profitable areas open to German commerce. Here Germany comes into conflict with England. The ignorant portion of the population are taught by the newspapers to believe that England is the enemy; that as Germany has dealt with Denmark, with Austria and with France, so England is the fourth obstacle now to be removed from the triumphant path of the German Michael.

Britannia delenda est is the cry of the Pan-German's League. Germany's over-production and her demand for new and protected markets have caused the Emperor to declare that "our future lies upon the water." The German navy is now a great fact. Of its efficiency, and of the magnificent spirit that inspires its officers and men, I can speak with personal knowledge. When the present programme is complete Germany will possess 38 first class battle-ships, 14 first class cruisers and 38 smaller cruisers.



THE LATE PRINCE BISMARCK
The Man Who Made the German Empire.

This is the situation with which the friends of peace in both countries are confronted. It is no use blinking the facts. They are open to all the world. Still, a quarrell between England and Germany would be a crime that could never be wiped out. It is, therefore, the duty of all right thinking men prevent the gradual ripening of the quarrel that has begun.

THE BOER WAR.

The Boer war was brought about by the Boers having lost their respect for the British. The South African peace was brought about by the Boers having regained respect for the British, and the peace [illegible] as long as their respect [illegible] majority of the Germans, [illegible] Boers, had lost respect for the British. The South African peace comes like a shock to the German nation. They, too, are now gaining respect from the British. They see the middle classes and the working classes of the United Kingdom are not played out—that the effeteness of the ruling classes is by no means symptomatic of national putrescence or corruption. On the contrary within seven days the Germans have woke up to the fact that their newspapers have lied to them, and that the British are alive, not moribund. They already begin to suspect that England intends to hold on to what she has got, and that if Germany runs her head against British interests it is possible that British retaliation may easily produce untoward results in the Fatherland. Here is the basis for mutual understanding and respect.

WILL NEVER BE CROWNED

A Strange Prediction Made Many Years Ago in London

London, June 26.—In view of the King's serious condition it is now being recalled that once in a moment of festivities years ago, the King, then Prince of Wales, had his fortune told by a gypsy who, while predicting a measure of years and accession to the title King, foretold that His Majesty would never live to be crowned. Not only have astrologists claimed to read in the stars that the King would never be crowned, but many gypsies state that through their magic, pretended or otherwise, the King will never see the Coronation day.

The odds in London were three to one hundred against the operation occurring before the operation and many thousands of pounds were written at Lloyds on this basis, and when in the case of ordinary mortals the natural odds would have been but one-tenth of one per cent, it is easily seen what a strange hold superstition has upon the minds of the people.

This may be better understood when it is stated that tens of thousands of old publications, based on astrology, such as Zadkiel's Almanac and Old Moore's Almanac, are being sold in London, and in the former are read strong hints foreshadowing the present trouble. Other astronomers, with less reputation at stake, have boldly predicted the King's death.

Nervous and Sleepless

There is just one cure and that is plenty of food for the blood and nerves, which is best supplied in Ferrozone, than which no blood builder, nerve tonic or strength producer is better. Ferrozone promotes healthy digestion, which results in improved nutrition. The blood grows rich and red, furnishes stability to the entire system, and the store of nerve force and energy increases daily. A rebuilding of the constitution, new spirits, health and strength, all come from the use of Ferrozone. This marvelous renovator is sold by druggists for 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

LATEST DISPATCHES ANNOUNCE KING EDWARD'S CONDITION MUCH IMPROVED

Duke of Connaught Announces That the King's Pulse and Temperature are Normal

Large and Happy Crowds Surrounded Buckingham Palace to Hear Latest News

Special to The Times.

London, June 26—10.04 a.m.—The Duke of Connaught called at Buckingham Palace this morning at nine o'clock. Later he said: "The news concerning the King this morning is most encouraging. The King's pulse and temperature are normal, and his condition on the whole is most satisfactory."

London, June 26.—The official bulletin on the condition of King Edward issued at 10.15 o'clock this morning is as follows:

"His Majesty has had a better night and has had some refreshing sleep. He has improved in all respects. His constitutional condition is quite favorable and the state of his wound also satisfactory."

(Signed) LISTER, TREVES, SMITH, LAKING, BARLOW.

London, June 26.—1.30 p.m.—The King's satisfactory condition was fully maintained at 1 p.m. today. His Majesty looks well and has a cheerful appearance, quite bearing out the good tenor of medical bulletin.

London, June 26.—3.12— p.m.—The following bulletin was issued from Buckingham Palace at 3 o'clock this afternoon:

"The King's condition still remains satisfactory."

(Signed) TREVES, LAKING, BARLOW.

London, June 26.—At 4.30 p.m. it was said at the Palace that King Edward continued to make considerable progress.

London, June 27—At 5 o'clock this afternoon a representative of the Associated Press was informed at Buckingham Palace that not one of the chief doctors was in attendance on the King and that they were not expected back till six, shortly after which hour the next bulletin will be issued. From the foregoing it is evident that the King's condition continues satisfactory. Large and happy crowds surround the Palace.

London, June 26—The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace at 6.15 p.m.

"His Majesty has passed a good day and has taken nourishment well. He is less weak and his temperature is now normal.

(Signed) LISTER, TREVES, SMITH, LAKING, BARLOW.

Latest Despatches

London, June 26—The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace at 11 o'clock tonight:

"The King has passed a fairly comfortable day and has maintained his strength. There is a returning desire for food which has been very carefully given. There had been some return of pain in the wound.

(Signed) TREVES, LAKING, BARLOW

London, June 27—4 a.m.—Buckingham Palace was closed for the night rather later than usual. It is understood, however, that the King's strength and progress are maintained, and it is not anticipated that there will be any necessity of issuing another bulletin before half past ten this a.m.

London, June—Midnight—Those around King Edward continue to be astonished at his rapid recovery. The slightly annoying symptoms mentioned in the bulletin issued at 11 o'clock tonight are quite inconsequential, compared to the fact which the Associated Press learned that His Majesty again took food tonight and was afterwards allowed to smoke a cigar. Queen Alexandra sat with her husband all the evening and only left him after he had fallen into peaceful sleep. Mention by the King's doctors of the care with which food is administered to the Royal patient and of the return of the pain in the wound can safely be taken as merely an instance of their conscientious intention to make public the slightest adverse symptoms, however unimportant. The King's courage and good temper are remarkable and today he personally wrote several telegrams and one or two notes. Tonight King Edward is better in every way than he was last night or this morning. The return of pain in the wound is not accompanied by any apprehension [illegible] of temperature; in fact, King Edward's doctors are inclined to regard the patient's pain and his appetite as healthy symptoms.

AMERICA'S GREAT INVASION OF THE CANADIAN NORTH-WEST

Special to The Times.

Winnipeg, Man., June, 26—James H. Eckels, former Comptroller of the Currency, and others prominent in American finances, are coming to Winnipeg by a special train to-morrow, and will go northwestward to Alberta to buy several million acres of land which they will colonize with American farmers.

In the party are the following: Gov. S. B. Van Sant, of Minnesota; ex-Gov. John Lynd, of Minnesota; Justice Collins, of the Supreme Court of Minnesota; Gov. Cummings, of Iowa; G. Thorne, of the Park National Bank, New York; James McDonal, of the Hanover National Bank, New York; James B. Forgan, of the First National Bank of Chicago; E. D. Hurlburt, Vice President of the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company, Chicago; Robert Stuart, President of the [illegible] National Bank, of Chicago; Vice-President Welling, of the Illinois Central Railway; Henry B. Black, Assistant Manager of the Bank of Montreal, Chicago, and A. S. White, Vice-President of the Continental Packing Company, of Chicago.

It is evident that a great invasion of Canada has practically set in, and that in the near future, millions of Americans will settle in the Canadian North-west. This will effectually put an end to French domination at Ottawa, as the balance of political power will [illegible] of the Dominion. Canada's era of prosperity has just begun.

PRAY FOR KING'S RECOVERY

Newspapers in Canada and United States Voice the Universal Hope for His Majesty's Convalescence

(New York Post.)

It is now clear, in spite of official denials, that the King has for some days struggled against increasing disability, and that he had determined, rather than to disappoint his people and the guests of the nation, to assume the crown under conditions of great weakness and of actual pain, facing immediately after the coronation grave peril to health and perhaps to life. But no man may long resist a disease which gnaws at his entrails, and the King and his subjects must be content to receive, instead of the congratulations of their friends and the formal felicitations of their foes, the profound sympathy of the entire world. It has been an old wife's saying that King Edward would be King but not crowned. For the sake of the British Empire, of the comity of nations which he was likely to enhance, and of the gracious Woman who is to share his responsibilities, all will pray that the omen may be averted.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

That the best may ensue is all that can be hoped. The irony of fate is grimly reflected in the situation. The peoples under the British flag were preparing to sing Te Deums and make every mark of rejoicing on Thursday next. It looks as though they will have to chant De profundis and Litanies instead.

(Ottawa Journal.)

Edward VII. is close on sixty-one years of age. This fact lends seriousness to what in a younger man might not be a cause for grave apprehension. The earnest sympathy of all in the empire will go out to the King in his danger. His life has been a manly and public-spirited one, and the hearty wish of all in the empire must be that many years of a prosperous and happy reign remain to him.

([illegible] Star.)

There are many reasons why the King's speedy recovery is desirable. The Imperial conference, one of the most important councils in the history of the Empire, may be halted until he is better. Business in England, which is just recovering from the paralysis of the Boer war and Queen Victoria's death, would again be depressed. The foreign princes, envoys and statesmen who have gathered in London to witness the Coronation will be greatly inconvenienced by the postponement, chiefest of all is the very earnest hope from every part of the Empire that a most popular king will reach his crowning and live long to reign over us.

(Toronto News.)

The indefinite postponement of the Coronation ceremonies at a time when everything was in readiness for a pageant which would have been one of the memorable events of the century, is a very unfortunate occurrence. No doubt much of the magnificence and elaborateness which was planned for the ceremony will have to be abandoned when it actually takes place, but the Empire's thankfulness over the recovery of the Sovereign will make up in sincerity and enthusiasm all that the ceremony will lose in magnificence.

All Canada will pray for the early convalescence of a Sovereign whose greatest right to rule is in the love and affection of all his subjects.

(Toronto Telegram.)

The quiet, enduring courage of King Edward's manly struggle against pain and danger, and now his weakness and suffering, all serve to bring him nearer to the hearts of his people than could the pride, pomp and majesty which were designed to glorify his formal exaltation to that crown of the greatest of earthly empires.

(Hamilton Times.)

The people who have flocked to London from the ends of the earth, many of them without sufficient means to make a protracted stay in such an expensive place, will be keenly disappointed. Tradesmen and others will suffer financially. But these are minor considerations compared with the anxiety that will be universally felt for the King's early restoration to health. His reign has begun auspiciously, but it can hardly be said that he has had a chance to impress his personality as a ruler upon the pages of history.

(Hamilton Spectator.)

The postponement of the Coronation ceremony will be a bitter disappointment to many millions of people, and will cause much loss of money and general inconvenience; but it is the hope and prayer of the whole empire that His Majesty will pull through speedily, and be ready for the Coronation as soon as it is possible under the circumstances. God Save the King.

prayers will go up unceasingly for the recovery of the Empire's head. His death at this time, when peace has just been restored in an important part of his Empire and a new area of good feeling has begun; when the prospect has been opened up of a closer and stronger union of the various nations and people that own his sway, would be inexpressibly sad. More than that, it would be a serious loss to the Empire for it is not easy to estimate the value of a man of King Edward's practical ability, tact, liberal views and common sense, in the supreme imperial office.

(London News.)

Edward VII. is getting well up in years and with a serious illness of this kind it is difficult to say what the outcome may be. The people of London, in common with the people of the Empire, will join in the sincere hope that Edward VII. may be spared for many years to preside over the destinies of the Empire, upon which the sun never sets. Long live the King.

(Brooklyn Eagle.)

As an event this may be classed among the most signally dramatic in history. All [illegible] with [illegible] the nation. It had been [illegible] for a scale of [illegible] hospitality [illegible] to be [illegible] nations [illegible] men, who were not merely the proxies of the heads of their Governments, but were also the guests of the greatest of Empires.

Where Sportsmen Gather

Toronto Mail and Empire: One of the prettiest [illegible] the C.P.R. is [illegible] yards, the well-kept garden [illegible] the depot is a veritable oasis in [illegible]. The spacious grass plot, surrounded by flower beds, and [illegible], make a delightfully cool and refreshing spot. Mr. W. B. Dodds, the Station Agent, is well known to fishermen who frequent the Trent Valley and surrounding [illegible]. He is ever obliging; [illegible] going out of his way to accomodate [illegible] of the rod and line, and at this season of the year when black bass and [illegible] provide splendid sport on the Trent, his opportunities of attending to the convenience of those who [illegible] the Havelock district [illegible] are numerous. Mr. Dodds knows a thing or two about fishing himself, and has a few choice stories that he is prepared to tell them when his arduous duties permit of a breathing spell.

A beautiful parlor organ, five octaves and eleven stops, for sale, [illegible]. Apply at Times Bookstore.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY IN WEST MINISTER ABBEY ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Distinguished Gathering Cried "Oh. Lord, Save the King"—Children Entertained—Saw His Family

London, June 26.—At the hour when the King should have been crowned a grand and distinguished gathering, almost identical with that which would have met in Westminster Abbey, gathered in St. Paul's Cathedral. The approaches to the cathedral were lined by silent throngs, through which drove peers and peeresses, colonial premiers, foreign envoys, ambassadors and members of the House of Commons, all in sombre clothes. In the chancel were Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador; Whitelaw Reid, the special Ambassador of the United States to the coronation; J. Pierpont Morgan, jr., and the leading members of the nobility. In the nave about a thousand of the Westminster Abbey ticket-holders, mainly women, were seated.

Shortly before noon the big western doors were swung open; sunlight streamed in, and the Duke of Cambridge, leaning heavily on the arm of an equerry, walked to the chancel.

At 12 o'clock there came from the far end of the nave the clear notes of the opening sentences of the litany, chanted by four of the cathedral clergy. Their voices were in such unison that they seemed to emanate from one powerful voice. The choir took up the responses. At each supplication the procession, headed by a cross, advanced a few steps, and then stood still until the response was completed. Through the kneeling congregation the choir advanced to the chancel steps. A score of the clergy followed and behind them were ten bishops in gorgeous robes. Then came the Archbishop of York, the Most Rev. William Dalrymple Maclagan; the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. Frederick Temple, and the Lord Mayor, Sir Joseph Dimsdale, the Corporation in full state bringing up the rear.

With evident feeling the choir sang the three psalms of intercession, after which the Bishop of Stepney, the Right Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, read the lesson, Isaiah, chapter 38, verse 10: "I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave; I am deprived of the residue of my years."

The Bishop of London, the Right Rev. Arthur F. W. Ingram, from the altar steps read the prayer, "O Lord, save the King," rang out to the furthest recesses of the dome and brought a whole-souled response from the choir and the congregation.

The anthem and the singing of the hymn, "Thine arm, O Lord, in days of old was strong to heal and save," and Psalm 61 concluded the short service, whereupon the Bishop of London surrounded by the archbishops and bishops from the altar steps impressively pronounced the benediction.

For a few moments complete silence reigned, and all heads were bowed in prayer, after which the almost blind Archbishop of Canterbury was carefully led down the steps, the procession reformed, and the congregation went out into the sunlight, gladly discussing the wording of the latest Bulletin from Buckingham Palace.

Simultaneously a similar service was conducted in St. Margaret's Church, Westminster. It was largely attended by Cabinet Ministers, peers and members of the House of Commons, and was concluded with singing "God Save the King."

From India, Australia, and Africa, everywhere where Britons congregated, telegrams announce the holding of impressive supplicatory services.

Among the callers at Buckingham Palace today were the Prince and Princess of Wales, Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia, the Duke of Cambridge, most of the special Ambassadors still in London, and many of the diplomatists.

The exodus of foreign representatives [illegible]. Field-Marshal Count Von Waldersee left London this morning, as did the Prince of Monaco, the Prince of Montenegro, and the Dutch mission.

CHILDREN ENTERTAINED.

The arrangements for the Marlborough House entertainment of children were carried out today in spite of the postponement of the King's coronation. About 1,000 youngsters enjoyed the dinner provided for them by the Prince and Princess of Wales, who were present, and remained in the garden with their little guests for a couple of hours.

SAW HIS FAMILY.

King Edward saw several members of his family in the course of the morning. The Queen remained at the Palace, but the Princess Victoria drove out this morning.

Friday—North-westerly winds, fair and quite cool.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS will open an account with us. For such an account we will buy and sell for you, as often as desired, 5 shares of stock—the value of which amounts to from $500 to $1000. We advance balance of purchase-money, at a charge, not exceeding rate of 6 per cent per annum. Small capital, thus invested, enables the dealer to secure the profits from investments of greater amounts. Such accounts, properly operated, exceed in possibility of profit, any other method of investment. For benefit of customers, operating accounts in this manner, we issue free our 400 page, clothbound illustrated

"Guide to Investors." and "Daily Market Letter."

One contains complete information as to Wall St., its methods and Securities; the other, faithfully outlines each afternoon, the probable movements of the markets. Both are invaluable to investor or trader enable anyone to invest money, keep the principal intact and make it pay an income.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Established 1886. Main Office, 53 B'way, N.Y.

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.

Peterborough, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

COMMISSION ONE EIGHTH—The only licensed M. S. Stock Brokerage Corporation in business by permission of the Royal Government of the Province of Ontario.

W. F. NELSON, Peterborough.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depar
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal... ...	5,10 p.m	11.25 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7,12 a.m.	7.23 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston ...	5,10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11,25 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate...	7,23 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12,25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West...	11,25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11,40 a.m.	3.25 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9 00 p.m.	6.33 p.m.
Port, Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5,25 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	3,20 a.m.	9.19 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8,10 a.m.	3.25 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston, Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5,00 p.m.	12.15 p.m.
Lakefield local	6,30 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 5c per month, and to outside points at $3 per year strictly in advance.

UNION LABEL

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 27, 1902.

INTERCESSION

O loving Father hear,
Oh, hear an Empire's call,
Bend down thy ready ear
As on our knees we fall:
O Lord, our God, for Thy dear Son
Raise up, restore Victoria's son.

'Neath many climes to-day
From many peoples' heart
With many tongues we pray
One prayer, to Thy Great Heart:
O Lord, our God, Blest Three in One,
Raise up, restore Victoria's son.

Bless means and nutriment,
Thy grace on him bestow,
To him grant sweet content
Thy gracious Presence show.
And we thy praise shall ever sing
If Thou wilt save our gracious King.

THE COAL STRIKE

It is claimed by many of the newspaper writers in the United States that if extreme measures are resorted to by the coal miners of the whole country to bring about a settlement of the troubles in the anthracite region, the blame will fall on the presidents of the coal carrying railway companies, who were very obstinate at the beginning of the strike.

According to Mark Hanna, if the presidents had made a slight concession, the strike would have been prevented, but now there is no chance for the settlement of the strike unless the miners are willing to humiliate themselves by returning to work and admitting that they were wrong.

The arrogance of the railway officers is severely commented on, and they are held in contempt by the majority of the people of the United States.

The miners will not likely submit to the dictation of the coal barons, and in the meantime the consumers must "pay the piper." Every consumer of hard coal will be asked to pay for the losses which the companies are sustaining in consequence of the strike, and millions of dollars will go into the treasuries of the companies as a result of this extortion. Labor will have no share in the profit that has been added to the income of the railroad and mining companies. [illegible]

THE MONTREAL STAR AND THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

The Montreal Star makes another attack on the Trent Valley canal. Here is what our contemporary says:

"It is not because it is the dull season that Mr. Tarte goes to Peterborough and stirs up the Trent Valley Canal question. It is because he wants to go to Peterborough; and it is impossible politically to go there without mentioning the Trent Valley canal favorably, even though it be frozen over and likely to be mistaken for a badly ploughed furrow.

"The Trent Valley canal is one of the most venerable political highways in this country. It has floated more men into office than it has ships into port; and just as bare-footed boys fish in it in the glad summertime for "mud-pouts," so candidates for Parliament fish in it in the mad election time for votes. A man would just as soon expect to speak disrespectfully of the bridge at Quebec or the tunnel at Prince Edward Island, or the Island at Toronto, and still get elected to anything but oprobrium, as to omit a eulogy on the Trent Valley canal from a campaign speech in Central Ontario and yet hope to escape overwhelming defeat.

"Governments may come and Governments may go, but expenditure on the Trent Valley Canal goes on forever."

THE KING

Not until the complete collapse of the king made the postponement of the coronation inevitable was there any suspicion in the public mind of the gravity of his condition. It is now evident that for weeks past His Majesty has been heroically enduring tortures of mind and body in the hope of postponing in the public interest a surgical operation which had better been performed much earlier. The king evidently realized that the failure to hold the coronation on the day appointed would be not only a great disappointment to the people generally, but a disastrous calamity to the business community, involving nothing less than ruin to thousands. It is impossible not to sympathise with his object, and equally impossible not to admire the courage and unselfishness of the man. That the postponement of the coronation may be the worst misfortune to the royal family and to the nation to result from His Majesty's heroism, will be the fervent prayer of millions.

SYMPATHY OF THE WORLD

It is already plain that the sympathy of the world is genuinely with the people of Great Britain in their present trouble. Despatches from correspondents in all the chief centers of Europe bear witness to this. Telegrams from various European capitals are arriving in large numbers praying for prompt and full details of the King's condition, while the expressions of heartfelt sympathy and sorrow, spoken by the prominent men from all over the world, who are visitors in London, tell the same story.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

God save the king.

• • • •

Man proposes, but God disposes.

• • • •

God save our gracious king.
Long live our noble king.
God save the king.

• • • •

"Queen Alexandra is terribly upset and nervous," so runs a line in the despatches. 'Tis enough. To every wifely heart it will powerfully appeal and from the myriad women of the empire will ascend instinctively the prayer, God save the queen.

• • • •

France is shrewd in declaring that her acquisition of a tract of land at a strategic point in China is for hospital purposes. No civilized nation will molest a hospital. For that reason, however, it is unnecessary to defend a hospital with hostile works, and if France's new acquisition proceeds to develop fortifications surmounted by heavy guns the other powers are likely to call her to account.

• • • •

"Father Whelan of Ottawa," says the Halifax Herald, "complains that of the school teachers sent from Canada to teach the Boer children in South Africa, none were Roman Catholics. If the matter were one with which the British Government had wholly to do, the complaint would be well founded. But as the Boers will not send their children to school to a Roman Catholic teacher, the British authorities could only supply them with Protestant teachers, or let them go without. The Boers do not number among their many good qualities a large toleration of religious ideas; and until they do, we must be content to take them as they are."

• • • •

We have heard of the danger to an outsider interfering in row between man and wife, but a young man up in Omaha has given another illustration of the uncertainties of life. She was eloping from Missouri with the man of her choice when her father overtook them in the Nebraska metropolis. He started in to thump the younger man, but the latter was too much for him. Then the girl took a hand, helped her father lick her lover, and went back home like the dutiful daughter that she was. If anybody can guess what a woman will do next in any given direction he has a valuable gift of divination.

CORPORATION OFFICERS.

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Peck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill, Garvin, E. A. Peck, Wardle, Davis, and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. D. Crossley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. J. Bamford.

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS

SEALS, PRICE MARKERS

10 King Street West, TORONTO

IF YOU WANT A CAMERA

Write for catalogue or information to the Canadian Camera Co., Toronto, both of which we will be pleased to

GIVE YOU FREE.

ALL GOODS WARRANTED.

Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,

HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will off suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at 40c
Suspenders 15c
Overalls, with bib, at 45c
Smocks, at.......................90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB

Ladies and Gent's Tailo

One door south of Montreal Bank.

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers, Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

"It couldn't have been that," objected Swift, "for Mrs. Ewarts looked at her watch the last time she was up, and it was past two o'clock."

"Oh!" I ejaculated, thoughtfully. "But it was nothing, of course. A storm can make strange sounds come about an old house—especially at night."

"I suppose 'twas nothing, really," the maid assented. "Mrs. Ewarts was sure it wasn't burglars, or she'd have given an alarm."

After my own experiences in the night, Swift's words impressed me far more than they would otherwise; and I asked myself if it were possible that the restless spirits of those who had sinned on earth did indeed ever come back to the old haunts, allowing themselves to be heard or seen by those who were still earth-bound.

At half-past ten, on the very stroke of the appointed hour, news of Roger's arrival was brought to me. I was in the picture gallery when the word came, for a curious fascination had drawn me back to the West Wing the moment after I had breakfasted; and I had just finished a futile exploration of the downstairs rooms, unvisited last night, when I was told that Sir Roger Cope wished to see me.

I went to a room known as the Indian boudoir, where he awaited me, and in silence we shook hands.

I looked up at him rather timidly, for somehow I was dreading the hour before me—Roger's tone in asking me to spare it him had been so more than usually grave.

It struck me now as our eyes met how exceedingly handsome he was, and I wondered why I did not admire him more than I did.

Roger was thirty-six years old, though he did not look his age by ten years; and he had been only eighteen when he had come into his title at my father's death. He was fair-skinned, with very light hair, which fell in a thick wave over his forehead, like a boy's. His eyebrows were almost black, and might have been carefully pencilled by an artist, in the saintly arch which they described. The lashes, too, were black, and as they were long and perfectly straight, they shadowed his curiously pale blue eyes, making them seem much darker than they really were. It was only when the light streamed full into Roger's eyes that one saw they held scarcely any color save in the violet rim that circled the iris. His oval face was clean-shaven, and a sedentary London life had drained his clear-cut features of blood, so that his thin red lips contrasted with his white skin almost as strikingly as the dark brows and lashes with the ash-blonde hair.

If Roger had been a woman he would have been considered a great beauty, and it seemed strange to think that this remarkable-looking man, who might have sat as model for a picture of Lucifer before his fall, was only a London solicitor, who had to ignore his title and work like an ordinary mortal.

His manner was invariably gentle, his way of speaking slow—"soothing," my mother had called it, and "restful;" but it was not so for me.

"Poor little cousin!" he said, kindly, as he released my hand. "You have had a bad night, I'm afraid. Your face is very white, and your eyes very big this morning. Was it the storm that kept you from sleeping, or was it your own sad thoughts?"

As he asked the two questions in one his gaze was fixed very keenly upon me, as if he meant my expression to answer him candidly, even if my tongue tried to keep a secret.

"Both, perhaps," I answered, and I was vexed to feel my color rise.

"I was thinking of you a great deal all night," he went on; "for neither was I able to sleep. I even grew superstitious, with that wild storm raging at the windows of the inn; and I wondered if the priest walked at Arrish Mell Court."

"You always made fun of ghost stories," I said.

"Did I? Well, as I grow older I'm not so cock-sure of everything as I used to be. I've begun to realize that there may really be more things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of in our philosophy. Last night I don't think I should have denied the priest, if I had been up here instead of at Lull."

I always had the feeling (why, I could not have explained) that Roger had motives for everything he said; that he never spoke on impulse like other people, but skilfully "worked up" subjects with a particular end in view; and now I was curious to know why he had brought in that of the priest. With a spirit of contrariness, which I often felt with Roger, I determined to thwart his design, whatever it might be.

"Let's talk of something else," I exclaimed, abruptly.

"You say that oddly!" he persisted. "I believe, Sheila, that you had a fright last night."

"I'm not at all superstitious," I answered, evasively. "Mother brought me up to think that sort of thing ridiculous. Nobody seems to have rested very peacefully last night; but I feel quite well enough this morning for that business talk which you said we must have."

Roger's eyes had never left my face, yet I hoped it had not given him much satisfaction. He saw at last that there was one subject which I was resolved not to discuss; and he knew that I could be just as determined as he, when I chose.

"Very well, to business, then," he said. "Aren't you going to sit down, and ask me to sit down? Thanks! Sheila, did your mother ever tell you anything about your birth?"

CHAPTER VI.

A Secret Divulged.

I stared at my cousin, surprised at such a strange beginning.

"I hardly know what you mean," I stammered. "What was there to tell—except that I was born abroad?"

Roger looked down at a book he had

To be Continued

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make. SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE.

ALL FURNISNINGS AT COST AND UNDER.

H. E. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS, 353 GEORGE STREET

Mackinlay's

V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers, LEITH, Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd

AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE

ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.

MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analyzed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{90}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE CUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.

Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interests is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $55.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited. A Canadian Company, with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c...... .... — $12 50

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a silver lead mine situated in British Columbia, Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $50.00 to the ton. SHARES 10c...... .... $5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends. SHARES 50 cents... .... $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents... .... 12 50

Total value... .... $55 00

275 SHARES... ....FOR $50 00 CASH

100 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.

FINANCIAL AGENTS,

217-218 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

The New York Times Saturday Review of Books.

$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—a fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by :

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION

THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS : New York.

The New York Times SUNDAY EDI N

$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL - - - - $1,000,000
RESERVE FUND - - 270 000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D., - President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, W. H. BEATTY, - Vice-Presidents.

JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government he Corporation is accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice for the investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely : EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRTOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures consecutive action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELY CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description ; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR, Managing Director.
A. D. LANGMUIR Assistant Manager

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue; [illegible] Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits.

LACE CURTAINS, [illegible] LADIES & GENTS [illegible] REAL SWISS, [illegible] GUIPURE D'ART [illegible] HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $6.10

Lot No. [illegible] contains:—1 pair Rich Artistic Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. [illegible]

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established [illegible]

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Advertise in The Times, —Everybody reads The Times.

Navigation

ALLAN LINE

LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE

ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 8 a.m.	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 5 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 6a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $50 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... June 25th
Mongolian...... July 9th.

S.S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to: W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd

River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S.S Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN, Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.

(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

SOO DIVISION.

One of the Company's steamers will leave Collingwood, Owen Sound, etc., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

S.S. Atlantic will leave Collingwood on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.30 p.m. for Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet and French River.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

City of Toronto will leave Penetang every Monday and Thursday at 11.30 a.m. and Wednesday and Saturday at 3.30 a.m. and Midland all of the above days at 1.45 p.m. on arrival of train from Toronto until further notice.

For tickets and full information appl to all railway agents.

W. H. SMITH, Agent, Owen Sound.

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO

STR. "ARGYLE"

(Commencing Thursday, May 22)

EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at	12.30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7 00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday	2.00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville	11.00 a m
" Trenton	1.15 p m
" Brighton	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte	7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager. Picton, Ont

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

All Trips Daily (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY, General Manager, Toronto, Ont

Navigation

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS :

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9 15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00. CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

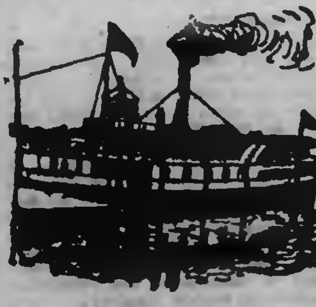
Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT, Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED



Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay

ESTURION

JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv 6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point "	7.15 a.m.	"	4 10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar 8.40 a.m.	"	5.30 p.m.
"	Lv 11.00 a.m.	"	5.45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point "	12.10 p.m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar 1.15 p.m.	"	8.10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.

MANITA

JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon............Leave 7 00 a. m.
Bridgenorth............Arrive 9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth ....Leave 3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon............Arrive 5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON, Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG. PORT HOPE. ROCHESTER. N. Y.
STEAMERS
"NORTH KING" AND "CASPIAN"
Daily Route Commencing June 29

SOUTH BOUND.

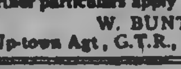
Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... 2.01 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... 2.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ...... 6.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... 8.45 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.

Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets .... 9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester...... 9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... 2.01 p.m.
Arrive Port Hope Ontario...... 2.50 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to an point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to,

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Swain, Agent Port Hope



STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"
CAPT. W. SCOLLARD, Master.

For week ending June 28th, the Majestic will connect as follows :—

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday will leave Lakefield on arrival of morning train, returning to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

On Tuesday there will be no regular boat Saturday evening, June 28th, will leave Lakefield on arrival of the evening train for the lakes.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor

Lakefield, June 23, 1902.

EARTHQUAKE SURVIVORS

Those Who Escaped on Steamer Roraima now in New York

Their Awful Experience on That Fatal Day in May—All Badly Burned and Otherwise Injured

Special to The Times.

New York, June 26.—The last three survivors of the steamer Roraima, which escaped from St. Pierre at the time of its destruction, arrived here yesterday aboard the steamer Fontabelle, of the Quebec Steamship Company. The same vessel also brought up from Martinique George Kennan, the traveller; Prof. Heilprin of the Philadelphia Geographical Society; Dr. C. H. Dudley, of St. Louis; H. C. McDuill, who took down relief money and is a representative of Flint, Eddy & Co.; Nicola Paravicino, the Italian Consul at Barbadoes, and several newspaper correspondents.

The three sailors of the Roraima, whose names are Guiseppe Lucino, Salvator Aniele and Franncesco D'Angelo, have been in the hospital at Fort de France ever since their rescue and were only discharged the day before the Fontabelle sailed. They were the worst burned of any of the survivors who have recovered. All of them have new faces practically, as the skin was burned almost entirely off and that which has taken its place is of a different color from the rest of their bodies, with the exception of patches on the arms, hands and feet, which is also new skin.

Lucino has one of his ears almost burned off and the other made shapeless. His hands were so badly burned that he has not yet recovered the use of them. All three were barefooted at the time the vessel was swept by the fire and ashes, and their feet and legs are still yellow from the sulphur. The three sailors were scrubbing on the bridge when the mountain exploded. They leapt overboard, they said, swam to some wreckage and then became unconscious. The French cruiser Suchet picked them up.

H. C. McDuill, who took down $2,000 francs, and made an investigation of the island's future trade, said that there was no business to be found anywhere on the Island now outside of Fort de France.

Consul Ayme of Guadeloupe, who went to Fort de France for the Government, arrived here yesterday on the steamer Caracas. He is on his way to Washington, where he is going to make a report on the relief funds that passed through his hands.

POISONED CATTLE SENT TO AFRICA

Revenge of Pro-Boers and Muleteers Upon British

Inoculations Said to Have Started Diseases Now Raging Among Live Stock in South Africa

Special to The Times.

New Orleans, June 26.—According to a story printed here today, the diseases now raging in South Africa among the live stock are due to inoculation made in this port by Boer sympathizers and disgruntled mule-men playing even with the British.

It is said that the virus used was secured from a Philadelphia chemist, and that it consisted mostly of carbon and glanders.

It is also stated now that the British suspected that the crime was being constantly committed, and for that reason removed their headquarters from this city to Montreal.

The inoculations, it is said also, were made in Lathrop, Mo., so that it was necessary to break up that camp as well.

The British are now retaliating, so it is intimated, by refusing entrance of Louisiana cattle in South Africa.

MONSTER MURDER TRIAL

Two Naptha Works Directors Charged With Killing 300 Persons

Special to The Times.

Bakku, June 26.—A monster trial is in progress here, two directors of Rothchild's naptha works being accused of killing some 300 people by an explosion due to culpable neglect on their part. Though foreigners, they may be sent to Siberia for life.

ON EVE OF CORONATION

London Gaily Decked for the Great Event on Thursday

Special to The Times.

London, June 24—Outward and visible signs that London is on the eve of the coronation are abundant. The decorators have done their work so thoroughly that the facades of many buildings are completely hidden beneath masses of flags and bunting. The inrush of visitors during the past twenty-four hours has caused the leading thoroughfares to present a congested appearance. Detachments of military are clattering hither and thither; bands are to be heard here, there and everywhere, and visiting royalties, including princes, grand dukes and those of inferior rank, are to be encountered at every turn. The slump predicted by the pessimists has failed to materialize. Evidently they had not calculated on the rush of visitors from foreign parts. The latter began to arrive several weeks ago, but the King's loyal subjects in all parts of the United Kingdom are only now putting in their appearance, but they are coming with a rush that threatens to upset all of the early calculations. Railroad officials, police authorities and others who are in a position to give reliable estimates all agree that London to-day is entertaining the largest crowd in its history.

—Farmers are now upon public highways, filling up washouts, depositing gravel, grading, repairing bridges, renewing culverts, removing boulders, filling up mud holes, and doing other work for the improvement of the roads.

The Despot of Vienna.

The citizen of Vienna who does not wish to be out of pocket must keep early hours, for after ten o'clock he is taxed on entering his own house, or, for the matter of that, any house. The "sperrgeld," or door-opening tax, is peculiar to Vienna, as the London "Express" explains. The entire population of that city, numbering nearly two millions, are practically imprisoned in their houses from ten o'clock in the evening until six the next morning. They can go in or out only by paying at least four cents to the janitor or "house-master," as he is called.

Vienna is built on the "flat" or apartment-house plan. Millionaires and working people alike live in houses of this description. The houses are large, having five or six floors, with four flats on a floor, so that it is not unusual to find a hundred persons living under one roof. There is one common entrance from the street, and after ten o'clock at night this door is bolted and barred. From ten until twelve all who go in or out must pay four cents. After twelve the charge is doubled.

The tax must be paid every time one passes through the doorway, without exception. If a man has occasion to go in and out half a dozen times, he must pay every time. One who has dined with a friend must, if he stay late, pay four cents to get out of his friend's house, and four more to get into his own. A telegram in the night necessitates the payment of the tax before the boy can enter.

The house-master also collects and keeps duplicate copies of the forms on which every individual in the house must report to the police his age, birthplace and religion, his exact occupation, and other personal details which the Austrian authorities insist upon knowing. Nor does the power of this important personage end even here. From the little guard-room which he occupies at the foot of the stairs he sees every one who goes in or out. He ascertains with amazing accuracy the amount of each tenant's income, the events of his family life, and the character of his visitors. His far-reaching power enables him to terrorize every servant in the house into entering his intelligence department, and thus he spies on the innermost life of the subjects in his five-storey kingdom.

In some cases the house-master is more powerful than in others. An English resident was obliged to move from an apartment that he particularly liked because he could not venture to speak with any degree of sharpness to the man at the door, even when the man was remiss in his duties. The flat was owned by a railway belonging to the State. This made the house-master a State official, an insult to whom is a very serious offence in Vienna. A reprimand for delaying letters would be construed into an insult, and the Englishman deemed it wise to move to other quarters.

Thousands of people in Vienna live in such terror of the house-master that, it is said, they never make an apple-tart without giving him half.

Buried by a Cougar.

A hunter who was trailing after bear meat in British Columbia reports to the "Western Sportsman" an experience which he calls a "narrow graze." If the incident happened as the hunter tells it, it was indeed a narrow graze; but one cannot help suspecting that some of the invigorating ozone of the North-West has got into the story. Nevertheless, it is worth hearing.

"It was warm and dry, and along in the middle of the afternoon I began to pine for rest and a pipe. It was all quiet and no traces of game, and so when I'd had a comfortable smoke I stretched out for a nap.

"It must have been an hour later that I woke up and found myself covered with two feet of leaves snug as the babes in the wood. I was all tucked in that cosy that nobody else could have done it but a cougar, and most likely a female cougar at that. It occurred to me with some force that I'd been filed away for future reference, and that I hadn't waked up any too soon. It didn't soothe me to figure on that cougar stowing me away as a dog hides a bone.

"It seemed that the best thing for me to do was to countermine that cougar's mine, as it were. So I hunted up a log about my size and covered it with the leaves—a nice fat hump on the ground. Then I shinned a tree close by, assuring myself beyond any doubts or peradventures that nobody had meddled with the working of my repeater.

"The cougar came in such a short time as to show how fortunate it was that I had waked up when I did, and with her, as I had calculated, were a choice lot of young ones. She had left a dinner located and had been off to get her family.

"Well, that cougar circled around the pile of leaves for a matter of minutes, crouching and picking a nice select place to spring from. When she got satisfied and made the leap she went through the air tremendous, throwing the leaves in a whirlwind and scratching and snarling. It was some of a shock when she found the log, but she didn't display any disappointment. She just took the scent and came to the foot of my tree and looked up, real venomous.

"It seemed to her an awkward job to handle, I having my gun ready so, and the cougar had an inspiration. She went to a tree about ten feet away and started to go up. She was after that meat and not to be discouraged by any trifles. It was her idea to climb up above me on the other tree and then bring me down with a flying leap.

"I didn't lose any more time with experiments or speculations, but let her have it the first time she came round the tree. The ball went through her jaw and breast, and the varmint went to the ground. The young ones were running around, and I knocked them over, too, with the gun.

"Since then I haven't gone to sleep in the woods so careless and casual like."

"Have the letters been duly examined by the hand-writing expert?" "Yes, your honor." "Very well, let the hand-writing expert now be examined by the insanity expert."—Ohio State Journal.

The Insane Philosophy of Tolstoi.

Tolstoi's book on the sex question, in which he advocates absolute chastity, even at the cost of the gradual disappearance of the human race, continues to arouse spirited discussion. "La Revue Blanche" (Paris) recently asked the opinion of several prominent Europeans regarding Tolstoi's views. Some of the replies are appended. Madame Judith Gauthier, a retired opera singer who is now a literary woman, was the only one to endorse Tolstoi's position.

Max Nordau—"Count Leo Tolstoi preaches absolute chastity. I wonder if he can convince Madame Tolstoi and the fine family she has raised! At all events, we should congratulate ourselves that his parents did not share his opinion. Otherwise we should have had no 'War and Peace' or 'Anna Karenina.' . . . Speaking seriously, it seems to me that the ideas of Count Tolstoi on the marriage question are absolutely delirious, and delirium can be diagnosed, but not discussed. It is useless to defend woman against the absurd lucubrations of a sick brain."

Enrico Ferri of Rome—"The affirmations of Tolstoi on the sexual question only confirm Lombroso's theory of the degeneracy of genius. The fundamental needs of humanity are bread to preserve life and love to preserve the species. To preach absolute chastity is as absurd as preaching absolute fasting. Marriage, whatever Tolstoi may say, is the ideal state of human life."

Emile Zola—"The idea of Tolstoi is not new. Marriage is legalised by society, but it exists in nature without laws. Christ did not get married, because he was too busy to think about it. I confess that I do not understand Tolstoi. . . . It is insane."

Madame Judith Gauthier — "I will limit my consideration of the problem to the question of birth. It seems to me an act of truest wisdom to prevent the unhappiness of existence, and many wise men, including Christ, have indicated the path which we have failed to follow. To give life and then inflict death would constitute the greatest of crimes, did not nature, in her search for victims, strike with blindness and unconsciousness those whom she allures into her snares."

Albert Reville—"Pascal said, 'Man is neither angel nor beast, and the man who wants to be an angel plays the part of a beast.' If the hope of a future life is reasonable, and I believe it is, we may be able one day to rise above the organic conditions of this mysterious life. But as long as we live on earth, we are bound to admit the legitimacy of the acts and functions without which our own life and the life of humanity would be impossible. To state that marriage is unchristian, because Christ was not married, is absurd. It is like reasoning that we could not go to heaven because we travel by rail and wear trousers, whereas Christ did neither. Christ himself said that marriage was a holy and divine institution (Mark x. 2-9).

New and Aggressive.

Much knowledge of human nature is gathered up in the expression, "A new broom sweeps clean." The new bank, the Sovereign, which opened in Toronto last week in new premises, with a new staff, new officers, new issue of bills—everything new—is one of the financial brooms that is evidently going to make a clean sweep. The popularity of the new bank and of its management has been demonstrated daily since it opened its doors, by the large number of business men and people in all the walks of life who have transacted business over its counters. Centrally situated on the north side of King street, but a short distance from Yonge, and commodiously appointed to the smallest detail, the premises of the Sovereign Bank are amongst the most convenient and the most suitable for their purpose of any in Toronto. The financial status of the Bank is high; it starts on its career with an authorised capital of $2,000,000 and a subscribed capital of $1,300,000. The Board of Directors, upon which appear the names of Messrs. H. S. Holt, Montreal; Randolph Macdonald, Toronto; James Carruthers, Montreal; A. A. Allan, Toronto; Arch. Campbell, M.P., Toronto Junction; Hon. Peter McLaren, Perth; John Pugsley, Toronto; Hon. D. McMillan, Alexandria, Ont.; Henry R. Wilson, New York, is a list of gentlemen of recognized standing and proven capability as financiers. In Mr. D. M. Stewart, Canada has her youngest and undoubtedly one of her very ablest general bank managers. In addition to all the ordinary features of a banking business, the Sovereign will issue Travelers' Letters of Credit on J. S. Morgan & Co., London, and Morgan, Harjes Company, Paris. These credits are available in all parts of the world, and just the thing for persons contemplating a visit to Europe or to the coronation this summer.

All About Men.

One of the greatest advantages of the silent man is that he cannot be misquoted.

Men who ride hobbies would not be nearly so objectionable if they did not want all the road to themselves.

A man will often make small faults conspicuous in order to insinuate that he has no great ones.

Often the pleasantest memories men have are of events that never happened.

The things that come to the man who waits are generally the cast-offs of somebody else.

It is not always what a man does that goes against him, but what he happens to get caught in.

There are men who do not care to be judged by what they really are, but what they want others to think they are.

Nothing makes a man quite so angry as to realise that he has no just cause for anger and to realise that others realise it.

Some men's idea of a friend is someone who will stick to them through adversity, take their part against uncharitable neighbors, lend them his last shilling without security, and when Fortune smiles will take a back seat.

A wise man can find plenty of suggestions where fools have dropped them.

Yale's "Criminal Club."

The Criminal Club of Yale will revive the custom of holding an annual banquet this spring. The announcement has revealed to many the existence of perhaps the most peculiar social organisation in existence in the collegiate world. According to the New York "Sun," membership has never been based on the social or financial status of the students taken, nor have men been taken into the fold because of their prominence in the world of athletics, literature, or debating. The one requirement has been that the proselyte shall have been arrested and taken into the toils of the law, whether guilty or innocent of the offence with which he stood charged. Often to secure membership in this exclusive, yet thoroughly democratic club, students have violated the law, and then calmly awaited the coming of the police, as usual non-present at the time, and permitted themselves to be taken into custody. More often the men have been caught red-handed, without being able to escape the bluecoats. From year to year the club has increased in numerical strength, this depending wholly on the law-breaking proclivities of the undergraduates in college at the time. At present the club numbers one hundred members.

The annual banquets have long held a prominent place in undergraduate life. Where and when these feasts are held is never known to the uninitiated until long afterward. Usually, however, they are given in the grill-room of some student cafe in New Haven, or at a hotel at some of the near-by shore resorts. The men assemble individually, and never in conspicuous throngs. Every effort is made to avoid publicity. The dinners or banquets begin late at night, and end in the "wee sma'" hours. The men are ranged about the festive board in the order of their criminality—that is, they sit near or far from the head of the table as the crimes for which they were arrested were great or small. Usually, although the rule is often violated, the man who has done the most daring crime, given the cops the greatest battle, or who has incurred the greatest punishment, heads the table and acts as toastmaster. Toasts of the following kind are responded to: "Policemen I Have Met," "How to Steal Signs and Escape, by One Who Didn't," "The Religious Aspect of Criminality," by Y. M.C.A. member; "How I Failed to Distance a Cop in a Handicap," by a member of the track team, and so on, by representatives of the different spheres of activity represented. The menu is usually made out with a black and white stripe effect, while handcuffs, dark-lanterns, and policemen's clubs intermingled adorn the top and bottom of the menu card. Usually a selected number of dirges are rendered by the university glee and banjo club members, who, the other Criminal Club members say, deserve honorary memberships for murdering music the way they do, if for no other reason.

Dooley on Reading.

Readin', me fri'nd, is talked about be all readin' people as though it was th' on'y thing that makes a man betther thin his neighbors. But th' truth is that readin' is th' nex' thing this side iv goin' to bed f'r restin' th' mind. With mos' people it takes th' place iv wurruk. A man doesn't think whin he's readin', or if he has to, th' book is no fun. Did ye iver have something to do that ye ought to do, but didn't want to, an' while ye was wishin' ye was dead, did ye happen to pick up a newspaper? Ye know what occurred. Ye didn't jus' skim through th' spoortin' intillygince an' th' crime news. Whin ye got through with thim, ye read th' other quarther iv th' pa-per. Ye read about people ye niver heerd iv, an' happenin's ye didn't undherstand—th' fashion notes, th' theatrical gossip, th' s'ciety news fr'm Peoria, th' quotations on oats, th' curb market, th' real estate transfers, th' marredge licenses, th' death notices, th' want ads., th' dhry-goods bargains, an' even th' idditoryals. Thin ye r-read thim over again with a faint idee ye'd read thim before. Thin ye yawned, studied th' design iv th' carpet, an' settled down to wurruk. Was ye exercisin' ye-er joynt intelleck while ye was readin'? No more thin if ye'd been whistlin' or writin' ye-er name on a pa-aper. If anny wan else but me come along they might say: "What a mind Hinnissy has! He's always readin'." But I w'u'd kick th' book or paaper out iv ye-er hand, an' grab ye be th' collar, an' cry, "Up, Hinnissy, an' to wurruk!" f'r I'd know ye were loafin'. Believe me, Hinnissy, readin' is not thinkin'. It seems like it, an' whin it comes out in talk sometimes, it sounds like it. It 's a kind iv nearthought that looks ginooyne to th' thoughtless, but ye can't get annything on it. Manny a man I've knowed has so doped himsilf with books that he'd stumble over a carpet-tack.

Breach of Promise Ethics.

If a man engages himself to marry a woman, and, on the understanding of that engagement, induces her to abandon, for, perhaps, a lengthy term, the chief business of her life—securing a suitable husband—and subsequently breaks his engagement, he inflicts just as real a cash wrong as if he had engaged her as governess and not paid her any wages. For a term of perhaps two years, possibly the best years of her life, he has kept the woman from the quest of a husband, and thus materially injured her matrimonial prospects. It is right, therefore, that he should pay compensation.—"Bulletin," Sydney.

A West Lambton Joke.

The following joke (if it is one) comes from West Lambton:—

Public School Inspector (testing a senior Part I. class in phonics in a school-room where election day brings the children a holiday)—"Now, little folks, who can tell me what this word is?" writing "e-lec-tion" on the blackboard.

Small boy (aside) whispering to Inspector—"Eh"-"leck"-"shun."

Inspector (not satisfied that the boy recognises the word)—"What does it bring you, my boy?"

Small Boy (in a whisper)—"Money."

The Inspector was satisfied, but he declines to name the boy.

BRITISH SHIP COMBINE IS MORGAN'S RIVAL

The New Company Has a Capital of a Hundred Million Dollars

IS NOW PRACTICALLY A FACT

The British Syndicate Has a Big Advantage Over Morgan on Account of its Government Subsidies

London, June 26.—The British shipping combination, which intends to compete with the Morgan syndicate for the North Atlantic and Pacific freight and passenger business, is now practically consummated.

Mr. Christopher Furness is to be at the head of the new combination. It is to be capitalised at £20,000,000 ($100,000,000) The Cunard Company is included in the deal.

The British Government has agreed largely to increase the present subsidies, while Canada promises at least £200,000 ($1,000,000) yearly.

In the minds of those who support the scheme the Atlantic aspect is not greater than the Pacific.

The main idea is the utilization of the Canadian Pacific Railway as the chief link in a chain bringing Australasia, India, China, and Japan into nearer and more intimate touch with England and providing an all-British route shorter than any at present navigable.

CZAR THRASHED BY HIS UNCLE

"Now Will You be Good?" Shouts The Crazy Grand Duke To His Prostrate Sovereign

EMPEROR IS BADLY PUMMELED

Frail Nicholas no Match For Lunatic—Is Twice Felled to the Floor By Jolts on the Head

From Friday's Times.

St. Petersburg, June 26.—It has leaked out that Grand Duke Constantine, who went insane, as exclusively reported in these despatches last Sunday, gave his nephew, the Czar, a terrible beating just before he was placed under restraint. Nicholas was upbraiding his uncle for the latter's slipshod administration of the military academies, when Constantine, without any warning, gave his majesty a rap on the head. Nicholas called for help, but before his adjutants arrived Constantine had knocked the frail monarch down twice. When the officers rushed in, Constantine was pummeling his imperial nephew, shouting: "Now, will you be good?"

Constantine was the most gifted member of the imperial family and translated Shakespeare's foremost works into Russian. The translations are considered classic. Since being under restraint he declaims Hamlet continuously.

GERMANS NOT RESPONSIBLE.

The Imperial Government was informed that the police in German watering places which Russian ministers of state and other high officials may want to visit cannot guarantee their safety. They must bring their own guards.

THREE MEN DROWNED

Result of Attempt to Change Seat While Fishing

Special to The Times.

Milwaukee, June 26.—Three men were drowned today in Lake Michigan while fishing from a boat, which capsized. They were:

Beyer, Jacob, aged fifty years, of Chicago.

Faibe, W. F. C., forty-five, Milwaukee.

Greely, Joseph, fifty, New York City.

Charles Tuschel, a boy of twelve was saved by clinging to the boat. He says Beyer, in trying to move to another part of the boat, fell overboard. He was hauled back, but during the rescue the boat filled with water and capsized. Beyer went down, and was drowned immediately. Faibe went down twice and failed to rise, while Greeley swam about one hundred and fifty feet and then sank. The bodies of Faibe and Beyer have been recovered.

TESTING WORLD'S BIGGEST GUN

Immense Weapon Goes to Sandy Hook Probably on Wednesday

Special to The Times.

Albany, N. Y., June 26.—By Wednesday a 16-inch gun—the largest in the world—will be completed at Watervliet Arsenal and sent to the United States Government's approving grounds at Sandy Hook. Its operations are expected to astonish the world. It is the most powerful weapon as yet devised by man, and is expected to revolutionize the art of gun making.

The work upon this powerful weapon has been going on for years. Monster cranes have been constructed in order that the various parts of the record-breaking arm might be conveniently shifted. It will cost many thousands for one discharge of the mammoth gun.

DOTES ON BULL FIGHTING

Spain's National Spo[illegible] Enthralled Alphonse

Madrid, June 26.—Your correspondent learned from a court official that the newspaper stories saying King Alfonso disliked bull fights, were due to the influence of his queen-mother, but do not conform to the facts.

Since witnessing the bloody sport at his crowning, Alfonso almost continuously talks bull fight with his intimates.

He is very eager to see another, and has given his mamma to understand that as sovereign king he will no longer brook any objections to his attendance at the national sport.

—The Times just now is making a thorough house-to-house canvass of Keene and Allendale.

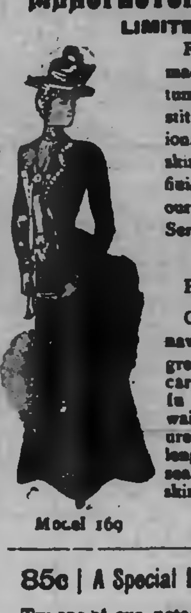
$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO. LIMITED.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made of our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front



Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly InterOcean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G., PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.

Edith Berdan, M. D., Has the best treatment—has cured [illegible] of Obesity [illegible]

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R·I·P·A·N·S Tabules. For sale by Druggists The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

APIOL & STEEL for Ladies PILLS

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

Advertise in The Times.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, ENG. | Send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 324 pages, and all the original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 328 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 328 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE
An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 159 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 367 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.
Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips, cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings Medicine Co
[illegible] YONGE ST., TORONTO

BIG G

CURE YOURSELF! Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous. Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles $2.75. Circular sent on request.

U.S.A.

King Edward VII. Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

Lead and Small Block Tin Pipe

WILLIAM STREET, TORONTO.

NERVOUSNESS

Or despondency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early abuse, later excesses or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not eke out a miserable existence on account of your follies, you are not safe until cured—nature never excuses—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water comes freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not make it quite so freely, it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have a mucous deposit or brick dust colored sediment; give your condition immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed as a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you

PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chances. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., Cor. Wilcox Street, DETROIT, Mich.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up) $12,000,000

Reserved Fund 7,000,000

Undivided Profits 376,531

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend for the three months ending 30th June, 1902, being at the rate of

6 PER CENT.

(6%) per annum, has this day been declared upon the capital stock of this institution, and that the same will be payable at the offices of the company, Peterborough, Ontario, on and after

Wednesday, the 2nd day of July next.

The transfer books will be closed from the 17th to the 30th of June both days inclusive.

By order of the board.

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterboro, 6th June, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL BARRISTERS

Office—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

HENRY S. MARA ALBERT W. TAYLOR

Mara & Taylor

Members Toronto Stock Exchange

STOCK BROKERS. 5 TORONTO ST

Orders promptly executed on the Toronto, Montreal and New York Exchanges

JOHN STARK & CO.

26 TORONTO ST. TORONTO.

Stocks Bought and Sold ON TORONTO, MONTREAL AND NEW YORK EXCHANGES

Correspondence Invited.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 379 Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck R. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton C. E. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 384 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. See A. FRY 384 Park place.

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPOsite roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 16 Toronto St. east Toronto

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 381 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No 382 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

Childrens' Aid Society

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY Peterborough—for the care of neglected and ill-treated children. Incorporated by Act of Legislature 1895. Information requested. Informants' names kept strictly private. Office hours 10 to 11 a.m. 4 to 5 p.m. George Cochrane, agent and assistant secretary. Office Division Court buildings.

ARE YOU STOUT.

[illegible]

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. John H. Stiner and Miss Gertrude Maud O'Neil.

On Wednesday evening a very pleasing event took place at the residence of Mrs. M. O'Neil, when her daughter Miss Gertrude, was united in marriage to Mr. John H. Stiner. The Rev. W. A. Gunton, of the Baptist church, Smith, tied the nuptial knot.

The birde was handsomely attired in a dress of white organdie, and carried a beautiful boquet of white roses. She was given away by her brother, Mr. Wilbert O'Neil. Miss Maggie O'Neil, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and was also dressed in white organdie. She carried a boquet of pink carnations. Miss Cora Bradburn acted as maid of honor and was dressed in white organdie; she carried a basket of pink and white roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. John Rome.

Amongst the many beautiful presents was a magnificent silver set from the employees of the Amature Department of the Canadian General Electric Works.

There were about 50 guests present who spent a very enjoyable evening. The happy couple left yesterday morning on a honeymoon trip. On their return they will take up their residence at 67 Bolivar street. The Times joins their many friends in happy congratulations.

CRAIG—BROWN.

The home of Mr. J. C. Brown, 162 Smith street, was the scene of a very pretty and quiet wedding on Tuesday afternoon where his daughter, Miss Grace C., was united in marraige to Mr. W. H. Craig of Kinmount.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Bennet in the presence of the immediate relatives and frinds.

Miss Mabel Morrow, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, performed the duties of bridesmaid and Mr. Harold Brown, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

The popular young couple left for a short trip, and on their return will reside in Kinmount. The best wishes of a host of friends follow them to their new home.

TORPEY—MAHONY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday in the Roman Catholic church Ennismore, by Rev. Father Kelity, assisted by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick.

The contracting parties were Mr. Roger Torpey, of Ashburnham, and Miss Ellen Mahoney of Ennismore.

Before the ceremony was commenced a very eloquent address was given by Rev. Father Kelity, who spoke at some length on the obligations and responsibilities connected with the holy state of matrimony and exhorted them to love each other to the end and to let Christian charity be manifested toward all.

A most charming suit of gray was worn by the bride and she was assisted by her sister Miss Katie Mahoney. Mr. E. Torpey, brother of the groom, performed the duties of best man.

After the sumptuous wedding breakfast had been partaken of, short speeches were delivered by Revs. Kelity and Fitzpatrick, and Mr. Harry Long, who dwelt on the extended popularity of the young people and the warm welcome they would be accorded by their numerous friends in Peterborough which is to be their future home.

LIVE LAKEFIELD LOCALS

Interesting Budget of News From Pretty Northern Village

—The news of the serious illness of the King was received with dismay by our citizens. A feeling of gloom prevails in consequence.

—Everybody in Lakefield reads The Times. This paper, during the war, gave the best and the latest war news, and is now doing equally well as regards the King's illness.

—The Council met on Monday evening and gave Messrs. Farrer Bros. a ten years' franchise of the streets for electric light. This firm, it will be remembered, purchased the old electric light plant belonging to Messrs Madill Bros., which they propose to improve and modernize. The village has reserved the right to purchase the plant at a valuation at the expiration of five years.

—The flag poll, which was shattered by lightning about a month ago, has been replaced on the town hall by Messrs. Moore & Baptie, our enterprising contractors.

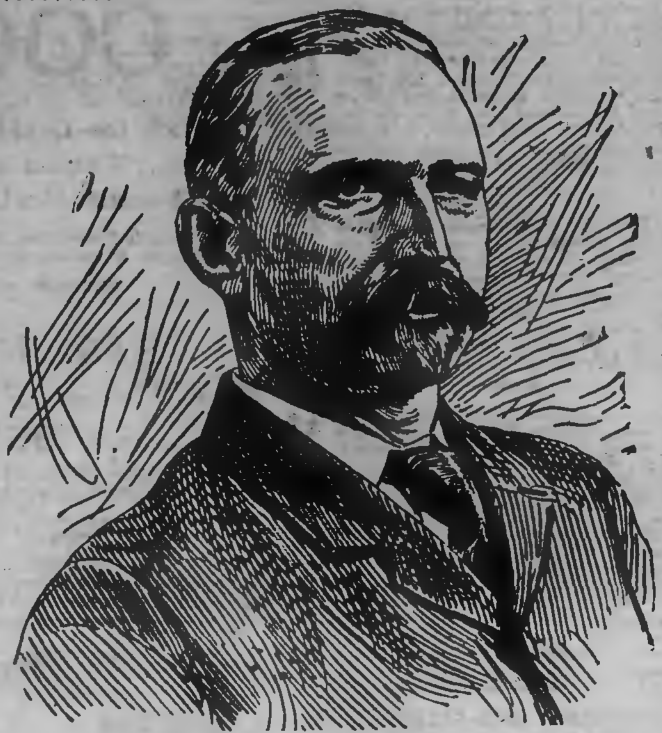
—Mr. John Craig, of the Craig House, is doing a humming business, as is also Mr. Wm. Leahy, of the Midland. Lakefield has too good hotels, both in capable hands.

—The time for receiving tenders for the new wing which is to be added to our public school, has been extended until Friday night, when the School Board will meet and award the contract. It is understood that several persons will compete for the job, which includes the erection of furnaces for heating the entire building.

—Messrs. Tate and Lillicrap have about completed the foundation of their new mill, using the Lakefield Monarch brand of cement, which is the best cement made. The frame work will be up next week, and machinery will arrive about the middle of July. The mill is expected to be in operation early in September.

SIR THOS. SHAUGHNESSY PREDICTS A BIG HARVEST

The President of the C.P.R. Speaks in Glowing Terms of the Outlook



SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY, President C.P.R.

Montreal, June 26. — "No, I cannot say that I was surprised with what I saw because I knew how the country was progressing, but I was extremely gratified and so were my travelling companions, Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P., and Mr. F. G. Matthews."

Thus spoke Sir Thomas Shaughnessy president of the Canadian Pacific, who returned to the city today, after having travelled 7,300 miles in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia, the greater portion of which was made in the daytime in order that Sir Thomas and the two directors of the company might have ample opportunity of witnessing the growth of the country and the acreage under crop. It is a year last October since Sir Thomas was west of Winnipeg, so he was in a position to appreciate the changes in the face of the country.

"The older settlers," continued the president, "have become comparatively rich, they are building handsome dwellings, and the indications of general prosperity on every hand is very gratifying. The new settlers, moreover, are generally the best class of farmers from the agricultural districts of the United States, and a great number of them are Canadians who left the Dominion to settle across the border, and who are returning to the Canadian North-West with their families.

"Yes, the condition of things all over is most promising and there is every indication of another bountiful harvest."

"Has there not been an over-abundant rainfall?"

"There certainly has been plenty of rain, but the crops have not in any way suffered. They are looking splendid, in fact they could not look better.

"And the crop acreage, is in in excess of last year?"

"The wheat acreage is in excess of last year, and there has been a large increase in the acreage of coarse grain, flax, oats and so forth, so that the bushels harvested will be greatly ahead of last year's figures."

"Will you be able to handle it with your increased rolling stock, or will there be a repitition of the car shortage?"

"All I can say," replied Sir Thomas, fervently, "is that I sincerely hope that for many years to come we shall have a shortage of rolling stock in our North West, because there would be no better evidence or indication of the prosperity of the country than this!"

"How is the mining development of British Columbia proceeding?

"The condition of affairs is improving and there are an immense number of small claims being successfully worked. Still, everyone familiar with the situation there, the magnificent climate and its other advantages, must regret that the beautiful productive valleys are not utilized as they are south of the boundary line. The penniless railway promoter and the subsidy seeker is too important factor for legislation there. If one-half the attention was given to the development of agriculture, the business centres of the province would in a few years be supported by the farming districts and be in receipt of such a fixed source of revenue such as has made many of the centres in the older provinces prosperous. Notwithstanding this, however, British Columbia is beyond a doubt making progress."

THE COAL INDUSTRY.

"How is the coal industry in the Crow's Nest developing?"

"As you know it has been unfortunate in the two serious accidents it has had, which has interfered with the output, but it is only a matter of time until this becomes one of the industries of the West, as the demand is far in excess of the supply."

"And the ranchers are they prosperous?"

"The horses and cattle are increasing wonderfully. The ranchmen are prosperous. They are erecting handsome residences with fine outhouses and this was another most gratifying feature of the general prosperity which is everywhere apparent."

"And Winnipeg?"

"Winnipeg's prosperity is wonderful. It is now a metropolitan city, with handsome residences and buildings going up. It reflects the prosperity of the prairie and is going ahead with leaps and bounds."

"Then the Canadian Pacific will probably erect the much talked of hotel there—have you anything to give out on that subject?"

"Not yet," was Sir Thomas' reply, "but it seems pretty well settled that before long the company will embark in important improvements, these including additional yard accommodation, a new depot and probably the hotel."

Speaking of the contemplated general improvements to the road Sir Thomas said the reduction of gradients and curvatures would be proceeded with just as soon as Mr. McHenry, the new engineer-in-chief, had time to elaborate his plans which involve an expenditure of millions of dollars and which it is estimated will increase the hauling capacity of locomotives from 25 to 40 per cent. Work on the new elevators at Fort William, Sir Thomas said, was proceeding rapidly and everything would be ready to handle the great crop everyone is looking for.

RETURNS IN GOOD HEALTH.

The president returns in the best of health and spirits and brimful of energy. He expressed unbounded regret at the King's illness and thought His Majesty's good condition would carry him through. Sir Thomas came west by the great Northern from Seattle to Minot, thence by the Soo route. He had never been over the Great Northern and took this opportunity. He came by the lakes from Owen Sound to the "Soo."

Ringing in the Ears

This is an unfailing sign of catarrh, and if not checked will ultimately result in deafness. The simplest remedy is Catarrhozone, which if inhaled a few times daily, prevents the catarrhal condition from spreading. Catarrhozone quickly stops the ringing in the ears, head noises, gives permanent relief to catarrhal deafness. For catarrh in any part of the system: bronchitis, asthma, lung or throat troubles, Catarrhozone is a specific, and is guaranteed to permanently cure or your money back. Large size $1.00, trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

Toothache Cured in One Minute

Saturate some batting with Polson's Nerviline, and place in the cavity of the tooth. Rub the painful part of the face with Nerviline, bind in a hot flannel, and the toothache will disappear immediately. Nerviline is a splendid household remedy for cramps, indigestion, summer complaint, rheumatism, neuralgia and toothache. Powerful penetrating, safe and pleasant for internal and external use. Price 25c. Try Nerviline.

Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for biliousness.

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression

MAUDE MASSON, Principal.

Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture

CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE

GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.

CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year

Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,

LEDGERS, JOURNALS,

CASH BOOKS,

ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.

Wholesale and Retail

Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE

ALES AND PORTER

—OF—

THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.

The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.

To be had at all first-class dealers

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE

'No Cure, No Pay,' is the Newest Proposal of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills

Editor Morning Times [illegible];

Sir,—We make the following proposal: to anyone who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, as enumerated below, and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being supplied as to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

SWEATY FEET
SORE FEET
ACHING FEET
BLISTERED FEET
HOT FEET
INFLAMED FEET
SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

Shun any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper substitute.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING
-AND-
MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 27 190

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—The Board of Education will meet this evening.

—The chief has a lady's jacket, for which he would like an owner.

—The entrance pupils who are now writing for the High School will finish this evening. It will be ten or twelve days before the results will be known. They will appear in The Times as soon as they are out.

—Be sure and attend Gough Bros' great special sale tomorrow and tomorrow night. Messrs. Tully & Merrill, the progressive managers, are offering bargains that are sure to bring the crowd. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

—The Secretary of the Board of Education has received a letter from Mr. W. Preston, of Stratford, urging the teaching of domestic science and manual training in our schools. Mr. Preston says these branches are taught in Stratford schools. The subject will hardly be favorably considered in Peterborough, on account of the expense they would involve.

—Mr. H. J. Byers, the George street photographer, has presented the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church with a large group photo of the members. The picture is 30 inches by 30 inches and has been pronounced by all who have seen it to be one of the best combination groups ever made in Peterborough and reflects great credit on the artistic ability of Mr. Byers. It is proposed to place it in the church parlors.

The regimental inspection will probably take place next week.

◆

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS ARE CORDILLY INVITED.

There will be an EXHIBIT of HIGH GRADE PORTRAITS at the studio of R. M. ROY, on Saturday, June 28th. It will be a display of TRULY ARTISTIC WORK, SEPHIA, BEAUTIFUL WATER COLORS, and everything that is newest and best in portraiture.

◆

DOMESTICS WANTED.

We can secure situations in respectable families for the following domestic help. Six general servants, two chambermaids, two good cooks and one nurse girl. Wages from $8 to $20 per month. Apply at The Times Bookstore.

◆

—No less than twenty-three bare-back champions of the entire world are with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers consolidated shows this year. As a matter of fact, there are no other riders worthy of the name in this country. These riders are in a measure playing the dog-in-the-manger policy toward the other shows in regard to riders. One-third of the number they have would be more than any other show has ever had before, but they simply will not let the other shows have any of these champion riders. It certainly makes these shows the most astounding exhibition of equestrianism the world has ever seen without, indulging in any of the ordinary circus aggregation. They will all be seen with these shows when they exhibit here on July 8th.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Mr. Ed. Wade has gone to Winnipeg on business.

—Mrs. R. R. Hall has opened her cottage at Stony Lake for the season.

—The Times had a pleasant call yesterday from Mr. R. Mulholland, of Toronto, who returned to the city last night.

—Dr. Pentland, L.D.S. left yesterday on a week's visit to his brother at Collingwood.

—The many friends of Mr. Thomas Morrow will regret to learn that he is seriously ill.

—Miss Eileen Fair is home from the Bishop Strachan School, Toronto, for the holidays.

—Miss Madge Davidson, has returned from St. Margaret's, Toronto, for the summer vacation.

—Mr. John Crane and Mr. C B. McAllister spent yesterday at their cottages at Stony Lake.

—Mr. Dickson Jewett returned yesterday from a business trip to Cannington.

—Mr. J. M. Brooks returned yesterday from the annual meeting of the Ontario License Holders' Association, Toronto.

—Mr. E. C. Compton, of the local staff of the Bank of Commerce, has returned from his trip to the Old Country.

—Mrs. Freeland, wife of Dr. Freeland, collector of customs, Ottawa, is in town the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. A. Blanchette, Water street.

—Mr. Geo. B. Hilliard, of Lakefield, was in town on business yesterday and dropped into The Times' sanctum for a friendly chat.

—Mr. A. E. Jackson, teller in the local branch of the Bank of Commerce here, has been transferred to the London branch. His many friends in town will exceedingly regret his departure and will wish him good luck in his future home.

Honor Pupils in Music

Mr. Rupert Gliddon, the popular musical director of the 57th Regimental Band received a letter from the Toronto Conservatory of Music, stating that four of his piano pupils had not only been successful in passing the examinations, but had carried off honors These were Miss Florence Butcher, who took 84 per cent. out of a possible hundred, winning first class honors; Miss E. White, 80 per cent, (honors); Miss Jenie Elliott 76 per cent, (honors), and Miss Geraldine King, 60 per cent. The young ladies as well as their teacher are to be congratulated on the result.

Intercessory Service

Yesterday morning an impressive intercessory service for the life of King Edward was held in St. John's church, in place of the Coronation service which had been arranged to take place. An eloquent and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's, text, James v, 6, "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." After singing a hymn followed by the National Anthem, Rev. J. C. Davidson read the Litany, which was interspersed with special petitions for the King and Queen and Royal family.

HIS EYES DANCE

When His Good Drink Comes

A coffee that will nourish and furnish all the food required to rear a baby is evidently easy food for an adult to digest and is especially applicable where ordinary coffee does not agree.

The wife of a congregational minister gives an experience. "It is rather curious, the manner in which I came to adopt Postum for my baby. My husband used to be troubled greatly with bilious headaches and extreme nervousness. This was about five years ago. We concluded that coffee and tea were the cause of his troubles and so gave Postum Food Coffee a trial. At first we did not like it because it was not boiled enough and seemed weak and tasteless, but after preparing it properly, and that is easy, we became very fond of it, and now can honestly say we prefer it to any coffee or tea.

The old headaches and nervousness have disappeared and we both enjoy very much better health.

When one of our children was a year old he would not drink milk so we tried him on Postum Coffee, and from the first he liked it and it agreed with him perfectly, so Postum has been his drink now for over four years.

About ten months ago a baby boy came to our house. I was, of course, anxious to have good nourishment for him and so drank from five to eight cups of Postum during the day. This with a little Grape-Nuts Food each day was all the nourishment I took and although the baby weighed only five pounds at birth he weighed twelve and one-half pounds at three months and at four months fifteen pounds. Now he weighs twenty-three pounds.

About three weeks ago the little fellow suddenly weaned himself much to our surprise. I tried him on cow's milk but he would not have it. I then tried a certain baby food, then another, but he would have neither. I felt very anxious about him, but remembering the experimenting with another boy with Postum I gave him some which he drank with the greatest relish. It agreed with him perfectly, so he lived on it for one week. Since then he has learned to eat a little other food but he prefers Postum Coffee to anything else, and looks perfectly delighted when he sees me coming with it. I said the other morning, 'I wish the Postum Company could see my baby drink their coffee, it would certainly please them.' It agrees with him so perfectly that I shall continue to have him drink it to his heart's content. I don't like to have my name printed, but you can say I am a Cong. Pastor's wife." Name and address given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Down the River

Yesterday the City of Peterborough carried about 800 Foresters and friends to Idyl-Wild and return. The sail down the river was very enjoyable, notwithstanding the gale that blew during the day.

Excursions Yesterday

About 300 excursionists went to Stony Lake yesterday. There was also an excursion from Lakefield. The three steamers were engaged, and each carried their quota. The day was not pleasantly spent on account of the high wind and cold.

Purchased the Bennett House

Mr. Dickson Jewett, who for so many years has been connected with the Snowden House, has purchased the Bennett House, Cannington. This hotel is the leading one in that village, and has a large patronage. Under Mr. Jewett's management the house will be greatly improved, and will be made equal to any hotel in the district. Mr. Jewett's many friends in Peterborough will join The Times in wishing him all kinds of good luck.

To Cold to Stay

Yesterday a gentleman from New York, who went out to Stony Lake intending to stay a fortnight, passed through town on his way home. Four others, who were booked at Buckhorn for a few weeks, also went through, homeward bound. They complain that while the fishing never was better, they could not stand the cold weather.

Don't Like Prohibition

The Calcutt Brewing Company's business has grown to such proportions that frequent additions have to be made to the plant to keep up the pace. Yesterday the company received a car load of eight-gallon kegs. Although these barrels have been painted with a stripe of yellow, they are not intended exclusively for the 12th of July, but will be used also on the 17th of March, and in fact every other day in the year in supplying the trade with Calcutt's cool, enervating, wholesome, healthy, delicious lager.

◆

SATURDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIALS AT GOUGH'S

Here's important news for Saturday and Saturday night shoppers at Gough Bros:

All our $12.50 Men's Fine Suits, strictly 1902 fashionable styles and patterns specially reduced, Saturday and Saturday night only, at........ $9.90

See our display in large plate glass window.

25 doz. Fancy Bicycle Hose, regular price 75c and $1.00 special........................39c

doz. black and Drab Fine Fur Panama Fedoras, regular price $2.25, special........$1.50

100 pairs Men's Dongola bals, regular price $1.75, special $1.25

50 pai Men's Dongola bals, regular $1.75. Special.... $1 25

TULLY & MERRELL, Manager

◆

ANOTHER TRUNDLE BED POEM

(Published by request.)

As I wandered round the homestead,
Many a dear familiar spot,
Brought within my recollection,
Scenes I'd seemingly forgot;
There the orchard-meadow yonder;
Here the deep, old-fashioned well,
With its old, moss-covered bucket,
Sent a thrill no tongue can tell.

Though the house is held by stran[gers
All remained the same within.
Just as when a child I rambled
Up and down, and out and in.
To the garret dark ascending
(Once a source of childish dread)
Peering through the dusty cobwebs,
Lo! I saw my trundle bed.

Quick I drew it from the rubbish,
Covered o'er with dust so long;
When, behold, I heard in fancy
Strains of one familiar song.
Often sung by my dear mother,
To me in that cradle-bed,
"Hush, my dear, lie still in slumber,
Holy angels guard thy bed.

While I listen to the music
Stealing on in gentle strain,
I am carried back to childhood—
I am now a child again;
'Tis the hour for my retiring,
At the dusky eventide;
Near my crade-bed I'm kneeling,
As in yore, by mother's side.

Hands are on my head so loving,
As they were in childhood's days;
I, with weary tones am trying
To repeat the words she says.
'Tis a prayer in language simple
As a mothers lips can frame;
"Father, Thou who art in Heaven,
Hallowed ever be Thy name."

Prayer is over—to my pillow
With a good-night kiss I creep,
Scarcely waking while I whisper,
"Now I lay me down to sleep."
Then my mother, o'er me bending,
Prays in earnest words, but mild,
"Hear my prayer, O, Heavenly [Father,
Bless, O, bless my precious child."

Yet, I am but only dreaming,
Ne'er I'll be a child again.
Many years has that dear mother
In the quiet churchyard lain.
But her blessed angel-spirit
Daily hovers o'er my head.
Calling me from earth to Heaven,
Even from my cradle-bed.

◆

—A good, smart messenger boy wanted at the Times Bookstore.

—A parlor organ, five octaves and eleven stops, which cost when new $150, will be sold for $40. Apply at The Times Bookstore.

Advertise in The Times.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25, $1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75, for..$1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00 for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS ! STRAW HATS !

Plain Straw Hat.............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,...50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats....75c, $1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

Help Wanted.

SERVANT GIRL WANTED—A girl that knows how to cook. Good wages. Mrs. J. J. McBain, 84 King street.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $10 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 44 and 46 Broadway, New York.

APPRENTICE WANTED to learn the printing business. Apply at this office.

GIRL WANTED at once, to learn book binding. Apply at the Times Bookstore, George Street.

DINING ROOM GIRL and good cook wanted. Apply to D. FOLEY, care H. Calcutt, Ashburnham. Wages from $10 to $20 per month.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. Commercial rooms.

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

NOTICE.

The Peterboro Radial Railway Company.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

that a Special General Meeting, of the Shareholders of the Peterboro Radial Railway Company will be held at the Offices of Messrs. Roger and Bennet, 370 Water Street, Peterboro, on at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of electing Directors of the said Company, and for the transaction of business generally.

Monday, 28th July, 1902

Dated 25th June, 1902.

G. M. ROGER, Secretary.
JAMES C. SHOOK, President.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

Too Busy to Write Ads., Because:

The bargains we are giving in Houses and Lots, Garden Lots and Farms, of all sizes and prices, and the easy terms our long experience enables us to arrange for our buyers, keeps our entire staff hustling from early morning until late at night and still our work is only well begun, as new properties are being listed daily. All are invited to our New Ground Floor Office, so convenient to call when you go to the Post Office, or call up phone 376 for any information desired regarding REAL ESTATE.

T. HURLEY & CO.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL: GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

DIAMOND STEEL BEARINGS

GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON
31 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R. Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborough, Ont

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

233 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 188, 186 and 215, day or night.

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"
Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

CANADIAN PACIFIC

DOMINION DAY, July 1

Will Issue Return Tickets at

Single First Class Fare

Good going June [illegible] and [illegible] Returning until June [illegible]

Good Going June [illegible] and July 1st Returning until July 2nd.

Single First Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June [illegible] to July 1, inclusive valid for return until July 3.

From all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and East, and to, but not from, Buffalo, N.Y., Black Rock, N.Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Suspension Bridge, N.Y.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

DOMINION DAY
JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich. AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

Good going June 28th and 29th, returning from destination on or before June [illegible], also Good going June 30th and July 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

Good going June 30th to July 1st, inclusive valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Tickets and all information from
W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 151 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO SATURDAY JUNE 28 1902 PRICE TWO CENT

KING HAS MADE SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT, PASSED A COMFORTABLE DAY

His Condition in all Respects Most Satisfactory, Said to be Out of Danger

London, June 27—10.12 a.m.—The first unofficial intimation this morning from Buckingham Palace regarding King Edward's condition is to the effect that pain mentioned in last night's bulletin was at first attended by some restlessness, but subsequently improvement was noted and His Majesty passed a fair night.

London, June 27.—A bulletin issued from Buckingham Palace at 10.15 this morning says:—"His Majesty had a fair night, and has had some settled sleep. His appetite is improving, and his wound is much more comfortable. On the whole the King's condition is attended with less anxiety.

(Signed) LISTER, TREVES, SMITH LAKING BARLOW.

London, June 27.—The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace at 3 p.m.:—

"His Majesty passed a comfortable morning. All his symptoms today are so far satisfactory. His temperature remains normal. No other than important fluctuations in his Majesty's temperature will be recorded in the bulletins issued.

Signed TREVES, LAKING, BARLOW.

London, June 27.—3.27 p.m.—It is said that after the issue of this morning's bulletin, Lord Marcus Beresford, asked Lord Lister how the King was progressing and that Lord Lister replied—

"His Majesty is practically out of danger."

London, June 27.—At the adjournment of the House of Commons at 5.30 p.m. to-day, A. J. Balfour, the Government leader announced that the progress of King Edward was quite satisfactory.

London, June 27.—The following bulletin was posted at the Palace at 6.15 p.m.:—

"The King has maintained the satisfactory condition described in the last bulletin. His Majesty shows no disquieting symptoms.

Signed, LISTER, TREVES, SMITH, LAKING, BARLOW.

London, June 27.—The following bulletin was issued from Buckingham Palace to-night at 11 p.m.:—

"His Majesty's condition is in all respects satisfactory. The King has had a comfortable day, and has made substantial improvement.

Signed TREVES, LAKING, BARLOW.

THE KING'S CHANCES ARE EXCELLENT.

Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, the well-known Toronto surgeon, made the following statement today, in an interview concerning the King's illness:

"The disease, perityphilitis, from which the King is suffering, is one of very common occurrence. There seems to be some confusion in the public mind in reference to the term perityphilitis, used by Sir Frederick Treves. This was the term, used some years ago to describe an inflammation around the caecum, before the definite cause of the condition was known. It has been conclusively proven in the vast majority of cases that the caecum plays no part at all in the trouble, and that the appendix is the all important structure, and therefore the term appendicitis has almost completely supplanted typhlitis and perityphlitis.

"The King undoubtedly had an attack of appendicitis which resulted in the formation of an abscess, which, so far as one can tell from the bulletins, was completely walled off from the general peritoneal cavity. The abscess was evacuated and drained in the usual way. It is now three days since the operation was performed, and we are told that his temperature and pulse are both normal.

"This being the case, and the conditions being as I have described above, I would say that the King's chances of recovery are excellent. I do not think there is any danger of [illegible] peritonitis or hemorrhage, which complications were feared in the earlier reports. There are still complications which sometimes occur in a late stage of the disease, and which might prove fatal but they are infrequent."

HIS HOLINESS THE POPE

The Aged Pontiff Deeply Concerned over the Illness of the King

And Prays to God to Preserve the Precious Life of His Majesty

Now and again there break through the clouds of prejudice and ignorance that hide from the vision of Protestants "the prisoner at Rome," as some bright shining of the sun through a lowering sky, revelations of his holiness which are only and altogether lovely. They disclose "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief," touched with the feeling of our infirmities and bearing in the arms of faith and prayer even those not of his fold. It is related that the pope, who was deeply affected by the news of the illness of the King, after receiving Cardinal Rampolla and other members of the Sacred college, on Tuesday, said:

Let us pray God to preserve the precious life of Edward, who so well deserves the thanks of the world in bringing about by his personal influence and intervention, peace in South Africa.

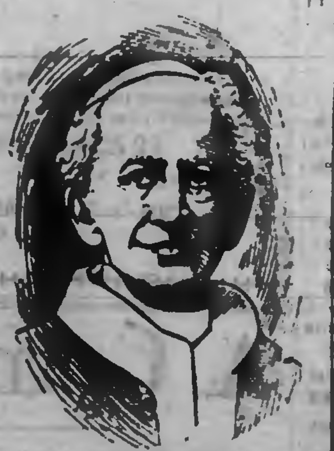
"Now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three: but the greatest of these is charity."

Asthma Can be Cured

Thousands of testimonials conclusively prove that asthma can be permanently cured by inhaling Catarrhozone, a vegetable antiseptic that destroys at once the germs causing the disease. Catarrhozone gives immediate relief to the distressing cough and suffocating sensations, makes breathing easy and regular and insures undisturbed sleep. Catarrhozone cures asthma that doctors are unable even to relieve and can cure you. The Catarrhozone inhaler is made of hard rubber, fits into the vest pocket, can be used at work, in church, in the street, in bed — any place — at any time. Two months' treatment (guaranteed), price $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Try Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake Pills.

Everybody reads The Times.



Pope Leo XIII.

NEW JUDGES NAMED.

Ottawa, June 26.—E. J. Reynolds of Brockville, has been appointed to the junior judgeship of Leeds and Grenville, which was provided for at the last session of Parliament. He was the law partner of O. K. Fraser, and was appointed a Q.C. by the Ontario Government in 1899.

HAS ANOTHER VISION

By Dr. Ecker Foretells Disaster for the United States

Special to The Times.

New York, June 28 — A despatch from Duluth, Minn., to the Herald says:

That a dire calamity threatens the United States, that lives will be sacrificed by the thousands and havoc will be wrought from one end of the nation to the other, is the prediction of Dr. A. Ecker, of this city, who has had another vision.

His first "vision" occurred several months before McKinley was assassinated. So impressed is the doctor with his latest occult message that he decided to appraise President Roosevelt of the impending dangers, and warn His Excellency of the prospective invasion by four or five of the most powerful countries of Europe. The doctor has mailed a letter to the President in which he tells of his vision, which occurred on April 27.

Dr. Ecker interprets his vision to mean that four or five European powers are combining, and that their ships will enter American harbors without warning to do up this country. Dr. Ecker says they will fail to do so, but that America will win by only a narrow margin.

A CATERPILLAR PLAGUE

Pennsylvanians Use Shot Guns to Kill the Little Crawlers.

The farmers in the United States have adopted the shotgun to exterminate the caterpillar plague. After trying all the new methods to fight this insect, the farmers declare this novel one the cheapest and most effective.

Placing a charge or two of powder in the muzzle of the gun, depending upon the size of the caterpillar nest, the farmers advance upon the insects' stronghold. Then, with the gun several feet away, the powder is discharged by a metal cap. The shock never fails to blow the nest and its occupants into smithereens, and exterminates the caterpillars.

ONLY THREE MONTHS' SUPPLY OF COAL

That is all There is Above Ground in the United States

GENERAL STRIKE NOT PROBABLE

The Western States will Very Likely Vote Against Making the Strike General

Special to The Times.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 28—It is estimated by B. W. Wilson, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, that the present supply of bituminous and anthracite coal above ground would be exhausted in less than three months if there should be a general suspension of work in the mines. According to this estimate, if the National Convention of mine workers in Indianapolis July 17 should vote for a general suspension of work in support of the anthracite strike, as is proposed the vast industrial machinery of the United States would be so handicapped for fuel that thousands of factories would have to suspend work.

Mr. Wilson has statistics showing that there are approximately 450,000 miners in the country, scattered through 30 states. The miners of 24 states would be actively involved if there should be a suspension of operations. There are now more than 300,000 members of the mine workers organized. Mr. Wilson says that nearly every non-union man would go out if a general suspension of work should be organized. The anthracite organization now includes 47,000 men, and since the strike was ordered a few days ago, the Virginia and West Virginia men have been flocking to the union.

LARGEST SUPPLY AT BUFFALO.

Probably the largest supply of coal is in the bins at Buffalo, N.Y., and other cities along the great lakes. Canada has no coal on which this country could draw, if there should be a general tie-up. The British Isles might supply a part of the market, but at a price that would be almost prohibitive to the manufacturers and ordinary consumers. The tariff on imported coal is 60 cents a ton.

At the coming convention the belief is that the competitive districts of Western Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois will take a hand against a general strike. These men have contracts that they do not want to break. The combined vote of the competitive district with that of Iowa is expected to prove strong enough to prevent the success of the proposition for a general strike. There are a number of states whose agreements will expire July 1 and it will depend largely upon the outcome of the deliberations between their operators and miners as to where the balance of power will lie in the convention.

QUIET AT WILKESBARRE.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 28—Yesterday was one of the quietest days around strike headquarters since the anthracite mine workers suspended operations six weeks ago. Nothing developed and neither, President Mitchell nor the coal company officials had anything to say regarding the situation. Reports from the entire region were to the effect that all the mining towns were very quiet and that the 150,000 idle men and boys are keeping away from the collieries. The local unions continue to hold meetings for the purpose of transacting business in connection with carrying on the strike in their localities and to give relief where it is needed.

The flurry occasioned by the call for a special national convention at Indianapolis has entirely subsided. No information on what the probable action of the convention will be could be had here to-day. News from the west is eagerly awaited by the great body of strikers.

RESTRICTING OUTPUT

Clearfield, Pa., June 28—Patrick Gilday, president of the district miners' union, has issued an official order reciting that bituminous coal is being shipped to points east to aid in breaking the strike in the anthracite region. To prevent this it is ordered that the output of Northern and Central Pennsylvania be restricted and the miners are notified not to work more than four days a week. The order is the result of an interview between President Gilday and National President Mitchell.

NEW YORK'S SUPPLY

New York, June 28 — The anthracite coal strike is compelling many large dealers to look abroad for relief. Manager Herbert, of Herbert and Company, coal dealers, says that he had communicated with anthracite mine owners in Cardiff, Wales, for the importation of a supply of anthracite. He expects a reply to-day. He wants broken anthracite suitable for use in locomotives and furnaces. This class of coal previous to the strike sold for about $4.50 a ton. He expects if he makes a deal with the Welsh mine owners it will cost $8 a ton in New York.

A cargo of bituminous coal is on its way from Wales to this city. It is being brought here as an experiment. The cargo, which consists of 4,000 tons, will be put on the market, it is said, at $5 or $5.50 a ton.

A Coalition Government

Special Despatch to The Times.

Toronto, June 27—The political situation is not clearing, and indications are that a coalition government may be formed. The Times' representative was told by one of our leading politicians, who is in a position to know, that the matter is now under consideration by the leaders of both parties. As far as could be learned, the programme is as follows: Mr. Whitney to become Premier, with Hon. Mr. Harcourt as Minister of Education. Hon. J. R. Stratton as Provincial Secretary, the balance of the cabinet to be taken from the Conservative ranks. It is understood that Mr. Carnegie will become Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Foy Attorney General, and Mr. St. John Crown Lands Commissioner. Hon. Mr. Ross is to be called to the Senate, and will, at the expiration of Sir Oliver Mowat's term, become Lieutenant Governor of Ontario.

It is argued that the parties are so evenly divided that it is next to impossible for either to carry on a government. This will account for the wholesale dropping of election protests.

The only thing that stands in the way of the proposed coalition is the difficulty of securing a sufficient following from the Liberal ranks to make the new government safe, and the absence of Premier Ross in England.

Marvellous Escape From Death

Paine's Celery Compound Does a Wondrous Work for Mr. Geo. March, After Failures of Other Medicines

It is well known that terrible rheumatism and sciatica cause more helplessness, acute suffering and agony than any of the other diseases that afflict humanity. The great medicinal virtues of Paine's Celery Compound make it the only trustworthy specific for the cure of all forms of rheumatism. Thousands of strong testimonial letters from the most prominent people prove that Paine's Celery Compound has completely banished rheumatism when all other treatment has failed. Mr. George March, Victoria Ave., North, Hamilton, Ont., says:

"Having experienced all the pains and agonies of that awful disease rheumatism, for the past ten years, and having met with so many disappointments after using medicines of all kinds, I consider it a duty to let suffering men and women know what Paine's Celery Compound did for me when my very life was in peril.

"I was strongly recommended to give Paine's Celery Compound a fair trial for my troubles. I bought it and used it, and the results were simply marvellous.

"I was encouraged and overjoyed that I had at last found the medicine that could cure even such a long-standing case as mine. I continued the use of the Compound, and now find myself a new man in every respect. Paine's Celery Compound also banished pains and troubles that I experienced in the region of my kidneys. I consider Paine's Celery Compound my health-giver and life-preserver."

The Dog Nuisance

Throughout this province an agitation is brewing against dogs, and it seems likely that in several towns and cities the result will be the enactment of laws tending to restrict the liberty of that animal. It is a case of Flower Beds vs. Dogs, and at the present writing the evidence appears to be very much in favor of the plaintiff. None of us would care to have anything done to hamper the freedom of our own dog, but would be only too pleased to have all the other dogs in the world, most of which are mongrels anyway, tied up in their kennels. There may be some aldermanic consideration of the dog question in this town, and it remains to be seen what will be done.

MAN BURIED IN WELL HAS BEEN RESCUED.

At 2.55 p.m. the Rescuers Succeeded in Getting Sanford Through the Tunnel

Special to The Times.

Paris, Ont. June 27.—Several thousand people, men and women, had assembled at the Skelley Farm on the St. George road last night to watch the efforts which were being made to release Joshua Sanford, who was buried at the bottom of a caved-in well, under fifty or sixty feet of earth. The well collapsed on Tuesday noon and two miners have been at work nearly ever since trying to rescue the unfortunate digger. They have been assisted by relays of men, but as only two can descend at one time, and only one work, the operation has been necessarily slow. Immense bonfires lit up the scene and for a quarter of a mile the road was choked with farmer's vehicles, the owners of which were waiting in hope of the buried man's liberation. Last night Sanford had been interred for fifty-eight hours and Dr. Dunton and other physicians who were waiting, feared that he could not survive much longer. There was a cessation of work for three hours yesterday, following the cave-in of the second well, which had been sunk by the side of the first, and from which the workers hoped to make the rescue. This delay may prove fatal to Sanford.

SIGNALS ARRANGED.

It was discovered that the entombed man could hear the voices above, and Dr. W. W. Patterson arranged a code of signals with him. Three taps on the pipe represented "yes"; two taps "no"; and one tap "I don't know." In this way Sanford was able to direct the operation and tried to tell the diggers the direction to take to reach him. At 11 o'clock yesterday morning the well had been sunk 40 feet and Sanford signalled that he thought the rescuers were below him. It was then decided to tunnel into the old well, and the news was joyously circulated that the buried man was about to be rescued. His mother was sent for but at this moment the quicksand opened again, and the old well shot down a distance of seven feet. Sanford had been entombed for 46 hours, and it was believed after the second cave-in that he must be dead. The signals were made but remained unanswered, and the crowd sadly dispersed.

SANFORD STILL ALIVE.

Shortly after three o'clock, however, one of the men descended into the new tunnel and while there heard a faint tapping. He at once summoned his comrades, who also heard the sounds, and the rescuers immediately returned to work, and it was found that communication with Sanford was even better than before. The theory put forward to account for the imprisoned man's escaping from being crushed to death in the second slide is that the brick and cement cylinder did not collapse, but simply sank or settled down, the greater depression of earth being where the weight was greatest, namely, outside the bricks, and the entombed man's position was thus practically unchanged.

Sanford is thirty years of age, and with his mother and sister lives at Branchton. He has been their main support. His father is living, but has been away from his family for years.

At two o'clock the workers at the foot of the fifty-two foot shaft were confident that they have located the imprisoned man and his rescue was expected in a few hours at most.

Paris, Ont. June 27. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the men working for the rescue of Joshua Sanford had tunnelled from that second well as far as the brick wall of the old well and expect to have the entombed man released by 3 o'clock. Previous to 10.30 o'clock this morning Sanford was delirious, but at 10.30 he apparently rallied, and was able to communicate to outsiders, the words, "Very hungry." A tremendous crowd awaits his release, when tremendous excitement will undoubtedly prevail.

2 25 p.m.—The rescuers have reached Sanford. He is lying on his back wedged in with bricks. He says: "Very cold and very hungry." The doctors have bandaged his eyes and will give him some wine. It will probably take two hours to get him out, as great care has to be taken in removing the bricks for fear of another cave-in.

Paris, Ont, June 27—9.30 a.m.—The rescuing party is now opposite to Sanford, the man imprisoned in the wells on the Skelley farm, and has begun to tunnel to the old well. Sanford is still alive and seems remarkable strong.

RESCUED.

Paris, June 27.—At 2.55 p.m. the rescuers succeeded in getting Sanford through the tunnel into the new well and into safety.

THE COMMENTS OF THE LONDON NEWSPAPERS

"God Save the King" is the Universal Theme of the British Papers

Special to The Times.

London, June 27.—All the morning papers, in their editorials, offer fervent prayers that the King's life may be spared. The Graphic, under the caption of "God Save the King," says that at the outset of a great national festival, which had already filled the whole empire with joyful expectancy, a blow had fallen which transformed the national gladness into the most profound anxiety.

The Morning Post says that amid the universal anxiety all hearts will go to the Queen, to whom the hardest trial and sharpest pangs are given.

The Daily Mail says that never has calamity fallen so terribly in the hour of rejoicing. It is hard that the blow should have fallen in this manner, and that the inscrutable hand of providence should thus have smitten the race.

The Standard says that of all the sad vicissitudes that history records in the fortunes of princes, there is surely none more pathetic or impressive than this sharp arrest of a festival of gladness this sullen, peremptory command to change the tokens of rejoicing for a confession of pressing care.

The Chronicle says that the British people like the King, have received a grievous disappointment. To bear it with quiet resignation, abandoning the intended festivities and, resuming the strenuous course of normal life, would most befit the national dignity.

The Times says: "Until the next anxious days are over the Empire will remain in deep care. The tragedy of the visitation has appealed to the imagination and human sympathies of foreign nations."

Referring to the postponement of the coronation the Times says it will be difficult, even if the warmest wishes are realized, to bring together again the elements of imposing magnificence that had been arranged for Westminster Abbey to-day, the royal procession on the following day, and the naval review on Saturday. The moral factors that constitute the true significance of these pageants remain, but the outward glory is quenched. There can be no coronation while the King is lying dangerously ill.

Have You Tried It?

Malt Breakfast Food

Gives Tone and Strength to the Weakened Digestive Organism

A Summer Breakfast Dish That Keeps Young and Old Well and Strong

If you have not tried Malt Breakfast Food, begin at once, and see how quickly this peerless food will tone and strengthen your stomach and digestive organism. If your appetite is capricious and uncertain, Malt Breakfast Food is the form of nourishment you need for soothing and comforting every organ connected with digestion. Malt Breakfast Food is tolerated by the weakest stomach. Ask your Grocer for it.

CORPORATION OFFICERS

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. R. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Beck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, R. A. Peck, Warde, Davis, and Bircsall Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Bramley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. J. Bamford.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depar
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal	5.10 p.m	11.25 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.23 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.25 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate	7.23 p.m.	7.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West	11.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9.00 p.m.	5.25 p.m.
Port, Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.25 p.m.	11.1[illegible] a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.30 a.m.	9.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.25 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.15 p.m.
Lakefield local	8.30 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Western Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the [illegible] at 10c per month, and to outside points at $3 per year strictly in advance.

UNION LABEL

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 27, 1902.

GOD SAVE THE KING!

God save our Gracious King,
Long live our Noble King,
God Save the King.
Send him victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us—
God Save the King!

Thy choicest gifts in store
On him be pleased to pour—
Long may he reign.
May he defend our laws
And ever give us cause
To sing with heart and voice
God Save the King.

PRAYER FOR A KING

In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.

Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the Lord, saying,

I beseech thee, O Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore.

And it came to pass, afore Isaiah was gone out into the middle court, that the word of the Lord came to him, saying,

Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears; behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the Lord.

And I will add unto thy days fifteen years; and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

And Isaiah said, Take a lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boil, and he recovered.—2 Kings, xx, 1-7.

• • • •

The recollection of the fact that the King's physicians had concealed the seriousness of his trouble and that his "entourage had calmly and flatly denied that his condition was anything but good" serves to destroy confidence in the hopeful reports, which are given out at this writing of the royal patient's state.

• • • •

The Emperor of Germany is said to have had a narrow escape last week. It seems that when His Majesty heard that many of the jewels in the British crown had turned out to be rhinestones he nearly died from laughter.

EDITORIAL NOTES

An interesting legal point is raised in connection with the stands erected in London on the route of the proposed Coronation procession. Many people have already paid for their seats and the question is whether they are entitled to have the money refunded. To the lay mind it would appear that they are not. The owners of the stands did not undertake to provide a procession, they undertook to provide seats for Thursday, and the seats are there in most cases for the lessees to sit on if they feel so disposed. Those proprietors who have been in a hurry to pull down the stands may have to fork up.

• • • •

Nurse Jane Toppan confesses that she poisoned thirty-one persons whom she was attending in a professional way, and insists that she is not insane. This is one of the occasions when the court ought not to be so impolite as to contradict a lady.

• • • •

The strongest testimony yet given of the humanity used by the British toward the Boers in the South African concentration camps comes from Mr. W. R. Townsend, a New Yorker, who has specially investigated the matter. He visited seven of the camps, six of them in company with the United States Consul-General, W. R. Bingham, the object of the latter being to find the best use to be made of a fund collected in Chicago for the relief of the Boer women and children. Mr. Townsend says that he was permitted everywhere to question the prisoners freely and to see all that there was to see. He found none of the terrible things about which he had read before leaving home; on the contrary, the conditions in the camps were excellent, the food was good and abundant, and the inmates, if not happy, at least had more material comforts than many of them were accustomed to.

• • • •

King Edward is a hero—made of the same stuff of which British battlefield heroes are made. He suffered terrible pain for days, and carried himself calmly and smilingly while Death was at work at his vitals—that his people might not be disappointed of their pleasure!

• • • •

(Toledo Bee.)

It's out west where they have experiences. An editor out that way tells his troubles in these few expressive lines: "A new clerk in the drug store sold us a bottle of aqua fortis for whisky the other day by mistake. We thought there was something peculiar about it when we were drinking it, for every time we heaved a sigh we set fire to our whiskers."

London, June 27.—A despatch to the Graphic from Sebastopol, says it is reported at the Black Sea naval headquarters there that some of the seamen and gunners on the gunboat Teretz have mutinied and murdered several of their officers. The report is not yet confirmed. The Teretz is a vessel of 1,000 tons burden and carried a company of 200 men.

FEED THEM

One Way to Make Lawyers

You can dig up the lawyers and put them on their feet if you feed them right, but they are like other people, they don't thrive on poorly selected food.

A lawyer from Seneca Falls, New York, says: "When I went into a law office I was in fine health, having had much out-door exercise, but at the end of the second month's study and work I was disheartened to find myself in poor health and failing every day.

After reading a short time I would become so nervous that I would be compelled to stop, nor could I remember, to any extent, what I read.

The study of law, which at first was a great pleasure, became a burden, and a first-class physician told me that I never would be able to serve a full term in a law office, and advised me to give it up if I wanted to enjoy life. When upon the point of doing so I was talking one day with one of the firm who advised me to make a change in food and recommended very highly your Grape-Nuts, saying I could get a package at any grocery and make the test.

The advice impressed me so strongly that I at once purchased and began using Grape-Nuts. I found that after using this food I was not troubled with the lingering pain in my stomach that had been with me for some time; instead I was perfectly comfortable, and I had not eaten the food for more than four of five days when I began to notice a change. My head became clear again and I began to enjoy my studies as well as I did on the start, and could accomplish more in one week from that time on than I had in a whole month prior to that time.

My blood, which had naturally become bad, promptly improved, my digestion also was better. The blotches on my face began to disappear and I felt better in every way.

I owe much to Grape-Nuts, would rather you did not use my name, but if it would do you any good, use it." Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Look for free receipt book in each package of Grape-Nuts.

RUSSIA'S POLICY IN THE FAR EAST

Opposed to the "Open Door" Trading in China

Special to The Times.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—In an editorial article the Novoe Vremya unreservedly opposes the "open door" policy, which it characterizes as merely the exploitation of weaker nations by a stronger nation, regardless of the consequences. The paper says the "open door" policy caused the "Boxer" movement in China, and it will occasion unpleasantness in Persia. Russia cannot endure mischief making on her frontier, and, unlike Western nations, Russia has never been impelled forward by commercial motives. On the contrary, in the East the Russian flag stands for Christian love and mercy, and Russia is always willing and ready not to disturb national characteristics or local religious customs.

Royal Gambling Hell

Brussels, June 28.—The "International Company of Grand Hotels" announces that the royal castle Ardenne is now open for the accomodation of refined society.

Ardenne is the new Monte Carlo, King Leopold being chief croupier and silent partner.

All sorts of stiff games that formerly flourished in Ostend, "Black and Red," "Little Horses," baccarat and others, are played at Ardenne, while at the same time it has been made unlawful to run "tables" in other parts of Belgium.

Leopold and his "International" now have a practical monopoly of gambling in the kingdom.

His Majesty, being very close with J. P. Morgan, may have got the trust idea from the clever New Yorker.

Pimples, Blotches and Skin Eruptions

How unsightly, sometimes even disgusting, and certainly very mortifying to the sufferer. They are merely an evidence of impure, poisoned blood, and lowered vitality of the eliminating organs, which can be quickly changed by taking Ferrozone after meals. Ferrozone cleanses the blood of all poisons and eruptions, makes it rich in red corpuscles that manifest themselves in a healthy, ruddy complexion. To have a pure, soft skin and good complexion simply use Ferrozone regularly. Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at druggists or Ormond & Walsh.

Try Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake Pills.

IF YOU WANT A CAMERA

Write for catalogue or information to the Canadian Camera Co., Toronto, both of which we will be pleased to

GIVE YOU FREE.

ALL GOODS WARRANTED.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

Coronati

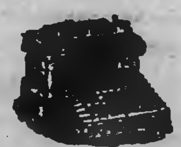
BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,
HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.



TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1888.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N Y

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Running IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will off suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at 40c
Suspenders 15c
Overalls, with bib, at 48c
Smocks, at....................90c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailo
One door south of Montreal Bank.

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the superb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make. SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE

ALL FURNISHINGS AT COST AND UNDER.

H. E. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS. 383 GEORGE STREET

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers, LEITH, Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO. LIMITED
MONTREAL

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE.
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST.
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each, I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

$99\frac{99}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interests is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $55.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited, A Canadian Company with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two-million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c.................. $12 50

50 Shares Bob Ray Mines, Limited, a silver lead mine situated in British Columbia, Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $50.00 to the ton. SHARES 10c.................. 5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends. SHARES 50 cents.................. $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents.................. 12 50

Total value.................. $55 00

275 SHARES..................FOR $50 00 CASH

100 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.
FINANCIAL AGENTS,
211-212 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

The New York Times
Saturday Review of Books.
$1,00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—in fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times
SUNDAY EDITION
$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation.
ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL - - - - $1,000,000
RESERVE FUND - - 270 000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS
JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D., President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, W. H. BEATTY, Vice-Presidents.
JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P.
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government he Corporation is accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice for the investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRTOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures consecutive action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELRY CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR,
Managing Director.

A. D. LANGMUIR
Assistant Manager

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue; Foreign Edition Post Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits.
LACE CURTAINS, [illegible] LADIES & GENTS, REAL SWISS, LACE HOSIERY, GUIPURE D'ART [illegible] HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $5.10

Lot No. [illegible] contains:—1 pair Rich Artistic Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide, 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, choice old lace design, 3½ yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair neat Floral Pattern Bed-Room Curtains, 3 yds. long, 50 in. wide, 1 pair new [illegible] Sash Curtains, 1 table centre, renaissance design, 1 Set of Duchess Toilet Covers, one 45 in. long, and five smaller. Ecru if desired. On receipt of Post Office Order for $6.30, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth.

Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable work, Marvellous Value, and Durability. Prize Medals, Toronto 1892; Chicago, 1893.

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established 1857.

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Advertise in The Times, —Everybody reads The Times,

EMPEROR'S POLICY IS PEACE BUT PEOPLE WANT WAR.

Special to The Times.

London, June 26 — The general situation between Germany and England is exceedingly grave, and as I have had the opportunity of discussing it both with leading Englishmen and with leading Germans, your readers may perhaps be interested in a brief survey. I do not know that the relations between England and Germany are anywhere set forth more accurately and concisely than in Mr. Henry Norman's recent book on Russia. In discussing international relations of Russia, Mr. Norman describes with singular insight and complete accuracy the exact situation as it exists today, so far as regards the relations of England and Germany.

The feeling of the British people towards Germany has been marked by a change for the worse during the last few months. The announcement of peace with the Boers has left England free to deal with other subjects, and it is disquieting to observe that the constant calumnies of the German press have at last roused public opinion in this country to the point of expressing strongly anti-German views. In the National Review for this month an article, entitled "Another 'Graceful Concession,'" by a writer who calls himself "Ignotus," deals in an unfriendly spirit with the recent visit of the German Squadron, under Prince Henry of Prussia, in Irish waters. "Ignotus" says: "For the first time in our history a foreign force, superior to any squadron which we have in commission in home waters, superior, indeed, to any individual squadron of any navy in waters outside the Mediterranean, has been at work upon our coasts, performing evolutions, learning the navigation of our harbors and training for war. This force comes today as a friend, but we know enough of the openly expressed intentions, both of the German nation and the men who direct German policy, to understand that in future it may come as an enemy. And as it is always present in northern waters, it is of the utmost importance that Englishmen should understand what exactly its strength is."

ANTI-TEUTONIC FEELING.

In the same number of the National Review Sir Rowland Blennerhassett, whose knowledge of German politics is second to none, writes a powerful indictment of the work of the Pan-Germanic League. Sir Rowland Blennerhassett gives expression to the anti-Teutonic feeling which has been roused in England by the calumnies of the German press, by the overbearing character of German diplomacy, and by the indecent caricatures of our late Queen and of King Edward VII. These caricatures have been published broadcast without interference by the German police, although lese majeste is officially and socially regarded in Germany as a heinous offence.

It is true that Dr. Leyds and the Boer representatives of Brussels have corrupted the German press with Boer money, just as they have corrupted the press of France, Belgium and Russia. But there are other influences besides the late agent of the the late Boer Republics who are striving their utmost to embitter the relations between Germany and England.

POISONED WITH SUSPICION.

I have reason to believe, in fact I may go as far as to say I know, that in Germany, at all events, there is more than a suspicion that money is being spent by a certain wealthy Anglophobe, whose nationality is neither Russian nor French, to exasperate Germany with England and England with Germany. It is true, that originally Bismarck systematically subsidized and debased the press. The atmosphere of Germany is poisoned with suspicion of England. The pressure on the means of subsidence arising from the vast growth of population, and what may be fairly described as the diseased growth of credit, give promise of trouble in the near future. The great banks of Germany have given credit beyond the limit which would be regarded as the safety point either in England or in the United States. Hence the necessity that arises for extending the profitable areas open to German commerce. Here Germany comes into conflict with England. The ignorant portion of the population are taught by the newspapers to believe that England is the enemy; that as Germany has dealt with Denmark, with Austria and with France, so England is the fourth obstacle now to be removed from the triumphant path of the German Michael.

Britannia delenda est is the cry of the Pan-Germanic League. Germany's over-production and her demand for new and protected markets have caused the Emperor to declare that "our future lies upon the water." The German navy is now a great fact. Of its efficiency, and of the magnificent spirit that inspires its officers and men, I can speak with personal knowledge. When the present programme is complete Germany will possess 38 first class battle-ships, 14 first class cruisers and 38 smaller cruisers.

This is the situation with which the friends of peace in both countries are confronted. It is no use blinking the facts. They are open to all the world. Still, a quarrell between England and Germany would be a crime that could never be wiped out. It is, therefore, the duty of all right thinking men prevent the gradual ripening of the quarrel that has begun.

THE BOER WAR.

The Boer war was brought about by the Boers having lost their respect for the British. The South African peace was brought about by the Boers having regained respect for the British, and the peace will last so long as their respect endures. The majority of the Germans, like the Boers, had lost respect for the British. The South African peace comes like a shock to the German nation. They, too, are now gaining respect from the British. They see the middle classes and the working classes of the United Kingdom are not played out—that the effeteness of the ruling classes is by no means symptomatic of national putrescence or corruption. On the contrary within seven days the Germans have woke up to the fact that their newspapers have lied to them,

The Toreador's Rose.

Whenever I hear the "Toreador's March" from "Carmen" — that gay, devil-may-care melody, with its undertone of tragic sorrow, recalling a picture I once saw of a rose in a skull—I think of Jose Silverio. It was in old Madrid, the romantic city of guitars, dark eyes, love, and bull-fights; where the statue of the Virgin stands in the public square with the late King Alfonso's fatal sapphire burning blue on her carven finger. To the light lilt of merry music Jose Silverio, the handsome toreador, idol of all the young bloods and beloved by half the fair women of Madrid, rode into the ring. A murmur of admiration greeted him—he was splendid in spangles and mounted on a magnificent white horse. After him came his scarlet-cloaked matadors on foot, armed with light lances fluttering with streamers of many-colored ribbons. The bull's hoarse bellow struck into the music like the deep, mellow note of a bass viol. He was already in the ring pawing up the sawdust defiantly, a superb animal of the best breed of Andalusia, with delicate hoofs, curving horns, and a skin like black satin, under which the fierce muscles constantly rippled. The toreador lifted his dark, passionate eyes to a box above, where eyes equally dark, equally passionate, answered his mute, adoring message. The senorita was in black, the usual dress affected in public by Spanish women of high degree. A diamond star sparkled on her full bosom, and a crimson rose caressed like the lips of a lover the black, silken masses of her hair, over which a fold of the lace mantilla was coquettishly thrown.

An hour before he had passed the flower between her window bars, and he thrilled with exquisite joy to see it glowing in her dusky braids. The perfume of the rose, already wilting in the hot amphitheater was wafted to his nostrils with the woody smell of fresh sawdust and musky odors from hundreds of constantly moving fans. Its fragrance led him back in sweet retrospection to a walled garden, dim paths, checkered black and silver in the moonlight, the pressure of a soft breast, braceleted arms, and red lips yielding kiss for kiss, while his blue-ribboned guitar lay silent in the dew at his feet. Then the bull, goaded to splendid ferocity by the torturing banderillos, made his mad charge. The ring became an inferno of hoofs and horns, out of which flashed the keen lightning of the toreador's sword in a cloud of dust. No one could tell afterward exactly how it happened, though every eye was riveted on the arena, but the white horse rolled over in his death agony, disemboweled by one swift stroke from those terrible twin sabres fixed in the bull's powerful forehead. By the fraction of a second Jose failed to slip his feet from the stirrups in time to escape the second charge. His body described a glittering arc in the air, and fell lifeless in the sawdust. The sword, sent spinning from his hand, was caught by a matador, who delivered the coup de grace to the bull by a feat of nimble cunning that elicited a thunder of applause. Even the senorita clapped her little jeweled hands. She leaned over the edge of her box to look down at the limp, inert figure so full of proud courage and virile grace a moment ago.

"Dios! poor fellow," she said. Then, turning to a young man leaning over her chair, "Don Felipe, you may have the rose, though it is wilted now."—Minna Irving, in "Leslie's."

The Fable of Matsukata.

Count Matsukata, former Prime Minister of Japan, who is known in America as "the father of the gold standard," was asked during his recent visit to New York whether "Captains of Industry" in the Mikado's Empire were getting control of the country's trade and resources.

"Not to the same extent as in—more advanced lands," answered Count Matsukata with a smile. "Perhaps we are influenced by the old 'Myth of the Gold Man,' handed down from the ancient days of Sin Mu."

The count was requested to tell the legend, and he said:

"In the dim historic dawn a merchant eager for great wealth heard of a strange grove of wild lemon trees whose fabulous fruit, when eaten, would convert the hand that plucked it into gold.

"So the merchant journeyed to the grove, where the God of Riches, with a great sack on his shoulders, bade him help himself. He did so, and his arm was converted into gleaming gold. This he had amputated, and, though bereft of an arm, became a man of wealth.

"A banker, hearing of the strange case, determined to secure the total produce of the miraculous lemon trees. To that end he bought out the right of the guardian deity; but that shrewd being exacted so great a price that the covetous banker found his fortune depleted. To secure ready money he determined to eat of the fruit and sacrifice an arm.

"Raw lemon, however, was too astringent for his pampered palate, and so he sweetened the juice of several lemons, and, adding thereto wine of rare vintage, drank greedily of the potent and tempting beverage.

"In a few minutes he had turned into a pillar of gold.

"Then his heirs melted him down, coined him into convenient cobangs, and, turning their backs bravely on the grove of golden lemons, proceeded with free hands to spend and enjoy their bountiful inheritance."

"What became of that lemon grove?" enquired a vigilant New Yorker who had listened eagerly to the story.

"There is no record," replied Count Matsukata, smiling, "of its having been destroyed, but happily our fortune-hunters have not been able to locate it.

"Do you think he would be a success in politics?" "Yes, indeed. Why, he has thoroughly mastered the knack of looking interested when he is being bored."—Chicago "Post."

"I left my husband's death notice here this morning," said the widow. "Yes," said the bright clerk in the publishing office of the "Daily Squib." "Now, I want to add 'Gone to Rest' in an appropriate place." "Yes, madam," replied the bright clerk, and the next morning she read: "Gone to rest in an appropriate place."—Philadelphia "Press."

Navigation

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 9 a.m.	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 9 a.m.	28 June 6 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 9 a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $65 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50;—London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... .... June 25th
Mongolian...... ....July 9th.

S.S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leave Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to:
W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to
THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd
River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S.S. Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

EXCURSIONS TO MACKINAC

One of the Company's steamers will leave COLLINGWOOD 1.30, MEAFORD 3.45, OWEN SOUND 11.00 p. m. on TUESDAYS, THURSDAYS and FRIDAYS, for intermediate ports to SAULT STE. MARIE and MACKINAC ISLAND, and on SATURDAYS for intermediate ports to SAULT STE. MARIE ONLY.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

SS BRITANNIC will leave COLLINGWOOD on MONDAYS and THURSDAYS at 10.30 p. m., for Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet, French River and Killarney.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

CITY OF TORONTO will leave Midland at 11.45 a. m. and PENETANG at 2.30 p. m., daily (Sundays excepted) for intermediate ports to PARRY SOUND, arriving there at 6.30 p. m., returning leave at 5.00 a. m. For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents or

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO
STR. "ARGYLE"
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)
EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at	7 00 a m
" Port Hope at	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at	12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.
RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.
STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7.00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday	2.00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville	11.00 a m
" Trenton	1.15 p m
" Brighton	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte	7.30 p m

"Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager,
Picton, Ont

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

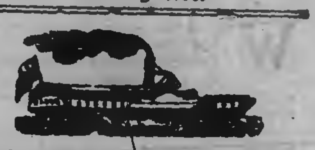
STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—
NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

Trips Daily (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont

Navigation



Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idy Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only. Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES
THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer
Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay
ESTURION
JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv	6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	7.15 a.m.	"	4 10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar	8.40 a.m.	"	5.30 p.m.
"	Lv	11.00 a.m.	"	5 45 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	"	12.10 p m.	"	6 55 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar	1.15 p.m.	"	8 10 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train.

July 1 to September 1st leave Lindsay at 6 30 p. m. instead of 5.45. Meals served on board.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.
MANITA
JUNE 2, TO 28, AND FROM SEPTEMBER —TILL NOTICE.

Bobcaygeon	Leave	7 00 a. m.
Bridgenorth	Arrive	9 30 a. m.
Bridgenorth	Leave	3.00 p. m.
Bobcaygeon	Arrive	5.30 p. m.

Call on signal at all landings. Will run to Buckhorn or Burleigh at any time on special rates.

For further particulars apply to
W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt., G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG, PORT HOPE, ROCHESTER, N. Y.
STEAMERS
"NORTH KING" AND "CASPIAN"
Daily Route Commencing June 29

SOUTH BOUND.
Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... [illegible] p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... [illegible] p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ...... [illegible] p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... ...... [illegible] p.m.
NORTH BOUND.
Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets ...... [illegible] a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester... ....[illegible] a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... ......[illegible] p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... ...[illegible] p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Swain, Agent Port Hope

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"
CAPT. W. McCLEARD, Master.

For week ending June 28th, the Majestic will connect as follows:—

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday will leave Lakefield on arrival of morning train, returning to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

On Tuesday there will be no regular boat

Saturday evening, June 28th, will leave Lakefield on arrival of the evening train for the lakes.

F. P. YOUNG, Proprietor
Lakefield, June 25, 1902.

Armed and Invincible.

WHEN the little woman opened the door the burly fellow promptly pushed his way in. In alarm she hastily backed away, and he closed the door after him.

"What do you mean?" she demanded, trying to appear brave and determined. "Leave this house immediately."

"Oh, I guess not," he answered, impudently.

"I'll call my husband," she threatened.

"He ain't home," retorted the intruder; "there ain't nobody home but you. That's why I come in. See?"

She was badly frightened, but she tried not to show it. Furthermore, she was handicapped by the fact that she was in house-cleaning attire, with apron and cap, and a feather duster in her right hand. A woman cannot be as dignified and haughtily imperious as she would wish under these circumstances.

"What do you want?" she demanded.

"Money an' jew'lry," he answered. "I ain't partic'ler wot it is, only so it's small an' val'able. I ain't lookin' for no piano."

"Well, I should think not," she retorted indignantly, "and you can't have anything at all. If you don't get right out of here I'll scream."

"Turn 'er loose!" retorted the intruder, carelessly. "There ain't nobody to hear you, but you better be quick about it, 'cause I ain't got no time to waste. I'm all business, I am, an' we been foolin' long enough. Reach for the high note!"

"You're the most insulting man I ever saw!" she cried, angrily.

"Sure," he acquiesced—and then, with a slight show of impatience, "Better hand out that watch you're wearin' or I'll have to reach for it, an' that wouldn't be wot you'd like."

"Don't you dare touch me!" she exclaimed, retreating to the parlor as he advanced. "You're a great big coward! You wouldn't dare do this if I had a pistol!"

"Sure I wouldn't," he admitted; "but I got to have that there ticker for a start-off."

Her anger had been getting the better of her fear, and now her housewifely instincts added to her indignation.

"Don't you come into this room with those muddy boots!" she cried. "I've just swept and dusted. You go right back there and wipe your feet on the mat."

She pointed with the duster, and as that useful household utensil came in proximity to his face he hastily dodged back.

"Don't be sassy, little woman," he said with offensive familiarity, and that was the last straw. She was so angry that she could cry, and she would have done so if there had been any sort of a reasonable opportunity.

"Oh, if I only had a weapon!" she said, hotly. "I'd teach you manners, you big, burly brute—you coward! You knew I was defenceless, or you wouldn't have dared come in! Oh, why is a woman so helpless!" Then, as he advanced again, she suddenly pushed the duster into his face, with the peremptory command: "Go back there, you clumsy thing! Don't you dare trail mud into this room!"

Now, a feather duster is about as disagreeable a thing as a man can have thrust in his face, and as the intruder jumped back his feet became entangled in the hall rug, and he was flat on his back before he knew what had happened. As he tried to raise himself he got the duster in the face again. He grabbed for it, but she was too quick for him. He needed his hands to get himself up and he needed them to protect his face, and then she made matters worse by suddenly throwing the loose end of the rug over him.

"Oh, if I only had a weapon!" she cried.

"Wot do you call that thing?" he growled, as he tried to disentangle himself, with the result that every time he took his hands away from his face he got a feather in his eye or a bunch of them in his mouth. Once he closed his teeth on them and then tried to hold the duster until he could grab it, but she jerked it away, leaving a varied assortment of feathers and parts of feathers in his mouth.

"Oh, my eye!" he suddenly cried, as well as he could with his mouth full of things that made him sputter and choke. "Oo! oo! ouch! you've put it out!"

"If I only had a weapon," was her retort. "I believe I could manage you all right. I'll never be unarmed again when I'm alone in the house."

"You ain't now," he wailed, holding both hands to his eye. "Let me up an' I'll go—sure I will."

"Am I sassy?" she demanded, the light of victory shining in her indignant eyes.

"Sure not," he answered.

"Are you ever going to say 'little woman' to a lady again?"

"No, ma'am; never!" with great earnestness—for she was still plying the duster whenever he attempted to move.

"Aren't you ashamed of yourself to impose on a defenceless woman?"

"Shamed ain't no name for it," he asserted with feeling.

She hastily threw open the outer door.

"Get up," she said.

He struggled to his feet, while she watched him closely. His back was to the open door when he stood up, the eye that had met the duster blinking distressingly. For an instant he hesitated, but only for an instant.

"Out!" she cried, and the duster went straight to his face again. He went out backward in such a hurry that he nearly fell down the steps, and the door was promptly closed. His defeat, which up to the very last minute he had hoped to turn into victory, was complete.

"Wot's the matter?" asked the man who was waiting for him at the corner. "Was she armed?"

"Bill," was the solemn and impressive reply, "'cordin' to a man's idea she wasn't, but you can't never tell when a woman's armed."—Elliott Flower in "Leslie's Weekly."

The One Thing Lacking.

Much-rejected Contributor (at a white heat)—I shall write to this editor, and give him a piece of my mind! Wife (sweetly)Perhaps, dear, that's exactly what he's been waiting for!—"Outlook".

Big Buildings.

St. Peter's is the biggest building in the world. St. Paul's could be placed inside the great cathedral at Rome without blocking up the way through. St. Peter's stands on an area of two hundred and forty thousand square feet, with a front four hundred feet broad and a length inside of six hundred feet. The cost of building the cathedral was three and a half millions sterling—exactly the same sum as was spent on the British Houses of Parliament, and five times as much as the cost of St. Paul's. The Vatican, which can hardly be called a single building, has eleven thousand apartments, approached by two hundred staircases; and there is a mystery in Madrid which has twelve thousand windows and doors. But they can hardly be called single buildings, and, bearing this distinction in mind, the biggest building in the world is the Church of the Pope at Rome.

The builders of the Old World were more ambitious than our own. No such theatre has ever been built in the modern world as the Coliseum, with its diameter of six hundred and fifteen feet, its height of one hundred and sixty-four feet, and its seats for a hundred thousand people. No wall has ever been built to equal the great wall of China, which runs thirty feet high and twenty-four feet thick for twelve hundred miles; and the Pyramids remain the wonder of the world in the twentieth century as in the first. Ancient Egypt had twelve palaces each with three thousand rooms; and the walls of Nineveh ran for a hundred miles a hundred feet high and wide enough for three chariots to drive abreast along the top.

"Young Never-Grow-Old."

The war has not as yet developed much pathetic poetry. It is not till the clatter and blare of the march is past that the cry of the mourner reaches the ear. Perhaps among the first-fruits of the harvest of poetic sorrow may be counted a short poem in "Longman's" by Mrs. Fleming. It is simply entitled "Spion Kop." Two stanzas may be cited out of five, all of which will go home to many a mother's desolate heart:

Young Never-Grow-Old, with your heart of gold,
And the dear boy's face upon you;
It's hard to tell, though we know it well,
That the grass is growing upon you.
Flowers and grass, and the graveyard mould,
Over the eyes of you, Never-Grow-Old,
Over the heart of you, over each part of you,
All your dear body, our Never-Grow-Old. . . .

Never-Grow-Old, your curly head
Will never streak with gray;
Young Always-Young, your springing tread
Will never pass away,
The morning glory of your eyes
Will light you now and ever;
You keep your boyhood in the skies,
The other side the River:
River that flows by the City of Gold,
River of Healing, dear Never-Grow-Old.

He Knew His Own.

Carlyle, speaking of America, once said that the North cursed the negro and bade him be free, and the South blessed him and bade him be a slave. His theory gives point to a story told in the Arkansas "Thomas Cat."

One of the old-time Southern negroes went to Boston to make his fortune. After a week of walking up and down, he found himself penniless and no work in sight. Then he went from house to house.

"Ef yo' please, sah," he began, when his ring at the front door was answered, "can't you gib a p'or culled man wuk ter do, er sompin ter eat?"

And the polite answer invariably was, "No, mister; very sorry, but have nothing for you."

All who answered his ring addressed him as "Mr.," but shut their doors and hearts against him. Finally he rang the bell at a brown-stone front. A gentleman appeared, and the old man began, "Boss, I is starvin'. Can't yo' gimme some victuals?"

"You black, kinky-headed rascal!" exclaimed the gentleman. "How dare you ring the bell at my front door? Go round the back-yard way to the kitchen and the cook'll give you something, you black —"

But just there the old man fell on his knees, exclaiming, "Thank de Lawd, I foun' mah own white folks at las'! Thank de Lawd, I foun' 'em—I foun' 'em!"

Didn't Like Officers' Fare.

Anybody with any knowledge of nautical matters at all knows what an habitual growler "Jack" is. Never was he known to be satisfied with any possible condition of affairs, no matter what efforts might have been spent in pleasing him.

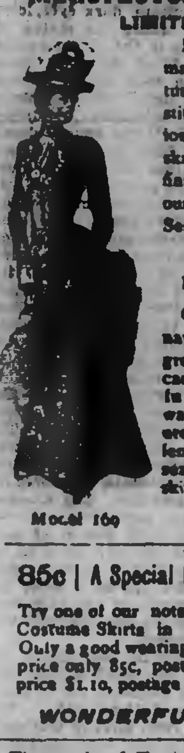
A good example of this is shown in a story told by the skipper of a large American sailing vessel now in port. On his last trip from San Francisco to this port he had with him some passengers; so, to prevent friction, he humored the seamen more than he otherwise would have done. On the second day out the crew all came aft and demanded to see the skipper.

Breaking the Ice.

Some society people, remarks Hal Berte in "Pick-Me-Up," are greatly perturbed over a problem that presents itself when two persons, of opposite sexes, who are strangers to each other, are introduced for the purpose of going in to dinner together. The vital question is which, under the circumstances, should speak first? Without posing as an authority on etiquette, I venture to suggest that the onus of speaking first naturally devolves upon the gentleman, because the lady is bound to ultimately get even by having the last word. Of course, if the gentleman really wants the lady to lead off, the best thing he can do is to accidentally tread on her dress. In which case she will probably say something commencing with the fourth letter of the alphabet. With this cue, profuse apologies can be tendered, and the rest is easy.

$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.
LIMITED.



Model 169

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made of our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S
BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings in 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.
Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director
The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.
Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Educa. ion.
School of Literature and Expression
MAUDE MASSON, Principal.
Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture
CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.
[illegible]

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
For Ladies.
A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES
superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

R·I·P·A·N·S
There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R·I·P·A·N·S Tabules. For sale by Druggists The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

Everybody reads The Times.

SIR THOS. SHAUGHNESSY PREDICTS A BIG HARVEST.

Montreal, June 26. — "No, I cannot say that I was surprised with what I saw because I knew how the country was progressing, but I was extremely gratified and so were my travelling companions, Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P., and Mr. F. G. Matthews."

Thus spoke Sir Thomas Shaughnessy president of the Canadian Pacific, who returned to the city today, after having travelled 7,500 miles in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia, the greater portion of which was made in the daytime in order that Sir Thomas and the two directors of the company might have ample opportunity of witnessing the growth of the country and the acreage under crop. It is a year last October since Sir Thomas was west of Winnipeg, so he was in a position to appreciate the changes in the face of the country.

"The older settlers," continued the president, "have become comparatively rich, they are building handsome dwellings, and the indications of general prosperity on every hand is very gratifying. The new settlers, moreover, are generally the best class of farmers from the agricultural districts of the United States, and a great number of them are Canadians who left the Dominion to settle across the border, and who are returning to the Canadian North-West with their families.

"Yes, the condition of things all over is most promising and there is every indication of another bountiful harvest."

"Has there not been an over-abundant rainfall?"

"There certainly has been plenty of rain, but the crops have not in any way suffered. They are looking splendid, in fact they could not look better.

"And the crop acreage, is in in excess of last year?"

"The wheat acreage is in excess of last year, and there has been a large increase in the acreage of coarse grain, flax, oats and so forth, so that the bushels harvested will be greatly ahead of last year's figures."

"Will you be able to handle it with your increased rolling stock, or will there be a repitition of the car shortage?"

"All I can say," replied Sir Thomas, fervently, "is that I sincerely hope that for many years to come we shall have a shortage of rolling stock in our North West, because there would be no better evidence or indication of the prosperity of the country than this!"

"How is the mining development of British Columbia proceeding?

"The condition of affairs is improving and there are an immense number of small claims being successfully worked. Still, everyone familiar with the situation there, the magnificent climate and its other advantages, must regret that the beautiful productive valleys are not utilized as they are south of the boundary line. The penniless railway promoter and the subsidy seeker is too important factor for legislation there. If one-half the attention was given to the development of agriculture, the business centres of the province would in a few years be supported by the farming districts and be in receipt of such a fixed source of revenue such as has made many of the centres in the older provinces prosperous. Notwithstanding this, however, British Columbia is beyond a doubt making progress."

THE COAL INDUSTRY.

"How is the coal industry in the Crow's Nest developing?"

"As you know it has been unfortunate in the two serious accidents it has had, which has interfered with the output, but it is only a matter of time until this becomes one of the industries of the West, as the demand is far in excess of the supply."

"And the ranchers are they prosperous?"

"The horses and cattle are increasing wonderfully. The ranchmen are prosperous. They are erecting handsome residences with fine outhouses and this was another most gratifying feature of the general prosperity which is everywhere apparent."

"And Winnipeg?"

"Winnipeg's prosperity is wonderful, it is now a metropolitan city, with handsome residences and buildings going up. It reflects the prosperity of the prairie and is going ahead with leaps and bounds."

"Then the Canadian Pacific will probably erect the much talked of hotel there—have you anything to give out on that subject?"

"Not yet," was Sir Thomas' reply, "but it seems pretty well settled that before long the company will embark in important improvements, these including additional yard accommodation, a new depot and probably the hotel."

Speaking of the contemplated general improvements to the road Sir Thomas said the reduction of gradients and curvatures would be proceeded with just as soon as Mr. McHenry, the new engineer-in-chief, had time to elaborate his plans which involve an expenditure of millions of dollars and which it is estimated will increase the hauling capacity of locomotives from 25 to 40 per cent. Work on the new elevators at Fort William, Sir Thomas said, was proceeding rapidly and everything would be ready to handle the great crop everyone is looking for.

RETURNS IN GOOD HEALTH.

The president returns in the best of health and spirits and brimful of energy He expressed unbounded regret at the King's illness and thought His Majesty's good condition would carry him through. Sir Thomas came west by the great Northern from Seattle to Minot, thence by the Soo route. He had never been over the Great Northern and took this opportunity. He came by the lakes from Owen Sound to the "Soo."

SYMPATHY OF THE WORLD

It is already plain that the sympathy of the world is genuinely with the people of Great Britain in their present trouble. Despatches from correspondents in all the chief centers of Europe bear witness to this. Telegrams from various European capitals are arriving in large numbers praying for prompt and full details of the King's condition, while the expressions of heartfelt sympathy and sorrow, spoken by the prominent men from all over the world, who are visitors in London, tell the same story.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, ENG. | Send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 334 pages, and all the original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 336 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 330 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE
An Illustrated Edition of
The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 140 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 337 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair."

Containing 332 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.
Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
OF
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED
They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES
Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, says the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips cheeks or hands as
CAMPANA'S
ITALIAN BALM
It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The
Hutchings Medicine Co
[illegible] YONGE ST., TORONTO

Big G
CURE YOURSELF!
[illegible]

King Edward VII.
Notepaper,
is "quite Eng'ish, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

Lead and
Small Block Tin Pipe
WILLIAM STREET, TORONTO.

NERVOUSNESS

Or despondency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early abuse, later excesses or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not [illegible] a miserable existence on account of your follies, you are not safe until cured—secure never [illegible]—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water comes freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not make it quite so freely, it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have a mucous deposit or brick dust colored sediment; give your condition immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed as a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you

PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chances. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., Cor. Wilcox Street, DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up...... ......$12,000,000

Reserved Fund...... 7,000,000

Undivided Profits...... 876,531

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO

SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend for the three months ending 30th June, 1902, being at the rate of

6 PER CENT.

(6) per annum, has this day been declared upon the capital stock of this institution, and that the same will be payable at the offices of the company, Peterborough, Ontario, on and after

Wednesday, the 2nd day of July next.

The transfer books will be closed from the 17th to the 30th of June both days inclusive.

By order of the board.

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterboro, 6th June, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL

BARRISTERS

Office—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

HENRY S. MARA. ALBERT W. TAYLOR

Mara & Taylor

Members Toronto Stock Exchange

STOCK BROKERS. 8 TORONTO ST

Orders promptly executed on the Toronto, Montreal and New York Exchanges

---

JOHN STARK & CO.

26 TORONTO ST. TORONTO.

Stocks Bought and Sold

ON TORONTO, MONTREAL AND NEW YORK EXCHANGES

Correspondence Invited.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 379 Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office Water Street. Money to lend. R. M. Peck, E. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton, C. E. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, 304 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate charges. Geo. A. Fry, 304 Park Place.

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPO site roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 16 Toronto Street, Toronto.

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & electricians, a new 48 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board of Engineers. Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, Publisher, St. Louis.

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 393 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No. 22 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Childrens' Aid Society

CHILDRENS AID SOCIETY Peterborough—for the care of neglected and ill-treated children. Incorporated by Act of Legislature 1893. Information requested. Informants names kept strictly private. Office hours 10 to 11 a. m., 4 to 5 p. m. George Cochrane, agent and assistant secretary. Office Division Court buildings.

Times Sporting Column

Latest Events in Local and Foreign Sporting Circles

GOLF.

Messrs. Ray, Hamilton and Burnham went down to Port Hope yesterday for a game of golf, winning by three holes from Messrs. Papier, Schwartz and Chisholm. Mr. Hamilton in the afternoon made an exceptionally fine round in 83.

BASEBALL.

In the second home game of the Midland league series Port Hope was defeated by Oshawa by a score of 8 to 6.

The Auburns went down to Jubilee on Thursday, where they played against the Roseneath team winning by a score of 6 to 5 and an innings. The Auburn team was composed as follows—McCurry p and 3b; Belleghem c; Johnston 1b; Davidson 2b; Parnell 3b and p; Foy rf; Cassan cf; Shaw lf.

CRICKET.

The following players are asked to be at the oval this afternoon at 2 p.m.

Team No. 1—A. Boucher, F. Bradburn, Hammond, G. Rogers, J. Lundy, H. Walkey, B. Hall, G. Ferguson, N. Miller, R. Munro, Lowry.

Team No. 2—C. Stapleton, Hal Burnham, Smith, Geo. Lundy, Mason, Gerald Hall, H. Wood, R. Cameron, A. Moore, F. Orr, C. Ackerman.

A scratch match will be in order and it is asked that everyone turn out.

THE NEW RINK.

There will likely be a meeting of the shareholders of the new skating rink company some night next week. The two promoters, Messrs. R. H. Kells and J. S. Knapman, have been very successful in soliciting subscriptions for stock and sufficient money has been secured to guarantee the success of the venture.

The promoters have options on several choice lots and a selection of these will probably be made at a meeting next week.

M. Blackwell, architect, has prepared plans of the new structure and they will be submitted for approval at the meeting next week.

LACROSSE.

The Athletics go to Belleville on July 1st.

The T.A.S. will play Cobourg here on the 1st.

The Town League.

The game between the T.A.S. and the Y.M.C.A. that was to have been played on Wednesday evening last, but which was called off on account of the rain, will probably be played at the latter end of next week.

The standing of the League is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Draw
Y.M.C.A......	4	2	1
T.A.S......	2	0	0
Athletics......	1	0	1

Brants & Tecumsehs.

The Tecumsehs will play Brantford at the Island, Toronto, today.

Woodstock Puts it Over London.

Once again that improved aggregation in London goes down and out. Woodstock again defeats that team by a score of 8 to 2. This was quite a surprise for both Woodstock and London as London had intimated that since their last pummelling they had a number of new-comers and promised to make things warm for Woodstock.

Orangeville Lacrosse Club were defeated at St. Catharines Thursday by 14 to 4.

ROUGH GAME AT DURHAM.

At Durham a roughly contested game in the intermediate C.L.A. was played between the Hanover and Durham teams resulting in a victory for the home aggregation by 8 goals to 2.

FERGUS TRIMMED GEORGETOWN.

In the C.L.A. intermediate championship series, the Thistles, of Fergus, won from Georgetown by a score of 15 to 1. Kennedy, of Mount Forest, refereed the game satisfactorily to all parties.

CHECKERS BEAT UXBRIDGE

Uxbridge and Beaverton played the first scheduled game of the season at Beaverton on Thursday, resulting in a victory for the Checkers, of Beaverton, by a score of 9 to 1. The game was a good exhibition, being entirely free from roughness. The game was refereed by Jas. Gaul, who gave entire satisfaction.

BRADFORD DEFEATED ALLISTON

Bradford, June 26—The senior game in number four district was played here today, the home team winning from Alliston by 17 to 1. Fred. Drunning, of Aurora, acted as referee to the satisfaction of all parties.

GAME WAS POSTPONED.

Oshawa, June 26—The intermediate C.L.A. match between the Young Torontos and Oshawa, which was to have been played here today, was postponed on account of the unfavorable condition of the weather.

ORILLIA BEAT GRAVENHURST.

Gravenhurst, June 26—The match played here today between Gravenhurst and and Orillia in the intermediate series of the C.L.A. was an exceedingly close one, but finally resulted in a win for Orillia. The score was 3 to 2 in Orillia's favor.

CLARKSBURG WON FROM STAYNER.

Clarksburgh, June 26—The fourth game of the intermediate series of district No. 3 of the C.L.A. was played today between Stayner and Clarksburg, the home team winnign by a score of 7 to 4. Mr. Doyle of Newmarket, refereed the game in a very satisfactory manner.

MINTO CUP GAMES.

Montreal, June 27.—The teams for the first Minto Cup match have been pretty well decided upon, and unless something unforseen occurs they will be as follows:

New Westminster—Cheyne, Gray, Galbraith, T. Gifford, Peele, Rennie, Turnbull, W. Gifford, Latham, Cowan, Lynch and Wilkinson.

Shamrocks. — Quinn, J. Howard, Phil Riley, T. Kavanagh, R. Finlayson, H. Smith, J. Currie, D. Robinson, H. Hoobin J. McKeown, J. Drennan and P. Brennan.

London, June 26.—Before the National Sporting Club tonight Gus Rhulin, of Akron, Ohio, defeated Tom Sharkey of New York in eleven rounds.

Denver Ed. Martin, the American fighter, defeated Sandy Ferguson, the Englishman, in five rounds of fighting.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Session Mainly Devoted to Domestic Science and Manual Training

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening. There were present, Mr. W. H. Hill, Chairman; Messrs W. G. Ferguson, Jas. Stevenson, J. Jamieson, W. Langford, Dr. Caldwell, J. J. Hartley, V. Eastwood, W. H. Wrighton, Robt. Fair, J. J. McBain.

The Chairman explained that the change in the time of meeting had been made because Dominion Day fell on next Tuesday, the regular day of meeting.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

Accounts.

The following accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

Wm. Pringle......	$ 5 00
Ormond & Walsh......	14 35
B. C. Yelland......	15
Peterboro Examiner	5 50
R. Fair & Co......	2 70
P. Hamilton, Mfg. Co......	1 60
F. Mason......	10 00
H. H. Leary......	7 00
Davis, Thompson Co......	116 63
Substitute Teachers......	12 50

MONIES RECEIVED.

The receipt of the following monies was reported:—

Town Treasurer......	$ 2,000 00
Fees Collegiate Institute	650 00
Fees Kindergarten	33 00

Communications.

From A. W. McPherson asking for an increase of salary to $800.

From Miss E. M. Morrow applying for a position on the public school teaching staff.

From W. B. Bamford, tendering his resignation as a member of the Board, owing to his removal from town.

From Geo. E. Ross, enclosing inspection of Central School boiler.

From Miss M. F. A. Fife, tendering her resignation as teacher in Collegiate Institute in order to take a post graduate course at Harvard.

From John Corkery, secretary of Separate School Board, informing the Board that J. E. McConnell had been appointed examiner at the entrance examinations.

From the members of the public school staff requesting re-appointment for the next term.

From Miss Hattie M. Lough, resigning her position on the public school staff.

From R. B. Rogers, asking, as requested by Ashburnham School Board, that one-half day (or one-tenth) be alloted for manual training and domestic science in case arrangements are made to introduce these subjects in the school course.

Mr. Langford held that the Board should not go into this expenditure so speedily. An estimate of the cost should be made, and the Council fully informed in the matter. He moved that it be referred to the committee on appointments.

Mr. Hartley did not think the Board had anything to do with the matter. It was not the Board's place to ask the Council what was best to do. It was a question concerning education and the Board should deal with it. The $2,500 included equipment, teachers and everything else.

Mr. Fair agreed with Mr. Hartley. The maximum cost, he said, would be made up of the following figures: Teacher, $10.00; domestic science, $600; rent, $300; janitor, fuel, etc., $250; supplies, $150; equipment $700. The government, he thought would give a grant of $1,500. The figures he presented would refer to the first year only.

Mr. Stevenson opinioned that the Government wouldn't make a grant of so great an amount, if a building were erected. There were many things that should be considered carefully before any definite steps were taken.

Mr. Langford held that the Board were quite as intelligent as the Town Council, but the latter should be considered as being the source of funds. He would prefer to see a new building erected in which to teach the subjects.

Mr. W. H. Hill said that the present might be deemed an opportune time to consider the erecting of a new Collegiate Institute, which was badly needed in the town of Peterborough. The old building could be used for public schools and no new building would be necessary for the new step which the Board is now considering.

Mr. Jamieson, though in favor of the new subjects said that the Board should go slowly. He would advise that apartments be rented until the use of the subjects proved worthy of continuance. So far as the scheme presented itself it did not appear out of the way. Considering that the Government gave a grant of $1,500, and that the other Boards in town paid their share, an outlay of only $146 the first year was presented.

Mr. Stevenson did not see but what eventually there would be a large outlay, and the Council would not undertake it unless the ratepayers were consulted.

Mr. Langford moved that the question of the adoption of domestic science and manual training be taken up mutually between the Board and the Town Council as soon as more definite figures as regards cost of instituting and maintenance be obtained and that the Secretary be instructed to communicate with the Department of Education, requesting to be informed as to the amount the Department will be disposed to give towards the object.

Continued in Monday's issue.

—Everybody reads The Times.

An absolutely exact duplicate of the performances given at Madison Square Garden by these the only shows big enough or good enough to exhibit in the Metropolis, and the only Circuses, Menageries and Hippodromes that ever have or do exhibit in New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and other Eastern cities.

WILL EXHIBIT AT

PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, JULY 8th

AT THE DRIVING PARK

THE GREAT ADAM FOREPAUGH AND SELLS BROTHERS ENORMOUS SHOWS UNITED.

J. A. BAILEY, W. W. COLE, LEWIS SELLS and PETER SELLS, Equal Owners

DIAVOLO LOOPS THE LOOP ON A BICYCLE

Possessing an aggregate wealth of Resources, Experience and Capital far greater than that of all other shows combined, they are positively the only shows to present anything of any kind that is not old, worn out, cheap or commonplace. Having undisputed control of the show markets of the world they have an unyielding

MONOPOLY OF AND THINGS GOOD AND GREAT, NEW AND EXCLUSIVE

Only room enough here to name a few of the leading stars of these All-Star, First-time-Seen Features Shows:

IN THE NOW WORLD-FAMOUS FEATURE

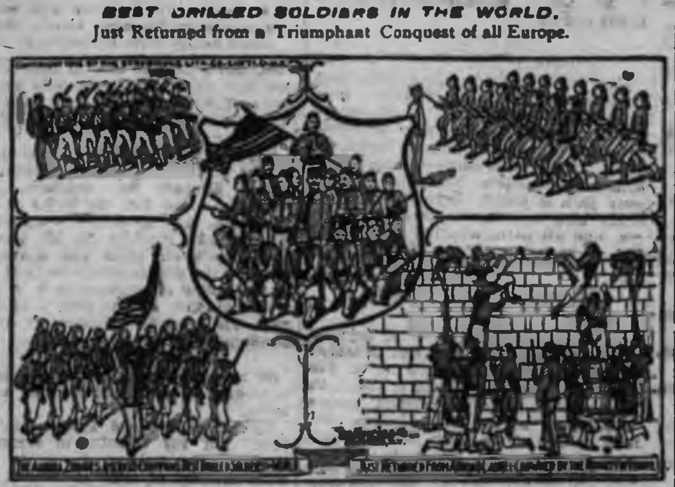
Dare-Devil Diavalo Looping the Loop

Which created an unprecedented sensation at New York City and in all the large American cities, and was generally acknowledged the most daring and thrilling achievement of the Twentieth Century.

AURORA ZOUAVES

BEST DRILLED SOLDIERS IN THE WORLD.

Just Returned from a Triumphant Conquest of all Europe.



23 -CHAMPION BAREBACK RIDERS—23

No other show has the Equal to any One of Them.

TEN PEERLESS POTTERS

Greatest Aerial Act on Earth.

MINTING, The Marvel, World's Only Spiral Riding Unicyclist,

4—HERDS OF ELEPHANTS—4

Trained Animals of Every Description.

RYAN, WEITZELL AND ZORELLA, HEROES OF THE HIGH HORIZONTAL BARS

Quartet of Cake-Walking Horses, Princes of Equine Aristocracy

AN ARMY OF ALL-STAR CLOWNS, FUNNIEST FOOLS ALIVE

3—GREAT TROUPES OF FRENCH ACROBATS—3

8 DE LUCCAS, 4 LA MONTES, 8 ST. LEONS.

STARR, THE SHOOTING STAR. LA DUO DE VENE.

In addition to a Countless Congress of Champion Circus Celebrities in the 3 rings, on the 2 stages and in the vast enclave of the dome. Its Mammoth Double Menagerie a University of Natural History. Its Huge Double Hippodrome a Colossal and Genuine Race Course.

On the forenoon of exhibition day there will pass through the principal streets

AN ALL NEW AND MAGNIFICENT FREE STREET PARADE

Including an Allegorical Representation of the Wars of the Nation

Two Performances Daily, Rain or Shine, in New Process Waterproof Tents

Doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. for the Menageries and Grand Promenade Concert by Merrick's Massive Military Band. Arenic displays 1 hour later. On exhibition day Numbered Coupon actually Reserved Seats may be secured at the regular prices at

MADILL'S OAK HALL DRUG STORE.

Admission only 50c. Children under 9 yrs half-price

OZONE

MAKES PEOPLE WELL.

Nature is so thoughtful, she gives us the beautiful summer that we may be out of doors inhaling pure OZONE.

If people with diseases would only assist nature through the summer by taking Powleys Liquified Ozone freely, every vestage of disease would surely be driven from their system.

50c & $1:00

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST.

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody, Her Royal Highness, Lady Mary of the Dark House, etc.

taken up from the table. "I thought that Aunt Ermyntrude might have told you some particulars," he said; "perhaps—the night she died. You did not seem to wish me to know what passed between you in that last scene. And I thought she might——"

"She said nothing coherent at all," I broke in. "She only murmured a few strange words which I could not understand. Are you—going to tell me anything, Roger?"

"By and by," he said, smiling faintly. His face had brightened as I answered his question. Evidently, if he had anything of importance to tell, he was glad that my mother had not forestalled him. "Before we come to that I have certain things to ask. Sheila, you were eighteen a month ago, weren't you?"

"Yes," I replied. And my mind strayed back to my birthday. How happy I had been then! We had just gone up to London, and the world had seemed like fairyland.

"You are almost a child still, my poor little cousin. Yet Aunt Ermyntrude was married before she was many months older. Did she ever speak to you about the time when you would marry?"

"Oh, yes, she spoke of it vaguely sometimes. I suppose all mothers do." I had reasons of my own for wishing to hurry away from this subject; but Roger kept me to it.

"And the man you would one day marry? Had she anything to say of him?"

I felt myself grow scarlet. "I don't see that you have any right to ask me such things," I said. "They were between mother and me."

"I think I am answered, Sheila!" he exclaimed. "Well—you know what her wishes were, and you won't be surprised to hear that mine are the same. I have always loved you, and wanted you, dear, since I saw you growing from a bewitching child into a beautiful young woman."

Roger had been sitting in a chair opposite the sofa, where I had taken a seat; but he rose, and, coming to me, went down on one knee, not in a theatrical, lover-like way, but as a big brother might do with a little sister. And very gently he laid his hand over my two, that were clasped tightly together in my lap. Altogether his manner was considerate and reassuring. But, then, Roger's manner invariably was perfect in every emergency.

"You are so young, such a child still," he went on, before I could speak, and resisting my efforts to draw my hands from under his, "that you need someone to take care of you. I want to be that one, dear. And she who is gone desired it, as you know. If it were not for that I would not have spoken yet. But she would not have wished me to delay. Little girl, what have you to say to me? You have lost the one you loved best on earth; but here is one who loves you even more than she did. Will you take me for a lover instead of a cousin?"

"O Roger, I can't—I can't!" I exclaimed. "How I wish you hadn't said it! You are very kind, but we must go on being cousins, and—nothing more."

His handsome face hardened a little. "Why?" he persisted. "You don't dislike me?"

"No-o," I responded, dubiously. "But I don't love you."

"I don't expect love at first—not the sort of love I feel for you," he said. "Why, you are almost too young to know what love means. Trust yourself to me, dear, and trust me to teach you its meaning."

I shook my head, and I was beginning to grow impatient. "You couldn't," I said. "I know enough about love, by instinct, to be sure that you could never teach it to me. You might try for a hundred years, and it would be just the same at the end as it is now."

"That's a hard answer," he ejaculated, flushing. "It's your youth that speaks. Perhaps, after all, I ought to have waited. But dear Aunt Ermyntrude——"

"It's no use waiting," I interrupted him, with almost fierce decision. "Since you began this, Roger, we must finish it now, and not speak of it again ever—ever, if we are to remain friends. You've always been very good and very nice to me, and I've tried to be fond of you—not in the way you mean, but just as a cousin, because I knew that it was mother's wish. Yet I couldn't make myself do it. I've never been comfortable with you, Roger, or happy in your society. It's better to tell you all the truth now, so that you will quite understand that it couldn't be different."

He was still on one knee by my side, though he had released my hands now, and he was looking straight into my eyes with a very strange look.

"I'm thirty-six, Sheila, and you're eighteen," he said, slowly. "I've seen girls change who thought they never would."

"You will not see this one change!" I cried, almost crossly, for I thought that he ought in manliness to take me at my word without attempting further argument. "O Roger, I do think it cruel of you to have brought up this to-day! You said there was business which could not wait, and yet this is all——"

"This is not all," Roger repeated, taking the words out of my mouth. "It is only the beginning. You don't understand yet, but you will by and by, and you will think very differently of me then. Instead of anger there will be, I am sure, a more kindly emotion in your heart. You will see that I pleaded with you, as for the greatest boon that a woman can grant a man, while I might have begun in another way more gratifying perhaps to my own pride, and more likely to prove successful. But I preferred to sue as a subject to his queen, rather than play King Cophetua."

"King Cophetua?" I opened my eyes and gazed at him haughtily. "I do not see the appropriateness of the simile."

"I told you that you did not understand now. But I won't keep you in suspense."

To be Continued

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

- SWEATY FEET
- SORE FEET
- ACHING FEET
- BLISTERED FEET
- HOT FEET
- INFLAMED FEET
- SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

Shun any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper article.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

-AND-

MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 27 190

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—The weather man will make it hot for us yet.

—The June coolness has put dampened the bride crop.

—This is a backward season for the isithotenoughforyou fiend.

—A good, smart messenger boy wanted at the Times Bookstore.

—If the weather is satisfactory there should be a good market today.

—A non-payment of wages case was disposed of in the police court yesterday.

—The Public and High Schools have closed for the summer holidays.

—The local Conservatives propose to wind the election campaign with a little heart-to-heart talk.

—The chief requests The Times to state that he has a child's jacket for which he would like an owner.

—The City of Peterborough will run another of her popular Saturday afternoon excursions today.

—Yesterday Mr. W. A. Cressman had a big run on ladies' shirt waists, disposing of almost 1000 in the morning.

—The 57th Regiment will drill on Wednesday night of next week instead of Tuesday, the latter day being Dominion Day.

—County Constable Cochrane has been requested by the Ministerial Association to put a stop to gambling on the lakes in the county.

Court Stanley, No. 7000, I.O.F. will attend Divine service in a body to-morrow evening at the George street Methodist church.

—The band gave another of its delightful open air concerts last evening in Victoria Park. Though the night was chilly, there was a large attendance.

—The housekeeper who ordered down her gloves with the remark that she "knew what she was doing" is not in a mood to be trifled with these days and nights.

—Fishermen should bear in mind that bass under ten inches long and maskinonge under 18 inches long must be returned to the water. It is not lawful to sell either bass or maskinonge before June 16th, 1903.

—Thursday's Lindsay Post says:—Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, cheese buyer, yesterday shipped the make of eight factories, purchased by him at Monday's meeting of the Lindsay board. The lot comprises 700 boxes.

DOMESTICS WANTED.

We can secure situations in respectable families for the following domestic help. Six general servants, two chambermaids, two good cooks and one nurse girl. Wages from $8 to $20 per month. Apply at The Times Bookstore.

—This week's Orillia Packet says:—"If the Peterborough band should come again to Orillia to give a concert, the public would know better what to expect, and under favorable conditions would no doubt crowd the opera house."

—An allegorical representation of the wars of our nations is one of the new features of the new street parade given by Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous Shows United and will be seen here on the forenoon of their exhibition day, Tuesday, July 8th.

—The Public Library at Lindsay has been closed on account of the epidemic of scarlet fever in that town.

—The hay crop this year will be a heavy one. There is a growth of all kinds of grain and from all appearances there will be no lack of fodder for the coming winter.

Lindsay Watchman-Warder—On Thursday, Laura McConnell, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. T. McConnel, of the Royal Hotel was taken ill with scarlet fever. Early yesterday morning she died. Laura was a bright little girl and made many friends by her clever work at recitals and entertainments. The family have the deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

—The strawberry crop this season is a large one. The berries are large and of good quality. Great quantities are being shipped from Burlington. For other fruits the following forecast of the season is given. Black caps, currants, apples and grapes will be a better crop than last season; peaches pears and cherries will be about the same, while plums will be somewhat lighter.

—Now that the Government has promised a supply of new paper money, the Montreal retail grocers' association has made complaint against the four-dollar bills on the ground that they are too like the one-dollar bills to be easily distinguished. They want them withdrawn and replaced by others of different design. It might do no harm to withdraw the denomination altogether.

—The July Canadian Magazine is a bright, readable number. It contains a number of stories and bright descriptive articles. Francis Nelson, the Sporting Editor of the Toronto Globe, writes of Horse-Racing in Canada, and his article is illustrated with some notable photographs. Frank Yeigh gives "Some Reminders of W. Lyon Mckenziem" with some valuable illustrations. Norman Patterson has an interesting article, entitled "The War and Canada." Fred M. Ives describes the maskinonge and bass fishing of Central Ontario. Dr. George Stewart tells of the only occasion on which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was defeated when seeking parliamentary honors. The "Boundary Rider of Australia" is the subject of a well-written descriptive sketch. Current events at home and abroad are succintly described by staff writers.

Honored Their Teacher

Miss Sarah Hamilton, of Ashburnham, who for over ten years has filled the position of teacher at S.S. No. 3, North Monoghan, was, on Thursday afternoon, presented with a handsome gold watch by her pupils, accompanied by a flattering address.

Valuable Advice to Rheumatics

Eat meat sparingly, and take very little sugar. Avoid intoxicants, keep away from dampness, drink water abundantly, and always rely on Nerviline as a quick reliever of rheumatic pains. Being five times stronger than ordinary remedies, Nerviline's power over pain is simply beyond belief. It cures also sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia, and all pain, whether internal or external. Large bottles, 25c.

Y. M. C. A. BOY'S CAMP.

The fifth annual camp of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. will be held at Clear Lake from August 6 to 19. The date has been so arranged that the three officers of the Association, Messrs. Williamson, Ayres, and Frowde, will have charge of the camp, assisted by a staff of senior men. The camp this year promises to surpass all previous ones and the parents of boys who are members of the Y.M.C.A. should see that their boys do not miss the annual outing.

WEDDING OF DR. LIONEL KING

He was Married on Wednesday to a Michigan Young Lady

A very interesting social event took place at Cass City, Michigan, on Wednesday last when Dr. Lionel King, of Caro, Michigan, formerly of Peterborough, led to the altar Miss Ora M. Wickware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Wickware of that city.

Rev. Albert Torbit, of Cass City Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents at half past one o'clock, in the presence of about one hundred and fifty guests, some of which were from different parts of Canada, and the Southern States. The decorations of the house were of surpassing elegance, nothing being left undone to enhance the beauty of the scene.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white peau de soie over white silk and was assisted by Miss Winnifred McLinton of Jansen, Florida as bridesmaid, and Miss Gertrude Schoole of Saginaw, and Miss Florence Clark of Cass City, as maids of honor.

Misses Madeline Sully, Marie Brooks, Helen Jones, of Cass City, and Miss Iteta Hooper, of Caro, performed the pleasing duties of flower girls, strewing the path with blossoms while little Kathleen Torbitt acted as ring-bearer, carrying the ring in a basket of roses.

The groom was supported by three of his Canadian friends—Mr. George Flavelle, of Toronto, Dr. Robert Conroy, of Battle Creek Michigan, formerly of Peterborough and Mr. Fred. Bunting, of Toronto.

The presents which were received by the young couple were both numerous and costly and were presented by their numerous Canadian and American friends.

After the sumptuous wedding breakfast Dr. and Mrs. King departed for a trip to New York and the Eastern states.

The best wishes for many years of happiness and usefulness are extended by a host of Peterborough friends.

DIED

RAWLING—At Peterborough, on Thursday, June 26th, 1902, Jane Clayton, wife of Mr. George Rawling, aged 66 years.

Funeral from the family residence No. 161 Water street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THE POPE DISTRESSED.

Rome, June 26.—The Pope was much distressed when he heard of King Edward's illness and immediately telegraphed to Mgr. Merry Del Val, the Papal Envoy, to convey his expression of sorrow to his Majesty and keep the Pontiff daily informed as to his condition.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—The Dragoons will return from camp at Kingston this evening.

—St. John's choir boys will go to camp on Pigeon Lake in August.

Miss Bertha Jones is spending her holidays with friends in Lindsay.

—Dr. Robert Conroy, Battle Creek, Michigan, is spending a few days in town.

—Miss Sawers, of Peterborough, is the guest of her cousin Miss Daubuz, Lakefield.

—Mrs. James Sisson, of Mount Pleasant, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Batten, McDonel street.

—Miss Maud Perry and Miss Ruby Burnham left yesterday on a three months' trip to England and the continent.

—Mrs. and Miss Gaskins, Auburn, have gone to Toronto to attend the wedding of their friend, Miss M. Ransby, to Mr. Walter Squires, formerly of Peterborough.

—Next Tuesday will be Dominion Day, and consequently a public holiday. There will be no issue of The Times on Wednesday in consequence.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Walton, left Tuesday for St. Thomas, North Dakota, after spending three weeks with Mrs. Davidson, Edinburg street, and other friends.

Kawartha Lakes Boats Service

On Wednesday, July 2nd, the steamer Ogemah will run on her regular summer route between Bobcaygeon, Chemong and Burleigh's Falls, leaving Bobcaygeon for above points at 7 a.m. Times of arrival and departure from Chemong and other points are noted in advertisement.

The steamer Manita will commence her regular summer route from Lindsay to Sturgeon Point, Fenelon Falls and Coboconk on Monday, June 30th. See advertisement.

The steamer Esturion will leave Lindsay on her regular summer time schedule for Sturgeon Point and Bobcaygeon and from July 1st to September 1st, will await the arrival of the evening train from Port Hope and Peterborough which reaches Lindsay at 8.30 p.m. each evenings.

COUNCIL IN SPECIAL SESSION

An Agreement Entered Into with Samuel Kennedy for Crushing Stone — Hunter Street Bridge Needs Replanking

The Town Council met in special session last night when there were present Mayor T. H. G. Denne and Aldermen Rush, McGregor, Shortly, Batten, Clinkscale, Morrison and Best.

Ald. Best fathered the by-law to authorize the execution of an agreement with Samuel Kennedy for crushing and screening stone for the Town of Peterborough. Ald. McGregor seconded the by-law, which provides that Mr. Kennedy shall crush all stone and deliver the same on the streets where required within the radius of three-quarters of a mile of the crusher, at the rate of $1.05 per cord. The by-law passed its several readings.

Finance Report.

On motion of Ald. Best it was decided to procure a table light for the clerk's office.

Ald. Morrison moved seconded by Ald Best, that the question of replanking Hunter street bridge across the Otonabee, the cost of same to be paid jointly by the Town and the Village of Ashburnham, be left in the hands of the Town Engineer and Ald. Morrison. Carried.

The offer of A. H. Stretton & Co. to furnish the Town with a number of copies of "Illustrated Peterborough" at $35 per hundred was referred to the manufacturers' Committee with power to act. This booklet is a handsome work, illustrating the leading industries and points of interest in the town.

Domestic Science.

Mr. J. J. Hartley reported that the special committee appointed had taken into consideration the advisability of procuring suitable quarters in which to teach Domestic Science and Manual Training, and submitted that the old post office block would afford suitable accommodation at a cost of $150 for fitting up to meet all requirements.

Council then adjourned till Monday evening.

SATURDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIALS AT GOUGH'S

Here's important news for Saturday and Saturday night shoppers at Gough res:

All our $12.50 Men's Fine Suits strictly 1902 fashionable styles and patterns specially reduced, Saturday and Saturday night only, at.... ....$8.90 See our display in large plate glass window.

25 doz. Fancy Bicycle Hose, regular price 75c and $1.00 special.......................39c

doz. black and Drab Fine Fur Panama Fedoras, regular price $2.25, special........$1.50

100 pairs Men's Dongola bals, regular price $1.75, special $1.25

60 pai Men's Dongola bals regular $1.75. Special $1.25

TULLY & MERRELL, Manager

—A parlour organ, five octaves and eleven stops, which cost when new $150, will be sold for $40. Apply at The Times Bookstore.

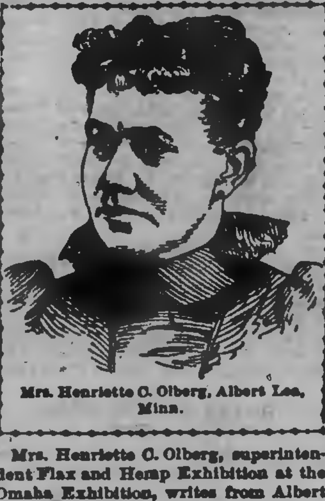
PUT BOY IN HOT OVEN.

Marlboro, Mass., June 26 — Daniel Cullen thrust his 1-year-old-son into the oven of a hot stove today and closed the door before going into the yard to get more fuel. An elder lad, hearing screams, ran into the kitchen and rescued the smaller child who was terribly burned.

The father then went to the Church of the Immaculate Conception and told the priest what he had done. He said that the devil had told him to do it. The man was taken into custody and will be given medical examination. The child will recover.

SUMMER COLDS

Produce Chronic Catarrh.



Mrs. Henriette C. Olberg, Albert Lea, Minn.

Mrs. Henriette C. Olberg, superintendent Flax and Hemp Exhibition at the Omaha Exhibition, writes from Albert Lea, Minn., as follows:

"This spring I contracted an aggravating cold, having been exposed to the damp weather. Catarrh of my throat and head followed, which persisted in remaining, notwithstanding I applied the usual remedies.

"Reading of the merits of Peruna in the papers, I decided to try it and soon found that all that has been said of your medicine in such cases is true.

"I am very pleased with the satisfactory results obtained from using Peruna, am entirely well, and consider it a most valuable family medicine."

HENRIETTE C. OLBERG.

Summer colds require prompt treatment. They are always grave, and sometimes dangerous. The promptness and surety with which Peruna acts in these cases has saved many lives. A large dose of Peruna should be taken at the first appearance of a cold in summer, followed by small and oft-repeated doses. There is no other remedy that medical science can furnish, so reliable and quick in its action as Peruna.

Address The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio, for a free book entitled "Summer Catarrh," which treats of the catarrhal diseases peculiar to summer.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

DOMINION DAY

JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between all stations in Canada; all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

GOOD GOING JUNE 30th AND JULY 1st, valid for return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

GOOD GOING JUNE 28th to JULY 1st, inclusive valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Independence Day, July 4

Return tickets will be issued from stations in Canada, Belleville and west, except north of Orillia and west of Chatham, at

SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

to Buffalo N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Suspension Bridge N. Y., and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Tickets and all information from

W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

A GOOD GUIDE | TO A | GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

CANADIAN PACIFIC

FOR

Independance Day July 4

Will Issue Return Tickets

PETERBOROUGH

—TO—

BUFFALO

AT SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FAR

Good going July 3rd and 4th valid for return until July 5th, 1902.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

Too Busy to Write Ads., Because:

The bargains we are giving in Houses and Lots, Garden Lots and Farms, of all sizes and prices, and the easy terms our long experience enables us to arrange for our buyers, keeps our entire staff hustling from early morning until late at night and still our work is only well begun, as new properties are being listed daily. All are invited to our New Ground Floor Office, so convenient to call when you go to the Post Office, or call up phone 376 for any information desired regarding REAL ESTATE.

T. HURLEY & CO.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

DIAMOND STEEL BEARING

GET OUR PRICES

O. WILSON & SON
31 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25, $1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75, for..$1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00 for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c.

STRAW HATS! STRAW HATS!

Plain Straw Hat.............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,....50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats ....75c, $1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS !!!

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

Help Wanted.

SERVANT GIRL WANTED—A girl that knows how to cook. Good wages. Mrs. J. McBain, 306 King street.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $20 to $30 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Moses & Co., Room 711 44 and 46 Broadway, New York.

APPRENTICE WANTED to learn the printing business. Apply at this office.

GIRL WANTED at once to learn book binding. Apply at the Times Bookstore, George Street.

DINING ROOM GIRL and good cook wanted. Apply to D. FOLEY, care H. Calcutt, Ashburnham. Wages from $10 to $15 per month.

Hotels

SNOWDEN HOUSE, Peterborough — First class in every particular; $1.50 per day. Commercial rooms.

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS

SEALS, PRICE MARKERS

10 King Street West, TORONTO

DECORATIONS

Now is the time to place your orders for flags and decorations. We keep all kinds and sizes of Flags in stock for sale or to rent. Also Floor Linens to rent or laid to order.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Tent, Awning, Flag and Waterproof Goods Manufacturers

281 1-2 George street, Peterborough. Telephone 180, 186 and 215, day or night.

BIRDS—Patents

The contents of COTTAM Seed are protected by six patents. The Bird Bread in each packet was patented because its effect on health and song is marvellous. Imitators dare not use our formula

[illegible]

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333.
Peterborough, Ont

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 152 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO MONDAY JUNE 30 1902 PRICE TWO CENTS

KING EDWARD MAKING SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

Feels Stronger in Spite of Some Discomfort from Wound--Is Out of Danger

Special to The Times.

London, June 28—10.52 a.m.—At 10.45 this morning the following official bulletin was issued from Buckingham Palace on the condition of King Edward:

"The King has had a good night, and his improved condition is maintained. We are happy to be able to state that we consider His Majesty to be now out of immediate danger, and the general condition is satisfactory. The operation wound, however, still needs constant attention, and such concern as attaches to His Majesty's condition is connected with the wound. Under the most favorable conditions His Majesty's recovery must of necessity be protracted. The 2 p.m. bulletin will be discontinued."

(Signed) TREVES, LAKING, BARLOW

London, June 28—The Times says that Earl Warwick, is proposing a vote of sympathy with King Edward at a meeting of the Warwick Town Council yesterday, declared that the King's first words on regaining consciousness after the operation were:—"Will my people ever forgive me?"

London, June 29—The following bulletin regarding the condition of King Edward was issued at 9 o'clock this morning:—

"The King feels stronger in spite of some discomfort from his wound. Nothing has occurred to disturb the satisfactory progress the King is making.

(Signed)
LISTER, TREVES
BARLOW
SMITH
LAKING."

BRITAIN'S NEW ELDORADO IN SOUTH AFRICA

Wonderful Wealth and Remarkable Resources

GREAT FUTURE TO ASSURED

Africa Occupies Fourth Place in Relation to International Commerce

London, June 30.—The declaration of peace in South Africa, which is to be followed by the reopening of the greatest gold-producing mines in the world, and presumably by a general revival of business in that greatest consuming section of Africa, lends especial interest to a monograph, entitled "Commercial Africa in 1902," just issued by the treasury bureau of statistics of the United States.

The commerce of Africa, according to this publication of the bureau of statistics, amounts to over $700,000,000, of which $425,000,000 represented the value of the imports. Necessarily in so large an area, with so many tribes and peoples who keep no records of their transactions a considerable amount of commerce must pass without being recorded in any way. The total imports at the ports where records are kept amounted in the latest available year to $263,907,000. Of the exports, a large share, especially those from the south, is gold and diamonds; in the tropical region, ivory, rubber, palm nuts and gums, and in South a fair share of the produce of agriculture, cotton, coffee, spices, dates, etc. The export figures of recent years owing to the hostilities in South Africa, which have both reduced production and increased local consumption.

ABOUT THREE FOURTHS.

of the imports of Africa are through the ports of the extreme north and south of the continent, those at the north being for the consumption of the more densely populated regions bordering on the Mediterranean, and considerable quantities going to the interior by caravans—a large part across the Sahara to the densely populated regions of the Soudan. At the south a large share of the imports is, under normal conditions, for use at the gold and diamond mines of the Cape, and are reached by railway lines from Cape Colony and Natal at the south, and from the ports of Portuguese East Africa on the southeast. The class of imports in the south differs materially from that at the north, the demand of the mining region being for machinery, mining tools, dynamite, powder, flour, meats and clothing; while at the north cotton goods, tobacco, spirits, clocks and trinkets form a larger share of the imports, as is also the case on the coast of the tropical regions.

A very large proportion of the trade of Africa is with England. There are numerous reasons for this, the most important, however, being that her colonies—Cape Colony and Natal—on the south, are the avenues through which pass most of the goods for that section.

RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT.

in Africa has been rapid in the last few years and seems but the beginning of a great system, which must contribute to rapid development, civilization, and enlightment of the Dark Continent. Already railroads run northwardly from Cape Colony about 1500 miles, and southwardly from Cairo about 1200 miles thus completing 2700 miles of the proposed Cape to Cairo railroad, while the intermediate distance is about 3000 miles. At the north numerous lines skirt the Mediterranean coast, especially in the French territory of Algeria and in Tunis, aggregating about 2000 miles; while the Egyptian railroads are, including those under construction, about 1500 miles in length. Those of Cape Colony are over 3000 miles in length, and those of Portuguese East Africa and the Transvaal are another thousand miles in length. Including all the railroads now constructed or under actual construction, the total length of African railroads is nearly 12,500 miles, or half the distance around the earth. A large proportion of the railroads thus far constructed are owned by the several colonies of states which they traverse, about 300 miles of the Cape Colony system, and nearly all that of Egypt, belonging to the State.

That the gold and diamond mines of South Africa have been and still are wonderfully profitable is beyond question. The Kimberley diamond mines, about 600 miles from Cape Town, now supply 98 per cent. of the diamonds of commerce, although their existence was unknown prior to 1867, and the mines have thus been in operation but about 35 years. It is estimated that of rough diamonds, worth double that sum after cutting, have been produced from the Kimberley mines since their opening in 1868-69, and this enormous production would have been greatly increased but for the fact that the owners of the various mines since their opening in 1868-69 limit the output, so as not to materially exceed the world's annual consumption.

$350,000,000 WORTH

Equally wonderful and promising are the great "Witwatersrand" gold fields of South Africa, better known as the Johannesburg mines. Gold was discovered there in 1883, and in 1884 the value of the gold product was about $50,000. It increased with startling rapidity, the product of 1888 being about $5,000,000; that of 1890, $10,000,000; 1892, over $20,000,000; 1895, over $40,000,000, and in 1897 and 1898, about $55,000,000. Work in these mines has been practically suspended during the war in progress in that section within the past two years. The gold production of the "Rand" since 1884 has been over $300,000,000, and careful surveys of the field by experts show beyond question that the "gold in sight" probably amounts to $3,500,000,000, while the large number of mines in adjacent territory particularly those of Rhodesia, whose output was valued at over $4,500,000 last year, give promise of additional supplies, so that it seems probable that South Africa will for many years continue to be, as it is now, the largest gold producing section of the world.

A PROMISING ENTERTAINMENT

To be Given by the Choir Boys of St. John's Church

An entertainment which promises to be very interesting and varied will be given by the choir boys of St. John's church in the school room on Wednesday July 2nd, at eight o'clock p.m.

The different numbers on the programme are carefully selected and we are confident the result will be a full house.

The chorus is composed as follows — Charlie Dean, Arthur Sawers, Jack Dennistoun, Alan Campbell, Max Dobbin, Jack Seymour, Earl Weller, Archie Soilott, Arthur Seward, Hague Sawers, Fred Seymours, Evans Bradburn, Gordon Cummings, Jim Dennistoun, Charlie Kingscote, Frank Sawers, Charlie Ray, Reggie Deacon, Vernon Morgan, Alf. Hodgson, Accompanist—Mr. W. Staples.

Regimental Inspection

Company inspection will take place at 7.30 on the evening of July 8, and Battalion Inspection on the following evening at 8.30. The Regiment on the evening of the 10th, will march to Armour's Hill and attack, afterwards marching back to Central Park when the inspection will be concluded.

For the Orange Parade

Gough Bros, have made special preparations for supplying Orangemen with correct parade dress for the 12th of July. The Wonderful Cheap Men are right in line as usual, with everything requisite to be worn in honor of the Anniversary Day. Black Suits, Silk Hats, White Vests, White Braces, Black Worsted Trousers, White Canvas Shoes, Orange and Blue Ties, Orange Handkerchiefs, White Shirts, Light Felt and Straw Hats. We throw open our big double store and offer a fifteen per cent. reduction in honour of the event. Orangemen know that they can save money by buying their outfits direct from Goughs' store. As the Orangemen of the town and county of Peterborough always aim to give a good account of themselves, we promise them the best of service. "Always good at Gough's." Premium tickets given with every purchase of 25c. and upward. Tully & Merrell, Managers.

Lost Hearing Quickly Restored

No matter whether of long standing or not deafness can be permanently cured by Catarrhozone, which never fails even in the worst cases. The pleasant scented vapor of Catarrhozone allays inflammation, prevents and cures the catarrhal condition that causes deafness and relieves right away. Thousands have proved the efficiency of Catarrhozone, and with such a valuable remedy within easy reach there is no longer any reason for people to remain deaf. Catarrhozone is recommended also for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh and Bronchitis. Complete outfit, $1.00; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S., or Kingston, Ont.

Hamilton's Pills Cure Constipation.

RESULT OF PUBLIC SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

List of Successful Scholars At Recent Examinations

NAMES IN ORDER OF MERIT

Collegiate Institute Examinations—Scholars Who Passed in First Two Forms

COLLEGIATE PROMOIONTS.

For. I to form II.

Stinson, Laura, Carlisle Ruth, Hyde Agnes, Nesbitt Alice, (3 equal) Fife Stanley, Johnston Grace, Hall Marlie, Scott Alice, Daly Gussie, Adamson Ruby, Martin Muriel, Moncrief May (6 equal) Jamieson Amy, Thornton Gordon Perdue Fergus, Edminson Norman (3 equal) Kells, McCrae Eva, Weir Susie, (3 equal,) Chowen Hazel, Corkery John, Quinlan Alvin, Turner Ford, Sanderson Hazel, (5 equal,) Hall Jean, Rogers Edna (2 equal), Richardson Fred, Waddell Jessie, Hall Harold, (3 equal) Distin Ella, Dundas Annie, Detcher Ella, Bourne Willie, (4 equal) Mann Martha, McQuay, Robt., Kearns Matthew (3 equal,) Henderson Bessie, Bradd Alta, (3 equal) Carson Thomas, English Olive, Fitzgerald W., (3 equal.)

Form Lower I to Upper I

Main Pearl, Quinlan Louisem (2 equal) Cameron, John, Greer Garnet, (2 equal) Elcome Bessie, Scott Lulu, Alford Stanley, Nochol Katie, Crane Percy, Perks, A., Robinson M, Montgomery M., (3 equal) Burritt F., Armstrong Geo., Berry Jas., (3 equal) Walsh Jos., Anglesey Jas., Elliott Wesley, Eyres Edgar (3 equal), Reid Myrtle, Reid Florence.

GEORGE STREET SCHOOL.

Junior Third to Senior Third.

Honors—Edward Roberts, Mary Gibson, Stanley Wade.

Pass—Ella Outram, Walter Metheral, David White and Edwin Harrison (equal), Madeline Fleetwood, Rozie Kidd, Jack Eastwood, Irene Boothe, Hattie Whitby, Spray Erskine, Marjorie Mann, Louisa Morris, Tressie Tougas and Minnie McIntosh (equal) Violet Stephens, Marry Wallace, Thomas Walsh.

Senior Second to Junior Third.

Honors—Clifton Kidd, Gilbert Lush.

Passed—Ada Graham, Leo Dorradaile, Sadie Hillier, Robert Durton, Eva Curry, Audrey Bennett, Ross Little.

Junior Second to Senior Second.

Honors—Elmer Fox, Gladys Seward, Florence Chambers.

Passed—Chalmer Nicholls, Stella Doughty, Amy Hill, Gordon Hunter, Newton Thompson, Clarence Miller, Maggie Eastwood, Rose Rogers, Wilfrid Tully, Alice Morris, Maud Titterson.

Senior Part Second to Junior Second.

Honors—Frances Stone, Margaret Sackville, Cecil Clementi.

Passed—Olive Yelland, Harry Quibell, John Whitby, Angus McIntosh, Charley Taber, Morley Gurney, Marion McCabe, Fred Seymour.

Jr. Part Second to Sr. Part Second.

Honors—Eva Outram, Harold Matthews, Bessie Ray, Ernest Langford, Robert Langford.

Passed—Vernon Miller, Ola Mulligan, Flossie Williams, Annie McKinley, Eva Bulled, Lillian Trotter, Wanda Weir, Charley Prophet, Willie White, Laura Grant, Gladys Mulligan, Sylvester Williams, Russel Long, Gordon Fallon, Harry Harrison.

Sr. Part One to Jr. Part Two.

Honors—Grace Gumpricht, Harold Hill, Walter Stevenson, Eddie Reid, Victor Chambers and Stella Wallace (equal), Adam Graham, Mabel Kennedy, Henry Hill, Agnes Eastwood, Amy Clementi and A. Metheral (equal). Ted Rogers, Mabel McKinley.

Passed—Leslie Gurney, C. Anthony.

Jr. Part One to Sr. Part One.

Passed—Winnie Thompson, Hattie Dougherty, Grace Hillier, Charlie Fugue, Georgie Stevenson, Evelyn Lush, Ethel McKinley, Bassel Doale, John Dougherty, Gordon Bennet.

PARK STREET SCHOOL.

Senior Second to Junior Third.

Honors—Iva Irene Kirke, Wilfred Fortye, Maggie Hetherington.

Passed—Charles Dobson, Willie Giles, Ethel Hardwick, Lillian Crow, Alexander Lyons, Roy Wilson, Lewis Miller Percy Pearce, and Raymond Ostrom, (equal), Stella Marks, Willie Robson, Douglas Robertson, Douglas Layfield.

Junior Third to Senior Third.

Honors—May Nesbitt, Louis Stanley.

Passed—Ada Hooper and Archie Soilitt (equal), Maud Olver, Ray Hall, Eva Orr, Leila Haskill, Genevieve Sanderson, Grace Crowe, Effie Jackson, Emily Horfield, Orlanda Pedler, Arthur Blade, Helen Stone.

Junior Second to Senior Second.

Honors—Helen Blade, Constance Macknight, Emma Gamble, Charlie Dean, Flossie Derry, Elsie Clinkscale, Dan Hopkins.

Passed—Ruby Derry, Bessie Logan, Annie Plummer, Joe Reynolds, Bruce Mills, Adam Kemp, Frank Patterson, Willie Turner.

Senior Part Second to Junior Second.

Honors—Florence Pearce, Harold Torrance, Elsie Kirk.

Passed—Nora Stanley, Alan Harper, Bessie Norris, Walter Weese, Irene Ruth, Vernon Henry, Walter Perks, John Miller, Ethel Edmondson, Chester Marks, D'Ayncourt Ostrom.

Jr. Part Second to Sr. Part Second.

Honors—Stella Cuffe, Ethel Robson, Norman Brand, Phyllis Denne, Harold Goodfellow, Kitty Hopkins.

Passed—Melville Dobson, Annie Drury, Phyllis Dawson, Pamela Williams, Gracie Edmondson, Ethel Stenson, Edith Meharry and Ada Jenkins (equal), Helen Henry, Orville Hooper, Harry Mulhern, Percy Robson.

Sr. Part One to Jr. Part Two.

Honors—Ross Hall, Ida Giles, Jessie Miller, Lottie McCall, Harold Cox, Pearl Weese, Norman Wilson and Lyle Butcher (equal), Charlie Hardwick.

Passed—Ethel Chambers, Arthur Horfield, Charlie Stanley, Mabel Patterson, Cora Bradburn, Ross McCall, George Goodfellow (equal), Gerald Stenson, Gladys Crowe.

Jr. Part One to Sr. Part one.

Passed—Bertha Robson, Annie Billington, Madeline Pearce, Joe Crocker, Stanley Oliver, Frank Pidgeon, Wilfred Stratton, Beatrice Marks, Fred Dobson, Hazel Batten, Hazel Austin, Margaret Neill, James Main, Marion Goodfellow, Allie Weese; Ida McClennan.

CENTRAL SCHOOL.

Form I—Jr. Fourth to Sr. Fourth

Honors—Keith Lech, Ernest Bronscombe H. S. Maguire, E. Saxby, W. Metheral; E. Mann.

Passed—May Rogers, Mabel Sperry, Ada Nicholls, Russell McQuay, Ina Thompson, Mary Wilson, Bert Weir, Viola Fraser, Roma Langford and Sadie Smith, (equal); Lillie Barber and Bert Laing, (equal); Olive Pentland and Jessie Mein, (equal); Harry Hall, Nellie Gunn, Caroline Clementi, Eva Irwin, B. Goodfellow, Ethel Ray, W. Blackwell, May Jory, Victor Carton.

Form II—Jr. Fourth to Sr. Fourth.

Honors—Stanley Pringle, John Shaw, Sidney McIntyre, Ruby Fitzgerald, Harold Brown, (equal), Will Pratt, Hazel Pentland.

Passed—Lola Smith and Herbert Miller, (equal), Minnie Erskine, Wilbert Yelland, Hulda Dobbin, Mabel Barber, Fred Hall, Stewart Anderson, Maysie Armstrong, Mildred Micks, Bertha Nicholls John Main, Cyril Lech.

Sr. III to Jr. IV.

Honors—Will Douglas.

Passed—Frances Routley, Spence McIntyre, John Brightman, Harry Carey, Will Smith, Cyril Moore, Helen Routley, Alan Campbell, Gerald Creamer, Nellie Graham and Bruce Robertson, Dora Dalton, Daisy Robson, Hannah Sisson, Walter Gordon, Florence Doughty, Lotta Jameson, Harold McGill.

Junior 3rd to Senior 3rd.

Honors—Ray Scott, Mabel Young.

Passed—Maggie Edwards, James English, Daisy Wood, Maxwell Dobbin, Florence Hunter, Willie English, Vernon Diggins and Harold Meldrum (equal) Irene Munro, Arthur Sawers, Arthur Hall, Leonard McQuay, Edith Preston, Gordon Long, Donald Shook, Howard Heap, Ernest Thornton.

Senior 2nd to Junior 3rd.

Honors—Kenneth Crane, Willie Davidson.

Passed—Reggie Heaslip, Willie Eastwood, Alma Knapman, Lorne Fitzgerald Jessie Martin, Willie Louden, Clayton Cobb, Agnes Pentland, Fanny Tilley, Willie Watson.

Jr. II to Sr. II.

Honors—Katheryn Durnett, Helen Baptie.

Passed—Hattie Lee, Etta Kemp, David Ranson, Oswald Armstrong, Grace Burritt, Madge Graham, Eddie Armstrong.

Sr. Pt. I to Jr. Second.

Honors—Hazel Whitcroft.

Passed—Bruce Hunter, Katie Burgoyne, Herbie Blanchard, Frank Hawkins, Rollie Howden, Maud Rountree, Helen Harper, Fred Hatcher, Harold Munro, Kathleen McGregor, Percy Parrington Eva Armstrong, Millard Brooke.

Jr. Pt. 2nd to Sr. Pt. 2nd

Passed—Roy Harper, Fulton Douglas, Harry Carr, Bessie Baptie, Bruce Blanchard, Vega Elliott, Mabel Brown, Edna Fowler, Hugh Burritt, Stanley Trew.

Sr. Pt. I to Jr. Pt. II.

Passed—Lilah Beach, Lena Smith, Douglas Carlisle, Harry Hobson, Vernon Hutchinson, Carlyle Potter, Ross Laing Hubert Eastwood, Bessie Weir, Elmire Roy, Hunter Godfrey.

Jr. Pt. I to Sr. Pt. I.

Lillian Noble, Fred Roy, Murray Carlisle, Clarence Mengraw, Orville Moore, Jas. Cummings, Hattie Cummings, Charlie Burgoine, Ivan Howden.

Continued on page 6

"THE MAN IN THE WELL" SET FREE

Just Before Six O'Clock Saturday Evening

IN GOOD CONDITION, STILL CHEERFUL

Joshua Sandford Released After One Hundred Hours of Awful suspense, Terrific Pain and Superhuman Endeavor

Special to The Times.

Paris June 28—Another night of waiting and hard work has passed without bringing Sanford, the man imprisoned in the well since 2 o'clock on Tuesday to the surface. The hardest worker during the past ten hours has been the energetic well-digger himself, who is held by the one foot mentioned in yesterday evening's despatches. Unwilling to have his leg broken in obtaining his freedom, he has been assisting the rescuers by working with sharp iron hooks to dislodge the bricks which are holding him down. An iron spoon and a short crowbar have also been used by him so far as his cramped position and the strength at his command will admit. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, 73 hours after the entombment, the injured man was in a position where nourishment could be administered to him, and he has been fed by the medical men regularly once an hour since then.

Paris, June 28—5.55 p.m.—Joshua Sandford has been taken from the bottom of the deep well where he was entombed since Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

He was released promptly at 5.55 and brought up in a bucket.

He was immediately taken to the home of Mr. Scott on the farm.

Sandford appeared very cheerful and in good condition.

He talked with the men who rescued him, and thanked them, while tears coursed down his cheeks.

All the six doctors are now in attendance upon him. They are, Doctors Sinclair Dunton, Burt, Addison, St. George and Patterson.

He had been in his living tomb for 99½ minutes.

THE THRILLING "LOOP" ACT

The Man Who Does It Takes his Life in His Own Hands

"We sincerely wish there was more than one man in this wide world who could successfully perform that 'loop' act," remarked Mr. H. A. Daniels, one of the Forepaugh-Sells representatives, who arrived in town yesterday. "You see, this man Diavolo is going to get hurt sooner or later. He realizes it, and we realize it. The requirements for the successful accomplishment of this feat are so exact that the slightest deviation means an accident—and an accident means almost certain death. Since this act was first presented at Madison Square Garden, New York, at the opening of the season, just four applications have been made for the position of understudy—and all four men are now in the hospital. Not one of the four got beyond his first attempt. We would be very glad indeed to find another man who could successfully perform this feat, for as things stand now, if Diavolo does make a slip, it's all off with the act until we find some one. And the pay is not bad, either, only $1,000 a week—the time to earn it, just 72 seconds, that is 6 seconds at each performance, or 12 seconds a day. But fix your insurance first, for it would take a road roller to drag an insurance agent near you after you signed the contract."

The basis of the act is the opposition of the two forces, velocity and gravity. To make the act possible the velocity must be sufficient to exert a quantity of centrifugal force great enough to overcome the natural force of gravitation. In other words, it can be mathematically proved that an unobstructed, freely-moving, spherical body, weighing 225 pounds, moving over a space of 110 lineal feet, at an angle of 45 degrees, will generate sufficient velocity to carry it almost perpendicularly 23 1-2 feet. And there you have it. The man weighs 160 pounds; the bicycle 65 pounds; total, 225 pounds. The run-way is 110 feet long, pitched at an angle of 45 degrees, and the "loop" proper is 23 1-2 feet in diameter. But then, that simply proves the act possible—the trick is to do it. Diavolo does the trick twice daily, and you see if your opinion will be that it's the greatest hair-raising demonstration of pure, unadulterated dare-deviltry that American ingenuity has yet conceived.

A FORMER PETERBORO LADY MARRIED IN CLEVELAND

Nuptials of Miss Clara Bogan To Mr. Wm. R. Stewart of Catherines

Immaculate Conception church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, June 18th, when Miss Clara Bogan, eldest daughter of Mr. William Bogan, of Sixth avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. William R. Stuart, formerly of St. Catharines.

The bride was charmingly gowned in a travelling suit of stone blue broad cloth, with trimmings of pearl and moire, and wore a large gainsborough hat, trimmed with ostrich plumes. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ida, who was becomingly attired in a suit of old rose and white silk, and also wore a large picture hat, with ostrich plumes.

The groom was supported throughout the ceremony by Mr. Henry J. Muldownie.

The solemn and impressive ceremony was performed by Very Rev. Monseigneur Thorpe, T.P., in the presence of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties.

After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the residence of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of by the assembled guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart will take up their residence in Cleveland, amid the hearty good wishes of a host of friends.

Stomach and Bowel Troubles

A promptly satisfactory cure for Cramps, Colic, Indigestion, Heartburn, Billiousness, Sick Stomach and Summer Complaint, is a few drops of Nerviline in sweetened water. Nerviline at once relieves pain and suffering, eradicates the cause of the trouble and cures permanently. Polson's Nerviline is the best general purpose remedy for internal pains known; it acts so quickly that no household should be without it. Buy a 25c. bottle of Nerviline today, it's all right.

Hamilton's Pills Cure Constipation.

Silver Cup Presented.

The trophy cup that was offered for competition at Campbellford last Thursday for the lacrosse match between Peterborough T.A.S. team and Campbellford will be played off in Peterborough, the first match being a draw.

Mr. Culverwell, of town, who has always shown a great interest in the welfare of clean sports is the donor,

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

And Manual Training May be Taught in Public School.

(Concluded from Saturday.)

At the meeting of the Board of Education on Friday night, the report of the Special committee recommending that steps be taken to introduce Domestic Science and Manual Training into the Public Schools of Peterboro, and the Ashburnham schools was adopted on motion of Mr. Hartley, who also moved that steps be taken to ascertain what amount the government would contribute to this object.

Mr. Fair seconded this motion. He did not think that any further information as to the cost of the adoption of the subjects could not be obtained. He thought the Government should be approached on the matter. He hoped it would be taken up by the first of the year.

Mr. Langford said he was not opposed to Mr. Hartley's motion, but he thought his own, "that the question of Domestic science and Manual Training be taken up mutually by the Board and the Town Council as soon as more definite figures regarding cost of instituting and maintenance are obtained" should also be voted on.

Mr. Wrighton and Mr. Stevenson were the only negative voters on Mr. Hartley's motion, which was put by the chairman as an amendment to Mr. Langford's.

Mr. Langford pressed a vote on his motion.

Mr. Stevenson held that Mr. Langford's motion was a different matter and should be presented. It practically brought the question before the rate-payers, while the other did not.

The vote on Mr. Hartley's motion was considered final.

Dr. Caldwell was appointed as chairman and member of the Finance committee, in place of Mr. Banford.

The Board adjourned until July 7th.

RUSSIA'S POLICY IN THE FAR EAST

Opposed to the "Open Door" Trading in China

Special to The Times.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—In an editorial article the Novoe Vremya unreservedly opposes the "open door" policy, which it characterizes as merely the exploitation of weaker nations by a stronger nation, regardless of the consequences. The paper says the "open door" policy caused the "Boxer" movement in China, and it will occasion unpleasantness in Russia. Russia cannot endure mischief making on her frontier, and, unlike Western nations, Russia has never been impelled forward by commercial motives. On the contrary, in the East the Russian flag stands for Christian love and mercy, and Russia is always willing and ready not to disturb national characteristics or local religious customs.

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE

"No Cure, No Pay," is the Newest Proposal of the Proprietors of Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills

Editor Morning Times

Sir,—We make the following proposal: any one who is a subject of rheumatism (no matter how long standing), or any blood disease, as enumerated below, and will give Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills a fair trial, and do not find a perfect cure, we will refund the money paid for the pills. If no substantial improvement is observed, we will in addition, pay $10 in cash on satisfactory evidence being applied us to this effect.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in effecting a cure. CANADA CHEMICAL CO.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for la grippe, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, backache, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the disease have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. Price 50 cents per box. For sale by Ormond & Walsh. The Canada

FITZSIMMONS TRAINING.

Skaggs Springs, Cal. June 28.—Geo. Dawson, of Chicago, has started out with his work in the Fitzsimmons camp. Yesterday he went the ten miles on horseback with Fitzsimmons. When they returned they took a swim in the lake, and Fitz was given a rub down, after which he was allowed to take his breakfast. The rest of the morning he spent his time moving his deer paddock. In the afternoon he punched the bag and sparred with Dawson, ending up with gymnasium work.

NO OTHER BUSINESS

affords you equal credit, considering the amount you have invested. To illustrate, your account with us, amounting to $100 will enable you to at all times, buy and sell stocks to the valuation of from $500 to $1000. You are thus enabled to secure the profits to be made from investment of the above amounts, while really only investing $100. For accounts of larger size, you secure corresponding benefits. Our 400 page, clothbound, illustrated,

"Guide to Investors"

explains in detail the method, also contains full comprehensive information relative to Wall St., its markets and Securities. Each afternoon, we issue our

"Daily Market Letter"

a complete daily guide for investor or speculator. Both are yours, free of cost, for the asking, at any of our offices.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.
Established 1890.
Main Office, 53 B'way, N.Y.
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.
Peterborough, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

COMMISSION ONE EIGHTH—The only licensed M. S. Stock Brokerage Corporation in business by permission of the Royal Government of the Province of Ontario.

W. F. NELSON, Peterborough.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depart
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal	5.10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.13 a.m.	7.32 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston	5.10 a.m.	12.35 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	5 10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate	7.20 p.m.	1 12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9 00 p.m.	5.22 p.m
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.35 p.m.	11.40 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.20 a.m.	9.19 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.35 p.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	6.20 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.15 p.m.
Lakefield local	5.50 p.m.	6.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at [illegible] per month, and to outside points at $3 per year strictly in advance.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH. JUNE 30, 1902.

SENATOR DEPEW SPEAKS

[illegible] Senator Chauncey Depew is at present in London. In an interview with the correspondent of the New York Herald he compared the effect of the news of the King's illness on the great city with the effect of the news of the assassination of President McKinley upon Buffalo last year. The people of London, he says, were in a state of complete collapse. The startling intelligence stunned them; for a time they could not realize that such a blow had fallen on the man they loyally loved. "It was an exact parallel in many respects with the incident at Buffalo, although the element of tragedy was wanting. I was in Buffalo at the time and the city was in just such a state of exultation and excitation as was London," said the distinguished American.

Senator Depew found the people of England proud of the man who was to have been crowned yesterday. He met with no element antagonistic to the Sovereign and it pleased him to see all classes uniting to do honor to the King. His speech words to the Herald correspondent were:

"One thing that strikes one most forcibly at this time is the immense personal popularity of the King. Not a single discordant note, and I have talked with many distinguished men, have I heard in the general chorus of sorrow for the King's illness, and I am sure this is shared by every right-thinking person, no matter of what nationality."

FORMER PERILS

The incidents of the past week have recalled the former perils of King Edward, through which he passed in safety, but in some cases not without a period of profound anxiety on the part of the British nation. Briefly stated they are as follows:

1. While a school boy at Oxford a boat in which he was rowing was overturned. He saved himself by swimming ashore.

2. Upon returning to England in 1860, after his visit to the United States and Canada, his voyage was so delayed by storms that warships were sent in search of the warship Hero.

3. In 1871 an attack of typhoid fever threatened to result fatally. His life was despaired of, but was saved through vigorously rubbing him with brandy.

4. In 1876, while tiger shooting in India, a tiger sprang upon the Prince's elephant. His life was saved by Colonel White of his suite, who killed the beast.

5. In 1898 he slipped and fell on a stairway, sustaining an accident to his knee which threatened to make him lame for life. Within a few months he had completely recovered.

6. On April 4, 1900, while en route to Copenhagen, was shot at by a half-crazed youth named Sipido, at the Brussels railway station. Two shots were fired, both of which missed the mark.

7. While on a visit to Emperor William of Germany he was hunting stags, and two of them charged upon his horse. The horse reared and threw him to the ground. He was only slightly bruised.

8. He missed death by just 10 seconds on Shamrock II. last summer while the yacht was on a trial spin. He was the guest of Sir Thomas Lipton, the boat was caught in a squall and the mast and rigging went over, imperilling the life of the host and his guests.

• • • •

The report that the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles (Col. Evans' command) is to return home almost at once is a good omen for South Africa. The Canadians would be among the troops most likely to be kept there if any further trouble was apprehended in the slightest.

A WORTHY INSTITUTION

The Noble Work that is Being Done by St. Joseph's Hospital—An Appeal for Support

The following circular letter has been issued on behalf of St. Joseph's Hospital. It speaks for itself, and tells its own story of the noble work that is being done by the Hospital:

Dear Sir,—Since the erection of St. Joseph's Hospital, at Peterborough, the parish of St. Peter's has been accustomed to hold an annual picnic for the purpose of paying off the indebtedness of the institution and assisting in its maintenance. The Parish has now decided, that instead of holding the annual picnic, that the money be raised by way of contribution.

The burden of paying off the indebtedness and of maintaining the Hospital in its present efficient condition is great. It is unnecessary for me to point out to you the great work accomplished in this community by that institution. Since the establishment of the Hospital hundreds of patients have been cared for, many of whom were poor and unable to pay anything towards the expenses incident to their care. The Hospital has always been open to receive the sick and poor of all denominations, and the sufferings of many of the destitute and poor have been alleviated, the danger arising from contagious diseases much lessened and undoubtedly many lives saved through the charity of this hospital.

The Sisters in charge have devoted their life's labor without compensation or hope of temporal reward in caring for the sick and poor of the community. The Hospital has performed a great work, not counting the cost, and relying on the charity and generosity of the people, in whose midst it is situated, for assistance. The debt of the hospital is of a very considerable amount, and the revenue is barely sufficient to pay the cost of maintenance.

I now make this appeal to you asking you to assist us in the carrying on of this work.

It is a most deserving charity, and the work done by it I feel confident, will commend itself to your judgement.

Your contributions will be published in the annual statement of the contributors to this fund, issued on the second Monday in July.

Thanking you in advance for your donation.

I am, yours truly,
W. J. McCOLL.
Rector of St. Peter's Cathedral.
Peterborough, June 23rd, 1902.

ITEMS OF NEWS BY CABLE AND LETTER

Special to The Times.

Washington, June 28.—An electric car which will run at the rate of 400 miles an hour over a track of peculiar construction is on exhibition at Norfolk, Va. The inventor is Edward J. Kelley, and his past accomplishments in a similar line entitle his claims for this machine to a respectful consideration. He has in successful operation on several electric street cars here his patent trolley, and a test of his patent switch is being made with apparently every prospect of success.

When it was announced that he had a wonderful railway car on exhibition great interest was excited among men who are ordinarily very shy of inventions for which large claims are made. Many of them visited the shops of the Norfolk Electrical Company, where the device is on view. There the model car was being run back and forth upon the track, which was about six feet long. The inventor declared that the speed at which the car will travel is restricted only to the speed of which electricity travels on a telegraph line, making allowance for a minute amount of friction. He said he would soon build a long track, and then he would show something of the real speed his car can attain.

A PRACTICAL CAR

It has been his ambition to provide a practical electric car which would travel at high speed for the purpose of transporting mail matter between the large cities of this country. He said: "I believe that this model demonstrates that a car built on these lines will reach a speed ranging from three hundred to four hundred miles an hour. In other words, it will cover the distance between New York and Washington, passing through Philadelphia and Baltimore, in one hour."

Kelly believes that once his railway is built there will be little telegraphing between these cities, and nearly all the business will be done by mail. He expects to bring the invention to the notice of the Postmaster General, shortly, and thinks the Government will perhaps undertake to construct the line.

Kelly's device is novel. The car is propelled by a magnet attached to it which takes action upon a series of iron plates placed between the rails. These plates are nearly as broad as is the gauge of the road at one end, while they taper to a point on the other end. The sharp end all point one way, and the car must travel in a direction opposite to the one in which the sharp point of the plates point. The road must, therefore, necessarily be a double-tracked one.

PROPELLED BY MAGNET.

The inventor says that it is the nature of the magnet to reach the large end of the plate as soon as possible, and that it does this almost instantly after it "smells" the small end of the iron plate. When the magnet beneath the car reaches the broad end of the plate on the track beneath it the current is automatically cut off by the car wheel until the momentum of the car has carried it a few inches beyond the attraction of the magnet by the plate it then just passed over. Then the magnet "enlivens" again and reaches for the attraction plate ahead.

"Only a practical test," he said, "with a full-sized car, will solve that problem, though my experiments have convinced me that the car will travel at the rate of from 300 to 400 miles an hour." The model car Kelly now has on exhibition is, perhaps, thirty inches long. It is shaped like an ordinary box car, but both ends are sharp. It has four wheels each as high as its roof. The big wheels, the inventor says, will decrease friction, and the sharp ends of the car will enable it to go faster through the air.

The next model made will have the wheels set further toward the centre of the car than the first one made has. As the wheels are set on the first model they offer some resistance to the air. The current which will propel the car is carried in one rail of the track. This rail is positive, the other is negative.

The negative rail is divided at intervals corresponding to the divisions in the attraction plates between the rails. One wheel of the car on each side of it is insulated from the axle, allowing the current to pass through the connected wheel to the magnet on the bottom of the car, and from this magnet to the connecting wheel on the negative side of the car, forming a circuit, except during that interval when the circuit is broken to permit the car to jump from plate to plate.

ROAD NOT COSTLY.

There is a short interval between the plates as they lie on the track beneath the car. Mr. Kelly said that in time he believes passengers will embark on his line, but they will probably be at first fearful of travelling at such high speed. "I will," he said, "ride on the first mail car that goes out. I am not afraid." The inventor is unmarried, was born at Woodstock, Ill., April 14, 1872, and has two brothers and seven sisters, all living in Illinois and Minnesota. He ran away from home when quite young, learned to be a machinist, has had a few advantages in the way of schooling, but has picked up a great deal of knowledge of electricity.

The speed of the car may be regulated by raising or depressing the sharp points of the plates on the track. The car goes slower the more these points are depressed. When the car runs upon several plates, the ends of which have been reversed, it stops. This is the method Kelly will use in stopping the car. He will at stations reverse a number of the plates. He says he will install in stations an indicator which will show just where the car is at all times. He does not believe that the road will be costly to build. He says the car will run on the ordinary rail, and could be run over existing lines were one rail alive and the track clear of the slower steam or electric cars.

CORPORATION OFFICERS

T. H. G. Denne, Esq., Mayor.
S. R. Armstrong, Clerk.
Felix Brownscombe, Treasurer.
D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate.
Geo. I. Rossel, Chief of Police.
T.A.S. Hay, C.E., Town Engineer.
W. J. Green, Tax Collector.
Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer.
W. F. Miller, Relief Officer.
Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Department.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—Mrs. J. J. McBain.
1st Vice President—Mrs. Jas. Kendrey.
2nd Vice President—Mr. A. C. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Agent and Assistant Secretary—Mr Geo Cochrane.
Solicitors—Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Advisory Board—The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Board of Management—Mesdames Beck Dennistoun, O'Sullivan, McGill Garvin, E. A. Peck, Warde, Davis, and Birdsall; Misses M. Dickson and Gow; Mr. A. L. Davis, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. D. O. Crossley, Dr. G. Burnham, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. P. Campbell, and Mr. W. J. Bamford.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's
$2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00
Hand-Made Shoes,
they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.
450 George Street

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1882.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewriter Works, 8 Rose St., Binghamton N.Y.

Canvasser —WANTED—

to sell PRINTERS' INK—a journal for advertisers—published weekly at five dollars a year. It teaches the science and practice of Advertising and is highly esteemed by the most successful advertisers in this country and Great Britain. Liberal commission allowed. Address PRINTERS INK, 10 Spruce St., New York

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.
Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make. SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE. ALL FURNISHINGS AT COST AND UNDER.

H. E. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS. 353 GEORGE STREET

Mackinlays
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky
Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers. LEITH. Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

THE ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.
MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
MONTREAL, April 8th, [illegible]

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

$99\frac{99}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interests is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $55.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited, A Canadian Company; with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c ... $12 50

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a silver free mine situated in British Columbia, Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares, every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $50.00 to the ton. SHARES 10c ... $5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) productive wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends. SHARES 50 cents ... $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents ... 12 50

Total value ... $55 00

275 SHARES ... FOR $50 00 CASH

150 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.
FINANCIAL AGENTS,
317-319 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

The New York Times
Saturday Review
of Books.
$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—a fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly,
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times
SUNDAY EDITION
$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

The Toronto General
Trusts Corporation.

ESTABLISHED 1882.

CAPITAL	$1,000,000
RESERVE FUND	270 000

Head Office and Safe Deposit Vaults Southeast Corner Yonge and Colborne Streets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JOHN HOSKIN, K.C., LL.D., - President.
HON. S. C. WOOD, W. H. BEATTY, - Vice-Presidents.

JOHN BELL, K.C.,
JOHN L. BLAIKIE,
W. R. BROCK, M.P
J. W. DIGBY, M.D.,
JOHN FOY,
JAMES J. FOY, K.C., M.P.P.,
GEORGE GOODERHAM,
WILLIAM HENDRIE,
HON. G. T. FULFORD,
AEMILIUS IRVING, K.C.,
B. E. WALKER,
ROBERT JAFFRAY,
J. J. KENNY,
J. W. LANGMUIR,
ARTHUR B. LEE,
THOMAS LONG,
W. D. MATTHEWS,
HON. PETER McLAREN,
E. B. OSLER, M.P.,
J. G. SCOTT, K.C.,
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER
D. R. WILKIE.

Under the approval of the Ontario Government the Corporation is accepted by the High Court of Justice as a Trusts Company, and from its organization has been employed by the High Court of Justice for the investment of Court Funds.

The Corporation is authorized to accept and execute trusts of every description, and to act in any of the following capacities, namely: EXECUTOR, TRUSTEE, ADMINISTRTOR, GUARDIAN, LIQUIDATOR, ASSIGNEE AND GENERAL AGENT.

The employment of the Corporation insures consecutive action, executive ability, permanent methods and absolute security.

Confidential interviews upon all Trust Estate matters are invited.

Solicitors placing business with the Corporation are retained in the professional care thereof.

THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS of the Corporation provide an absolutely secure but inexpensive depository for TITLE DEEDS, JEWELY CASH BOXES, PLATE CHESTS and VALUABLES of every description; FIREPROOF SAFES of various sizes are immovably fixed in the FIREPROOF and BURGLAR-PROOF VAULTS.

J. W. LANGMUIR,
Managing Director.

A. D. LANGMUIR
Assistant Manager

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue; Foreign Edition Post Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits. LACE CURTAINS, MADRAS MUSLINS, CAPES, LADIES & GENTS, REAL SWISS, ROLLER BLINDS, BLOUSES, LOOM HOSIERY, GUIPURE D'ART, LACES ALL MAKES, COLLARETTES, HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $5.10

Lot No. 397 contains:—1 pair Rich Artistic Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, choice old lace design, 3½ yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair neat Floral Pattern Bed-Room Curtains, 3 yds. long, 50 in. wide, 1 pair new fashionable Sash Curtains, 1 table centre, renaissance design, 1 Set of Duchess Toilet Covers, one 45 in. long, and five smaller. Sent if desired. On receipt of Post Office Order for $5.10, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth.

Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable work, Marvellous Value, and Durability. First Prize Medals, Toronto 1892; Chicago, 1893.

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established 1857.

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Advertise in The Times, Everybody reads The Times.

Wage-Earning School Children in England.

Whilst dreams of world-wide empire and visions of the subjection of the entire universe to the domination of the occupants of No. 10 Downing street, Whitehall, are disturbing the rest of the average Briton, and turning even the late followers of Gladstone into rampant jingoes, thinking men are reminded, by the publication of Blue Books such as the report just issued by the Home Office on the employment of school children, of some of the evils which are eating away the heart of the English nation. Child labor in England has been the subject of repeated legislation for nearly a century. Children eight years of age are no longer allowed to work in factories, nor are the hours of labor for older child-workers so long as heretofore. For the latter class a system of half work, half school, has been devised: while a series of acts of Parliament have been passed forbidding the employment of young children in chimney-sweeping, acrobatic performances, etc., and severely regulating their hours of labor in other and, in my opinion, equally objectionable occupations. It was fondly imagined that these enactments had finally exorcised the evil spirit of child labor; but the terrible disease of poverty is too deeply rooted in Great Britain to be eradicated by such measures; and though now and again a sore may be healed, it surely reappears in some other part of the body politic. Its latest development is to be seen in the spectacle of children of tender years trading in the streets, or working in shops, or engaged in some form of agricultural labor which has not been forbidden by any existing legislation. The first symptom was noticed by the Education Department through its school inspectors; and six years ago an investigation was held by that body in order to see whether the disease was quite so dangerous as represented. Enquiries were made from the various school managers throughout the country, with the result that it was reported that no less than 144,000 children attending school were employed either before or after school hours, or both, for a very small remuneration, at some form of work for periods ranging from twenty to forty, fifty, and even eighty hours a week. These figures rather underestimated the total number, as the compilers did not include those children who had a regular occupation after school, or those whose work was not, in their judgment, prejudicial to health.—Thomas Burke in the "Forum."

Figuring it Out.

The "little Johnny" of the following story may never have heard that

Great fleas have little fleas upon their
backs to bite 'em,
And little fleas have lesser fleas, and so
ad infinitum,

but his method of reasoning is analogous. He had been gazing thoughtfully at his book of animal pictures, says the Salt Lake "Herald," when suddenly he called out:

"Sa, pa, does it cost much to feed a lion?"

"Yes."

"How much?"

"Oh, a lot of money."

"A wolf would make a good meal for a lion, wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes, I guess so."

"And a fox would be enough for the wolf, wouldn't it?"

"Yes, yes."

"And a fox could make a meal off a hawk, eh, pa?"

"I suppose so."

"And the hawk would be satisfied with a sparrow?"

"Of course."

"And a big spider would be a good meal for the sparrow, wouldn't it, pa?—wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes, yes."

"And a fly would be enough for the spider?"

"Sure."

"And a drop of molasses would be all the fly would want, wouldn't it?"

"Oh, stop your chatter!"

"But wouldn't it, pa?"

"Yes."

"Well, pa, couldn't a man keep a lion more'n a year on a pint of molasses?"

The Last Words of Great Men.

On the subject of Cecil Rhodes' last words—so little done, so much to do—London "Truth" says: "Mr. Rhodes was not given to high-flown talk, and I suspect the story of his 'last words' is a fiction. Sydney Smith observed that it seems a necessity that every distinguished man should die 'with some sonorous and quotable saying in his mouth.' Mr. Pitt was supposed to have expired exclaiming 'How do I leave my country!' It was afterwards established on conclusive evidence that his real last words were, 'I fancy I could eat one of Bellamy's meat pies.' Mr. Fox was credited with some becoming observation about public affairs, whereas his last words conveyed a request for barley water. Sir Robert Peel was stated to have died after an ejaculation about the blessings of cheap bread. In reality he awoke for a few minutes, after several hours of sleep, said, 'God bless you all,' and died. Lord Beaconsfield was reported to have exclaimed, 'Any news in the Gazette?' with his last breath, whereas he muttered, 'I feel overwhelmed.'"

A Delicate Position.

Wedding presents are frequently distinguished for their uselessness, and gift-making at any time is always attended with some danger, but there is a contractor in Toronto who realizes that the most generous intentions are likely to turn out disastrously. This is how it came about:

A faithful Irish employee announced his desire to take a month's vacation in order to visit his brother in the West. He had worked so well and steadily that his employer not only granted the request, but made him a present of a new valise. The night before Tim was to leave he received the gift, accompanied by a few appreciative words.

Tim stared at the valise for a moment and then asked: "What am I to do with that?"

"Why, put your clothes in it when you go away, of course," answered the contractor.

"Put me clothes in it, is it?" said Tim. "An' phwat will Oi wear if Oi put me clothes in that?"

Navigation

STEAMER
"MAJESTIC"
CAPT. W. McCOLLARD, Master.

For week ending June 28th, the Majestic will connect as follows:—

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday will leave Lakefield on arrival of morning train, returning to connect with evening train for Peterborough.

On Tuesday there will be no regular boat Saturday evening, June 28th, will leave Lakefield on arrival of the evening train for the lakes.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor
Lakefield, June 23, 1902.

THE COMMENTS OF LONDON NEWSPAPERS.

London, June 27.—All the morning papers, in their editorials, offer fervent prayers that the King's life may be spared. The Graphic, under the caption of "God Save the King," says that at the outset of a great national festival, which had already filled the whole empire with joyful expectancy, a blow had fallen which transformed the national gladness into the most profound anxiety.

The Morning Post says that amid the universal anxiety all hearts will go to the Queen, to whom the hardest trial and sharpest pangs are given.

The Daily Mail says that never has calamity fallen so terribly in the hour of rejoicing. It is hard that the blow should have fallen in this manner, and that the inscrutable hand of providence should thus have smitten the race.

The Standard says that of all the sad vicissitudes that history records in the fortunes of princes, there is surely none more pathetic or impressive than this sharp arrest of a festival of gladness, this sullen, peremptory command to change the tokens of rejoicing for a confession of pressing care.

The Chronicle says that the British people like the King, have received a grievous disappointment. To bear, it with quiet resignation, abandoning the intended festivities and, resuming the strenuous course of normal life, would most befit the national dignity.

The Times says: "Until the next anxious days are over the Empire will remain in deep care. The tragedy of the visitation has appealed to the imagination and human sympathies of foreign nations."

Referring to the postponement of the coronation the Times says it will be difficult, even if the warmest wishes are realized, to bring together again the elements of imposing magnificence that had been arranged for Westminster Abbey to-day, the royal procession on the following day, and the naval review on Saturday. The moral factors that constitute the true significance of these pageants remain, but the outward glory is quenched. There can be no coronation while the King is lying dangerously ill.

HIS HOLINESS THE POPE.

Now and again there break through the clouds of prejudice and ignorance that hide from the vision of Protestants "the prisoner at Rome," as some bright shining of the sun through a lowering sky, revelations of his holiness which are only and altogether lovely. They disclose "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief," touched with the feeling of our infirmities and bearing in the arms of faith and prayer even those not of his fold. It is related that the pope, who was deeply affected by the news of the illness of the King, after receiving Cardinal Rampolla and other members of the Sacred college, on Tuesday, said:

Let us pray God to preserve the precious life of Edward, who so well deserves the thanks of the world in bringing about by his personal influence and intervention, peace in South Africa.

"Now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

PRAYER FOR A KING

In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.

Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the Lord, saying,

I beseech thee, O Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore.

And it came to pass, afore Isaiah was gone out into the middle court, that the word of the Lord came to him, saying,

Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the Lord.

And I will add unto thy days fifteen years; and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

And Isaiah said, Take a lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boil, and he recovered.—2 Kings, xx, 1-7.

An interesting legal point is raised in connection with the stands erected in London on the route of the proposed Coronation procession. Many people have already paid for their seats and the question is whether they are entitled to have the money refunded. To the lay mind it would appear that they are not. The owners of the stands did not undertake to provide a procession, they undertook to provide seats for Thursday, and the seats are there in most cases for the lessees to sit on if they feel so disposed. Those proprietors who have been in a hurry to pull down the stands may have to fork up.

Navigation

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

	From Montreal.	From Quebec.
Tunisian	14 June 9 a.m.	14 June 7 p.m.
Pretorian	21 June 3 a.m.	21 June 3 p.m.
Numidian	28 June 7 a.m.	28 June 5 p.m.
Ionian	5 July 5a.m.	5 July 3 p.m.

First cabin, $65 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $26 and $28—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry.
Carthaginian...... .... June 28th
Mongolian...... ....July 9th.

S. S. Sardinian from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 25th June, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to: W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd
River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S. S Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 4th and 28th July; ; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply t V. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwes Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

EXCURSIONS TO MACKINAC

One of the Company's steamers will leave COLLINGWOOD 1.30, MEAFORD 3.45, OWEN SOUND 11.00 p. m. on TUESDAYS, THURSDAYS and FRIDAYS, for intermediate ports to SAULT STE. MARIE and MACKINAC ISLAND, and on SATURDAYS for intermediate ports to SAULT STE. MARIE ONLY.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

SS BRITANNIC will leave COLLINGWOOD on MONDAYS and THURSDAYS at 10.30 p. m., for Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet, French River and Killarney.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

CITY OF TORONTO will leave Midland at 11.35 a. m. and PENETANG at 2.30 p. m. daily (Sundays excepted) for intermediate ports to PARRY SOUND, arriving there at 5.30 p. m., returning leave at 6.00 a. m. For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents or

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO
STR. "ARGYLE"
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)
EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at	12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.
RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.
STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7 00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday	2 00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.
Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville	11.00 a m
" Trenton	1.15 p m
" Brighton	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte	7.30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th
For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN, Manager,
Picton, Ont

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4 45 p. m.

Trips Daily (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont

Navigation

Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, will leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only Children One-Half f re. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay
ESTURION
JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv 6 15 a.m. and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 7.15 a.m.	" 4.10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar 8 40 a.m.	" 5 30 p.m.
"	Lv 11 00 a.m.	" 6 30 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 12.10 p m.	" 7 40 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar 1.15 p.m.	" 8.55 p.m.

Saturdays boat will await evening Toronto train. Meals served on board

Coboconk, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay.
MANITA
JULY 1st TO SEPT. 6th, or till notice

Coboconk	Lv 6 00 a m	Ar 7 40 p m
Rosedale	Lv 7 00 a m	Lv 6 40 p m
Fenelon Falls	Ar 7 40 a m	Lv 6 00 p m
Fenelon Falls	Lv 8 30 a m	Ar 5 20 p m
Sturgeon Pt.	Lv 9 00 a m	Lv 4 50 p m
Lindsay	Ar 10 30 a m	Lv 3 30 p m

Connections at Fenelon with morning train for Toronto and at Lindsay for Port Hope. Time at Fenelon for Breakfast and Tea.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.
"OGEMAH"
JULY 2nd TO SEPT. 6th or till notice

Bobcaygeon	Lv 7 00 a m	Ar 7 45 p m
Chemong	Lv 9 40 a m	Lv 5 30 p m
Buckhorn	Lv 11 45 a m	Lv 3 00 p m
Burleigh	Ar 12 45 p m	Lv 1 30 p m

Connections made at Burleigh Falls with Steamers for Lakefield and intermediate points. Meals served on board

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG, PORT HOPE, ROCHESTER, N. Y.
STEAMERS
"NORTH KING" AND "CASPIAN"
Daily Route Commencing June 29

SOUTH BOUND.
Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... ...3.00 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... ...3.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ....6.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... ......8.05 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.
Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets .... 9.00 a.m.
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester... ....9.45 a.m.
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... ......2.30 p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... ......3.30 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Evans Agent Port Hope

IF YOU WANT A CAMERA

Write for catalogue or information to the Canadian Camera Co, Toronto, both of which we will be pleased to

GIVE YOU FREE.

ALL GOODS WARRANTED.

When Victoria Was Crowned.

In the Marquis of Lorne's "Life" of Queen Victoria there is a chapter on the coronation now quite interesting in view of the much-discussed ceremony which is to take place in London in June. The former Governor-General's description of the pageant is too impressionistic to be very effective, but the following account of the ceremony, given by Lady Wilhelmina Stanhope, one of the trainbearers of the Queen, who later became the Duchess of Cleveland, is very amusing. She writes:

The Queen looked very well and was perfectly composed. She wore a circlet of splendid diamonds, and was dressed in gold tissue, over which was fastened a crimson velvet mantle, bordered with gold lace, and lined with ermine, with a long ermine cape, which very ponderous appendage we were to support. . . . We were all dressed alike, in white and silver. The effect was not, I think, brilliant enough in so dazzling an assembly, and our little trains were serious annoyances, for it was impossible to avoid treading upon them. We ought never to have had them; and there certainly should have been some previous rehearsing, for we carried the Queen's train very jerkily and badly, never keeping step properly, and it must have been very difficult for her to walk, as she did, evenly and steadily, and with much grace and dignity, the whole length of the Abbey.

The Abbey itself was a beautiful coup d'oeil, as we marched up amid thunders of applause and handkerchiefs and scarfs waving everywhere. The Queen acknowledged her reception very graciously. I think her heart fluttered a little as we reached the throne; at least, the color mounted to her cheeks, brow, and even neck, and her breath came quickly. However, the slight emotion she showed was very transient, and she stood perfectly motionless while the archbishop, in almost inaudible voice, proclaimed her our undoubted sovereign and liege lady. . . .

The burst of applause in the Abbey when the crown was placed on her head, and the sight of all the peers and peeresses crowning themselves at the same moment, was really most impressive, and in the midst of the cheering Handel's magnificent anthem, "The Queen Shall Rejoice!" thundered in. After this the Queen was enthroned, and we took up our station on the steps of the throne during the homage, and amused ourselves with watching Lord Surrey, the treasurer of the household, dispensing medals in the midst of a most desperate scramble, and nearly torn in pieces in the universal excitement. The pages were particularly active, and some of them collected ten or twelve medals apiece.

I saw little of the homage. The Duke of Wellington was prodigiously cheered. Lord Rolle fell down, and was carried away by two strong peers. . . . After the homage, we returned with the Queen to the chapel, where her mantle—now a purple one—was fastened on, and we waited for three-quarters of an hour for the procession to form in the same manner as on entering the Abbey.

The Queen complained of a headache from having the crown very ceremoniously knocked by most of the peers—one actually clutched hold of it; but she said she had guarded herself from any accident or misadventure by having it made to fit her head tightly. She had, besides, to bear the heavy orb and sceptre across the Abbey; but when she reached the robing-room, she disembarrassed herself of them, unclasped her mantle, took off her crown, and having got rid of all her royalty, sat down on the sofa and amused herself. We, too, were allowed to sit down for the first time.

But her day of fatigue was not yet over, for she had to entertain one hundred persons at dinner in the palace.

The Duke of Wellington had a great ball at Apsley House, two thousand persons having been invited, the cabinet ministers gave state dinners. Illuminations, fireworks, a fair in Hyde Park, and free admission to the theatres were provided for the gratification of Her Majesty's subjects in London. There was no accident of any importance, except in one case, where a balloon made a bad descent. The House of Commons voted $350,000 on account of the coronation, a very small sum when compared with the large amounts given for similar ceremonies abroad. A number of peers were created or raised a step in the peerage, among these being the father of General Lord Methuen, and twenty-nine baronets, among them Lytton Bulwer and William Herschell.

Mystifying the Audience.

At the first production of Augustus Thomas's dramatization of Richard Harding Davis's "Soldiers of Fortune," at New Haven, Robert Edeson, the star, made the first speech to the cheering Yale boys. Then there were calls for Richard Harding Davis, author of the novel, and Augustus Thomas, who had dramatized it. A large, smooth-shaven man, who tallied with the descriptions of the novelist, appeared and thanked the students for their kind reception of his book in play form, said he hoped it would awaken new interest in the book, enlarging its sale, and that he would like to have Mr. Thomas dramatize his latest novel, "In the Fog," which name he impressed upon possible buyers. About a third of the audience knew that the man who had represented himself to them as Davis was really Mr. Thomas. The rest saw the joke when Mr. Davis came out and said: "Of course this reception is very gratifying, but I don't think my dramatization of Mr. Davis's story is particularly good. But then, to a man who has written a play like 'Arizona,' that has been successful all over America, and recently was praised by the King and Queen of England, dramatizing a novel by a mere Richard Harding Davis seems unimportant and trivial."

The panic in the diamond market is growing worse instead of better. It is now almost impossible to get No. 1 whites in carload lots; No. 1 blues can be obtained only in bushel lots; and No. 1 straws are no longer quoted, except by the peck.—Chicago "Tribune."

Penelope—Mercy! Why did Mabel ever marry that young Slimkins? He's such a poor excuse of a man! Ann—Well, a poor excuse is better than none.—Chicago "Daily News."

Mainly About People.

Dr. Parr, on meeting Lord Chancellor Erskine, with whom he was friendly, once said: "Erskine, I mean to write your epitaph when you die." "Doctor," answered the great lawyer, "it is almost a temptation to commit suicide."

At a ball in the country a gentleman undertook to introduce a companion to a young but somewhat stout lady, who seemed to be pining for a dance. "No, thanks, old fellow; I don't care to waltz with a cart." A few evenings later the same young lady, who had overheard the conversation, beheld the young man seeking an introduction and asking if he might have the honor, etc. "No, thank you," she replied; "I may be a cart, but I am not a donkey cart."

A rich Irish-American, who frequently visits England and dearly loves a lord, loses no opportunity of talking of his great acquaintances. At a recent dinner party in New York, where there were several Roman Catholics, during a conversation on the subject of fasting, this gentleman said: "It is very strange how little Catholics in the higher ranks mind the fast days. I was dining at the Duke of Norfolk's on a fast day, three weeks ago, and there wasn't a bit of fish at dinner." "I suppose," said another Irishman, "they had eaten it all in the dining-room."

John D. Rockefeller recently told the following story: "I don't question the veracity of that story, but I am going to tell you one that I know to be true. It happened down in Washington. A negro was driving a wagon and in going through a street ran against a funeral. With the superstition of his race he thought it would be bad luck to cross behind the funeral, so he tried to cross ahead of it, but the driver of the hearse whipped up his horse, and the two went neck and neck for a time until finally the darkey sang out: 'Say, dah, pull up youah hoss! Mah boss is in a hurry an' yuah's isn't!'"

Judge Pennypacker of Philadelphia tells a story which shows the readiness of the Pennsylvania Dutchman to obey those in authority: In 1864 Sheridan, under orders, burned every barn from a valley above Staunton to a certain point below Winchester. A band of angry rebels followed this raid, watching for a chance to pick up any stragglers. Among others who fell into their hands was a little Pennsylvania Dutchman, who quietly turned to his captors and enquired: "Vat you fellows going to do mit me?" The reply came short and sharp: "Hang you." "Vell," he said, meekly, "vatever is de rule." His good-natured reply threw the Confederates into a roar of laughter and saved his life.

One day last autumn Bennet Burleigh, the noted English special war correspondent, was encountered a few miles outside Pretoria by that volcanic rhetorician, General Tucker. "What the —— —— are you doing out here with that —— thing?" asked the general, pointing to a kodak which was slung round his shoulders. "Well, sir," promptly replied Mr. Burleigh, "I was intending to take some photographs; but had I known that I was to have the pleasure of meeting you I should have brought out a phonograph." At this audacity, it is said that even General Tucker's stock of sulphurous adjectives ran low.

Gilbert Parker, to illustrate the gullibility of some Englishmen in the colonies, recently told the following story: "Once in Australia on my way through the bush, with my friend Cabbage Tree Bill, we were accompanied by a burly and intelligent young gentleman from Devonshire, and as we came along we saw along the road, if it might be called a road, a young kangaroo. Bill said: 'Now wait a minute; you will see him take the letters.' The kangaroo was sitting up as if waiting for something, and Bill said, 'He has his pouch and everything ready to carry them,' but as we came along Bill snapped his whip and said, 'Nothing to-day,' and the kangaroo trotted off, the young gentleman believing for a great part of the rest of the journey that the object of the kangaroo's presence was as Bill had said."

John Philip Sousa, the bandmaster, usually wears his uniform at all times and seasons, and prefers that his men do the same. The practice has led to some very amusing experiences. For example, one night Mr. Sousa was standing in a railway station, on the platform, waiting for a train. A belated traveler ran up to him and asked, excitedly: "Has the nine-three train pulled out?" "I really don't know," responded Mr. Sousa. "Well, why don't you know?" shouted the traveler. "What are you standing here for like a stick of wood? Aren't you a conductor?" "Yes," said Mr. Sousa, pleasantly, "I am a conductor." "A nice sort of conductor, indeed!" exclaimed the man. "Well, you see," smilingly responded the musician, "I am not the conductor of a train, but of a brass band."

The Retort Cordial.

Counsel for the defendant (sarcastically)—You're a nice fellow, aren't you? Witness for the plaintiff (cordially)—I am, sir, and if I were not on my oath I'd say the same of you.—"Tit-Bits."

Beggars Can't Be Choosers.

Aunt Amandy—Hain't yew ashamed ter kum around here beggin'? Onnie Way—Well, dis ain't a werry 'risterkratic neighborhood, for a fact, but we mustn't be too pertickler, mum.—Chicago "News."

The Inferior Sex.

First Small Scholar—Please, miss, we've got such a beautiful cat, and she's just had some kittens.

Second ditto—Please, miss, our cat's a beauty, too; but (regretfully) he doesn't lay.—"Punch."

A woman's broken heart mends beautifully if it is attended to at once.—Ex.

"How is this? You have charged me twice the usual price for shaving." "My razor was dull, and it took me twice as long."—New York "Weekly."

Barber—That's strange. You say you have been here before. I don't seem to remember your face. Victim—Probably not. You see, it has all healed up now.—Glasgow "Evening Times."

$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO. LIMITED.

Model 169

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made of our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black. Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c. Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

SANTAL-MIDY

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO Sir J. A. Boyd, K.C.M.G. President.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression

MAUDE MASSON, Principal.

Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture

CALENDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.

APIOL & STEEL PILLS

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50 from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria, British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

R-I-P-A-N-S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of a R-I-P-A-N-S Tabule. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

Advertise in The Times.

RUSSIA'S POLICY IN THE FAR EAST

Opposed to the "Open Door" Trading in China

Special to The Times.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—In an editorial article the Novoe Vremya unreservedly opposes the "open door" policy, which it characterizes as merely the exploitation of weaker nations by a stronger nation, regardless of the consequences. The paper says the "open door" policy caused the "Boxer" movement in China, and it will occasion unpleasantness in Persia. Russia cannot endure mischief making on her frontier, and, unlike Western nations, Russia has never been impelled forward by commercial motives. On the contrary, in the East the Russian flag stands for Christian love and mercy, and Russia is always willing and ready not to disturb national characteristics or local religious customs.

GOD SAVE THE KING!

God save our Gracious King,
Long live our Noble King,
God Save the King.
Send him victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us—
God Save the King!

Thy choicest gifts in store
On him be pleased to pour—
Long may he reign.
May he defend our laws
And ever give us cause
To sing with heart and voice
God Save the King.

The strongest testimony yet given of the humanity used by the British toward the Boers in the South African concentration camps comes from Mr. W. R. Townsend, a New Yorker, who has specially investigated the matter. He visited seven of the camps, six of them in company with the United States Consul-General, W. R. Bingham, the object of the latter being to find the best use to be made of a fund collected in Chicago for the relief of the Boer women and children. Mr. Townsend says that he was permitted everywhere to question the prisoners freely and to see all that there was to see. He found none of the terrible things about which he had read before leaving home. On the contrary, the conditions in the camps were excellent, the food was good and abundant, and the inmates, if not happy, at least had more material comforts than many of them were accustomed to.

(Toledo Bee.)

It's out west where they have experiences. An editor out that way tells his troubles in these few expressive lines: "A new clerk in the drug store sold us a bottle of aqua fortis for whisky the other day by mistake. We thought there was something peculiar about it when we were drinking it, for every time we heaved a sigh we set fire to our whiskers."

London, June 27.—A despatch to the Graphic from Sebastopol says it is reported at the Black Sea naval headquarters there that some of the seamen and gunners on the gunboat Teretz have mutinied and murdered several of their officers. The report is not yet confirmed. The Teretz is a vessel of 1,000 tons burden and carried a company of 300 men.

King Edward is a hero—made of the same stuff of which British battlefield heroes are made. He suffered terrible pain for days, and carried himself calmly and smilingly while Death was at work at his vitals—that his people might not be disappointed of their pleasure!

Nurse Jane Toppan confesses that she poisoned thirty-one persons whom she was attending in a professional way, and insists that she is not insane. This is one of the occasions when the court ought not to be so impolite as to contradict a lady.

The Emperor of Germany is said to have had a narrow escape last week. It seems that when His Majesty heard that many of the jewels in the British crown had turned out to be rhinestones he nearly died from laughter.

• • • •

seriousness of his trouble and that his "entourage had calmly and flatly denied that his condition was anything but good" serves to destroy confidence in the hopeful reports which are given out at this writing of the royal patient's state.

• • • •

The Switzerland of America.

The above caption is particularly appropriate to the region in the "Highlands of Ontario" known as "The Lake of Bays" district. It is replete with natural beauty and loveliness, and comprises some of the most beautiful water stretches and picturesque landscapes for which the locality is becoming so famous with the ever increasing army of tourists. The scenic grandeur of hill and mountain, the placid beauty of the lakes, the lovely rivers, are not surpassed in any country. One thousand feet above sea level. No Hay Fever, absence of flies, splendid speckled trout fishing, and good bathing and boating assured. Handsome illustrated descriptive matter giving full particulars can be had for the asking by applying to M. C. Dickson, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

Where They Flourish.

Crawford—If you're not going out to buy a new hat, but merely to look at them, what do you want with a dollar? Mrs. Crawford—Why, you can't get a decent seat at the matinee for less than a dollar.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, ENG. | Send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature, Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 384 pages, and all the original illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 338 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.") This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 332 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE. A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE

An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and coloured wrapper. Price Sixpence. 150 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 357 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 338 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.

Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough.

ASK FOR THE
ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, using the immortal Pryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips, cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S
ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings Medicine Co
[illegible] YONGE ST., TORONTO

King Edward VII.
Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

Lead and
Small Black Tin Pipe

WILLIAM STREET, TORONTO.

NERVOUSNESS

Or despondency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early abuse, later excesses or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not eke out a miserable existence on account of your follies, you are not safe until cured—nature never excuses—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water comes freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not make it quite so freely, it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have a mucous deposit or brick dust colored sediment; give your condition immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed as a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you

PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chances. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., Cor. Wilcox Street, DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up) ...... $[illegible]
Reserved Fund ...... [illegible]
Undivided Profits ...... [illegible]

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend for the three months ending 30th June, 1902, being at the rate of

6 PER CENT.

per annum, has this day been declared upon the capital stock of this institution, and that the same will be payable at the office of the company, Peterborough, Ontario, on and after

Wednesday, the 2nd day of July next.

The transfer books will be closed from the 17th to the 30th of June both days inclusive.

By order of the board.

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterboro, 6th June, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL

BARRISTERS

OFFICE—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

HENRY S. MARA. ALBERT W. TAYLOR

Mara & Taylor

Members Toronto Stock Exchange

STOCK BROKERS. 5 TORONTO ST

Orders promptly executed on the Toronto, Montreal and New York Exchanges

JOHN STARK & CO.

26 TORONTO ST. TORONTO.

Stocks Bought and Sold

ON TORONTO, MONTREAL AND NEW YORK EXCHANGES

Correspondence Invited.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, Barristers and Solicitors, [illegible] Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office [illegible] Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck, R. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton, C. B. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

FRY, [illegible] Park Street—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo. A. FRY [illegible] Park Street.

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE-PROOF COMPO [illegible] than [illegible]; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 13 Toronto Street Toronto

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & electricians, new 40 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board of Engineers. Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, Publisher, St. Louis.

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. [illegible] George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No. [illegible] corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

Childrens' Aid Society

CHILDRENS' AID SOCIETY [illegible]—for the care of neglected and ill-treated children. Incorporated by Act of Legislature [illegible]. Information requested. Names kept strictly private. Office hours 10 to 11 a.m., 4 to 5 p.m. George Cochrane, agent and assistant secretary. Office Division Court Building.

A CANADIAN FIRST CLIMBED MONT PELEE

Went to Take Photographs for a New York Concern

SAYS HEILPRIN WAS SECOND

Three Eruptions Took Place While They Were on the Mountain—Drenched By Heavy Rain

Woodstock, Ont., June 27.—A Woodstock boy was the first person to ascend to the top of Mont Pelee after the eruption. He was Edward Leadbeater, son of W. E. Leadbeater, of this city, who is taking photos for a large New York in taking photos for a large New York Leadbeater just after the eruption of Mont Pelee, and went direct from Woodstock to Martinique. A letter received last night by his father, dated Fort de France, Martinique, June 4, is in part as follows: "I just write a line to let you know I am all right down here. After the fine ocean trip the contrast of going into the city of 40,000 dead was very great. Old Mont Pelee was pouring out smoke that went over two miles up in the air and stones and ashes were flying around everywhere. It was not till June 2 that we left to start up the mountain. I ascended from the northeast side, and was the first to reach the top and planted a stake with my name and date on it. The next up was Prof. Heilprin, of Philadelphia. We stayed over night taking views. While we were there it started to rain. Talk about rain, you don't know what rain is. It came down in just one solid mass of water; we could not see ten feet ahead of us. Then the thunder and lightning started, and it was like ten thousand Canadian thunderstorms thrown into one. There were three eruptions of the volcano while we were there, and then the wind shifted, so we could get a view of the old crater and across to the new one, showing the smoke and gases ascending. We were wet to the skin and soon had to descend. I intend to make several more trips up.

A PATHETIC INCIDENT

How a Traveller Who Was Ill Saved His Own Life

A representative of this great family journal was on his way to Toronto the other day. Two seats in front of him in the car sat a tall man who was sick all over. His face was the color of the last leaf in a hymn book and his knees had a side motion which made walking very difficult for him. He laid himself out in the car and his wife came in and covered him up with the family shawl. It was whispered around that he might not live to the end of the journey and sadness filled the car and the porter secured a little rest. When a train man went through he took off his cap and when a new passenger got on he kept on his coat.

This lasted until the advance agent for the dining car came in and quietly announced that the cook had supper ready. This was where the sick man got well. He threw the shawl half way across the car and jumped in front of a cattle man in his haste to get into the dining car, and he was the first one there and ordered supper enough for a baseball club. The waiter brought in what he could in two loads, and the man began to eat and his wife who had rescued the shawl, began passing him things he could not reach. The man's appetite saved his life, and after supper there seemed to be a better feeling all round as the well sick man lit one cigar after another and told the cattle man how he made five thousand dollars in fifteen minutes buying sheep.

In a Scott Act District

(Halifax Chronicle.)

Without even the pretense of disguise so far as I can learn, Annapolis uses the Scott act as a license law. The town has a population of 1,200. It has six regular places of sale, the proprietors of which are impartially fined "for the first offense" about three or four times a year. For the rest, they are left alone as long as they conduct their business respectably, and in accordance with tacitly understood regulations. This, it is said, they do. Drunkenness is alleged to be almost unknown in the town. I am informed that there is no excessive drinking. One gentleman, himself a total abstainer, told me that he could think of no one in the town who, by any stretch of imagination, could be classified as a drunkard. I myself saw scarcely any evidence of drinking of any sort. The puzzle of it is how the six sellers, one to each of the 200 population, can find it profitable to sell after paying their periodical fines which amount to from $150 to $200 each year.

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings. IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers
Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody,
Her Royal Highness, Lady
Mary of the Dark
House, etc.

To my relief he rose from his humble posture and stood before me, looking down, veiled excitement in his face.

"Speaking of King Cophetua," he went on, "reminds me of a story—the story of a beggar maid. Once upon a time there was a man who had been poor all his life. And there was a girl who had been rich. Suddenly they changed places, though she was left in ignorance. The man loved the girl, who was very beautiful and so indifferent in her manner to him that he, who was not used to indifference from other women, was piqued into desiring to win her even more ardently than he would otherwise. He had wanted her when he believed himself poor and the girl rich. But when the change came, he loved her just as much. And to show his love, instead of saying: 'You have lost everything. Come to me, who can give it all back,' he would have concealed the truth, if she would have let him, for a time at least, until she had grown accustomed to the idea that the best happiness of her life must come from him. Do you think that he was a man of honor or a quixotic fool?"

"He might have been—neither one nor the other," I answered, firmly, though my heart had begun to beat very fast. "Perhaps he was only—posing."

"You are a cynic, my child," Roger said, calmly. But his beautifully arched brows drew together in a frown.

"What has your story to do with me?" I asked.

"Everything, with both you and me."

I looked up quickly; our eyes met and dwelt. A slight shiver ran through my body. What was coming now? I felt as if I was standing on the edge of a precipice, knowing that Roger would push me over and I should not be able to resist.

"You are serious?"

"Most serious. This is what was in my mind when I asked if Aunt Ermyntrude had spoken at the last of the circumstances of your birth. This was in her mind, perhaps, when she told you it would make her happy if you could learn to care for me."

"Please don't try to break it gently, Roger," I said, my lips very dry. "Tell me everything you know—straight out."

"I will, if you can bear it. You have been brought up to believe that you were born abroad. That is not the case."

"Oh, well, it is not important."

"My cousin, Sir Vincent Cope, was not your father."

"What, was my mother twice married, then?"

"My Aunt Ermyntrude was not your mother."

I sprang up with a faint, choking cry. "It is not true!" I panted.

"It is true, and it can easily be proved. I am not the only one who knows it. There are other witnesses in whose mouths the truth shall be established. There is not a drop of Cope blood in your veins, poor little desolate Sheila."

"Desolate, indeed!" I bitterly echoed. "If it be true—oh, I will grant it true, if you choose!—why was I never told before? Why was I left to hear it from you?"

"Why should I not be the one to tell you, as tenderly as such a hard thing can be told? Had Aunt Ermyntrude lived you would have been kept in ignorance at least until your marriage. Then it would have been as your husband thought best. Ah, Sheila, how I would have protected and shielded you if you would have let me! Even yet it's not too late. Look at me; I'm holding out my arms to you. Don't go away into the world homeless, penniless. Stay in this shelter and you will not miss anything that was ever yours."

"Homeless — penniless!" I echoed, dazedly. "I don't understand."

"If Aunt Ermyntrude had left a will, she would, doubtless, have provided for you as a daughter," Roger went on, slowly. "Had she done so I must have known it, for I was her lawyer, and managed all business matters for her, as you are probably aware. Once or twice, thinking of some such difficulty as this, I ventured to advise her to make a will. But she always evaded me and put it off. This place was her property. She was a rich woman, with an income of ten or twelve thousand pounds a year; and had you been her daughter by ties of blood as well as affection, everything must have gone to you in the absence of a will, as you would have been the natural heir. No one else could have claimed an acre or a penny. But as it is you are not a relation at all, and you will get nothing. Everything goes by law to the next-of-kin, Aunt Ermyntrude's one living relative."

"Yourself!" I exclaimed.

"Exactly. Don't blame me, Sheila. I did not make the law."

"No, but——"

"But what?"

"Nothing," I said, dully.

I had been on the point of crying out: "You might refuse to accept what the law gives." But I stopped just in time. I would have died sooner than ask or receive favors from Roger Cope. I never trusted or liked him. Now, almost stunned as I was by the blow with which he had struck me, I saw him as he was—a hypocrite, a poseur; vain, utterly selfish, utterly unscrupulous in gaining his own ends. I had lost everything; mother, home, and means of support, but I would have nothing from him. I could not yet fully realize what the revelation of this morning must mean for me. So far I only felt the pain of knowing that the beautiful woman I had worshipped and feared had never belonged to me at all. And in my misery, like some wretched little animal caught in a trap, my impulse was to bite the hand nearest. I turned on Roger.

CHAPTER VII.

I Arrive at a Momentous Decision.

"I can understand well enough," I exclaimed, bitterly, "why you should have wished to marry me if I had been the heiress that people have thought me. But why do you want me now?"

Roger waved his hand towards a great mirror that went from floor to ceiling, on the wall of the "Indian boudoir."

"Look at yourself," he said.

Mechanically, hardly knowing what I did, I looked. Never before had I been critical of myself. But now I gazed searchingly at my own face—the one fortune that was left me.

I was beautiful. Even I could see that. As I grew older, my hair might change its young gold for autumn brown; but it was yellow as ripe wheat now, brown only in the shadows, where the waves curved inward. And my eyes were big, and dark, and soft. Suddenly, I felt very sorry for myself, because I was so pretty, and only eighteen; because I seemed to have left youth and happiness forever behind me, and there was no one whom I loved or had a claim upon to put kind arms round me, and let me cry my heart out on a sympathetic breast.

Tears sprang to my eyes, but I crushed them back. Roger Cope should not see me cry.

"I want you because you are the prettiest girl, and some day will be the most beautiful woman on earth," cried Roger, speaking more warmly and impulsively than I had ever heard him speak. "I want you, too, because you are hard to win; and I have always liked overcoming difficulties. Sooner or later, I warn you, Sheila, I will overcome this one, and you with it. I will! You might as well yield to the inevitable now."

"It isn't inevitable. And I won't yield," I stoutly maintained. "You haven't proved any of your statements yet."

"I will, soon enough; or, rather, I can. But if you will promise to marry me, sweet, no one need ever know. You will marry as Miss Sheila Cope of Arrish Mell Court; and I will come here to live, as your husband—"

"You will come here to live, it may be, but not as my husband," I cut him short. "I shall have gone away before that."

"Where would you go?" Roger asked, curiously, almost incredulously.

"The world's a big place," I retorted, my voice quivering with the sobs that would not quite be kept back. One tore its way up from my heart; and, with two great tears running down my cheeks, I exclaimed: "Oh, if there were only somebody whom I belonged to!"

Roger took a step forward, and put out his hand, but I pushed it from me; and his blue eyes flashed their resentment. "I believe," he said, quietly, in the drawl which had so often stung me to impatience, "that there are several persons with whom you are entitled to claim kinship, if you choose."

I dashed my tears away, and gazed at him eagerly. "Tell me—tell me!" I cried. "How was it that my moth—that Lady Cope took me as her own child?"

"She was very unhappy at the time. Five years before she had lost her little son, whom she and her husband both adored. He died in most tragic circumstances, which changed his mother's whole nature. Sir Vincent and Aunt Ermyntrude went abroad. There Sir Vincent died also, and poor Aunt Ermyntrude came back—not to her old home, but to London. She undertook various charitable works, and it was while she was giving up her life to the interests of others that she met your mother."

"My mother!" I echoed, in a whisper. For a moment I was powerless to ask more; but Roger went on, without waiting for my questions.

"Your mother was also a widow, and very poor. You were her only child, but she had been ill, among other misfortunes, and was hardly able to provide for you. Aunt Ermyntrude saw you—a pretty little thing a few months of age; and, taking a great fancy to you, in her loneliness, offered to adopt you as her own. Your mother finally consented, and as Aunt Ermyntrude had been living abroad for several years with her husband, and her presence in London had been known to none, nobody was particularly surprised when she came home at last with a baby not quite a year old.

"I knew the truth from the first, because I had visited Cousin Vincent and Aunt Ermyntrude abroad, and knew that they had no child, so I had to be told. And the vicar, old Mr. Westerley, was told also, but we were both asked to keep the secret, and we always have."

"You said that some of my people were still alive," I said, in a strained voice.

"Your mother is living," Roger quietly answered. "I have been at some pains to keep track of her—for Aunt Ermyntrude's sake, of course."

Somehow I did not believe that it had been for anyone's sake but his own, and for some purpose which I seemed to be on the point of discovering.

"I have your mother's present address, if you wish to write her, Sheila," Roger said. "Shall I give it to you?"

"Yes," I said, "I want the address. But before writing, I should like to see Mr. Westerley. You told me that—he knew the secret also."

"He does," Roger answered, gravely. "And you shall see him. I understand what is in your mind. You believe that I am deceiving you. Well, it is natural, perhaps—though it's hard to be misjudged by the woman one loves. In the mouths of two witnesses, it is said, a truth shall be established; and the sooner you hear what Mr. Westerley can add to my statement, the better I shall be pleased. Not—I wouldn't have you think that for a moment!—not that I'm not only too glad to have you stay here as long as you will, even if we are to be nothing to each other."

"I will send a carriage down to Lull, and ask Mr. Westerley to come out at once," I cried; then bit my lip. The carriages were Roger's. But I let it pass. Until I was sure I would grant myself some privileges, with the benefit of the doubt.

Roger rang the bell, and then came back to me. From his pocket he took a sealed envelope. "The address you wanted," he explained. "I will go and leave you alone now. I can see that you would prefer that. After Mr. Westerley has ben with you, and gone away again, you shall have a little time to think. Then I will come back, and you shall tell me what decision you have reached. It may be that you will look upon matters with a different eye. At all events, remember that while you have me you are not friendless."

He held out his hand, and though I felt the impulse to refuse it, I would not, lest he should think it was be-

To be Continued

A GOOD RUBBING with ST. JACOBS OIL WILL CURE a CHEST COLDS

[illegible]

ST. JACOBS OIL, LTD., BALTIMORE.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year

Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the superb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE

GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co

LIMITED

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will offer suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month. We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at 40c
Suspenders 15c
Overalls, with bib, at 48c
Smocks, at 60c

Ready-to-wear suits and trousers at a bargain. Call early and get first chance

F. M. COBB

Ladies and Gent's Tailor

One door south of Montreal Bank.

Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S,

HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

Holiday Seekers

can have the

"TIMES"

Sent to any address in Canada or the United States FREE of postage. Drop a card or telephone 164.

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

SWEATY FEET
SORE FEET
ACHING FEET
BLISTERED FEET
HOT FEET
INFLAMED FEET
SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

Shun any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper article.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING

-AND-

MALTING CO., Ltd.

If you don't want a headache in the morning, drink only the pure Ales and Stout of the PORT HOPE BREWING CO. over night.

Try Them.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 30 1902

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—The rush for Stony Lake will now begin.

—The Sanitary Inspector is starting on his second round. Owners of premises are warned to have their places in readiness.

—The steamers Water Lily, Beaver, North Star and Rainbow were in port on Saturday from Rice Lake. They brought a large number of passengers and considerable freight.

—The Dragoons arrived home from camp on Saturday evening, and paraded from the Grand Trunk station to the Drill Shed.

—Rev. W. L. Armitage preached at both services in All Saint's yesterday. The subject in the morning was "St. Peter, the Apostle," and in the evening on "The Man who Helps."

Charlotte street Methodist Sabbath School will be held on Friday. They purpose going to Highland Park, per steamer Water Lily.

—Mr. Geo. Cochrane, President of the Stony Lake Cottager's Association returned from Toronto on Saturday where he was informed by Mr. Bastedo, Ontario Fish and Game Commissioner, that he intends forwarding one or two cars of live bass to Stony Lake early in July.

—A good fat pocketbook was picked up in a seat in one of the coaches of the Grand Trunk after the passengers had made their exit on Saturday morning. The owner was found and did not ever return her thanks when the purse was handed to her.

—Mary E. Lane, doing business as a a baker and confectioner, on George st., has assigned to Messrs. Stratton & Hall. It is understood that this is the outcome of a suit for breach of contract, for which judgment was given against her a few weeks ago.

CHURCH NOTES

—At Charlotte st. Methodist church Sunday School yesterday afternoon Miss Clara Bellegham sang "Beyond the Gates of Paradise," with orchestral accompaniment. The marked attention of the children was a most pleasing tribute to Miss Bellegham's singing which was enjoyed to the utmost by all present.

—Yesterday being St. Peter's Day, Rev. A. B. Langfeldt preached in St. Luke's in the morning on the Commission of Christ given to St. Peter. In the evening a flower service was held when the Sunday school children offered flowers to be sent to the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. The Rector preached a sermon on flowers.

—The members of Court Stanley, Ancient Order of Forester's, attended the George street church last night in a body, and listened to an eloquent and impressive sermon by Rev. Mr. Wilson the pastor.

—In the Baptist Church last night Rev. Mr. Bastow, of the Baptist church, preached a very impressive sermon on King Edward and King Jesus. There was a large attendance.

—Dr. Watson spoke at three meetings yesterday in Bethany Tabernacle, George street. His subjects were as follows: 11 a.m., Eagle Saints; 3.15 p.m., Foreign Missions; 7 p.m., The Coming of Christ.

—Services were conducted in Charlotte street church yesterday by Rev. J. Kilgour in the morning and Rev. Dr. Torrance in the evening.

—When a person advertises a stated reward for the return of a lost article or strayed animals, the man who returns the property, if necessary may sue for and obtain the reward. Such an advertisement has the force of a contract. This was the view of Judge Morrison in the Division Court Toronto, where an advertised reward of $10 not paid.

—Paul and Kitty De Vene are the latest sensation from Paris in the circus world. They ride what is called a "whirling act," and present a most unusual appearance. The young lady looks as if she might have just stepped out of a frame of one around of Gibson's girls, generally regarded as the typical high-bred American girl, instead of being a Parisian as she is. Much to the astonishment of everyone who sees her she rides in a full-length ball-room gown of white satin. Instead of tripping over its lengthy train and falling form her horse, she executes most difficult and artistic riding feats. They will be seen with these shows when they exhibit here on Tuesday, July 8th.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed Times]

—Hon. J. R. Stratton spent Sunday in town.

Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell left for Toronto this morning.

—Miss Clunan of town, is visiting Miss Connelly in Lindsay.

—Miss Bertha Jones is spending her holidays with friends in Lindsay.

—Mr. Alf. Crossland, of The Times' staff is away on a fortnight's vacation.

—Mr. Fred Darcy, of New York, arrived on Friday night and left on Saturday for a month's stay at Burleigh Falls hotel.

—Mr. and Mrs. Nugent opened their summer cottage at Stony Lake for the season on Saturday.

—Misses Maggie and Zella O'Neil left Saturday for a week's visit to friends in Uxbridge.

—Mrs. (Rev.) Adam and son, of Hastings, are in town, the guests of Mr. Geo. E. Elliott.

—Mrs. W. H. Hill and family have opened their Chemong cottage for the season.

—Miss Mattie Robertson is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Brandon, Fenelon Falls.

—Mr. M. Lounsbury, government road inspector, of Brantford, was in town on Saturday. He is inspecting the government highways in this locality.

—Miss Dickson, the popular secretary of the Y.W.C.A., left on Saturday for Fenelon Falls to join her parents at their summer cottage at Rosedale, Balsam Lake.

—Mrs. Reginald Capreol and Mrs. Percival F. Ridout, of Toronto, and Miss Marjorie MacGachan, of Winnipeg, are visiting Mrs. D. Hughes-Charles.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Holland and two charming little children, of Belleville, are in town spending a few days with his father, Mr. R. Holland, of Sherbrooke st.

—Mr. and Mrs. Woodruffe and their charming little daughter, Miss Marguerite, passed through Saturday night on their way to Stony Lake, where they will remain for the season, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nugent.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kirk, who have been in London, England, for the past seven years, have returned to Peterborough and will reside here. For the present they are staying with Mrs. Kirk's mother, Mrs. Edward Wall, Elizabeth st., Ashburnham.

—Mr. Horace Ayers, the efficient and popular Physical Director of the Y.M.C.A. here, has left to attend the international Y.M.C.A. summer school at Geneva N.Y. He will be absent about six weeks. The boys connected with the "Y" presented Mr. Ayers with a purse previous to his departure.

—Mr. J. Alex Culverwell was in town on Saturday and dropped in to see The Times. Mr. Culverwell has purchased the Healey Falls water power, below Hastings, on the Trent River. He has had a staff of engineers at work surveying the property. He has also purchased the Crow Bay Falls, near Campbellford. He left for Port Hope Saturday where he spent Sunday.

Toronto Conservatory of Music

The results of the examinations of Rudiments of Music, Harmony and History, recently held in Peterboro have just been received by Professor Davies and the results are again most gratifying, the whole of the seven candidates prepared by him having passed—six of them with honors.

The names are as follows:—

Primary, Harmony and Rudiments—Janet Wilson, Peterboro, Carrie Doxsee, Hastings, Lizzie Wilson, Hastings.

Jr. —2nd year—Harmony and Rudiments—Nellie Davies, Peterboro, Ethel B. Tully Peterborough, Jessie J. Anderson, Hastings.

Junior Harmony, Rudiments and History—Ethel G. Clarke, Peterborough.

Miss Clark and Miss Nellie Davies have received the excellent total of 100 per cent. on their Rudiments papers.

The examinations in practical music take place on July 2nd and 8th.

"PAPA MAKES MEDICINE"

And don't Allow People to Drink Coffee

My Papa says I may write you about his experience and observation about Postum Food Coffee.

Papa manufactures medicine for dyspepsia, and he says dyspepsia is often caused by drinking coffee. He says he don't allow anyone that has stomach trouble to use coffee, if he can prevent it, and that he advises them to use Postum Food Coffee. Says he uses it himself, for he knows from experience that it is good. Papa was sick for a long time with stomach trouble, it was caused by drinking coffee. We have used Postum Food Coffee for about two years, I know it is better for me than coffee, for I don't have the headaches I used to have when we used the other coffee.

There is lots of difference in Postum made good and Postum made bad. We must always have it made good now. Georgie Etta Vetter, Cleveland, Ohio.

MR. BLEZARD'S BATTLE

The Popular Ex-M.P.P., Has a Peculiar Adventure

The other day Mr. M. Tooley, the genial proprietor of the Queen's hotel, accompanied by two others, took a run down into Otonabee on a trout-fishing expedition. They were very successful having caught a fine string of speckled beauties.

When noon hour arrived they were visited by Mr. T. Blezard, ex-M.P.P., who with accustomed hospitality, at once invited them to his house, but on their declining his kind invitation he brought them a pitcher of milk.

It was when approaching with the milk through a field of heavy hay, that Mr. Blezzard met with an experince he will never forget. He came upon a family of skunks—a mother and eight cubs. Mr. Blezard stepped on the mother before he knew it and receivd a shock in return that made him sick. It also made him mad and he dropped the milk grabbed a club that was close by and sailed in. The skunks showed fight in their own peculiar way, but were soon overcome, and it was not until the whole family lay dead did Mr. Blezard desist. In the meantime the fishermen who were interested spectators of what was going on got a whiff of the odor of battle and like De Wet of South African fame, beat a hasty retreat.

To Increase Your Appetite

Nothing will stimulate a keen, healthy relish for food, insure good digestion and perfect assimilation like Ferrozone, which is the most successful tonic and health renewer known to medical science. Ferrozone is a positive cure for Anaemia, Impure Blood, Boils, Pimples, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all Stomach and Bowel troubles. Ferrozone cleanses, strengthens and purifies the blood. It invigorates the heart and nerves, banishes sickness and pain, and makes ailing people well. Try a box or two of Ferrozone, the result will be a surprise. Price 50c. at Druggists, or Ormond & Walsh.

Hamilton's Pills Cure Constipation.

No Paper Wednesday

To-morrow being Dominion Day there will be no issue of The Times on the day following.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROMOTIONS

Concluded from Page 1.

Todd, Lilian Cox, Herbert Rush.

Passed—Chester Frowde, Wallace Harris, Melville Wilson, Nettie Nell, Olive Kyle and Stella Blackburn Arthur Dawe Ethel Olliver, Florence Corcoran and Percy Johnston, Gordon Carter, Alkta Salisbury, John Evans.

From Sr. III to Jr. IV.

Passed—Archie Dryland, Alice Hardwick Carrie Barrett, Helen Harper, Edwad Wood, Marion Denne, Minnie Pearce, Charlie Gillow, Ethel Payton, Bruce

Jr. IV to Sr. IV.

Honors—Bessie Gillespie, Ethel Eagleson, and Letitia Elliott, Alan Munro, Ida Mulholland, Murray Nichol, Warden Brown, Willie Allen, Ada Richardson, and Charlie Ackerman, Stanley Gillespie, Barritt Rose, Mabel Wilson and Herbert Reed, Fred Haggart, Grace Clegg, Minnie Cuncannon, Hazel Huller and Norman Hatten, (equal), Lillian Dean, Mary Paterson, Mabel Hooper, Alice Williams, Percy Hooper, Edna Kemp, Vernon Lewis and Maud Gamble (equal), Ethel Lebar, Harold Wallis, Wilfrid Cox, Rosa Mulholland, Pearl Bullen and Charles Horfield, (equal), Katie Hamilton.

From Jr. 3rd to Senior 3rd.

Honors—Willie Hyde, Willie Gibson, Pearl Foster.

Passed—Maxie Concannon, Amie Hollan Ruben Laing and Lila Tully (equal), Harry Lloyd, Marion Lyle, Jennie Buyers, Hormon Killingbeck, Bruce Kemp Winnie Moss, Ida McIntosh, Fraser Macdonald, Hammie Nochols, Hazel Moore Harry McGill, Lillie Stecker, Firth Butler, Margaret Denoon.

From Sr. 2nd to Jr. 2nd

Passed—Joe Henderson, George Hyde, Hugh Darke, George Alexander, Melville, Armstrong, Pearl Haskill, Geo. Minorgan, Electa Strong, Charlie Pogul, Edgar Lebar, Roy Penrose, David Hatton, Herb. Moore, Mabel Williams, Lillian Harris, Willie Taylor, Rotha Sherwood.

From Jr. II to Sr. II.

Honors—Herbert Mowat.

Passed—Pearl Lloyd, Jennie Saunders, Fred. Robertson, Walter Johnston and Garnet Tovey(equal), Winnie Armstrong, Alfred Gilbert, Hazel Huffman, Gillespie Stewart, Ernest Gibson, Marjory Latimer, Ernest Lowes, Fred Allen Martin Libby and Amy Wise (equal) Ida Eagleson, Alice Hillier, Arthur McGill, Henry Walker.

Sr. Pt. II to Jr. II.

Passed—Irene Edwards and Sophie Elliott (equal), Laura Kincaid, Pearl Payton Maggie Alexander, Ethel Killingbeck, and Viola Booth(equal), Edna Stapleton, Sheldon Huffman, Norman Lewis, Maggie Williams, Herman Huffman, Ada Barrie, Lottie Nicholls, Lena Snow, Harry Evans.

Jr. Pt. II to Sr. Pt. II

Honors—Florence Bartley.

Passed—Ernest Dummitt, Charlotte Dummitt, Grace Huffman, Martha Williams, Maggie Bayers, Everett Cawthrone, Myra White, Nellie Mather, Frank Irwin, Lucy Brewer, Willie Sheppard, Pearl Chambers, Arthur McWilliams, Mortimer Mowry, Mildred Martin, Edward Taylor.

From Jr. Pt. II to Sr. Pt. II

Passed—Ethel Holt, May McGill, Mina Throop.

From Sr. Pt. I to Jr. Pt. II.

Honors—Morley Kincaid, Eleanor Latimer, Charlie Eagleson, Pearl Pogue, Frank Barrie.

Passed—Christina Sherwood, Ethel Sheppard, Fred. Hooper, Geraldine Byers, Herbert Allen, Leta Scott, Daniel Bynon Walter Vass, Everet Laing, Grant Latimer, Fred Board and Cecil Armstrong (equal), Ida Myers, Vera Sargent, Walter Akey, John Henry, Grace Naylor Howard Cranfield and Madeline Foster (equal.)

From Jr. Pt. I to Sr. Pt. I.

Hazel Gillespie, Florence Sherwood, Bertha Cawthorne, Lottie Fair, Ella Derrick, Mary Houston, Mutius Clement.

Charlie Haskill, Lillie Booth, Albert Dryland, Harold Colby, Olga Johnston, Geo. James, Carlyle Quinn, Robert Hyde, Clifford Sargent, Arnold Hewson, Gertie Rush, Evelyn Stewart, Willie Hillier Wilbert Fawcett, Helen Macdonald, Annie Christie, Hilda Davidson, Jessie Holt, George Graham,—26.

DARNARDO AVENUE SCHOOL.

Sr. 3rd to Jr. 4th.

Honors—Eva Stevenson.

Pass—Angela Armstrong, May Merrel, Melville Hartley, Percy Stock, Helen Armstrong, Wilbert Regan, Norman Allison, Violet Cameron, Florence Mitchell, Albert Gray.

Jr. 3rd to Senior 3rd.

Pass—Leslie Daly, Willie Saxby, Kathleen Merrell, Fred. Lowes, Nelson Tamblin, Tom Fitzgerald, Reginald Duggan Albert Dredge, Ethel Kennedy.

Sr. 2nd to Sr. 3rd.

Honors—Violet Copeland, Frankie Smith erbert McCrae; Jack Daly, Minnie Squair, Maxwell McClelland, Wallace Armstrong, James McElewain, Alfred McNaughton.

Passed—Melville Turner, Bertha Stevenson, Mitchell Hart, James Eyres and Ralph Moore, (equal), Daisy Flannery, Annie Stevenson, Arthur Greer, Sophia Hartley.

Jr. II to Sr. II.

Honors—Vera Peters, Willie Thornton Herbie Stock, Arthur Howson, Hazel Billings, George Pickles, Gordon Ellis Roy Parnall, Percy Dredge.

Passed — Ruby Hart, Myrtle Duggan, Ethel Regan, Willie Succee.

Sr. Pt. II to Jr. II.

Honors—Nellie Benton, Mabel Pringle, Pearl Moore.

Passed—Pearl Jackson, Ethel Stevenson, Norman Saxby, Blanche Hart, Robbie Merrell, Charles Bellegham, Sherlock Thompson, Irene Herridge, Alexander Brumwell, Roy Allison, Esther Davidson, Birdie Partridge.

Jr. Pt. II to Sr. Pt. II.

Honors—Lawrence Carter, Emily Trotter.

Passed—Irene Brumwell, John Valois, Stella Duggan, Aleck Darling, Vincent Davidson, Marion Kendry, Edith Fitzpatrick, Dolphus Chalten, Alice Clegg, Eva. Flannery.

Sr. Pt I to Sr. Pt II.

Honors—Iva McNaughton, Carol Johnston, Mabel Hawley, Melville Succe, Willie Wilkins, Millie Warnes, Gladys Hewie, Erena Milligan.

Passed—Ida Trotter, Jennie Fitzgerald, Stanley Long, Elsie Stevenson, Max. Patterson, Eva Hartley, Walter Jackson, Viola Davidson, Stanley Godfrey, Winnie Brooks, Bessie Carter, Walter Mahaffey.

Jr. Pt. I to Sr. Part II.

Carl Baker, Flossie Hall, Vera Collinson, Lottie Saxby, Pearl Crowter, Hattie Gray.

Gough Bro's.

375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25, $1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for.......1.25
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75, for..$1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00 for.......... 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c

STRAW HATS! STRAW HATS!

Plain Straw Hat............10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims,...50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats....75c, $1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape..$1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

Help Wanted.

SERVANT GIRL WANTED—A girl that knows how to cook. Good wages. Mrs. J. J. McBain, 304 King street.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $10 to $30 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 41 and 46 Broadway, New York.

APPRENTICE WANTED to learn the printing business. Apply at this office.

GIRL WANTED at once to learn book binding. Apply at the Times Bookstore, George Street.

DINING ROOM GIRL and good cook wanted. Apply to D. FOLEY, care H. Calcutt Ashburnham. Wages from $10 to $20 per month.

DOMESTICS WANTED.

We can secure situations in respectable families for the following domestic help. Six general servants, two chambermaids, two good cooks and one nurse girl. Wages from $8 to $20 per month. Apply at The Times Bookstore.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

A visit to our Showroom will convince you that we carry the best assortment of

HAMMOCKS

in town.

Prices from $1.00 to $6.00

J. J. TURNER & SONS

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333.
Peterborough, Ont

Too Busy to Write Ads., Because:

The bargains we are giving in Houses and Lots, Garden Lots and Farms, of all sizes and prices, and the easy terms our long experience enables us to arrange for our buyers, keeps our entire staff hustling from early morning until late at night and still our work is only well begun, as new properties are being listed daily. All are invited to our New Ground Floor Office, so convenient to call when you go to the Post Office, or call up phone 376 for any information desired regarding REAL ESTATE.

T. HURLEY & CO.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL; GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

GET OUR PRICES

STEEL BEARING

C. WILSON & SON
81 ESPLANADE STREET EAST
TORONTO.

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

DOMINION DAY

JULY 1ST.

Return tickets will be issued between al stations in Canada; all stations in Canada and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., AND TO but not from Buffalo, N. Y., Black Rock N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Susp Bridge, N. Y., at

Single First-Class Fare

GOOD GOING JUNE 30th AND JULY 1st, valid return until July 2nd, 1902.

Single First-Class Fare & One-Third

GOOD GOING JUNE 28th to JULY 1st, inclusive valid for return on or before July 3rd.

Independence Day, July 4

Return tickets will be issued from stations in Canada, Belleville and west, except north Orillia and west of Chatham, at

SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

to Buffalo N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Suspension Bridge N. Y., and Niagara Falls, N. Y. Good going July 3rd and 4th. Valid retu up to and including July 7th.

Tickets and all information from

W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

FOR

Independance Day July 4

Will Issue Return Tickets

PETERBOROUGH

—TO—

BUFFALO

AT SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

Good going July 3rd and 4th valid for return until July 5th, 1902.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS

SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
K[illegible] West, TORONTO

JULY

1902

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

28 NO. 154 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO THURSDAY JULY 3 1902 PRICE TWO CENT

WENTY-FIV CASES OF SMALLPOX IN NORWICH

ad Hundreds of Other People Have Been Exposed--Go into the Mails

cial to The Times.

wich, Ont, July 2.—Norwich … genuine smallpox scare, and ev… ry person is timid of his neighbor. t is suspected that the disease was brought here some weeks since by a young man who came from the vicinity of the Soo. was at first diagnosed as chicken pox by one of the medical fraternity ere, but has turned out to be the genuine brand of smallpox, and has spread with such rapidity throughout the neighborhood that it is estimated there are fully 25 cases in town. People on whom the disease was plainly evident had been circulating as usual, not knowing the real cause of the scabs upon the face and body. Many of them have been calling regularly for their mail at the post-office, and, as the result, Miss Mickenson, assistant in the post-office has contracted the disease.

Every precaution is now being taken against the further spread of the disease, and vaccination has suddenly become decidedly popular among all classes of citizens.

UL KRUGER WILL END DAYS IN HOLLAND

enies a Report that he Intends Returning to Pretoria

HIS NEVER ENDING HATRED

Of British Will go to the Grave with the Old Man—He Staked all and Lost

Special to The Times.

Brussels, July 2.—Alone of all the Transvaal and Orange Free State chieftains who led the Boers in their fight for freedom the venerable "Oom" Paul refuses to accept the generous peace terms of the British and return to South Africa.

Coupled with the announcement that ral Botha would go to Holland to in the terms of surrender to Boer ghes and officials, came a report that Mr. Kruger had finally been brought to acquiesce in British supremacy and would return to Pretoria to spend his remaining days in the land whose destinies he once controlled.

It was even said that Queen Wilhelmina had placed at his disposal a Dutch steamer and had arranged that he should return in a manner worthy of his former rank. But the ex-President had been prompt to deny the rumour. In these ms he briefly defines his plans:

"I shall never return to the Transvaal. In that country I have nothing. All that made it home to me has passed forever. Here in Holland, where I found refuge in my hour of need, I purpose remaining for the rest of my life. I shall never leave it."

The staunch old Dutch patriot, deprived in his very last days of all his hopes, is the one really pathetic figure of the war. The other leaders are all younger men, for most of the old comrades of Kruger have died since the struggle began.

The cheerful spirit in which they have accepted the terms of the conquerors shows that they are not devoid of hope for the future, and can even look forward to being contented citizens under English control. With Kruger the case is different. He staked his whole future on the war. He has lost, and instead of being lessened, his hatred of England has really increased. That he could live content in Pretoria is out of the question; that he will live long anywhere is doubtful.

LORD SALISBURY'S RETIREMENT POSTPONED

The Unexpected Illness of the King Makes this Imperative

He will be Created a Duke when he Quits—The Prime Minister said to have Lost Vigor

Special to The Times.

London, July 3.—Newspaper men did not fail to notice that the official copies of the honor list issued from Downing street on Wednesday night had been considerably cut, names having evidently been erased with a penknife and then pasted over with slips of paper in a manner which defied all efforts of curious investigators to gain surreptitious knowledge.

It was evident that there had been some honors which the unexpected illness of the King had rendered desirable to withhold. It is generally believed that these included a Dukedom for the Marquis of Salisbury preliminary to his retirement from public life is, of course, not new, but it has recently increased in probability and today there is good reason for describing it as a settled thing.

Lord Salisbury, under the increasing burdens of years and anxiety, has lost much of his physical vigor. He has tasted to the full the sweets of place and power and they now pall on him. Unlike the average statesman retiring to private life he is passionately in love with a hobby, the pursuit of which will give him ample interest in life. That hobby is electricity and experimental chemistry, in both of which he is more than an amateur.

Valuable Advice to Mothers

If your child comes in from play coughing or showing evidences of an approaching attack of Grippe, Sore Throat, or sickness of any kind, first thing get out your bottle of Nerviline. Rub the chest and neck with Nerviline, and give internal doses of ten drops of Nerviline in sweetened water every two hours. This will prevent any serious trouble. No liniment or pain reliever equals Polson's Nerviline, which is a necessity in every household. Large bottles cost only 25 cents.

te of Those Who Led Boers

rteen Officers of Prominence Died of Wounds and Disease--Five are Fugitives

Spe to The Times.

London, July 3.—Now that the war is over, a complete recapitulation of the ate of the Boer leaders is possible. The list shows that, as usual, the civil eaders have fared better than military chieftains. Of the Transvaal and Orange Free State diplomats who precipitated the struggle, not one has lost his life, while no less than fourteen officers of prominence have died.

General Cronje, General Prin[illegible] Commandant Olivier, Commandant Van Viljoen, Commandant Kruitzinger, [illegible]nel Schiel, Major Abrecht, Commandant Judge Koch, Commandant "Cherr[illegible]mmet and Commandant Pretorious were captured, and all still held as prisoners of war, until having taken the oath of allegiance, their liberation can be arranged. Some are in London, some in Pretoria and other South African camps and one, General Cronje, is at St. Helena.

Several leaders long since realized the helplessness of the Boer cause and surrendered. They will be freed at once.

Chief among these are Abel Erasmus, Commandant Piet de Wet, Commandant de Villiers, Jack Hindon, Commandant Vlamgie and Commandant Vil[illegible]

Since the promulgation of the terms of peace, ex-President Steyn, ex-Secretary of State Reitz, Commandant General Louis Botha, General Schalkburger, Commandant Chris Botha, Lucas Meyer, Delarey, Christian Dewet, Celliers, [illegible], Beyers, Wessels, Snyman and Smuts have acknowledged the supremacy of England and have been granted amnesty.

Of the gallant heroes who will never know that the war is at an end or that their arms have gone to defeat, Commandants Philip Botha, Hans Botha, Danie Botha, Van der Merwe, Colonel Debois de Mareuil, Lemmer, Wolmarans, [illegible]smus, and Theron were killed in action, General Koch died of wounds, the [illegible] Joubert fell a victim to disease contracted in the service, Commandant [illegible]ian was captured mortally wounded and Commandants Scheepers and Lotter were executed for treason.

In addition there are still at large several leaders of Cape Colony rebels, such as Fouche and Mybur. Their positions under the terms of surrender are clearly defined and their fate will have to be determined later.

DREAMED OF A CAVE IN

Old Mrs. Innis, Sister of Sanford, But he Disregarded Warning

Paris, July 2.—An incident for the superstitious in connection with the well accident, came to light today. Two weeks ago Mrs. Innes, sister of Joshua Sandford, wrote him that she had a dream that the well had caved in, and implored him on no account to go down. Sandford wrote back that there was no danger. A few days later the cave-in took place.

EMPEROR TO KING EDWARD

Germans Join in Prayers for His Complete Restoration of Health

Special to The Times.

Kiel, July 2.—The telegrams exchanged by the Emperor and King Edward on the recent occasion of the sinking of the torpedo boat Eibe are published.

The Emperor replied that every officer and man in the German Navy was profoundly affected by the fact that the first act of the new German Admiral should be to send a message so kindly worded. They joined in the prayers for King Edward's complete restoration to health.

The Sultan Shows Much Feeling

Special to The Times.

Constantinople, July 2.—The Sultan was so affected by the news of King Edward's illness that it was necessary to modify the terms of the bulletins before showing them to him.

Child Accused of Murder

Clare, Mich., July 2.—Intense public interest has been aroused in the case of 12-year-old Anna Curtis, whose examination on a charge of murder was begun today before Justice Maynard. The girl is charged with administering carbolic acid to the infant son of George Pardee at the Curtis home in which the Pardees boarded. The little girl was in a room alone with the babe and nothing was known of the affair until its mother heard the child screaming and investigation showed it to have been poisoned.

FRANCE DOESN'T WORRY OVER TRIPLE ALLIANCE

Thinks Coming Tariff War May Strain the Diplomic Understanding

Special to The Times.

Paris, July 2.—The French press hails the renewal of the Triple Alliance between Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy with considerable equanimity, believing that it has been much enfeebled by dissentions with regard to tariff questions and the better understanding between Italy and France, and that the Franco-Russian alliance deprives the Triple Alliance of its originally aggressive character.

The Temps says: "A tariff war is about to graft itself on this political alliance, and the future will teach us how far an economic war is compatible with diplomatic understanding. Recent developments have singularly modified, if not the cordiality and intimacy between the powers of the Triple Alliance, at least the efficacy and practical value of the league."

The Journal des Debats recalls the declaration of Foreign Minister Prinetti in the Italian Chamber of Deputies that "no military or diplomatic conventions will be appended to the new treaty.

500,000 Immigrants

Special to The Times.

New York, July 2.—There is no truer indication of national prosperity than the volume of immigration. As the conditions of prosperity in this country have become more and more pronounced during the last few years, there has been a steady increase in the number of immigrants. Figures for the fiscal year ending to-day at Ellis Island show that nearly 500,000 aliens have landed at this port the present month alone, bringing more than 50,000 from the various countries of Europe. A noticeable fact is the increase in the number of Italian arrivals, due in all probability to the unprecedented volume of railroad construction, which employs large numbers of the new-comers from King Victor Emmanuel's domain.

FIGHTING IN HAYTI SITUATION CRITICAL

Commander of Fleet Threatens to Bombard Cape Haytien—Consuls Protest

Special to The Times.

Washington, July 2.—The State Department received today a despatch from United States Minister Powell at Port-au-Prince, dated yesterday, stating that he had been informed of the intention of the Haytien admiral to bombard Port Haytien at 2 p.m. today.

A message from Minister Powell received at the cable office here just one minute later reported that the Haytian Government had disavowed the admiral's action.

So complicated is the situation in Hayti that the officials here are at a loss to know the exact import of the two cablegrams.

The State Department was informed some weeks ago that the new provisional government had been formally recognized by the diplomatic corps at Port-au-Prince.

Canadian Immigration

Special to The Times.

Ottawa, Ont., July 2.—Figures given out by the Canadian Department of Immigration show that the arrival of immigrants for the year ending to-day were 65,000, an increase of more than 15,000 over last year. The increase is principally from Great Britain and the United States.

CRIES IN ST. PIERRE

People Lay Writhing in Streets for Two Days

FAILURE OF RELIEF WORK

French Chamber of Commerce Envoy Declares Negro Governor Used the Contributions in Furtherance of Political Schemes

Special to The Times.

New York, July 2.—M. de Medeull, of the French Chamber of Commerce of this city, who went as the envoy of that body to Martinique, taking with him 22,000 francs in gold for the relief of the Mont Pelee sufferers, declares that political corruption in Martinique resulted in the misapplication of food and clothing sent from this country. The New York Chamber of Commerce, which had much to do with the collection of supplies for the Martinique sufferers, held a secret meeting this afternoon to hear reports upon the distribution of the supplies among the sufferers, and M. de Medeull was present at the meeting.

Previous to attending the meeting M. de Medeull made a remarkable revelation regarding conditions in Martinique. He declared that all the people of St. Pierre were not killed immediately, but that a large number of them writhed in agony in the streets of the ruined city for two days. Further he declares that Governor L'Huerre, a negro, could have done much to relieve this terrible condition, but that he was too busy electioneering.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT TO BLAME.

"The French Government is partly to blame for the wretched conditions which followed the catastrophe on May 8," said M. de Medeull. "The island is practically under negro government, the great majority of the officials being negroes. While political factions subdivide themselves into whites and blacks, the blacks are in so much greater numbers that they practically control all public offices. Almost all of these blacks are uneducated and unscrupulous, and the events which followed the destruction of St. Pierre proved it conclusively. The authorities were so busy insuring the re-election of all the negro officials that they would not bother about sending relief to St. Pierre.

"St. Pierre, it must be explained, was the stronghold of the anti-negro party. The elections were to be held on May 10. The Governor was too busy electioneering for the defeat of Clerc, the anti-negro candidate of the northern department of the island, to send help to St. Pierre.

NOT ALL KILLED INSTANTLY.

"Contrary to all that has been published on the subject, the inhabitants of St. Pierre were not stricken dead instantaneously. For two days the half-choked and half-burned survivors were left writhing in the street in agony and crying for help.

"Governor L'Huerre tries to create the impression that all were killed as they stood. Two gendarmes who made their way into the ruined city the next day have already testified to the contrary. The Governor declares that he will put those men on the rack to stop their 'chatter,' but the truth is out. The Governor is a negro, and it was under his supervision that the work of distributing supplies was begun. If the French Government had sent at once a commission of men vested with supreme authority to direct the method of distributing the supplies and provisions the trouble which followed would not have happened. The central committee of Fort de France which received requests from the Mayors of the various towns for provisions divided these requests in two classes, those coming from townships which had polled strong negro majorities and those where the vote cast had been to the credit of the candidate of the whites. These last townships were blacklisted, and where the negro towns were supplied with flour and bread ad libitum, the white towns were succored grudgingly, and after long and terrible periods of waiting.

WHITES WERE HUMILIATED.

"In Fort de France the white people in line for a distribution of food were made to wait hours, while the blacks received rations over and over. In many instances the articles given to the white sufferers were a superb irony of the distributions. Shoes were given where bread was asked, and the discretionary powers of the distributing officers were utilized for the humiliating of the whites and the fattening of the blacks.

"The white planters and mill owners of the island protested to the Governor. They suggested that they were in need of laborers, and that, instead of feeding the idle population, it might be better to send the hungry to them to have them earn supplies given for their relief. The distribution of supplies has demoralized them all: in many instances they have quit work, finding it easier to go to the distributing offices to be fed. The negro distributors were so arrogant that a number of white sufferers have refused to present themselves at the stations. I tried to help all of this class that I could.

"The apathy of the authorities after the catastrophe of St. Pierre is the most abominable phase of the entire situation. Those who had entered the town three days after the eruption have told me that the cries of the dying were even then heard in the streets. How many of the St. Pierre inhabitants died this horrible slow death is impossible to ascertain. Two soldiers from Balata have personally told me of their entering the city on May 10 and of hearing the groans and shrieks of those entombed alive or crippled by fire."

WEATHER NOTES

Thursday—Partly fair, local showers or thunderstorms.

LIBERALS LOSE LENNOX BUT HOLD NORTH GREY

The Appeal Gives Lennox to the Conservatives by a Majority of Three

Special to The Times.

Toronto, July 3.—Another Conservative political sensation was exploded by the judgement in the appeal from the recount in the North Grey election case, which was given at Osgoode Hall by Mr. Justice Maclennan. A. G. McKay, the Liberal, had five majority over G. M. Boyd, Conservative, at the recount before County Judge Morrison, and judgment is summarized as follows:

The result is that two of the votes counted for McKay should have been disallowed, and which was disallowed to Boyd should have bee counted for him and McKay's majority is thereby reduced to two.

Regarding the four ballots, Nos. 6418, 6421, 6427, and 6429, which Judge Morrison disallowed for Boyd, after expressing the opinion that they had been spoiled after the recount by the D.R.O. his Lordship says:

The County Judge said that his mode of proceeding upon the recount was that after opening the packet he separated the ballots for Mr. Boyd from those for Mr McKay and then handed the Boyd ballots to McKay's agents for examination to see whether they had any objection to them, and in like manner he handed to Mr. Boyd's agents the McKay ballots for the same purpose. He handed the four in question to McKay's agent's as ballots without observing the double cross, and Mr. Watson, after examination only discovered two of them. It was only after they were handed to Boyd's agents for further examination that the other two were discovered.

This makes it plain that at the poll they might well have been counted for Boyd without further noticing the added crosses for McKay. The Boyd crosses were on the right hand side of his name and were distinct and conspicuous. The McKay cross upon three of them is quite obscure and indistinct, while that on the fourth is more distinct, it is yet much less conspicuous than the Boyd cross. I am unable, with great respect, to to agree with the learned judge that there is any evidence that the McKay crosses were mae after the count at the close of the poll. think they were simply not observed in the hurry of counting, while the crosses for Boyd, being conspicuous, cause them to be at one ecounted for him. The same thing exactly seems to have occurred on the recount, when the judge, without observing the two crosses, handed all four ballots, as Boyd ballots, to McKay's agent for examination, when two of them escaped the notice of the agent also, and were not discovered until after a second examination by the agent of Mr. Boyd.

Under these circumstances it appears to me that there is hardly room for even a suspicion that the marks complained of were made after the counting of the votes.

Mr. McPherson argued that the condition in which the ballots were found was very suspicious. There appears to have been two packets furnised to the D.R.O. with printed blank endorsements thereon. He put the ballots in one end and sealed it, but he filled up the blanks on the other with all the proper requirements instead of upon the first. This seems to have been a mere mistake nor can I see what connection it could have with the alleged falsification of the four ballots. I am of the opinion that the judge rightly disallowed these ballots.

Other ballots Altered.

No 719 marked for McKay but having the word McKay written on the back was disallowed.

No. 6764 was allowed for Boyd. The mark consisted of two lines lying very close to each other in Boyd's division. The judge found that these lines were evidence of an intention to make a cross.

No. 4861, marked for McKay, with a very distinct cross and having a very faint cross in Boyd's division, was disallowed for McKay. The County Judge allowed it for McKay, thinking that the faint cross was an impression of the other mark by the folding.

LIBERALS LOSE LENNOX.

Mr. Justice Maclennan, of the Court of Appeal, gave judgment at Osgoode Hall yesterday in the Lennox election case, in which M. S. Madole, the Liberal, and T. G. Carscallen, Conservative, were declared to have received an equal number of votes. His Lordship said that yesterday's judgment was on Mr. Carscallen's appeal, and summarizes as follows:

"The result is that Nos. 405 and 4004 should be added to Mr. Carscallen's poll and No. 4023 should be struck off the poll of Mr. Madole, which gives Mr. Carscallen a maojrity of three."

Mr. Madole has a general cross-appeal, which may or many not be argued.

Regarding a Conservative objection His Lordship found that the county judge is not confined on the recount to an examination of the ballots to which objection was made before the deputy returning officer, and the objection is, therefore, overruled.

His Lordship allowed ballot No. 405 for Carscallen. It was marked with a cross above the upper line. The court held that a ballot without the line would be good, and that it was meant to vote for Carscallen.

No. 4023, marked in the proper place for Madole was disallowed. The mark was a circle, not a cross, or any attempt ot make a cross.

No. 4001 was allowed for Carscallen. Besides having a good mark opposite Mr. Carscallen's name, it has an irregular shapeless pencil mark in Madole's division. His Lordship held that the voter could not be identified by the mark.

The court found that No. 5285 had been rightly disallowed by the county judge. Besides the mark for Carscallen the initials "S.A." appear on the ballot. Mr. Justice Osler, who was conferred with on this point, and both judges agreed that any written word or name upon a ballot, presumably written by the voter, ought to vitiate the vote, as being a means by which he could be identified.

The court held that No. 2470, marked by a somewhat irregular cross for Mr Madole was rightly allowed, and that Nos. 4044 and 5256, having a cross or crosses in the divisions of both Candidates should be rejected.

The Boers Greatly Feared The Canadian Forces

A Canadian Trooper's Opinion of the Boers and Their Fighting Qualities.

Special to The Times.

Montreal, July 2.—"The Boers hate England and always will. It will be very hard for them, in my opinion, ever to become good British subjects. There is one thing, however, which is fully appreciated by them, and that is the splendid fighting qualities of the Canadian soldier. The Boer prisoners frequently told me at St. Helena that they would prefer to fight a dozen regular British soldiers rather than one Canadian or Australian volunteer.'

The speaker was Dr. L. H. Prince, of Moncton, N. B., who was one of the medical officers in charge of the Boer prisoners at St. Helena. In this capacity Dr. Prince naturally had an excellent chance of studying the characteristics of this remarkable race

"Cronje was a remarkable man in many respects," said the doctor, in an interview at the Windsor today. "I sailed from Cape Town to St. Helena on the Milwaukee with the famous Boer general. He seemed morose and taciturn, sitting on the deck in a corner by himself, quietly puffing away at a big pipe. He occasionally took snuff and seemed to be brooding deeply over his defeat.

"He was a man who did not speak any English, and it was hard to tell what he was thinking about, but he always wore the same dull, haggard look as of a man enduring mental suffering.

"Read! No, I never saw him with a book or a paper in his hand. He and his wife sat apart by themselves, taking little notice of what was going on

"At St. Helena, Cronje had wretched quarters, I do not know that I ever was in a more dreary habitation. He certainly had good reason to complain. It was a God-forsaken, dreary, little, ramshackle cottage, about good enough for a stable. As for furniture, there was none. The place was mean and filthy, but perhaps that might have been partially the fault of the inmates. In any event it was a dismal place, and it gave me a chill every time I entered it.

"The Boer as a British subject! Well, I firmly believe that the Boer will never make a good British subject. His hatred of all things British is too deep seated for that. He does not understand kindness, and treats all such as an evidence of weakness.

"They hate the English, and always will!

"The Boer is inscrutable," continued the doctor. "You can never tell what is passing through his mind. His stolid features reflect nothing. They have a thorough respect for the Canadians as fighters, but claim that it was nothing but murder to place them in the position they occupied at Paardeberg. Their bravery was magnificent, but a great deal of it was thrown away owing to the disadvantage at which they were placed."

—Fishermen should bear in mind that bass under ten inches long and maskinonge under 18 inches long must be returned to the water. It is not lawful to sell either bass or maskinonge before June 16th, 1896.

NO OTHER BUSINESS

affords you equal credit, considering the amount you have invested. To illustrate: your account with us, amounting to $100 will enable you to at all times, buy and sell stocks to the valuation of from $900 to $1000. You are thus enabled to secure the profits to be made from investment of the above amounts, while really only investing $100. For accounts of larger size, you would have the same benefits. Our 400 page, clothbound illustrated

"Guide to Investors"

explains in detail the method, also contains full comprehensive information relative to Wall St., to markets and securities. Each afternoon, we issue our

"Daily Market Letter"

a complete daily guide for investor or speculator. Both are yours, free of cost, for the asking, at any of our offices.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Established 1890. Main Office, 53 B'way, N.Y.

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.

Peterborough, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

COMMISSION ONE EIGHTH—The only licensed M. S. Stock Brokerage Corporation in business by permission of the Royal Government of the Province of Ontario

W. F. NELSON, Peterborough.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East	Arrive	Depart
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal	5.10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.33 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston	5.10 a.m.	12.35 a.m.
West
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	5.10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate	7.32 p.m.	1.12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	5.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9.00 p.m.	5.30 p.m
Port, Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	5.35 p.m.	11.41 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.20 a.m.	9.19 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.25 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.03 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.13 p.m.
Lakefield local	6.50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at $3 per month, and to outside points at $3 per year strictly in advance.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 30, 1902.

EDWARD VII

The role of Prince of Wales, which Albert Edward has had to play for the greater part of his life is difficult, thankless, laborious and barren. To a young man it brings temptations and pleasures, long believed to be pardonable in a Prince, but subject, in the case of an English Prince, to the criticism of the Nonconformist conscience, a narrow and easily worried organ. The loyal and affectionate welcome of the people to a Prince still in his fortunate time is likely to be chilled and lessened as he grows older. He may fall into evil courses. He is pretty sure to fall into debt. There have been heir apparents who dropped into the arms of the opposition to the court. The place of the waiting heir has something ungracious in itself, and when held for years must become a burden. The laying of cornerstones is no agreeable diversion; and to be a royalty at second hand in an essentially democratic country, to submit to much of the ceremony with none of the power of kingship, needs much patience and craves wary walking.

As Prince of Wales, the King whose recovery is now heartily desired not only by his own people, but by the world in general which believes him to be a good fellow, an amiable man and a dignified and conscientious sovereign, had his difficulties and diversions. He has rattled dice wi' Charley," so to speak, stirred the Nonconformists by his addiction to the turf; been lectured when he was well and prayed over when he was ill. He has steered cleverly among political parties and has not forgotten that he should be above party. His calling on Mr. Gladstone at a time when there was a sort of insane ferocity in English society against the statesman and his kissing of Mrs. Gladstone's hand at her husband's funeral in Westminster Abbey are instances of that exquisite sensibility and delicacy of perception and tact which have been habitual with him. And there was more than tact and a fine courtesy in such characteristic actions. There was shrewdness and wisdom. The future King knew his business. He was not and would not be Tory or Liberal.

He has learned a great deal more than they taught him at the universities, and, if no apt scholar in books, he has acquired knowledge of the world by travel and by association with eminent or interesting persons of many sorts. As a Prince, he was catholic in his associates, and his tastes. An accomplished man of the world, he has touched life at many points. He made himself a good public speaker, for a Prince. He has worked hard in spite of his devotion to pleasure, society and the theatre. Not a brilliant man, he has a perfect comprehension of his own position and of the limitation of his powers. Whatever his prejudices, his weaknesses or his faults, he has continued to be the most popular man in his kingdom. In short, he is fitted to be the King. His more vigorous and masterful nephew, the German Emperor, could not keep the English crown three weeks unless he suffered a sea change.

He has shown sympathy, tact, intelligence, discretion, shrewdness and interest in most departments of British life and activity, except literature. Even in this obtuseness to literary interests, he shows himself characteristically English. What does the average Englishman care about Tennyson or Schelley? The winner of the Derby is a greater, in the greatest man. Still the coronation honors show that the King's advisers, if not he, seek to "reward" distinction in science, literature and the arts.

There have been great sovereigns of England. There will be no more, for the people are sovereign and a King would strive in vain against a House of Commons supported by them. Edward VII. is a proper modern King of England. He knows his part, and even those who, like Americans, have little patience with the scenery of the play seen on that stage, must admit his skill and grace as the chief actor there, and the cordiality of the applause that he has won.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There was great sport at Roton Point, N.Y., the other day. Two Methodist ministers, the Rev. C. L. Meade, of Hoboken, and the Rev. J. E. Appley, of Jersey City ran a hundred yards. They are said to have had wings on their feet in their college days and they are still ready like strong men to run a race. The more speed they show, the more they will recommend themselves to the young men and youths in their congregations. In the matter of "saints and their bodies," as some one hath it, the cultivation of the body is not now neglected as it used to be; and a clergyman is not thought unfitted for heaven because he happens to have a good collection of health and muscle.

* * * *

Kitchener has no intention of being paraded to make a British holiday. He declined the invitation of the Mayor of Southampton to have great doings on his arrival in that town in July. He declined to be the ornament of a big public procession in London. He likes to do his work in his own way, and to be let alone as much as possible, and it is probable that he values at about the same rate the criticism and the cheers of the loyal British public. It was fuming at him a few weeks ago and now it would be glad to stand on its head, if it had one, in his honor.

TRIAL OF NEW BATTLESHIP

The Great Fighting Machine "Maine" Will Move out To-day

Special to The Times.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 2. — About 10 o'clock to-morrow morning the Maine, one of the most powerful battleships ever built for the United States navy, will leave her dock in Cramps' shipyard for her builders' trial trip. She will be under the general supervision of Edward S. Cramp, with James A. Clinquitt as pilot. The trial spin will be over the builders' course, which extends 21 miles from the Delaware capes to the southwest lightship, about 11 1-4 miles from the southwest lightship to the northeast lightship, 11 1-4 miles from the northeast lightship to the southwest lightship, and 21 miles from the southwest lightship back to the capes.

Her trial will be made to determine how well she steams, whether her machinery works smoothly, and approximately what her speed is. That she will meet and exceed the requirements of the contract is regarded as a certainty by naval experts who have closely watched her progress from the day her keel was laid. During the trip she will be manned by a crew of 350 picked men from the Cramps' yards. The conditions under which this trial will be made will differ to some extent from her Government trial this fall, inasmuch as she is not now in a finished condition. She is designed to have a speed of 18 knots an hour, which is considerably in excess of the speed of the Alabama and other crack battleships of the navy. She will even do better than her contract speed there is no doubt. In fact, it is expected that she will have plenty to spare along this line.

Much sentiment is attached to this huge fighting machine, named after the original Maine, which was destroyed in Havana harbor more than four years ago. The keel was laid February 15, 1899, one year after the destruction of her namesake. In size and armament the new vessel is vastly superior to the old. The old Maine was a second-class battleship, built at the New York navy yard. The new one is a first-class battleship of 12,500 tons displacement. Her main battery will consist of four 12-inch guns, and her secondary battery will be 12 6-inch guns. The new ship is 80 feet longer than the old Maine; her engines will have an indicated horse power, as against 9,293 of the old ship. Her armor is 12-inch "Krupp-ized" as against the 12-inch Harvey-ized steel used on the old ship, and her coal bunkers carry 2,000 tons, giving a steaming radius of 10,000 knots at a cruising speed of 10 knots an hour.

DOMINION DAY IN TOWN

SUCCESSFUL FIELD DAY OF SPORTS ON T. A. S. GROUNDS

The Day Quietly Observed - Many Went Out of Town for the Day

Dominion Day was quietly spent in town, at least one-half the population spending the day away from town.

THE T.A.S. TOURNAMENT.

The athletic tournament held on Murray street Separate school grounds under the auspices of the Athletic section of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society attracted a good crowd, and was thoroughly enjoyed. The following were the events:

The first was a running hop, step and jump with the following entries—Messrs. W. Crowley, E. McNichol and W. Grady. Crowley captured the medal in a running hop, step and jump of 38 feet, with McNichol second at 36 feet.

Vaulting with a pole came next and proved exciting. The entries were, W. Crowley W. Grady, J. McDonough and W. Perdue. The vaulting was between Crowley and Perdue, and resulted in a tie both clearing the 8 feet 5 1-2 inch mark.

In the running broad jump Messrs. E. McNichol, W. Crowley, G. Gauthier, and Geo. Lynch took part. McNichol captured this in a jump of 16 feet 5 1-2 in. Geo. Lynch coming second with a 16 foot jump.

Hundred yard race.—The entries were Messrs. Geo. Gauthier, F. McGrath, J. McDonagh, E. McNichol, F. McCoy and W Crowley. Fred McGrath made a fine finish in 11 seconds, Crowley winning second place.

The 220 yards race was also a good race, Messrs. Fred. McGrath, E. McNichol and E. Gauthier toed the scratch, and Fred. McGrath secured the medal doing the dash in 25 seconds with E. McNichol second contestant.

The standing high jump brought out Messrs. E. McNichol, H. Wood, W. Crowley and W. Perdue. McNichol and Perdue tied on a jump of 4 ft. 3 1-2 in.

The 100 yard race for junior T.A.S. was won by J. Callagham with C. Sullivan second. A small army of juveniles entered this event.

The 220 yards race for junior T.A.S. was also carried off by J. Callaghan, with Tom Kelly second.

There were three entries in the high jump—Messrs. W. Crowley, H. Wood and G. Lynch. Crowley won in a 5-foot jump with H. Wood in second place.

The hurdle race was an event that proved exciting and at the same time interesting. Messrs. E. McNichol, F. McGrath, W. Crowley, and J. McDonaugh were the contestants. Crowley captured this event with Fred. McGrath a close second.

Putting the 16 pound shot was a trial of strength and muscle. Those entering were Messrs. R. G. Sturgeon, J. McDonough, J. Murphy, E. McNichol, W. Crowley and D. Kennedy. Jack McDonough captured the medal by putting the shot 31 feet 10 in., and received the plaudits of the multitude.

Throwing the hammer brought out Messrs. P. Molloy, J. McDonough, D. Kenenay, R. G. Sturgeon, Heffernan and Crowley. Jack McDonough also captured this by putting the hammer 69 feet 1 in., with R. G. Sturgeon, second, 67 ft. 1 in. In an exhibition throw McDonough threw the hammer 71 feet 3 inches.

The lacrosse match between the T.A.S. and the Cobourgs, of course, was the event of the afternoon, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the crowd. After a spirited and exciting play, the local team was declared the victors by a score of two goals to nothing.

EXCURSIONS OUT OF TOWN.

The Sons of England excursion to Jubilee Point was well attended, the commodious steamer City of Peterborough being loaded to her full capacity.

At the Point Mr. Dan Foley, the popular manager, looked after the party and made them thoroughly at home.

Dancing was kept up on the steamer and at the point under the direction of Mr. Archie Moore, the well known "floor" manager.

The following is a complete list of the sports with the names of the successful competitors:—

Young ladies race—1st, Mary Hanson, parasol presented by A. G. Dickson; 2nd, Agnes Hosfield, bottle perfume, presented by D. Davidson.

Married women's race—1st, Mrs. Taylor, hammock presented by J. J. Turner & Son; 2nd, Mrs. Mitchell, half boots presented by R. Neill.

Girls race, 15 years and under—1st, Stella Blackburn, blouse set, presented by ... 2nd, Stan Stocker, set vases, presented by A. Wilson & Co.

Fat Man's race.—1st, Archie Moore, box cigars presented by A. Elliott; 2nd, R. Waram, $1 worth of shaving tickets presented by S. H. Baker.

Committee race — 1st, F. Turner, Daily Examiner one year, presented by J. R. Stratton; 2nd, J. A. Brown, box cigars presented by M. C. Tooley.

Men's race — 1st, G. Taylor, pipe presented by Talbot Bros. 2nd, Wm. Taylor, straw hat presented by Thos. Barrie.

Women's race — 1st Laura Kingscote, pound tea presented by F. J. R. Mitchell; 2nd, Jean Burdett, 1-2 pound tea presented by F. J. R. Mitchell.

Boys' race 15 years and under — 1, Walter Miller, sweater, presented by Gough Bros.; 2, Willie Dark, pocket knife, presented by Peterborough Hardware Co.

Boys' race, 12 years and under — 1, Hugh Dark, pair braces, presented by Grafton & Co.; 2, Ernest Lasely, 25 cents worth of candy, presented by R. A. Dutton.

Boot race — 1, D. Drake, hat, presented by F. A. Clarke; 2, C. Conroy, pipe, presented by A. E. Peck.

Races for boys and girls. — 1, Frank Burdett, candies presented by R. A. Dutton; 2, Ernest Taylor, candies presented by H. Long.

Men's three-legged race — 1, Bruce Paterson, box cigars, presented by J. Conroy, 2, Hugh Dark, box cigars presented by J. B. Larocque.

Largest S.O.E. family present — 1,

Continued on page 4.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL, GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

DIAMOND STEEL BEARINGS

GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON

31 ESPLANADE STREET EAST TORONTO.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT.

450 George Street

Canvasser

—WANTED—

to sell PRINTERS' INK—a journal for advertisers—published weekly at five dollars a year. It teaches the science and practice of Advertising and is highly esteemed by the most successful advertisers in this country and Great Britain. Liberal commission allowed. Address PRINTERS INK, 10 Spruce St., New York

COPPER AT THREE AND HALF CENTS A POUND

George A. Treadwell Mining Company

27 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK. JEROME, ARIZONA.

Capital - - - - $3,000,000.

PAR VALUE OF SHARES $10.

In a suit recently tried in the New York courts it was proved from the books of the United Verde Copper Company and the sworn testimony of the bookkeepers that the cost to that company of producing copper was only three and a half cents a pound, not counting the gold and silver values, which—allowed for—reduced the cost to a still lower figure.

Nowhere outside the Verde Copper Belt in Yavapai County, Arizona, is copper produced in quantities for less than twice this cost.

The United Verde has about two hundred acres on the north end of the Belt and the George A. Treadwell Company has several times as much in the central and southern parts of the Belt. The conditions along the whole Belt are entirely similar. We already have three mines developed—the Cliff, Brookshire and Iron Queen—one of which, the Cliff, seems to be larger and better than the United Verde, and the other two at least approach it in magnitude and value, while we have several others, including Badger, Pastime, Green Monster and Spoke and Stonewall, which, though less developed, are equally promising.

Professor Treadwell believes we have at least half a dozen United Verdes within the broad and extensive limits of our holdings.

As soon as our smelter plant which is now in process of erection, is completed, we can certainly produce copper as cheap as our rich neighbor on the north.

The United Verde for several years has produced one-tenth the copper of the world. When our plants are fully installed we expect the Verde Belt to produce one-half the copper of the world, and the George A. Treadwell Mining Company will be prepared to do more than its full share.

Before investing in copper in unproved localities, consider the stock of the George A Treadwell Mining Company, named after the great pioneer and explorer of the Verde Belt and owning the largest and best aggregation of properties on it.

The price of the stock is $11 a share. Make checks payable to the order of the company and send them to 27 William Street, New York.

MYRA B. MARTIN, Secretary

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make.

SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE

ALL FURNISHINGS AT COST AND UNDER

H. E. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS, 363 GEORGE STREET

THE ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO. LIMITED

MONTREAL

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99$\frac{99}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.

Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

Mackinlay's
V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers, LEITH, Scotland

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO.,

AGENTS, MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interest is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $55.00 for $50.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited. A Canadian Company, with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert. Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at [illegible] SHARES 16c [illegible]

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a [illegible] mine situated in British C[illegible] Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Or[illegible] dump now, with over $50,00 to the ton SHARES 16c [illegible]

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends, SHARES 35 cents [illegible] $25 [illegible]

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company, California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed, SHARES 25 cents [illegible]

Total value [illegible]

275 SHARES FOR $50 00 CASH

100 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.

FINANCIAL AGENTS.

311-312 Masonic Temple, London, Ont.

The New York Times

Saturday Review of Books.

$1,00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—in fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION

THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times

SUNDAY EDITION

$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

America's BEST Republican . . Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year

Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue; Foreign Edition Post Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits. LACE CURTAINS, MADRAS MUSLINS, CAPES, LADIES & GENTS, REAL SWISS, COLLARS, BLOUSES, LOOM HOSIERY, GUIPURE D'ART, LACES ALL MAKES, COLLARETTES, HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $5.10

Lot No. 397 CURTAINS:—1 pair Rich Artistic Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, choice old lace design, 3½ yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair neat Floral Pattern Bed-Room Curtains, 3 yds. long, 50 in. wide, 1 pair new fashionable Sash Curtains, 1 table centre, renaissance design, 1 Set of Duchess Toilet Covers, one 45 in. long, and five smaller. Sent if desired. On receipt of Post Office Order for $6.10, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth. Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable work, Marvellous Value, and Durability. First Prize Medals, Toronto 1892; Chicago, 1893.

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established 1857.

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Scavenger Work,

Alfred Cooney is prepared to execute all orders for the removal of night soi and other scavenger work, on the mos reasonable terms. Orders left at Over end's Hotel, or at my residence, 316 Bethune Street, will have prompt attention.

Everybody reads The Times.

Electric Lamps

25c each

Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

Humor of the Hour.

Mistress—Now, Jane, there is no use of further argument as to how this dish should be prepared, but our ideas on the subject are so different that it is evident one or the other of us is crazy.

Jane—True for you, ma'am; an' it's not the likes of me as would be after sayin' the likes of you would have no more since than to keep a crazy cook.—Chicago News.

—◆◆◆—

A northerner who had never been below Mason and Dixon's line went down to Georgia, nearly to the Florida line, last winter. Guided through the country by an old negro, they reached the edge of a stream, and the traveller said: "What is that dark object in the water?"

"Oh, dat's a alligatah, Sah," was the reply.

"And what is that other dark thing over there on the sand?" was asked.

"Dat's a alligatah, too, Sah," the guide answered.

"Then these alligators of yours are amphibious creatures, are they?" queried the Northerner.

The old negro scratched his head, pondered deeply, finally smiled knowingly, and answered:

"Oh, yes, Sah, yes Sah, 'Course dey's amphibilous. Dey eats niggers jes de same as white folks."—New York Times.

—◆◆◆—

Nurse was reading nature-stories of the chickens, ducks and geese.
"Johnny, tell me, what's a gander?"
asked she with a smile of peace.
Little Johnny looked up quickly, all his fancy turning loose,
As he answered, smiling proudly, "It's the rooster of the goose."
—Judge.

—◆◆◆—

She—Isn't that a beautiful parrot?

He—Well, I like the cage better than I do the parrot.

"Pshaw! The cage can't talk."

"That's the reason I like it."—Yonkers Statesman.

—◆◆◆—

"I saw him," said the complaining witness, "steel a hammer from this hardware store and bolt for the door, upon which I noticed he had riveted his attention from the start.

"Yes," said the Magistrate, encouragingly.

"Well, I tried to hold him, but he gave a wrench and got a weight, and then I quietly called a policeman who nailed him."

"You employed grate tack," said the Magistrate. "Tin months."

Which shows how convenient it would be if we would only fit our conversation to circumstances.—Baltimore News.

—◆◆◆—

The Judge—According to the evidence, Mrs. O'Hoolihan, you threw a flat iron at your husband."

Mrs. O'Hoolihan—Yis, your honor, an' accardin' to his face, Oi hit him, b'gory."—Chicago News.

—◆◆◆—

Bridget and Pat were sitting in an armchair reading an article on "The Law of Compensation."

"Just fancy," exclaimed Bridget; "accordin' to this, whin a mon loses wan av 'is sinses another gits more developed. For instance, a bloind mon gits more sinse av hearin' an' touch, an——"

"Shure, an't it's quite thrue," answered Pat.

"Oi've noticed it meself. Whin a mon has wan leg shorter than the other, begorra the other's longer."—Philadelphia Times.

—◆◆◆—

It was a New England parson who announced to his congregation on a recent Sunday: "You will be sorry to hear that the little church at Jonesville is once more tossed upon the waves, a sheep without a shepherd."—Boston Christian Register.

—◆◆◆—

"They tell me Maude Burlocks is going to be married."

"You're misinformed. Miss Burlocks is going to marry the man who is going to be married. Your difficulty is that you don't know Miss Burlocks."—Baltimore News.

—◆◆◆—

"Poor child!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodart, who had been touched by the appeal to the extent of a quarter, "and how did this accident happen to your father?"

"Why," replied the bright little girl, "he begged so much money one day that he got drunk and was sent to jail."

"But you told me his arms were cut off."

"Oh! No, ma'am, I said 'alms.'"—Philadelphia Press.

—◆◆◆—

Alas, the nights are nearly here
When Mr. Skeeter will Sing songs unasked, and then forthwith
Present an awful bill.
—Cincinnati Commercial.

—◆◆◆—

"Why don't you wash your face?"

"Aw, say, I ain't goin' to try no experiments."—New York Journal.

—◆◆◆—

"She's not what you'd call an advanced woman?"

"No, no."

"Has no mission in life, I suppose?"

"Oh, I believe she claims to have one, but it's nothing of any importance."

"What is it?"

"Just a mission to make some good man happy, understand."—Chicago Post.

—◆◆◆—

Young Lady—A friend of mine is engaged to a man, and now he refuses to marry her. What would you advise her to do?"

Old Lawyer—Is the man wealthy?"

Young Lady—No. He hasn't a shilling.

Old Lawyer—Then I'd advise her to write him a nice letter of thanks.—Tit-Bits.

—◆◆◆—

Col. John C. Haskell of Columbia, S. C., has on his place an old negro woman who cares for her brother's motherless pickaninnies. One day the Colonel, after experiences of several small losses which had been fastened on the children, said to her:

"Rachel, I think those children are getting dishonest."

"Well, sah, dat's a fac'. I tell dere daddy he out'en let 'em steal. Children ain't got no judgment in stealin'. Wen dey do steal tings, jes as lakely dey'll tak' somethin' you'll miss!"

—New York Times.

THE KING'S ILLNESS LAMENTED IN STATES

How the Americans Regard the British King's Sickness

New York, June 30.—The Herald says: Millions of Americans join in the cry of "God Save the King!" that goes up from the British people today over their stricken sovereign.

Bonds of "sympathy, the silver link, the silken tie," between the two peoples, have been drawn even closer by international marriages and the increase in those commercial relations which Mr. Chamberlain vainly plans to sever with his tariff schemes.

The throb of sympathetic grief that pulsates throughout the United States is intensified by remembering that on President McKinley's lamented death, King Edward ordered the court into mourning for a week. Dramatic in its occurrence on the eve of his coronation, His Majesty's prostration is pathetic in that its immediate cause was anxiety that his people should not be disappointed in the great pageant—a feeling that led him to oppose a timely postponement and refuse to rest. There is pathos also in the kindly thoughtfulness that after the blow inspired him to direct that the poor should not be deprived of their expected festivities.

Work, worry, and the unprecendented, wretched, rainy weather of the present summer in England have made his royal lot a hard one for many weeks, but he declined to spare himself, and faced all tasks, even the innumerable minor and vexatious ones connected with the preparations for the coronation. This fidelity to the demands of his station was one of His Majesty's marked characteristics during the long years of the widowed Queen's reign, in which he performed so many difficult public functions with a patience and skill that won universal admiration for his tact.

NEW REVENUE LAW

The Effect of the New Revenue Law which is Purpose d

Special to The Times.

Washington, D. C., July 1. — The amount of federal taxes paid by the people of the United States is lessened to the extent of about $77,000,000 annually by virtue of the new revenue law which went into effect to-day. The new measure amounts to a virtual repeal of all the Spanish war revenue taxes except the taxes on mixed flour. The dury on tea remains until January 1st next, to enable those who have stocks on hand to dispose of them before the repeal takes effect.

With the going into effect of the new measure the war revenue tax is repealed on the following: Bankers, brokers, dealers in grain, securities, etc., pawnbrokers, custom house brokers, proprietors of theatres, circuses and other public exhibitions, proprietors of bowling alleys and billiard-rooms, dealers in leaf tobacco, dealers in tobacco, manufacturers of tobacco, manufacturers of cigars, instruments, papers or documents; delivers or tarnsfers of stock; sales and agreements of sales or agreements to sell stocks, products or merchandise; wines, seats in parlor or palace cars and berths in sleeping cars, legacies and distributive shares of personal property, excise taxes on persons, firms, companies and corporations engaged in refining petroleum and sugar.

On the following articles the tax is reduced: Fermented liquors, to $1 per barrel;; snuff and tobacco, to 6 cents per pound; cigarettes weighing more than three pounds per 1,000, reduced to $3 per thousand.

The tax on mixed flour and oleomargarine, not being a war revenue tax, is not effected by the new law.

POOREST OF CHINESE MUST PAY WAR DEBT

Thrice the Amount Wrung from People by Officials

Russia Refuses to be a Party to the Imposition, Under Conditions Alleged to be Signed by the Commanders

Special to The Times.

London, June 30.—The Pekin correspondent of The Times, commenting in a despatch on the question whether the payment of the Chinese indemnity to the foreign powers be made in gold or silver, says the American interpretation of the protocol meets with no approval from the other governments concerned, and that a reconsideration should show the United States that no service is done to China by listening to her appeal.

The Mandarins, goes on the correspondent, welcome the indemnity as a means of squeezing the people, while placing the odium therefor on the foreigners. Cases which constantly occur prove that Chinese officials are wringing from the people almost three the amount required to pay the undemnity, and the fall in silver, although great, is insignificant in amount compared to the large sums thus exacted.

The Times' correspondent says also that Russia has wirhdrawn from the foreign government at Tien Tsin, and that General Wogac, her representative, has started for home, refusing to be a party to the imposition upon China under the new conditions drawn up by the allied commanders.

A China Wedding

A number of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Blois, 249 Stewart street, assembled at their residence on Friday evening last and tendered their hearty congratulations on the twelfth anniversary of their marriage. Amongst the sixty guests present several came up from Port Hope—the former home of Mrs. Blois—and greatly added to the pleasure of the occasion. A large number of beautiful presents—all in china—were presented—while the floral decorations were superb. After an evening spent in pleasant social enjoyment a most delectable supper was served.

Navigation

ALLAN LINE
LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE
ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

Parisian........	5 July 5 a m	5 July 3 p m
Mongolian....	12 July 7 a m	12 July 5 p m
Tunisian........	19 July 5 a m	19 July 3 p m
Pretorian......	26 July 5 a m	26 July 3 p m
Numidian......	2 Aug. 5 a m	2 Aug 3 p m

First cabin, $60 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry. Mongolian..................Wednesday, July 30

S. S. Sicilian new, from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 30th July, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only, $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to:
W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav.; Peterborough, Ontario, or to
THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd

River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S. S Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply to W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.
(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

EXCURSIONS TO MACKINAC

One of the Company's steamers will leave COLLINGWOOD 1.30, MEAFORD 3.45, OWEN SOUND 11.00 p. m. on TUESDAYS, THURSDAYS and FRIDAYS, for intermediate ports to SAULT STE. MARIE and MACKINAC ISLAND and on SATURDAYS for intermediate ports to SAULT STE. MARIE ONLY.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

SS. BRITANNIC will leave COLLINGWOOD on MONDAYS and THURSDAYS at 10.30 p. m., for Parry Sound, Points au Baril, Byng Inlet, French River and Killarney.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION,

CITY OF TORONTO will leave Midland at 11.55 a. m. and PENETANG at 2.30 p. m., daily (Sunday excepted) for intermediate ports to PARRY SOUND, arriving there at 5.30 p. m., returning leave at 6.00 a. m. For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents or

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO
STR. "ARGYLE"
(Commencing Thursday, May 22)
EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at - -	7.00 a m
" Port Hope at - -	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at -	12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7 00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday -	2.00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville - -	11.00 a m
" Trenton - -	1.15 p m
" Brighton - -	2 45 p m
Arrives Charlotte - -	7.30 p m

"Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write;

A. W. HEPBURN Manager,
Picton, Ont

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

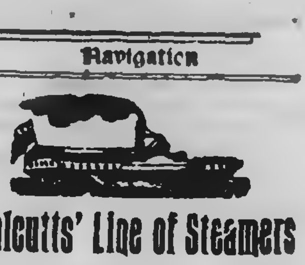
NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R, Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all points South, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.30 and 11 00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

6 Trips Daily (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto,Ont

Navigation



Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9 15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, wil leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. for Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idy Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay
ESTURION
JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv 6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 7.15 a.m.	"	4 10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar 8 40 a.m.	"	5 30 p.m.
"	Lv 11 00 a.m.	"	6 30 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 12.10 p.m.	"	7 30 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar 1.15 p.m.	"	8.55 p.m.

Satu days boat will await evening Toronto train. Meals served on board

Coboconk, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay.
MANITA
JULY 1st TO SEPT. 6th, or till notice

Coboconk	Lv 6 00 a m	Ar 7 40 p m
Rosedale	Lv 7 00 a m	Lv 6 40 p m
Fenelon Falls	Ar 7 40 a m	Lv 6 00 p m
Fenelon Falls	Lv 8 30 a m	Ar 5 20 p m
Sturgeon Pt.	Lv 9 00 a m	Lv 4 50 p m
Lindsay	Ar 10 30 a m	Lv 3 30 p m

Connections at Fenelon with morning train for Toronto and at Lindsay for Port Hope. Time at Fenelon for Breakfast and Tea.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.
"OGEMAH"
JULY 2nd TO SEPT. 6th or till notice

Bobcaygeon	Lv 7 00 a m	Ar 7 45 p m
Chemong	Lv 9 40 a m	Lv 5 30 p m
Buckhorn	Lv 11 45 a m	Lv 3 00 p m
Burleigh	Ar 12 45 p m	Lv 1 30 p m

Connections made at Burleigh Falls with Steamers for Lakefield and intermediate points. Meals served on board

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG, PORT HOPE, ROCHESTER, N. Y.
STEAMERS
"NORTH KING" AND "CASPIAN"
Daily Route Commencing June 29

SOUTH BOUND.

Leaving Cobourg, Ontario........2.00 p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario........2.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester)........6.47 p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets........8.45 p.m.

NORTH BOUND.

Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets........9.00 a.m
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester........9.45 a.m
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario........2.00 p.m
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario........3.30 p.m.

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Evans Agent Port Hope

IF YOU WANT A CAMERA

Write for catalogue or information to the Canadian Camera Co., Toronto. both of which we will be pleased to

GIVE YOU FREE

ALL GOODS WARRANTED.

A German Court Martial.

A court-martial which has aroused an immense amount of interest in Germany has been brought to an end. For over a year two non-commissioned officers named Marten and Hickel have lain under the charge of having murdered their commanding officer, Captain Von Krosigk. The trial, which has just ended in their acquittal, was the third to which they have been subjected. Late in the afternoon of January 21, 1901, Captain Von Krosigk was shot dead by an unknown hand through an embrasure in the wall of the riding school, where he had been superintending the riding exercise of some of his troopers. The murdered officer had a reputation for extreme severity in his dealings with his men, and had at least on one occasion been punished for exceeding the legitimate dictates of military discipline. The elaborate investigations which were instituted at Gumbinnen and which were partly conducted with the aid of a detective from Berlin laid bare the whole domestic economy and the daily life of the barracks. They showed that among those who had suffered most from the excessive harshness of Captain Von Krosigk was the non-commissioned officer Marten, as well as his father, a senior sergeant who had formerly served in Von Krosigk's squadron, but had obtained his transfer to another in order to escape the persecution to which he had been subjected by that officer. Hickel was the brother-in-law of the younger Marten and was involved in the suspicion which fell upon him, as he had been in Marten's company a few minutes before the murder. Both in the former trials and in that which, lasting ten days ended recently, the evidence was chiefly furnished by dragoons of the squadrons who attempted, so far as their somewhat hazy memories served, to give an account of what they had observed during the half-hours and even the minutes which preceeded and followed the crime. One witness maintained that he had seen Marten near the carbines' stand a few minutes before the murder, while another had seen two persons with stiff caps like those of non-commissioned officers near a peep-hole in the door of the riding school. On the other hand, Marten and Hickel, it was proved, had both been in the house of the parents of the former no later than ten minutes before the fatal shot was fired.

At the first trial last June Marten and Hickel were both acquitted. At the second trial in August Hickel was acquitted, while Marten was condemned to death, an attempt to escape from a military custody which according to his own account, was almost intolerable, having weighed heavily against him. The Supreme Military Court, however, quashed the second verdict in the case of both of the accused, on the ground of a technical flaw in the proceedings. The final trial brought to light no fresh evidence of importance but the sensation excited by the case had apparently inspired a number of uneducated people to come forward with stories equally sensational, but unsupported by any corroborative testimony. Thus a woman in Gumbinnen declared that on the afternoon of January 21 she had heard a shot fired in the barracks and had immediately afterwards seen in the moonlight two civilians running out of the gates. It was proved, however, that on that evening the moon did not rise till three hours later than the hour of the murder. A good deal of evidence was adduced regarding previous attacks under cover of night upon the home and the property of Capt. Von Krosigk and it was testified that he himself had attributed these outrages to civilians.

The close of the final trial was rendered dramatic by a declaration made by Marten on the invitation of the Court. He said:—

"I only ask leave to say as a last word in my defence what I feel in my inmost heart. To my great grief I have heard the prosecutor propose that punishment should be inflicted upon me. The whole nation must know, and I declare with a loud voice—as sure as there is a God in heaven I can swear from the depth of my heart that I am innocent. My words are no mere phrase, they are the very truth. At the close of the investigation the Kriegsgerichtsrath said to me: 'If You are condemned you can appeal to the mercy of his Majesty.' If I were guilty I should be ashamed to ask mercy of my Kaiser. I have always been heart and soul a soldier, like my father. Now I am only a shadow of what I was, and I have been dragged through the mire before the whole world. I ask the Court to give me justice."

In declaring its verdict the Court admitted that there were strong grounds for the suspicion which had been entertained regarding Marten and Hickel, but that, on the other hand, part of the circumstantial evidence was utterly untrustworthy and part of it of doubtful accuracy. There was nothing to show that the enmity of the Marten family against Captain Von Krosigk was of such a deep-seated and permanent character as to have driven the younger Marten and Hickel to commit this terrible crime.

Whitewash in the House.

There is more virtue in whitewash for the poultry house than most people are willing to credit. There are two ways to apply whitewash to a poultry house. One is with a brush and the other with a spray pump. These pumps are obtainable almost anywhere now, and are the best implements for putting on whitewash. The sides and ceiling of the poultry house should be given an application of whitewash. The roosts and nest boxes should not be neglected. The whitewash should be of the consistency of thick cream, and it will be found a good plan to put some kerosene in each pailful. Mites can be killed and lice will not survive where a frequent and thorough application of whitewash is given. One can put on some old slip of a garment, an old hat, and with a spray pump can in a few minutes have a good application of whitewash that will make everything sweet and clean. What falls on the floor will make a good floor itself when mixed with the hard dirt, gravel [illegible], or of whatever material the floor is made.

To Invade the United States.

A recent issue of The Philadelphia Press contained an account of an interesting enterprise undertaken by Mr. Alfred Mosely, an Englishman, who has gained great wealth in South Africa. The Press says:—

In November next by the best of ocean steamships, and at the most luxurious of American hotels, and on the finest of special trains, there is to be made out of England an invasion of the United States. At the personal expense of Alfred Mosely this invading force is to be organized, maintained and transported, a force of 120 leaders, forty of them conspicuous in the world of educational affairs, forty more being men of authority in the trade unions of Great Britain, and forty more being capitalists. The visit will be prolonged until January of next year, and when this company returns to England it is expected that their fellow-citizens will be enlightened as to those mystic influences which have made it possible for the United States to gain equal rank with other nations in world affairs and in many things pre-eminent rank.

Mr. Mosely was one of the invited guests at the installation of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler as President of Columbia University last Saturday. He sat with that representative and distinguished group, which, as a whole, was a composite representative of all the intellectual and material influences that have made the United States what the nation is to-day. He was peculiarly impressed by the ceremony, and especially by the presence, in enthusiastic accord and sympathy, with all that the election and installation of Dr. Butler means, of men of affairs, men of distinction in commerce, in manufacture, in applied science, and in finance. That was something to which celebrations at English or European universities, of which Mr. Mosely has had knowledge, can offer no counterpart. In the presence and in the enthusiasm of these men he discovered one of the reasons why the United States has been and is now passing by unconscious promotion from the rear rank of nations to a place of supremacy.

He was reminded of the attempt made by the Duke of Devonshire a few years ago when one of the ancient and most famous of the English universities, finding itself in some pecuniary need, made appeals for help. The Duke undertook to raise a considerable fund, having in mind as much as $300,000, American money. But when he turned to the men of commerce he found them deaf. When he appealed to the financiers he discovered that they looked upon the university as something apart in all its influences and scope from their vocation. When he approached the manufacturers he learned that even Oxford with its venerable traditions was for them a mere incident in the national life of Great Britain. So that, having at last secured a scanty $30,000, the Duke abandoned his undertaking. And Mr. Mosely, after he had identified the various personalities prominent in finance and in all material activities who shared in the installation ceremonies of last Saturday, discovered one of the reasons why Oxford and Cambridge are, comparatively speaking, dead, so far as their influence upon the prosperity and advancement of Great Britain are concerned. Nor was he surprised when he was told that had an American prince of finance been appealed to as the Duke of Devonshire was some years ago, he would have, and many times in recent years he has within a day or a week or a brief time, secured the hundreds of thousands, and even millions, that the university needed. Columbia itself had an experience of that kind last winter.

Mr. Mosley might have been told—perhaps he was—of a recent experience of Yale's young president. It seemed to Arthur Hadley that there ought to be raised for Yale, so that administrative and other convenient buildings might be constructed, $1,000,000, and he hoped that it would be possible for him to announce at the bi-centennial that this money had been pledged. He had not then learned the art of approach, however, or the manner by which rich men make up large funds, so that he began to despair of success. Then one day he met an alumnus of Yale, M.C.D. Borden, a man of wealth, and to him Mr. Borden said in effect; "You are not doing this the right way. What you want first is a nucleus of, say, $500,000, secured from a few men, and when you have got that there will be no trouble about the rest."

"But who is to form this nucleus?" President Hadley asked; and Mr. Borden replied, "I will. I will begin it with $100,000. To-morrow I will see Mr. Vanderbilt and one or two others." And on the next day in less than five minutes' chat with Frederick W. Vanderbilt Mr. Borden had secured his pledge of $100,000, Mr. Vanderbilt's only comment being, "It will give me great pleasure to do it," and a day or two later two others were secured pledging a like amount, and at last James J. Hill, and thus President Hadley had his nucleus of $500,000 and it was a mere detail to secure the rest.

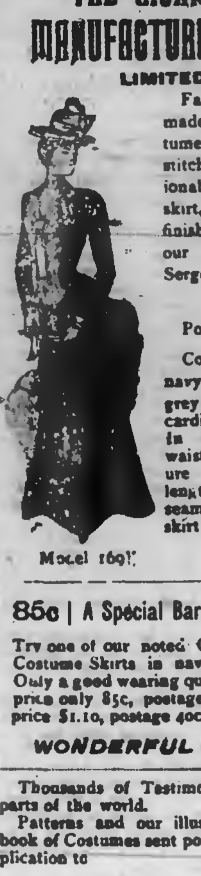
Such an experience, according to Mr. Mosely's view, would have been impossible in Great Britain, even for Oxford or for Cambridge, and these institutions staggering under land poverty and the indifference to them of the powerful men of material affairs in Great Britain cannot in Mr. Mosely's view, or in that of American educators, even though stimulated by the endowments made possible by the will of Cecil Rhodes, give to American youths that training, experience, and character which they may obtain at home, and which they need, if they are to be of service in their day and generation. In fact, the American youth would probably do better were they to attend some of the universities in the greater cities of England, for some of the quickening influences of modern times has been felt in these institutions.

The sowing of seed by hand is not an economical method, as more seed is required than when a drill is used, and there is a larger return from the drill, owing to better covering of the seed and greater uniformity of depth. The drill has been improved to a high degree of efficiency, and some have fertilizer attachments. In all experiments made to determine the comparative value of the drill and hand seeding a less quantity of seed, carefully drilled in, yielded more bushels per acre, in proportion to seed used, than seeding by hand.

$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.

LIMITED.



Model 1691.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made o our noted Chevio Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from al parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.
Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S

BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly Inter Ocean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G. PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression

MAUDE MASSON, Principal.

Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture

CALANDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings. IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

APIOL & STEEL PILLS
for Ladies

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

Superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R·I·P·A·N·S Tabules. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

ARE YOU STOUT.

[illegible]

Everybody reads The Times.

HAS A HARROWING TALE OF VOLCANOE

Visitor From Grenada Relates Horrors of Catastrophie at St. Vincent

ANOTHER STORY OF ERUPTION

Comes to Canada to Cool Off After a Torrid Experience

G. S. St. J. Calvert, an Englishman, who has for several years been engaged in business in Grenada, one of the three islands comprised in the Windward group, was in Peterborough last week. He told of the effect of the eruption of the Soufriere at St. Vincent, in St. George, the town where he resided. Illness and the recent disturbance decided him to leave that part of the world, although he retains his business interests, which are being looked after by his partner. He is accompanied by his wife. They are en route to Banff, having come by way of Chicago. Banff is good enough for them after their recent experience.

"It was a terrible experience," said Mr. Calvert to a Times reporter. "The whole native element was panic stricken and fled to the churches. The white men were not much more easy in their minds. At the time of the eruption, the water in one part of the harbor of St. George bubbled and boiled, and ashes in great clouds followed, falling from the sky and covered everything. The downpour of dust lasted for several days and you could hardly go out at all. It was suffocating. Besides the heat and the awful calm, there was the general fear that seemed to communicate itself to everybody. One result of the disturbance was to interrupt the trade winds and these had not resumed. All the sailing craft were compelled to remain idle. From the steamer we sighted several vessels drifting aimlessly and waiting for a breeze.

DEATH FOR SAILORS.

"There were seventeen men from the port of St. George who perished at the Soufriere eruption. All were sailors on the steamship Roddam which was just about to enter the harbor when the volcano belched forth its fire. Four natives of our town escaped and they managed to work the Roddam away from St. Pierre and were in the hospital at St. George. When they were brought back the whole population of the town turned out to greet them, and there were great lamentations.

HEAR FIRST RUMBLINGS.

"The story told by the four survivors was harrowing," continued Mr. Calvert. "They said that the day was very calm and still and the water smooth and oily. They heard rumblings and were afraid, but what they feared they knew not. As they were approaching the harbor the smoke that was coming out from the mountain top seemed to open out and big balls of fire ascended. At the same time the sides of the mountain opened and fire came out. This fire increased in volume and swept down the mountain side, licking up everything. It extended out into the harbor. The four men who escaped were unnerved by fear and ran into the hold of the Roddam. This saved their lives, for when they came up on deck they found it strewn with corpses. Everything of inflammable nature was destroyed and there was a suffocating smell of sulphur. Dust and ashes fell in clouds, and the decks were several inches thick in it.

"One of the survivors named Watts thought one of the men on deck was alive and went to give him a drink. Watts' hand sank in the man's body. It was all ash. All of the bodies were turned to a white ash and while they held their form if unmolested, fell to pieces at the slightest touch. Watts heard men shrieking in the water, when some of the other sailors had jumped to escape the heat, but the water started to boil with the heat from below, and they met a horrible fate."

Mr. Calvert says that the four survivors will be many weeks in the hospital before they will recover. Although in the hold of the ship and to a great measure protected, they were badly burned. Under the direction of the engineer, who was so badly burned that he could do nothing himself, they worked the vessel to safety. When the tidal wave came just after the eruption the Roddam was tossed around like a cork, stranded and then carried out to sea.

"It's funny what some ministers will do," said Mr. Calvert. "At St. George the Sunday after the disaster the Anglican minister preached on Sodam and Gomorrah and heaven's visitations, yet the only one saved at St. Pierre was a felon in an underground cell, and one of the four St. George survivors was an ex-convict, who had served more than one term behind the prison walls."

BRITISH-AMERICANS REJOICE

Five Thousand in Meeting at Chicago Cheered by News from King's Bedside

Special to The Times.

Chicago, July 1.—Rejoicing at the more favorable news as to King Edward's condition, expressing sympathy with him and Queen Alexandra and pledging themselves to work for a "closer union between the United States and Great Britain and all that makes for civilisation," some 5,000 British-American citizens of Chicago, held an enthusiastic meeting at the First regiment armory last night.

One of the most striking features of the meeting was the tribute paid to President Roosevelt. His picture the first one shown among the stereotyped views, and it was received with long and tremendous cheering, and waving of the flags of both nations.

Addresses were made by Dr. Sarah Hackett Stevenson, the Rev. W. Robson Notman, Professor W. Douglas Mackenzie and others.

Vandalism in the Park

Once more we have to complain of the work of vandals in Victoria Park. On Friday night or Saturday morning Mr. Cooney found the wire fencing surrounding some of the beds broken down, and the flowers tramped on. One beautiful geranium, of a rare species, was removed entirely from one of the large pots and carried off, showing that thieves as well as vandals, are at work. It's a pity that the dals as work. It's a pity that the guilty parties cannot be discovered and prosecuted.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP
WORKS OF
Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, ENG. | Send for JOHN DICKS complete catalogue of Cheap Literature, Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 334 pages, and all the original illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 336 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.") This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 328 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM. MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE

An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 169 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 357 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

ASK FOR THE

ALES AND PORTER
—OF—
THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.
The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.
To be had at all first-class dealers

Business Men

If you require well bound, well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order. Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.

Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips, cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S
ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings Medicine Co
195 YONGE ST., TORONTO

King Edward VII. Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

CURE YOURSELF!

Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous. Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles, $2.75. Circular sent on request.

GET INTO DEBT

To us for advising the use of our Babbit and Solder, also our Lead and Tin Pipe.

They are Simply the Best

THE CANADA METAL Co
William St., Toronto, Ont.

VARICOCELE

I guarantee my Latest Method Treatment to be a permanent and positive cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without cutting, stretching or loss of time. In Varicocele it absorbs the bagging, or wormy condition, equalizes circulation, stops pains in the groins, also all drains, thereby giving the organs their proper nutrition, vitalizes the parts and restores lost powers; in Stricture it absorbs the Stricture tissue, stops smarting sensation, nervousness, weakness, backache, etc., while in all prostatic troubles it is the treatment par excellence. So positive am I that my treatment will cure you, you can

PAY WHEN CURED

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. This should convince you that I have confidence in my Latest Method Treatment, otherwise I could not make you this proposition. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, call or write me.

Each Time You Call You See Me Personally,

Or each time you write it receives my personal attention. The number of years I am established in Detroit, and the cures I accomplished after given up by other doctors, has placed me as the foremost specialist of the country. CONSULTATION FREE. Call or write for blank for blank for home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. All medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor, Can. All duty and express charges prepaid. Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., COR. WILCOX ST. DETROIT, MICH.

Financial

Ontario Bank

HEAD OFFICE, - - TORONTO

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH

General Banking Business Transacted.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

Highest Rate of Interest Allowed on Deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Bank of Montreal

(Established 1817.)

HEAD OFFICE - MONTREAL

Capital (all paid up)...... $12,000,000
Reserved Fund...... 7,000,000
Undivided Profits...... [illegible]

General Manager, E. S. CLOUSTON.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH.

Savings Bank Dept.—Interest allowed at current rates. Domestic and Foreign Exchange bought and sold. A general banking business transacted.

W. H. HOGG, Manager.

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

3½ Per cent interest allowed on deposits from day of deposit to day of withdrawal, repayable at any time.

4 Per cent paid on Debentures, issued for 2, 3 or 5 years.

Money to loan at lowest current rates.
Open every Saturday afternoon.
Office, 437 George street.

W. G. MORROW, Manager

Peterborough, March 15, 1902.

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASIEST TERMS OF PAYMENT

STRATTON & HALL

BARRISTERS

Office—Bank of Commerce Building Peterborough.

HENRY S. MARA — ALBERT W. TAYLOR

Mara & Taylor

Members Toronto Stock Exchange
STOCK BROKERS. 5 TORONTO ST

Orders promptly executed on the Toronto, Montreal and New York Exchanges

JOHN STARK & CO.

26 TORONTO ST. TORONTO.

Stocks Bought and Sold

ON TORONTO, MONTREAL AND NEW YORK EXCHANGES

Correspondence Invited.

MONEY TO LOAN ON STOCKS

Bonds and Debentures on convenient terms

Interest Allowed on Deposits.

The Home Savings and Loan Co., Ltd

78 Church Street.

Legal

POUSSETTE & McWILLIAMS, BARRISTERS and Solicitors, 379 Water Street. Money to lend at lowest current rates. A. P. Poussette, K.C., R. F. McWilliams, LL.B.

DENNISTOUN PECK & STEVENSON Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office 417 Water Street. Money to lend. E. A. Peck R. M. Dennistoun. A. Stevenson.

HATTON & BRADBURN, BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public. G. W. Hatton C. H. Bradburn, B.A.

Miscellaneous

TO RENT. "Dunlogie" Stony Lake, near Juniper Island. Large rooms, completely furnished, Ice, Boats, Etc. Apply G. A. Lang, Barrister, Lakefield.

FRY. 304 Park Place—Falling into Line—Painting, Papering and Graining of all kinds and descriptions at very moderate prices. Geo. A. FRY 304 Park place

ALLEN'S PATENT FIRE PROOF COMPO for roof—better than metal; will not crack as other cements. Daniel Allen, 15 Toronto St. out Toronto

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN, MACHINISTS & electricians, new 48 page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board of Engineers. Sent free. GEO. A. ZELLER, Publisher, St. Louis.

LADDERS—THE WAGGONER EXTENSION LADDER is the best made. Lawn swings, curtain stretchers, &c. Illustrated catalogue free. Address The Waggoner Ladder Co., Ltd., London, Ont.

STORES TO LET. The Commissioners of the Town Trust have the following stores to let:

No. 391 George St., now occupied by Henry Best.

No. 22 corner George and Charlotte Sts., formerly occupied by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's ticket office.

Apply to the Secretary Commissioners Town Trust.

LADIES Use our harmless remedy for delayed or suppressed period; it cannot fail. Trial free. PARIS CHEMICAL Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

DOMINION DAY SPORTS

Continued from page 1.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Brewer, 100 lbs. flour, presented by McAllister Milling Co.

Oldest married couple—Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, 50 lbs flour, presented by Mayor Denne.

Newest married couple—Mr. and Mrs. W. Welch, chair presented by E. B. Clegg.

Prettiest couple on the grounds—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hawes, half dozen photos presented by R. M. Roy.

Messrs. R. H. Jackson, W. Overend, J. H. O'Shea and R. J. Munro, each presented Committee with $3.00 boxes of cigars

S. A. Oke presented Committee with bunch of bananas for distribution on boat.

At five o'clock after everyone had enjoyed themselves to their fill, the steamers started on their return trips, the "City" and "Star" arriving in town at 8 and 8.10 respectively.

The General Committee to whom special credit is due for much of the success, was composed of Messrs. Richard Waram, chairman; Alf. Kingscote, secretary; T. J. Stenton, W. Taylor, Frank Turner and H. C. Beale.

BASEBALL.

The Bowmanville baseball team visited Peterborough yesterday and defeated the locals in a Midland League game by a score of [illegible]. The Peterborough team was made up of the Auburns who have taken over the Coal Heaver's franchise. The Auburns played remarkably good ball for beginners and should give a good account of themselves before the season closes. The only players of the old Peterborough team who played were McCabe and [illegible]. [illegible] made a grand garrison finish and had their opponents going in good style towards the end of the game. Umpire Duncan, of Cobourg officiated.

The Peterborough team was as follows—Belleghem c, McCorry and McCabe p, Wareham 1b, Davidson 2b, Sheridan ss, Flaherty 3b, Fenton lf, Carson cf, Shaw rf. The Bowmanville battery was Osborne and Wilcox.

TENNIS.

A meeting of the Y.W.C.A. Tennis Club will be held in the rooms on Thursday evening next at 7.3 . A full attendance is requested.

Belleville, Ont, July 1.— The best game of lacrosse seen in this city in many a year was played here this afternoon between the Athletics of Peterborough and Belleville's newly-organized team. Though Peterborough won they had to fight every inch of the way. The score was 5 to 4 in favor of the visitors although the winning goal was disputed. However, the score goes down in history as 5 to 4. Both sides played a swift, accurate game, though if Belleville had played with the same snap in first half of the match as they did in the last quarter there would surely have been a different tale to tell.

The catching and passing on both sides was superb, and the local team shows great improvement over their form in the first match.

The teams were as follows—

Peterborough—Galley, goal; Dillon, point; Morgan, cover point; Glover, Mein and Dunford, defence field; Parnell centre; Graham, Lundy and Foreman, home field; Dobbin, outside home; Robertson, inside home; E. Wasson, field captain.

Belleville—Halten, goal; Hutchon, point; Cook, Wallace and Ford, defence field; Allan, centre; Burke, Burrell and Hograt home field; Browley, outside home, Maguire, inside home; Ed. Farrel, field captain.

Goal umpires—M. D. Shea and P. M. Forin.

Referee—Dr. R. Snell, Toronto.

The Montreal Witness says: London stops at nothing in its quest and is scouring the country for lacrosse players. Players sometimes refuse to swallow the filthy lucre, and very often when changing their address take into consideration the place and its surroundings. Can one blame those Shamrock men who refused an offer of $300 and a position when the fact of having to spend the time after dark is considered? For this reason London's magnificent inducements can only attract a few of the lesser stars from the back woods.

SHAMROCKS HOLD THE CUP.

Montreal, July 1.—The Shamrocks again proved their title to the charge of the Minto Cup, emblematic of the world's lacrosse championship, by defeating the New Westminster team in the second and final match of the series this afternoon by 5 goals to 3.

LONDON DEFEATED WOODSTOCK.

London, July 1.— London won from Woodstock in a rough and fiercely contested game of lacrosse here today by 5 to 3. About 7,000 people were present. London's defence work saved the day for them, while their home players were ahead of the visitors in every respect. The game was a tie up to the last quarter, when London scored two goals.

ARE YOU STOUT.

[illegible]

The No Breakfast League.

Certain good people of Chicago have started a "No Breakfast League," the idea being that breakfast is a frivolous and unnecessary institution, and ought to be suppressed. People, they say, can work better and enjoy greater health by starting for the city in the morning without breakfast. On your way to the station you drink in the free air of heaven; and as you sit in the train you buckle up your waistcoat band another inch or two and feel a new man.

There has been for many years a "No Breakfast League" in everything but the name; although the members of the League do not brag about their connection with it. After what is popularly known as a "thick" night, breakfast has no charms whatever for the practised drinker. Perhaps this is the idea of the League. At any rate, anybody can start in the no-breakfast business for himself at any time. All you have to do is to mix your drinks judiciously the night before, so that you will wake up in the morning with a copper-colored taste in the mouth and general feeling that eating is a low and degrading habit anyhow. At such times even a sight of the breakfast ham gives you a dull, hard feeling in the chest; and when that stage is reached you will be a No Breakfaster of the first water.

More than likely, however, that the Chicago No Breakfasters are just the ordinary run of food cranks. If there is one thing in this world that you cannot prudently do, it is to advise your neighbor as to his dietary. And, as a natural consequence, we all think we know what is good and what is bad in the way of meals for the people. One man will tackle a breakfast big enough to make a dinner for three people, and if he hears that his neighbor's breakfast is limited to a slice of toast and a cup of tea, he at once predicts a lowered vitality and an early death. The tea and toast man, on the other hand, will no doubt hold that his neighbor is killing himself by inches with those heavy breakfasts; whereas, in these matters, it seems to be most true that every man is the best judge of what is good for himself. It is very likely that a breakfast limited to a run round the garden and a bit of dumb-bell exercise may suit the Chicago people, but it is very improbable that it would suit everybody alike.

The average enthusiast is apt to overlook the swing of the pendulum when taking up the newest craze in a whole-hearted manner. He will go without his accustomed breakfast on the first morning, and arrive at his office in a peevish and irritable mood. Somewhere about eleven o'clock he feels like throwing up the sponge, and sending the messenger out for a dry biscuit or two; but in most cases he will last out for the first experiment. At lunch time, though, the swing of the pendulum will come in. He has got to take a lunch that will average up to two meals; and in the first glorious rush at the good solid food there is a very fair chance that he will overdo the lonely business. The usual lunch hour will drag itself out into two hours and a half, or thereabouts; though it would be idle to fix a limit to it if it is going to be the first meal of the day under the new rules. The novice will eat—and drink—and the reaction after the unaccustomed fast will turn the meal into a considerable sort of orgie. "Thish ish the first drop I've 'ad to-day, ole feller! 'Ave anusser wis me! Whoo-oop!"

Where is this No Everything going to leave off? They will carry these self-denying ordinances along till something occurs that will show the public that the wrong tack is being pursued. The papers the other day said that a Russian scientist had discovered that all the ills the flesh is heir to are due to our wearing—clothes. Let somebody start a No Clothes Society in this happy land of ours and see how it works. There would be a busy time on the first bright summer morning on which the Leaguers set out to justify their principles; and the authorities would be running round town buying up hundred-weights of trousers at contract price for the morning's batch of prisoners roped into the official strong-rooms. A league of this sort would impress the public with its stupidity, whereas you can't tell by merely looking at a man whether he has had his breakfast or not. And, as we know, what we can't see we don't trouble about to any extent.

Some people who profess to be very wise tell us from time to time that the average man eats too much. If the average man who hears the good news gets influenced by it, the chances are that he will thin his diet down a little, and thus save money for the doctor's bills that he will thereby incur. The average man, as a rule, eats what he thinks he wants. To some extent, he has probably learned by experience that a certain quantity of food is necessary for his well-being, and as soon as that quantity has become a habit he runs a considerable risk in changing it, for use is second nature. The scientist sits down and calculates that so many ounces of food are sufficient for an ordinary man, and calmly assumes that the last word on the subject has been said. Whereas, in the case of two men of equal size, one will often be satisfied with a dinner of oatmeal porridge and a glass of water, while the other will want soup, fish, joint, and cheese, and then as likely as not will want to order some biscuits with his wine just to fill up the still aching void.

You can't lay down a hard-and-fast rule in these matters; and if the No Breakfasters are going to have a free run in the country, I for one shall advocate an increase of accommodation in our lunatic asylums. It has long been a favorite rule of the medical profession that people oughtn't to eat suppers; and if we are now to be advised to do without breakfast as well, we might as well go the whole hog and live the higher life on two dry biscuits and a seidlitz powder per diem.—"Pick-Me-Up."

"It's an A1 display," said Mr. Pitt, at the dog show. "It's a first-class exhibition," replied Mr. Penn, "but you've got the wrong number." "How so?" "Instead of A1 it is K9."—"Dog Fanciers' Gazette."

"If any one asks for me, James, I shall be back in ten minutes," said Mr. Fosdick. "Yes, sorr," replied the Irish office boy; "and how soon will you be back if no one asks for you?"

THE GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson

Author of The Barn Stormers
Fortune's Sport, Miss Nobody,
Her Royal Highness, Lady
Mary of the Dark
House, etc.

very bold step.

Mr. Westerley patted my hand, reassuring me fussily, as best he could; and I bade him good-bye. Yet he suspected nothing.

When he had gone I repeated the word with a sob. "Good-bye, dear, sweet old home that I have loved," I said with wet, wide eyes that took in every familiar detail of the room. "Good-bye, everything that has been dear. You aren't for me any more." Then the tears which had been held back for so long splashed down. I broke open the envelope which Roger had given me and could scarcely see what he had written. There was more than an address; there was a letter offering me a regular allowance, which I at once resolved to reject. My mother's name I found was Mrs. Newlyn, and she lived at 25 Easel street, Commercial road, Peckham.

Having read the letter I wrote a short note to Mr. Westerley, another to Roger Cope. In both of these I said much the same thing, though I said it in very different ways.

I told the two men—the old friend of my childhood, and the cousin who was a cousin no more—that I had decided to leave Arrish Mell at once. Delay would only be painful. I was going to my mother, and would stay with her if she would keep me, though I intended to find work and not be a burden upon her. In any case a letter would reach me if sent to her address. I ended my note to the vicar with grateful, affectionate words; Roger's closed stiffly and abruptly, for I could not make it otherwise.

When I had finished, the hardest part of what I had to do was still to come. I had to tell the news to the servants, who had been at Arrish Mell Court for so many years that they had become old friends.

It was hard for the loving, simple hearts to understand that I was actually saying good-bye. But they realized it at last; and Evans sorrowfully promised that when Mr. Westerley and Sir Roger Cope should call after I had gone, he would hand them the notes I had written.

There was no time to be lost if I would be away before either the vicar or Sir Roger Cope arrived. In the confusion of my mind at first I had not remembered the present need of money. But suddenly I flushed and quivered, with a humiliating thought.

"Oh, Swift," I cried, "bring me the green purse that you put away when we came back from town."

CHAPTER VIII.

What I Found at the End of the Journey.

The purse I had desired Swift to bring me was the one which had been in my charge on the night of terror and disaster—the purse that had been rescued for me by a man whose face I had seen once or twice in my dreams since then.

On that night it had held a considerable sum, but the money was all or nearly all gone now. There had been frequent calls upon it during the last day or two at the hotel, and though I had supposed then that I should have plenty of my own by and by, I had not cared to apply to Roger while there remained a fund that I could draw upon instead.

My hand trembled when Swift gave me the purse. She had been away in the next room longer than necessary it seemed, and I had been desperately impatient to know my fate. I was almost sure that, at most, there would be left me no more than twenty or thirty shillings, but what was my surprise when I saw seven bright gold sovereigns.

"Oh, I am so thankful!" I exclaimed. "This will last me a long time." Then, even as I spoke, a torrent of blood rushed up to my face. "Swift, how could you do it?" I said. "Don't you think I know? Don't you think I understand?"

"There's nothing to understand, miss," she returned, stolidly. "I'm sure I can't guess what you mean."

"This is your money. You put it into the purse, knowing or suspecting that I would have nothing besides. It was very good, and I thank you; but I can't take it. Tell me how much is yours, Swift, and how much was really there."

"Oh, miss, as if I would have dared!" she asseverated. "If there's more in the purse than you expected, why, begging your pardon, it's because of your careless way. You didn't know what you had."

"No, but I'm sure——"

"Do, do forgive me interrupting, dear miss," broke in Swift. "But it's too bad of you making out I'd have touched your purse—her ladyship's own purse it was, too. It's as much as to say I'm—well, I won't go on, miss, if you look like that. But do tell me you don't believe I would have done it. Now, miss," she hurried on, before I could do more than look what I felt, "I must be hurrying to get ready, too, if you can spare me."

"Ready for—what?" I echoed.

"Why, to go with you, to be sure."

"I thought you understood," I said, sadly, "I can't take you. I must go alone."

She burst out crying. "Oh, miss, that's the last straw! I must go with you. 'Twould be wicked to stand by and let you go out in the world alone—just like a little white lamb in its ignorance straying into the butcher's hands."

"I am going to—my mother," I answered, choking a little. "She—isn't very rich, and—and I fancy she must live in a small house. She would not know what to do with a maid, and—besides, I couldn't pay you."

"I wouldn't want a penny, miss, and I'd be a 'general' sooner than leave you," persisted Swift, almost fiercely. I didn't know what she meant by a 'general,' associating that name only with high officers of the army, but I appreciated her intention. We were miserable together; and when I went down to the carriage, there were all the others in the hall, not a dry eye among them. Somehow, I got through the

To be Continued

KEEP UP WITH THE PROCESSION

By using ST. JACOBS OIL for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Lameness, Stiffness of the Muscles, Soreness, and all aches and pains.

ST. JACOBS OIL

Has cured hundreds, its effect is instantaneous and marvellous, it penetrates to the very foundation of pain and removes the cause. Price 25c. and 50c.

ACTS LIKE MAGIC!
CONQUERS PAIN!

WEDDING FORMS AND DAINTY CARDS

THE pearly, white translucent paper of the Times wedding invitations is a rich background for the velvety black ink impression of the suberb printing.

While the paper is specially imported, the remainder of the work is done in the Times Job Rooms.

The uniquely attractive results will be gladly shown to those desiring wedding forms printed.

STATIONERY

The Times Book Store stationery is prettily boxed and includes all the popular shades of papers.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBOROUGH.

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year

Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

TYPEWRITERS

I deal extensively in TYPEWRITERS Now have a large stock of excellent machines of the various makes. Write to me, stating what you would like, and I will mail you printed matter with very favorable quotations. Some SPECIAL Bargains. Business established 1883.

Address A. E. Wilbur's Typewrite Works, 8 Rue St., Binghamton N. Y

Holiday Seekers can have the "TIMES"

Sent to any address in Canada or the United States FREE of postage. Drop a card or telephone 164.

BIG G

CURE YOURSELF!

[illegible]

Coronation!

BOOTS and SHOES

THE LATEST STYLES AT

JOHN KYLIE'S, HUNTER ST.

All sizes in stock at lowest prices. Also a full line of Canadian and American shoes of every description.

Custom boots and shoes made to order at lowest prices.

FOOT ELM

POSITIVELY CURES

SWEATY FEET
SORE FEET
ACHING FEET
BLISTERED FEET
HOT FEET
INFLAMED FEET
SWOLLEN FEET

18 Powders 25c

Shun any man who offers you a substitute simply because he can make a few cents more profit out of you by persuading you to take a cheaper article.

STOTT & JURY,
Bowmanville, Ont.

THE

PORT HOPE BREWING AND MALTING CO., Ltd.

IF YOU ARE LOSING weight or your appetite and digestion need stimulating or are convalesing after an illness, ask your druggist for

BOTTS'

Celebrated Malt Extract

Or write direct to the sole manufacturers for Canada

The Port Hope Brewing & Malting Co. LTD.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 30 1902

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There by the Times.

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to contribute items of news to its columns. Anything that is phoned or sent in writing to the office, of a nature suitable for publication, will be received and published.—Ed. Times.]

—The season for the luscious raspberry is now at hand.

—Chief Roazel has a pair of eyeglasses for which he would like an owner

—At the police court yesterday Richard Tice was given six months on the hill as a vagrant.

—All Saint's Sunday School will meet at 9.45 on Sunday mornings during July and August.

—The Choir Boys' concert in St. John's Church last night was a very enjoyable affair and was fairly well attended.

—Miss Jean Scott lost a pretty little wire hair fox terrier by poisoning. This wholesale destruction of dogs is becoming intolerable.

—The hotel men of Ontario propose to make a "voting" campaign against the referendum. The Peterborough license holders will organize at an early date.

—An election is to be held at once to fill the vacancy in the Board of Education caused by the resignation of Mr. Bamford.

—Mr. Felix Brownscombe, treasurer, is busily engaged in making out bills for the water rates for the ensuing quarter. These bills must be paid by the 15th in order to secure the usual discount.

—The greatest individual circus act in the world is indisputably that performed by Minting, the Marvel, with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Shows. He rides up and down a spiral tower that reaches from the arena to the top of the dome of the huge tent, on a unicycle or the single wheel of a bicycle. His act is one of the last on the programme at the afternoon exhibitions but is one of the first at the evening exhibitions, for the reason that it requires a long time in which to take down and pack away the huge tower. He will be seen here with these shows when they appear in this city on July 8th

—"The average person, man or woman, wears the left shoe out sooner than the right," said an old cobbler yesterday to The Times. "Many people wonder at this and can't understand why it should be. Long experience has taught me that it is a peculiarity of most people to come down harder on the left foot, throwing the right foot a little forward. This is borne out by the fact that everyone takes a longer step with the right foot than with the left. People who get lost in an open country, such as our Western prairies, always travel in a circle if they have no compass to guide them. That is because one foot takes a longer step than the other, and that is also why the left shoe wears out soonest."

Accident to Mr Blezard

The many friends of Mr. T. Blezard, ex-M.P.P. will regret to learn that he met with a painful accident a few days ago, by which two of his ribs were broken. It appears that while crossing a field in a rig he drove into a hole in the earth To save himself from falling, Mr. Blezard reached forward and put his hand on the horse in front. The animal kicked and in doing so broke two of Mr. Blezard's ribs. He is now, we are pleased to say, doing nicely, and will soon be alright.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

NOTE—The Times requests its readers to furnish the paper with items of a personal and social nature, either by 'phone or in writing.—Ed. Times.]

—Hon. J. R. Stratton spent Dominion Day in town.

—Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P., was in town yesterday.

—Mr. D. M. W. Somerville spent Dominion Day in Toronto.

—Mr. W. B. Kelly, of Bridgenorth, was in town yesterday.

—Miss Lizetta Jeffs, of Detroit, is visiting Mrs. A. L. Davis.

—Mr. C. R. Fowlds, of Hastings, was in town yesterday on business.

—Mr. L. Fobert, Bridgenorth, was in town yesterday on business.

Mr. Alexander J. Miller and family, of Toronto, are visiting at the Snowden House.

—Mrs. A. C. McCallum and Mrs. Roland Johnston and children have gone to Stony Lake for July and August.

—Mr. Joseph Troy, Associate editor of of the Trade Review, Montreal, paid The Times a fraternal visit yesterday.

—Mr. R. H. Bradburn returned from a trip to the Sault, Mackinac Island, and Chicago, going west by boat and returning by rail.

—Mrs. H. M. Brooks, Miss Maggie and Master Freddie returned on Tuesday evening from a three week's visit to Toronto, Oshawa and Port Perry.

—The Times had a pleasant call yesterday from Mr. H. A. Daniels, the popular press representative of the Great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' show which is to exhibit here on Thursday next, July 8th. Mr. Daniels is an experienced journalist and is therefore always at home in an editor's sanctum.

—Mrs. John Dickson, of Zion, Otonabee, and her little son, Master Johnny, who have been the guests of Mrs. Hazlitt, Mrs. Dickson's mother, Harvey street, left for home yesterday. We are pleased to say that Master Johnny has almost entirely recovered from his recent illness, caused by an injury to his chin.

Has Them to Burn

Mr. John A. Cameron, the well known traveller was recently a traveller on a C.P.R. train going to Montreal. Seated across the aisle from him was a lady in deep mourning, and right in front of him were two ladies probably 35 or 40 years old. The lady in mourning was weeping and the other two went to her and asked her what was troubling her. She told them she was en route to Montreal with the remains of her third husband to have them cremated. When the two ladies returned to their seat in front of him Mr. Cameron heard one say to the other, "This is certainly a queer world. Neither of us has been able to get a husband, while that poor, afflicted woman has them to burn."

They Father Consumption

Bad coughs, colds and catarrh are responsible for more consumption than is traceable even to heredity. Catarrhozone cures more quickly than ordinary remedies because it is the only antiseptic yet discovered that is volatile enough to reach the root of the trouble in remote parts of the lungs and bronchial tubes, and impregnate every part of the air breathed with its healing, germ-killing vapor. Colds can't last ten minutes, or coughs more than thirty minutes when Catarrhozone is inhaled. It clears nose, throat and air passages at once, stops dropping, headache and eradicates catarrh from any part of the system. Two months' treatment, $1; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THANKS THE COUNCIL

Hon. Mr. Tarte Thanks the Mayor for His Reception

Mayor Denne received the following communication from Hon. J. Israel Tarte:
His Worship the Mayor, Peterborough, Ontario:

My dear Mr. Denne,—Permit me to thank you for the many courtesies extended to me during my visit in Peterborough. I will take a warmer interest than ever in the development and progress of the town. Kindly convey the expression of my best sentiments to the town council and believe me

Very truly yours,
J. ISRAEL TARTE.

MARRIED.

CANNON—WICKER—At the parsonage on July 1st, by Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., Wellington Cannon, to Dolly Wicker, daughter of Edward Wicker, Esq., all of Ashburnham.

GOT TO GO

Men of Family Must Work Sick or Well

Good food and the right kind will carry a man through almost anything. Commenting on the power of Grape-Nuts an Oakland wife writes of the experience of her husband.

"Two years ago my husband had the pneumonia which left him in a sad condition, unable to work for several months. The doctor said he would have to be very careful or it would turn into consumption

We have a large family and he must work sick or well. Hearing that Grape-Nuts was the strongest nourishing food we could find he began on the food with one egg, which would be all he would eat for breakfast.

He left home at four-thirty every morning seven days in the week, and after two years' continued use of the food he is a well man. Even the cough has left him that troubled him so long after his sickness.

Our youngest child, a boy of four and a half, was a very delicate baby. As soon as he could eat anything we started him on Grape-Nuts and he has grown to be a large child, taking a suit for a boy six years old. He is a very bright, strong, intelligent boy." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ask the cook to show you the receipe book in the package of Grape-Nuts.

MR. GRAY HONORED

Presented with a Handsome Travelling Case in Toronto

Toronto Globe:—"On Monday afternoon Mr. H. Kennedy Gray was presented with a very handsome travelling case by the staff of the Grant Hamilton Oil Company, Strachan Avenue, on the occasion of his leaving their Toronto office to occupy a similar position at their Montreal branch. A presentation speech was made by the manager, Mr. T. H. Hamilton, and Mr. Gray left accompanied by the best wishes of all."

Mr. Gray spent Dominion Day and yesterday in town, visiting his parents Dr. and Mrs. Gray, Sherbrooke street, and left last night on the midnight for Montreal. His friends here wish him every success.

A LOCAL PROMOTER

Mr. Robert Neil, of Peterborough, in a New Role

The Hamilton Times has the following which refers to our fellow townsman, Mr. Robert Neill, the boot and shoe man:

Oscar Wentworth Rogers is not going to have a monopoly in the rival telephone business or exclusive rights before the Finance Committee. There are other representatives of unorganized companies who can talk just as well as the New York lawyer, and one of them is in town. Mr. Robert Neill, a Peterborman, accompanied by another promoter, came to town this morning and lost no time in hunting up Ald. Dunn, Chairman of the Finance Committee. They had a long talk, and Mr. Neill promised that he would have a proposition to lay before the Finance Committee at its meeting this afternoon. Ald. Dunn, by the way has accumulated a good deal of information about the telephone during the past few months and he asked Mr. Neill some pretty pointed questions. One was as to whether his company had a charter and he got the reply that it has not, but he assured the Finance Chairman that there would be no difficulty about getting backing. Asked why the "company" had not bought the Montreal rights that sold at less than a song, Mr. Neill said that could all be explained. What interested the Finance Committee most was the assurance that "Rogers has nothing to offer the city of Hamilton."

Mr. Neill assured him that the independent companies in the United States are doing well, whereupon Ald. Dunn pulled out a Buffalo paper of yesterday containing a report from Cleveland that the Cuyahoga Company of that city was making an application to be allowed to increase its rates, finding it impossible to do business at the existing rates of $18 and $36. If in a big city like Cleveland an independent company can't make money at $18 and $36 it will puzzle Hamilton people to know how Mr. Rogers' can do business and pay dividends at $15 and $10 in a city the size of Hamilton.

Ben has a Scrap

Peterborough Ben,—the dog that went through a South African campaign with the Strathconas—helped to make things lively here on Dominion Day. We presume that Ben had an idea that the day should be celebrated in some way so proceeded to get in his work. He cannot stand the smell of powder without showing fight, and on Tuesday the explosion of firecrackers set the dog off. Ben grabbed a dog that chanced to come his way on Hunter street and a fierce fight began. Unfortunately for the South African warrior, his opponent happened to be a large and powerful bull dog, and he gripped Ben by the throat and hung on. Crowds gathered and for 15 minutes or more the battle raged. Scores of men tried to get the larger dog to loose his hold, but without success. At last a lighted match was put to his nose and Ben was free. Although nearly dead he again sprang at his adversary and for a second time were the crowd engaged in trying to pull the dogs apart. Ben has only a couple of teeth left, and his grip did little injury to the larger animal. After they were again parted Ben was taken into Sam Ray's store and the other dog was taken home.

The Critical Time of Life

Is between the years fifty-seven and sixty-two. Nature's power slows down, vitality becomes less, and the progress of decay sets in. A means of extending old age and renewing decreasing vigor is to take Ferrozone after meals. Ferrozone keeps up the appetite, and in the formation of red, vitalizing blood, imparts clearness to the tiring brain, force, energy and spirits just when they are needed most. To take Ferrozone regularly means adding from ten to twenty years to life. Large boxes 50c., or 6 boxes for $2.50, at Druggists, or Ormond & Walsh.

King Edward VII. Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE
Market Block, Peterborough.

Gough Bro's.
375-377-379 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH
Clothiers, Hatters, Shoemen & Gents' Furnishers

COOL SHOES.

Time for Cool Shoes now. Our stock of light, soft Footwear for Men, Women and Children is the stock you like to select from, because it's big, well assorted and easy on your purse.

Ladies Dongola Oxfords, reg. $1.25, $1.50, for $1.00
Mens Dongola Balmorals, reg. $1.75, for 1.25
Men's Dongola Congress, regular $1.75 for .. $1.25
Boy's Tan Balmorals, reg. $2.00 for 1.50

FRENCH BALBRIGGAN UNDERWEAR IN FANCY STRIPES AND PLAIN BROWNS, AT 25c

STRAW HATS! STRAW HATS!

Plain Straw Hat .... 10c, 15c, 20c and 25c
Sailor Straws, 3 pleated rims, ... 50c, 75c and $1.00
Fine Panama Straw Hats .... 75c, $1.00 and $1.25
Swell French Palms, New shape .. $1.50 and $2.00

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

Boys' Summer Blouses and Shirt Waists with Dressy cuffs detached collars, just the coolest and prettiest collars and stripes for hot weather wear. Ranging in low prices from 35c to 75c.

WE'RE MAKING THINGS HUM AT GOUGHS ! ! !

TULLY & MERRELL, Managers

Situations Wanted.

LIGHT employment by young lady either at home or in an office. Best of references. Apply at Times Bookstore for address.

Help Wanted.

SERVANT GIRL WANTED—A girl that knows how to cook. Good wages. Mrs. J. J. McBain, 304 King street.

AGENTS—Do you want a good job, in which by working six or eight hours a day you can make big wages? By big wages we mean $10 to $20 a day; you can do it with our automatic copying book. Mason & Co., Room 711 44 and 46 Broadway, New York.

APPRENTICE WANTED to learn the printing business. Apply at this office.

DOMESTICS WANTED.

We can secure situations in respectable families for the following domestic help. Six general servants, two chambermaids, two good cooks and one nurse girl. Wages from $8 to $20 per month. Apply at The Time Bookstore.

STEAMER "MAJESTIC"
CAPT. W. MOLLARD, Master.

Service for week ending July 5th:—
On Monday, Tuesday and Saturday will connect with morning and evening trains from Peterborough for the Lakes.
On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will connect with noon train for the Lakes.
Further particulars from W. Bunton, G. T. R. City Agent.

P. P. YOUNG, Proprietor

NOTICE.

The Peterboro Radial Railway Company.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

that a Special General Meeting, of the Shareholders of the Peterboro Radial Railway Company will be held at the offices of Messrs. Roger and Bennet, 375 Water Street, Peterboro, on

Monday, 28th July, 1902

at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of electing Directors of the said Company, and for the transaction of business generally.
Dated 25th June, 1902.

G. M. ROGER, Secretary.
JAMES C. SHOOK, President.

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings in 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

The King Doing Well

London, July 2.—At Buckingham Palace the following bulletin was issued at 10 o'clock this morning in regard to King Edward:

The King had another excellent night and is making steady progress in all respects. The wound is much less troublesome, and is beginning to heal.

(Signed) Treves
Laking
Barlow

J. J. TURNER & SONS

A visit to our Show-room will convince you that we carry the best assortment of

HAMMOCKS in town.

Prices from $1.00 to $6.00

J. TURNER & SONS

Too Busy to Write Ads., Because:

The bargains we are giving in Houses and Lots, Garden Lots and Farms, of all sizes and prices, and the easy terms our long experience enables us to arrange for our buyers, keeps our entire staff hustling from early morning until late at nigh and still our work is only well begun, as new properties are being listed daily. Al are invited to our New Ground Floor Office, so convenient to call when you go to the Post Office, or call up phone 376 for any information desired regarding REAL ESTATE.

T. HURLEY & CO.

IDYL-WYLD HOTEL.

RICE LAKE, ONT.

This charming Summer Hotel is now open for reception of guests, and may be reached by steamer from Peterborough, or by stage from Cobourg to Harwood.

Entirely new in every respect. Most comfortable and inviting summer resort on the Otonabee waters.

Rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per day. For all information apply to the proprietor,

SAMUEL ENGLISH,
Harwood P. O.
Or to Victoria House, Keene, Ont.

THEY ARE PRETTY.

For the month of May we will off suits and trousers at a discount of 20%

We need cash and will sacrifice our goods for one month We have the latest patterns in Tweeds and Worsteds to choose from.

Working Shirts at 40c
Suspenders 15c
Overalls, with bib, at 48c
Smocks, at 90c

F. M. COBB
Ladies and Gent's Tailor
One door south of Montreal Bank.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

Independence Day, July 4

Return tickets will be issued from stations in Canada, Belleville and west, except north of Orillia and west of Chatham, at

SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

to Buffalo N. Y., Black Rock, N. Y., Suspension Bridge N. Y. and Niagara Falls, N. Y. Good going July 3rd and 4th. Valid returning up to and including July 7th.

Tickets and all information from

W. Bunton, City Ticket Agt.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

FOR

Independance Day July 4

Will Issue Return Tickets

PETERBOROUGH
—TO—
BUFFALO

AT SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

Good going July 3rd and 4th valid for return until July 5th, 1902.

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt
1 King St. East, Toronto

A GOOD GUIDE TO A GOOD COUNTRY

"FOREST STREAM AND SEASHORE,"

Issued by the

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

Describing the route of the

MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving Montreal 12.00 noon daily except Saturday, for

QUEBEC, ST. JOHN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—the Garden of the Gulf—HALIFAX and the SYDNEYS

WM ROBINSON,
King St. West
TORONTO ONT

RUBBER STAMPS

B. CAIRNS RUBBER STAMPS
SEALS, PRICE MARKERS
S eet West TORONTO

Peterborough Radial Railway

Ties and Poles

Wanted Standard R. R. Ties and 30 ft. Cedar Trolley Poles. Write give description and prices, F. O. B. Cars Peterborough.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Box 333,
Peterborough, Ont

ONLY
MORNING DAILY
BETWEEN
TORONTO & OTTAWA

The Morning Times

BEST ADVERTISING
MEDIUM
IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. 28 NO. 155 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO FRIDAY JULY 4 1902 PRICE TWO CENTS

OUTBREAK OF SMALLPOX WELL UNDER CONTROL

Villagers Near Norwich Wanted Barriers Put Up and Warns Strangers to Keep Away

Special to The Times.

Norwich, Ont, July 3.— The outbreak of smallpox here is now thought by the authorities to have reached its worst. Dr. Harvey, Medical Health Officer, this morning estimated that there were seven families affected, and in these families eighteen cases. Two of these families live outside the corporation boundaries, so that the number of cases actually in Norwich is not more than fifteen.

However all the cases are traced to one centre of contagion. The disease is supposed to have come from Hamilton about a month ago, brought by a commercial traveller whose father lives in Norwich. He went freely about the town and spent a good deal of time at a livery stable, so that the contagion was widely diffused. A doctor stated, however, that he understood there had been cases of chickenpox about the town for the last three months, and it is possible that the disease has been lurking among the townspeople during all this period.

The first cases were diagnosed as chickenpox, such of them as came under the notice of the doctors, but some were of so mild a type that the doctor was not even called.

It was not until the end of last week that the doctors began seriously to fear that they were fighting smallpox, and they at once sent for the Provincial Medical Health Officer. Dr. Hodgetts came up on Sunday, visited the cases and pronounced them smallpox and returned on Monday.

A compulsory vaccination proclamation was immediately issued by the Reeve Mr. H. S. Moore, and the contaminated houses were put under surveillance. All day today and for several days a doctor is at the Town Hall, to administer vaccination at the expense of the municipality. The number availing themselves of it as yet is small but vaccination is general in the homes of the people and at the doctor's offices.

The citizens are not at all panic stricken, but are taking all precautions.

Like the Cuban Itch.

The cases so far have all been of a very light type. Dr. Harvey said they were more like the Cuban itch, which is a mild type of smallpox general in hot climates, than anything else. All the cases are now getting better, the pustules in nearly all being in the drying up phase.

The last case was reported to the Medical Health Officer yesterday morning. It was that of a young lady employed in the post office, which is also the express and telegraph office. She had been away from the office for a couple of weeks. The rash broke out on Sunday last so far as known, but she was not seen by a doctor till yesterday, when the case was immediately reported. The case is what is known by the profession as discrete smallpox, the pustules being scattered over the body, and the patient is in a fair way to recovery this morning.

The District Disturbed.

The district about Norwich appears to be more disturbed than the town itself. A meeting was held last night in Burgessville, and some panic-stricken individuals proposed that the roads should be closed to all coming from the infected town. Coming through Burgessville this morning, a person, who asked his way at the post-office, was warned not to go to Norwich. It was said there were forty cases in the town.

The medical men here now believe they have the disease under control. There is not so much danger of contagion now, they point out, when the cases are under quarantine, as there has been during the past month, when everybody ran free and careless.

No New Ones To-day.

1.15—Dr. Harvey has just stated that no new cases have been reported today. A few people suffering from what now appears to be colds, are under surveillance, and may turn out to be smallpox. Dr Harvey does not, however, anticipate any new cases. The commercial traveller who is supposed to have brought the disease from Hamilton, came to town on April fifth. This statement is on the authority of his driver, who drove him in.

The number of cases now under quarantine does not really represent the full number affected. In certain instances the disease has gone through whole families and all have recovered.

One scholar who was to write on the junior leaving examinations has been infected and has had to give up writing.

BORE HOLE OVER THE EXAMINERS' TABLE.

Guertin's Scheme at Quebec to Get Copies of Questions Being Prepared for Examinations

Quebec, July 3, — A joiner from Montreal, giving his name as Napoleon Guertin, has got himself into trouble in this city over the bar examinations which commenced here yesterday. It is well known that at these examinations means are taken by some of the would-be barristers to pass their examinations by hook or crook. On this occasion the joiner was brought into the game, but, unfortunately for himself and his friends, the scheme did not succeed and Guertin is at present in close confinement. He arrived in town on Monday afternoon, and soon after his arrival, and soon after his arrival, accompanied by an official stenographer, from the court house, visited the latter building, particularly examining the room used by the Council of the bar. The day being a legal holiday, the court house was closed, but the court house stenographers closed, but the court house stenographers, who have their typewriting machines in the building, are allowed to enter at all hours of the day, and in the evenings. The stenographer, who appears to have had the management of the scheme, reappeared at the court house about 9 o'clock and asked the guardian and nightwatchman, who were at the main door, for permission to go on the roof of the building with a friend who was anxious to have a view of the River St. Lawrence from that height. The guardian agreed, but on condition that he accompany the stenographer and his friend. This did not suit the former's purpose, so he offered the guardian a ten dollar bill to allow them to go up alone, but Guardian Drolet was not to be bribed, and the stenographer left, only to return about 10 o'clock accompanied by Guertin, who was then unknown. However, as the stenographer stated he was going to his room to work, no objection was made, and both men went upstairs. Mr. Dumontier, the judge's stenographer was typewriting in the council room between 10 and 11 o'clock when he heard a noise over the ceiling of the room, as if somebody was boring a hole from above.

HOLE IN THE CEILING.

He immediately went to the main door and notified the guardian. Both proceeded up to the garret; they were dumfounded to meet Guertin feeling his way in the dark and carrying an augur under his arm. The guardian immediately asked him what he was doing there and as he did not receive a satisfactory reply, he captured the joiner, took him downstairs and placed him in charge of the watchman. Returning to the garret, Guardian Drolet discovered that a door had been taken down, and that Guertin had succeeded in boring a hole in the ceiling, and right over the table around which the examiners were to sit today and select their questions. An iron pipe had also been placed in the hole, and the scheme was to have either the stenographer or somebody else obtain the questions by listening at the hole. Judge Chauveau was immediately informed of what had happened, and instructed the guardian to keep Guertin in his charge until this morning. Today Guertin was brought before the bar examiners, and admitted that he had bored the hole in the ceiling, but he did not know who were the parties who engaged him to do the work, the only party recognized being the official stenographer, who had accompanied him and had shown him the way through the building and up to the garratt. The stenographer has left town for the summer. Two Montreal students who were caught in the act of copying their answers in the written examinations, were debarred from further examinations this term.

TO BE BANQUETTED

In Paris By French Politicians After Colonial Conference

Special to The Times.

London, July 3.—"After the close of the colonial Premier's conference in London," says the Paris correspondent of The Times, "a banquet will be given in Paris by French politicians to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Le Temps predicts the failure of the conference, declaring that a British zollverein, or even a permanent council, would be a dangerous experiment.

DISAGREEMENT IN CHINA.

The Pekin correspondent of The Times says a disagreement regarding the retention of foreign military directors of the Northern Railway, still continues. Great Britain insists on the retention of the military directors but British lay opinion at Pekin regards them as unnecessary.

DAVITT ON THE RAMPAGE.

Since he left Parliament, says a telegram from Dublin to The Times, Michael Davitt has become a copious and violent writer in the Nationalist press. Yesterday he bitterly attacked the service in London last Saturday, at which the loyalty of English Catholics to the throne and person of the Sovereign was expressed.

EXPENDITURE REDUCED.

"The July 14 fetes" says the Paris correspondent to The Times, "will be on a reduced scale, owing to the 100,000 francs voted for the relief of the Martinique sufferers."

MONT PELEE STILL ACTIVE

Explorers Climb to its Summit, Which is Lower Than Before Eruption

Fort de France, Martinique, via St. Lucia, July 4.—The new summit of Mont Pelee was reached for the first time on June 20th by Edmund C. Hovey, assistant curator of the American Museum of Natural History, of New York, and George Carroll Curtis. A cairn was built on the top.

The mountain has been lowered and old Lake Palmistes has been entirely destroyed. The highest point of the new crater rises 4,200 feet by the aneroid barometer. A large fragmental cone occupies the southwestern part.

The crater is belching out incandescent ashes and mud by a deep, narrow lip into a ravine on the leeward side.

The first recorded ascents from the leeward side were on June 24th and 26th. The cairn was built at an altitude of 3,700 feet on a ridge ascending from St. Pierre.

The crater is in constant eruption. The ascents were rendered possible by a strong southeast wind, which carried the showers of ashes to the northward. A fierce rush of mud was witnessed in the eruption of the 24th. A gorge 60 feet deep was filled with mud to a depth of 15 feet in one hour.

An eruption of considerable size was seen on June 26th at 11.30 p.m. from a sloop anchored off Carbet. No new new lava has flowed.

A Sure Cure for Constipation

Some remedies cure this distressing complaint in a day, some in a month, but Nerviline never fails to cure in a few minutes. Just ten drops of Nerviline in sweetened water— that is enough, and away goes the dysentery, cured to stay cured. Nerviline also cures cramps, colic, pain in the stomach and sick headache. It has five times the strength and curative properties of ordinary remedies, and should be in every household. Better buy a 25c. bottle and try it. Nerviline is all right.

Hamilton's Pills for the Liver.

CHEMONG PARK HOTEL

Hotel Has Been Repainted and Put in First Class Shape

Chemong Park Hotel has been completely repainted outside and repapered and repainted inside. Mr. Fred Cook completed his contract last week and this popular summer resort looks nobby in its new colors.

Mr. Geo. H. Brown, the proprietor, reports business good, and the house full of guests. The cold weather during June made it unpleasant for guests, and no doubt kept many away but the next two or three months will be busy days for the hotel.

Fishing has been phenomenally good this year, some fine catches being made daily.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE

C. L. Sanderson Orange Lodge Expresses Its Sympathy With Bro. Alan McCarthy

At the regular meeting of L.O.L. No. 321, it was resolved that the following resolution of condolence be sent to their esteemed brother, Allan McCarthy:

That whereas the great and Supreme Ruler of the universe has in His infinite wisdom removed from this life your faithful and loving wife, it truly brings a deep and heavy shadow, but remember that light sometimes will break through, and there will be a glad and happy reunion in the great beyond.

It has indeed been a heavy blow, and we scarcely know how to talk of consolation under so bitter an affliction. But think of One who careth for us all. He has prepared a bright the beautiful home beyond the grave, and the spirit of your dear wife will only await a brief period when in sweetness and in love she will meet her husband and loved ones to part no more.

Resolved, that with deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased, we express our hope that even so great a loss may be over-ruled for good by Him who doeth all things well.

We can say no more; human consolation is weak. May God bless you in your hour of sorrow is the wish of your brethren.

Signed on behalf of the lodge.

R. F. GRIEVES, W.M.
ROBT. GOODENOUGH, D.M.
J. G. WEIR,
T. HUSTON.

END OF A CHINESE ROMANCE

Interesting Event to Take Place at Coney Island To-day

New York, July 4.—Gay, reckless, rollicking Coney Island has been the scene of all sorts of events, but never, perhaps, in its long and unique career, has the world-famous resort witnessed anything quite so quaint as the wedding scheduled for to-night at Gold Dollar's dancing pavilion, when little Miss Wee Lung Fong becomes the bride of Ling Foy, a wealthy magnate of Pell street. The marriage is the end of a romance which had its beginning in Hong Kong, and in which highbinders, kidnapping and ransom are freely intermingled.

The bride-to-be is a mere slip of a girl. Last February she was purchased from her father in her native land by an agent of Ling Foy, and brought here to become his bride. She was landed at Vancouver, B.C., and subsequently brought to New York. Shortly after her arrival here she was kidnapped by the highbinders and held for a ransom. From one city to another she was taken under guard. At every town where she stopped she was placed in a dark, dismal room, and kept under the closest surveillance. Ling Foy was furious over his loss, and spared no expense to recover his prospective bride. From New York to Boston she was traced with her abductors, thence to Philadelphia, and finally to Chicago, where she was located in an opium joint in South Clark street. After considerable negotiation Ling Foy paid her captors $500, and the girl was released and returned to New York.

Plans on an elaborate scale have been completed for the wedding ceremony. It will be conducted with all the ceremonies and weird rites known to the almond-eyed sons of the Flowery Kingdom. The bride will be gaily arrayed. Her tiny feet will be encased in satin shoes, and down the front of her satin bridal suit a gorgeous dragon will wander undulatingly. The master of ceremonies will be Marty Martin, the "Mayor of Chinatown," and the bridesmaids two white girls who have wedded Chinamen. At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests will be ushered into the dining-hall, where, under a thousand lanterns and garlands of paper flowers, the happy couple will be congratulated and feted and toasted until the rising of the morning sun. The bridegroom has promised his friends that the festal board will literally groan with its load of bird's-nest soup, shark-fin soup, specially prepared delicacies from porkers raised in China, rice wine and other things that tickles the palate and makes glad the heart of a Mongolian.

MONTHLY REPORT

Of the Nicholls' Hospital for the Month of June

The following is the report of the Nicholls Hospital for the month of June:

Patients remaining in hospital	15
Treated	19
Free patients	10
From town	22
Other places	17
Cured	18
Improved	5
Died	1

Dr. McCullough, attending physician for the month. Attending on private patients—Drs. Boucher, Halliday, Greer, Carmichael, Scott, Brown, Young and Bradd.

The Story of Morning Tiredness

Is told by impure blood, poor digestion, sluggish liver and tired nerves. It is a warning of very serious trouble ahead, and should prompt sensible people to take a bracing tonic like Ferrozone, an energetic invigorant and rebuilder. Ferrozone will give you a sharp appetite, promote good digestion and sound sleep; it will feed and energize the enfeebled organs, strengthen the nerve and vital forces and regulate the heart. Ferrozone changes that tired feeling into vigor, strength and ambition, and does it quickly. Remember the name, and insist on having only Ferrozone; it's the best tonic made. Price, 50c. per box, or 6 boxes for $2.50, at druggists or Ormond & Walsh's.

Hamilton's Pills Cure Constipation.

TUBES REMOVED

From King's Side and Gauze Plugs Substituted.

London, July 3.—The following bulletin issued regarding King Edward's condition at ten o'clock this morning from Buckingham Palace:

"The King has slept well and nothing has occurred to mar the excellent progress His Majesty is now making.

(Signed)

"Treves,
"Laking,
"Barlow."

Discussing the King's uninterrupted progress the Lancet says:

"It has been necessary to remove the drainage tubes, as they could not be tolerated, and gauze plugs are now used instead. The wound is granulating satisfactorily, the discharge has diminished and is perfectly inodorous. His Majesty's temperature has been normal since June 28. His constitutional condition is admirable."

Miss Jones' Voice Greatly Improved

A startling improvement is noticeable in Miss Jones' singing. Her voice is stronger and sounds clearer and sweeter than before using Catarrhozone, which is a wonderful aid to singers, speakers and ministers. Catarrhozone Inhaler insures absolute freedom from Coughs, Colds and Catarrh, clears the nose and throat, and prevents hoarseness and huskiness. Catarrhozone makes the voice brilliant and enduring, and is uncommonly well recommended by prima donnas, members of Parliament, lawyers, doctors and thousands that use it daily. Better try Catarrhozone. Price, $1.00; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Hamilton's Pills Cure Constipation.

WEATHER NOTES.

Friday—Fair.

Pressure changes continue to be rapid and a low area at present centred over lakes is likely to cause unsettled weather Quebec today. Showers have occurred generally in Ontario during the night, but in the western portions it is now clearing.

—When a person advertises a stated reward for the return of a lost article or strayed animals, the man who returns the property, if necessary may sue for and obtain the reward. Such an advertisement has the force of a contract. This was the view of Judge Morrison in the Division Court Toronto, where an advertised reward of $10 not paid.

TACOMA STEEL CO. TO BUILD SMELTER IN U. S.

American Capitalists to Develop Canada's Resources--Company to Spend 5,000,000

Special to The Times.

New York, July 3.—A special to The Times from Tacoma says — "The Tacoma Steel Company has had plans prepared and has chosen a site on Tacoma flats for the erection of a 150 ton blast furnace. It will be the first modern blast furnace erected on the Pacific Coast. Iron ores and limestone will be brought from the Company's properties in British Columbia while it will mine its own coal. Rolling mills and shipbuilding plant will be constructed by the same company which has secured control of the largest iron deposits on Vancouver and adjacent islands.

Capital of $5,000,000.

The United States British Columbia Corporation has been incorporated with a capital of $5,000,000 to carry out a similar project at Everett or elsewhere on Pugent Sound. The organizer is J. F. Bledsoe, the engineer who controls extensive deposits of iron and limestone in British Columbia.

A HARD JILT FOR THE CROWN PRINCE

Pretty Countess May Has no Eyes For the Heir to the German Throne

ENGAGED TO DASHING NOBLE

Though Frederick William is Head over Heels in Love with Her, She Will Wed His Rival

Special to The Times.

Berlin, July 4.—The engagement of Countess May Festetics to Prince Furstenberg has made a deep impression on the crown prince, who was wildly in love with the pretty girl. When Frederick William visited Vienna last year, he seemed to have eyes for May only at the great balls, receptions and other festivities.

Indeed, his court-martial had to threaten him with a telegram to the Kaiser, lest he forego dancing with May and pay some attention to the archduchesses present. Countess May's future husband is in the diplomatic service and heir presumptive to the family estates.

He is mentioned as the future attache of the Washington embassy.

Countess May's mother is the divorced first wife of the Prince of Monaco, and the hereditary prince of the gambler kingdom is her half-brother.

KAISER STOPS "L" ROAD.

Orders have been issued by the chief of police to stop trains whenever the Kaiser's carriage approaches the "L" road. Hereafter, when he drives out, stationmasters are notified when his coach may be near the tracks, and lookouts are established to stop the trains both ways.

KAISER DISINHERITED.

It now turns out that the Kaiser isn't mentioned in the last will of the late Prince George, who left about $500,000. Neither was Prince Henry directly benefited; the bulk of the estate goes to Henry's children, who probably will not live to enjoy it. Prince George's Berlin palace was long ago sold to the crown, and one of the Kaiser's sons will be lodged there.

ALEXANDER'S BATTLEFIELDS.

Colonel Janke and his aide, Lieutenant von Bismarck, are expected here after a three months' stay in Asia Minor, where by the Kaiser's orders they searched for some of the lost battlefields of Alexander the Great.

They discovered the battlefield of Issus, where Alexander licked Darius, and also that of Granikos, where the Persians were thrashed.

The Imperial Commissioners return with valuable topographical material.

EMPRESS VS. STUDENTS.

The Empress is backing the Protestant synod in the attempts to secure a police regulation that forbids university students to visit saloons Sunday during church hours, attired in the gay colors and caps of their societies. While driving to church recently at 9 a.m. the Empress saw a number of students drinking beer in open saloons, the boys being conspicuous for their many gay-colored ribbons and other student paraphernalia.

THE OPERATION FULLY DESCRIBED

Twenty-Two Ounces of Pus Removed Giving Great Relief

HOW THE WORK WAS DONE

There is Little Probability That any Relapse Will Occur to the Royal Patient

Special to The Times.

London, July 3.—A version of the operation on the King which is more hopeful than any yet given comes from a source which there is good reason to believe possesses positive knowledge on the subject.

According to this account the physicians all advised the operation a week earlier, but the King declined as long as possibility remained of carrying out the coronation programme. The operation itself, when it finally took place, occupied scarcely five minutes. It consisted of nothing more than the opening of the abscess within the abdominal cavity.

Stripped of technical language, what happened was this: Sir Frederick Treves made a quick incision about four inches long through the skin and a thick layer of adipose tissue to the abdominal muscles directly over the abscess, which had been correctly located by a digital examination.

An instrument resembling a blunt probe was then used to push through the muscles, without cutting them, into the pus sack within. A large quantity of pus was immediately released.

An instrument resembling a scissors with the outside instead of the inside blades sharpened, was then slid along the groove on the side of the probe into the abscess. This instrument was kept closed until the probe was withdrawn.

Then the so-called scissors was opened, making a free opening within the sack. The pus released by this means amounted to almost twenty-two ounces. The wound was thoroughly deluged with antiseptic solutions and a drainage tube was inserted.

The wound was then closed with sutures and the operation was completed. There was not even a free opening of the abdominal cavity and no attempt was made to examine or remove the vermiform appendix.

It was taken for granted that the abscess itself practically destroyed it and that no subsequent operation would be necessary.

HAVE INTESTINES BEEN DAMAGED.

A point in doubt was whether the intestines, aside from the appendix, had been damaged or degenerated by the abscess or inflammation. The doctors were as ignorant as anybody else on this point when they had finished.

It is almost a safe conclusion that the non-appearance of septic conditions within forty-eight hours after the operation was sufficient proof that no such disaster had occurred.

The operation above described is such as Sir Frederick Treves always performs in cases of acute appendicitis. When the abscess is found it is much simpler and shorter than the removal of the appendix.

During the quiescent period of the disease it is an operation which, according to Sir Frederick Treves' own statistics, proves fatal in 20 per cent. of cases, a far higher proportion than the removal of the appendix itself in non-acute cases, on account of the danger of blood poisoning.

NORTH SMITH.

At the close of the service in Wesley church last Sunday afternoon, seven gentlemen, representing the congregation went forward and presented Rev. R. A. Delve, with the following address etc., which speaks for itself:

The reverend gentleman, who is popular in the community, though taken entirely by surprise, made a feeling and suitable reply. The address was as follows:

To the Rev. R. A. Delve,—

"Dear Sir,—On the eve of this, your departure to another field of Christian service, we, your friends in Wesley, desire in some way to express our gratitude to God for the blessings of the past year, and our very high appreciation of your most devoted ministry among us. It has indeed been a short period, but within the limits of the year we have all learned to love and admire you, and to esteem you very highly for your work's sake. We have all been profited by your most faithful preaching of the word. You have evidently kept before you the divine injunction, "Study to show thyself approved of God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Under the influence of the Holy Spirit you have been the means of grace to many of our young people, as well as to those older in years; while your sympathy, counsel and encouragement and clear exposition of the Word of God has inspired warmth, comfort and vigor to all. We are not unmindful of the difficulties you have experienced while with us, and we desire to convey to Mrs. Delve our very deepest sympathy again, and our prayers for her speedy recovery to perfect health and strength.

We ask you to accept this purse of $[illegible] and we desire that you will value it, not for its intrinsic worth, though in this regard also we trust it will be both helpful and useful to you, but as a slight token of the high esteem in which we hold you, not only as a minister of the Gospel, but also in your social capacity as a friend, and we ask that God may abundantly bless you and prosper you both in your future pastorate."

Signed on behalf of the congregation, S. A. Northey, Walter Nugent, W. J. Northey, S. Harrison, A. B. Northey, W. Pearson, A. E. Kennedy.

—The hotel men of Ontario propose to make a "voting" campaign against the referendum. The Peterborough license holders will organize at an early date.

NO OTHER BUSINESS

affords you equal credit, considering the amount you have invested. To illustrate, your account with us, amounting to $100 will enable you to at all times, buy and sell stocks to the valuation of from $900 to $1000. You are thus enabled to secure the profits to be made from investment of the above amounts, while really only investing $100. For accounts of larger size, you secure corresponding benefits. Our 400 page, clothbound, illustrated,

"Guide to Investors"

explains in detail the method, also contains full comprehensive information relative to Wall St., its markets and Securities. Each afternoon, we issue our

"Daily Market Letter"

a complete daily guide for investor or speculator. Both are yours, free of cost, for the asking, at any of our offices.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Established 1890. Main Office, 53 B'way, N.Y.

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.

Peterborough, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

COMMISSION ONE EIGHTH—The only licensed M. S. Stock Brokerage Corporation in business by permission of the Royal Government of the Province of Ontario.

W. F. NELSON, Peterborough.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Canadian Pacific

East

	Arrive	Depart
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal... ...	5.10 p.m	11.35 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	7.12 a.m.	7.33 p.m.
Norwood, Havelock, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal Portland, Boston ...	5.10 a.m.	12.25 a.m.

West

	Arrive	Depart
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	11.35 a.m.	5 10 a.m.
Toronto & intermediate...7.33 p.m.	7.33 p.m.	1 12 a.m.
Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago	12.25 a.m.	5.10 p.m
Toronto, North Bay, Port Arthur, North West...	11.35 a.m.	5.10 p.m.

Grand Trunk

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Midland, North Bay, Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
London, Detroit, Chicago	9 00 p.m.	6.38 p.m
Port Hope, Rochester Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Toronto and west	6.35 p.m.	11.4 a.m.
Port Hope, Cobourg Trenton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal	8.20 a.m.	9.19 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc	8.10 a.m.	8.25 a.m.
Belleville, Napanee, Kingston Montreal	9.05 p.m.	2.05 p.m.
Lakefield local	9.40 a.m.	8.30 a.m.
Lakefield local	5.00 p.m.	12.15 p.m.
Lakefield local	6.50 p.m.	5.40 p.m.

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 5c per month, and to outside points at $3 per year Strictly in advance

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 4, 1902.

B. E. LEAGUE OF AUSTRALIA

The British Empire League of Australia has issued a manifesto under date May 6th, stating its object, and asking for the co-operation of Canadians in establishing the kinship and solidarity of the British Empire in all its outlying parts. The League will attempt to have every question affecting the British people considered by conferences, in which papers can be read and the matters studied; by communications with different parts of the Empire; by the spread of literature calculated to promote brotherhood of the race; by other educational means, and by more direct and definite action, when and where deemed advisable. Among the matters deemed of most importance by the Australian League are: (1) Better communications by steamer, cable, etc.; (2) Extension of penny post; (3) Fuller and clearer knowledge of the countries under one flag, in all the school books; (4) The grouping together in school geographies particulars of the British Dominions, and not continuing them mixed up with foreign countries and isolated; (5) The promotions of trade relations by favorable fiscal policies and otherwise between the various parts of the Empire; (6) The effort to increase immigration from the home lands to the other parts of the Empire, rather than to foreign countries; (7) By the encouragement for educational purposes of exhibitions or museums, or institutes in which products, etc., may be seen illustrating the various parts of the Empire and their history, wealth and progress; (8) The discussing of matters relating to mutual defence; (9) By the consideration of proposals for Imperial federation in so far as it may give Australia, New Zealand, Canada, South Africa and other self-governing parts a vote and voice in determining Imperial questions, and especially those relating to war and peace.

JAPAN'S NAVAL PROGRAMME

Japan is at present showing extreme activity in preparations to prove herself an effective ally of England. The Japanese naval programme for 1896, which is now virtually completed, provided for the construction of four battleships, six large armored cruisers, six protected cruisers, and a large number of torpedo craft. This augmentation of her fleet would have assured for Japan predominance at sea in the far East had not Russia replied with a still larger programme. And now Japan is evidencing a determination to "go her big rival one better," for she has given orders for the immediate building of four more battleships, two armored cruisers, four other modern cruisers, and a host of torpedo boats and other smaller fighting craft. The fulfillment of this extensive programme should fit the island empire of the East to live up to all the responsibilities she has assumed in her new pact with Britain.

THE NEW STORAGE BATTERY

In an article entitled "The Storage Battery and the Motor Car," written for the July number of the North American Review, Mr. Thomas A. Edison announces the final perfection of the storage battery. He has been working upon the problem for a number of years, and for the last three years his experiments have been continuous. The essential feature of a real storage battery, Mr. Edison explains, is that it must be a perfectly reversible instrument, receiving and giving out power like a dynamo motor, without any deterioration of the mechanism of conversion. This condition is not met by the lead storage battery, which gradually becomes less and less efficient and in a few months wholly inoperative; but the nickel-iron storage cell, which has been evolved from Mr. Edison's experiments, and of which he gives a most interesting description, remains uninjured under any condition one can imagine, even in the hands of an inexpert. The result of this invention will be to make it practicable for a large number of persons who cannot afford the luxury of a carriage to possess a serviceable pleasure vehicle which will be always at their beck and call. With an initial outlay of seven hundred dollars, the storage battery automobile can be used at any time at the cost of a fifty-cent charge, the cost being met as it is incurred.

THE KNIFE IN APPENDICITIS

In the past three years there have been 752 deaths in Chicago from appendicitis. These deaths are characterized by Dr. John B. Murphy, Dean of Rush Medical College, as "a colossal crime," based on the assumption that if these 752 cases had been operated on in time they would all have been followed by gratifying recovery. Dr. Murphy appears to weaken the force of his own statement as to the criminality of the mortality referred to when he says:

"There is an unanimity of opinion in the profession that no one, no matter how familiar with the disease, is able to predict from the early symptoms what will be the subsequent course of the disease. It is, therefore, incumbent upon the profession to operate early to avoid the probability of later and dangerous pathologic conditions. Medical treatment is uncertain, inefficient and hazardous, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by this method of treatment.

This being true, it would seem to excuse a good deal of uncertainty on the part of the conscientious physician as to what to advise his patient and when to turn him over to the surgeon for vivisection.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times notes with lively satisfaction that the bitter tone which reigned in the French press during the height of the struggle, above all when Mr. Kruger's presence there caused a tumult in the streets, has quite changed, and that at present not a single respectable French paper lets slip into its columns any of those words of hatred and insult which were formerly so common.

• • • •

The British Admiralty has been considering the best means of utilizing the torpedo boat destroyers in the event of war. It is recognized that the special province of those vessels will be to sweep the sea clear of torpedo boats, in order to give the battleships a chance of operating, without danger of attack from those marine wasps. For some time past the destroyers in commission in British waters have been organized in three flotillas, attached respectively to Portsmouth, Devonport, and Chatham, and these flotillas are constantly engaged in tactical manoeuvres fitting them to act separately or in combination as the occasion may demand. A similar step has now been taken in the Mediterranean, where the destroyers to the number of 24 (20 in commission and four in reserve) have been permanently organized in three divisions, each of these under a commander, with a captain in supreme command. As a sort of floating base or mother ship for the destroyers, a man-of-war has been specially fitted.

Eyes Tested Free

Prof. J. H. De Silberg, the celebrated eye specialist from Germany, will be in Hastings from Monday, July 21st until Wednesday, July 23rd, at the Coughlin House parlors; in Norwood, on Thursday, July 24th, until the 26th, at Dr. Moffatt's drug store; in Keene, on Monday, July 28th, to Wednesday, July 30th, at Dr. Harrison's office; and in Lakefield, July 31st to Saturday night, Aug 2nd, at Dr. Burgess' drug store. Those having weak or imperfect eyes should not fail to consult him.

THE IDLER'S COLUMN

Conducted by a Man Who is Without Any Occupation

Oh, she had jewels and rubies rare
  (Ah, she was out of sight!)—
The way those brilliants loomed, so fair,
  Made daylight out of night.

What did they cost? Don't ask me that,
  They might be overrated,
But take that Sunburst on her hat,
  D'ye suppose that's nickel plated?

That diamond Stomacher, I feel,
  Cost her at least a million,
Provided that the stones are real,
  And she is worth a billion.

• • • •

Lindsay, July 3.—Mr. Idler: I am a plain country girl, and wear pretty good clothes, but nothing very expensive, as Pa is just a plain farmer, and we live rather economically. Now I have a gentleman friend who wants me to marry him, and he has been giving me some presents. He works in a jewelry store, and he gets what he wants at cost. He brought me out a Sunburst, which is a lot of stones which look like diamonds, and also a new fangled ornament which is called a diamond Stomacher. He wants me to wear them to a Party, but Ma says she thinks I would look odd having on the Great Jewels and just an Ordinary Dress. What would you advise me to do? Should I wear the Sunburst and the Diamond Stomacher?

Please let me hear from you at once.

CORA B. M——.

Ans.—That is the trouble I find as I go along the Pike. We rail out against the barbarians and the savages who paint their faces a bright vermilion hue, who put feathers in their hair and rings in their nose—we think that they are "horrid" and "outlandish" in their bespangled attire—but we forget. I read of the doings among the upper crust—especially among the dollar millions in Lindsay and Peterborough, where they have Real Dukes and Heiress Hunters, and see where the bride is presented with Diamond Stomachers and Sunbursts and Niagara Falls and Cataracts and Brooches and Hame Strings, and where the Groom wears Patent Leather Shoes, and I wonder if this Array of Jewelry, no matter if it did cost a fortune, is any more "proper" on milady that it would be on the Squaw of Lo, the poor Indian, whose untutored mind sees joy unspeakable in beads or trinkets. They way I have sized the Thing Up is that the lady who had rings on her fingers and bells on her toes was just as much in style, if she wanted things that way, as the bespangled heiress of to-day, whose jewel box consists of a thousand no less gaudy but more expensive trinkets than the wife or wives of a Zulu Chief, who adorns her ears and nose with massive rings and lets it go at that. I am not going to say, however, that it is in bad taste or good taste to affect jewelry. But sometimes I grow weary and tired when I see it in excess—but I suppose the owners of it think like Artemus Ward thought about his new Sixteen Dollar Hunting Case Silver Watch, that there's no use in having jewelry unless you show it.

If a woman has on a real, Genuine, up-to-date dike—if she is going out as a Stunner, and expects to Stun, and can afford it, then it is highly proper to indulge in excessive ornamentation. But were I you, Cora, I would tell my Darling that his Jewelry was all right; that it was pretty; but that you didn't care to wear it to the party unless he would dike out like a Zulu, and put rings in his ears, and in his nose, and some goose feathers in his hair. Draw the line. Tell him that the jewelry is all right, in its place, but that if you wore it, it would look like you had gotten it in a prize package, 3 for 5, and that not on your Diamond Stomacher are you going to let the people guy you. Tell him to invest his money in a corner lot on the installment plan; to put it in a savings bank—but not to buy jewelry with it for you. And then, when you get married, and are called upon to confront the responsibilities of life, and the real value of a dollar and the necessity of having it is brought home to you, if you haven't got the dollar—then, Cora, the young man will say to you, that he was Young and Foolish, and that you were Wise and Privident."

No, I wouldn't wear the jewels—I'd let the people who have other finery imitate the Savages.

• • • •

BLANK VERSE.

The following Blank Verse Poem has just been received by me:

—— —— —— —— —— baton
—— —— —— —— —— Stratton
—— —— —— —— —— pillor
—— —— —— —— —— Miller.

There are but few men who can write Blank Verse Poetry, but so long as I can do it, the country is safe.

THE IDLER.

SPECIAL PRICES THIS MONTH

Wilson's GOLD MEDAL Scales

FOR EVERYBODY

COAL, GRAIN AND CATTLE SCALES

DIAMOND STEEL BEARINGS

GET OUR PRICES

C. WILSON & SON

31 ESPLANADE STREET EAST TORONTO.

Leave Your Money in Peterborough

Try a pair of Carey's $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $4.00 Hand-Made Shoes, they always give satisfaction.

CAREY THE SHOE ARCHITECT. 450 George Street

Scavenger Work,

Alfred Cooney is prepared to execute all orders for the removal of night soil and other scavenger work, on the most reasonable terms. Orders left at Overend's Hotel, or at my residence, 316 Bethune Street, will have prompt attention.

GET INTO DEBT

To us for advising the use of our Babbit and Solder, also our Lead and Tin Pipe.

They are Simply the Best

THE CANADA METAL Co
William St., Toronto, Ont.

Canvasser —WANTED—

to sell PRINTERS' INK—a journal for advertisers—published weekly at five dollars a year. It teaches the science and practice of Advertising and is highly esteemed by the most successful advertisers in this country and Great Britain. Liberal commission allowed. Address PRINTERS INK, 10 Spruce St., New York

COPPER AT THREE AND HALF CENTS A POUND

George A. Treadwell Mining Company

27 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK. JEROME, ARIZONA.

Capital - - - - $3,000,000.

VALUE OF SHARES $10.

In a suit recently tried in the New York courts it was proved from the books of the United Verde Copper Company and the sworn testimony of the bookkeepers that the cost to that company of producing copper was only three and a half cents a pound, not counting the gold and silver values, which—allowed for—reduced the cost to a still lower figure.

Nowhere outside the Verde Copper Belt in Yavapai County, Arizona, is copper produced in quantities for less than twice this cost.

The United Verde has about two hundred acres on the north end of the Belt and the George A. Treadwell Company has several times as much in the central and southern parts of the Belt. The conditions along the whole Belt are entirely similar. We already have three mines developed—the Cliff, Brookshire and Iron Queen—one of which, the Cliff, seems to be larger and better than the United Verde, and the other two at least approach it in magnitude and value, while we have several others, including Badger, Pastime, Green Monster and Spoke and Stonewall, which, though less developed, are equally promising.

Professor Treadwell believes we have at least half a dozen United Verdes within the broad and extensive limits of our holdings.

As soon as our smelter plant which is now in process of erection, is completed, we can certainly produce copper as cheap as our rich neighbor on the north.

The United Verde for several years has produced one-tenth of the copper of the world. When our plants are fully installed we expect the Verde Belt to produce one-half the copper of the world, and the George A. Treadwell Mining Company will be prepared to do more than its full share.

Before investing in copper in unproved localities, consider the stock of the George A. Treadwell Mining Company, named after the great pioneer and explorer of the Verde Belt and owning the largest and best aggregation of properties on it.

The price of the stock is $11 a share. Make checks payable to the order of the company and send to the 27 William Street New York.

MYRA B. MARTIN, Secretary

Going Out Of Furnishings.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT AND SAVE MONEY

In order to give our rapidly increasing Tailoring business our undivided attention, we have decided to clear out our Furnishings. To do so quickly means a big sacrifice, which we are prepared to make. SPECIAL LINES AT HALF PRICE

ALL FURNISHINGS AT COST AND UNDER.

H. E. BRADLEY & CO. HIGH CLASS TAILORS AND HABERDASHERS, 353 GEORGE STREET

THE

ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING CO.

MONTREAL LIMITED

LABORATORY OF INLAND REVENUE,
OFFICE OF OFFICIAL ANALYST,
MONTREAL, April 8th, 1895.

"I hereby certify that I have drawn, by my own hand, ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar indiscriminately taken from ten lots of about 150 bbls. each. I have analysed same and find them uniformly to contain:

99 $\frac{99}{100}$ to 100 per cent. of PURE CANE SUGAR

with no impurities whatever."

(SIGNED) JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, PH.D., D.C.L.
Prof. of Chemistry and Pub. Analyst MONTREAL.

Mackinlay's

V.O.B. BLEND
Scotch Whisky

Charles Mackinlay & Co. Distillers, LEITH, Scotland.

THE JOHN TAYLOR IMPORTING CO., Ltd
AGENTS, MONTREAL.

A Combination

Of interests is the order of the day and this form of investment is attracting a great deal of attention. The advantages are evident. It is not wise to "put all your eggs in one basket." Here is an opportunity to secure Two hundred and seventy-five shares valued at current prices at $85.00 for $80.00, an initial saving of five dollars, one of the stocks is already a dividend payer and the others will undoubtedly be within a year. The following is a list of the stocks with number of shares in each and present selling price.

125 Shares Black Rock Mining Company, Limited. A Canadian Company with Canadian officers, including Mine Superintendent and Expert, Property located in the richest copper producing district on the continent. Large property with two million tons of ore in sight that can be worked at a profit. SHARES 10c...... $12 50

50 Shares Rob Roy Mines, Limited, a silver lead mine situated in British Columbia, Ontario charter; property paid for and now being surveyed prior to Crown Granting. No promoters shares. Every share paid for in cash. Ore on the dump now, with over $30.00 to the ton. SHARES 10c...... $5 00

50 Shares Union Oil Gas and Refining Co. Property in the Lima Oil Fields operating over seventy-five (75) producing wells with over twelve thousand (12,000) acres of oil lands under lease. Stock rapidly advancing. An A 1 investment paying monthly dividends. SHARES 50 cents...... $25 00

50 Shares Gold Tunnel Mining Company of California. Mine newly equipped and working; claimed to be one of the richest properties in California, good results guaranteed. SHARES 25 cents...... 12 50

Total value...... $55 00

275 SHARES...... FOR $50 00 CASH

100 shares of any of the above stocks will be sold separately at the regular price.

WM. C. BENSON & CO.

FINANCIAL AGENTS,
311-312 Masonic Temple London, Ont.

The New York Times
Saturday Review of Books.
$1.00 - - - Per Year

A weekly publication that is the best of its kind in the world—in fact, the only one publication that treats books as news. It is remarkable in many respects—remarkable in price, remarkable in size, and remarkable for the number of publishers' advertisements it contains

Expressions in praise of The NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS have been make by:

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT, author "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
EDWIN MARKHAM, Author, "The Man With the Hoe."
WINSTON CHURCHILL, author "Richard Carvel."
JOHN BURROUGHS, Author "Wake Robin."
CHARLES MAJOR, author, "When Knighthood was in Flower."
NOAH BROOKS, Prominent author and Editor.
JOHN KENDRICK BANGS, Editor Harper's Weekly.
MOSES COIT TYLER, Professor American History at Cornell.
JAMES LANE ALLEN, author "The Choir Invisible."
HENRY VAN DYKE, author "Little Rivers."
LAURENCE HUTTON, author "Literary Landmarks."
LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, Poet.
HAMILTON W. MABIE, author "My Study Fire."
FRANK R. STOCKTON, author, "The Lady or the Tiger."
GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, Author and Publisher.
T. H. W. HUNT, Professor English at Princeton.
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Professor English at Dartmouth.
HIRAM CORSON, Professor English at Cornell.
FREDERICK SAUNDERS, Forty Years Librarian, Astor Library.
EDWARD BOK, editor The Ladies' Home Journal.
HELEN MILLER GOULD.

Send for Free Sample Copy. One dollar per year.

CHEAPEST AND BEST LITERARY PUBLICATION
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS: New York.

The New York Times
SUNDAY EDITION
$1.50 - - - - Per Year

Including MAGAZINE SUPPLIMENT, (20 pages,) WEFKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

The Magazine Supplement, recently introduced as a feature of the Sunday Edition, is unique. It has many notable features, including "The Man in the Street," a bright collection of gossip and stories about men of prominence.

FINANCIAL SUPPLEMENT (SUNDAY)

If you have need of a weekly quotation sheet, giving current prices for stocks and bonds, you will find the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT, published as part of the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, the most compact and convenient reference publication issued.

This Supplement, with the Sunday Edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, will be mailed you for fifty-two (52) consecutive weeks upon receipt of One Dollar and a Half ($1.50.)

Address THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York

America's BEST Republican Paper

EDITORIALLY FEARLESS.
CONSISTENTLY REPUBLICAN ALWAYS.

News from all parts of the world Well written, original stories Answers to queries on all subjects—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books, and on Work About the Farm and Garden:

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

The INTER OCEAN is a member of the Associated Press and also is the only Western newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York, World besides daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country. No pen can tell more fully WHY it is the BEST on earth.

—TWELVE-PAGE PAPERS—52 One Dollar a Year
Brimful of news from everywhere and a perfect feast of special matter . . . .

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers $1.25

PEACH'S LACE CURTAINS

SEND YOUR ADDRESS for our New Illustrated Catalogue; Foreign Edition Post Free. The most complete List of Lace Goods issued.

Import your own Goods DIRECT FROM the LOOMS, and save three Profits. LACE CURTAINS, MADRAS MUSLINS, CAPES, LADIES & GENTS, REAL SWISS, [illegible] BLINDS, [illegible], LOOM HOSIERY, GUIPURE D'ART, LACES ALL MAKES, COLLARETTES, HOUSEHOLD LINENS

POPULAR PARCEL $5.10

Lot No. [illegible] contains:—1 pair Rich Artistic Drawing-Room Curtains, 4 yds. long, 2 yds. wide. 2 pairs alike, Handsome Dining-Room Curtains, choice old lace design, 3½ yds. long, 60 in. wide, 1 pair neat Floral Pattern Bed-Room Curtains, 3 yds. long, 50 in. wide, 1 pair new fashionable Sash Curtains, 1 table centre, renaissance design, 1 Set of Duchess Toilet Covers, one 45 in. long, and five smaller. Ecru if desired. On receipt of Post Office Order for $6.30, the lot sent per Parcel Post, direct to your address in Canada well packed in oilcloth. Customers throughout the Empire testify to the reliable work, Marvellous Value, and Durability. First Prize Medals, Toronto 1892; Chicago, 1893.

S. PEACH & SONS, Lister Gate, Nottingham, England. Established 1857.

Abbreviated Price Lists may be obtained at the office of this paper.

Scavenger Work,

Alfred Cooney is prepared to execute all orders for the removal of night soi and other scavenger work, on the mos reasonable terms. Orders left at Overend's Hotel, or at my residence, 316 Bethune Street, will have prompt attention.

Advertise in the Times.

Electric Lamps
25c each
Peterboro Light & Power Co
LIMITED

A LIVING FAITH.

SERMON BY
GEORGE H. HEPWORTH.

He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief, but was strong in faith.—Romans, iv., 20.

The difference between the man of faith and the man of no faith is practically the difference between paradise and purgatory.

A man does not need to believe many things, just enough to give him a safe anchorage in stress of weather. Long creeds are tiresome, and the longer they are the more tiresome they become. As spiritual helps they are of very little value. If a man's theology consists of a few simple propositions there is small chance of his having a controversy within himself, whereas a complicated creed introduces many points of doubt.

If a man believes in little else than an honorable life, but believes in that at all hazards, and stands by it in all emergencies, he will make a good citizen, a loyal friend and cannot miss the approval of God. Such a man could not go to any other place than heaven, even if he wanted to, for he does not belong in any other locality. In like manner, if a man believes only in the law of gravitation, but believes in that with might and main, he will not put up a building that is likely to tumble down and bring him ruin. What he does build will be strong and solid. It may not be specially ornate, but it will last.

It is better to be absolutely sure of one essential thing than half sure of a dozen things. And so I venture to say that if a man is thoroughly convinced that he is in a world governed by law, and that behind the law is the Lawmaker, that right is everlastingly right and wrong always wrong, he has a sure clew to lead him through the intricacies of life, its bereavements, its poverty, its hardships and the strange change which comes when he falls asleep at last. The whole of religion, all that is necessary to keep him in the high road to heaven, will lie like a panorama in full view. A few certainties, and after that he may speculate as much as he pleases, for his many speculations will not interfere with his few certainties.

The difficulty with the man who has no distinct belief is that he is not a safe guide for himself. He is not only afloat, but adrift. There is nothing he can depend on, very little of that patience and resignation which make things easy and a good deal of that rebellion which makes them hard. He has more responsibility for himself than he can carry, and keeps watch on the bridge night and day, not knowing that there is a captain at the helm.

I can speak with confidence concerning this mental attitude, because in my younger years I passed into and through some of the more radical phases of doubt. The sky was not very blue in those days, and I got very little out of life. I was compelled to be honest with myself, and was therefore as miserable as I was honest. When at length I found good holding ground my anchor chain made merry music as it sought the solid bottom. I wanted little, but I wanted that with a yearning inexpressible, for there is a desperation in feeling that you are a stray waif in a strange world, and that you are certain of nothing but uncertainty. One cares very little what he does when there is no God visible and no heaven to go to. With the grave as the miserable terminus of our journey, one grows selfish and discontented. On the other hand, with a horizon line stretching beyond sundown, one is careful what he does, because to-morrow he may be sorry.

A good, plain, square religion which everybody can understand, which appeals to the common sense of mankind, to the logic of the business man, and the research of the philosopher, is the only thing to set this old world right and keep it right. You are bound for a port on the other shore, and you must govern yourself accordingly. There must be no death in our thoughts, for that is fatal to the development and discipline of the higher nature. Nothing makes a man so large, so generous, so unselfish or so noble as a belief in immortality, and immortality must therefore be a fact or the universe is a huge deception. There must be another world somewhere in which these crooked things shall be made straight and these mysteries explained. Surely there will be a chance in some more favorable clime for us to make another effort in the light of a larger intelligence. We must also be able to look forward to a reunion after the hard separations which carry our dear ones into the light before the dark.

With such a faith vouchsafed by the Christ and by the longings of human nature we can bear and forbear, because the hour of rest is not far off. There is much more than this to believe if we have time to investigate, but it will serve our purpose.

LORD SALISBURY'S RETIREMENT POSTPONED

The Unexpected Illness of the King Makes this Imperative

He will be Created a Duke when he Quits—The Prime Minister said to have Lost Vigor

Special to The Times.

London, July 3.—Newspaper men did not fail to notice that the official copies of the honor list issued from Downing street on Wednesday night had been considerably cut, names having evidently been erased with a penknife and then pasted over with slips of paper in a manner which defied all efforts of curious investigators to gain surreptitious knowledge.

It was evident that there had been some honors which the unexpected illness of the King had rendered desirable to withhold. It is generally believed that these included a Dukedom for the Marquis of Salisbury preliminary to his retirement from public life is, of course, not new, but it has recently increased in probability and today there is good reason for describing it as a settled thing.

Lord Salisbury, under the increasing burdens of years and anxiety, has lost much of his physical vigor. He has tasted to the full the sweets of place and power and they now pall on him. Unlike the average statesman retiring to private life he is passionately in love with a hobby, the pursuit of which will give him ample interest in life. That hobby is electricity and experimental chemistry, in both of which he is more than an amateur.

EDWARD VII

The role of Prince of Wales, which Albert Edward has had to play for the greater part of his life is difficult, thankless, laborious and barren. To a young man it brings temptations and pleasures, long believed to be pardonable in a Prince, but subject, in the case of an English Prince, to the criticism of the Nonconformist conscience, a narrow and easily worried organ. The loyal and affectionate welcome of the people to a Prince still in his fortunate time is likely to be chilled and lessened as he grows older. He may fall into evil courses. He is pretty sure to fall into debt. There have been heir apparents who dropped into the arms of the opposition to the court. The place of the waiting heir has something ungracious in itself, and when held for years must become a burden. The laying of cornerstones is no agreeable diversion; and to be a royalty at second hand in an essentially democratic country, to submit to much of the ceremony with none of the power of kingship, needs much patience and craves wary walking.

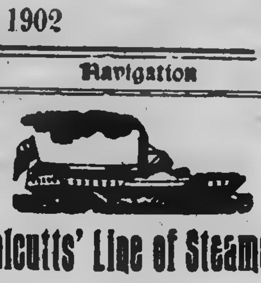
As Prince of Wales, the King whose recovery is now heartily desired not only by his own people, but by the world in general which believes him to be a good fellow, an amiable man and a dignified and conscientious sovereign, had his difficulties and diversions. He has rattled dice wi' Charley," so to speak, stirred the Nonconformists by his addiction to the turf; been lectured when he was well and prayed over when he was ill. He has steered cleverly among political parties and has not forgotten that he should be above party. His calling on Mr. Gladstone at a time when there was a sort of insane ferocity in English society against the statesman and his kissing of Mrs. Gladstone's hand at her husband's funeral in Westminster Abbey are instances of that exquisite sensibility and delicacy of perception and tact which have been habitual with him. And there was more than tact and a fine courtesy in such characteristic actions. There was shrewdness and wisdom. The future King knew his business. He was not and would not be Tory or Liberal.

He has learned a great deal more than they taught him at the universities, and, if no apt scholar in books, he has acquired knowledge of the world by travel and by association with eminent or interesting persons of many sorts. As a Prince, he was catholic in his associates, and his tastes. An accomplished man of the world, he has touched life at many points. He made himself a good public speaker, for a Prince. He has worked hard in spite of his devotion to pleasure, society and the theatre. Not a brilliant man, he has a perfect comprehension of his own position and of the limitation of his powers. Whatever his prejudices, his weaknesses or his faults, he has continued to be the most popular man in his kingdom. In short, he is fitted to be the King. His more vigorous and masterful nephew, the German Emperor, could not keep the English crown three weeks unless he suffered a sea change.

He has shown sympathy, tact, intelligence, discretion, shrewdness and interest in most departments of British life and activity, except literature. Even in this obtuseness to literary interests, he shows himself characteristically English. What does the average Englishman care about Tennyson or Schelley? The winner of the Derby is a greater, in the greatest man, still, the coronation honors show that the King's advisers, if not he, seek to "reward" distinction in science, literature and the arts.

There have been great sovereigns of England. There will be no more for the people are sovereign and a King would strive in vain against a House of Commons supported by them. Edward VII. is a proper modern King of England. He knows his part, and even those who, like Americans, have little patience with the scenery of the play seen on that stage, must admit his skill and grace as the chief actor there, and the cordiality of the applause that he has won.

Navigation



Calcutts' Line of Steamers

City of Peterborough - Water-Lily

TIME TABLE FOR JUNE, 1902
THE STEAMER
CITY OF PETERBOROUGH
WILL RUN AS FOLLOWS:

MONDAYS, WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS, to Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wild.

TUESDAYS, to Jubilee, and Harwood.

On the above days the steamer will leave the Peterborough Wharf at 9.15 a. m., returning will arrive at Peterborough at 8.30 p. m.

THURSDAYS, to Hastings, leaving the Peterborough Wharf at 8.15 a. m., calling at Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, returning, will arrive at Peterborough at 9 p. m.

FARE FOR ROUND TRIP, $1.00.
CHILDREN 50c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, wil leave Peterborough at 2.15 p. m. fo Jubilee, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 9 p. m.

Fares to Jubilee, Harwood and Idy Wyld, 50c, good for return same day only Children One-Half fare. Passengers wishing to remain over Sunday at Jubilee, Harwood or Idyl Wild, can on payment of 25c, return on Monday morning, arriving in Peterborough at 9.00 a.m.

Books of Family tickets, $5.00, for points between Peterborough and Idyl Wyld.

Special arrangements made for Sunday School and other excursion parties on application to

H. CALCUTT,
Peterboro, or phone 98

KAWARTHA LAKES

THE—
TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION CO'Y
LIMITED

Sailings of Steamer

Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Lindsay

ESTURION

JUNE 1st TO OCTOBER 1st

Bobcaygeon,	Lv 6 15 a.m.	and	3.10 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 7.15 a.m.	"	4 10 p.m.
Lindsay	Ar 8 40 a m.	"	5 30 p.m.
"	Lv 11 00 a.m.	"	6 30 p.m.
Sturgeon Point	" 12.10 p m.	"	7.40 p.m.
Bobcaygeon	Ar 1.15 p.m.	"	8.55 p.m.

Satu days boat will await evening Toronto train. Meals served on board

Coboconk, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay.

MANITA

JULY 1st TO SEPT. 6th, or till notice.

Coboconk	Lv 6 00 a m	Ar 7 40 p m
Rosedale	Lv 7 00 a m	Lv 6 40 p m
Fenelon Falls	Ar 7 40 a m	Lv 6 00 p m
Fenelon Falls	Lv 8 30 a m	Ar 5 20 p m
Sturgeon Pt.	Lv 9 00 a m	Lv 4 50 p m
Lindsay	Ar 10 30 a m	Lv 3 30 p m

Connections at Fenelon with morning train for Toronto and at Lindsay for Port Hope. Time at Fenelon for Breakfast and Tea.

Bobcaygeon, Chemong, Burleigh, Lakefield.

"OGEMAH"

JULY 2nd TO SEPT. 6th or till notice

Bobcaygeon	Lv 7 00 a m	Ar 7 45 p m
Chemong	Lv 9 40 a m	Lv 5 30 p m
Buckhorn	Lv 11 45 a m	Lv 3 00 p m
Burleigh	Ar 12 45 p m	Lv 1 30 p m

Connections made at Burleigh Falls with Steamers for Lakefield and intermediate points. Meals served on board

For further particulars apply to

W. BUNTON,
Up-town Agt, G.T.R., Peterboro

LAKE ONTARIO and BAY OF QUINTE STEAMBOAT CO., Ltd.

COBOURG. PORT HOPE. ROCHESTER, N. Y.

STEAMERS
'NORTH KING" AND "CASPIAN"
Daily Route Commencing June 29

SOUTH BOUND.

Leaving Cobourg, Ontario...... ...2.[illegible] p.m.
Leaving Port Hope, Ontario...... ...2.50 p.m.
Arrive Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester) ....[illegible].47. p.m.
Arrive Rochester (cor. N. St. Paul & Main Streets...... ....[illegible] p.m.

NORTH BOUND.

Leaving Rochester (Cor. N. St. Paul & Main streets .... 9.00 a.m
Leaving Summerville, N.Y. (Port of Rochester... ....[illegible] a.m
Arrive Cobourg, Ontario...... ......[illegible] p.m.
Arrive Port Hope, Ontario...... ...2.50 p.m

Baggage can be checked to any place in Rochester, and from Rochester to any point to which ticket reads. For further information apply to.

H. H. Gildersleeve, General Manager, Kingston
James Swain, Agent, Port Hope

IF YOU WANT A CAMERA

Write for catalogue or information to the Canadian Camera Co, Toronto, both of which we will be pleased to

GIVE YOU FREE.

ALL GOODS WARRANTED.

Navigation

ALLAN LINE

LIVERPOOL VIA MOVILLE

ROYAL MAIL SERVICE

Parisian	5 July 5 am	5 July 3 p m
Mongolian	12 July 7 a m	12 July 5 p m
Tunisian	19 July 5 am	19 July 3 p m
Pretorian	26 July 5 a m	26 July 3 p m
Numidian	2 Aug. 5 a m	2 Aug 3 p m

First cabin, $65 upwards; second cabin, $37.50 to $42.50; London, $1.50 extra; third class, $25 and $26—Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London.

New York to Glasgow and Londonderry. Mongolian.................Wednesday, July 30

S. S. Sicilian new, from Montreal to Glasgow direct, Wednesday 9th July, at daylight, carrying 2nd cabin passengers only. $35.00 single; $66.50 return.

Apply to H & A ALLAN, Montreal.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO., Ltd

River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes.

THE WELL and favorably known S. S Campana, 1,700 tons, lighted with electricity and with all comforts leaves Montreal on Mondays at 2 p.m. 2d, 16th & 30th June 14th and 28th July; 11th and 25th August 8th and 22d September for Pictou, N. S. calling at Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perce, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The finest trip of the season for health and comfort.

ARTHUR AHERN,
Secretary, Quebec.

For tickets and staterooms apply to W. BUNTON, Ticket Agent, Peterborough.

RICHELIEU & ONTARIO NAVIGATION CO

NIAGARA TO THE SEA

THE UNRIVALLED SCENIC ROUTE OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Palatial iron steamers of the Hamilton Line, leave Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal tri-weekly from June 1st, passing through the beautiful scenery of the Bay of Quinte and running all the rapids.

The Royal Mail Line steamers leav Toronto and Montreal daily excep. Sunday from June 15th.

HOTELS.—Manoir Richelieu, at Murray Bay, Que., and Tadousac Hotel, at Tadousac, Que., are replete with all modern facilities.

For further particulars apply to: W. BUNTON, Agent R. & O. Nav., Peterborough, Ontario, or to THOS. HENRY, Traffic Manager, Montreal, Que.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION COMPANY.

(Owners of and operating the Northwest Transportation Co.)

GEORGIAN BAY & SAULT STE. MARIE

EXCURSIONS TO MACKINAC

One of the Company's steamers will leave COLLINGWOOD 1 30, MEAFORD 3.45, OWEN SOUND 11.00 p. m. on TUESDAYS, THURSDAYS and FRIDAYS, for intermediate ports to SAULT STE. MARIE and MACKINAC ISLAND and on SATURDAYS for intermediate ports to SAULT STE. MARIE, ONLY.

NORTH SHORE DIVISION

SS. BRITANNIC will leave COLLINGWOOD on MONDAYS and THURSDAYS at 10.30 p. m., for Parry Sound, Pointe au Baril, Byng Inlet, French River and Killarney.

PARRY SOUND DIVISION.

CITY OF TORONTO will leave Midland at 11.45 a. m. and PENETANG at 2.30 p. m., daily (Sundays excepted) for intermediate ports to PARRY SOUND, arriving there at 8.30 p. m., returning leave at 4.00 a. m. For tickets and full information apply to all railway agents or

Northern Navigation Co., Collingwood

COBOURG AND PORT HOPE TO TORONTO

STR. "ARGYLE"

(Commencing Thursday, May 22)

EVERY THURSDAY

Leaves Cobourg at	7 00 a m
" Port Hope at	8.00 a m
Arrive Toronto at	12 30 p m
Returning, leaves Toronto at	5 00 p m

Fare continuous round trip $1.00. Extension return 30 days, 25c extra, from Purser on board.

BELLEVILLE TO MONTREAL, QUEBEC AND ROCHESTER.

RUNNING ALL RAPIDS—1000 ISLANDS BY DAYLIGHT.

STR. "ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Belleville every Monday	7 00 a m
Arrives Montreal Tuesday	2 00 p m
Arrives Quebec Wednesday	Morning

Finest excursion trip on the continent.

Belleville, Trenton, Brighton to Rochester (Charlotte Port of.)

EVERY SATURDAY

Leaves Belleville	11.00 a m
" Trenton	1.15 p m
" Brighton	2.45 p m
Arrives Charlotte	7 30 p m

*Quebec excursions commence July 6th

For further particulars, folders, etc., write

A. W. HEPBURN Manager,
Picton, Ont

NIAGARA RIVER LINE

STEAMERS
"CHICORA," "CHIPPEWA," "CORONA.
—FROM—
TORONTO
—TO—

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE LEWISTON and QUEENSTON, connecting at the above points with New York Central & Hudson River R. R., Great Gorge R. R., Niagara Falls Park & River R. R. and Michigan Central R. R. FOR Falls Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and all point th, East and West.

Steamers now leave Toronto at 7.00, 9.00 and 11.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.45 p. m.

Trips Daily (Except Sunday

JOHN FOY,
General Manager, Toronto, Ont

The Passing of the Horse.

Very early in the development of electric traction it was predicted that the use of the horse would ultimately decrease and perhaps disappear. Electric traction has now, however, been brought to a high degree of perfection, and yet the horse is still with us. Notwithstanding this, statistics show, we are assured editorially by the "Electrical Review" (April 19), that the horse is going—slowly, perhaps, but none the less surely. Says this paper:

"Some interesting statistics lately published by our lively French contemporary, 'La Locomotion Automobile,' show that in Europe the horse is rapidly disappearing in the various large cities. For example, in Paris the total number of horses in 1901, according to a municipal census of these animals, was 96,698, while this year it is only 90,796, a falling-off of about six per cent. In London, in the same period, the equine population has decreased ten per cent., while in Berlin, Vienna, and even in St. Petersburg, the same falling-off exhibits itself. This is partly due to the new trolley-roads, and very largely to the numerous and continual increase in the number of automobiles used both for pleasure and business.

"In this country the supersession of the horse by the trolley-car has been absolutely astonishing in its extent. Probably to-day in New York there are not more than two-thirds as many horses employed as were used twenty years ago. So far, the automobile appears to have made no great inroads into the horse business, and it is likely that the extension of the use of automobiles will have to wait upon the growth of more scientific ideas regarding street-paving and road-making. However, the decadence of the horse is upon us, and his disappearance may be looked for sooner or later.

"As certainly as anything can be predicted the progress of engineering advance will totally extinguish the horse, as a beast of burden. We may look forward with certainty and satisfaction to the day when cities at least will be horseless and when we will be removed from the tyranny of this animal, which has imposed upon us stone-paved streets, unending dirt, and, curiously enough, the house-fly—an insect dependent upon the existence of stables for its birth and breeding. What the future of the horse will be is hard to say. It is likely that horses will continue for centuries to come to be used as instruments of sport and pleasure, but the day of their emancipation from hard labor in the streets and roads is not far distant."

Earthquakes and Causes.

One of the most disastrous earthquakes of recent times is that reported from Russian Transcaucasia. The town of Shamaka has been practically destroyed, only a dozen houses being left standing, while a population of 25,000 has been rendered homeless. The number of fatalities is as yet unknown. Over 300 bodies had been recovered at the latest accounts.

To the student of seismic phenomena, says the San Francisco "Chronicle," the interesting and suggestive feature in the Shamaka earthquake is that it has occurred in the neighborhood of the Baku oil district—the most productive field in the world, not excepting that of Beaumont, in Texas. It is, furthermore, a section of the world which has hitherto been exempt from these phenomena. The scientific enquirer will naturally search for a cause, for cause and effect go together in the scientific analysis of all phenomena. Is the great natural oil reservoir tapped by the oil wells of Baku, on the shores of the Caspian Sea, located under the site of Shamaka, and has the tremendous drain of mineral oil from the same caused a void and a subsequent shrinkage in the earth's crust in that neighborhood? The enquiry is not far-fetched. It is usually assumed that water takes the place of the oil withdrawn from the measures, filling the vacuum created by the latter's withdrawal, but if the water, being more tenuous, should find an independent vent elsewhere, the vacuum created by the draining of the mineral oil would remain, and a shrinkage of the unsupported crust of the earth would naturally follow sooner or later.

It has been suggested that the tapping of the oil measures in the southern part of California has relieved the mineral oil-bearing formations from the pressure of the gas created in them, and the possible subterranean gas explosions produced by excessive pressure, and thus removed one of the supposed causes of earthquakes in that section. There may be nothing in the theory, but it has been observed that the Los Angeles district has been notably exempt from seismic disturbances since the oil measures were tapped and vent given to the gases generated in them. Likewise, the theory that the Shamaka earthquake was due to the drain on the petroleum reservoirs in the Caucasus by the Baku wells may be entirely at fault. But the two phenomena seem to invite the attention of the scientist, and open a new field for the study of seismic disturbances.

Bees in War!

We do not know that bees have ever been recognised as among the accessories of war, but there is an old army story current in the Southern States of a party who were out scouting or foraging, probably both, one morning, and saw a much larger party of the enemy's cavalry riding down on them. It was useless to retreat across an open plain, for the horses could go faster than they, while to surrender meant a fate but little better or perhaps a little worse than death. They gathered behind a wall or embankment, resolved to sell their lives as dearly as possible, when one of their number spied a stand of beehives a little way behind them. Quickly he communicated his idea to his comrades, and enough ran back to each to seize a hive and throw it over the wall in front of them. Very quickly those bees were at work as busily as if they had been sworn into the service, and while the riders might have faced them, the horses would not, but were soon in full retreat a half mile away. Some of the boys got stung in trying to send missiles more powerful than bee stings after the enemy, but they all reached camp again soon without needing the surgeon's care.

The Sense of Humor.

He was an ordinarily mild and inoffensive little gentleman who had lived for many happy, uneventful years in farther Chelsea, when a volume of theatrical anecdotes came into his hands. In this he read of delicious practical jokes played with unfailing success by Vivier and Sothern, and of how that great comedian, J. L. Toole, brought confusion to a baker's shop displaying in the window a sign, "Families supplied," by requesting that three girls and a boy should be sent round as soon as possible.

"This," he said, "is the exercise of true wit." Then he went out, still chuckling.

In farther Chelsea, where custom is drawn by halfpence from the needy, stands an eating-house which endeavors to attract the hungry by pasting on its front this dubious message, "Everything as nice as mother makes it."

"The very place," said the little gentleman, and entered.

"I can have a meal?" was his first query.

"Yes—straight through," said the woman behind the counter, pointing to an inner partition of the shop.

"Any everything as nice as mother makes it?" he asked.

"That 's in the window."

"But how nice does mother make it?"

"Jim," said the woman, calling into space, "here's a cove wants to know how nice mother makes it," and she laughed.

"Garn," came a beery voice; "must be balmy on the crumpet. Turn 'im out."

Nothing daunted, the little man went on: "Supposing she doesn't make it at all nice? Supposing she makes it very nasty, what then?"

No answer.

The woman went on frying onions, but her eye gleamed.

"What if I don't remember any mother? What if she never made anything at all? What if——"

He got no further, but found himself thrust violently through the door to the pavement outside, while a voice admonished him: "'Ere, you, don't come interfering 'ere—if yer wants a sausage and mashed, say so. If not, get out." And as he retreated hastily, though with dignity, the voice followed faintly: "Bedlam—that's the place for the likes of you—Bedlam."

The discomfited little gentleman had walked nearly a mile before his recovery was completed by a sign, hung over a boot shop, which caught his eye. "Wear Parkinson's Boots," ran the legend.

The little man fairly leaped into the shop.

"Why?" he asked, in mild enquiry.

"Beg pardon, sir," said the assistant who had hurried forward to greet him.

"Why should I wear Parkinson's boots?"

"Because they are the best, sir. We use nothing but the best leather."

"What's the matter with my own?"

The assistant glanced down.

"Uppers want mending and heels leveling, sir. Do you a perfect boot for fifteen shillings."

"But supposing Parkinson's don't fit me?"

"We keep all sizes, sir."

"Yes, but I don't know that I care about wearing another man's boots."

"Of course, sir, if you prefer to go on buying boots like those you've got on; but," with a deprecatory smile, "we can turn you out a much better article for fifteen shillings."

"But my name is Pettigrew, and I don't think it would be legal for me to wear Parkinson's boots—it looks like robbery."

"Robbery?" said the assistant sharply. "Our prices are as low as they can be for sound wearing qualities. If there's nothing further to-day, sir," holding open the door, "good morning!"

"Some people," said Pettigrew to himself, as he waited for his homeward 'bus, "have no sense of humor. I wonder how Toole managed it?"—"Punch."

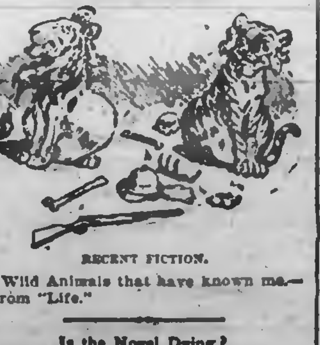
A Keen Sense of Smell.

One of the sorrows of childhood is the slowness of some older people to take a hint. It is often quite a strain on good manners to be obliged to reinforce a suggestion that should have been adequate in itself.

A little girl, calling at a neighbor's house, sat near a plate containing some apple-parings. At last, unable to keep silence any longer, she said, "I smell apples."

"Yes," returned her hostess, "it's those parings."

"No'm," said the little girl, solemnly. "I smell whole apples."



RECENT FICTION.

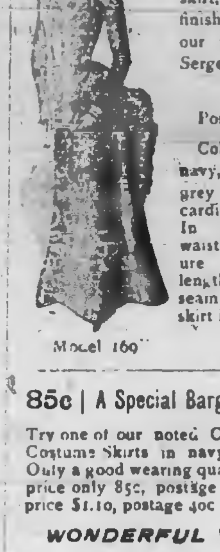
Wild Animals that have known me.—From "Life."

Is the Novel Dying?

Science and the stern reality of life are bound to destroy the novel. It is out of harmony with the scientific and materialistic spirit of the age. The more industrial and strenuous a nation is, the fewer novelists has she; only the backward, the passive, the visionary peoples produce great novelists. The fable, the national tale, the folk-song, have died. Why not the novel? It, too, is subject to the law of evolution. It has seen its acme, its highest point, and is on the decline.—"Novoye Vremya," St. Petersburg.

Unrewarded Solicitude.

Hostess (to guests, who have come to spend a few days)—We're so glad you've been able to come, Mrs. Gushington; but I do hope we are going to have better weather, or I'm afraid you won't enjoy yourself much. Miss Gushington—Oh, but, my dear Lady Boreham, we didn't come here to enjoy ourselves. We came to see you.—"Punch."



$3.10 $3.10

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO.

LIMITED.

Fashionable tailor-made open coat costumes. Coat tailor stitched and fashionable, well-cut skirt, well made and finished. Made of our noted Cheviot Serge. Price only $3.10

Postage 50c extra.

Colours — Black, navy, fawn, brown, grey purple, green, cardinal, purple, etc. In ordering give waist and bust measure under arms, length of inside seam and length of skirt in front

Model 169

85c | A Special Bargain | 85c

Try one of our noted Cheviot Serge Costume Skirts in navy and black Only a good wearing quality. Unlined price only 85c, postage 35c, Lined price $1.10, postage 40c extra.

WONDERFUL VALUE.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts of the world.

Patterns and our illustrated Sketch-book of Costumes sent post free on application to

THE RICHMOND MANUFACTURING CO., Limited.

Dept. 74, St. Andrew's Factory,
Bradford, England

AMERICA'S

BEST

Editorially Fearless
Consistently Republican

News from all of the world—well written, original stories—Answers to queries—Articles on Health, the Home, New Books and on Work About the Farm and Garden.

The Weekly InterOcean

Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire telegraphic news service of the New York Sun and special cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.

YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Subscribe for The WEEKLY TIMES and the WEEKLY INTER OCEAN one year, both papers for $1.25.

INCORPORATED 1886. TORONTO SIR J. A. BOYD, K.C.M.G., PRESIDENT.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

COLLEGE STREET.

Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director

The Best Equipment and Facilities and Strongest Faculty in Canada.

Offers unequalled Advantages for an Artistic Musical Education.

School of Literature and Expression

MAUDE MASSON, Principal.

Expression, Pedagogy, Physical Culture

CALANDARS AND SYLLABUS FREE

ARE YOU STOUT.

Edith Berdan, M. D., Has the best treatment—has cured every form of Obesity Safely [illegible] Reducing Stout Abdomen and Large Hips a specialty. Health improved. [illegible] For terms, particulars, Address [illegible]

APIOL & STEEL PILLS

for Ladies.

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Penny royal, etc. Order of all chemists, or post free for $1.50, from EVANS & SONS, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and Victoria British Columbia, or Martin, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Southampton, England.

R·I·P·A·N·S

There is scarcely any condition of -health that is not benefited by the occasional use of R-I-P-A-N-S Tabules. For sale by Druggists. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains supply for a year

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings. IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

Everybody reads The Times.

PAUL KRUGER WILL END DAYS IN HOLLAND

Denies a Report that he Intends Returning to Pretoria

HIS NEVER ENDING HATRED

Of British Will go to the Grave with the Old Man—He Staked all and Lost

Special to The Times.

Brussels, July 3.—Alone of all the Transvaal and Orange Free State chieftains who led the Boers in their fight for freedom the venerable "Oom" Paul refuses to accept the generous peace terms of the British and return to South Africa.

Coupled with the announcement that General Botha would go to Holland to explain the terms of surrender to Boer refugees and officials, came a report that Mr. Kruger had finally been brought to acquiesce in British supremacy and would return to Pretoria to spend his remaining days in the land whose destinies he once controlled.

It was even said that Queen Wilhelmina had placed at his disposal a Dutch steamer and had arranged that he should return in a manner worthy of his former rank, but the ex-President had been prompt to deny the rumour. In these terms he briefly defines his plans:

"I shall never return to the Transvaal. In that country I have nothing. All that made it home to me has passed forever. Here in Holland, where I found refuge in my hour of need, I purpose remaining for the rest of my life. I shall never leave it."

The staunch old Dutch patriot, deprived in his very last days of all his hopes, is the one really pathetic figure of the war. The other leaders are all younger men, for most of the old comrades of Kruger have died since the struggle began.

The cheerful spirit in which they have accepted the terms of the conquerors shows that they are not devoid of hope for the future, and can even look forward to being contented citizens under English control. With Kruger the case is different. He staked his whole future in the war. He has lost, and instead of being lessened, his hatred of England has really increased. That he could live content in Pretoria is out of the question; that he will live long anywhere is doubtful.

FRANCE DOESN'T WORRY OVER TRIPLE ALLIANCE

Thinks Coming Tariff War May Strain the Diplomic Uuderstanding

Special to The Times.

Paris, July 2.—The French press hails the renewal of the Triple Alliance between Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy with considerable equanimity, believing that it has been much enfeebled by dissentions with regard to tariff questions and the better understanding between Italy and France, and that the Franco-Russian alliance deprives the Triple Alliance of its originally aggressive character.

The Temps says: "A tariff war is about to graft itself on this political alliance, and the future will teach us how far an economic war is compatible with diplomatic understanding. Recent developments have singularly modified, if not the cordiality and intimacy between the powers of the Triple Alliance, at least the efficacy and practical value of the league."

The Journal des Débats recalls the declaration of Foreign Minister Prinetti in the Italian Chamber of Deputies that "no military or diplomatic conventions will be appended to the new treaty.

500,000 Immigrants

Special to The Times.

New York, July 2.—There is no truer indication of national prosperity than the volume of immigration. As the conditions of prosperity in this country have become more and more pronounced during the last few years, there has been a steady increase in the number of immigrants. Figures for the fiscal year ending to-day at Ellis Island show that nearly 500,000 aliens have landed at this port the present month alone, bringing more than 50,000 from the various countries of Europe. A noticeable fact is the increase in the number of Italian arrivals, due in all probability to the unprecedented volume of railroad construction, which employs large numbers of the new-comers from King Victor Emmanuel's domain.

Canadian Immigration

Special to The Times.

Ottawa, Ont., July 2.—Figures given out by the Canadian Department of Immigration show that the arrival of immigrants for the year ending to-day were 65,000, an increase of more than 15,000 over last year. The increase is principally from Great Britain and the United States.

EMPEROR TO KING EDWARD

Germans Join in Prayers for His Complete Restoration of Health

Special to The Times.

Kiel, July 3.—The telegrams exchanged by the Emperor and King Edward on the recent occasion of the sinking of the torpedo boat Bibe are published.

The Emperor replied that every officer and man in the German Navy was profoundly affected by the fact that the first act of the new German Admiral should be to send a message so kindly worded. They joined in the prayers for King Edward's complete restoration to health.

Kitchener has no intention of being paraded to make a British holiday. He declined the invitation of the Mayor of Southampton to have great doings on his arrival in that town in July. He declined to be the ornament of a big public procession in London. He likes to do his work in his own way, and to be let alone as much as possible, and it is probable that he values at about the same rate the criticism and the cheers of the loyal British public. It was fuming at him a few weeks ago and now it would be glad to stand on its head, if it had one, in his honor.

MARVELOUSLY CHEAP

WORKS OF

Dickens and Thackeray

JOHN DICKS | 313 STRAND, LONDON, ENG. | Send for JOHN DICKS complet catalogue of Cheap Literature Plays, etc.

NOVELS BY CHARLES DICKENS.

The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit.

Demy Octavo, 324 pages, and all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

Also at Sixpence a complete and unabridged edition of

Dombey and Son.

Demy 8vo., 336 pp., with all the Original Illustrations by H. K. Browne ("PHIZ.")

This is the largest Sixpenny worth ever offered to the public. The Work is Complete and Unabridged, with Portrait and Autograph of the Author.

David Copperfield.

Demy Octavo, 328 pages.

Beautifully Illustrated, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Complete and Unabridged Edition. Price SIXPENCE.

Bleak House.

Demy Octavo, 320 pages, with all the Original Illustrations by "PHIZ" (H. K. Browne). Price SIXPENCE A Marvel of cheapness.

NOVELS BY WM MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

FOR THE FIRST TIME AT SIXPENCE

An Illustrated Edition of

The History of Henry Esmond

Demy 8vo., 168 pages.

Complete and Unabridged Edition printed in clear type, on good paper, and bound in an attractive and colored wrapper. Price Sixpence. 169 Illustrations.

The History of Pendennis

FACSIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL EDITION.

Complete and Unabridged, containing 357 pages and all the Original Illustrations by the author. The Work is an exact reproduction of the First Edition. The Edition is also the largest and most fully illustrated Sixpenny worth ever offered to the Public.

Price Sixpence. Complete and Unabridged.

"Vanity Fair.

Containing 328 pages, with all the Original Illustrations, tail-pieces, and especially all the famous Vignette Initials

ASK FOR THE

ALES AND PORTER

—OF—

THE DOMINION BREWERY COMPANY, LIMITED

They are Finest and Purest in the market.

The WHITE LABEL BRAND is a specialty.

To be had at all first-class dealers

Business Men

If you require well bo[illegible] well made Business Books, come and see us

DAY BOOKS,
LEDGERS, JOURNALS,
CASH BOOKS,
ETC.

Kept in stock and made to order Our Books have provincial reputation. They are the best Books on the market.

Times Printing Co.

Wholesale and Retail
Manufacturing Stationers, Peterborough

HER LIPS
HER CHEEKS
HER FEATURES

Seem to be drawn by Love's own hand, sang the immortal Dryden of a woman whose clear complexion alone rendered her divinely beautiful. No toilet emollient of the age is so beneficial to lips, cheeks or hands as

CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM

It acts like a charm in removing Crowsfeet, Wrinkles, Pimples, Redness, Roughness, Chaps, etc., prevents and removes Freckles. At drug stores—25c bottle. The

Hutchings Medicine Co

185 YONGE ST., TORONTO

King Edward VII. Notepaper,

is "quite English, you know." It was very popular when sold under the name of "Plashwater," but never so fashionable as now.

IT IS THE GENUINE "PLASHWATER."

Other papers sold in Canada now under that name are spurious imitations. Ask for "King Edward VII." Note Paper, with envelopes to match, and you will have the authentic kind.

THE TIMES BOOKSTORE

Market Block, Peterborough.

BIG G [illegible]

CURE YOURSELF! Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous. Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper [illegible]

GET INTO DEBT

To us for advising the use of our Babbit and Solder, also our Lead and Tin Pipe.

They are Simply the Best

THE CANADA METAL Co

William St., Toronto, Ont.

VARICOCELE

I guarantee my Latest Method Treatment to be a permanent and positive cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without cutting, stretching or loss of time. In Varicocele it absorbs the bagging, or wormy condition, equalizes circulation, stops pains in the groins, also all drains, thereby giving the organs their proper nutrition, vitalizes the parts and restores lost powers; in Stricture it absorbs the Stricture tissue, stops smarting sensation, nervousness, weakness, backache, etc., while in all prostatic troubles it is the treatment par excellence. So positive am I that my treatment will cure you, you can

